CONTRACT FOR THE HIGH LEVEL BRIDGE IS AWARDED

The contract for the erection of the high level bridge over the Bulkley River has been awarded to George Cradock & Son, of Wakefield, Eng. The contract was signed in New Hazelton on Thursday morning in the presence of the manager of the company and representatives of Sec. 1 and Sec. 2 New Hazelton, the people who are putting up the money. The bridge will be of steel throughout. The span is 416 ft., 9 ft. wide and with a guaranteed capacity of nine tons and a complete capacity of sixty three tons. The final plans are being completed and will be sent to England immediately where the steel work will be made and shipped out. The work on the bridge is to start immediately and must be completed within five months from the date of signing the contract. The new bridge will put all the territory on this side of the Bulkley river, including Kispiox Valley, all the mines and the old town of Hazelton on a high level with New Hazelton. The distance to the railway is greatly reduced and consequently the cost of hauling is about cut in half. This move on the part of the New Hazelton owners will put that townsite in the front so far that it will be practically useless for any other townsite promoters to attempt to do anything. Mr. Garrett, of the bridge company, is in town now making arrangements for the work of excavation and building the piers and abutments.

STRUCK IT BIG ON MORRICE RIVER

Brown and Wood Have Opened Up an Immense Dike of Silver-Lead and Copper

Louis Wood arrived in town on Wednesday from Morrice River district where he and Frank Brown have a bond on one of the biggest silver-lead and copper properties in the northern part of the province. Mr. Brown gave up his connection with Rocher de Boule to take this bond and his expectations are being realized. Since they started to work a few weeks ago they have opened up an immense porphery dike which exposes five big leads containing silver-lead and copper and so satisfied are they with the property that they are putting more men on. The ore is concentrating but it is present in such immense quantities that it will be a great property. It is also very easy to get at and not far from the railway. There is also a big agricultural country in the immediate vicinity. Mr. Wood brought down a number of samples with him which he is having assayed.

Moving From Sealey

In view of the fact that the Sealey bridge is so nearly completed, the freight department of Foley, Welch & Stewart at Sealey is preparing to move to New Hazelton. The officials in the department do not expect to be there longer than a week or two. The barns, stables and offices are all ready for them at New Hazelton. When this outfit leaves the town, Sealey will have passed into history, and the residents who have not already gone to New Hazelton will move then or go farther out into the valley. Some are going as far as Decker Lake and even Fraser Lake. In two or three weeks Sealey will be a deserted village.

Sinking on No. 1 Vein

On the Harris Mines they are sinking on the No. 1 vein and have reached a depth of 60 feet on the foot wall. They have not yet reached the hanging wall. The ore is improving all the time and this vein gives promise of being the best on the property yet discovered. They are also stoping on the 100 ft. level on No. 3 vein and getting out some nice ore. The first carload is already sacked and ready for shipment.

Jas. Redman, the well-known mining man, is in town.

Offices Moved On

On Monday the telegraph and freight offices of the railway company, which have been at Skeena Crossing several months, were moved up to Sealey, where they will remain temporarily and will then be moved along to the next end of track.

NEW HAZELTON IS THE IDEAL SITE

TWO TOWNS IN DISTRICT WOULD KILL THEM BOTH

Such is Opinion of H. S. Clements, M.P. for Comox-Atlin==Visited New Hazelton for the First Time==High Level Bridge Contract---Two Experimental Farms For Northern Interior Steps Will Be Taken to Encourage Farming

On Wednesday night H. S. Clements, M. P., for Comox-Atlin arrived at Sealey and proceeded immediately to New Hazelton where he met V. W. Smith and D. McLeod, of the Northern Interior Land Co. Mr. Clements was accompanied by Mr. Garrett, manager for George Cradock & Co's Vancouver branch. The object of the visit to New Hazelton was to sign the contract for the construction of the high level bridge across the Bulkley River.

On Thursday Mr. Clements visited old Hazelton as representative of this district at Ottawa. When seen by the Omineca Herald he stated that he was not here to start any townsite controversy. So far as the townsites were concerned this was the first time he had visited New Hazelton, and after looking over it as a business man and in the light that it should be looked at he came to the conclusion that it was an ideal townsite. He took particular pains to walk up the centre of the swamp upon which such stress had been laid before the Railway Commission. Mr. Clements considers it to be the best part of the townsite. There is perfect drainage and the property is perfectly dry.

