London, Oct. 4.—News of an Italian victory at Tripoli as reported in the Rome press has been telegraphed to London, but so far no official news has reached here. "Nearly all of the Europeans left last night on orders of the Italian consul, and this morning the streets were deserted except for squads of Turkish soldiers, who were enthusiastic over the situation. The Turkish transport Derna has discharged 2000 tons of stores and 13,000 Mauser rifles. These have been taken into the interior where fifty camels are being used in moving the supplies.

STRIKE ON SOUTHERN ROAD ENDS UP WITH BLOODSHED

Strikers and Strikebreakers Fight With Guns Near Jackson, and Troops Are Called Out---Many Men Were Killed and Others Injured in the Clash---Men in the Shops Join Their Comrades---Looks Like a Long and Bitter Fight

(Canadian Press Despatch)
Jackson, Miss., Oct. 4.—The strike at the Illinois Central yards has ended in a serious fight in which armed troops were called out to take part. The trouble started with an affray between the strikers at McComb and a band of strikebreakers. The fight fever spread, and weapons were used. Most of the strike breakers were armed with guns which they used, the strikers retaliating in kind. In the fight many persons were killed and others wounded.

Thousands Out
Vicksburg, Miss., Oct. 4.—Practically every man on the Southern roads is out today. Each day has seen more joining the strikers. At Vicksburg the strikers have been joined by six hundred men, including laborers, boilermakers and machinists. At San Antonio four hundred men on the Southern Pacific have quit work, and at New Orleans 350. The strikers at Houston, Texas, number 1200 to 1500; at East St. Louis, 500; at Denver 100 machinists, 175 carmen and 125 other craftsmen; at Ogden, about 500; at Kansas City, 100; at Oakland, about 400.

are taking the places of sixty-three men in the local freight house. When the non-union men left the freight houses, the strikers met them and escorted them to their boarding houses. Not a word was spoken on either side, the only demonstration being the right index finger levelled by every striking clerk. Special agents who make no objection to the "pointed" attentions of the strikers, are guarding the strike breakers.

Soldiers Ordered Out
Governor Hoel ordered out a detachment of armed troops to proceed to the scene at 7.30 last night to quell the fighting. The special train conveying the strike breakers was then enabled to proceed on its way to New Orleans.

This morning's "Rupert" brought in on a descriptive writing tour Mr. J. R. Mr. Cogger is here to see Prince Rupert, and to tell his impressions of the city in his magazine, and this morning made a tour of the city. There can be no doubt that he will boost the city, and for Prince Rupert to figure again in "Canada" as it advances will be as good a boost as any going.

A proposal which will be embodied in the plans for the new Methodist Church of Prince Rupert is that the old church building shall be removed to the new church site, and there re-erected in shape to form a spacious gymnasium for the young men of the church. The old Methodist Church is a very substantial structure, and will serve the proposed purpose admirably. Amongst the gymnasium plans are included arrangements for fine bathrooms with athletes cold and hot sprays, douches, and plunge baths. The gymnasium will be as good as any in Rupert.

London, Oct. 4.—(Special)—The executive committee of the 18 federated unions governing the shipbuilding trades, have approved the movement for an eight-hour day. It is said the matter will be discussed at the next meeting of the federated executives and that the outcome of this meeting will be the almost unanimous backing of the demand for an eight-hour day. A similar agitation is reported in the steel trade. The members of the British Steel Smelters' union have voted largely in favor of a move for the eight-hour day, and the officials of the union have asked for a conference with the employers to discuss the demand.

THE EXODUS FROM DAWSON

The boundary men have 150 horses, which will winter on the White River. There is good grazing there all winter. The last steamer from White Horse for Dawson will leave there October 6 and the last from Dawson on October 10. NEW POWER BOAT FASTEST EVER

Twenty-six Foot Racer Owned by R. C. Pryor at the Soo will Challenge Duluth Flyer Reputed Speediest Boat in the World.

