GOVERNMENT WILL ENQUIRE INTO ALLEGED COAL COMBINE

Commissioner Appointed To Probe Into Operations of Companies and Causes of Coal Shortage. Premier To Introduce Resolution Regarding Panama Canal Rates

(Special to The Miner)

Victoria, Feb. 7:—Government appointed W. E. Burns, of Vancouver, barrister, a commissioner to investigate the alleged coal combine. He will make a thorough inquiry into the production sale and distribution of coal throughout the province. Scarcity of coal in all coast cities, a direct result of the miners' strike continues to inconvenience conconsumers,

On Monday Premier McBride will introduce in the house a resolution expressing satisfaction with the attitude taken by the British government in upholding Canada's protest against the proposed discrimination touching British and Canadian shipping, in Panama canal tolls.

This week's work in the legislature has been entirely devoid of sensational features.

Victoria, Feb. 5:—A large delegation of mining men asked the Government to undertake geological survey of province. The proposed work would be of immense value to mining industry.

MINING IN PROVINCE

Preliminary Review and Estimate of the Mineral Production for the Year 1912

This bulletin by W. Fleet Robertson, Provincial Mineralogist, is a preliminary review and estimate of the province's mineral production for the year 1912, before the receipt of the official reports from gold commissioners and mining recorders; and it is believed will prove to be approximately correct.

The accompanying table shows an estimated mineral production during 1912 of a total value of $32,606,000. It will be seen that the total value of production in 1912 is expected to be $9.106,928 more than in 1911, and more by $6,228,934 than that of 1910, the last mentioned year ($26,377,066) being the highest on record in the history of mineral production in British Columbia.

Conditions Favorable for Production in 1912

Conditions during the year 1912 were, on the whole, favorable to an increased mineral production, and the results obtained must be regarded as highly satisfactory, although in some respects the earlier expectations were not fully realized; for instance, an unusually dry and short working season affected the production of placer gold; the yield of lode gold also fell also fell short of what had appeared earlier in the season, a reasonable promise from all the districts contributing substantially to the total production of that metal. The production of lead also seems to have been somewhat less than had been anticipated, although it is quite possible it will be found to have been underestimated.

In coal also the increase in production is smaller than had been looked for, but this is explained by the fact that during the last quarter of the year, labor troubles affected adversely the output of the Cumberland and Extension collieries on Vancouver Island. With these exceptions, however, conditions were favorable for the production of minerals in larger quantities than in several years past.

Average prices for the year, of silver and copper, especially of the latter, induced efforts to maintain production on as large a scale as was practicable; one of the good results was an output of copper that, as regards both quantity and total value, is the highest on record in the province.

Province's Proportion of Production in Canada

British Columbia's proportion of the mineral production of the whole of Canada continues to be comparatively large. The aggregate value of the production of this province to the end of 1912 is, approximately, $430,000,000, but since the published official records of that of the whole Dominion do not include production prior to 1886, the present comparison must be restricted to a period of twenty-seven years—1886—1912. Placing the aggregane for all Canada at $1,352,000,000 (which allows for 1912 a Dominion total of $116,000.000, an amount nearly $13,000,000 greater than that of 1911), and British Columbia's proportion for the same period at $365,000,000, it follows that this province is to be credited with 27 per cent of the aggregate value of the mineral production in the whole of Canada in the twenty-seven year period under notice.

It is a striking fact, as indicating the substantial increase in the value of the mineral output of the province in recent years, as compared with that of less than twenty years ago, that nearly 36 per cent of the $365,000,000 mentioned above as the aggregate of production for twenty-seven years is to be credited to the last five years, 1908—1912, while nearly one-half was produced during seven years, 1906-1912.

Gold

No hesitation has been felt in estimating that the yield of gold, both placer and lode, has been larger than in 1911. For placer gold an increase in value of $74,000, and for lode gold $235,287 (equivalent to the value of 11,383 ounces of refined gold), has been taken as fairly representing the production of this metal, so far as indicated by the advices received to date. Dealing with these classes of gold-mining separately, it may be observed:

Placer gold:—Practically all the placer gold in the province is obtained in the Cariboo and Cassiar districts, less than one-twentieth of the total coming from the remaining districts. An approximate apportionment being: from Cariboo district, $230,000: Atlin division of Cassiar district. $250,000: remaining parts of the province, $20,000. In Cariboo division about $160,000 is the estimate for 1912, as against $136,000 in 1911; $60,000 for Quesnel division as compared with $34,000; and $10,000 for Omineca. It may be that for Quesnel division a larger yield will be shown, but this cannot be determined until after the results of the season's operations of the Quesnelle Hydraulic Mining Company shall be known.

