GERMAN AVIATORS FALL SIX THOUSAND FEET

Herr Schendal Had Just Broken German Record for Altitude When He Lost Control of Monoplane —Swiss Aviator Falls, but Escapes

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Johannesthal, Germany, June 10.—Before the horrified gaze of thousands of sightseers, two aviators, Herr Schendal and his mechanic Herr Moss, fell from the clouds a distance of nearly seven thousand feet and were dashed into almost unrecognisable pulp, last night.

An Altitude Record

Herr Schendal on Tuesday last won fame by breaking the German record for altitude. In his monoplane he rose to a height of 6,594 feet. Last evening he set out to go even higher. His machine rose in the air and circled about rising higher and higher, until the scientific observers proclaimed that their instruments showed he had broken his previous record.

In Moment of Victory

Still higher the tiny machine climbed the clouds. As the watchers tense with excitement looked, they saw the little machine flutter, and turn over. Its tail sank till the machine took a verticle position, and then it started to fall.

The machine had reached an altitude of 6,650 when it started to fall. Once it started, the aviators lost control, and the machine and men came hurtling to the earth. The bodies of the men were frightfullgy manled, while the frame of the machine was buried in the earth with the great velocity of the fall.

Had Better Luck

Geneva, June 9.—The Swiss aviator Ladeoli fell 2000 feet in a monoplane today. The nachine turned several complete somersaults, each time unseating Ladeoli, but he managed to climb back and regain control of it. When within 300 feet of the earth the motor stopped and the machine began to fall. Ladeoli hung on by his hands until within ten feet of the ground. Then he dropped and landed unhurt. The machine passed beyond him and was wrecked.

$2,000,000 CITY HALL

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Winnipeg, June 10.—The City Council last night ordered plans to be prepared for a new city hall to cost two million dollars. It will be built on the present site extending back to Princess street.

WILL START A FUND TO PURCHASE AMBULANCE

Dr. Eggert Hands Over to Hospital Board the Grand Trunk Co's $500 Cheque—Cost of Auto Ambulance Considered

Agreeing that an ambulance is most certainly necessary now to perfect the efficiency of Prince Rupert's General Hospital, the Hospital Board last night decided to refer the matter to the Executive Committee who will consider the cost of the vehicle, and upkeep. Meahwhile the cheque for $500 donated by the G. T. P. Railway Co. has been handed over by Dr. Eggert, and it is now up to the citizens to subscribe the further amount necessary, about $500.

Auto-ambulance Favored

President D. G. Stewart is inclined to favor the purchase of an auto-ambulance. Mayor Manson has been considering a system by which the city will employ an understudy for the fire department's chauffeur, who will be available for ambulance service at any time. Probably the auto-ambulance will be housed beside the fire brigade auto.

Some little time has elapsed since Mr. Arthur Cuthbert tendered his resignation as Secretary of the Hospital Association. Formal acceptance of the resignation was recorded last night, and Mr. William Wright, Assistant Secretary was appointed Managing Secretary under the new By-laws.

Hon. President's Powers

Nothing further was done in connection with the idea that voting power should be given the Honorary President. While it has been felt by the Board that Mr. Manson who has taken great interest in the Hospital, m ght fitly have voting power, it was not thought advisable to make voting power a prerogative of all Hon Presidents of the Board.

A cheque for $40, the balance of the Laurier Fund was handed over to the Board by T. D. Pattullo, and amongst other minor matters the pricing and purchase of a Taylor Safe was left in the hands of the House Committee.

BAD SHOOTING AFFRAY AT COLD STORAGE WORKS

Homer Wood, while Crazed with Drink, used a Gun on Alexander Mathieson--When He Saw Mathieson Fall, He Tried To Blow His Own Brains out--Mathieson Escaped Volley, but Wood is Seriously Injured--Will Be Charged With Attempted Murder

With a desperate bullet wound in his head from the right ear to below his eye, Homer Wood, a plumber, late of the firm of Mathieson & Wood, is lying in the hospital in a serious condition, after attempting to commit suicide. If he recovers he will be charged with attempting to murder Alexander Mathieson, a brother of his former partner. The engine house of the Atlin Construction Co., at the Cold Storage plant is riddled with bullets, telling their tale of the man's desperate attempts.

The tragic affair happened at noon today, just as the men were about to quit work. Alex Mathieson was working as fireman on the hoist. Wood, who is said to have been drinking heavily, and to have had a private grudge against Mathieson came up to him as he worked.

"Are you going up town tonight, Alick?" he asked.

"Yes," replied Mathieson, unsuspecting.