(Special to the Daily News)
Sault Ste. Marie, Oct. 4.—R. C. Pryor's new racing motor boat, which has been tried out on Portage lake, is considered by many Houghton motor boat judges to be the fastest 26-foot motor craft in the world. All of the international motor boats, such as the Dixie IV, the champion, are larger than this. No records to which local people have access give any motor boat a record equal to that unofficially given Mr. Pryor's boat in a trial on Portage lake Thursday. The new boat was used in exhibition runs on the lake during the Copper Country fair and it is possible that a race will be arranged between it and Schell's great Duluth speed boat. Negotiations for such a race are now under way. The Pryor boat is a handsome craft, built for pleasure as well as speed. She has room for four to six passengers. The boat is built entirely of mahogany, finished with a piano polish. Her bottom is flat, as distinguished from a keel boat, but it also is terraced so that as her speed increases and the bow raises she is riding on a new plane surface at each rise.

MUSICIANS WIN STRIKE

Members of Chicago Union Obtain Better Conditions and Wages.

(Special to the Daily News)
Chicago, Oct. 4.—Because members of the Musicians Union of Chicago desired better conditions and higher wages, theatrical managers decided to get along without orchestras. Church chimes and other musical novelties were substituted, but their introduction did not improve the productions by any means. After a painful experience the managers decided that orchestras must be restored and yielded to the demands of the union. As a result it has been agreed that hereafter each leading theatre would employ a minimum of eleven musicians, besides the leader, and that each would receive $27 a week, instead of $21, and the leader $60 instead of $35.

WORKMAN WAS INJURED BY POWDER BLAST AT TUNNEL

Unknown Man Rushed to the Hospital This Morning From Mile 44—Feared he May Lose His Eyesight Owing to a Premature Shot

Injured about the face and chest by the premature explosion of a blast in the tunnel at Mile Forty-four this morning an unknown foreign laborer was hurried into hospital by special train this morning. He was employed by Contractor McDougall. Dr. Egert was in attendance, and met the train. The injured man was conveyed to the hospital in a rig fitted with spring mattresses.

Mr. McDougall himself made enquiry about him at the hospital during the morning. The accident occurred just after the gang had got to work, and it is understood that the injured man was loading a bore when the charge went off.

SCHOOLBOYS AT LIVERPOOL WENT OUT ON A STRIKE

Followed Their Fathers Example in Support of Demands For Shorter Hours, Less Homework, and Pay for Monitors—Ended With Lots of Strap

(Canadian Press Despatch)
Liverpool, England, Oct. 3.—The strike fever which has been rampant in Liverpool for the best part of the summer has broken out in another spot. This time it is the schoolboys who have engineered a strike.

to thousands. After having called out the scholars, pickets were placed round the school, to inform any would-be scholars that a strike was on.

The boy promoters of the "strike" did their work well. They assembled several hundreds of the more valiant spirits, and armed with banners inscribed "What our fathers did we can do," they visited the schools, calling on the scholars to come out and join the strike. Large numbers did so, and soon the parade was swelled

The demands of the strikers were: Payment for monitors; less homework, and reduction in the school hours. The strike did not last long. A vigorous application of the cane upon as many of the strike leaders as could be captured round the schools, reinforced by the domestic strap in the homes of several hundreds of the scholars has broken the back of Liverpool's school strike.

ABOLISH THE WARD SYSTEM

The division of the city into wards aroused a great deal of adverse comment at the time of the division. The criticism was quite justified. The only fault to be found with criticism was that it was directed at the heads of the wrong people. It was the council of 1910 who were criticised instead of the Provincial Government by their Municipal Clauses Act forced the council against the council's own wishes to divide the city into wards.

But now that the city is divided into wards, it can qualify for the operation of Clause 1 of Section 24, which provides that having fulfilled the law, a council can then seek to have the ward system abolished by a petition signed by the owners of more than one-half of the assessed property within the city limits, according to the last revised assessment roll.

It may be assumed that all of the present council are in favor of abolishing the wards. Alderman Newton is on record in the most violent terms of opposition to the ward system, and many of his colleagues condemned it during the last municipal campaign. Now that they have an opportunity to take steps to abolish the system, they will probably be glad to avail themselves.

