F. T. CONGDON DEFEATED IN THE YUKON ELECTION

Dr. Thompson, His Old Opponent, Gets in by Over Four Hundred Majority—Change of Government Had Evidently Affected the Result

(Canadian Press Despatch)
 Dawson, Oct. 24.—Thompson was elected over Congdon at today's Federal election by a majority of four hundred. There are nine small polls to hear from. The figures so far are Thompson 1125, Congdon 736.
 Dr. Albert Thompson, the victor, is a brother of Mr. James H. Thompson of the Thompson Hardware Company of this city. Mr. Thompson was naturally pleased to hear of his brother's success, when informed by the News this morning.

Mr. Congdon's Record
 Mr. Congdon has been member for the Yukon since 1908. He resigned his office as Commissioner of Yukon Territory in 1904 to contest his seat but was defeated on that occasion by Dr. Thompson. In the 1908 election he was returned by large majorities. Prior to the change of Government it had been practically settled to return him by acclamation this time. The change of Government has evidently decided the Yukon election.

CITY COUNCIL REAFFIRMED THE REDUCED WAGE SCALE

One Alderman Showed a Disposition to Wriggle in the Presence of the Workingmen, But Was Chided by His Colleagues for It

The efforts of certain aldermen to clear themselves in the eyes of the workingmen voters from the charge of having agreed to a 37 1-2 cents per hour rate on the Woodworth Lake scheme, provided much amusement at the city council last night. Finally the council reaffirmed its decision to have the rate 37 1-2 cents.
 The incident arose over a letter received by the council from Mr. A. C. Morse, secretary of the I. W. W., communicating the resolution passed by the men at their meeting in the Majestic Theatre on Sunday night. The resolution protested against the wage rate of the city being reduced to 37 1-2 cents per hour on the waterworks when the city wage scale was understood to be 45 cents per hour.
 Alderman Clayton moved that it be received and filed, but found no seconder. Alderman Newton then rose to explain that the reason for the reduction of the rate of wages was because the work was likely to be done by transient labor, not by citizen workers. It was deemed wise, he said, to reduce the scale to 37 1-2 cents per hour, rather than place the 45 cent burden on the general citizens when the work was done by transient labor. There was no intent on the part of the council to go back upon the position taken up at the beginning of this year. Alderman Newton disputed this in direct reply to something said by a speaker at the Majestic Theatre meeting. To avoid risk of serious lawsuits the 45 cent rate had not been recorded in the minutes but the council had paid as far as possible the 45 cent rate to citizen workers. He maintained that he himself and the council had not gone back on their pledges made at the beginning of the year, and denied that he made promises in public or sneaked round behind them on the quiet as had been insinuated by the speaker at the I. W. W. meeting.

 Alderman Kerr disagreed with Alderman Newton, and declared that he for one had not voted for the 37 1-2 rate.
 Alderman Douglas also took exception to Alderman Newton and challenged anyone in the city to say that he had not opposed the 37 1-2 cent rate. He had moved 45 cents be the rate and thought that days labor should be the system at Woodworth Lake but had found no seconder.
 To hear Alderman Kerr say that he had not sanctioned the decrease in rate surprised Alderman Clayton. He maintained that Alderman Kerr had known very well what he was doing last Monday night. He said Alderman Kerr was only changing his tune now he was he wanted to make a good fellow of himself to the workmen in the hall. Alderman Clayton declared that the effort of the council had been to have the thing a business proposition all through, and the 37 1-2 cent rate was the most business like rate they could see. It seemed absurd to think of doing the work by days labor at 45 cents per hour. Rights of business men and property holders should be protected as well as those of the workers.
 Alderman Douglas called on the City Clerk to prove that he had made a motion for the 45 cent rate but got no seconder.
 Alderman Hilditch pointed out that the city's minimum rate of wages had always been 37 1-2 cents per hour and that no change had been made. He moved an amendment to the original motion that the City Clerk be instructed to write the secretary of the I. W. W. to this effect. The amendment carried—Alderman Douglas dissenting.

ALDERMANIC AMENITIES

Ald. Clayton Resents the Very Name of Newton Applied to Him in Mistake.
 Alderman Hilditch referred to Alderman Clayton by mistake last night as "Alderman Newton."
 "No, No!" said Alderman Clayton, "not by a long sight!"
 "I beg your pardon, Alderman Newton," said Alderman Hilditch, bowing graciously to the alderman on his left and ignoring Alderman Clayton on his right. They were scrapping about the cost of the cemetery road.

