FIFTEEN WOMEN PERISH IN FACTORY FIRE AT NEWARK

Terrible Scenes Were Witnessed—Two Hundred and Fifty Women Fled Panic Stricken from Flames —Three Heroic Priests Ministered to the Dying Victims

(Special to the Optimist)

Newark, Nov. 26.—A most disastrous fire occurred in a paper box factory early this morning. Fifteen persons are known to have been killed in the fire and many others are missing. The flames are still smoking and it is impossible to attempt a search until later. How the fire broke out is not known. It was suddenly in a blaze and owing to the combustible character of the stock there was at no time any hope of saving the structure. It collapsed before the workers had a chance to escape.

Three Heroic Priests

Three priests proved themselves heroes.

Disregarding the warnings and pleadings of the crowd they entered the smouldering building and gave the last rites to the dying pinned under the burning timbers.

Women Were Panic Stricken

There were two hundred and fifty employees, mostly girls, at work when the fire started. Many jumped from the upper stories for the life nets. They came in such a rush that several failed to be caught in the nets and were dashed to death on the pavement. One fireman was struck by the falling body of a girl and killed. The girl was taken to the hospital and may possibly recover.

TWO WRECKS IN INLAND PASSAGE

STEAMER SEALIGHT LOST ON BARANOFF ISLAND

Engine Explodes on Gasoline Launch and Two Brothers Are Instantly Killed While Remaining Brother Manages to Reach Shore.

(Special to the Optimist)

Juneau, Nov. 26.—Word was received this morning of the wreck of the Steamer Sealight on Baranoff island. The wreck occurred on Monday and four persons are said to have perished.

Juneau, Nov. 26.—While the three Hague brothers were cruising in their gasoline launch yesterday the engine exploded and two of the brothers were killed. The third was badly injured and managed to swim ashore in the icy waters and was cared for by natives. A passing revenue cutter was hailed and he was brought here this morning.

BURRELL IN LIMELIGHT

Opposition Out of Security to Challenge Sir Wilfrid

(Special to the Optimist)

Ottawa, Nov. 26.—In the house of commons yesterday Martin Burrell made a speech in reply to the address from the throne. In the course of this he challenged Sir Wilfrid Laurier to transfer William Templeman to the senate, as to open a seat in British Columbia where the feeling of the West on the tariff policy would be plainly demonstrated. He rebuked the members of the government party who made the trip to the premier for attempting to bribe the constituencies with offers of public works.

Operation For King of Spain

Bordeaux, Nov. 26.—(Special)—King Alfonso will arrive here today for the purpose of undergoing an operation for throat trouble. Professor Moure is performing the operation at the Sanatorium.

MUTINEERS GET AN AMNESTY

ALTHOUGH THEY BOMBARDED RIO DE JANEIRO

They Also Killed Three Officers on Ground That Warships Were Undermanned—Corporal Punishment in Navy Abolished.

(Special to the Optimist)

Rio de Janeiro, Nov. 26.—The mutineers who gained control of the battleships here and bombarded the city, were yesterday all granted an amnesty, in spite of the fact that three officers were killed during the engagement.

The men declare that the ships are undermanned and as a result they had to work too hard.

Corporal punishment in the Brazilian navy was also declared to be abolished.

CONSERVATIVE POLICY

Leader Borden Outlines Attitude of Party on Naval Matters

(Special to the Optimist)

Ottawa, Nov. 26.—Leader of the Opposition Borden, in the debate on the address from the throne last night, delivered a long speech outlining the Conservative attitude in regard to the naval policy of the government. The chief feature of his speech was that the question whether Canada should have a navy or not ought to have been referred to the electorate.

THANKSGIVING IN LONDON

Officers of Visiting American Warships Are Guests of Honor

(Special to the Optimist)

London, Nov. 26.—At the American Thanksgiving dinner the officers of the United States battleships now visiting British waters, with several leading British admirals, were the guests of honor. Ambassador Whitelaw Reid made the principal speech.

