ALDERMAN MOBLEY HOLDS IMMENSE RALLY

CROWDED AND ORDERLY MEETING LISTENED TO A SERIES OF EDUCATIONAL ADDRESSES IN THE MacINTYRE HALL

IS NOW ASSURED OF VICTORY

A. J. Prudhomme In Capital Speech Announces His Support of Ald. Mobley---Instructive Address by Mr. J. S. Cowper---Aldermen Pattullo, Lynch and Naden Give Fine Speeches In Support of Their Old Colleague ---Best Meeting of the Whole Campaign

The best meeting of the campaign. It was the judgment passed by consent upon the great Mobley held in the McIntyre hall last night. Remarkable unanimity prevailed throughout and the utmost attention and enthusiasm was the best tribute to the list of able speakers who at one time or other figured on the platform. Mr. A. J. Prudhomme initiated himself the campaign with a splendid fighting effort which indicated the additional strength that his candidature will lend to the platform of Alderman Mobley whom he is supporting for the mayor's chair. A lasting impression was made with a finely reasoned and delicately polished address by Mr. J. S. Cowper upon the issues and the results that will accrue from them, and generally speaking the meeting was not only the best in the ordinary sense of the enthusiasm displayed, but it was the best in an educative sense, as Ald. Pattullo remarked at the close.

Mr. W. S. Hall presided, and after quelling the first interruptor sternly had the easiest case he ever handled.

Twinkle, Twinkle Little Star

Alderman Naden in introducing the proceedings said he felt quite lost now that he was not in the contest. He devoted some remarks to the editor of the Empire who, he said, had been made the star performer in the opposition camp. Almost everything that gentleman had said had been refuted. He quoted from the Empire of 31st December in reference to the knocking charge which had been levelled at the editor saying that his attack on the Council had been "an encouragement to investment, not a detriment. If we could but secure the collective opinion from our many non-residents owning property, as well as the prospective investors we venture to say all would endorse a policy of such open criticism."

Empire's Ill Effect

Just about that time he, the alderman, received a letter from a client of his, a non-resident who was owner of $50,000 worth of property in Prince Rupert. He says: "I have not asked any questions for some time knowing you are a very busy man, and I attempt to keep posted from your jangling newspapers. The Empire simply has nothing in it but mud slinging. I am sorry that its editor cannot conceive the bad effect on the people not familiar with your city. If he would print news about the place and the people that would bring other people in, how much better it would be for the whole community."

He also had a word to say in regard to the attitude of Alderman Hilditch who had expressed himsely as believing that the best method of appointing license commissioners was the one they now had.

Bad Plan Hilditch!

That is that they should be appointed by the government at Victoria. He did not think that an alderman, professing particularly to be a champion of the laboring classes would come out with a

GRAFT CHARGE WAS DISMISSED

BUT SERGT. REGAN MUST QUIT THE FORCE

Police Commissioners Say His Conduct in Associating With the Gambling Element Makes His Further Service Undesirable to the City.

After hearing all the evidence in regard to the graft charges laid against Sergeant Regan of the city police force, the police commissioners yesterday closed he case and delivered their decision. While they held that the evidence adduced was not sufficient to sustain the charge against the officer, and accordingly dismissed it, they also held that it was desirable to ask for Sergeant Regan's resignation as it had been established that he had associated with the people with whom he was charged with protecting. Such action, in the opinion of the commission weakened the influence of the police force. The judgment also charged Chief McCarvel to take necessary steps to have an improvement in the condition of affairs effected.

Ih dismissing the charge against Regan on the ground that the evidence was insufficient Mayor Stork said: "There is one thing about this, however. The whole case has been a revelation to the commissioners. We have evidently lots of people here whom we never suspected we had amongst us engaged in various doubtful sorts of business. Evidence has been led that you have frequented these places of business and sat in one of them."

"We look for a high standard of moral excellence from the police force. We look at it this way, that even while you were not on duty if you associate with these people, to a very large extent you weaken and destroy your influence with them. We have decided to dismiss the charge of graft but are going to ask you to give us your resignation on account of your association as brought out here. During the hearing of the evidence your chief has sat here and he as well as the police commission are now conversant with the state of affairs, and I would terefore charge the police with the responsibility of taking whatever steps are necessary to improve this condition of affairs."

At one point Mr. Regan endeavoured to interrupt but he was silenced. Alderman Mobley concurred in the judgment delivered by the Mayor and the court rose immediately afterwards.