BURIED ALIVE IN A MUD SLIDE

Terrible Fate Overtakes Two Italian Laborers at Kitselas Tunnel in Early Hours of the Morning

D. COLLATI AND ALBERT CERCI THE VICTIMS

Men Were at Work in the Dark Tunnel When a Mass of Mountain Mud Broke in and Buried Them Alive—Will Probably Take Three Days to Dig the Bodies Out—Accident Occurred on McDougall's Contract

Smothered in the darkness of early morning by tons of mud which slid from the mountain side into the tunnel cut in which they were working, two Italians have lost their lives. The accident happened at the West Portal of the tunnel under construction by Contractor MacDougall on the Grand Trunk Pacific at Mile 103. The names of the dead men are D. Collati, teamster, and Albert Cerci, mucker. They were killed about 5:30 a.m., yesterday, and it will take about three days to recover the bodies. The fatality was purely accidental, the mudslide being practically impossible to guard against.
Police Informed
 Information was wired to Provincial Police Chief Owens yesterday afternoon that an accident had occurred through a mudslide at the west end of MacDougall's tunnel contract, and the coroner at Hazelton has been informed of the circumstances. Mr. MacDougall, the contractor, is at present on the job, and the wire sent from Kitselas did not furnish full particulars of the occurrence. A wire was also received at Messrs. Foley, Welch & Stewart's office informing them of the occurrence.

 As the tunnel has not yet been handed over to the railway company this work is without the province of General Superintendent Mehan, nevertheless Mr. Mehan who has accurate personal knowledge of the various contracts advancing the work, was able to suggest the probable circumstances of the accident, from his knowledge of the ground. The west portal of the tunnel is approached by a steam shovel excavated cut through the mountain side to reach the rock face. The rock was reached some time ago, and tunnelling has been carried on for some 200 or 300 yards in. But at the entrance to the west portal where the steam shovel dug through the soft mountain surface until rock was reached there was the possibility that a slide might occur, the raw mountain and mud muskeg slipping into the cut. This is what General Superintendent Mehan surmises must have happened. The men were probably doing their work hauling out excavated material from the tunnel boring further in, when the mass of mud slid in the darkness over the edge of the cut completely burying them. A strong force of men is now engaged in clearing away the fall to reach the bodies.

WILL CALL NEW TENDERS FOR CLEARING

Timber Cruisers Employed by Council Report That Very Little of the Woodworth Lake Timber is Worth Saving—Not Enough Cedar to Build the Pipe

Tenders for the clearing of the shores of Woodworth Lake were not opened at last night's council meeting but were returned unopened to the bidders because the report of the timber cruisers employed to estimate the amount of useful timber in the area to be cleared has resulted unfavorably.
 They say that only some 75,000 feet board measure of the valuable yellow cedar exists there fit for the purpose intended, viz., to make staves for the pipe. There is any amount of spruce for the dam building, and the construction of the power station at Shawatlans Lake, but the scarcity of yellow cedar makes the logging unnecessary.

Alderman Hilditch expressed the alteration in the specifications as follows: "Burn everything except what yellow cedar there is, and enough spruce to build the dam. This timber will be marked. Everything else is to be burned, and close cutting changed from two feet to four feet above ground."
 Some discussion followed regarding the relative cost of building stave-pipe on the job or ordering it from elsewhere. Someone had been telling Alderman Newton that it would be about fifty per cent cheaper for the city to buy the pipe. Alderman Hilditch said the Georgetown Mills people had been trying to tell him the same thing but they had failed to convince him. He gave rough estimates showing the figures very much in favor of the city's doing the pipe building, and also reminded Alderman Newton of the almost indefinite lifetime of yellow cedar stave-pipe as compared to the twenty year life of the red pine offered by the other method. The sum of $28 per thousand he calculated would manufacture the staves on the spot outside of iron. It would cost at least $48 per thousand to import the material. The Mayor suggested delay until the comparative cost of city built and imported stave pipe had been ascertained. Colonel Davis recommended that the new tenders for the clearing be opened on Wednesday 25th.

