MASKED BANDITS BOLDLY ROB BANK IN NEW HAZELTON

Dastardly Attempt to Kill Teller McQueen---Criminals Escape With Sixteen Thousand Dollars---Stopped Near Town to Divide Their Spoil.

The pioneer bandits of this district made their appearance in New Hazelton on Tuesday evening, and held up the branch of the Union Bank in that town, making their escape with about $16,000, after shooting C. J. McQueen, the acting teller.

The bandits, who numbered four or five, entered the bank shortly after six, while the teller and R. W. Fenton, the ledger-keeper, were at dinner. On returning to the bank at 6.30, Fenton, who entered first, saw two figures in the bank, but thought them Manager Tatchell and his wife. McQueen, who followed Fenton, was seized by two other intruders, who had been behind the door. One of his captors shot the teller in the face, inflicting a nasty wound and causing him to lose consciousness. McQueen was thrown to the floor, and four masked men, armed with automatic pistols, called upon Fenton to open the safe. The latter perforce obeyed, and the robbers secured the cash box, containing about $16,000, and made their escape, after warning Fenton to remain quiet.

McQueen regained consciousness after a few minutes, and an alarm was given. The men were seen going east through the town. Next day the police discovered that they had taken the Rocher de Boule trail, stopping about two miles from town, presumably to divide the loot, as a cheque and a five dollar bill were found at that point. There does not appear to be any likelihood of their immediate capture.

The wounded banker was attended by Rev. D. R. McLean until the arrival of Dr. Wrinch. Is was found that the bullet was imbedded under the cheek bone, but as the Hazelton Hospital is not yet equipped with X-rays the patient was taken to the coast on Thursday for treatment. His condition is not dangerous.

MEXICAN SITUATION IS STILL MOST CRITICAL

Washington, Nov. 13:—There is no material change in the Mexican situation, affairs being still in a critical condition. The United States, while awaiting the delayed reply of Huerta to its representations, is quietly preparing for the possible necessity for intervention.

It is understood that Great Britain is not in sympathy with the attitude of President Huerta, and it is not believed he will be recognized by any of the powers. Japan has decided to send a cruiser to Mexican waters, for the protection of Japanese.

Britain's Naval Plans

London, Nov. 12:—The British naval estimates for 1914 will show substantial increases, according to a statement by Hon. Winston Churchill. Even in the region of the air, said the minister, Great Britain will not heed to fear comparison with any country.

Rioters Out on Bail

Vancouver, Nov. 12:—J. T. Place, member of the legislature for Nanaimo, who was in jail on charges of complicity in the strike riots in the coal city, has been granted bail of $2000. Thirty other alleged rioters will be allowed bail.

Bulgaria's Ultimatum

Sofia, Nov. 13:—Bulgaria has issued an ultimatum to Greece, demanding the release of all prisoners and restoration of other rights.

Lady Strathcona Dead

London, Nov. 13:—Lady Strathcona died here today, in her 89th year. The funeral will be in London.

Czar's Heir Dying

St. Petersburgh, Nov. 13:—The only son of the Czar is dying of tuberculosis of the bones.

That transportation interests are directing their attention in no uncertain way to the possibilities of Alaska and the Yukon is clearly indicated by the interviews with White Pass and Yukon Route officials and an American government cabinet officer, published today, says the Province.

The business men of the Coast cities would have their eyes opened as to the value of the mineral industry if they would organize occasional excursions to the mining camps, says an exchange. In this way they would combine business with pleasure and accumulate valuable information as to development. The subject is one which should have the consideration of the boards of trade.

A mine has three stages—the prospect, the proven, and the dividend paper. There is a strong aversion on the part of investors to take their chance in a prospect, but the shrewdest mining investors are beginning to see that this is where the opportunity comes in for the best return on the outlay. The Daily Mining Record, of Denver, points out that a prospect is worth no more than is required to prove it up; and if a prospect is well selected the chance of loss is reduced to a minimum; while if it proves a mine the man who is interested himself in it possesses a large margin of profit that does not accrue to the man who will only invest in a proven mine.

Amos Godfrey, the coal operator, accompanied by Joseph Neen, a practical coal man from Nanaimo, arrived on Wednesday, and left next day for the Groundhog field, presumably to figure out plans for development of some of the coal areas in which Mr. Godfrey is interested.

