TWENTY-EIGHT ARE KILLED IN A RAILWAY DISASTER

Christmas Eve Trippers' Train Wrecked at Carlisle---Only a Few Bodies Recovered, the Rest Being Incinerated in the Fire Which Followed

(Special to the Optimist)

London, Dec. 27.—A terrible railway accident involving the loss of twenty-eight lives occurred on Christmas Eve at Carlisle. The train was an excursion one and was laden with cheerful holiday makers bent for a merry time at their homes when a wrong switch or an obstruction on the line—the exact cause is not known—cast cold death in their path. The carriages telescoped into one another and splintered like matchwood. But the worst was to follow. The mass of wreckage immediately caught fire and rendered the rescue work impossible till a supply of water could be brought into focus. This took some little time and when the search was completed only a few of the bodies were recovered. It was the worst disaster that has occurred in the country for many years.

An Inquest Held

Authorities were tortured with anxious inquiries from both public and private bodies and as a result an inquest was opened today. The inquest so far has not revealed the cause of the accident, but the witnesses who saw the blaze and took part in the rescue work declare that only a few of the bodies could be recovered as the others had been burnt to ashes in the wreckage. The only way in which the number of deaths can be calculated is by accounting for the carriages in which the blaze started. There is no means of identifying the passengers who were completely incinerated, and as a result there is the greatest anxiety on the part of many people who think but are not sure that their friends or relatives were passengers.

Volcanic Eruption Overwhelms Naples

(Special to Optimist)

Paris, Dec. 27—A terrific eruption has broken out threatening disaster to the city of Naples, according to meagre despatches received here at noon today. Mount Etna is belching forth floods of lava and fire. It is described as the worst eruption in history.

One despatch tells of a tremendous loss of life, but this is not alluded to in a later despatch. Further news of the stricken city is being anxiously awaited.

LOS ANGELES IS VISITED BY A DYNAMITE OUTRAGE

Llewellyn Iron Works Blown Up By Unknown Dynamiters---Police are Without Any Clue to Perpetrators But Merchants Accuse Union Strikers

(Special to the Optimist)

Los Angeles, Dec. 27.—A dynamite outrage occurred here today destroying the plant of the Llewellyn Iron Works. The crime has caused a great sensation and the police are busy investigating the affair. So far the police have failed to unearth a clue as to the identity of the perpetrators but the merchants of the city affirm their belief that it was the work of the striking union of iron workers. Of course this statement is being vigorously denied by the strikers' union. It is only a few months since the city was the scene of the Times Dynamite outrage in which so many people lost their lives and the populace is in a state of nervous indignation.

No Faith in Police

The inability of the police to identify anyone or any body of people with the Times disaster has caused the populace to lose faith in them to some extent and this second happening of the same kind and also leaving the police completely in the dark as to the perpetrators seems to have justified their fears.

Fireman Returns Thanks

Chief McInnis and the men at the fire hall wish to acknowledge their thanks to Mayor Stork and Alderman Smith for a Christmas present of cigars. As befits their calling the Chief and his staff are good judges of smokes.

Some Lucky Suit Winners

The lucky men who won suits of clothes at Sloan & Co.'s on Saturday last in the suit clubs, were Club No. 4, H. Tracey; No. 5, F. H. Mobley; No. 6, Julius Levy; No. 7, K. Smith; No. 8, Thomas Stewart.

BILLY PAPKE BEATEN

American Middleweight Meets Waterloo in Australia

Sydeny, Dec. 27.—(Special)—Bill Papke who was literally cleaning up the Australian middle and heavyweights on his present trip to the Antipodes met his Waterloo at last. Leave Smith the Australian middleweight champion was the pugilist successful in putting one over on the American champion, who since the death of Stanley Ketchell was hailed as the legitimate title holder. Smith led all the way, outpointing his rival at all points of the game. Papke did not relish the experience and adopted rough tactics. Persisting in this method after being warned he was disqualified in the tenth round for fouling.

HURT ON CHRISTAMS EVE

Swede Named Ericson Fractured His Skull on Plankway

Christmas eve saw one rather serious accident. A Swede named Ericson stumbled on the edge of the plankway near the Royal Hotel and fell heavily. His forehead struck the ground and was severely gashed just over the eye.

Helped into the Royal Hotel Ericson who was dazed by the shock and bleeding freely, was attended to temporarily while Dr. W. T. Kergin was summoned.

Arriving promptly, Dr. Kergin examined the wound which looked bad enough to mean perhaps a fractured skull, and needed several stitches before being bandaged. Ericson was taken care of over the Xmas week-end at the hotel, and is able to be up today. His Xmas was not a merry one, in spite of the fact that his purse was fortified for the occasion to the extent of several hundred dollars.