Jack Johnson to Meet Boston Tar Baby at an Early Date

(Special to the Optimist)

Seventh Avenue Improvements

City Clerk Woods will proceed with the necessary advertising required to go ahead with the improvements on Seventh avenue from McBride street to a point beyond Dominion street. The matter was dealt with at the council last night.

The improvement in question is the construction of a sixteen-foot plank roadway.

CITIZENS' LEAGUE FORMED TO FIGHT THE SCOTT ACT

Private Executive Meeting Was Held in McIntyre Hall Last Night—Plans Were Discussed and an Organization of Citizens Was Formed

A new local organization was formed last night to make a strong campaign against the temperance party, at a private executive meeting held in McIntyre hall. There were about one hundred present and a number of arguments by speakers were made against the adoption of the Scott Act by Prince Rupert.

Argued Against Act

One speaker said it would make this port the laughing stock of the coast cities and that even to attempt to carry out the act would be a farce as it had been in other places. The general feeling was that it would be a mistake to initiate anything of this nature into the development of so new a city, as it might tend to retard its growth. Instances were cited where this had been the case, and the whole liquor problem was carefully discussed.

The Citizens' League

In the end it was decided to form an association to be called the Citizens' League, and a strong executive committee was appointed with instructions to start at once and to continue a vigorous campaign against the temperance party until polling day.

EXECUTION POSTPONED

Waiting Return of Chief Justice to Hear Gunner Allen Appeal

(Special to the Optimist)

Victoria, Nov. 26.—The execution of Gunner Allen, who was sentenced to death last August, has been postponed to await the return of Chief Justice Hunter, before whom an appeal for a new trial will be heard on a technical legal point. The chief justice was called East by the death of his mother.

PULLED UP THE PRINCE RUPERT

LOCAL REAL ESTATE NEARLY CARRIED AWAY

Charles M. Wilson Just Escaped an Involuntary Trip to Vancouver Thanks to the Courtesy of Captain Johnston of the Prince Rupert.

Real estate is a fascinating subject to talk about. Charles M. Wilson, the real estate man of this city, has reason to know it. He was seeing A. S. Christie off south, and talking real estate to him in the cabin of the steamer Prince Rupert on Thursday night and got so engrossed in the subject that he never heard the steamer start up. She was half way down the harbor before he realized the fact. Then a frantic man leapt from his seat and rushed to the side only to see the waning lights of Prince Rupert and picture six business days a total loss.

Begged Captain to Return

Meanwhile A. S. Christie had made a bee line up three companions and across as many decks, clearing the course as he went to the Captain's bridge. He convinced the best Captain on the ocean that he absolutely had to stop the ship and put Mr. Wilson off. And Captain Johnston is such a good fellow that he actually did!

Captain Put Back

Ten minutes afterwards Charles M. was swinging from the end of a rope over the Prince Rupert's side trying to make the wharf.

Captain Wearmouth of the steamer Bruno in from Stewart saw the flag ship putting back and ran to meet her thinking they wanted him. Seeing a man dangling in the air he seized him by the legs and dragged him safely to the wharf.

Uses It as Ad. Now

Charles M. is now using the incident in a joking way to demonstrate how engrossing a subject is Delkatlah, the new townsite on Masset Inlet in which he is interested. Chiefly though it proves that Captain Johnston is the one in a thousand when it comes to obliging a fellowman.

DEVOTED PRINCIPALLY TO THE INTERESTS OF WOMEN

This is a little section of the paper, which from day to day will be devoted to subjects of special interest to women. Any and all of the ladies of Prince Rupert are invited to contribute to its columns, and to take part in its discussions. Suggestions and criticisms are invited by the editor. The hope is expressed that "The Cosy Corner" will fill a social need.

