LOCAL AND DISTRICT NEWS.

Barney Mulvaney is back from the fish hatchery at Babine.

C. Christianson, a Prince Rupert business man, is a visitor in Hazelton.

J. N. Macmillan of Vancouver is in Hazelton on his way out after a trip to Francis Lake district.

W. M. Ross, who has spent the past summer in the Interior, will leave for the coast on the str. Hazelton.

T. J. Thorpe, with F. L. Charleson of Telkwa, was in town a few days this week, returning to the valley Saturday.

E. E. Charleson, has returned from the lower Skeena where he has been engaged in moving the telegraph line from the railroad right of way.

Geo. Frizzell, of Morrow & Frizzell, Port Essington, is in Hazelton enjoying the bracing air and sunshine that the coast climate cannot afford.

Jas. Sharp, manager at Port Simpson for the Hudson's Bay Co., came up the river as far as he could on the Hazelton and walked the rest of the way.

Friday morning a canoe started down the river with eight passengers, among whom were Rev. Thompson, Rev. Price, Rev. Edgar, G. H. Pope and T. Wilhelm.

W. Harris and S. H. Long, ranchers located on the north side of Francis Lake, are in Hazelton getting their winter's supplies and picking up a bunch of horses to take south for the winter. They expect to take out with them twenty animals loaded.

Reports that an additional 100 miles of the G. T. P. in British Columbia east of Prince Rupert will soon be let should be taken with several grains of salt. Railways cannot be built without supplies, and Foley, Welch & Stewart will have all they can do to get enough supplies through to the front this fall to keep the subcontractors on the first 100 miles at work. It is not likely work on another 100 miles can be commenced earlier than mid-summer next year.—Prince Rupert Empire.

J. M. Harrison, A. McClaine and J. Boyle come in Friday from the Ingineca, where they have been during the summer. They state that with every day's work done the value of the claims there increases; that an ounce a day to the man is about the average, and that under very difficult conditions. The gold so far recovered has all come from the surface gravels. When frost sets in sinking to bed rock will be undertaken on half dozen different properties, both on McConnell creek and the Ingineca. Until bed rock is reached in different places and some drifting done nothing but a guess can be made as to whether there is a bonanza there or a low grade proposition.

Lem Broughton, of Broughton & McNeil, Aldermere, arrived in Hazelton on business Wednesday.

R. E. Williams, the Bulkley Valley land man, arrived in town this afternoon on his way to the coast.

Before leaving for the coast G. H. Pope stated that in his experience he has never seen a better piece of road for the money expended than the one now being built between Hazelton and the Bulkley Valley.

Superintendent Marks of the Ingineca Mining Company, left Hazelton Wednesday on his way to the Ingineca. He expected to overtake his men and the pack train with the machinery before he reached Babine.

Provincial Constable Deane now has four prisoners in jail, one white and three Indians, sentenced by Magistrate Valleau to terms ranging from one to three months for drunkenness and resisting arrest. The Constable sees that the bucksaws are kept free from rust by the prisoners.

The steamer Hazelton, after being nearly a week on the river, was finally tied up near Kitze-gukla Wednesday, the passengers completing their journey afoot. Among those who were aboard were E. E. Charleson, R. S. Sargent, Hazelton; Geo. Frizzell, Port Essington; Jas. Sharp, Port Simpson; J. C. Christiansen, Prince Rupert, and Rev. A. E. Price, Kitwangak. Mr. Sargent secured Indians and a canoe at Kitze-gukla and brought the letter mail on to Hazelton.

Recent snow storms in the hills have put an end to prospecting and stopped all work on claims, as no provision has been made, in most cases, for anything like permanent quarters. Jas. Cronin's party of ten men was the last to arrive and came out sooner than they expected, being induced to leave on account of a snowfall of five or six inches in the Babine mountains. Most of the prospectors have gone to the coast for the winter or are preparing to do so, except those who are holding down ranches, and they will remain on their places during the winter.