It is questionable whether any city in the world is so great that it can be artificially divided up into sections with separate representatives, and not suffer in consequence. Certainly it is beyond argument that a city so small in population as Prince Rupert cannot divide its interests up arbitrarily by a line drawn down Fulton street.

Every citizen, whether he lives east or west of Fulton street is vitally interested in the personnel of the city council. Every alderman elected to serve on the council ought to be interested in the whole of the city, and not in half of it. Every alderman ought to be accountable at election time to the whole of the city. A city's interests—ever the largest of cities—are so consolidated that they cannot properly be made the subject of division.

Outside of all this, the ward system is a protection for many kinds of municipal evils. The cities that are making greatest strides in municipal progress are abolishing the ward system. With many of them, indeed, that was the first stride.

Prince Rupert is not to be blamed for possessing its wards today. The ward system was forced upon it by a government that still clings to archaic and antiquated forms. But now that we have filled the statutory requirements, there is no reason why we should not take advantage of the statutory mode of relief. In this progressive step the present council may either lead or follow. The News invites them to lead. The requisite petition should secure the assent of every property owner in town.

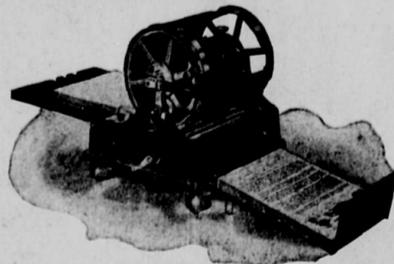

WAKE UP! THE ELECTION'S OVER

Although the election is over, and most of the Conservative press has got back to facts again, the Journal is still campaigning in its news columns. This is wasted effort. Last night it had a politico-news despatch purporting to come from Ottawa. It was headed "Last Fight for Spoils of Office," and told of how contracts for millions of dollars were being let.

Only two cases were quoted with definite figures. One was the contract for $600,000 for the Quebec terminals of the G. T. P.; the other was an order for 2,000 tons of rails, presumably for the National Transcontinental. Added together the whole does not come to any thing near one million, and both are perfectly proper items of expenditure.

The truth of the matter is, however, stated in one paragraph which tells the whole story. It says: "The government is attempting to let all the contracts for which tenders have been received and money voted." Why, to be sure. That is their business. It is their duty to finish up the work they had on hand. Had they done anything else, then the Journal would have had ground for complaint.

The election germ takes a lot of killing in some people.

A TENDERFOOT'S WOOING

By Clive Phillips Wolley

(AUTHOR OF GOLD, GOLD IN CARIBOO, ETC.)

Al's ejaculation was the result of a perfect blizzard of bullets which suddenly burst upon the cherry patch, cutting the feeble brush into ribbons and tatters and making the defenders crouch in their lairs like frightened rabbits.

"Fire a good many shots for fifteen Injuns," growled Al. "Liker (itty. It's the hull Chilcooten tribe, blank 'em," and then rising recklessly to his knees, he roared, "Turn it loose, boys. Don't let the beggars get away," and he emptied the magazine of his repeater with a rapidity which would have done credit to a machine gun.

Five minutes earlier the Boss had tired of watching the motionless sage brush over which the hawk had swung and from which the coyote had retreated so promptly, and now whilst the rifles rattled and the smell of powder tainted the air, there were a dozen wild figures dashing from it for the pine belt.

Only two of them fell, and one of these got to his feet again and was hauled into cover by his fellows. "Blacked bad shootin'!" Say, Boss, that shot of yours turned on the hull bloomin' orchestra. How many did you git?"

"I'm afraid I did not touch one of them."

"Guess you're better at sitters. Didn't you spot any 'em before I told you to shoot at that brush? Lord! I've been watching that fellow over there for nigh on to an hour. It's lucky as I didn't wait for him to come in range of my old shootin' iron."

"Why, what difference would it have made?"

"All the difference between living and dying. They'd have rushed us in another ten minutes, and shooting as we did, they would have got us. But I reckon they won't try that game any more for awhile."

Rolt sincerely hoped that they would not, or that if they did old Al's eyes would keep watch for them. In his own eyes he had lost all confidence.