Social Notes

One of the most enjoyable functions held in Prince Rupert took place on Thursday afternoon at the residence on Fourth avenue of Mrs. Angus Stewart. It took the form of a "Variety Shower" in aid of Prince Rupert General Hospital.

The occasion was also made the opportunity for the ladies of Prince Rupert to make the acquaintance of Miss Kate McTavish, the new matron.

Yellow chrysanthemums formed the principal note in the decorations, and a large red cross as table-center indicated the purpose of the shower. The hostess' assistants were dressed as nurses with red cross badges on their sleeves. Tea was poured by Miss Rochester and Miss Kergin; and Gray's orchestra supplied music pleasantly during the evening.

Every sort of article likely to be of use to the hospital from lemon squeezers and egg beaters to a bedstead were contributed to the shower, and the fine supply of linen will form a substantial and welcome aid to the hospital.

The Care of the Teeth

The majority of people do not understand either the importance of good teeth, or how to take care of them.

It is true that teeth sometimes decay or go wrong through no fault of their owner. Serious illness almost always affects the teeth, for a tooth—this is a point little understood—is a living part of the body, and if a person gets into a low state of health the teeth also lose their vitality.

In the great majority of cases, however, bad teeth are the result of neglect, uncleanliness and ignorance.

Bad teeth are harmful in two ways. In the first place, a person with defective teeth cannot properly chew his food.

In the next place, bad teeth literally poison the whole system. They produce septic, that is, poisonous matters, which being in the mouth are swallowed.

The care of the teeth should begin with the temporary or milk teeth of children.

Many parents fail to understand this. They think that because the milk teeth are only meant to last a few years, it is not worth while to have them stopped when they show signs of decay.

This is a great mistake. It is quite as important to have decaying milk teeth attended to as it is to arrest decay in the permanent ones.

Milk teeth serve two purposes, first, to enable the child to masticate his food, and next to keep a place for the permanent teeth underneath.

If a milk tooth falls out or has to be extracted prematurely, this is what happens. The adjoining teeth close in to fill up the gap—nature abhors a vacuum—and the permanent teeth beneath follow their lead, pressing in on the permanent successor of the lost milk tooth. As the milk teeth are, so will the permanent teeth be, and the premature loss of a single milk tooth may have most serious results.

The average parent thinks that he does his duty if he takes his child to the dentist as soon as he complains of toothache. Toothache does not begin until decay has penetrated to the nerve of the tooth, by which time almost irreparable mischief may have been done.

The teeth should be regularly inspected whether pain is felt or not. Decay is a slow process, and is easily arrested for good in its first stages; but once it reaches the nerve it acts very quickly, and is difficult to stop.

Provided you have sound teeth at the start, there is no reason why you should ever lose one, even have one stopped, so long as you live, except as the result of a blow, or other injury, or a serious illness. Teeth are not meant to decay, why then do they do so? The great cause is particles of food being allowed to remain in the mouth, and in the crevices in and between the teeth.

The nightly brush is most important as a preventative of decay for it is during sleep that the destructive germs get their chance if you go to bed with an unclean mouth.

Regular brushing, however, will not preserve your teeth unless you use a proper dentifice, a suitable brush, and use the brush in the proper way.

For a dentifice you cannot beat ordinary common whiting which, in the form of "prepared chalk" you can buy from any chemist very cheaply. A pound will last months.

Use a small brush, for otherwise you cannot effectively get to those crevices which it is so important to keep clean.

Most people are content to brush the teeth from side to side, but that is not enough. The teeth should be brushed both front and back, and particularly should the brush be used with an up and down motion.

For the Housekeeper

To draw threads easily in articles for hemstitching, first soap the goods where threads are to be drawn. Make a lather and apply with a shaving brush. When the linen is dry the threads will pull out easily. Don't stitch seams all in one direction; the bias side should be held under the straight edge, which means that the seams of half the skirt should be stitched from top to bottom and the other half from bottom to top.