James Cronin and Charles Theis of Spokane arrived in town Friday evening from the Babine mountains, where they have been prosecuting work on the Dibble group of claims for the past three months. During the summer 220 feet of development work was done, shaft sinking and tunneling. The longest tunnel being 75 feet long and the deepest shaft being 55 feet deep. When asked about the season's results Mr. Cronin said that not enough work had as yet been done to enable him to tell anything definite about the property. During the summer Mr. Cronin bought half a section of land from C. G. Harvey.

New Kind of Ore on Hudson's Bay Mt.

J. A. Aldrich arrived in town Monday from his claims on Hudson Bay mountain where he has been the last three months doing his annual assessment work. This year's work, the third on the property, has shown up an ore body which has to date no counterpart in this mining district. The continuation of an open cut started last year across the capping has showed up a ledge which is claimed to be eight feet in width, of high grade ore, pronounced argentite by one mining engineer who has seen the property. The ore shows no galena and only slight traces copper with the argentite; if so it is, running through the quartz in such quantities the assays will run startlingly high. Owing to the unfortunate fact that no assayer has yet seen fit to locate in this district, no tests have been made of the ore. This, so far as known, is the first discovery of dry ore in the district. Mr. Aldrich will go to the coast for the winter and return next season to further open up the property.

G.T.P. Townsite in Bulkley Valley.

As a result of the recent visit of Geo. H. Pope, right of way agent for the G.T.P., it is now definitely known where the future city of the Bulkley Valley is to be located. West of the Bulkley river and immediately south of the Telkwa, on the coal lands acquired by the G.T.P. from the Cassiar Coal Company, is a townsite possessed of all the natural advantages, and here will be established one of the large cities of the Northern Interior. At this point the railroad location line closely follows the south bank of the Bulkley river, being less than 100 feet from the bank. This will leave the present towns of that vicinity, Telkwa and Aldermere, on the opposite side of the Bulkley, but only a short distance away. The area of coal lands now held by the railroad comprise about sixty square miles, and although it is known the townsite is to be somewhere on this ground, the exact location is not announced, but owing to the lay of the ground there is only one place.

In accordance with the plans of the G.T.P. a request has been sent in to the local government office that the present site of the bridge across the Bulkley be moved a few hundred feet up the stream. This has no bearing on the townsite plans, but is said to be merely a precautionary measure for the benefit of those who will use the bridge. At the point where it is proposed to put the bridge the railroad survey is forty-five feet from the bank of the Bulkley and as no grade crossing could be made at the end of the bridge a wagon road would have to parallel the track for about 250 or 300 feet. This fact with the sharp turn that would be necessary at the west end of the bridge is considered dangerous for teams. By moving the bridge up the stream the wagon road can get entirely clear of the tracks in fifty feet. When the bridge is built this winter it will likely be according to the G.T.P.'s request.

The Grand Trunk Pacific bridge across the Skeena will be located at Hopkins Riffle, a short distance below Kitselas, and from there the grade will be on the south side of the river. This will be the only extensive bridge between the Nechaco and Prince Rupert.

The transportation of a machinery plant of eight tons weight over two hundred miles of trail is a work of magnitude and shows the spirit animating the men opening up the Ingineca placer country. No difficulty is too great to be overcome; no hardship too severe to be borne in the search for gold.

It is going to cost some thousands of dollars and some hardship before the plant which left Hazelton this week is in operation on McConnell Creek. But in spending this money and in undertaking the work the men behind the Ingineca Mining Co. are doing something which will be as valuable to others as to themselves and in this are deserving of commendation. Whatever may be their reward the future alone will determine but they have the best wishes of the people of Hazelton for the success of their undertaking.

Closer Union of English-Speaking People.

That there will in course of time be closer union of the English-speaking people of this continent nature seems to proclaim in the geographical way, since, whatever we may desire, it is hardly possible to believe that this broken line of provinces straggling across the continent, and unsuited for mutual defence, will forever stand apart from the rest of the continent. Cursory observers do not note the increase of intercourse of all kinds between Canada and the United States or the slackness of intercourse between our Pacific and Atlantic provinces with each other. They do not note the effect on national character of a common immigration. They do not see the significant uneasiness of the Imperialist party, shown by its restless propagandism. They would speak in less confident terms of the political attachment of Canada to England if they could see the feelings displayed here whenever Canada thinks herself slighted by British diplomacy, or note the votes of the Canadian Parliament in favor of Irish home rule passed to cultivate the Irish vote. Union of Canada with a sister power would relieve England of a heavy liability, what Disraeli called a "millstone round her neck," especially if there should ever be trouble with Japan. Natural affection would probably remain the same, perhaps be strengthened. However, there is nothing at present to betoken the approach of change; or to lead us to meddle with the question. Only if Imperialists get us into trouble with the Americans have we anything to apprehend from that quarter.—Goldwin Smith in the Weekly Sun.