Drew a Revolver

Suddenly pulling out a revolver, Wood said, "I'll shoot you, you—"

He pulled the trigger three or four times at Mathieson who was quite unarmed and turned to run for safety. In running away, Mathieson tripped over a piece of machinery, and lay stunned for a few seconds.

Tried to Kill Himself

Thinking he had killed Mathieson, the crazed man suddenly turned the weapon on himself. He was seen by Engineer Ralph Fisher to place the gun to his ear and pull the trigger. As he fell Fisher ran to him and saved him from falling from the platform of the hoist.

Wound Not Serious

It was found that the bullet instead of entering the brain had come out through the forehead. Dr. Tremayne was at once telephoned for and came in his launch, along with Chief Vickers. The doctor attended to the man's injuries, and conveyed him in custody of the police to the wharf. Mathieson, except for the fall is unhurt.

Will be Charged

If he recovers as is very likely, Wood will be charged by the police, says Chief Vickers, with attempting to murder Mathieson, and also with attempted suicide.

There is no doubt that drink played a strong part in the crime. Not only was Mr. Wood partially intoxicated at the time, but he was brandishing a bottle of whisky a minute or two before the shooting started.

The affair caused a great deal of excitement among the hundred or more men at the works, who were just leaving work when the shooting affray began.

C. M. HAYS SIGNS THE AGREEMENT

Final Discussion Was Held in City Hall. City Seal Attached. Grand Trunk Co.'s Seal to be Affixed at Montreal.

Well satisfied with the settlement of the great G. T. P. assessment problem, the city council met later to ratify the agreement. Each alderman was supplied with a copy of the terms and with Mr. D'Arcy Tate representing the company the dtails were gone carefully over.

During the discussion it was announced by 'phone that Mr. Hays and Mr. Chamberlin would attend for final discussion and arrangements. On their arrival several points were brought up and settled, and the signing of the agreement was then carried out. The City Seal was affixed last night but the seal of the G. T. P. cannot be attached until Mr. Hays reaches Montreal.

Though signed and sealed, the agreement has yet to be approved by the citizens of Prince Rupert and ratified by the Legislature. It is set down that the improvements proposed are not to start until three months after the next session of the Legislature, but the aldermen believe from verbal statements made by Mr. Hays and Mr. Chamberlin that the the work is to go on at once. The dry dock must go on in terms of agreement with the Government.

TRIP AROUND THE HARBOR

S.S. Prince Rupert Made a Special Tour With President Hays's Party.

After leaving the wharf yesterday instead of proceeding directly out of the harbor on her way south, the Prince Rupert made a special round trip through the harbor to give Mr. Hays and his party the opportunity of seeing the progress made along the waterfrontage, and the situation of the dry dock, etc., from the water. The steamer went as far as he Cold Storage Plant at Seal Cove keeping close in shore, and turning there proceeded south.

Two bright interesting Presbyterian services are promised in the Empress Theatre tomorrow. Rev. F. W. Kerr will preach at both services, and will conduct a Bible class for young people in the afternoon. All are welcome and the pastor invites strangers to meet him after each service.

The mandamus reads as follows:

To William Manson, Vernor W. Smith and Joseph E. Merryfield, of the Board of License Commissioners in and for the City of Prince Rupert in the Province of British Columbia, and every of them, greeting:

COLONIAL CONFERENCE DISCUSSES IMMIGRATION

They Re-affirm Resolution of Four Years Ago, Whereby the Home Authorities Pledge Themselves to Aid in Selecting Suitable Persons

(Canadian Press Despatch)

London, June 10.—At the Imperial Conference today Premier Fisher moved for the reaffirmation of the resolution of 1907 pointing out the desirability of encouraging British emigrants to proceed to British Colonies rather than to foreign countries and that the Imperial Government co-operate with any colonies desiring emigrants, to assist in selecting suitable persons.

John Burns said that since the last conference the object of the resolution had been to a great extent secured. If the rate for the first four months of 1911 continued for the whole year the total emigrants from Gtrea Britain to all countries would amount to 300,000 of whom eighty per cent would go to different parts of the Empire.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said that Mr. Burns's statement appeared to him to be quite satisfactory. The resolution slightly amended, unanimously passed the Conference

Who is to Blame for the Waterfront Fiasco?

There is one last question which might be asked in connection with the assessment problem, "Who is to blame for the waterfront fiasco?"