THE LAW WAS MERCIFUL

Its Strong Arm Protected Many Over Christmas

More white golves due to Magistrate Carss this morning. No cases to record against the convivial celebrators of Chritsmas. All the strong arm of the law was called upon to do over the week-end, was to save certain jolly good fellows from slipping over steep sidewalks. It requires a peculiarly ornamental type of jag to merit incarceration Christmas time.

On Christams Eve the Cottage City, of the Pacific Coast Shipping company, touched at Prince Rupert and just stayed long enough to allow her passengers to exchange greetings with the people on the shore. She beat out again for the north immediately her freight was discharged on the wharf.

It is particularly important that all members of the Prince Rupert St. Andrews' Society should make a special endeavour to be present at the meeting of the society called for Friday night in the Carpenters' hall. FISH POACHERS ARE AWAY NORTH

CAPT. MOON SAYS AMERICANS ARE FISHING ALASKA

Captain of Dominion Government Patrol Boat Restless Denies Rumors That Tyeh Were Poaching in Hecate Straits or Chatham Sound.

The insistent rumors that American fishermen are plying their illegal trade in the Hecate Straits were given the lie direct today by Captian Moon, of the Canadian Government ship Restless which put into Prince Rupert on Saturday for supplies. The American fishing fleet has gone north to Alaska where of course they can do as they please as they are outside British tertirory. Along with the Falcon, the other patrol boat, the Restless came in for Christmas. Captain Moon reports rough weather outside, with plenty of snow and fog.

Asked as to what he thought of the persistence of the allegations against the Americans fishing in the Straits and Chatham Sound Captain Moon replied that much of it was the irresponsible and prejudiced vaporings of either ignorant or interested parties. The patrol service was just like the government, subject to the slurs of everybody whose political color its responsible head did not represent. As for the Americans ever fishing the Chatham Sound he said it was a deliberate lie.

TOWER HILL BONDED

$3000 Paid Over as Earnest of Good Faith

The Tower Hill group of claims in the Hudson's Bay mountain, a few miles to the north of Telkwa has been bonded, and the first payment on the bond made to the owners, Herb Hanking and R. E. Loring, the latter being Indian Agent at Hazelton. Full particulars of the bond have not as yet been made public, but the amount of three thousand dollars has been paid over, which is best evidence of good faith on the part of those who have bonded the property.

ALL HOPE FOR ST. DENNIS LOST

WIRELESS MESSAGE AT VANCOUVER SAYS WRECKAGE FOUND

Steamer Sighted Life Boat of St. Dennis and Reported—Vessel Long Over Due but Officials Hopeful to the Last.

Vancouver, Dec. 27.—(Special)—All hope for the savety of the St. Dennis which used to ply Prince Rupert has now been abandoned. A wireless message from Tees reports that a quantity of wreckage obviously belonging to the St. Dennis has been picked up. She has been missing for some considerable time and only a few days ago a steamer sighted a life boat which was supposed to have belonged to her. The St. Dennis was a neat little craft, always ship shape and the news of her wreck comes to Prince Rupert seagoing men as something of a surprise.

VANCOUVER HAD BEST OF IT

In Rugby Game Against Stanford University Saturday

Vancouver, Dec. 27.—(Special)—Stanford University Rugby fiends proved a great disappointment on Saturday when they were pitted against Vancouver the latter winning by thirteen points to six. As the score indicates, Vancouver had all the best of the game. The reputation of Stanford ensured a large attendance and although their play did not reach the high standard anticipated the game proved a great success not only as an international game but as a social event as well.

The Struggle Towards the Light

Determined to have that electric light plant in running order in time to implement the promises of the city council, the city engineer's departemnt has been hard at it even over the festive season, and Mr. Burns who has charge of the work was engaged with it yesterday while the city kept holiday. Weather conditions are still adverse to the progress of the job, however.

A SERENADE TO THE MOON

CHRISTMAS EVE SONGSTERS PER FORM ON WATERFRONT

Twenty Lusty-throated Young Men Holding an Impromptu Christmas Eve Concert on the Wharf Win the Admiration of Optimist Reporter.

In twenty lusty voices there may not be a great deal of individual charm or distinction but in their combination and concentration lies the merit of their power-volume. The spit of the rifle is insignificant to the miniature thunder roll of its echo across the mountian, yet like the individual voice it is the nucleous, the first bar in the concerto.