TWO BANK CLERKS ARRESTED WHOLE STAFF SUSPENDED

Drastic Action Follows the Discovery of a Fire in a Winnipeg Bank—Audit Showed That a Sum of $5,000 Was Short in Bank's Funds

Winnipeg, Oct. 24.—A sensation has been caused in Winnipeg banking circles by the arrest last night of two clerks of the Union Bank. The arrested men are John K. McLeod, the ledger-keeper, and Gordon T. Nagle, the teller of the Selkirk Avenue branch of the Union Bank.
 On Friday morning at one o'clock a small fire was discovered in the bank. An investigation showed it to be in two places, and that the books of the bank were burning. An audit on Saturday and today showed a shortage of five thousand dollars.

 The entire staff is suspended and the two arrests have been made.

NEW CEMETERY ROAD

Ald. Clayton's Request for Destruction of Nobs Precipitates a Quarrel.
 Alderman Clayton thought that a certain nob over which the new cemetery road is crawling ought to be shot off to save the grade. Alderman Hilditch explained that the reason the nob was not shot off was because the cemetery road was being done on the cheap. They had not the money to shoot off the nob or all would be shot off. The road was being built of old Section 1 planking and if Alderman Clayton didn't like it he could do the other thing.
 This incensed Alderman Clayton who angrily declared that if Alderman Hilditch thought he was that sort of man, he would very soon find out who he was up against.
 "Oh, I know very well the sort of man I've got to deal with," sneered Alderman Hilditch quite unperturbed by Alderman Clayton's darkening brows and savage expression. The Mayor hastily changed the subject to make peace.

WANTED—A NIGHT SCHOOL FOR ADULTS

Now that the days are growing shorter and the evenings longer, a good opportunity presents itself for the School Board to arrange to open a night school for adults. There are scores of young and middle aged men in Prince Rupert who would be glad to take advantage of this means of helping themselves, to whom evening school would be a source of delight and profit.

In England, as well as in the large cities of Canada and the United States, the night schools have been well attended. They are not necessarily attended by the duffers and the illiterate. In England, some of the brightest young men of the working classes have found in the Extension Schools the link to a university training. One man well remembers how so busy a man as Sir Oliver Lodge—was his plain Professor Lodge in those days—used to find time to look in at an extension class of young workmen in England some fifteen or eighteen years ago. True educationalist that he is, he could not conceal the evident pleasure it gave him to meet with students so earnest, that they would spend their evenings at the university in pursuit of knowledge that was else denied them.

Our changed educational ideals make it difficult today for anyone to think of an education as something that can be obtained by attending a three or four years course of lectures. All life is education. The real student never ceases work. His education ends only with the grave—possibly not then.

The schooling of adults, through free evening lectures in school-houses, is based on the modern assumption that education is never finished, and that large numbers of people who had to leave school early, owing to the stress of making a living, are eager to get whatever knowledge they can.

The need for the evening school is readily seen from the facts that only about 3 per cent of the school population attend high schools, and 1.5 per cent the colleges, universities and professional schools, and that most of our cities have large numbers of foreign-born people who need instruction in English and other subjects.

Dr. Henry H. Leipzig, the Supervisor of Lectures in New York City, sums up the results of free lectures in that city as follows: (1) Adult Education is established as a permanent feature of our educational system. (2) Reading and study have been encouraged, a deeper interest in school life developed, and a refining influence spread. (3) Co-operation has been brought about between the lecture, the library and the museum. (4) The school is becoming the social centre of the community. (5) The schoolhouse must be constructed with a view to its use for various educative influences, so as not to become merely a nursery for children, but a place of intelligent resort for adults.

Prince Rupert simply cannot afford to do without an evening school for adults this winter.

PASSING COMMENT

The newspaper files of two or three years ago are interesting reading. Yesterday in hunting through some old newspapers we came across the following:

"PRINCE RUPERT TOWNSITE SOLD"

"Vancouver, April 18.—The entire Prince Rupert townsite has been sold outright. The sum involved is $100,000 and a substantial sum has been paid down to bind the bargain. The purchasers are Captain Matthew Machatter and several of his associates." etc.

Even the Mad Hatter would have shrank from announcing that Prince Rupert townsite was purchasable for $100,000—part cash.

The news that the Grand Trunk Pacific will not agree to sign the petition to abolish the ward system "on the ground that it would enable the centre to outvote the outlying parts of the city," did not come as a surprise to the News. The News was informed some time ago that the Grand Trunk Pacific had agreed as part of the price for the assessment settlement to uphold the ward system.

It is very clear why certain members of the council had taken the matter up with the company secretly.