Although none of the negotiators, and few of the citizens perceive it very clearly as yet, the whole fight in the assessment dispute raged round the question of the waterfront. If the railway company could hold it idle until after the line is built, its leases will be worth many times over what they would bring today. If equitable taxation were exacted, then it would have forced the railway company to sell or lease a little of it to carry the remainder, and the city would have had a permanent payroll from factories and mills on the waterfront. By having the city's representatives agree to a lump tax of $15,000 a year, and making this tax cover properties of the development company already assessed to pay over $9,900 taxes, the company manages to retain its grip on the waterfront for a paltry $5,000 a year. It is safe to say that no leases will be given until after the line is completed.

How little some of the negotiators were qualified for their work has been shown not only in their agreement, which is riddled with loopholes, but also in their comments since the agreement was made. Even an alderman who recently brought the council to its knees by his threat of having other means to make himself heard, never used those other means to enlighten the public about the economics of the dispute. His only published reference on the matter, apart even from its pitiful childishness of tone, betrays the incompetence and ignorance of the writer. There was only one man on the council whose training and ability fitted him to qualify as a negotiator, and from all accounts he was content to sit back and let his colleagues go ahead.

There is no suggestion of blame intended to apply to the members of the council. They were the people's choice. The work was forced on them. There was no strong and enlightened public sentiment to back them up. Undoubtedly they did the best they could. And they were sincerely of the opinion that the settlement they made was a good one for the city.

It was a hopeless task to take any heterogeneous body of men—a capable carpenter, a qualified dentist, a country editor, an excellent haberdasher, a good butcher—and set them up against a company of clever railroad chiefs and corporation lawyers, to debate a question of economics. The blame neither now nor in the future, can fairly be laid to them.

And even the most splendid leadership would have been handicapped unless it had strong and united backing from the citizens.

The blame goes much further back than January 14th, 1911. It antedates incorporation. It goes back to the time when the original plan of the townsite of Prince Rupert was filed with the Provincial Government at Victoria; before most of us ever knew for a fact that the G. T. P. terminal was to be located on Kaien Island.

Though none of us were citizens of Prince Rupert then, the Provincial Government had a sacred trust to protect the interests of the future citizens of the town whose plans were then in preparation.

One of those duties was to see that the citizens were not so situated that they would become the prey of corporations and monopolists.

How well they kept that trust is seen by the fact that the Provincial Government and the Grand Trunk Pacific divided up the whole of Prince Rupert's waterfront between them. As a consequence, not a stick of timber, nor a sack of potatoes, nor a loaf of bread can enter Prince Rupert without paying tribute to the Grand Trunk Pacific. With standing timber all round us, with everything, even to our streets constructed of lumber, and with a need for a permanent payroll in the city, we are obliged to import every foot of lumber, and pay tribute to the Grand Trunk for bringing it into the city over their water-frontage.

Contracts for millions of feet of lumber that could have been filled here, and would have given employment to hundreds of men, have been sent—many of them by the G. T. P.—to the mills of Washington, U. S. A. Why have we no saw mill on the waterfront?

Perhaps nothing could have saved the situation in the assessment dispute, and in other difficulties which have arisen and which will arise, save the taking away of the reins of municipal government out of politics and out of the hands of the butcher, the baker and the candlestick-maker, and vesting that authority in the hands of a commission of skilled municipal experts. A commission, composed of a skilled engineer with ample authority, an expert financier, and an expert business organiser, would have saved the city thousands of dollars and much bickering. It was the same Provincial Government that ran its pen through the city's demand for power to create a civic commission.

"It is unusual, and a new thing," said Mr. Bowser, as he murdered the people's charter.

It was the same Provincial Government that denied to Prince Rupert citizens the right of the Initiative, the Referendum and the Recall.

As the author of the city's troubles, the Provincial Government of British Columbia, should not be overlooked.

LIVE DOINGS ON THE WATERFRONT

Rush of Passenger Traffic from Three Steamers, Special Train. Rupert, City of Seattle, Princess May and Vadso.

Whether it was because C. M. Hays was here or not the scene at the waterfront Thursday night was quite the busiest ever in Rupert this season. There was the Prince Rupert there of course, and beside her lay the City of Seattle with a throng of northbound passengers who streamed ashore for a spell "to see the sights." Centre street was already crowded with passengers to and fro when the C. P. R. S.S. Princess May arrived with a big crowd for Prince Rupert, and full list for the North. Three big passenger steamers occupied berths close by one another at the wharf, but while the traffic was busiest the Vadso also steamed into the harbor and berthed by the other boats.

Just at the height of this festival of waterfront, liveliness in steamed President Hays's special train from up river passing over the busy level crossing at Centre street with clanging bell, and pulling up in metropolitan style a step or two from the City of Seattle. If the merry ladies and gentlemen from the States were not duly impressed by the stir and bustle revealed to them by their visit to Rupert they must be classed with the dumb emotionless green stuff that also comes from Seattle.