A beautiful quilt for the mahogany bed is made in the rose design, full-blown roses with green leaves and buds being applied on large blocks of linen. These blocks are put together with bands of one of the rose shades.

To prevent possible accidents from the chafing dish, wring a towel from water and lay just outside the feet of the dish. With this, any sudden flaming up can be readily extinguished.

To keep a skirt placket from tearing out at the bottom sew on a hook and eye at the extreme end of the placket, fasten and then crush flat. This is a simple, but very useful thing to know, as it saves many a stitch.

Bags to protect light dresses are a help to people who live in smoky, dusty cities. Make them of calico as long as the garment and run a tape in the top. Slip the gown on a hamper and put it in the bag, draw the tape and hang up.

Often in new homes plaster will be found on floors. Labor can be saved if before scrubbing the floor is rubbed over with vinegar. This will remove stains at once where it would take several scrubbing of water to remove same.

Salvation Army Services

Special farewell services will be held in the Majestic theatre tomorrow at the hours of 3 p.m. and 8 p.m. Ensign Johnstone will take the lesson at each and special solos and duets will be given by Mrs. Johnstone and Lieut. Wright.

Everyone is especially invited.

THAT REQUEST FOR TWO MILLIONS

There must surely be some mistake in that motion of Alderman Naden's to pull down the insanitary shacks on the G. T. P. reserve, if the company does not put them into order or remove them.

The Grand Trunk Pacific is a wealthy corporation, and to treat it as if it were an ordinary citizen paying taxes is an outrage. The case is clearly one for what the Honorable Dick, the member for the Grand Trunk Pacific would term "generous treatment."

Was not Alderman Naden one of those who advocated that the city should take Premier McBride's advice and extend generous treatment to the railway company in the matter of their tax bill. Why this fall from grace?

It would have been more fitting for the alderman to have served notice of motion for a by-law, providing that the city will replace the shacks with cutstone mansions, steam heated, and with running water in every room.

The suggestion is not so absurd as it looks. It would be a much less costly piece of philanthropy than to grant the request of President Hays and "deal generously" with him, by fixing the assessment at $5,000 a year for the next twenty years.

To reduce the company's tax bill by $100,000 a year for twenty years, would cost the city $2,000,000, without taking into consideration the growth in value of the lands year by year. Two million dollars would build quite a few cut stone mansions.

There is another aspect of the question of interest to the economist. Two million dollars spent on philanthropic house-building on the Grand Trunk Reserve would do a lot of good in Prince Rupert. Architects, stonemasons, carpenters, plumbers, plasterers, lumber dealers, hardware merchants—all of us including the city treasurer would get a slice of the pudding. But to make a present of two million dollars in yearly instalments to the wealthy share holders of the G. T. P. might do but little to help the working men of Prince Rupert.

If we must give the G. T. P. that two million dollars, who not bestow it in some sensible direction?

Is the William Manson, whom his friends are petitioning to run for Mayor, the same whom the electors rejected last May?

CAPITAL CONCERT BY THE CHILDREN

TO HELP ON THE HOSPITAL CAUSE

Large Audience at Empress Theatre Enjoyed an Excellent Program Provided by the Young Folk of Prince Rupert.—Several Star Turns.

Beyond question a success, is the comment everywhere heard today on the Children's Concert last night in aid of the General Hospital. The children did splendidly. Appearing as they did before a packed audience, they one and all performed their parts excellently.

From the opening chorus to the flag drill at the end of the long program the entertainment delighted the audience. Several "turns" would certainly be started on the next appearance of this charming company, notably the performance of Miss Lottie Daughtry the dainty little lady whose winsome rendering of "The Glow-worm," earned for her the most enthusiastic encore of the evening. Her response with the cunning little "Blind Pig" song redoubled the applause.

Another star turn would certainly be Miss Ethel Gray's Highland Dancing; and Miss Doris Pattullo's "Oh so Shy" dance was very prettily performed. Little Miss Eileen Patmore, too, proved a charming baby reciter and Miss Georgiana Hunter's "Baby and the Fly" was excellent.