Well these twenty lusty voices proved the musical theory of Wagner by maknig concord out of discordant sounds, out upon the waters of the bay on Christmas Eve, in a glorious serenade to the moon which was modestly screened in clouds of impenetrable thickness. Twenty lusty pairs of legs dangled with charming nonchalance over the lip of the wharf and punctuated the vocal strains with substantial tattoos upon the piles, and twenty lusty pairs of hands beat the warm night air with affectionate disregard for rhythym or measure.

It was no sickly Italian love song that they wasted their lusty efforts upon; not for them were the delicate sophistries and subtle imaginings of the love-fevered brain; they sang the songs that did not divorce the heart strings from the head, the songs of convivial life and comfortable death, the songs of Harry Lauder. Their rich sonorous strains penetrated the film of night and illuminated the improvised theatre of their choice with the light of joy and happiness. In their singin was the effulgence of their being, the outpourings of their blatantly healthy and vigorous constitutions, the effusion of their lusty souls.

More power to them.

DEVOTED PRINCIPALLY TO THE INTERESTS OF WOMEN

This is a little section of the paper, which from day to day will be devoted to subjects of special interest to women. Any and all of the ladies of Prince Rupert are invited to contribute to its columns, and to take part in its discussions. Suggestions and criticisms are invited by the editor. The hope is expressed that "The Cosy Corner" will fill a social need.

The World's Richest Women

Who is the feminine Creosus of this age of colossal fortunes, of magically acquired wealth? It is an open question for old earth today has many women whose individual riches would have aroused the envy of the famous King of Lydia. Among Americans Mrs. Hetty Green has as good a claim to the distinction as anyone else, and no wonder, for until recently this shabby old woman of seventy, the greatest mistress of finance that the world has ever seen, with a fortune of about eighty million dollars at her command, but a bankrupt in her wants, was content to live a life of genteel poverty, says M. A. P.

Mrs. Russell Sage, the next richest woman in America, came into a fortune of 17,000,000 pounds last year, but has made big inroads into it by her distributions in the cause of charity. Mrs. Anne Weightman Walker, who declares that all her time is occupied in keeping track of her investments, is like Mrs. Green, in that she has not yet shown any tendency towards charitable disbursements. She possesses an estimated fortune of 12,000,000 pounds.

But it is not in America that you will find the world's richest woman, Frau von Bohlen, formerly Bertha Krupp, who has an income of 40,000 pounds a month, and property valued at 16,000,000, is an important candidate for the premier position. It is a significant fact that this lady, head of the greatest gun-works in the world, and in a position to keep the leading European modistes in continual employment, makes all her own clothing. She admits with pride that her trousseau was entirely the work of her own hands, and cost less than 50 pounds.

Madame Creel, the beautiful Mexican lady, derives an annual income of 1,000,000 pounds, chiefly from her mines. These mines, which were a present from her father, have already yielded over 40,000,000 pounds worth of precious metal, but a very big percentage has to be deducted from that sum for working expenses. However, Madame Creel's eggs are not all in one basket. She owns 600,000 head of cattle and 280,000 acres of very good land. Madame's hats are her only failing; for while she is content with three dresses a year at a cost of 3 pounds apiece, she pays as much as 75 pounds for each of her hats. She attributes her economy—in everything but headgear—to the fact that when her father had 400,000 cattle on the plains of Chihuahua and a dozen silver mines, he allowed her only five shillings a week for pocket money.

The richest British-born lady is the Marichioness of Graham, a pearl among women, noble in thought and deed, and generous to the extremes of generosity. On the death of her father, the 12th Duke of Hamilton, she became mistress of the Isle of Arran, with an income of 114,000 a year. To her tenants she is a real Lady Bouutiful. In her picturesque corduroy dress and Tyrolean hat, she can be seen almost every day, when in residence at Easton Park or Brodrick Castle, visiting the tenants in their own homes and distributing gifts with exceptional liberality.

Chum With Your Opposite

It is a fine idea for a girl to chum with her opposite. If you are inordinately inclined to gayety or laziness a serious, intellectual friend will tone you up.

If you need toning down in the way of nerves and a too strenuous ambition find a friend who loves physical exercise, jokes, dressmaking and housekeeping.

If you are a natural born anchorite try to hobnob with the girl who gives fudge parties and sees the world from another angle.

That's a sensible way to lower the average, don't you think so?

Pajamas for Kiddies

When cold winter nights come the small girl and her small brother, too, will be anxious to change their lingerie underwear for pajama suits of warm flannel.

Pajamas for girls are cut exactly like those the boys wear, but the materials are daintier in coloring and often in weave. A pretty suit is made from duckling fleece, a kind of flannel which is very attractive and washes splendidly. The fleece is patterned with Mother Goose figures, and the ground-work is a fascinating shade of pink.