For a long time silence fell again between the pines and the cherry trees. There was no sound, but for the crack of an occasional twig as one of the defenders moved uneasily in his narrow shelter; no movement except from that twisted figure by the sage brush.

It was a long time before that became quite still, and Rolt was thankful when that time came.

Before the attempted rush the sage brush had been equally still, and the memory of that fact so worried Rolt that he now began to imagine enemies in the most ridiculous grass patches. He was beginning to lose his sense of proportion and imagination magnified the most absurd trifles.

It was a relief when a single shot broke the strain of long waiting. The bullet dropped about a couple of hundred yards from the cherry patch and ricocheted through the highest branches of it. There was a slight pause and then a second shot from the same spot in the timber, the bullet dropping this time a hundred yards nearer Al's screen.

"He's so mutered Al, who had again cried to Rolt's side, "and the next will be nearer still. They are getting our range now. Had ought to have done that the first go off. I guess there'll be no room here for two now. Lie low, boys, it's goin' to storm again," and he crawled back to his own position just as it began again to hail bullets.

For a good quarter of an hour the Indians in the timber kept up a steady stream of independent firing, as if they would fill up that little hollow with lead or reap the thin cover in it with their concentrated fire, but though their bullets cut down the standing brush as if it had been slashed, riddled it, and left it in flying tatters, the men under ground remained untouched. Neither did they attempt to reply.

"Don't stir, boys, and don't shoot back," commanded Al. When they think they've killed every insect in this bloomin' brush patch, they'll maybe try some other racket. Then we'll get our work in."

CHAPTER XXII

The Indians were very thorough in their work of destruction, and thanks to the looting of Rolt's store-house they had plenty of ammunition to spare, but at last even they were satisfied.

The cherry patch looked like a field after a Manitoba hail storm, and there could have been little doubt in the Chilcooten's minds that anything that had sheltered in it was as dead as Julius Caesar. But being Indians the elected to run no risks. When the firing ceased a sound of chopping began, and Rolt who should have known better, imagined that the cold-blooded brutes were going to feed before picking up their birds, but he misjudged them. An Indian is sufficiently cold-blooded, but not on the hunting trail or the war path. Then he thinks a great deal less of his belly than does a white man under similar circumstances.

Before long a great tree crashed down, and before the sound of its fall had died away, they saw the top of another lean slowly over, hang for a moment, and then disappear in a spray of shattered boughs and pine needles.

Three fell in all, and still the chopping went on. Then for the first time Rolt noticed what looked like a great pine log just outside the line of the pine trees, lying parallel with that line, and as he noticed it two more came to join it.

There was no doubt that they came; he saw them emerge slowly, like some footless monsters, moving sideways down the hill.

"Ah, here they come! They're gettin' down to business at last. That's more like Cree fightin'! I wouldn't have thought that they knewed so much," muttered Al.

But at first Rolt, who had not Al's experience, did not understand, and the sight of those three great pine logs creeping down abreast, apparently by their own volition, was very horrible.

From time to time a rifle spat redly from the timber, but for the most part the slow progress of the logs down the sloping prairie was made in absolute silence. The sun creeping across the heavens seemed to move faster than they did.

"We've got to get them other two over this side," said Al. "We can't that's it. We've got to make for that."

"But we should have to go through the whole lot of us to get to it."

"That's so, but it's the only way as they won't expect us, and it's the short cut to supper. Are you scared to try it? Maybe the folk at the ranch want us as bad as I want my tucker."

"You choose your time and I'll follow."

"Twon't do to bunch up, that's the trouble. We'll have to split like a band of prairie chicken, and I'm scared as you'll lose your way."

Rolt knew that in the darkness this was only too probable, but there were other lives to be considered, more precious to him than his own.

"Do you think I am a kid or a tcheetchako, Al?" he said, angrily.

"All right; I guess you ain't, if it comes to that; but keep your hair on as long as they'll let you. Mine falls almighty loose, I can tell you," and then silence fell upon them as they waited, whilst the dark came quickly, as it does in northern lands. First the bar of brown cloud turned to fiery crimson, then the crimson died to orange, that faded, and for a space the pines came out hard and clear cut against a pale green sky, and then the light faded and an owl hooted.