Funds for Improvements

According to report of finance committee financial arrangements have now been made in reference to the proposed improvements on Seventh avenue between Fulton street and a point west of Dunsmuir street, also of Conrad street and Ninth avenue.

VERNOR SMITH'S AT HOME

DECOROUS BUT RATHER DULL AFFAIR

Little Speaking, but Some Moving Pictures and Music to Vary the Monoty. Nothing Doing in the Lively Line.

At what was politely styled an "At Home" in the Empress Theatre last night, Mr. Manson who was found alone on the platform when the curtain rose, stated that Alderman Vernor Smith was the host for the evening. There were to be no politics. The evening's show was to be a picture entertainment to vary the monotony of the election eloquence. How well it varied the motony is shown by the fact that during its progress a number of the audience slipped out and went off to the McIntyre Hall. Not that the pictures shown weren't good. If was a case of "I love not Rome the less but Carthage more."

Messrs. Manson, Smith, Morrisey and Kerr appeared before the curtain and simply solicited the confidence and suffrages of the electors. None of them cared to canvass, at least they all said they didn't set a great deal of store by that method. The

DEVOTED PRINCIPALLY TO THE INTERESTS OF WOMEN

This is a little section of the paper, which from day to day will be devoted to subjects of special interest to women. Any and all of the ladies of Prince Rupert are invited to contribute to its columns, and to take part in its discussions. Suggestions and criticisms are invited by the editor. The hope is expressed that "The Cosy Corner" will fill a social need.

Should Woman Geniuses Marry?

"Women geniuses should not marry, their social value should not be lessened by motherhood, they should continue their chosen avocation unhmapered and unmolested."

Scott Nearing, a professor of sociology at the University of Pennsylvania, has written a book, "Social Adjustment," which will be published soon, full of pertinent information for the emancipated woman, but nothing he says relative to her right to development will be hailed with more deligh by the famous and the near famous of the sex, who assert that marriage is a drawback, and a detriment to their careers, than this statement about the right of genius to remain single.

Professor Nearing has much to say on the economic independence of women, and names five groups which should be encouraged to earn their own living independent of men. He believes that all girls before marriage should hold a job, women geniuses should carve out their own careers, according to him, and young wives who have no children and no home cares, he thinks, by all means, should continue to be self-supporting, not only to help their husbands along, but to further their own development.

Women, he says, who are suffering from any transmittable disease or defect should not be allowed to marry, but should be taught some industrial occupation. Middle-aged women who have sent their last child to college, he thinks, should be allowed the privilege of earning their own living and being independent economic factors if they so choose.

In "Social Adjustment" Professor Nearing scores the mistaken way of bringing girls up to be ladies, instead of allowing them to rough it and be game like boys. "The city woman's physical disability," he says; "is the culmination of misdirected training begun in youth. Boys are taught to play rough games to develop physically; girls are expected to remain at home and be ladylike. If a boy does not tear his clothes he is a "sis"; if a girl does, she is a 'tomboy.' The development of a girl's body should be begun and carried on at the same time and on he same b sis as the development of a boy's body. Their plays should be equally arduous until the age of 12 at least."

Quaint Marriage Customs

Numerous places in Europe have quaint marriage ceremonies. Each country has its customs which are curious in out eyes, as, for instance, the village in Belgium where every year a big fair is held and young women come from far and near to look for husbands. Still more interesting is the practice in the township of Pleugastel, Brittany. Here it is the custom of all the couples betrothed during the year to be married on the same day. Thus in January last 56 young folk were made into 28 happy pairs. They went to the altar tog ther, all wearing the traditional costume—the men in blue, red, or violet jackets, with silver buttons, velvet waistcoats and large felt hats with velvet ribbons. The brides wore bright-colored skirts, aprons of embroidered silk, and the usual Breton head dresses of white cambric. Then there was a big wedding breakfast, at which 20 sheep and 6 cows were served whole.

OUR DAILY RECIPES

Cafe Parfait

A pint of cream, a cupful of sugar, and half a cupful of strong coffee. Mix well and chill. Then whip and pack in a freezer with ice. The mixture should stand in this way for at least two hours without being stirred. Serve in tall glasses, with a spoonful of whipped cream on top of each glass.