Mothers who approve of silk underwear and can afford such luxuries for their children as silken pajamas may have a lovely selection of suits from which to choose.

Aphorisms on Childhood

Childish unconsciousness is rest in God.

I see in every child the possibi ity of a perfec man.

The child-soul is an ever-bubbling fountain in the world of humanity.

The plays of childhood are the heart-leaves of the whole future life.

From every object of nature and of life, there goes a path towards God.

Perfect human joy is also worship, for it is ordered by God.

The first groundwork of religious life is love—love to God and man—in the bosom of the family.

Childhood is the most important stage of the total development of man and of humanity.

Isolation and seclusion destroy life; union and participation create life.

Without religious preparation in childhood, no true religion and no union with God is possible for men.

The lovingly cared for, and thereby steadily and strongly developed human life, also the cloudless child-life, is of itself a Christlike one.

MINE MAKES GOOD

Rich Ore Continues to Come Out of Nine Mile Mine

Reports juct received from up river are to the effect that the Hazelton Nine Mile Mining Company is still taking out good ore from the rich Homestake claim. The company had only about 40 foot of a cross-cut to run to tap the Homestake vein at about 70 feet depth, when they would be able to run a drift to the right for a distance of 500 feet and get a depth of between 500 and 600 feet. At a little over 40 feet on the cross-cut Foreman Griswold encountered the vein, cut it to the other wall, and then commenced the long drift. The vein shows to be nearly three feet wide, of which there is over two feet composed of carbonates and soft filling, and six to twelve inches of high-grade galena. He had two shifts of men at work, and is averiging two and a half feet per day.

IS IT A REAL TAMMANY HALL?

In throwing out Alderman Smith's suggestions at Thursday night's council meeting, first, to leave the drafting of the liquor license by-law till the new year, and secondly, to cut out clause 7 A, the council knowingly or not, defeated what looks very like a plot to shackle the licensed liquor trade to the Conservative machine.

Clause 7 A is the one which provides that the License Board must renew each year the license of every license holder, provided he has not been guilty of a breach of the liquor laws. It is a clause which constitutes the Magna Charta of the liquor dealers, and ensures them peaceable possession in return for good behavior. It is an act of simple justice to the men who have sunk large sums of money into the hotel business. To do as Alderman Smith suggested, and give the Board of License Commissioners authority to give or withhold licenses to whomsoever they think fit, would be an act of injustice, and a conferring of arbitrary and tyrannical powers.

In the present peculiar position of Prince Rupert it would be an even more dangerous thing. The Provincial government has succeeded in bringing the licensed trade in the Province under its political thumb. Even in Prince Rupert, which is a municipality, two of the board of license commissioners are nominated by the provincial member. By running for Mayor, the same gentleman who nominates two of the license commission, now aims to become the third member. It would be a wholesale capture of the liquor trade, if upon that Manson license board was conferred the absolute power to take away a man's license without reason. Already many of the license holders have wakened up to the menace of Mr. Manson's dual position as member for Skeena and candidate for Mayor. Taken with Alderman Smith's efforts to defer the license by-law till next year, and his efforts later to confer arbitary powers on the License Board, the menace is brutally obvious.

In certain quarters, a cry of "Tammany Hall" has been raised against the present council. Under the circumstances the cry was looked on as something akin to a joke. But in the brain of the man who originated the cry, the thought of Tammany Hall must have been present. Can it be that this attempt to shackle the liquor traffic is the sign that an attempt is to be made to instal a real Tammany Hall in Prince Rupert?

PERSONALITIES AND THE PRESS

A letter which Mr. C. Peck caused to be published in another paper on Saturday evening on the plea that the Optimist had refused to publish it, makes it incumbent on us to refer to a matter which we would, with the kindest of intentions, rather have not referred to.

A perusal of the published letter will make it clear why the letter could not be admitted to print. Probably Mr. Peck is of our own way of thinking, now he has seen his letter in type. It was an impulse of kindness towards the writer of the letter as well as a sense of journalistic ethics which made us decline to print Mr. Peck's letter unless he would delete all personalities and confine himself to the public aspects of his disagreement with the harbor-master.

The function of a newspaper is to publish all the news of public interest without fear, flattery, malice or distortion of fact. Private squabbles it has no business to poke into.

It was news of importance to a large number of business and shipping men, to learn that the harbor-master was rigorously enforcing the harbor regulations and had threatened a well-known business man with a $50 fine. The Optimist was very careful in dealing with the matter not to reflect on either gentlemen, or to suggest that any unpleasantness had passed. In that we were merely discriminating between what was public and what was private in the incident.