So far as the interests of this district were concerned, considering them from the agricultural and mineral standpoint, he stated that it would be the greatest mistake that could possibly be made to have two stations and possibly two rival towns in the immediate vicinity. It would mean that there would be no town of any importance and the whole district would be greatly damaged. He believed that the future of the new town depended very largely upon the development of tee mines which would cause the development of the agricultural lands by furnishing a market for the produce. He had been informed by one of the best mining men in the province or in the Dominion that one of the mines tributory to New Hazelton had the earmarks of making the greatest mine in the Dominion.

Speaking of the townsite situation Mr. Clements very clearly stated that when he was asked to handle the selling of Sec. 2 he said that on one condition and that was that no lots should be sold until after the railway commission gave its decision last Sept. and that New Hazelton was assured a station. Before taking the matter up he had the advice of the best authorities in the country and he was satisfied that he was acting quite within his rights. When he took hold of the New Hazelton townsite the

SEALEY GULCH BRIDGE WORK

Oven Half Way Across on Wednesday ---Will Take About Two Weeks More—Shortage of Men

The Canadian Bridge Co. have now got the big steel bridge over the Sealey gulch over half done, and they are making fair progress. Since the carrier was completed the work has gone on faster than before, although the contractors have suffered from a lack of men. It appears to be very difficult to get enough men for that class of work, or to keep those they do get. Wednesday afternoon the bridge was over half done and after the next span is finished the work will be much lighter and will move more rapidly. On Wednesday they were working directly over the creek bed which is the heaviest work of all; the balance is easy.

There is reason to believe that in a couple of weeks the track-laying machine will again be at work laying the rails to New Hazelton.

Congratulations

Word was received Thursday night that C. G. Harvey had become a father. Both Mrs. Harvey and daughter are doing well in Kitsalano. Mr. Harvey is receiving hearty congratulations.

FREIGHT ARRIVED FOR MERCHANTS

Four Carloads Delivered at Sealey on Tuesday—All the Local Teams Are Busy Hauling

The first shipment of public freight arrived on the G. T. P. at Sealey on Tuesday. The consignment consisted of four cars of general merchandise for New Hazelton, old Hazelton, Sealey and the interior. It got here none too soon either as many merchants were completely out of all perishable goods and many of the staple lines were running short. As soon as the cars were placed all the available teams in the neighborhood were put into commission and a good many tons have already been delivered. The distance from the railway to either of the Hazelton's is so great and the roads are so hard to freight over that the cost of delivery is as much as the freight on the railway.

In two or three weeks, however, this difficulty will be over as far as New Hazelton is concerned, as the rails will be there and the freight delivered almost at the door of the merchants. The old town will always have a long haul, and up and down some of the worst hills in the district.

D. Rankin, general merchant at Andimaul announces on another page of this issue that he will sell off his entire stock of general merchandise at cost.

Mrs. A. J. Walters has returned from a trip to Vancouver and Seattle. She was accompanied by Miss Paterson who will remain with her for some months.

MILLION DOLLAR CONTRACT IS SUCCESSFULLY COMPLETED

Duncan Ross' Long Tunnel and Six Miles of Heavy Grading Ready for the Rails==Camp Buildings Being Stripped and Men Moved on to Bulkley Summit Work

A deserted village could hardly look more desolate than does the main camp at Duncan Ross' long tunnel, just six miles east of New Hazelton. Some 15 months ago the first gang of men started to work there and from that time on everything was lively. When the big contract was well under way there were over 200 men in the one camp, and to accommodate them a small village had to be built up, including dining hall, bunk house, commissiary, office, store, blacksmith shop and the stables. Now the work is almost completed and the staff has been reduced to about twenty. The buildings are being stripped of the lumber, the big freight teams are mostly moved on, the stores and supplies are all packed and most of them shipped to the new work near Bulkley Summit, and the immense hill of gumbo, which less than a year ago looked so formidable, has been punctured, timbered and made ready for the trains, and everyone who has seen the work compliments Mr. Ross upon the excellent success he has achieved. Besides the big tunnel, Mr. Ross also had six

SURFACE PROSPECTING VALUE SHOWN BY SILVER STANDARD

More Ore Shoots Recently Opened Up on that Wonderful Property, and Contents of the Hill Exposed==Hundred Thousand Dollars Now on the Dump as a Result of Prospecting

Supt. Haskins of the Silver Standard mine is a strong believer in surface prospecting.