"That's the signal. They're going back," whispered Al. "Are you ready?" and his voice had a shake in it. Even he was excited at last.

Before Rolt could reply the old man was on his feet.

"Come on," he cried, and then, as he took them afterwards at the ranch, "I'm blessed if I didn't think I was standing still!"

ITEMS OF SPORT

Big Jim Stewart, the New York heavyweight, is going to make another try at the game this winter.

There are almost as many newspaper men on the western trip with the Giants as there are ball players on the team.

Clarence Owens, the best umpire in the American Association, will work in the National league this season.

The American league has 30 men hitting for .300 or better, and the National league has 17 in the select list.

"Germany" Schaefer is spoken of as the next manager of the Washington team. Schaefer has played great ball at first base for the Nationals this season.

The Cubs and Giants, Prince Rupert's two new ball teams, will meet in an exhibition game before long.

Pennsylvania boxing fans hope to have a boxing commission, something after the pattern of that in New York.

Larry Lajoie of the Naps, who has been playing first base of late, has asked Manager Stovall to make his new position a permanent one. Larry has out up a great game at the initial corner and is hitting the ball as hard as he ever did.

The Brown brothers, known as Jim and Bob, owners of the Vancouver club in the Northwestern league, who have given the Terminal City a championship team this season, are likely to take over the management of Winnipeg ball club.

Frank Cassidy, the skip of the famous "Cassidy Rink of curlers, is to leave Vancouver for Winnipeg this winter to take part in the roaring game again. The wonderful performance of Cassidy and his rink two years ago is still fresh in the minds of the curlers all over Canada.

Jack McCarthy was called upon the other day to make a decision upon an unusual play. A pop fly was hoisted near first. Opt went after it, stubbed his toe on the bag and fell flat. The ball came down squarely on the bag and bounded on foul ground. McCarthy decided the ball foul.

The English Rugby Football season has started in earnest in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta, British Columbia, and California. The city here has four strong teams in the Barbarians, Harlequins, Welsh and Irish, while Brandon has a team equal in merit to the best of the Winnipeg teams. Regina and Saskatoon are also able to place good aggregations in the field. Calgary undoubtedly has one of the strongest teams in the country. English Rugbyists in B. C. are equal in strength to the old country teams, while the famous All Black combination from New Zealand found the California university men players of no mean merit. On the whole Western Canada at the present time is able to place a team in the field equal in strength to an international side in the old country.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 30.—Governors John Shafroth, of Colorado; James A. Hawley, of Idaho; and J. M. Carey, of Wyoming, held a conference with A. B. Hulitt, commissioner-general of the National Association of Immigration officials here today. As members of the advisory board of the association, the three state executives discussed plans for stopping the emigration to Canada of western farmers. The organization will spend $1,000,000 to advertise the advantages of various sections of the United States for home-making purposes.

THE COSY CORNER

DEVOTED PRINCIPALLY TO THE INTERESTS OF WOMEN.

This is a little section of the paper, which from day to day will be devoted to subjects of special interest to women. Any and all of the ladies of Prince Rupert are invited to contribute to its columns, and to take part in its discussions. Suggestions and criticisms are invited by the editor. The hope is expressed that "The Cosy Corner" will fill a social need.

TO MARRY CARUSO

Madame Trentini Tells How She Loves the Great Tenor

Mme. Emma Trentini is going to marry Caruso. She says so, and she should know. The most fetching and tantalizing little prima donna on the comic opera stage has announced her engagement to the most highly paid tenor in grand opera. Caruso is to follow Trentini here in November. "Naughty Marietta" and "Naughty Caruso"—it sounds like the setting for a crime. But Monsieur Caruso is not naughty. "No," exclaimed Mme. Trentini. "He is charming. He makes the call on me one, two, maybe three times a week.