If Mr. Peck is angry with the Optimist for having informed the public of Captain Allcock's threat, we are quite willing to publish anything about us he may have to say. That is one of the privileges of the public. But we could nor permit the incident to be made the basis of a controversy in which one gentleman starts out to refer to the other as one who "has bored his way into a cheap government position and wears some gold braid and blue cloth." It would not be fair even to Mr. Peck, than whom there is not a straighter principled and better hearted man in Prince Rupert. It was unfair to him to let him be judged publicly by a letter written obviously in a moment of irritation.

The rule is one which we observe in our own affairs. On the very day that Mr. Peck's letter was declined, we had also to refuse a letter written by a well-known Prince Rupert man naming a brother editor of ours as a "low-down, common and vindictive" person, and "editor of the one and only gutter press in the city of Prince Rupert." We will not even say who the editor referred to is, more than to hint that if anyone guesses it was the editor of the paper which published Mr. Peck's letter it would be a pretty close guess.

There is an old proverb which says "Evil communications corrupt good manners." Possibly the press of Prince Rupert, or a portion of it at any rate, is itself most to blame in the matter for having set a bad example to the public. When a newspaper in its editorial columns outrages all the decencies of society in abusing persons with whom it has private commercial disputes, every latitude may be accorded the private citizen.

If the letter had to appear at all, it was certainly published in the most fitting medium.

CHINA AND JAPAN AT WAR AGAIN

BORDER TROUBLES PRECIPITATE CLASH WITH ONE OUTLET

Feeling Has Been Fomenting for a Long Time and Has Found Expression at Last—Russia an Interested Spectator.

(Special to the Optimist)

St. Petersburg, Dec. 27.—According to papers which have reached here China and Japan are on the brink of war. The border outbreaks which occurred recently seem to have fomented feeling on both sides into stern antagonism. Officially no action has been taken but it is common knowledge that the relations of the two countries are of a very strained order an dliable to break at any moment. Today there was a clash between the rivals and it is just possible that it will lead to an open declaration of war. Russia is naturally the most interested spectator of the impending rupture. She will probably follow the fate of China with sympathetic interest.

ON WITH THE DANCE

Wednesday Night Assemblies in McIntyre Hall a Success

Tomorrow evening another of Prof. Fred Archer's dances will be held in the McIntyre Hall. From the first these dances were a great success, and a number of beginners took advantage between 8 and 9 of the opportunity afforded them to pick up the steps of those deliciously alluring dances which are enjoyed to the full by all after 9 o'clock. Gray's Orchestra supplies the music which is—it goes without saying—excellent. These enjoyable dances will be an every Wednesday evening feature too good to miss.

INDIANS WON'T SELL RESERVE

FORT GEOGRE NATIVES TURN DOWN G. T. P. OFFER OF $78000

Young Irresponsible Members of Tribe Voted to Sell but the Elders Carried the Vote—An Indian's Logic.

After spending a week at Fort George in an endeavour to induce the local Indians to relenquish their entire reserve to the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway company, Dr. John McDougall, an official of the Indian department of the Dominion government, has returned to Ottawa to report.

Dr. McDougall was empowered by the Ottawa government to offer the Indians $68,000 for the abandonment to the railway company of the reserve. An additional $10,000 was also offered to enable them to erect necessary buildings on the new reserve to be chosen for them. The individual opinion of the Indians was ascertained by votes. The result of the first vote was that abou half were willing to sell at the offered figure. Those who voted to sell were largely made up of the younger and irresponsible members of the tribe, Chief Louis and Sub-chief Joseph voting against the sale of the entire reserve. It was made plain by the Indians to Dr. McDougall that they would consider the alienation of the western portion of the reserve at a pro rata figure, but stood firmly to retain the eastern portion on which stands their village, church and cemetery.

Later in the week eight Indians who had been on a hunting trip returned to the village and another vote was taken to enable them to express their opinion on the sale. The result was even more decisive than the first, the late arrivals voting solidly against the proposition.

The reserve contains about 1,350 acres. The proffered price would figure out at $50 an acre. One of the Indians, who has a penchant for the subdivision business, reasoned it out in this wise: "White man ketchum reserve fifty dolla' acre; sellum lot five hundred dolla; Indian dam fool sellum."

Dr. McDougall promised the Indians to return before spring with another proposition for their approval. That the future proposal will be for the sale of the western portion of the reserve is the only reasonable solution of the problem. The government has a full appreciation of the Indian's reverence for the dead, and will not attempt to coerce them into a sale of their land that would desecrate and disturb the graves of their departed.

CAPTAIN JARVIS HAS RESIGNED

ALASKAN PIONEER IS NOW IN NEW YORK

Captain Jarvis saw the Opportunities in Coal and Copper in the North and Notified the Mrogan-Guggenheim Interest.

