COTTAGE CITY WRECKED AT CAPE MUDGE

PASSENGERS AND CREW NUMBERING SIXTY HAD TO TAKE TO SMALL BOATS TO SAVE THEIR LIVES

ONE BOAT LOAD FEARED LOST IS NOW SAFE

Accident Happened in Blinding Snowstorm Yesterday Afternoon While on Way to Prince Rupert---History of the Ill-fated Vessel and Sketch of Some of Her Crew---Has Been Wrecked Before.

(Special to the Optimist)

Seattle, Jan. 27.--The Cottage City, the Pacific Coast steamer, that plies between this port and Prince Rupert, was wrecked last night off Cape Mudge. All the passengers and crew left the sinking vessel before she settled into the waves, but one of the boat loads is reported to be missing. It is feared that they are lost.

The Cottage City left Seattle Wednesday night with a cargo of mixed freight for Rupert and Skagway, a small passenger list and crew numbering in all about sixty.

All went well till the vessel neared Cape Mudge, B. C., when she ran ashore yesterday afternoon in a blinding snowstorm which rendered navigation almost impossible.

It was at once realized by the captain that the ship had sprung a leak and was sinking, so he ordered the boats out. Every one left the doomed ship in her small boats. Shortly after they did so the Cottage City gave a lurch and disappeared from view beneath the waves.

Making land in the small craft proved to be no easy matter but by continual shouting the oarsmen managed to keep together in the darkness and the howling wind. Finally they effected a landing.

Later in the evening all of the rescued crew and passengers were shipped to Victoria from which point they returned to Seattle.

Late at night a wireless message intimated the appalling news that one of the boats had not made a landing and that it was feared she was lost. This no doubt resulted from the roll call and the checking of the passengers with the shipping lists. The message ran as follows: One boat load of persons from steamer Cottage City missing. Feared lost.

All Reported Safe

A report from the Government wireless station to the Optimist at 1.30 this afternoon states that all the passengers and crew are reported safe by the operator at Cape Lazo. The steamer Snohomish is standing by the wrecked Cottage City, and the wrecking vessel Salvor was reported at 11 a. m. three miles north of Ballenas.

SUBSTANTIAL REDUCTIONS BY BOTH GOVERNMENTS

Reciprocity Agreement Announced at Ottawa and Washington---Many Food Stuffs Admitted Free, and All Reduced--$62,000,000 Worth of Products Affected

(Special to The Optimist)

Ottawa, Jan. 27--The reciprocity representatives of Canada and the United States who have been deliberating the subject for some time at the Capitol have arrived at a basis of settlement, whereby great reductions, amounting to many millions of dollars will be remitted. All that stands between the ratifying of the agreement now is the acceptance of the U. S. Senate, before whom the proposal will come in due form. It is not anticipated that much difficulty will be encountered there.

MOTHER LAND TO BENEFIT

The Canadian reciprocity resolutions are to be proposed in the House of Commons by Mr. Fielding in the committee of ways and measures. The resolutions in effect say that the advantages hereby granted to the United States shall also be extended to any foreign power which may be entitled thereto under the provisions of any treaty or convention with His Majesty's government. That the advantages granted to the United States shall extend to the United Kingdom and also several British colonies and possessions with respect to their commerce with Canada provided nothing contained therein shall be held to increase any rate duty now provided for in the British Preferential tariff inquiry.

FOODS ON FREE LIST

Washington--The terms of the reciprocal arrangement were announced yesterday afternoon. Among the commodities put upon the free list are wheat and other grains, dairy produce, fresh fruits, vegetables, fish, eggs, poultry, cattle, sheep and other live animals. Cotton seed is also included in the free list.

The agreement also provides that printing paper will be made free when the Canadian restrictions upon pulp wood are removed. Raw materials, such as mica, gypsum, and the like are allowed a free passage.

Both countries have mutually reduced their identical rates fixed on stationary food products such as fresh meats, canned meats, bacon, hams, lard, canned vegetables, flour cereals and other manufactured food stuffs.