"Peaches," the dialogue by Ida Nehring and Jack Humble, and the recitations by Lloyd Johnston, who gave the opening address, Wallace Anderson, and Jack Dowling were very well done, and good readings were given by Edith Sing and Margaret Morgan.

The dances by Misses Dorothy Tremayne, Violet Mortimer, Gracie Manson and Doris Pattullo pleased the audience and showed painstaking preparation; the flag, ball and free extension drill by the Misses Birnie, Catherine Johnston, Jennie McDonald, Madeline Nelson, Muriel Patmore and Betty Barrow, were very pretty to watch. The chorus trained by Miss Froude, came in for applause, and Alex Hunter's violin solo was good. It was followed by an illustrated recitation by George Shaw which was much enjoyed.

A capital drill exhibition by the Roy Scouts showing exercise and ambulance work was also given under Mr. Brown's command.

During the evening Mr. C. V. Bennett took the opportunity to express the thanks of the audience and citizens generally to Miss Froude, Miss Gray, Mrs. Humble, Mrs. Eggert, Mr. Hunter, Mr. Brown and Dr. Reddie for their work in training the children, and to Mr. McMillan for the use of the Empress theatre. He also expressed the very cordial thanks of all to the ladies of the Hospital Board Auxiliary.

Messrs. J. Kirkpatrick, chairman, A. Cuthbert, secretary-treasurer, and H. H. Clarke of the Hospital Board rendered services at the door as ticket takers, and their ungrudging vigil in the keen air last night deserves commendation.

Great credit is also due Miss Ray, graduate of Wellington College and Miss W. E. Williams, A. T. C. M. Mus. Bac., for the efficient way in which they trained the "Kiddies." The scarf dances, minuets and polkas given by the little tots constituted a large portion of the program and were exceedingly well done. Too much cannot be said for the quality of service rendered by the children's teachers.

Prof. Kauffmann's services as accompanist were efficient and appreciated.

ESCORT STILL OUT

Railway Tug Should Have Come Into Port Days Ago

The Princess Beatrice got in this morning and one of the first enquiries of Captain Whitely was as to when the railway tug Escort with her barge the Georgia arrived. When told that nothing had been heard of them he said they must be having whole loads of trouble. On his way up he pulled the Escort off the rocks at the north end of Vancouver island, so they ought to have reached here by the time he reached Skagway.

No news had been received at the railway company's office in regard to the tug boat but no apprehension is entertained.

Good Investments

Are seldom the result of luck—but of foresight—of ability to recognize opportunities when presented.

The mining industry in the vicinity of Hazelton is making such rapid progress that we regard it to your interest to give immediate consideration to the opportunity for investment in meritorious properties. A closer knowledge of the recent important discoveries will convince the most conservative and skeptical of the tremendous money making prospects and practically unlimited future. Looking ahead is worth while to the man who desires to share in this great progress when the investor is carried away by the enthusiasm of boom times. The important features of a valuable mining property supplemented by experienced and progressive management is the strongest recommendation in connection with an investment in the shares of "SILVER CUP MINES." The property holdings are unusually large and valuable. The management is in the hands of men of wide experience in mineral production and property development—men of demonstrated ability. To those who would employ their money where it will combine safety and profits to the greatest possible degree we recommend immediate purchase of "SILVER CUP MINES" at the present selling price of 12 1/2c per share. The special issue of treasury shares is almost fully subscribed and will positively be closed within the next few days. Don't wait until after the advance and then talk about the lucky owners of "Silver Cup Mines"—buy now and be one of them. No reservations will be made for anyone. The terms of purchase are either cash or 25 per cent. cash and balance in equal monthly installments. Call or write for full information.