As in 1911, the gravel washing season was short in both the Cariboo and Cassiar districts, and as a consequence, the total quantity of gold recovered was small as compared with that of a number of years prior to 1909. It is a remarkable fact that, while in the summer and autumn rainfall in the parts of the Cariboo district to the north and south of the goldfields was abundant, in the parts affecting the water supply for placer mining purposes it was very light. From Atlin, too, have come advices of the unfavorable effect of water conditions with a consequent diminished recovery of gold on two or three creeks. However, it is hoped that the season of 1913 will be a better one.

Renewed attention is being given to Omineca creeks, which in years gone by yielded much placer gold. Other parts of the province in which placer mining is done though only on a small scale, are, on several creeks and rivers in the Fort Steele division of East Kootenay, in Nelson, Trout Lake and Revelstoke divisions of West Kootenay; in Lillooet and Clinton divisions and several others.

Lode gold:—The increase in lode gold appears to have come chiefly from the boundary district, in which is included Osoyoos, as well as Grand Forks and and Greenwood divisions. with a production of about 17,000 ounces more than in 1911. Returns from Nelson division are incomplete, but an increase of between 1,000 and 2,000 ounces is estimated. For some reason not yet ascertained, there seems to have been a smaller output from the Rossland mines, with a resultant decrease in production of gold; possibly final returns will show differentiy, but from information so far received the estimate has had to be made of a reduction of several thousand ounces as compared with 1911. In the Coast district, too, there seems to have been a decreased production of lode gold, attributable in part to a temporary suspension of ship-

Ottawa, Feb. 7:—Conservative members have decided that the Liberals continue obstructive tactics government supporters will force a debate on the naval bill, even the extent of all night sessions of parliament. They are determined to defeat all attempts of the minority to throw the affairs of the country into useless confusion.

London, Feb. 7:—King George hopes to attend the next meeting of the Imperial Defence Committee which is expected to be held in Vancouver. Suffragette outrages continue to increase in violence. It is reported they will attempt to interview the King. Ex-ambassador Bryce British menber of the permanent court of arbitration, at The Hague.

Local Team Wins Ross Cup

Last Saturday evening the local hockey team, accompanied by a large number of enthusiastic supporters, went to New Hazelton and played the fifth game of a series of eight for the Duncan Ross cup.

As usual, New Hazelton went down to defeat for the fifth consecutive time, score being 5-3, and Hazelton players are happy victors as far as the cup is concerned, between these two contestants. The losing team accompanied the victors home with the trophy and a fitting banquet was held.

Though the ice was in poor condition, the game was fast and replete with excitement from start to finish. Referee Larocque was kept busy trying to eliminate the fencing proclivities of both teams and for which a number of the players were meted out penalties.

It is reported that Telkwa will challenge the locals for the trophy and some strenuous games are looked forward to; as the valley town is said to have fast players.

New Hazelton Hockey Club, Season 1912-1913.

New Hazelton, B.C.,
Feb. 7, 1913.

Editor Omineca Miner,

Dear Sir:

I have just read in the Omineca Herald of today's date, an article on last Saturday's hockey game in which grave accusations are brought against Mr. Larocque's reputation as a referee and a sportsman.

On behalf of the New Hazelton hockey club I would take this opportunity of thanking Mr. Larocque for stepping into the breach at a moment's notice and officiating at last Saturday's game and assure him of our utmost satisfaction in his decisions.

Yours truly
R. T. Bishop, Sec. N.H.H.C.

Prince Rupert, Feb. 4:—The great masses of drift ice along the Skeena River have carried away many wharves from the different canneries near the mouth of the stream. At the Balmoral cannery, which is located at the junction of the Hocstall and Skeena rivers, it is reported that all of the wharf and part of the cannery buildings were washed away. The situation of the Balmoral cannery is such that it would receive the full benefit of all the ice coming down both rivers.

It is further reported that at the Inverness and Dominion canneries the wharves have been carried away but the buildings have escaped.

Vancouver, Feb. 7:—City council passed C.N.R. proposals for the acquisition of the head waters of False Creek, for terminal purposes. This matter will be voted on by the rate-payers on March 11. Confidence of a favorable decision is expressed by many of the prominent citizens. The project will involve an expenditure of eight million, this to be divided between construction of the terminal works proper and a four mile underground approach.

