ANOTHER COAL COMPANY

CROW'S NEST CAPITALISTS TO WORK GROUNDHOG CLAIMS

Original Locations In Famous District to be Developed by Toronto Men

Advices from Vancouver indicate that development work on anthracite coal areas near the headwaters of the Skeena river, 120 miles north of Hazelton, owned by Toronto capital, will be vigorously prosecuted this summer. It will be directed by Mr. James McEvoy, a well-known mining engineer of Toronto, who is at Vancouver on his way north.

The principal shareholders in the company are a Toronto group of capitalists which floated the Crow's Nest Coal Company and includes Senator Cox and Mr. G. G. S. Lindsay, formerly manager of that company.

The Groundhog district where Mr. McEvoy located sixteen square miles of claims in 1903 contains, it is said, the only pure anthracite in commercial quantities ever found in Canada. Mr. McEvoy is enthusiastic about the possibilities of the field as a producer. He may be regarded as a qualified authority as he was a prominent member of the Dominion Geological Survey for many years before entering the service of the Crow's Nest Coal Company as geologist and later as its mining superintendent and engineer.

Mr. McEvoy states that with the early advent of a railway to Hazelton and the favorable outlook for an extension northward, the development of the coal measures would be undertaken without further delay. The field, with the virtual exception of one corner, had been examined with very satisfactory results.

Several seams have been located. One of them, six feet in thickness, has been stripped in six different places at considerable distances apart. The coal is a typical anthracite averaging about 82 per cent. in fixed carbon. In no place do the seams dip at a greater angle than ten degrees, thus ensuring cheap mining. Mr. McEvoy pointed out that owing to the configuration of the country the seams could be easily reached, in no instance involving sinking to them more than three hundred feet from surface. The coal has been laid down very uniformly. A geological examination showed that the seams were once overlaid by a molten mass which caused a metamorphosis producing results that usually take ages of pressure to perform. Mr. McEvoy, who is essentially conservative in opinion, feels confident that the Skeena River field will with further development become a very large producer. The coal is equally adapted for steaming and domestic purposes. Quite recently an extension of the claims was located by outside parties who are sending in miners this season.

Mr. McEvoy looks for the building of a branch line to the coal regions from Hazelton and understands that three distinct charters for railways covering that northern route have been granted. He observed that any railway which sought to build into the Yukon would have to follow the same route. There is a natural pass from the headwaters of the Skeena to Naas Valley, the summit being on a low level and occupied by a small lake. He recently learned that valuable coal areas, still unlocated, existed on the Stikine river slope.

Steamboat Strike a False Alarm

Vancouver, June 23: — The alleged discovery of high gold values at Steamboat mountain has proved to be of the fake order, the "bonanza vein" having been found barren below the surface. The original discoverers of the camp are said to have disappeared some weeks ago.

Peace River Railway Projected

Vancouver, June 22:—Alive to the possibilities of British Columbia's interior and the country tributary to Peace river, Norton Griffiths, probably the biggest individual railway contractor in the world, allied with other interests in England, proposes to build a road from Vancouver northeast. Lord Brassey, a rich Englishman, is said to be among Griffith's associates in the scheme. Griffith's agents have interviewed the Government at Ottawa in the matter and a charter from the Dominion Government is about to be granted for the line of steel.

Manager O'Neill announces the following line-up for the baseball game with the G. T. P. Engineers on Dominion Day: Eby, lf.; Daniels, s. s.; Macdonald, 1st b.; Riley, c.; Kennedy, r. f.; Rock, 3rd b.; Blake, 2nd b.; Lofquist, c. f.; Trimble, p.; Al. Harris and Lawler, utility. The departure of Durant and Sinclair deprives the team of two of its stars, but its supporters expect it to make a good showing.

The telegraph line was down for three days during the week. Hence the dearth of telegraphic news in this issue.

EXPERT REPORT ON ERIE

PROMINENT ENGINEER THINKS HIGHLY OF PROSPECT

Instructive Report On Geological Conditions—Optimistic Opinion Of Claim's Future

At the instance of the management of the Omineca Mines, R. C. Campbell-Johnson, mining and metallurgical engineer, visited the Erie, which is being developed by the Company, on Tuesday and Wednesday. As a result of close examination of the property Mr. Campbell-Johnson presented a report which cannot fail to be gratifying to all shareholders in the Omineca Mines.

The following extracts from the lengthy and detailed report will be of interest to all who are interested in the development of the camp.