SIR WILFRID LAURIER SAYS PACIFIC COAST MUST HAVE NAVAL PROTECTION

Montreal, Nov. 18.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier has written the following letter to Hon. T. Berthiaume on the naval policy of his government:

"Sir,—All Canadians will be grateful for your article of Saturday last in which you revive the fine imposing figure of Commandant Fortin, a man of head and heart, who in reality, was the father of the Canadian navy. The short story you published brings to mind the origin of our cruisers and explains from the events of the past the present situation. You say with reason that in 1852 'the case of the government was to protect Canada from danger and abuse, from violation of its fishing ground and from smugglers.' This was the government of Hon. Auguste Norbet, our greatest patriot, and Sir Francis Hiske.

Policy of Predecessors
 "I take advantage of the historical fact to point out that the government of the present day is not behind that of 1852 and I do not think we could be accused of crime in following out the policy of our predecessors. There might be good reason to attack us if instead of following that policy we had longer negelected it. Considering that the conditions and the measures of defence then adopted bore much more heavily upon the country than these which we now have recourse to. The revenue of the country was then only $16,000,000, while today it exceeds $100,000,000.

No Navy at Halifax Now
 "At that time, however, our share of protection was minimized because Great Britain maintained warships at Halifax which would be immediately available for defence in case of necessity. These ships are now withdrawn from our ports and we cannot complain, since their departure has been the confirmation of our autonomy. The mother country has shown full confidence in our loyalty since she has handed over to us her arsenals and shore fortifications. Now it is for the people of Canada to provide for their own protection, making their own laws and their own commercial arrangements with other countries, and even taking as they see fit the products of the workshops of Great Britain.

Dangers on Pacific Coast
 "We must not forget that there are continual dangers on the Pacific Coast, where the fisheries, forests and mines represent millions of dollars of value to be defended. It is not when the catastrophe arrives that we must prepare to meet danger. The duty of statesmen is to provide against the possibility of such a catastrophe. What would happen to our commerce if at a moment when Canada is preparing to offer the shortest route between Europe and Asia by its railroad and ocean connections for the valuable trade passing between the two continents, if by a false economy we should lose hundreds of millions of business.

Navy is Essential
 "Moreover how could we prepare our compatriots for ocean navigation if we did not give them an opportunity to learn on training ships. In former times our great shipyards at Quebec furnished sailors. But these have disappeared with the elimination of sailing vessels. The construction of cruisers we hope will revive the ancient industry and bring about the establishment of immense shipyards which will produce iron ships of all kinds not only for the government navy, but for commercial purposes. The engagement of our marines being limited to three years of service they are then able to obtain important positions in the mercantile marine. The navy will employ captains, mates and clerks, as well as carpenters, electricians, mechanics, firemen and sailors.

To Make Country Strong
 "I am not at the head of Canada's affairs for my own personal satisfaction. My duty is to work in order to make this country strong and respected. I do not think my compatriots of the province of Quebec should be in this matter of a different faith to my own. Moreover they would have reason to take me to task if I failed in the duty assigned to me of making Canada worthy of taking a foremost place in the British empire in the face of the whole world.

"I know that in campaigns false ideas have been spread regarding the navy which in agreement with my colleagues of the cabinet and the majority of parliament I have undertaken to create. Demagogues, there is no other expression that can be applied to them, have sought to frighten the people with prospects of conscription and enforced enrolment.

Ridiculous Campaign Liar
 "There never occurred in any political fight whether in this country or elsewhere a more dishonest assertion. Great Britain is itself the greatest naval power that ever existed and conscription there has never been known. It is ridiculous to suppose the naval law would be more severe here than in England. Forced enrolment has always been part of the militia law in Canada in the event of invasion, conscription is no more to be feared today than in the time of Commandant Fortin called out volunteers to recruit the 'Canadienne.'

"Autonomy is similarly preserved by the clause which refers to parliament the absolute control of the service which is its own creation and which cannot be used otherwise than by the will of the representatives of the people.
 "When the law is better understood the people of Canada, especially the people of the province of Quebec, will find in it nothing but a full recognition and an exact application of their rights as well as their duties.