GUNS OF BALKAN ALLIES HEARD IN CONSTANTINOPLE

Allies Fullfill Threats To Resume War and Begin Bombardment of Adrianople. Turks Defeated In Battle. Warring Nations Improvished, Cannot Prolong Conflict

Sofia, Feb. 7:—The main object of the Bulgarian armies, aside from the capture of Adrianople, was disclosed by the war office today. Their plan is to reach the Dardanelles and clear the straits for the passage of the Greek fleet into the Sea of Mar-Marmora. The Greeks will then attack Constantinople directly from the sea. Roaring of the artillery in action can be heard in the Turkish capital.

London, Feb. 7:—A Constantinople despatch says severe fighting has been going on for two days, in Gallipoli and the the Bulgarians have won all along the line. The Turkish losses are reported to be five thousand. Adrianople is still being bombarded by the big guns.

London, Feb. 7:—All efforts to prevent resumption of Balkan war have proved of no avail and the Allies began a stiff bombardment of Adrianople on Tuesday, making a fierce and determined attack on the garrison of the Turkish stronghold. Turkish troops occupying Gallipoli were defeated by a Bulgarian force and are said to be retreating in disorder.

From a military and economic standpoint Turkey's position is regarded as hopeless. All the powers concerned in the war are financially embarassed and authorities believe will soon be compelled to cease fighting.

Wilson May Have Six Year Term

Washington, Feb. 8:—Woodrow Wilson may hold a six year term as President of the United States if the house of representatives and three-fourths of the states ratify a constitutional amendment passed by the senate late today by one vote more than the necessary two-thirds, 47 to 23.

The resolution, introduced by Senator John D. Works of California, so amends the constitution as to fix the term at six years, instead of four, and would make ineligible for reelection any person who had once been elected to the office.

The measure has not yet passed the house: If it is approved by it and ratified by three-fourths of the states within the next four years, it appeared certain the measure automatically would extend the four year term to which Governor Wilson was elected last November to March, 4, 1919.

No specific provision to this end was carried in the resolution as enacted, but the senate did vote down a motion to fix the term of President in office at the time of final ratification of the amendment at four years, so that negatively, at least, the upper chamber agreed to a six year term, providing the amendment is ratified.

Works' resolution contemplates substitution of the following in place of the first section of Article II. of the constitution.

"The executive power shall be vested in a President of the United States of America. The term of office of President shall be six years; and no persan who has held the office by election or discharged its powers or duties or acted as President under the constitution and laws made in pursuance thereof shall be eligible to again hold the office by election.

"The, President, together with a vice-president chosen for the same term, shall be elected as follows:"

Here the language of the constitution is resumed.

The proposed constitutional amendment will effect the vice-presidency except to lengthen the term to six years. There would be no prohibition against reelection of the President's running mate and there is nothing to prevent a vice-president who succeeds to the Presidency through the death or removal of a President, from being elected to a second term in the White House.

Every attempt to amend the Works resolution in three days of rapid-fire debate, was fruitless. Wilsonites, Taftites and Bull Moosers all tried to figure out ways of changing the language of the amendment so as to favor their candidates with second terms. The personal political element was injected into the debate and resulted in speeches that went far afield of the subject under discussion.

Duke Hopes To Return

Montreal, Feb. 5:—"We hope to return to Canada next summer," said H.R.H. the Duke of Connaught, speaking before the Canadian club today, in regard to his forthcoming visit to Great Britain with the Duchess of Connaught.

His Royal Highness also thanked the people of Canada for the heartfelt sympathy which had been expressed from coast to coast in connection with the illness of the Duchess of Connaught. The Duchess, he explained, was not yet convalescent, but was in no immediate danger.

This is the Governor-General's first public announcement since the announcement of his forthcoming return to Great Britain.

Ottawa, Eeb. 7:—The Pacific and Hudson Bay railroad asked the Dominion government for a guarantee of $40,000 per mile for the railway Bella Coola to Fort George, thence Smoky River, Alberta, through Pine river pass the road to be extended to Hudson's Bay later.

The Omineca Miner has the largest bona fide circulation of any newspaper in the Northern Interior of British Columbia.

Practically the full text of the Railway Commission's order relating to the South Hazelton station was published in The Miner of November 9th, as a despatch from Ottawa. The full decision is now published in order that the public may compare the real decision with the fake printed this week by a contemporary. It will be readily understood by the public that the real order coming under date of October 31 could not be preceded by another under date of October 2. One of the leading dailies was stung with the same cooked up "decision" and we would like to believe, in all charitableness, that this latest reprint was done in ignorance but the situation is too well understood locally to permit of that.