Here is another anomaly of the assessment agreement. The railway company is only to pay $15,000 in taxes—about one per cent of the total taxes. But on questions like the ward question which is to be decided by a majority petition of the ratepayers, it is to have a 35 per cent representation.

ITEMS OF SPORT

Bert Hunt, star player of the junior Frontenac hockey team, who has joined Queen's first football team, was worked out for a short time at quarter, but will likely be used on the back division. His great dodging, which was so useful to him in hockey, will also be of great service to him in the Rugby game.

The senior single sculls, the premier event of the regatta of the New England Amateur Racing Association, on the Charles River, was won by Everett Hope of the Boston Athletic Association by a length over Paul Withington this time.

On September 30 in Scotland, Walter Knox, the Canadian professional athlete, won the 100-yard dash in .10 1-5, the pole vault with 11 feet, the shot-put with 44 feet, the standing jump with 4 feet 9 1-2 inches, the standing hop, step, and jump with 31 feet 4 inches, and was second in the hammer and broad jump. In his British tour just ended Knox won 57 firsts, 23 seconds, 3 thirds, and 4 fourths. Some record!

Jeff Smith, the New Jersey welterweight, had a slight advantage over Willie Lewis of New York, claimant of the welterweight title, in a ten-round bout before the National Sporting Club of America at New York the other night. Lewis tried to force matters in a majority of the rounds, but Smith always met him with left jabs to the face, and popular opinion gave him the fight by a small margin.

The six men a side idea will just about revolutionize the game of hockey. In the first place it will nail the defence to its position. There will be no more spectacular defence rushes. A defence rush with six men a side would be almost suicidal, because there would be no rover to drop back to help out the other man in front of the nets.

That six men a side would be a terrific strain on the forwards goes beyond saying. They would have to be up on the puck at all times, and would have to check back incessantly, for once the puck was lost by them there would be no one behind to take up the disc. They would simply have to get back or leave the defence at the mercy of the opposing three forwards. Of course the forwards will be relieved to a certain extent by the rule which permits a substitute at any time.

The six men a side rule clearly would not reduce the number of players to be carried by a team for the terrific speed at which the game will be carried on would force the use of a couple of substitutes in every game. With six men a side the game on a big rink is bound to be more of an individual nature.

Six men a side would be an advantage on small rinks like Renfrew and Quebec, but on Ottawa, Montreal, and Toronto ice the reduction of players might be to a disadvantage.

Six men a side would put a premium on speed. It would doom the big, heavy defence player, for in lagging moments it would be advisable to drop back a pair of the forwards and let the defence pair get into the forward play with their reserve strength. It would be large scores, because without the rover's back checking the forwards would be on the defence more often, while a cover-point or point rush would leave an open defence.

Six men a side means a cleaner game. The slogan will not be "Get the man," but "Stay on the ice." The loss of a man with a short team means the increased efficiency of any penalty. It practically means a doubling up of penalties. Six men a side will make it harder to break in a new man. So much will depend on each man that a new man will have to make good first crack or get benched for a seasoned player.

THE COSY CORNER

DEVOTED PRINCIPALLY TO THE INTERESTS OF WOMEN

This is a little section of the paper, which from day to day will be devoted to subjects of special interest to women. Any and all of the ladies of Prince Rupert are invited to contribute to its columns, and to take part in its discussions. Suggestions and criticisms are invited by the editor. The hope is expressed that "The Cosy Corner" will fill a social need.

DRESS HINT

Clothes the Thin Woman May Wear

The too-thin woman must avoid the straight-up-and-down lines. She may look with approval at tunic skirts in all styles, and fichus and large collars will add to the becomingness of her waists. She may wear any sort of sleeve but a long tight one; and in fabrics and colors she has a large variety to choose from. Of course, she must never let her eye rest for a moment on a striped fabric; but then she knows this without being told.

She may wear the checks, and big ones, too, which her fat sister longs for, yet must be denied.

DRESSING "THE DODY"

Indifference is the Sad Secret of Dowdiness

The dowdy woman should be made to see herself exactly as she is; she should be taught her dress faults. Undoubtedly, she will find that indifference is the first and worst of them; and that is easily overcome. Let even the dowdy woman, who says she doesn't care, see herself looking really charming just once, and never again will she sink back into her old ways.

What is the real meaning of the word "becoming" as applied to dress?

It is dress that is right, appropriate, and suited to the scene and the wearer.