"As the property is still under development, although extensive surface work and sinking have already been carried out and a large amount of very valuable ore is exposed, yet the main object of my visit was to determine as to further exploration work, the best locations for shafts, and general consultation as to now blocking out ore on more sides than one. With this object in view, the ore bodies already lying exposed were not at present sampled beyond the many assays procured by yourself and others, demonstrating the more than normal richness of the ore in silver contents with lead, zinc, iron pyrites and other metals present, as a later examination is anticipated. For the present the geology was carefully looked at, all data collected to prove correctness of conclusions arrived at, then the genesis of the ore, its methods of occurrence, and prospects as to being deep-seated; suggestions formed as to future marketing of ore, and any technical subject of use generally for the nonce discussed, until a later report is made, the ore bodies then thoroughly sampled, an assay plan of mine compiled, and the ready tonnage in sight measured and computed, with profits appertaining."

"Great alteration of the country rock has taken place in the vicinity of the ore bodies, owing to the intense past action of thermal waters under extreme pressure, carrying a surfeit of silica, carbonic acid and other soluble and dissolving chemicals in solution. This alteration is especially shown in the cross-cut below the shaft being now sunk to exceed in width 150 feet across and possibly more. The hanging wall of ore zone, which stretches past the south boundary of the claim, consists of a siliceous augite granite, apparently in volcanic action during the Jurassic period of geology as a molten magma, since the cretaceous coal measures overlie this same rock in the valley below across the Bulkley river. The foot wall is not plainly discernible as a clean cut parting on account of the alteration or even intervening zone of siliceous gangue matter, perhaps dissected by bands or dykes of diabase, apatite, quartzite and other minerals of probably pliocene or early tertiary period, as their surfaces are equally striated with the enclosing contact rocks by glacial action, which took place in the later eocene period of the tertiary.

"It is doubtful what effect these dykes have had on the mineralisation from their estimated late occurrence. The foot wall in its pristine condition is conjectured to be a diabase flow, generated in the triassic epoch. The molten magma being then of basic composition is therefore to be regarded as the source of much of the mineral segregated out and concentrated by lateral and ascending pressure at the contact of triassic and later jurassic. The jurassic are of plutonic or deep-seated origin, and acted as channels at their contacts to sweat the colder, earlier rocks, alter their composition from biabase to diorite and even more siliceous constituency. As fumaralic condensations much of the mineralization was possible in the sulphides of silver, zinc, antimony and lead. As aqueous solutions, in the ascending thermal waters, silica, calcite, zinc blendes and carbonates, tetrahedrite (grey antimonial copper and silver), horn silver, silver glance, galena, iron pyrites and other minerals were deposited in masses and seams. Owing to the upstanding hanging wall becoming weathered and having only an open crevice on the underside, so, without support, it fell over onto the foot-wall of the opening, and acted as a barrier or dam to the ascending mineralization. This forced the solutions under therefore still greater pressure with the outlet closed to seek other channels to work along, and so were formed channels. spurs and bands of mineral at angles to the main master zone, stretching out into the surrounding country rock along lines of movement caused by cooling, subsidence and contraction of the once molten batholithic rocks. In the main ore zone this movement, as slickensides and warped, polished surfaces of the siliceous blocks of gangue matter, is very apparent. Parallel veins or shear-zones are in evidence, 250 to 300 feet apart, and fed the one from the other

CORONATION OF GEORGE V

HISTORIC CEREMONIAL IN WESTMINSTER ABBEY

Crowned with Pomp and Pageant the King Receives Homage of the Empire

London, June 23:--King George V, eighth monarch of the house of Hanover, was yesterday crowned King of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and of British Dominions beyond seas, and given the public homage of his world-wide subjects. With his consort, Queen Mary, his Majesty was crowned in the abbey of Westminster with all the wealth of religious rites and royal ceremonial prescribed by immemorial custom. Never before in history has the empire note been struck in such a magnificent manner. Its imperial aspect has undoubtedly been the most remarkable feature of the coronation.

George the Fifth, more than any sovereign of the past, represents the embodiment of the imperial idea. He only, of all Britain's sovereigns, has travelled through his vast dominions and has acquainted himself at first hand with the needs and aspirations of the peoples of the empire.

London has never before in its history witnessed such a magnificent sight or such unbounded enthusiasm. The crowds were enormous. Shortly after 7 o'clock rain began to fall, dampening somewhat the gaiety of the immense throngs which had already gathered along the line of the procession. As their Majesties left the palace, however, the sun burst forth, dispelling the clouds and rain, and the remainder of the day was bright and sunny.