"Mr. Commisstoner McLean:

The reasons for judgment and the draft order in this application have been allowed to stand for a limited time because of the representations of counsel representing certain interests in and around New Hazelton. It was represented that new and material evidence could be submitted, and a limited time was allowed so that the Board might be satisfied from the statements indicating the nature of the evidence to be submitted whether a rehearing should be granted.

There are now before the Board telegraphic statements from the Board of Trade of Old Hazelton favoring the South Hazelton location. There are also counter telegrams alleging that only a bare majority of those present at the Board of Trade meeting which passed the resolution in question favored it. It is also stated that a majority of the members of the Board of Trade are opposed to having two stations, and favor a single station at New Hazelton.

It is alleged in the course of these counter telegrams that the approval of the South Hazelton location in addition to New Hazelton will "tend to prolong the townsite controversy, which has been a great detriment to business generally." The Board is not going to mingle in townsite matters qua townsite. It will intervene in the matter of station accommodation only where there is a public need for a station, or where the railway has entered into an agreement binding itself to establish a station.

Aside from what is outlined in the preceding section, it is not concerned with whether two townsites grow where one grew before. There may be abuses in the matter of location of townsites; there may be too many of them; some of them may be simply the capitalization of an iridescent optimism, But be this as it may, there is not within the four corners of the Railway Act any statement that the Board is the official guardian of townsites, and the Railway Act no where over rules the necessity of investors exercising common sense.

It is also also alleged in support of the Application for a rehearing, that the Grand Trunk Pacific is refusing to haul freight and passengers to New Hazelton. All that need be said on this is that leave to carry traffic as far as the South Hazelton site was applied for and granted. No application for leave to carry traffic on additional mileage east of this has been received by the Board.

The whole question is whether Old Hazelton is to have on the South Hazelton location traffic facilities in addition to those afforded by New Hazelton. The Board has already decided this.

Order approving the South Hazelton location plan as filed should now go.

Ottawa, October 31th, 1912."

Eastern G. T. P. Estimates

Winnipeg, Feb. 5:—Mr. H. A. Woods, assistant chief engineer of the Grand Trunk Pacific railway, has now issued his report with the estimates for construction on the eastern division of the line. Up to the present time the total amount of money, representing nearly 2,000 miles of line, is $95,891,086. Included in this sum is $685,246 for buildings, in addition to $2,677.784 for miscellaneous contracts representing work of various kinds done at, or near, the city of Winnipeg. The Grand Trunk Pacific railway are, themselves, the contractors for some three hundred miles of constructed line in this district.

News Notes from Many Sources

J. Bruce Ismay is soon to retire as managing director of the White Star Line. Since the Titanic disaster and its aftermath his health has been seriously impaired. At fifty years of age he is physically an old man.

Enormous frauds against the government of the United States through trafficking in stolen stamps have just been discovered. The frauds are said to involve a loss to the government of two million dollars annually. Several arrests have been made in Chicago and New York.

Reports are that P. Burns, of Calgary, and a syndicate of Calgary capitalists and others are interested in 3,000 acres of land in the Naas valley and they intend to go in for extensive sheep raising in the near future. This purchase was made just recently and the deal involved a great amount of money.

Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan, the modern money Colossus, is now in his seventy-fifth year. Twenty years ago Mr. Morgan controlled $527,282,563 in outstanding stocks and bonds; in 1897, $1,396,506,231 was the total of the enormous fortune in his charge. In 1902 Mr. Morgan's company was estimated to control $3,852,940,908, and during the last ten years this is said to have grown to $26,854,254,628.

Uncle Sam's experiment in coal mining in Alaska, last summer, for which congress appropriated $75,000, produced 855 tons of coal from the Cunningham claim at a cost of $65,000, or something more than $75 a ton. Evidence to this effect was given before the House committee on naval affairs when naval autnorities appeared asking for another appropriation of $75,000 with which to get the 855 tons mined out to tidewater, and continue the experiment.

As a result of this exposure, coal mining by the government has received a setback. The facts concerning Uncle Sam's $75 coal were brought to the attention of the committee by Delegate Wickersham, of Alaska, a member of the committee, through a letter received from Secretary of the Navy Meyers.