Orange Omelet

Half the rind of an orange grated finely and three tablespoonfuls of orange juice. Beat separately the yolks and whites of three eggs. Sweeten with three tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar Add the sugar, rind, and juice to the eggs. Stir in the whites and turn into a hot buttered omelet pan. When golden brown fold and serve on a hot dish.

Suggestions for Housewives

After almonds are blanched and buttered, t ey ma easily be browned by shakin them ove fire in a corn coppper.

Cold halibut makes an excellent fish salad. It should be cut into pieces large enough for indivdual plates and served with chopped tomatoes, and green peppers. A dressing of mayonnaise is added.

In order to have toast thin and crisp cut the slic s from a loaf at least a day old. Dry in a oven before toasting and you will have a much more appetizing morsel than if made in the old way.

If there is a shortage of eggs when an omelet is wanted, use a cupful of bread crumbs to every four eggs and the same quantity of milk. It may be sprinkled with a couple of teaspoonfuls of grated cheese just before taking it from the pan.

Reasons for Electing Alderman Mobley

He is not tied up to any political party.
He is a representative citizen.
He will be on the job twelve months in the year.
His record is clean.
He is conversant with the work of the coun il.
He has the confidence of his colleagues.
He has a re l interest in the city's progress.
The corporations have no string on him.
He is a man who means what he says.
He has the courage of his convictions.
He can best carry on the work of the old council.
He has already had experience as acting-Mayor of the city.
He has always stood for the eight hour, $3 day.
He was one who fought the Government to get the Woodworth water supply.
He takes a strong stand on the G. T. P. assessment.
He fought for the square deal clause in the Liquor License By-law.
He will save Prince Rupert from the maw of the corporations.

Notes and Comments

Why does not Alderman Smith run in his own ward? Is it because the machine is stronger in Ward One?

When Alderman Smith told D'Arcy Tate that he would give one-quarter of his own real estate to get the G. T. P. question settled, he proved his unfitness to represent the citizens.

Alderman Smith says his chief desire for re-election is that he may have a hand in settling the G. T. P. question. He would settle it by handing over the city's claim along with his real estate.

Cheap labor is always dear labor. They city will pay dear for Alderman Smith's services if it sends him back to represent the city at the settling of the G. T. P. assessment.

The man who excuses himself from attending to the public service by saying that his time is all bought and paid for by the contractors for the G. T. P. is not a fit representative of the public at the G. T. P. assessment question. Ratepayers be warned.

It was unfair for Alderman Hilditch to attack the City Solicitors on trumped up charges. It was cowardly to do so if he thought they were precluded from reply. And it is mean of him after they have disproved those charges to squeal out and cry "politics." He should take his medicine like a man.

There will be no moving pictures at the Mobley meetings. The candidates are able to make speeches.

One interruptor said he could take a speaker into thirty blind pigs in half an hour. Is he a frequenter? How does he get his stand in.

If Alderman Smith had been as busy on council nights, as he was last night in interrupting Alderman Mobley's meeting, his chances of re-election would be greater.

Special attraction at the Opera House. Three nights engagement next week. Newton and Manson, champion somersaulters and political acrobats. Will appear at every performance. A well matched team.

However it gave the citizens a chance to see the kind of men who are supporting the machine.

GOOD PROGRESS ON G.T.P. WORK

NEW SNOW PLOUGH IN OPERATION ABOVE SIXTY MILEPOST

Line Was Blocked by Snowstorm—Now Cleared for Trains With Construction Material—Rapid Progress in Yards.

Like every other part of the country the G T. P. road lines have suffered from the recent snow strom. Between the sixty and ninety mile posts the snow drove so hard that the line became completely blocked and necessitated the use of the snow plough. The blizzard was a its worst about Thursday of last week but the two runs of the new plough on Thursday and Friday were sufficient to effect a clearance, and it is again possible to run up the trains containing the necessary material for the construction work Everything else in connection with the line is moving along in good shape.

The permanent lines in the yard are now laid and work is being carried on to bring the switch lines into them into the same state of completion. As forecasted in the Optimist a few days ago work is now proceeding with the construction of the line right across Centre street and along past the wharves on the north side. The line is now well across the street and the men are working steadily so that this branch will be in readiness in a very short time. The construction of this line will greatly facilitate the shipping of freight from boats berthing at either of the wharves situated to the north of Centre street.

Down at the yard end of the wharf the engine shed stands completed and in operation, then engines in use in the yard being stationed there when not in use. The yards present an almost finished appearance and certainly justify the sati faction of the general superintendent.