Seattle, Dec. 26.—Captain David H. Jarvis, secretary and treasurer of al the Guggenheim Alaska transportation corporations, re-organizer of the old P. P. & N. Fisheries, and the man who interested the Morgan-Guggenheim syndicate in Alaska, has resigned. With President J. H. Young of the Alaska Steamship Company Captain Jarvis is now in New York in connection with S. W. Eccles, representing the Morgan-Guggenheim interests.

Captain Jarvis saw the opportunities in the copper and coal of the northern territory, and brought the wealth to the attention of J. P. Morgan and the Guggenheims, leading them to develop the varied industries which have followed the advent of corporate wealth and corporation methods in the territory.

Captain Jarvis was in charge of the entire corporation business when the Guggenheim men clashed with the employees of the Reynolds' ill-fated Alaska Railway at Keystone Canyon, and bloodshed occurred. This was followed by a grand jury investigation and subsequently by an investigation by a sub-committee of the United States Senate committee on the judiciary.

APHORISMS OF JAS. J. HILL

Great Railroad Man Tenders Chunks of Wisdom

The man with the big opportunity today is the man in the ranks.

Success never comes to the man who spends most of his time watching the clock.

The man who climbs up is the one who is not content with doing only just what is absolutely necessary, but who does more.

Some opportunity will come at some time to every man. Then it depends upon himself and upon what he shall have made of himself what he makes of it and what it will make of him.

My rule for success is untiring application, loyalty to one's employer, which is loyalty to one's self, doing the best you can in every task that faces you; practicability, initiative, and industry.

Every extravagance, whether it be state or individual; every increase in prices, whether it be in wages, rates, or commodities, comes out of the consumer. He must pay the bills.

Theoretically, the place for eceonomy to begin, is with the individual. But he won't do it. That is the plain situation today. The individual refuses to retrench. On the contrary, he is using the increased cost of living as an argument for an increase in wages.

You cannot mix business and politics.

It is no more possible to solve many of our economic problems by legislation, than it would be to fix a dislocated limb by law.

The men who would borrow and spend lavishly may mean well, but the sign board where their road diverges is marked plainly, "Disaster."

If you would like to see a clock that is 261 years old you will see it at Wark's Jewelry Store.

A New Disease

The Vicar of Marlow in England has discovered a new disease. He calls it "morbus sabbaticus." The attack comes on each Sunday morning No symptoms of it are observed on Saturday night; nor does it seem to impair the appetite for the Sunday dinner; but a relapse follows about the time of evening service.

DRISCOLL LOSES TO FRED WELSH

FIGHT WAS STOPPED THROUGH DRISCOLL FOULING

Seconds of Both Men Rush Into the Ring and Scrap Promiscuously—Police Have Difficulty in Separating the Men.

Cardiff, Wales, Dec. 23.—Freddie Welsh, the lightweight champion of Englnad won the fight with Jem Driscoll, the featherweight champion, in the tenth round on a foul.

The fight was a twenty-round match for a purse of $12,500, the largest ever put up in Great Britain for featherweights. Several thousand persons witnessed the bout and notwithstanding the betting favored Welsh, the spectators were greatly disappointed with the contest when it came to an unexpected end, due to Driscoll butting his opponent under the chin with his head.

Welsh, besides being five years younger than Driscoll, had the advantage of weight and reach. His blows were heavier than those of the featherweight and showed he was unable to take more punishment.

In the first round Driscoll had the advantage in points, but in the second Welsh landed several hard blows, and his extra weight, ten pounds, began to tell. In the fourth he sent Driscoll to his knees and the betting went from 2 to 1 to 5 to 1 in his favor. The lightweight champion inflicted several damaging body punches in the seventh, but in the next round Driscoll got home a couple of hard lefts. He followed this up with a game exhibition throughout the ninth, honors being even.

It was seen in the tenth, however, that Driscoll was fast tiring. In one of the clinches he persistently butted his opponent and the referee finally disqualified him.

The seconds jumped into the ring and promptly came to clinches. Some blows were struck and it was with difficulty the police dragged the warring partisans apart. The winner took sixty per cent of the purse and the loser forty.

READY BY NEW YEAR

New Office of Foley, Welch & Stewart Nearing Completion

The new business office of Messrs. Foley, Welch & Stewart are now on the verge of completion, and it is expected that the company will move into them about the beginning of the year. Situated immediately behind the present warehouse the new offices are built on capacious and comfortable lines of fine timber. They have been apportioned off so as to provide for a large general office and two subsidiary offices. At the present time the timber is having the dampness sweated out of it by means of stoves. The floor above will be used as a cabin by the boys employed in the office. It is spacious and airy and will answer the requirements admirably. The whole building is designed on modern lines and when in operation will present a natty appearance.