Many tickets are being sold for the performance of The Hat Box on Thursday evening next, in aid of the Hospital X-ray fund.

The Athletic association officers have had considerable work done on the new rink, which will be ready for use as soon as there is sufficient frost to make good ice.

AN EXPERIMENTAL FARM

Provincial Agricultural Station and Meteorological Observatory For Valley

The provincial department of agriculture has decided to establish an experimental station near Smithers. The location selected is a part of Fairview Farms, the property of George Driver & Son, situated on Tyee lake- Present operations will be confined to an area of five acres, which will be cultivated under the direction of H. E. Walker, the district agriculturist. The land has been plowed by Mr. Driver. In connection with the farm a meteorological station will be maintained, to observe and record weather and climatic conditions. Located, as it is, on a typical Bulkley ranch in the heart of the district, the station will prove of great benefit to the farmers of the interior.

Mines Will Exceed Record

Vancouver, Nov. 12:—That the mineral production of British Columbia for 1913 would surpass even the record output of the previous year was the prediction of the provincial mineralogist, who has returned from the Kootenays to Victoria. The greatest increase will be in the product of lode mines.

Parliament January 15

Ottawa, Nov. 12:—It is probable that the house of commons will meet on January 15.

TO BE TRIED FOR MURDER

Slayer of Clarence Howell Committed For Trial in Preliminary Hearing at Telkwa

At Telkwa on Saturday Oscar Wicklund was given a preliminary hearing on the charge of murder and was committed for trial. The prisoner, who shot Clarence Howell at Telkwa on Tuesday, as the culmination of a drunken row, is a Russian Finn who had just arrived from Fort George. The evidence as to the shooting was conclusive. Wicklund was taken to Hazelton, where he will remain until Sunday, when he will be removed to New Westminster, to await his trial.

Millitants to Have Army

London, Nov. 13:—Sylvia Pankhurst has called for volunteers for a militant suffragette army. During the week three hundred men and women have enrolled. German manufacturers offer to supply guns to the suffragettes for $1.15 each.

Ask Release of Miners

Vancouver, Nov. 12:—A mass meeting of the "Miners' Liberation League" was held last night. The speakers criticized the government and Judge Howay in extreme language.

TERRIBLE STORM ON GREAT LAKES WRECKS MANY SHIPS

Shores of Superior, Huron, and Erie Strewn with Wreckage of Vessels Driven Ashore---One Hundred and Seventy-Three Lives Lost.

Cleveland, Nov. 14:—So far as at present known, the loss of life in the storm on the Great Lakes was 173. Eleven ships are known to have been wrecked. One vessel carried 500,000 bushels of wheat. The loss reported to date is four million dollars.

Sault Ste. Marie, Nov. 12:—The shores of Lakes Superior, Huron, and Erie are strewn with the wreckage of many vessels destroyed in the three days' storm which has raged on the lakes. The gale was one of the worst on record. It is believed that at least sixty lives were lost in wrecks, although the total loss will not be known for some days. Some twenty vessels are overdue.

Cleveland was the hardest hit of any of the lake cities, the storm causing great damage. Five people are reported killed and ten missing. The property loss is estimated at two millions, and there is great suffering in the city.

Bodies are being washed ashore on all three lakes.

Port Huron, Nov. 11:—A large steel freighter, upturned, was found floating in Lake Huron yesterday, eight miles northwest of here. Captain Reed, of the wrecking crew which located her, said the name could not be learned. It is believed she was abandoned during the terrific storm of yesterday morning.

Cleveland, Nov. 11:—The most severe storm in recent years struck Cleveland and this vicinity Sunday and continued yesterday. Thousands of dollars of damage has been done. Communication with the outside world was cut off for thirty hours. Trains are from twelve to eighteen hours late. Many minor wrecks are reported on Lake Erie.

Duluth, Nov. 11:—The captains of craft arriving here report the worst weather since the great storm of eight years ago.

Sault Ste. Marie, Nov. 11:—The steamer Huronic was driven ashore at Whitefish Bay yesterday by a terrific storm. She is now resting on the sands and her situation is not considered serious.

Marquette, Nov. 11:—The cabin, wheelhouse and other parts of a big steamer were washed ashore twenty-five miles west of here. It is believed they are parts of the freight steamer L. B. Waldo, which is supposed to have foundered in the storm.