The total amount of the duties remitted by the United States is $4,850,000 and the amount remitted by Canada is $2,560,000. The value of the articles now dutiable which the United States propose to make free amount in value to $21,981,000.

THE INDUSTRIAL WORKERS CENSURE THE CITY COUNCIL

Call Their Action "Cowardly" in Trying to Make False Appeals to Patriotism. A Strongly Worded Resolution.

At the meeting of the Prince Rupert Industrial Association held last night the report of the committee who waited on the City Council on the wages question was received and the following resolution was passed:--

A Strong Resolution

"Whereas, the Prince Rupert Industrial Association has seen fit to make a demand on the City Council for an increase of wages for all laborers who are at present working for 37 1-2 cents per hour for a minimum wage of 45c per hour, and,

Whereas a number of the members of the City Council seemingly are trying to sidestep the question by attempting to create a prejudice against the Italian and Slavonian working men, and whereas we firmly believe that the contempt shown against the aforesaid members of our association is but an expression of their true opinion and feeling against their entire laboring class, the wealth producers of the world,

Therefore be it resolved by this, the Prince Rupert Industrial Association in meeting assembled, that we go on record as denouncing public officials who are so cowardly in the discharge of their duty as to appeal to patriotism and prejudice to avoid themselves taking a straight stand on such an important question, for an appeal to patriotism as Dr. Johnson has said, "it is the last resort of a scoundrel;" and

Be it further resolved that the members of Prince Rupert Industrial Association refuse to accept any concessions from any employer with a discrimination against any workingman or woman who toils for their daily bread, simply because they may happen to be born on a different part of the globe to our city fathers."

The resolution was carried unanimously.

Praise for Pattullo

The action of Alderman Pattullo in moving for a select committee to investigate the workers' claim was praised by several speakers. "He was the only man who refused to make us any promise, yet he was the only one who showed himself willing to help us when the moment came," said one representative,

TRAIN WRECK INJURES SEVEN

SLEEPING IN CAR WHEN ENGINE BATTERED THROUGH

Threatened With Death by Fire but Managed to Escape in Time-- Travelling Without Signals Was Cause of Accident.

Melfort, Sask., Jan. 26.--Seven men were seriously injured as a result of a railway collision on the line about eleven miles east of here yesterday. An east bound passenger train ran into the caboose of a freight train. The engine of the passenger tore its way through the car of the freighter in which the men were sleeping. The wreckage caught fire but not before the men had been rescued from the death trap.

Travelling without signals was the cause of the accident that might very easily have ended in a terrible disaster with a heavy loss of life. The matter is being investigated, and the men on the freighter are being held as witnesses.

SIR "BILL" MACKENZIE VICTIM OF A ROBBERY

Porter of His Private Car Stripped Two Bills From a $6,000 Wad From Under Railway Magnate's Pillow---Confessed His Crime--- Was Allowed to Go.

(Special to The Optimist)

Vancouver, Jan. 27--An interesting story of a robbery of which Sir William Mackenzie, the railroad knight was the victim, has just come to light. The porter of his own private car was the person who filched him. The story reminds one of the old saying of Carlyle that no man is a hero to his own valet. Sir William had an appointment with the minister of railways, but slept late in the morning and rose finally in a great hurry. Under his pillow was a nice little wad containing $6,000 in bills. In his haste he did not put the bills away but simply wrapped them in his night shirt and trusted tacitly to his employees to guard it for him till he returned. When the porter came to make up the room he found the roll. It looked good to him naturally, thinking that what was good for the master must be good for the man, so he peeled off the two outer bills and put the rest away. When Sir William returned he quickly learned that his wad had diminished in size and value. He did not make a noise, however. He employed one of his own men to investigate the matter and had the satisfaction of running down the thief at Windsor with the bills still in his possession. On being taxed with the robbery the porter confessed his guilt. No police action was instituted. He was dismissed from the service.