He says nothing, but he does a lot of it, and does it systematically. While the mine is being developed in one place he is looking in other parts of the hill for other veins. His policy is that when the time comes for tunnels, deep shafts, or other work, the company will know where to tunnel or sink to get the best results. That his policy is sound has been demonstrated by his discovery of the two new veins near the top of the mountain, which are giving such promise of being immensely rich in silver-lead and gold. After he found these veins he started open cuts every few feet until he found ore, and in this way he has proven the existance of the ore shoot for so many feet at least. It is a simple matter to run a cross-cut and miss probably the biggest and richest ore shoot in the hill unless its presence is known on the surface. With the discovery of the two new veins the value of Silver Standard property has been greatly enhanced. The work al-

Bar the Canadian Flag?

Canada and Canadians have often been insulted and antagonized by non-Canadians who frequently refer to us as a colony and colonials, and as dependents. These sneers have been born in silence, as Canadians are too big and broad and strong to retaliate. Anyway the remarks are born of ignorance and are the utterances of small, narrow minds.

But what does hurt, and which is an insult that cannot be passed up, is the letter of "a special secretary" to the Mayor of Vancouver, which ordered that no Canadian flags should appear on the public arches erected in Vancouver in honor of the visit of the Governor-General of the Dominion. This so-called "special secretary" states that the Canadian flag "is merely an ensign and in no way official."

The "special secretary is also a non-Canadian, and that is what hurts. The sooner Canadians stand by their flag, and what it represents, the better for Canada. The Canadian flag is to Canada what the Union Jack is to Britain or the Stars and Stripes to Americans, and more, because there is in Canada a nobility that other nations do not appear to appreciate. Canada is big enough and strong enough, and also rich enough to defend her flag, and it is time that such fleas as this "special secretary," or whoever inspired his order, should be put in their proper place.

Firebug or Design?

One of the most regrettable features of the big fire at the Hudson's Bay, and the attempt to burn the residence of the chief of police, is that residents of this town have stated that the firebug was one interested in New Hazelton, aud that his work was prompted from a desire to force old Hazelton to move to the new town, or be burned out.

It is indeed a small and narrow mind that could conceive such a thought, and only one whose prejudice had driven him to frenzy could utter such a statement, or even intimate it. So ridiculous is the suggestion that it brands the author as a hypocrite and a fool. It is indeed sad that such persons are at large. They are almost as dangerous as the real firebug.

Granby Bay Townsite

The Smelter City

THE Granby Co. is one of the greatest mining and smelting organizations in America. They are big operators, and in opening the great copper mines and building the smelter on Observatory Inlet they are developing a new district in a mammoth way. The company has about 400 men now on development and construction work, and another hundred men are to be put on immediately. The pay roll now is considerably over $1000 a day. Besides the Granby mines and works, a number of other rich prospects are being developed. Your own judgment will tell you what this means to the town which is now opened. Town lots are now offered for the first time.

AS Trustees for the owners, we have fyled the plans of the new smelter city, registered as Granby Bay, and the townsite is now open to buyers for the first time. Lots are being offered at from $200 to $800 and the first buyers get the choice lots. These prices are only for the GET IN EARLY early buyers. Already a number are spoken for, and the plans for building are under way. The contract for clearing will be let this week. The owners are negotiating for the building of a separate wharf for the use of the townspeople.

NEW HAZELTON IDEAL TOWNSITE

old town people were unanimous in favor of New Hazelton and all said that it was the ideal location. He has been perfectly open and above board in all his dealings.

So far as Mr. Chamberlain is concerned Mr. Clements met him in Vancouver upon the occasion of his last visit. Previous to this he had wired to Mr. Biggar, of the G. T. P. townsite company, offering one half interest in the New Hazelton Townsite on the understanding that there should be no other station in the district. Mr. Biggar said Mr. Chamberlain would call upon him. In the interview with that gentleman Mr. Chamberlain said that he did not want to go to South Hazelton. He preferred Ellison, and only considered the former after three months hesitation.

Prior to Chamberlains interview Messrs. Sanders & O'Brin, presumably acting for the G. T. P., were very anxious for an amalgamation of all interests and that the station be built on lot 852 instead of 851 which had been floated as such an ideal place for the old town people. They were willing to throw the old town down. The New Hazelton interests turned that proposition down as they already had a station and had no jurisdiction in annuling the station on lot 882, which the commercial and mining interests could claim and maintain.

The firm of Clements & Heyward felt that the townsite owners should do something from a townsite standpoint, in the interests of the public. They believed that if a high level bridge were built at the only natural crossing, viz., at Haguelgate, it would serve the interests of old Hazelton residents, and bring them in almost as close touch with the railway at New Hazelton as they would be to the railway at South Hazelton. It would also serve the mines and agricultural interests perfectly. Personally Mr. Clements thought the owners should pay for the bridge themselves, and he was glad to say that that High Level bridge will be built. The contract has been signed up. The span is 416 ft., a width of 9 ft. and a carrying capacity of nine tons guaranteed. Work is to begin immediately and to be completed within five months from the date of signing.