Such a dress the world expects of every woman; for it has come to be the mark of dignity and power of the sex. Dress is woman's kingdom; it is cowardly of her to abdicate. That was a fine example set by the grande dames of the ancient regime when they put on their richest costumes to ride on the tumbrel to the guillotine. Whatever the circumstance or the crisis of life, a woman is better off for being fitly dressed.

LETTUCE CREAM

New and Valuable Complexion Cosmetic

Lettuce cream is an alleviation for the ills of complexions that have become tanned or irritated by the heat. It is made by taking four ounces of almond oil, one ounce each of spermaceti and white wax, and two ounces of lettuce juice. Put the oil, spermaceti, and white wax into a double boiler and warm, then by gentle heat until they can be smoothly creamed. The lettuce juice must be poured in gradually.

To obtain the lettuce juice procure an extra large head of lettuce and scald it well with boiling water, then let it stand for fifteen or twenty minutes, after which pour the water off and pound the lettuce to a pulp in an earthen basin. Finally strain it twice through a thin cloth. In some cases two or more lettuce heads will be needed, but this will depend entirely on their size and freshness. Old dried lettuce leaves naturally give out less juice than lettuce that has just come from the garden.

HEAVY FUR PACK

Trappers Send More Pelts Than Usual South from District Beyond Rupert.

From all parts of Northern British Columbia and the Canadian Yukon reports are indicative of a phenomenally heavy fur pack this winter. In the Atlin the foxes, lynxes and wolverines are reported more numerous than ever before; while a similar condition with respect to fur-bearers generally is reported from Cassiar (Omineca), and from Northern Cariboo. From Babine Lake, one of E. E. Charle-son's pack trains arrived recently at Hazelton with a single pack, the collection of but one independent trader, being valued at a minimum of $12,000. These furs were at once forwarded south where they are now being sorted and prepared for shipment east. The 1911 collection of sealskins from this port—the last to be got together—will probably leave for London about the end of the month.

WAS PUZZLED ABOUT TRAILS

Ald. Newton Wanted to Know Why Woodworth Trail is Worked One Way and Not the Other.

It came to the ears of Alderman Newton that the trail to Woodworth Lake now being built was being made from Woodworth Lake down to Shawatlans, instead of from Shawatlans up to Woodworth. He wanted to know why this was so, for it seemed to him that delay would be caused by having the trail so constructed.

Colonel Davis, city engineer, explained that the reasons for this method were: first, because there is camp accommodation for the trail-builders at Woodworth, but not at Shawatlans; second, because the worst part of the trail to build is that stretch nearest to Woodworth on which the gang is now engaged, and third, because the stretch just out from the head of Shawatlans Lake requires but little work being of gradual grade with good firm ground, and requiring only straight clearing, while in any case the trail cannot be used until all complete.

BORDEN ST. SEWER

City Will Leave Property Holders to Put It in at Their Own Expense to be Repaid Later.

It fell to Alderman Kerr last night to bring to the notice of the council the matter of the Borden street sewer which has been talked of for a very long time. This is an urgently needed sewer, not very costly to construct, but the city has shelved the matter for so long that now there is no money with which to do the work. However, Alderman Kerr said the owners to be benefitted would put in the sewer at their own expense, and be re-imposed by the city later for the amount due them. This would be satisfactory, said Alderman Hilditch, and the council assented.

AIRSHIPS FLY LIKE VULTURES

Wright Brothers Said to Have Discovered Secret of Soaring Indefinitely—Interesting Experiments Pending.

(Special to the Daily News)

New York, Oct. 23.—The amazing statement is made by Lorin Wright that his brothers, Wilbur and Orville, have at last discovered the secret of the vulture's flight and will soon send into the clouds an aeroplane capable of soaring indefinitely like a giant bird.

While Mr. Wright does not go into details, it is said that the flier will be raised, propelled and maintained in the air with the minimum of power and like that of the vulture, whose flight it is patterned after, it will remain aloft with the engine "dead" so long as the air is in motion.

Wilbur Wright said his brother Orville is experimenting at Gitley Hawk, S. C., with a problem of soaring machines without motors.

"It is an entirely feasible idea too," said Wright. "There is no reason why machines cannot be made to fly without motor power, the same as do some birds. Some of the larger birds, such as vultures, which travel great distances, are enabled to do so because they have the art of soaring for many miles without the use of any power."

THE HOSPITAL DANCE

Don't Forget the Event of the Season—It's on Friday Night

Don't forget the Hospital Ball which is to take place in the McIntyre Hall on Friday evening, October 29th. The Ladies' Committee have gone to more than usual trouble to make it a success. Tickets can be had from any member of the committee.