The first procession consisted of royal and other representatives. The second, consisting of members of the royal family, came half hour later. The Prince of Wales, in garter robes, accompanied his sister and brothers in the last carriage.

At 10:30 o'clock a royal salute announced the departure of the King and Queen from the royal palace, and as the most gorgeous of processions made its way through the troop-lined streets a wave of cheering spread from one end of the route to the other. A wonderful display of uniforms preceeded the royal coach.

Immediately behind the royal coach Lord Kitchener rode beside the standard, then came the Duke of Connaught, Prince Arthur of Connaught, Duke of Teck, Prince Christian, Prince Albert of Schleswig Holstein, all on chargers.

Geological Survey

For many years the Dominion Geological Survey has been engaged in the investigation of the geology and mineralogy of Canada, and has for some time past paid considerable attention to the mining districts of British Columbia; the researches of the department's scientists proving of the utmost value in promoting the exploitation of the remarkable mineral resources of this province. This season's work of the Survey will be most extensive, and the regular staff will have the assistance of a number of foreign geologists, who are glad to co-operate in the important work on which the department is engaged.

The season's program of work, as it applies to British Columbia, is as follows:

R. G. McConnell will continue work in the Portland Canal district and investigate the placer gold on Naas river.

G. Mallock will examine the anthracite district at the headwaters of the Skeena river.

C. H. Clapp will continue his geological investigation of Vancouver Island, with special reference to the Nanaimo sheet.

C. Camsell will examine the peridotite of Tulameen, in which the survey has found diamonds, and study the new mineral district of Steamboat and others near Yale, B. C.

L. Reinecke will conclude his study of the Beaverdell mining district.

J. Drysdale will make a detailed geological investigation of Franklin Camp, North Fork of the Kettle river.

O. E. LeRoy will be engaged in reconnaissance work in several districts in the Kootenay, and will make a detailed examination of the Nelson district.

S. J. Schofield will continue the geological mapping of East Kootenay.

R. A. Daly will take charge of work on a geological section across the Canadian Pacific Railway in British Columbia. He will commence this year about Kamloops.

J. A. Allen will continue his work on this section west of Ice river.

C. D. Walcott as collaborator in geology with special reference to the Cambrian of the Rockies will work in the neighbourhood of the C. P. R. about Field and Ice river.

W. W. Leach will work on the coal basins along the Crow's Nest Railway.

D. B. Dowling will continue his investigations on the coal basins in the vicinity of the G. T. P., Yellowhead Pass.

Press notices state that Sir Edward Grey, the British Foreign Secretary, has said something in Parliament about the possibility of Great Britain asking the United States for the Tariff treatment promised to Canada by Reciprocity agreement. It is also understood that Germany has asked the United States for an equal treatment with that accorded by the United States to Canada, on the ground that the United States themselves claim as of course the "most favored nation" treatment in her intercourse with Germany. But it seems clear, all the same, that the American Government has no intention of admitting the commerce of other countries through the breach in the Tariff wall which it hopes to make in favor of Canada.

Marvelous Dividend Achievements

The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York paid in dividends in 1909 the sum of $11,005,914.96, an amount without precedent in this country or in any other. The Company has also apportioned for payment of dividends in 1910 the enormous sum of $12,401,752,11, an amount greater by nearly two millions than any other company has ever paid in a single year. Indeed, of 157 companies doing business in the United States, only 12, including industrial, had, up to January 1st, 1909, paid during their entire existence as large a total in dividends as the sum apportioned by The Mutual Life for 1910. While for dividends payable in 1911 it has appropriated the still larger sum of $13,539,333.07 which is more than 25 per cent of the total premium income of 1910 ($53.824,813.00.)

(Non-Personal Liability)

For many reasons we recommend the immediate purchase of stock in Omineca Mines Limited at the present offering 10 cents per share.

FIRST AND FOREMOST

WE believe that the stock will steadily advance on the true merit of the properties. Secondly, we believe in the management of the company, and further that the safety of the investors' money is absolutely assured. We believe furthermore that there is great value in the property holdings far and above the present selling price of stock.

The big developments underway today and those contemplated are most certain to bring about a big demand for Omineca Mines Limited, and the selling price of shares will be advanced to a price consistent with property development. Be one of the early purchasers and secure the maximum of profit.

Positively no more than 100,000 shares will be sold at 10 cents per share. Thereafter the sale of treasury shares will either be withdrawn or the stock advanced to a price consistent with the development of the property.