Mr. Clements considers that it is most important for northern British Columbia to induce settlers to settle upon the lands and develop the country from an agricultural standpoint. In this connection he has urged upon the Minister of Agriculture to establish at least two experimental stations of 100 acres each in this part of the country. One to serve the interests of the valleys tributary to New Hazelton and one to serve the district farther east in the Bulkley Valley around Francois Lake and other districts, as the climate conditions in these parts are very different. The minister has promised due consideration at the coming session and he himself would give it his earnest and hearty support. Mr. Clements also said that he would give very careful attention and hearty support to any matter in the interests of Comox-Atlin brought to his attention by any of the districts.

While in town he met the Conservative executive. He preferred a public meeting and said that if the people here wished a public meeting to discuss the townsite question he would be glad to be present and would come back here after a visit to the Queen Charlotte Islands which he had already planned.

PROSPECTING ON SURFACE

ready done on them has uncovered enough ore, if it were sent to the smelter, to pay for two men prospecting steadily for over a year. Mr. Haskins is confident that these veins will go down, and in that case they are much better than the big one they are now working on.

Samples taken from the new veins have been assayed and went over two hundred dollars in gold, silver and lead. There is reason to believe that with depth the ore will be better and veins wider, as that has been the case in nearly every vein open up in that vicinity, or in the camp so far.

At the present time fifteen men are employed at Silver Standard, and they are getting out a great deal of ore.

To date nothing more than prospect work has been done. No attempt has been made to stope or drift, and yet there is $100,000 worth of ore on the dumps.

There will be no necessity for sorting. All that is necessary is to sack the stuff. But before that is done the new sleigh road will be built around the hill to the Two Mile road. As soon as the snow comes they will start shipping.

BIG CONTRACT IS COMPLETED

miles of grading, including several heavy cuts, big fills, and a couple of rock cuts. These have all been passed through, and only the last half mile remains to be cleaned up. The work is done, and the ditches are being dug and the grade levelled off.

In another week the last shovel of dirt will have been thrown over the bank, and the men will be on their way to Bulkley Summit, where another year's work is awaiting them.

The contract for the six miles was probably one of the biggest along the line, and called for an expenditure of about $1,000,000. The tunnel was the longest on the entire line, and some of the cuts among the hardest. Bnt the troubles are all over. All that is left to tell the tale is about twenty log frames where the men were housed.

While this contract was always of more or less interest while the work was in progress, it will continue to be of considerable interest, not only on account of the length of the tunnel, but tourists in passing will see some of the finest scenery from Fort George to New Hazelton. The roadbed runs for the most part along the edge of Bulkley river and the rushing waters are seen 200 feet below, while the far bank is a tree-covered mountain with the great Nine Mile mountain in the background.

A week from Saturday Mr. Ross expects that the last man will be away from the old camp and working on the new contract. He himself expects to go to Victoria for a time, and when he returns every man available will be employed to rush the Bulkley Summit work to completion.

BETTER ROADS FOR NEXT YEAR

William Manson and Mr. Baxter Return from Trip Into the Interior— Consult With Citizens

Messrs. Wm. Manson and District Engineer Baxter returned from their trip through Bulkley Valley on Monday at noon and stopped in town for an hour or so. They went out as far as Pleasant Valley and had a thoroughly enjoyable trip. It was the first time that the district engineer has been over the road and he was very much interested in the development. He was also impressed with the necessity for better roads throughout the northern interior. He has made some suggestions which are supposed to help save the roads in bad weather and it is probable that the work done next year will be of a more permanent nature. A consultation was also held with local people in referance to extensions of the Nine Mile road and other roads in the immediate vicinity.

Fred P. Schell, Kansas City, was a visitor in town on Monday in company with F. C. McKinnon. Mr. Schell is very much interested in this town and as soon as things get a little settled he will purchase several lots.

OVERHEARD AROUND NEW HAZELTON

Mr. Moran is having his cabin fitted up for the winter and Mrs. Moran and family have returned to town and will remain here in future.

Foley, Welch & Stewart are erecting two immense warehouses at Decker Lake to serve as a cache for this winters goods. One building is 50 by 150 ft. and the other is 50 by 200 ft.

Mr. Murphy has arrived from Seattle to go into business with T. L. Ryan. Mr. Murphy is a first class wagon worker and they will pay special attention to wagon work and general blacksmithing.