Provisions should be ordered now to save money. The wholesaler in Vancouver will sell you, but he adds an extra 10 per cent., and you have the freight risks. Let me quote you on your full supplies shipped from Vancouver especially packed for you and at the same price that the wholesaler charges you. That extra 10 per cent is enough for me. EDITORIAL.

It is to be hoped that the necessary money to complete the wagon road to the Bulkley Valley towns will be obtained in time for work to be continued this fall. Long ago it became apparent that the appropriation allowed for the sixty miles of road from Hazelton would not be sufficient to complete the work in a proper manner and make a road worthy of the name. Work was started about the last of June, and up to the present time something over thirty miles of road has been completed. The present appropriation of ten thousand dollars will last only until about the first of October. More money is not asked because any of the money appropriated has been wasted, but because it is absolutely necessary to spend more than ten thousand dollars to turn a pack trail which was used as a sleigh road last winter with indifferent success, into a road passable to heavily loaded wagons. No breath of scandal has attached to the work during the time it has been in progress; no one has ever insinuated that the government was not getting full value for every dollar expended.

The completion of a good road to the Bulkley towns is an absolute essential to the further progress and development of the country. Land is to be cleared, broken up and put under cultivation in an increasing amount each year so that when the hungry army of railroad graders invades Bulkley Valley, at least a part of its supplies may be obtained locally.

While loaded wagons and in a constantly increasing number, have been hauled over the entire length of the road for the past two months, and the present time a stage is being run to the Bulkley Valley towns, that part of the road not covered by this season's work is in a deplorable state and cannot be called a wagon road by any stretch of imagination.

Much more might be said on this subject did we not feel that complaints are unnecessary and that the authorities at Victoria, knowing the importance of the work, will allow the expenditure of sufficient additional money to complete this job.

Mr. E. H. Fletcher, postoffice inspector for this postal division, was in town recently on a tour of inspection. While here he interviewed some of the parties who have been in the mail carrying contract business for the past two years or more, and who are bidding again for the contract for carrying the winter mail between here and Kitimat. Mr. Fletcher, it is understood, asked these parties, while they are tendering for this contract, to put in a bid for an additional service between here and Kitimat to be carried alternately with the fortnightly service. This additional service, it is understood, is to be a letter mail service only; that is, only first class matter, both registered and otherwise, will be carried. This would give the Northern Interior a weekly letter service between here and the coast.

Mr. Fletcher would not say definitely whether this additional service would be established, but said that the department have had the matter under advisement for some time, and that if they could make satisfactory arrangements with the contractors it would in all probability be established.

If this additional mail service, or any other additional mail service, should be established between the outside and Hazelton, it behooves the department to establish a better service between this point and the Bulkley Valley, Francis Lake and other sections of the district, whose settlement and development are alone responsible for the increased postal traffic between here and the coast. Primarily these districts are accountable for the existence of this and other such communities, which are being maintained wholly by the transcient traffic between the outside and these new fields of settlement and development; therefore the mail service should be equally as good between here and the districts in question as it is between the outside and here.

Numerically these districts outnumber this point ten to one or better, and until they are provided with a mail service connecting them directly with the outside, they are entitled to the benefit of every additional pound of mail the department sends in to this point from the coast.

This district has too long been dictated to by its dependents and I hope that the postoffice department will be the first to remedy this condition of affairs and to establish the first alternative to what has been the policy of the of the past, irrespective of party, namely, "the tail wagging the dog."

MAN ABOUT TOWN.

As far as actual work is concerned one hundred and forty pounds is about all the weight you really need. When it comes to appearing before the people, making the right impression, two hundred and forty is better. The difficulty with the excess is that you can't check it between whites. —The Philistine.