The Empire on Mr. Wm. Manson

The Optimist does not publish this as its own opinion of Mr. Manson. All the articles under this heading are taken from the Empire, a journal which today is appealing to the electors to return Mr. Manson as Mayor. They were written seven months ago, before the Empire had its dispute with the city over a printing account.

It is still the same Empire, and the same Mr. Manson. The paper has not changed owners or editors; nor has Mr. Manson done anything in the meantime to merit any change of opinion regarding him.

WE MUST PUT HIM OUT

(From the Empire of May 10th)

"With Mr. Manson's election we fear the independence of Prince Rupert will fade away for many a long year to come. Happily however we have yet time to save the situation. Let every true citizen make an earnest effort to secure control of our own affairs, without bowing to any dictation from either Victoria, Ottawa or Montreal."

"If he were a far-seeing citizen, could he not forsee the utter absurdity of his trying to become a dual representative under these circumstances in this enlightened and progressive city. If his motives were high he would even today step down and out of this contest in order to advance the best interests of this city, but if he persists in placing his own advancement ahead of a Home Rule principle for Prince Rupert, there is no alternative for the electors but that of trying to put him out."

(From letter in Empire's editorial column, same date.)

"I support Mr. Stork because he is at least a man. What the other has proven himself to be, I suppose I will not be permitted to have published, if I did express it.

"Mr. Manson cannot faithfully serve the wire-pullers and the best interests of this city. He has already clearly shown this, and his candidature being foisted on the city is nothing less than an affront to our intelligence."

(From the Empire of May 18th)

Down with the hotel intimidators. Down with tyranny even against hotel keepers. Why not the Mansonites pitch up the sponge and save a Waterloo.

When Mr. Manson helped to vote down the Hawthornwaite bill he proved himself an enemy of labor.

How is it that Mr. Manson has forgotton to explain those myesteries surrounding the Tsimpsean power charter?

Prince Rupert will never prosper with partizan officials. But what else can we look for with dual representation.

Let the responsibility rest with Mr. Manson who is alone to blame for the shameful non-enforcement of the law.

Mr. Manson has ruled Prince Rupert for two years, and is alone to blame for the existing conditions.

Only a circus rider can ride two horses with safety, yet Mr. Manson thinks he can straddle-the-fence on the temperance question and thus pull the wool over the eyes of the church people.

MOBLEY RALLY

tatement like that. He should have ad more sense. He practically acnowledged that the people were not apable of running their own affairs. Alderman Naden said he thought they would be much better off if they had he privilege of electing their own license commissioners. If they did not do as they were wanted they could be fired at the end of the year.

He thought Aiderman Hilditch was to be condemned for suggesting that the iniquitous method should be continued as it is to-day. Another objection he had to Ald. Hilditch was his failure on Saturday evening to answer a straight question in regard to the G.T.P. assessment. He had walked all round it. As for Mr. M. M. Stephens he thought that since that gentleman had shown the white feather it was not worth while wasting powder upon him. In conclusion he corroborated Ald. Pattullo's charge against Mr. Seguin.

Effect of the "Star's" Speeches

Alderman Barrow contributed a delightful little speech. After quoting from Burke in regard to the effect of fabrications he mentioned that like that eminent gentleman Mr. S. M. Newton spoke a long time, but the similarity ended there. People did not get up and rush for the door when Burke rose to speak as some of the audience did on Saturday night when the editor of the Empire was speaking. He humorously expressed the view that if anyone had been injured in that rush for the door Mr. Newton would have been responsible.

In regard to the question of licences he thought it was inevitable under the present system that they would be controlled by the government.

Young Candidate Gets There

Mr. G. C. Emmerson in a short pithy address commended the Fire Department. In regard to the motor engine which had been purchased he said it would not be too heavy for the roads as had been suggested. The weight of the car was only four tons and the weight capacity of the plank roads was thirty tons. He therefore conceived no danger. In regard to the demands of the Trades Union committee he said he was in agreement with them and would give them his support. (Applause).

W. H. Montgomery in Demand

Mr. W. H. Montgomery was called upon. Appearing on the platform he humorously remarked that he had disgraced the cause of labor. However he was still going to run for Ward 2 as W. H. Montgomery. (Applause).

What he had done he would not take back, nor was he sorry for it. (applause). He declared that Mr. Manson in his capacity as a politician, was one of the greatest enemies the people had and if they supported him they would be endorsing the policy which is bringing ruin upon the working class.