CHIPS FROM THE HUMORISTS

Little Bob (just started in school)—Uncle Harry, what is the bird with the biggest bill? Uncle Harry (who is still thinking of the night before)—A quail, my boy, a quail—on toast.

The Visitor—Won't you come over here and tell me your name?

Child of Wealthy Parents—No, I won't. I'm just sick an' tired o' bein' interviewed.

Local Practitioner (as he goes through his day-book and ledger)—Old Smith hasn't called me in lately about his indigestion. You'd better ask him to dinner.

Mining Company President—Have you seen our annual statement? Friend—Yes. Now, just between ourselves. I'd like to ask you one question. M. C. P.—Certainly. Friend—Just what is your financial condition?

"Now, Harry," said the inspector, "which would you rather write about? All you know about William the Conqueror or all about our last holiday." "All I know about William the Conqueror," said Harry. "Why," said the inspector, surprised. "Well, you see," said Harry. "I could write all I know about William the Conqueror in a few minutes, whereas it would take me a couple of hours to write about my last holiday."

Sir Charles Wyndham has played the part of Garrick thousands of times in the little comedy said to be founded on an incident in the earlier actor's career. There is a story that Sir Charles himself tells. He sat one day in the Garrick Club, in Garrick's chair, under Garrick's portrait. To him came Henry Hamilton, who looked first at the portrait, and then at Wyndham. "Charles," said Hamilton, "you are growing more like Garrick every day. Do you think so?" returned Wyndham, "I'm very glad." "It's true," said Hamilton. "And less like him every night," he added, thoughtfully.

Hank Dobbs was noted as an "honest" horse trader. He would not lie about a horse. He would merely suppress the truth. Incidentally, he always beat the customer who dealt with him. The way he could slurr over the defects and buzz about the virtues of an animal amounted to genius.

Once Hank was trying to sell a neighbor a horse that had an eye which was nearly sightless. The neighbor knew Hank would not lie outright to him, so he questioned the horse trader as to the various points of the brute.

"How about his eyesight? Can he see out of both eyes?"

"Sure," said Hank: "he's got good eyes." Here he leaned forward, his eyes fairly scintillating with suppressed honesty. "One eye is particularly good!"

Hank's enthusiasm for the truth had carried him too far. The deal was off.

THE SCOTT ACT CAMPAIGN--AN OPEN LETTER

(The following is published by the Press Committee of the opponents of the Scott Act, and is not the expression of the views of this paper.)

To the Business Men of Prince Rupert:

Have you ever noticed that it is only a short time since the Grand Trunk was complaining of a shortage of labor, so much so that they even wanted permission to import Asiatics, and that now Mr. Chamberlin reports conditions very much improved in this respect. Why don't you stop and figure out the connection between these two facts and the granting of licenses in Prince Rupert. Ask the contractors, and they will tell you that the men who were paid off used to invariably head for Vancouver or Seattle, and never came back and that now they come to Prince Rupert, and go back to the end of the road when they are tired of their holiday. This is no fairy story; it is a fact that you can verify for yourselves.

There is no use thinking you can dictate to a man how he should spend his money. If he wants a glass of beer you cannot compel him to buy a pound of tea any more than you can sell him a diamond ring if he wants a suit of clothes. You may say to him that you will not allow him to buy the beer but in that case he will only go where he can get it.

Remember this is not a country village in Ontario, but the terminus of the greatest transcontinental railway in the world. Why did Sir George Doughty advise us when he was here with the railway party to see that licenses were granted as soon as possible? Because he knew that a city must have all the conveniences of a city. Do not think that all the money or the biggest portion of it even which the railroaders bring into the city is spent in the bars. Everyone gets his share according to the demand for the commodity he sells.