A Cause For Satisfaction

The news announced exclusively in the Optimist yesterday that arrangements have been completed for the operation of a steel and iron industry in Prince Rupert is the best piece of news that has been given out in this city since ever a printing press arrived. It is the best indication of Prince Rupert's industrial future that could be given. While none doubted that with tremendous ore and coal deposits around us such an industry was inevitable, the news that arrangements had been completed, probably came to many with great surprise.

The opening of the iron and steel industry has a more than ordinary bearing on the development of a district. Far beyond the ordinary value of manufacturing industries, it has a value to the community at large. It is not merely an industry in itself, it is the parent industry of a thousand other industries, which for economic reasons are forced to locate within easy access of the iron and steel output. In this, the age of machine production, this factor is of great importance. Many large manufacturing cities in the east, such as Toronto and Hamilton, already realize their handicap through an excess of light manufacturing industries, and the difficulty through distance from ore and coal supplies of installing heavy industries. To overcome this handicap, Toronto has recently given great concessions to a smelting concern which proposes to bring ore from the Moose Mountain district on the new James Bay line, using imported coal on which it needs must pay a duty with ores showing 68 per cent. of metallic iron and equal in quality to the finest Swedish ores, with coking coals and limestone for fluxes in abundance, all capable of easy water shipment, and the assurance that iron and steel can be produced at Prince Rupert at a price to compete with the products of the Cape Breton smelters, the coming of such an industry must be a cause for great satisfaction. With such a parent industry here, the coming of other manufacturing concerns is made inevitable.

WHERE IS G.T.P. FORT GEORGE

LOCATION IS NOT YET FINALLY DECIDED

A Switch in the Survey May Leave the Present Townsite Out in the Woods—Not a Remote Contingency.

Toronto Saturday Night has been getting after The National Resources company, who, the paper says, are offering something, the certainty of which is not assured because the railway has not even reached the spot nor have the G. T. P. finally announced where "their" Fort George will be. A switch in the survey, not an unknown thing by any means in railroad construction, might leave both the present townsites offered some distance from the line. It has been generally understood that the railway company will themselves put on a Fort George townsite. In regard to the permanency of the present Fort George, B. C., townsites, there may or may not be something in the report of an interview within the past few weeks with a prominent official of the G. T. P., in which that official was credited with saying that the townsite of Fort George, so far as the railway is concerned, has not been finally located. Highlands, the new Saskatoon subdivision at the north end of the city, is owned by the Natural Resources company and is being widely advertised throughout Canada.—Saskatoon Press.

HERRING FLEET IN THE HARBOR

SEA GULLS HAVE A ROYAL TIME GORMANDIZING

Fish so Densely Packed That They Are Helpless—Some Fishermen Land Good Hauls for Trouble of Picking Them UP.

Prince Rupert harbor has for several days past been the scene of a terrible battle between the birds of the air and the fish of the sea. The herring have come in to spawn and they are so thick as almost to impede the progress of the steamers entering or leaving the port. Their density renders them a comparatively easy prey for their natural enemies, the seagulls, who flirt about the air and dart upon their helpless victims with a callous precision that removes all element of chance.

This morning at the expense of a very little trouble, the trouble of hauling them in as fast as they were able, one or two fishermen landed boat loads of them and at once set about having them shipped south.

Captain Wires to Vancouver that His Ship Will Float at High Water—Revenue Cutter Gone to Assist Her.

(Special to the Optimist)

Vancouver, Jan. 27.—At ten o'clock last night a wireless message here reported that the steamer Tees had gone ashore at Gowland Island, Barkley Sound. All the passengers were taken off in safety. The vessel was running through a terrific storm of blinding snow and hail at the time.

This morning Capt. Gillam, commander of the Tees, wired to the city to the effect that his ship would be floated at high water today.

Later—The U. S. revenue cutter Tacoma has gone to the assistance of Tees.

Wireless from Triangle—Tees was floated at 10.35 this morning.

INTENTION OF COUNCIL TO CELEBRATE FITLY

Reception Committee Must First Consult Rainbow's Officers Regarding Suitable Form of Entertainment. Statement by Acting Mayor Smith.