Mr. John Currie also briefly addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Mobley platform and would do all in his power if elected to give effect to it. As regard the labor issue he had not fully considered the issues, and as the questions had not been specifically addressed to him he would take time and give a definite judgment upon them.

Undoubtedly Popular

A rousing reception was reserved for the Mayoral candidate, Ald. Mobley. Referring to Mr. Montgomery he said he was proud of him. He facetiously expressed his regret that he had been the cause of his colleague being thrust into disgrace, but he was sure that he would very soon recover from it. He admired him intensely because he had courage of his convictions. He had no use for a man who would not come out and face the issues. Referring to the attitude which he himself had taken upon the 45 cent claim he wished to make himself clearly understood. If the standard rate for skilled labor rose to 45 cents he would not oppose it but so far as unskilled labor on the streets was concerned then he was definitely opposed to it. (applause). He did not believe in raising wages unnecessarily and placing an additional burden of taxation upon the people. And he did not believe that there was one in ten of the people advocating the increase would go out on the streets and work for it. He was not going to make promises he would carry out or attempt to carry out merely to catch votes. He would go into the council without strings, pledged to no party. Regard- the claim that on all appointed committees of more than three labor should be represented he had no objection whatever. He thought it was only right and proper that labor should be so represented.

Splendid Water Supply

He then briefly referred to the schemes formulated by the council for the installation of proper water and sewer systems. He asserted that the water distributing service was quite adequate for all the water they had. If anything was in excess it was the water. If the water proposition of the council was taken up they would have a supply that would be able to cope with any outbreak of fire that might occur in the city. Not only so but as fine and efficient a system as was possessed by any city on the Pacific coast. They would have a water supply for a population of 60,000, and he at least was looking forward confidently to the time when the city would boast that number.

That Distorted Phrase

He then criticised the Empire for its inaccurate reports and referred to the famous occasion on which Mayor Stork is alleged to have used the phrase "the people be damned." Mayor Stork never said anything of the kind. He was referring to the criticism that had been offered the council, and it was "Criticism be damned," that he said. It may not have been a very fine thing to say but it was certainly not what he was alleged by the Empire to have said. (applause). At the conclusion of his speech Ald. Mobley answered the question regarding the city solicitors salary, the expense of the engineering department, and the bonus granted to the civic officials. Each question was answered decisively and courteously and the questioner was satisfied. The Alderman took his seat amid great cheering.

"Dark Horse," But a Good One

Mr. A. J. Prudhomme, of the Savoy Hotel, was the next speaker and he also came in for a great reception. He went over the planks of Ald. Mobley's platform and endorsed them. Though he was coming before them at a late hour he was no stranger to municipal work, having served as an elected member of the Yukon Council in 1900.

In regard to the water schemes of the council he thought that speedy efforts should be made to have an effective supply, and in regard to the facilities for extinguishing fire he thought that urgency was demanded. If the City Council's policy was adopted he said that it would cut the present rate of insurance right in two.

Coming to his attitude on the labor question he said that there had been some opposition to him on the part of the Carpenters Union. He wanted the Union to meet him fairly in the matter and he promised that if he did not give them a square deal he would drop out of the contest. He would always deal fairly with them but if they thought they were going to force him into promising things that would interfere with the best interests of the city as a whole they would be mistaken. He would give them a fair deal. (loud applause.)

Views on Day Labor

He was not greatly in favor of day labor because it tended to hold up a business man's property while it was in progress longer than contract work would do. Day labor was well, but when it meant that a man's business was being interfered with through delays while the work was being carried on then it was a very different matter. If the work did not interfere with the traffic or with the advancement of the city then he would favor having the work done by station work. In regard to the City Hospital he felt that it should be entirely under municipal control. He approved of Alderman Mobley's advocacy of steps being taken to further the fishing industry in and around Prince Rupert; and he expressed the view that the financial policy adopted by Alderman Pattullo was the right one to pursue. (loud applause.)

Questioner—Is it right that you said to Mr. C. D. Newton that if they did not give you a license to sell liquor you would sell it without?

Mr. Prudhomme—I certainly did not. If I cannot sell liquor within the law I will not sell it without. (Applause.)

Another heckler who announced himself as a member of the Carpenters Union came forward to the platform on the invitation of the chairman and stated that Mr. Prudhomme had never given the Carpenters Union a square deal. Nevertheless the audiences sympathy was undoubted with Mr. Prudhomme on account of his manly utterances and the genuine ring of his speech.