Terms of purchase are cash or one quarter cash with order and balance in three equal monthly payments.

by these cross spurs or robbers along cleavage and movement planes. This fact calls for careful attention later in mining, and often accounts for lean or barren portions in one plane, when the mineralization for the time, owing to local obstruction in the channel conducting the mineral solution, has crossed over to the parallel channel on the hanging or footwall as the case may be or even into some intervening parallel channel. This subject of geology and ore deposition has been discussed very fully as it is the keynote to the successful discovery of the ore bodies and success of the mine."

"The present development consists in costein pits or surface trenches continuously nearly the full length of the claim, namely 1500 feet, at close intervals, showing the apex of each vein.

"The workings at the west end are a long cross-cut, stripping to great width for a length of many hundred feet, and an inclined shaft, following down the ore, in process of being put down. Following along trend of ore chutes are costein pits, until the upper shaft is reached. Here an incline over 60 feet deep has been sunk. These workings at the lower end and in the shaft show large quantities of surface ore of high grade. An average of 17 assays shows silver 277.7 ounces; lead 26.5 per centum or 530 lbs. per short ton; values gross $167.00.

"The upper shaft from eight assays shows silver ounces 111.4; lead per centum 4.9 (98 lbs. per ton;) gross values per ton $69.2f.

From present workings the width of ore is not even, or always shewn, nor is its tenour constant, for as seems to universally happen in the district, the hanging wall a short way down has collapsed onto the footwall, forming a squeeze. Below this barrier to even values above throughout the dip, the zone has always hitherto regained its normal course and pitch, and continues down with strong, high grade ore chutes between its walls.

"The essential knowledge to be gained is concerning the continuity of the ore values in depth, corresponding to the long exposures along the surface. To secure this, the present lower shaft should be continued down, and levels at stated intervals sent out both ways along the course of vein and ore chutes to technically block out ore on four sides.

"In the final report it is proposed to offer an assay plan of mine, plans and sections of workings, an estimate of tonnage, discuss methods of treatment on the spot or otherwise, or shipments, the cost of mining and marketing, profits accruing and all other details.

"From the details furnished in this preliminary report, such as assay values, amount of work accomplished, the favourable geological conditions, a most encouraging and sanguine, optimistical view only can be accepted as to the future possibilities of this mine, in the making at present. Depth as elsewhere locally should increase the tonnage to a large and valuable amount running into high figures, and so enable a purchase price to be quoted, or demonstration of continuous lucrative profits. The writer most emphaticly recommends a steady continuation of the excellent present line of development, and expects very satisfactory results.

Silver Cup Resumes

Superintendent Faulds, of the Silver Cup, returned from Nine mile today, having started work with a small force preparatory to the resumption of development.

Welch Wins

San Francisco, June 23:—Freddie Welch won the decision over Matty Baldwin here tonight. Welch was easily the better man throughout.

There is considerable activity on Nine Mile mountain, work being prosecuted on a number of prospects, as well as on the more prominent groups.

The new system of targets at the rifle range will be ready for use next Saturday, and the members of the rifle association are looking forward to larger attendance at practice under improved conditions.

The Babine Mining Company owns and operates 200 acres of selected mining properties all on Four Mile mountain, the heart and center of the richest discoveries in the Hazelton Mining district. The properties have been under vigorous development for several months and the ore bodies disclosed show assays running as high as $237 per ton in Silver-Lead values and gives every promise of increasing in size and value as development proceeds.

Babine Mining Company Limited is not presented as a mine of established value but as a prospect of unusual merit backed and managed by men experienced in mine development, who are backing the enterprise with their own money and have full confidence that the property will develop into a divident earning enterprise. To mine with them is an assurance of great profits—they are progressive, have great financial resources and never halt unfinished.

A limited allotment of treasury shares will be offered at 7 1-2 cents per share. When this stock has been sold the shares will be listed on the Vancouver Stock Exchange and a broad and active market maintained in the stock. The fact that the shares will be listed on the Exchange is of incalculble benefit to all stockholders as it gives the stock a greater speculative value and offers an immediate market to those who may desire to sell.

I have made a thorough examination of the properties and in view of the able management and extensive development planned I can and do recommend the shares of the Babine Mining Company Limited as a conservative speculative investment that promises a substantial advance in price at an early date.

The terms of purchase are $18.75 cash with order on 1000 shares and the balance in three equal monthly payments of $18.75 each. All stock purchased on payments will be deposited in escrow with the Union Bank of Canada.

The management invite the closest inquiry concerning every detail of the enterprise and those interested are requested to visit the property and determine to their own satisfaction the authenticity of the excellent reports published concerning developments on the property.