A TRIUMPH FOR THE PEOPLE

Toronto Railway Dismisses the P. A. Y. E. Cars

Toronto, Dec. 24.—As a result of the tempest of public indignation aroused by the action of the Toronto Street Railway in attempting to enforce the "pay as you enter" system, the company has now announced that it will withdraw the cars objected to.

The pay as you enter cars were the cause of the recent riots, in which twelve cars were wrecked and eighteen persons injured.

Apples Are Man's Natural Food

The apple was first served by Eve. There is as much difference in apples as in men, and we believe we have some apples for sale now that are better than the kind Adam ate—and those were tempting enough. Choice, juicy, finely flavored apples are grown only in certain places where the climate is right, where their cultivation is understood and perfected.

CHIPS FROM THE HUMORISTS

"What I believe in," said Mr. Erastus Pinkley, "is kindness to dumb animals."

"Yes," replied Miss Miami Brown, "I has hyuhd dat some folks lif' a chicken off de roos' so gentle an' tender dat he won't have his sleep disturbed ska'sley none."

"I didn't know you intended to go around the world." "I didn't when I started. But I went through Europe without tipping, and was afraid to turn back."

Senator Gallinger, in an address at Concord, N. H., said of a political opponent:

"He isn't half so well off as he thinks he is. He'll wake up with a start one of these days—like Mr. Fawcett.

"Mr. Fawcett, entertaining an unexpected guest at luncheon, said as they sat down to table:

"My dear sir, will you have some of the sliced bologna sausage, or— or—"

"His eyes darted frankly all over the table, and he continued:

"'Or not.'"

H. Chandler Egan, the golf champion, said on the Wheaton links of a poor player:

"The other day he had a rather disagreeable, sneering sort of caddie. He approached the third hole fairly well, but couldn't hole the ball. After a half dozen wretched and unsuccessful putts he turned to his sneering caddie and said:

"Well, what am I to do, anyway?"

"Oh," said the caddie, "get down on your knees and blow it in."

A family moved from the city to a suburban locality and were told that they should get a watch dog to guard the premises at night. So they bought the largest dog that was for sale in the kennels of a neighboring dog fancier, who was a German. Shortly afterward the house was entered by burglars, who made a good haul while the big dog slept. The man went to the dog fancier and told him about it.

"Vell, vat you need now," said the dog merchant, "is a leedle dog to wake up the big dog."

GREAT SCHEME OF SETTLEMENT

AUSTRALIAN RAILWAYS LINK UP TO HELP IMMIGRANTS

Western States Will Act in Unison—Government Model Houses, Hospitals and Shops to Be Erected to Facilitate Settlers.

Melbourne, Dec. 23.—An extensive scheme of railway development in the Commonwealth is now on foot. The proposal is to link up the existing system of railways and to run branch lines into districts suitable for agricultural pursuits, so that settlement may be facilitated. At the same time the forward immigration policy of the new government will be hastened so that the new areas may be made productive as soon as possible.

The states will act in unison and contributions for the railway scheme will be made as follows:

Queensland 9,000,000 pounds.
Victoria 2,000,000 pounds.
New South Wales 6,000,000 pounds.

In addition to the above scheme the Federal Government has hypothecated fifty thousand pounds for the purpose of building model houses, hospitals and shops in certain districts. All will be run as state concerns and they are intended to form object lessons for private enterprise along the same lines.

BULKLEY VALLEY OATS

Total Output Is Estimated at About 60 Tons

Diamond D ranch, in the Bulkley Valley owned by Chas. Barrett, of Hazelton, has grown a very good oat crop this season, the whole crop not yet being threshed, but from the oats already run through the thresher it is estimated that the whole will not fall short of 60 tons. Oats this year are worth six cents per pound at the ranch which will give a return of $7200 for the crop of above estimated tonnage.

The Diamond D ranch, near Telkwa, is a ranch of 3,000 acres, about 2,000 acres being cleared. The hay cut during the past four seasons has averaged better that 300 tons each year; the potato crop averaged better than 17 tons per acre, and the above oat crop can be taken as a fair average per season for the number of acres in oats.—Omineca Herald.

SALVATION ARMY XMAS DINNER

LARGELY ATTENDED BY CHILDREN AND THE GROWN-UPS

First Function of the Kind in Prince Rupert Is a Pronounced Success—Splendid Co-operation of Some of the Citizens.

"In as much as ye did it unto one of the least of these my children, ye did it unto me."