"The Whole Trouble"

Mr. D. H. Morrison next took the platform and came in for a good reception. He devoted a portion of his speech to the attitudes taken up by the opposition candidates in regard to the G.T.P. settlement. Why was it that some of them were anxious to have a settlement at any cost? "Do you see anything behind it all?" he asked. The whole trouble about the council was the G. T. P. difficulty, and it was a question which he commended for their very serious consideration and thought. In regard to the demands of the trades unions he would not make any rash promises. He would consider every question that might arise purely on its merits. He was a free and independent candidate, and he reserved the right to judge for himself the things that were right and just and they could either elect him or let him out. (loud applause) He was not going to promise all manner of generous things which was so easy to do.

He had a suspicion of the man who was always generous with other people's money. The attitude of Mr. Morrison had its reward in the hearty applause of the audience as he resumed his seat.

Most Abused Ald.

Alderman Pattullo's name set the large audience madly cheering again. The popular alderman did not make a long speech. He reiterated his intention of supporting Ald. Frank Mobley for Mayor. He asked them fairly if they thought that any body of men could have done more than the present council during its seven months of office. They had done many things and set in motion a humber of schemes that would fit the city with sewers, water, telephone and light.

A great deal had been said about criticism. He felt sure that for the last seven months he had been the most abused man on the council. He had been called more dirty names than anybody else, without reply, yet now when they were in the field, and he used his legitimate right to retort, his opponents began to cry out. He also impressed upon his hearers the importance of the G,T.P. issue. In that connection he thought that the action taken by Alderman Smith precluded his re-election to office. The defeat of Messrs Manson and Smith is much more important now than it will be later on, he said. (loud applause).

The Editorial Voice

Mr. Cowper, editor of the Optimist, was called upon to speak. In such a good cause as the support of Alderman Mobley for Mayor, he said, he could not fail to find matter for an hour's speech but the chairman had suggested merely five minutes. Referring to the fact mentioned by Alderman Naden that from correspondence from outside he had realized the effect of a certain paper in knocking Prince Rupert. Mr. Cowper gave abundant proof from the Canadian press at large to show that the work of the Optimist is very much for the boosting of the city. Articles and leaders from the Optimist in praise of Prince Rupert had been copied from the Optimist by papers all over Canada. (Cheers.)

Mr. Cowper referred to the title "Tammany Hall organ" given to the Optimist by the Empire. That title, he said, was nothing to be ashamed of in Prince Rupert. Words took their meaning form their context. In this case it was one he was proud of. But he warned the audience that the man who first used that term was conjuring up in his mind a picture of the real Tammany Hall that might come to Prince Rupert. "The man who says 'Tammany Hall' thinks Tammany Hall," said Mr. Cowper and he quoted the action of Charles II who fired the barber who suggested that he held the king's life in his hands—"because there was treason in the very thought." The man who was making the vehement protestations now that he had not knocked Prince Rupert was the man who had been doing it all the time. His anxiety to say he hadn't showed that the shot accusing him of it had gone home.

As for the title Tammany Hall—the opposition of certain people to the "square deal" clause of the Liquor License By-law showed clearly how a real Tammany Hall might come to Prince Rupert. With Mr. Manson as Mayor the licensing regulation would be entirely in his hands, and he in the hands of Premier McBride. That very day in the withholding of a license renewal from a man against whom there was not a single complaint regarding the conduct of his business they had a glowing example of the methods of the machine.

Referring to the trades unions, Mr. Cowper himself a former member of a union, warned the trades unionists and workers in the hall that "the politician with the smooth spoken word is the real enemy of the trades' unions.

The Remedy Is at Hand

As to the remedy for the evils he had indicated—why that was easy. Return as Mayor a man who is fair, square and straight, who has no political strings on him and who has the courage of his convictions. "That man," exclaimed Mr. Cowper, "is Frank Mobley." A storm of cheering gereted the name. The hall shook with the applause. There had been present some would-be interrupters from Alderman Smith's "at home." They were not even heard.

As the cheering subsided Mr. Cowper drove the straight nail home with a further call to the electors to make sure that they returned with Mr. Mobley a strong body of aldermen to back him up so as to protect the city from the grip of the real Tammany Hall which the politicians were building in Prunce Rupert. For a square deal, and clean government Frank Mobley is the man to return as Mayor—was Mr. Cowper's concluding sentence followed instantly by a magnificent round of applause.