Do you know that there are at the present time men waiting to start several large buildings until this Scott Act vote is taken. Men who have stated publicly that they will not build in a dry town. Do you know that there are others, owners of real estate, who are ready to throw their holdings on the market if this town goes dry for three years.

Remember that many of the leaders of this Prohibition campaign have no interest in the town but their salaries and you have to pay them.

They can leave the town at two days' notice if things do not suit them, but what about yourselves. Are you willing to see all your prospects for the future, which depend on the steady growth of Prince Rupert, ruined by these faddists, who, though meaning well, no doubt, have no knowledge of human nature? Think for yourselves. Put yourselves in the place of the railroader and the others whom you want to attract to the town. Would you, in their place, allow anyone to tell you how you should spend the money you have earned yourself.

This is going to be a city and a big one, and we must be prepared to sell everything in this city that civilized men require. This is no place for mawkish sentimentality. This "brother's keeper" idea sounds all right but it pays a business man to look after his own business and let the other fellow run his. Ten to one your brother thinks you are more in need of a keeper than he is anyway. Don't allow yourselves to be stampeded into doing the city an irreparable injury.

If some of these "reformers" are so afraid of the attractiveness of the bar let THEM move out. The city can spare them better than the business men. Remember this question will be settled on the 14th for three years and see that it is settled properly.

AUCTION SALES

L. K. Brin Meeting With Great Success Each Night

The auction sales being conducted every evening by L. K. Brin, jeweler on Sixth street, are proving very successful, both for the buyers and for Mr. Brin. The public are getting genuine bargains. They pay just what they think the thing is worth to them and as Mr. Brin's stock has just been opened up it is all new and everything is good. He has a large assortment of jewelry of all kinds but it is being rapidly sold. It is up to you to get around early and secure your Christmas presents. A special matinee was conducted this afternoon for the ladies and one or two more will be put on next week.

WHAT ROOSEVELT SAYS

Fight for Progressive Popular Government to Go On

New York, Nov. 22.—The following is a statement by Theodore Roosevelt, his first comment since the recent elections:

"On every hand, personally and by correspondents, I have been asked to make a statement regarding the election. So far as I am concerned, I have nothing whatever to add or to take away from the declaration of principles which I have made in the Ossawatimie speech and elsewhere, east and west, during the past three months. The fight for progressive popular government has merely begun, and will certainly go on to a triumphant conclusion in spite of initial checks and irrespective of the personal success or failure of individual leaders."

That Second Avenue Plankway

Sir,—The city council at a recent meeting decided to put up a 16-foot plankway on Second avenue between Sixth and Eighth street. The property owners affected by such a decision immediately petitioned the council protesting against such a utility. On enquiry at the City Hall I learned that some 50 per cent of the property holders who had signed the petition favoring the improvement also signed against it, on the ground that it is an unnecessary expense. Amongst the names of the petitioners signing pro and con are such men as I. Dunn, Maurice Bondeaux, J. C. McLennan, and C. D. Newton who are presumed to possess business methods. Would any reasonable minded man vote both for and against any project they may wish to obtain? In fact the legality of such an act is doubted.

It is intimated in certain circles on good authority that some of the petitioners placed their signatures without knowing the contents of the petition which only implies gross ignorance. Are the gentlemen referred to interested in the general welfare of Prince Rupert? Do they not realize that the present inadequate plankway is detrimental to the city's interest as well as being dangerous. Pedestrians are compelled to walk in the road, and who knows what may result from the neglect to provide such an important walk. In their eagerness to fatten their bank accounts they overlook their duty as citizens to provide for the safety of the public. Should a fire break out under the present circumstances or a certain portion of Second avenue it is obvious that the result would prove disastrous, and surely somebody would be held morally responsible.

To gain access to some premises on Second avenue one has to walk around forty or fifty yards. Would it not be in the interests of the public as well as the gentleman who petitioned against putting up the sidewalk to have the matter reconsidered in favor of providing facilities to enable pedestrians to walk and live on Second avenue in safety?