GRAPE MARMALADE

This is made with the pulp of the grapes and the juice. When the fruit is not abundant it is well to make the marmalade at the same time with the jellies. After draining, rub the fruit pulp through a sieve, add an equal weight of sugar and boil very slowly half or three-quarters of an hour. Stir often to prevent burning.

WOODWORTH LAKE WATER SUPPLY

Mayor Makes General Statement Showing the Position of the Scheme to Date. Work is About Ready for Contract Letting.

According to a brief general statement of the Woodworth Lake Waterworks scheme, made by the Mayor Monday the work still remains in the hands of the engineering department. A survey part is busy at the lake side preparing for the letting of contracts for the slashing of the timber around the lake. Another part of the work, the pipe line within the limits of the city, is being surveyed by Mr. Newcombe of the city engineering staff, and will shortly be completed so that contracts for excavation may be let.

FOR THIN CHEEKS

To make thin cheeks plump rub a good skin food in with the following movements: To treat the right cheek, place the thumb of the left hand just beyond the corner of the mouth on the left cheek as a brace. Make rotary movements upward and outward, beginning at the corner of the mouth and making three diverging lines of manipulation over the cheek. With the right hand treat the left cheek. About six times over each cheek is sufficient.

BOILED SALADA DRESSING

Two eggs, one tablespoonful water, one tablespoonful sugar, one heaping tablespoonful butter, half teaspoonful mustard, half teaspoonful salt, and a dust of pepper; mix yolk of eggs, water and vinegar and cook gently; rub together butter, sugar, mustard, salt and pepper and add to other mixture; stir with smooth stick or wooden spoon; beat whites of eggs to a froth and put in last.

FALL FASHION NOTES

White felt hats have come flying over the sea, and their vogue for autumn is undisputed. They are generally simply trimmed with a bow of black velvet or taffeta ribbon.

Rickrack, the old-time serpentine braid that everybody was crazy about a generation ago, has returned, but now it is used for curtain and drapery decoration instead of dress garniture.

In most of the tailored coats of the hour the sleeves are like those of men's, put in without fullness at the top, cut straight and finished off with a small turnback cuff, or a few buttons.

CHAMPION MOTOR BOAT RAN INTO THE CROWD

The champion motor boat Dixie IV. ran amuck in the Niagara River during the motor boat races last week and finished up by running high and dry among the crowd that lines a rip rap wall. Dixie was going 38 miles an hour at the time when her steering gear got foul of a floating plank and she plunged for the shore, where a thousand people were crowded. She drove practically her whole length ashore, but was not badly damaged. A woman was killed, one boy lost a leg and another had two broken when the boat plunged into the crowd.

THE MACK REALTY AND INSURANCE COMPANY

GRAHAM ISLAND IS RICH IN SALMON AND HALIBUT

Daily News Correspondent is Impressed With the Great Possibilities of the Fishing Industry—Fishing Grounds Are the Best in the World

(Special Correspondence)
 Masset.—The fishing grounds next engaged our attention. At Langara Island swarms of sea gulls were following the herring, and we passed the spring salmon fishing grounds of the Masset Indians. It is not generally known that these Indians caught over three thousand spring salmon during the spring fishing, off Langara Island, and the season only lasted for forty days. The average catch, with a "line and spoon," numbered ten for each Indian, daily; they received seventy cents per fish, and some of them weighed over seventy pounds—one weighed ninety-two pounds.

In Hecate Straits, where the salmon fishing is carried on, and where we passed the herring banks, the halibut grounds which are world famous, exist. The Indians capture them by hundreds, bringing them to their village and drying them for winter use. Some of the fish weigh two hundred pounds. It is no uncommon sight to see an American trawler, in the waters of Hecate Straits, with boats out and gathering halibut in large numbers.

The fishing grounds in the neighborhood of Langara Island and Masset Inlet are the best in the known world. At the present time the duty on halibut, entering the United States, is one cent per pound, which is more than the Indians receive for the fish in the local market.

At the various small rivers along the Inlet several species of salmon have their spawning beds. The sockeye, coho, steelhead, humpback and dog salmon ascend Masset Inlet and are caught at the mouth of the streams. There is fine coho fishing, off the entrance, to the Inlet, where one can make a remarkable showing in a day; one boy caught twenty-eight cohoes, in five hours with a line and spoon.