Greece Is Penniless

Athens, Nov. 10:—Public sentiment is growing more anxious as regards the outcome of the Graeco-Turkish negotiations.

A common ground for agreement was found, thirteen days ago, but Turkey has refused to sign the treaty of peace. The last time the two governments were in union the Turks delayed final action thirty days and then reopened the whole question.

Both the Greek and Turkish armies are on a war footing. Greece maintains her full army force in Macedonia. On her army and navy she is spending $25,000,000.

There is not now a penny in the treasury. Yesterday Premier M. Venizelos and the government reached an agreement that if Turkey still refused to sign the agreement, Greece would declare war on the Turkish army still in Macedonia. Greece is powerless to face the present situation indefinitely.

Neither the government of France nor that of Berlin will allow bankers to advance any money whatever to Greece. If her army does not disband at once it must face starvation.

Earthquake in Peru

Lima, Nov. 12:—An earthquake in the province of Abancy, Peru, wrecked Abancy City, killing two hundred people. Thousands are homeless.

CAN'T SELL FIREARMS EXCEPT BY PERMIT

In the police court yesterday a prominent Hazelton merchant appeared before the magistrate and pleaded guilty to contravention of the offensive weapons act. Under the new act, dangerous weapons may not be sold except to persons holding permits. The defendant admitted the offence, which was committed in ignorance, and was mulcted in the costs of the case. Magistrate Hoskins stated from the bench that the law would be strictly enforced, and that any person hereafter convicted of selling firearms contrary to the act would be severely dealt with.

Daring Aviator's Feats

Juvisy, France, Nov. 10:—Maurice Chevillard, the French aviator, made several complete aerial loops in a biplane this afternoon before 1000 spectators. After giving a wonderful aerial acrobatic performance he flew head downward and made five loops at a height of 3,500 feet, three of them consecutively.

Fort George in December

Vancouver, Nov. 12:—Officials of the Grand Trunk Pacific say the steel has been laid 411 miles west of Edmonton. Trains are now in operation that far. The rails are expected to reach Fort George from the east early in December.

A saying of Hon. R. L. Borden is being widely quoted. It is to the effect that as the British people everywhere acknowledge one King only, the time must soon come when they will meet as equals in the councils of the Sovereign in respect to matters bearing upon the relation of the Empire to other Powers. This is in line with Viscount Milner's happy phrase in which he described the ideal constitution of tne Empire as "a partnership between equals." Mr. Borden has not suggested any plan whereby this equality in counsel can be brought about, and in this we think he showed a wise discretion, says the Colonist. The development of British institutions has never been spasmodic. They have "slowly broadened down from precedent to precedent." It has been said by a careful student of Canadian history that sixty years ago there were only about four men in public life in Great Britain who believed that Canada would remain within the Empire if allowed to make her own tariffs. They were Elgin, Grey, Russell and one other whose name has slipped our memory. We are accustomed in these days to think that the "little Englanders" were confined to extreme radicals; but as a matter of fact nearly every public man, Whig or Tory, Liberal or Radical, were beginning to speak in the "strain to shame us," which Tennyson in his stirring poem so strongly condemned as unworthy of the nation; which "the roar of Hougomont left mightiest under Heaven." We have passed that stage. Then an imperial partnership seemed impossible; now it is in the thought of everyone. But a movement of this kind cannot be hastened. We must wait patiently for the processes of time. Thirty years, or from 1848 to 1878, were required to develop Canadian fiscal autonomy; we cannot hope to develop a system of joint imperial responsibility, which is a far more difficult thing, in a few years. Mr. Borden has done useful work in directing the attention of the British people to what must be the consummation of imperial unification, and at this stage the question may well be left for the present.