CLEAR THE RESERVE

Orders Given to have the Whole Space Vacated in a Week or so

Squatters on the G. T. P. reserve will have to find other quarters. President Hays told Alderman Morrissey last night that orders have been given for the reserve to be cleared, and that it will be entirely unoccupied in about a week. The houses are destroyed as soon as the tenants and their belongings are out of them.

EXTEND WATER SUPPLY

G. T. P. Engineer will See about Morse Creek Dams for City

Asked by the Mayor last night about the proposed extension of Morse Creek Dams in order that a further supply of water may be obtained for the city Mr. Hays said that he would be very glad to allow permission for this, but the matter must pass through the hands of the company's engineer who will advise the city about it on his arrival in a week or so.

DEVOTED PRINCIPALLY TO THE INTERESTS OF WOMEN

Any and all of the ladies of Prince Rupert are invited to contribute to its columns, and to take part in its discussions. Suggestions and criticisms are invited by the editor. The hope is expressed that "The Cosy Corner" will fill a social need.

A CHARMING DANCE

Entertainment in Honor of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson was a Great Success.

McIntyre Hall was the scene of a brilliant assemblage last night upon the occasion of the complimentary dance tendered to Mr. and Mrs. Nelson by a number of gentlemen. Delicious refreshments were served at midnight, after which dancing was continued until a late hour. Others present were Mrs. Patmore, Miss McMaster, Miss Brown Miss Craig, Miss Martin, Miss Ellot, Miss Dunn, Miss Dudsie Dunn, Miss Brodie Dunn, Miss Blackburn, Miss Thomson, Miss Monica Green(Victoria), Miss Milligan, Miss Johnstone, Miss Drummond, Miss Pinder, Mr. Pillsbury, Mr. Crippen, Mr. Emmerson, Mr. Pitcain, Mr. Cambie, Mr. Warton, Mr. Reitchel, Mr. F. A HANDSOME BLOUSE

The semi-made kimona blouse is a boon to the woman who desires handsome effects but cannot afford the finished garments. All-over lace is one of the favorite materials for the separate blouse as well as chiffon, and an unusually dainty design which brings out the beauty of the lace is shown in the sketch. The bolero effect is very smart and the arrangement of the band trimmings new and effective.

FINE RESIDENCE TO GRACE FOURTH AVENUE

Designed for Frank Mobley and to be Erected Immediately on Site Near Young St.—Interesting New Features Planned—House Will Cost $8,000

Another beautiful residence is to be added to Prince Rupert's already excellent list of fine homes. F. Mobley is to build immediately on Fourth avenue near Young street. Plans for the house by W. L. Barker provide for a handsome residence of two storeys with basement the cost of which will not be less than $8000.

Richly Designed

In exterior appearance the house will be rather different from the ordinary design. Doorways and balconies are to be enriched in substantial manner with heavy timber archways and mouldings. Both from back and front the house will look attractive, and the interior is to be specially so.

From the main entrance opens a spacious reception hall with polished timbering and ceiling beams. Off this lead the entrances to dining room, living room, and den. Richly wainscotted, and with beam ceiling the dining-room is a handsome one. The fireplace in the den is designed of specially fired bricks of rich rough surface, and occupies a kindly corner position. The living room is planned for comfort and inviting appearance.

Convenient Kitchen

A Dutch kitchen planned for the greatest possible convenience of the cook is a feature of the residence. Everything required in the kitchen will be within reach with the minimum of trouble. Panelled presses and cabinets are to line the walls, and coolness even when ,the stove is working its hardest is assured by the ventilation arranged for. From the basement to the kitchen runs a fuel hoist, and ash shoots are provided in the fireplaces. Modern heating apparatus in the basement will take care of the comfort of the house in cold weather, and here too, are equipped a convenient laundry and drying rooms.

Two stairways lead to the upper floor which is designed for spacious bed-rooms, and a pretty sewing room. One stairway leads from the kitchen, the other from the reception hall. Most modern is the fitting planned for the bath-room which is on the upper flat.

Balconies and verandahs are well adapted to the conditions of this coast, and command the finest views for which residences in Prince Rupert are famed. Mr. Mobley hopes to occupy his new home by the fall. Contracts for its erection are now being let.

Classified - - Advertisements

One of the best services the modern newspaper gives the public is in the classified advertisement columns There buyer and seller, employer and worker, landlord and tenant, and a host of others meet on common ground. To put this modern convenience in reach of everyone the News will reduce its rate to a nominal price of a cent a word per insertion. Minimum charge of 25 cents. Here is our Classified Advertising Column for today. Watch it grow.