The game birds on Graham Island, are limited to ducks and geese. During the month of October, the birds return from the north, and good shooting will be indulged in. The animal kingdom has few of the species on the island. A few deer were introduced recently.

Black bear, martin and land otter are the only animals roaming inland. The absence of wolves, panther and other wild animals is a blessing and the cattle are not troubled. A party of surveyors shot ten wild cattle last year and a number of the animals live near Cape Fife.

NEW METHODIST CHURCH BLDG.

Mr. Emil Kauffman Will Attend to the Work Which Will Cost About $18,000. Fine Building, Finely Fitted is Planned.

Contracts for the new Methodist Church will all be handled by Emil Kauffman, the contractor who built the big warehouses at the wharf. The total cost of the building will be $18,000 or over. In every way the church will be worthy of Prince Rupert. It is to be a good building both externally, and as regards its interior fittings. Built towards the back of the church lots, the edifices will leave space to the front which may be used later for an extension of the frontage to make a much larger building. G. L. Proctor is architect.

Amongst the interior fittings, the fine organ, one of the best obtainable down below is noticeable. Seating will be very comfortable and heating arrangements are to be by the newest system of all, known as the Srane System which heats each row of seats directly and speedily by steam. Messrs. Smith & Mallet will put in this plant.

Accommodation for Sunday school, and for young men's and young women's classes will be in the basement commodious and modern. There will be a hall for socials, and parlors such as the fine churches in the East feature so acceptably. Altogether the Methodists are going to have a good building to meet the needs of a growing community. The meeting to decide the award of contracts, etc., was held in Mr. Manson (the Mayor's) office, not the offices of Messrs. Williams & Manson. The slip in last night's News was one of Mac's famous breaks. Of course as everybody knows Mr. Manson, the Mayor, is a leading light of the Methodist Church in Prince Rupert, while Mr. Alex Manson is a pillar of the Presbyterian Church.

MONEY NEEDED FOR McNAMARAS

Less Than $100,000 Has Been Contributed and as Much Again is Needed.

According to Clarence Carrow, chief counsel for the McNamara defence, less than $100,000 has been contributed to the defence fund, and at least two or three hundred thousand is urgently needed. Some plan of contribution or assessment on labor unions, he said, must be devised at once.

Lecompte Davis, one of Darrow's associates, characterized as false the charge that the defence had offered money to any of the State's witnesses.

NAAS RIVER IS LOW

Captain Babington on the Cloyah Could not Reach the Canyon.

This morning Captain Babington returned in the launch Cloyah from a trip to the Naas River. He had hoped to make a point higher than any yet reached by a deep draught launch, but owing to the low state of the water was unable to get even as far as the canyon. Captain Babington reports lovely weather in that district. Sunshine, and bracing air up river, and complete absence of the flies said to revel there in the summer. He praises the land of the Naas Valley, as all do who have seen it.

POLICE RELEASE SUSPECT

Alex Johnston Alias "Bill Wheeler" Set at Liberty. Not a Burglar.

It was decided yesterday afternoon to release the man Alex Johnston whom the police had under detention on suspicion that he had been concerned in the New Westminster bank robbery. The suspect's own foolish talk had led to his arrest on the charge of drunk and disorderly for the first count of which he paid a five dollar fine. He was also charged with threatening to kill a girl in the city. This charge has been dropped but Magistrate Carss read accused a very severe lecture on the carelessness of his tongue which would lead him into mischief. Johnston was round town in the evening. He looks as they say in Scotland "well put on" in a new dove grey suit.

SEAMAN SENT TO HOSPITAL

Kingsway Landed Man at Port Simpson Yesterday. May be Injured.

One of the hards of the trawler Kingsway was larded at Port Simpson yesterday afternoon to be taken, to the hospital. Whether the man was sick or had been injured was not ascertained by the launch party bringing the item of news to Prince Rupert. The Kingsway has the reputation of being a trying boat to work upon especially in the stokehold though she is known to be a good sea boat, and is finely engined.