U. S. and Mexico

The possibility of intervention by the United States in the Mexican situation is engaging international attention. An exchange says that the available troops in the United States at present are 10,100 cavalry and 18,060 infantry, with 3200 field artillery. About 3000 more cavalry and 9000 more infantry are serving abroad in the Philippines and Hawaii and could hardly be withdrawn in any great numbers. The National Guard or organized militia consists of about 119,000 officers and men, about three-fourths of which could actually be placed in the field for service. The nation has always relied on being able to raise a great volunteer army, which no doubt it could do. The trouble is that raw recruits with no knowledge of drill or the modern rifle are of no practical value. They do not know how to camp, march, to obey orders to shoot. At least some training would be necessary before any could take the field. In the navy there are about 50,000 men, of whom, say, 25,000 would be available for shore service. They would be most useful, but as has been pointed out the trouble in undertaking any operations against Mexico is not how to take Mexico City, but what to do when it is taken. The United States can blockade the Mexican ports and cause much inconvenience and possibly it will call on the navy first if it tries to coerce Mexico and merely keep the army to prevent the Mexicans raiding United States territory. Blockades are, however, ticklish things to undertake where the merchant marine of the blockaded state is very small. International complications arise very easily. The United States might take possession of the coast cities and the customs and avoid any advance into the interior, but it is rather doubtful if such action would be very effective. If intervention comes, it seems inevitably to lead eventually to annexation and by that all Central America may be roused against the domination of the United States.

Smithers Notes

(From Thursday's Review)

T. J. Herlihy is about to engage in the teaming business here.

Dr. D. R. McLean is in town, en route from Hazelton to the end of steel.

Stanley Jones has opened a bakery in the new building at Main and First.

G. W. Spinning is conducting an excellent eating place in connection with his rooming house on Aldous street, near the depot.

The skating rink, which is situated on Alfred street, will be ready for use in a very short time. It will be 80x150 feet in size.

W. J. O'Neill, who has charge of the arrangements for the electric light plant, is expected to return from the coast on Saturday's train.

G. C. Killam, the architect, is erecting a large building at Second and King, for A. M. Tod, the electrician. Mr. Killam will have an office in the building.

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Chettleburgh arrived from the coast last evening, leaving at once for Telkwa, where they will make their home for the winter.

Dr. Badgero, the dentist, is already installed in handsome offices in the Williams-Carr building, and has begun what will doubtless prove an excellent practice.

The sanitation committee has made arrangements for the disposal of garbage, and from now on residents will be required to comply with the regulations of the health act.

Many wells have been sunk to obtain water for present uses. In every case good water has been obtained, the water-bearing stratum being found at an average depth of 21 feet.

Through the derailing of a truck about two miles east of town, the arrival of the accommodation train was delayed several hours yesterday. Many of the passengers walked in.

K. K. McLauchlin, the tin worker, is placing his plant and stock in his new shop, which is practically finished. It is located next to Smith & Eggleston's planing mill on Alfred street.

Walter Noel arrived last evening from Hazelton, leaving this morning to bring up the stock of men's furnishings ordered for Noel & Rock's Smithers store, which will be opened next week.

R. S. Sargent, who returned a few days ago from a visit to Saskatchewan and Chicago, came up from Hazelton last night. He was greatly pleased with the progress made since his last visit, and quite satisfied with the growth of the Sargent business here under Jas. A. Macdonald's management.

Thanks to the energetic and practical efforts of Rev. C. E. Batzold, the handsome church of the Methodist denomination, which is being erected on Broadway, is within measureable distance of completion, and the pastor expects to hold the opening services a week from next Sunday. A feature which will be appreciated by many will be a commodious reading room, which will be supplied with a large range of literature.

The first wedding in Smithers took place last evening, when Miss Reynolds became Mrs. William Cox. The residence of H. G. Smith was the scene of the wedding, and many friends gathered to wish the happy couple well. Mr. Cox is a well known Bulkley rancher, of the Round lake district, while the bride has just arrived from Chicago, The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. E. Batzold and Rev. H. G. Kingston.

The Union Bank building is practically finished, and is in use by the staff, althoug the furniture has not arrived. The large safe is expected within a few days, and on its arrival the Smithers branch will be in full operation. J. H. Hetherington will be in full charge, with A. E. Fawcett as accountant. The appointment of these popular officials will be approved by the business men of the town, who know and esteem both. J. Wilson will remain in charge of the banch at Telkwa.

Richard Kleesattel, a prominent mining engineer, who is identified with the Marble Bay mine and other well-known properties, is paying a visit to the district. He came to Smithers yesterday, with the intention of visiting one of the Hudson Bay properties for which he is negotiating. Mr. Kleesattel states that the Marble Bay mine, which is on Texada Island, shows a remarkable body of bornite and native silver ore at a depth of 1350 feet below sea level. Shipments are being made to Trail smelter.

Oats, chicken feed and cereals at Sargent's.