Invitations are out for a housewarming at the McInnes ranch on February 12th. Mr. McInnes' new house is said to be the finest in the country, and there is no doubt the guests will be well entertained.

That the Bulkley valley has some talent of more than the ordinary ability was proven to a large and appreciative audience, Thursday evening, at a concert given by the Bohemian club, in the English church. There were twelve numbers on the program and each effort brought forth an encore from the audience. At the conclusion of the program the president of the club, Mr. W. Gale, announced that they would give a masquerade dance on February 13th, a conversazione on February 27th and one, or possibly two, playlets during the month of March.—Tribune.

Word has been received from E. Lemke, who is in Seattle, and who says that town is humming. He visited the Renton brick works, on the outskirts of Seattle, and the officials were very much impressed with the qualities of the Bulkley clay, specimens of which he took out with him. A shipment of this clay will be made, as soon as practicable, to determine its commercial possibilities, as will also a a shipment to the Prince Rupert fair of the raw and finished products.—Interior News.

ment of first-class ore from Texada Island, pending the completion of some necessary development work in the chief connecting mine.

In the Boundary district a comparatively large proportion of the gold is obtained by smelting ores of which the main valuable metal content is copper. The Granby and British Columbia Copper Companies together produced about 67,000 ounces of gold; the money value of the product of the Hedley Gold Mining Company was equal to approximately 37,000 ounces of refined gold. In the Rossland camp (Trail Creek division) the largest producer by far is the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Canada, weich operates the Center Star-War Eagle group of mines and the Le Roi. Next comes the Le Roi No. 2, Ltd., which also produces gold-copper smelting ore. The Trail Creek division, like the Greenwood, in 1912 had a new reducer added to its list—the Inland Empire. That in Greenwood division is Jewel. Both commenced milling gold ore late in the year, so that their respective yields of gold were small.

In the Nelson division, the Queen and Mother Lode, in Sheep Creek camp; the Arlington, at Erie and the Granite-Poorman, near the town of Nelson, contributed most of the lode gold—Approximately 20,000 ounces, comprising the total for the year of this division. The Yankee Girl at Ymir, and the Second Relief, at Erie, were both producers, but to what extent has not yet been learned.

Silver

The production of silver appears to have been the largest in any of six or seven recent years. It was more than 1,000,000 ounces larger than in 1911, and 450,000 ounces greater than in 1910. To the total of about 2,900,000 ounces the Boundary district copper mines contributed something like 390,000 ounces, and the Coast mines 102,000 ounces, the Britannia mine having been the chief producer on the coast. The remaining 2,408,000 ounces came from the Kootenay district mines, the largest part being from Slocan mines, the largest producers among which were the Standard, and Van-Roi, both in Silverton camp, near Slocan Lake, with the Rambler-Cariboo adding a fair share. In the Ainsworth division there were more than half a dozen shippers of silver bearing ore—namely, the No. 1 Silver Hoard, Bluebell, Utica, Retallack & Co's Whitewater and two or three smaller mines. The Sullivan, in East Kootenay, added between them 250,000 and 300,000 ounces to the total.

More than two-thirds of the output of silver was recovered at the Trail smelter, and nearly 500,000 ounces from smelting ores in the Boundary and Coast districts, while practically all the remainder was contained in silver-zinc concentrates sent to the United States for reduction.

The New York price of silver was higher all through the year than the average of the highest month in 1911. Commencing with 56.260 cents for January, it rose to nearly 64 cents toward the close of the year, giving an average for 1912 of nearly 61 cents, as against 53.304 cents for 1911, so that production in 1912 had the benefit of fully 7 cents increase in price, as well as the larger quantity mentioned.

Lead

In placing the production of metallic-lead at 38,000,000 pounds it is thought an ample margin has been allowed for loss in smelting. The quantity of lead contained in ores sent to reduction works in 1912 is stated to have been between 44,00,0000 and 45,000,000 pounds. A rough apportionment of the source of this lead is as follows: East Kootenay, mainly from the Sullivan mine, 16,000,000 pounds; Ainsworth division, 7,000,000 pounds: Slocan, in largest part from the Standard and Van-Roi mines, 19,500,000 pounds; Nelson division, largely from the Emerald and Molly Gibson mines, 2,500,000 pounds. These figures indicate in a general way the lead producing districts and the lead-content of the ores shipped, not the metallic-lead recovered.