EXTENSION FOR CAMOZZI

Sixty Days Granted, but There Must be no More, Says Works Department.

An extension of his contract time by sixty days has been made by the council and public works department to S. Camozzi whose contract on First avenue is making but tardy progress. Camozzi explains that he has had to work against the rock formation owing to the way he has had to take out his dump, and this has caused two bad shots, and much delay. Sixty days extension, but not an hour more, is the decision of the council.

CIVIC PURSE NEARLY EMPTY

Finance Committee up Against It for Funds Yesterday Afternoon.

"Do you know," said Alderman Newton in solemn tones at last night's council meeting, "that this afternoon the finance committee found itself in serious straits for funds with which to go on with various proposed schemes? They were, in fact, held up for money to go on with."

"It has got to a stage when every dollar counts," remarked the Mayor a few moments later in connection with some minor estimates for supplies, and the railroading through of two money bylaws is the means taken to relieve the situation.

Alderman Kerr wanted to know if they couldn't tap the hydro-electric funds for that part of the electric light extension which is to be permanent, namely, the proposed arc-light system, but he was informed by the chairman of the finance committee that this was not permissible.

BORN A MILE APART

Unusual Experience Marked Coming of Mr. Jabour's Twin Children.

The two newest residents of Prince Rupert arrived yesterday in the persons of twin children, a girl and a boy, to Mr. and Mrs. James Jabour. They have the unusual distinction for twin children of having been born a mile away from each other.

The little girl was born at home early yesterday morning, but as the mother became alarmingly ill soon afterwards, Dr. Tremayne had his patient conveyed to the hospital for surgical attention. An hour after arrival there, the little boy was born.

In the afternoon, the little lassie was wrapped up in blankets and carried through the streets to rejoin her mother at the hospital. Though in a very critical state of illness yesterday, Mrs. Jabour is today reported to be out of danger, after passing a restful night.

VOTERS' LIST 'POINT

Ald. Douglas in Anxiety for the Intending Electors Gives Fred Peters One.

Because many citizens are now anxious to get on the voters' list before the list closes on 31st inst., Alderman Douglas is anxious that someone competent to enrol voters should be in attendance at the City Hall continuously during hours, and even for an hour or two at night. The Mayo explained that citizens may enrol at the office of any notary public or solicitor.

"But what if they can't afford to?" asked Alderman Douglas.

"Pooh, it need cost them nothing," said the City Solicitor.

"Everybody should know that."

"Everybody isn't as wise as you, Mr. Peters," put in Alderman Douglas cheerfully amid laughter.

PHONE EMPLOYEES PROTEST

Idea That They Should Board Themselves on Shawatlans—Woodworth Job Against Union Rules.

Through Mr. Love, superintendent of the electric light plant and phone department, the men of the local union of electrical workers employed on the phone department have communicated with the council informing that body that under the rules of their union it is up to the employer to furnish board and lodging for union employees sent out on temporary work such as the phone extension to Woodworth. Any work of under fourteen days' duration is temporary work. Referred to light committee on the motion of Alderman Hilditch who said he was not at all desirous of butting in on union regulations regarding the men's board, etc. Alderman Clayton seconded the motion which carried.

ANALYTICAL OUTFIT

City Will Have Water and Milk Supplies Regularly Tested

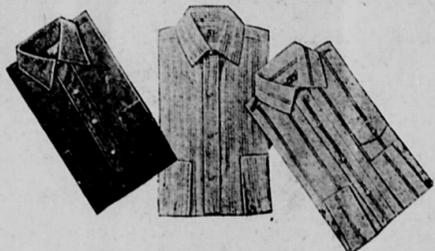

Dr. J. O. Reddie, medical health officer, has applied to the council advising the expenditure of about $20 for the furnishing of an analytical outfit for the testing of the city drinking water. Alderman Clayton suggested that the sum be voted if the apparatus be designed to test milk also. This was carried.

STEEL DOORS FOR CELLS

Architects Propose These for New City Hall Prison Quarters.

Steel doors have been suggested for the prison cells in the new City Hall by the associate architects, W. Nicolson Lailey and R. W. Potter. Alderman Clayton suggested that tenders be called for them. Alderman Kirkpatrick said: "Never mind the cell doors until we are sure of getting the roof on the City Hall." (Laughter).