"It is certainly the city council's intention to give the Rainbow a fitting reception when she is here," said Acting Mayor Vernor Smith to the Optimist this morning.

"Until the vessel comes, however, the form the reception will take cannot be exactly stated. The City Clerk is in touch with the wireless station, however, and will warn the reception committee whenever the approach of the Rainbow is certain.

"The Reception Committee consisting of Alderman Kirkpatrick, Alderman Clayton, and Alderman Pattullo will first consult with the officers of the Rainbow, and arrangements for a fitting celebration of the vessel's visit will immediately be made and carried out. Much depends of course on the length of time the Rainbow will remain in the Port of Prince Rupert."

At noon to-day it was reported that H.M.C.S. Rainbow had passed the night at Metlakatla and would be here this afternoon.

The flag is at the government house masthead ready to be broken out to the breeze as soon as the Rainbow enters the harbor.

The report, however, is denied at the wireless station on Digby Island. At 10.30 this morning she was reported to the station by the wireless operator at Cape Lazo,

CORONER'S SEARCH OVER CONTINENT IS SUCCESSFUL

Seattle Victim Belonged to Hamilton Ontario—Cause of Crime and the Murderer Remain Undiscovered—Had Money When Found

(Special to the Optimist)

Seattle, Jan. 26.—After conducting a most vigorous search through Canada and the United States by means of circulars and photographs, Coroner Stiecklin, Centralia, Washington, has discovered the identity and unearthed the relatives of the man who was mysteriously murdered in the granary near that place shortly after Christmas.

The man was Albert Horning, and he belonged to Hamilton, Ontario. When his body was found he had several hundred dollars in his possession. The cause of the murder and the identity of the murderer remain a mystery that is not likely to find solution.

EPWORTH LEAGUE DEBATE

Held in Methodist Church on "Government Ownership of Utilities"

On Wednesday night the lively debate at the Methodist church, on the subject of "Government Ownership of Public Utilities," the question was decided by a close ballot in favor of the affirmative. Mr. Walter Shaw set forth reasons for Government Ownership. He held that government as now constituted was class government and government ownership under it cannot be carried out in its more perfect or ideal sense, imperfect government must carry imperfection in its operation.

Private gain on public utilities vitiated the principle that the value of a thing lay in its adaptation to use and to the greatest possible number. Public ownership, or ownership by the whole of what was useful to the whole encouraged the best in men and reduced the temptations of selfishness and greed to a minimum.

Mr. Hamblin admitted that government ownership might be right but practically in many cases which he cited where it had been tried, it was found necessary to go back to the method of operation of public utilities by private corporations.

Mr. Button read Mr. McKay's brief for the affirmative as the latter was not able to be present. Mr. McKay held to the principle of government ownership, though he acknowledged that it had its defects citing the instance locally of the electric light plant which was being so slowly constructed.

Mr. Nelson closed the argument for the negative holding that the probable effectiveness in the practical working of the utility for the public good would be in favor of the private company as against the public control. He favored private corporations bound under the most careful restrictions.

Other debates will be arranged and given at the Christian citizenship meetings which are held in connection with the Epworth League on the last Wednesday evening of each month. Topic next Wednesday evening, February first: "Lessons from the Life of Joseph."

Made by Expert Specialists

In the 20th Century Brand coat shops each garment passes through 26 distinct operations, with expert specialists doing the work in each of these 26 stages. Any of them can do what he does much better than an all-round coat maker who may be a fairly good tailor but who is not a specialist in any particular branch of the art and science of coat making. The degree of perfection that these specialists arrive at through years of practice and study in one small department of coat making is nothing short of amazing. Custom tailors who visit the 20th Century Brand tailor shops (and they are always welcome) never fail to express their astonishment at the perfection of workmanship which this system of specialization produces. It is the old story of "Jack-of-all-trades" being master of none and giving way to the specialist in this and every other department of human endeavor.