Lynch on Empire

The last speaker of the evening was Alderman Lynch, who made one of his popular fighting efforts. He criticized the Empire for inaccurately representing him on a number of occasions. In one instance he had gone to Alderman Hilditch for corroboration of his assertion and it had been given him, proving conclusively that the report was wrong In regard to the accusation of personal self interest in the local improvement scheme for Section One, he said that the real father of that scheme was Alderman Smith. It was he who originally suggested that all of Section One should be made into one improvement district. (Loud applause.) That was an answer to that charge.

At the close Alderman Mobley briefly thanked the audience for their attendance and attention, and the meeting broke up with three great cheers for Mobley.

FAIRYLAND IN PRINGE RUPERT

BEAUTY, BRIGHTNESS AND BOBSLEDS WITH THE SNOW

Just a Little Sprinkling, A Little Frost, and the Whole City Is a Paradise for the Boys and Girls.

Newcomers—What do you think of Prince Rupert in the snow? Isn't she a peach now? Haven't the promises of your friends, the oldtimers, here made good? You bet they have!

Overhead the sky is a delicate blue blending softly towards the horizon into shades of fairy coloring that are a miracle of beauty. How nobly the clean sharp edges of the snowy mountains stand out in relief. How feathery the near pines look with the snow on them. And isn't the air superb?

Temptingly to right and left sweep the long plankways broad and white inviting the exhilarating bobsled. It takes little more than a sprinkling of snow to make the best fun in the winter world possible to perfection in Prince Rupert. All the oldtimers declare that a bobsled is an essential part of one's equipment in this city of splendid slopes so graceful, so easy to negotiate both ways.

In the morning, at midday, and under the steel-blue starlight the boys and girls with their bobsleds have the time of their lives over an inch or two of snow in Prince Rupert. The age limit for "boys and girls" is so delightfully elastic in the West that if you find the merriest couples the married ones don't be surprised. We run all ages and stages in the one great game on Prince Rupert's speeding bobsleds.

Down through the busy business section the sleighbells tinkle, for the merchants have no use for wheels in Rupert when the snow comes. On the business streets the heavy sleighs have full possession, but throughout the residential sections far and near the bobsleds reign supreme—and as yet there is ample room for its lively presence. Just a little snow, a snap of frost and Prince Rupert is Fairyland—Fairyland with a foundation in soild financial prosperity.

Alderman Mobley as chairman of the fire and water committee has urged that these hydrants be got in as soon as practicable which will be done.

MOBLEY MEETING TONIGHT

Rousing Meeting to Be Held in McIntyre Hall

The supporters of Alderman Frank Mobley will hold a rally tonight in the McIntyre Hall. Opposition candidates are invited and a rousing time will be held. Special seats at the front will be reserved for ladies. Ald. Pattullo will speak.

Will Run for School Trustee

Mr. Peter W. Anderson has announced today that he is to run for School Trustee.

Mr. Anderson is an oldtimer here, and the fact that for the period previous to the city's incorporation he was practically sole school trustee and a very efficient one, is a good recommendation for him now. He has children of his own to educate, and can be relied on to look after the educational interests of the community.

CHIPS FROM THE HUMORISTS

"I don't believe any two words in the English language are synonymous." "Oh, I don't know. What's the matter with 'raise' and 'lift'?" "There's a big difference. I 'raise' chickens and have a neighbor who has been known to 'lift' them."

A tramp called at the house of a gentleman and said:

"I've walked many miles to see you, sir, because people told me that you was very kind to poor chaps like me."

"Oh, they said so, did they?"

"Yes, sir; that's why I came."

"And are you going back the same way?"

'Yes, sir."

'Then, in that case, will you be good enough to contradict this rumor?"

"So you broke your engagement with Miss Spensive?"

"No, I didn't break it."

"Oh, she broke it?"

"No, she didn't break it."

"But it is broken?"

"Yes, she told me what her clothing cost and I told her what my income was, then our engagement sagged in the middle and gently dissolved."

She (during a squabble)—Didn't you promise before we were married to try hard to be worthy of me?

He—Yes, and what's the result? I overdid the job, and made myself a hang sight better than you deserve.

Are You a Want Advertiser?

Do You Read and Answer

WANT ADS?

Do you let want-ad publicity run your errands—find people for you?