The quotation epitomises as no other description can do the spirit and sentiment that found expression yesterday in the Christmas Dinner of the Salvation Army. The formality and etiquette that demands an invitation was frankly ignored and when the tables were set the doors were thrown open so that all who cared or were invited could come in from the highways and byways and enjoy a repast that did credit to the auspicious occasion—and a better compliment it would be impossible to bestow. Introductions and recommendations, the cold and bloodless guardians of the portals of official charity, were conspicuous by their absence; the only qualification needed was a healthy appetite and the grace to come and appease it. Many came and none were turned away.

To say that dinner was served from 12:30 till 4 p.m. describes but inadequately the nature of the feast and the number of the partakers. Between the hours mentioned the dozen or more tables groaned under the weight of the edibles and the faces round the festive board were ever changing. The army officers and the public spirited people who had enlisted themselves as waiters had no occasion to belittle their sacrifices, for the duties imposed upon them by the continual stream of diners made their temporary avocations anything but sinecures. During the earlier stages of the meal the children responded to the universal call in splendid numbers, and later on the grown-ups filed in generously also.

Simplicity and homeliness markedthe carrying out of the entire function. Formality was cut dead; there was not even so much as an opening speech to whet the appetite of the diners.

Ensign Johnstone was in charge of the whole affair and he expressed himself as entirely satisfied with the success of the Army's first venture of the kind in Prince Rupert. Everyone had shown their appreciation on a substantial manner, but what pleased him most was the turnout of the children. A notable feature of the function was the generous assistance offered him by several of the people in Prince Rupert in an "administrative" capacity. Among those who took prominent parts in serving the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Thatcher, Mrs. Coley, Mr. Daggett, Mr. McBeth, and Mr. Abbott.

Tonight the Christmas tree will be unveiled at eight o'clock and a musical programme will be submitted. Everybody is welcome.

PETRIANA GOES INTO WHALING

SOLD TO CANADIAN NORTH PACIFIC FISHERIES COMPANY

Northern Steamship Company Getting Another Partner for Cetriana From England—A Second Purchase in Prospect Also.

The Northern Steamship company, of Vancouver, operating the steamers Petriana and Cetriana to Northern British Columbia ports has sold the Petriana to the Canadian North Pacific Fisheries company which is building a large plant at Naden Harbor, Queen Charlotte Islands. The whaling company has taken over the steamer which will be used to carry supplies to the stations at Rose and Naden harbors. It is stated that one of the first trips the Petriana will make will be from Rose Harbor to San Pedro, Cal., with a cargo of fertilizer.

The Petriana and Cetriana were brought here from England about a year ago and to maintain its schedule the Northern Steamship Company has bought a steamer which will sail from England for Vancouver within two weeks. This is s ship of about 750 tons, somewhat smaller than the Petriana. The company is negotiating for a second cargo boat and will therefore have two freight steamers on the coast by next spring in addition to the passenger steamer Cetriana.

Mr. Eadie, one of the officials of the Northern Steamship company, will leave for England on Saturday next to take delivery of the steamer secured and to arrange for the purchase of the second ship.

ANOTHER BOAT ON RUPERT RUN

PRINCE RUPERT-SKEENA TRANS-COMPANY IS DEVELOPING

Company Declares Satisfactory Dividend but Will Reserve Earnings for Purchasing Another Steamer—Trade Ample for Two Boats Next Summer.

There is a probability that the Prince Rupert-Skeena Transportation company, which operates the steamer Inlander, may have another boat on the Prince Rupert-Hazelton run next season. The company, in which local men are heavily interested, was the means of greatly relieving the freight situation, which would have been most serious had the Inlander not been on the river. The boat, notwithstanding delays which prevented its being put in comission at the opening of navigation, had a most successful season, making sixteen trips to Hazelton with full cargoes, besides three trips to the Canyon and one to Kitsumkalum.

The company is in a position to declare a very satisfactory dividend: but it is probable that the season's earnings will be devoted to the acquisition of another steamer, there being more than sufficient business already offered to keep two boats busy all next summer.

OPEN EVENINGS

Hand Tailored

The custom tailor who charges you $40 to $50 for a suit would like you to believe that it is hand-tailored throughout—every stitch of it. Ask him. As a matter of fact there is a lot of machine work on the finest garments made. The modern tailor knows that certain operations in the making of a garment can be done better by machine than by hand and certain other important operations can be done better by hand than by machine.

The 20th Century Brand people employ scores of highly skilled hand tailors and put hand work on all vital parts of their garments. Their clothes are "hand-tailored" in the full meaning of that trade term. And that's worth knowing and remembering.