Owing to the delay on the part of the railway company in getting in shape to handle freight as far as Sealey the local merchants are being greatly handicapped for want of goods. Supplies are running short and there is no way to get any more in until the railway brings it up. It was expected from what Mr. Mehan was reported to have said that freight would be delivered at Sealey long ago.

During the past week the men have been coming to work on the grade just as fast as they did last year at this time when there was no talk of a strike. This is of course the hardest time of the year to get labor. In another couple of weeks there will be lots of men floating around. On this end of the contract Foley, Welch & Stewart have over 1,500 men at work.

NEW HAZELTON MAIL SERVICE

Citizens are Complaining on Account of Delay Caused by Mail Going to Old Hazelton

Local citizens are justly indignant over the mail service that is being accorded the town the past few weeks. This week no letler mail had been received from Friday of last week until late this week, although there had been Saturday's and Monday's trains in. There is supposed to be letter bags as well as paper bags for New Hazelton and these are supposed to come direct to New Hazelton from the train at Sealey. Such is not the case. The mail is all taken to old Hazelton,—a greater distance — and then brought over here some time later, usually a couple of days or more. As a result the people here do not get their mail until it is several days old and many important business matters suffer as a result. The mail for Foley, Welch & Stewart and the sub-contractors is probably the most important mail that comes into the country and yet it is handled just the same as the general mail. The people have a legitimate kick. They are supposed to get their mail direct from the train. If there is to be any distributing point at all in the district it should be at New Hazelton which is on the railway and which is the natural distributing point, and not the old town which never will be on the railway and at present is a great deal farther away from the trains.

Since the sanitary laws have been put in force here the local conditions have been much improved. The new system is working fine.

Pleased With Granby Bay

Frank Ayerde returned on Monday night from Granby Bay where he went to look over the new townsite and to see the lot he purchased. Frank is very enthusiastic over the smelter townsite and predicts a cracking good town there. He also visited the Granby Mines which he says are the greatest he ever saw. He says that he cannot say as yet just when he will go there to start in business, but it is his present intention to move shortly.

POULTRY DEPARTMENT

But few people fully appreciate the hen, or accord her her rightful place in the economy of the country. The U. S. Government, through its Census Bureau, gives us some figures that, when comparatively arranged, are quite startling.

For instance, it is said that each sixty days her eggs will equal the iron industry of the country for a year. And what she produces in the same time is enough to pay the yearly pension bills of our soldiers and sailors. In three months her output is equal to the amount of gold produced during a whole year. In nine months her products, if turned into money, would pay the total interest-bearing debt of the country. And her productiveness is continued without a break, from year to year, as a new supply is always being furnished.

And while her chief value is while she is alive, yet even when her life is taken, she continues to be a productive factor. Her flesh is a delicate morsel that is greatly enjoyed everywhere, as is evidenced by the delight with which "a chicken dinner" is hailed by the multitudes. Even her bones serve as the foundation for a delicious soup, and her feathers make a comfortable resting place for weary heads.

The hen can never lose her supremacy, for eggs are always in demand, and it is impossible to manufacture a substitute for them. Eggs and poultry constitute a large element in the food-supply of the country and the demand for them must continually increase.

Not only does the American hen figure directly in the financial affairs of the country to the extent of more than a million dollars a year, but the indirect financial influence of the poultry business is very great.

The poultry industry as a business proposition appeals to a person or family of small means because so little capital is required for a start, and because the returns are so large in proportion to the amount invested. And yet so great are the possibilities that many well trained and capable men, who know how to manage important industries, are turning their attention to it, and with marked success.

While the actual number of men who receive employment in the care of poultry plants is not very large, as most of them are looked after by the owner and his family, yet the allied industries that owe their origin and development to the poultry business are furnishing a means of livelihood to thousands of people in many lines of trade.

Publishing houses without number depend to a large extent upon the poultry industry for their business, and that means that buildings must be constructed that call for material of a dozen kinds, and for labor, skilled and unskilled; that printing presses must be built, and type cast, and paper made, and all sorts of furnishings provided for a publishing house.

Large establishments have been built for the manufacture of incubators, and brooders, and coops, and utensils, and tools innumerable.

Vast quantities of food have to be produced for the maintenance of the many millions of fowl scattered all over the country, and there are great mills for getting these products in shape for use by the poultry.

All sorts of remedies and patented appliances are made and sold, and all these, and scores of other things, call for help in their production and sale. Thus we can get something of a glimpse of the large place the hen holds in our modern civilization, and how large a factor she is in the economy of the country.