Do you watch the want ads for opportunities—for chances to buy and sell, to lease, to invest, to find work or workers?

Do you realize that these little ads are the best Real Estate Salesmen in town?

Do you use them in your tenant-hunting, in your quests for a partner, a backer, a buyer, an investor?

The want ads ought to work for you in their ways every time you have work for them—which ought to be about every day.

SECOND AND THIRD AVENUES

Question of Alteration of Grades Being Discussed

Colonel Davis, the city engineer, reported to the city council yesterday afternoon that the cost of raising buildings on Second avenue to suit the proposed alteration of grade, would be about $9000. This will be the only additional expense incurred. Third avenue alteration of grade might be gone on with as there are waivers of caims for compensation covering the whole improvement. But the city engineer does not recommend that Third avenue be altered until the way is clear for the alteration of Second avenue. The streets committee held a special meeting this afternoon to go into this and other matters and will report to the city council on Wednesday.

Claim Against City

A claim for damages against the city by Richard Peacock, whose finger was crushed pretty badly during culvert work is being looked into by the city council.

The tender of Messrs. Rochester & Munro to supply 250 tons of coal for the city electric light plant was recommended for acceptance by the light committee at yesterday's council and the recommendation was adopted.

License By-law n Shape

G. T. P. Sheds Moved

The aspect of the waterfront immediately facing Centre street is now entirely altered through the removal o the G. T. P. sheds and offices. The removal northwards to a distance measuring about the length of the shed itself was accompl shed with the aid of pulleys and rollers. It is now in a temporary position dissecting Centre street as it were. This location is only temporary however, and it will be returned to its original position once the new piling is in.

VERNOR SMITH'S "AT HOME"

music and picture were enjoyed but there was little enthusiasm. Even Alderman Smi h was greeted with restrained applause. The hall was very well filled indeed, however.

For the boys behind there was amu emen in pick.ng out imaginery loca applica ions of the various comical and affectionate scenes revealed by the limelight. As the hero of one film Alderman Pattullo was 'recognized" In another the wits of the 'standing space only" secton, detected a faint resemblance o a gentleman who figured very prominently of late in a certain investigation. All the fun th re was, was contributed by the boys behind. The people in front were very decorous and seemed rather dull.

Two slide cartoons were thrown on the screen, one roughly represented a motor car accident. It was described as an example of Alderman Mobley's efficiency as member of the fire committee. They showed this picture wice and were evidently proud of it. The other was a street strewed with drunks—supposed to demonstrate Mr. Mobley's prowess as a police comissioner in supporting blind pigs. Both pictures were received with chastened admiration, the second exhibition of the "fire engine" did not arouse applause. While Mr. Smith's "At Home" could not fairly be described as a failure, there could be no question of the superiority in every way of Alderman Mob ley's meeting both as a campaign advance and as a variation of the alleged motony of the election business so far.

LANDING SLIP ON G.T.P. WHARF

SUPT. MEHAN'S NEW CONVENIENCE FOR SMALL CRAFT

Will Enable Boats to Unload Expeditiously and Will Facilitate Embarking and Disembarking of Pleasure Sailors—A Splendid Arrangement.

An excellent innovation, and one that will prove a convenience to the owners of small craft in and around Prince Rupert, has been added to the G. T. P. wharf which is now practically completed. It is the fitting up of a slip for small craft at the north end. It comprises a large float, a stair way, a step ladder and a simple arrangement for hoisting heavy freight. Mr. Mehan, general superintendent of the G. T. P., is responsible for the innovation. The use of the slip is entrely free and is already proving its advantages by the number of boats now fixed to its stays.

The float is capacious enough to hold a small cargo and will greatly facilitate the unloading of boats. Prior to its creation such boats had to fix up at one or other of the boat houses from which the landing is effected by means of precarious steps.

It is not the intention of Mr. Mehan that the new slip should cut out the others and provision has been made so that it will not do so. No boat will be allowed to berth there. They must unload their cargo expeditiously and get off again. The slip will also prove a great boon to pleasure sailors and passengers. It is practically the only facility for landing from small craft on the waterfront.

Prudhomme Enters the Field

Mr. A. J. Prudhomme entered the field at the last moment. He visited the City Hall with his proposer and seconder during the forenoon and considerably astonished the clerk and the people there by asking for a nomination form. This he duly filled up after which his supporters adhibited their signatures to the paper also.