Lead-ore receipts at the Trail smelter from the St. Eugene mine in 1912 were small, as compared with those of earlier years Others than those already mentioned who shipped lead-ore in considerable quantity were: the Monarch at Field; Utica and Retallack & Co's Whitewater mine, in Ainsworth division; Rambler-Cariboo, Richmond-Eureka and Ruth-Hope groups, in Slocan.

Lead bounty matters are receivlng the attention of mine-owners in the lead producing districts, for under the existing Dominion act the payment of bounty "shall cease and determine on June 30th, 1913." Efforts are being made to obtain continued assistance in some effective form. The amount of bounty earned in 1912 was only about $65,000, the London price of lead during about seven months having been about that at which bounty ceases to be payable. There remains something like $700,000 unearned, of the original bounty appropriation of $2,500,000.

Copper

The estimated increase in the copper production as compared with 1910 is about 12,756,000 pounds; with 1911 it is 14,072,000 pounds. Going back to earlier years, the comparison does not appear favorable, but in point of fact it is, since the total of 51,000,000 pounds estimated for 1912 is the quantity of copper actually recovered, while some years ago it was customary to record the copper content of the ore without allowing for the loss in smelting. The increase in production for last year is, therefore, much greater in comparison with any one of the years 1906-1909, inclusive, than is at first evident. The copper-content of ores smelted in 1912, as shown by assays, was approximately 62,000,000 pounds, so a liberal allowance has been made for loss in the slags.

As in years past, the Boundary district mines were the largest producers of copper, with a recovery of fully 33,000,000 pounds two-thirds of which came from the Granby Consolidated Co's mines at Phoenix and one-third from those of the British Columbia Copper Co. situated in other parts of the district. The latter company owns a controlling interest in the New Dominion Copper Co., so the production of the Rawhide mine, in Phoenix camp, is included in the quantity shown as British Columbia Copper Co's production. Copper recoveries from Rossland ores appear to have been about 2,330,000 pounds while the Coast mines are credited with between 15,000,000 and 16,000,000 pounds, nearly all of which comes from Britannia Co's mines near Howe Sonnd, with the remainder, except a small quantity from the Red Cliff in the Portland Canal division, from the Marble Bay mine on Texada Island.

It is noteworthy that copper now leads in the aggregate value of production of individual metals in all years; that is, if placer and lode gold be taken separately. The respective aggregate figures are: copper $78,653,000; placer gold, $72,139,000; lode gold $70,497,000. The development of the copper mining industry in the province may be strikingly illustrated by comparing the relative totals of these several metals as at the close of the year 1900 with those just mentioned. They were: placer gold, $62,584,000; lode gold, $12,813,000; copper, $4,363,000. A comparison of these figures shows that copper has taken a leading place in the metalliferous production of British Columbia for while, during the twelve years, 1901-1912, the total production of lode gold has been valued at $57,694,000, and of placer gold only $9,555,000, that of copper has been $69,291,000.

Zinc

The adverse conditions that throughout 1911 affected the production of zinc, so far as concerned the Whitewater and the Lucky Jim mines, in the Slocan, continued until 1912 was well adtoward its close. In fact they still exist, as affecting the Whitewater gronp, for the concentrating mill destroyed by fire in the summer of 1910 has not yet been replaced, although transportation facilities have been restored. The latter improvement made it practicable for the shipment of zinc-ore from the Lucky Jim mine to be resumed in the following autumn.

Most of the zinc bearing material shipped was in the form of concentrate, made as a second product in mills concentrating ores also containing lead and silver. In round figures the zinc recovered from concentrates was as follows: from the Standard Co's shipments, 2,706,000 pounds; Van-Roi Co's, 2,317,000 pounds; Monarch mine 1.000,000 pounds. Recovery from Lucky Jim ore shipped crude was probably 3,000,000 pounds (returns have not yet been received), and from Noble Five ore, 200,000 pounds. In estimating an output of 8,500,000, as included in the foregoing table, it is thought a safe margin has been allowed.

A Word About Aluminum Utensils
Every piece of Aluminum is spun (not pressed or stamped) from sheet Aluminum which means there are no seams, that all corners are beautifully rounded, smooth and perfect, that the whole utensil is an even thickness, and is as perfect and sanitary as human ingenuity can make it. It is therefore fast winning its way as a friend of the kitchen. The utensils are very easy to handle on account of their extreme lightness, and their silvery white, highly polished finish is always clean and pleasant to the critical eye, appealing especially to women of refinement.
This then is to call special attention to our stock which embraces nearly every article used in the kitchen.
Our prices are specially attractive.
