MR. DUNCAN ROSS ARRIVED IN THE CITY TODAY

PEOPLE'S FIGHT AGAINST THE PROTECTED INTERESTS

Mr. Duncan Ross Explains Why Political Distinctions Are Dropped in Present Campaign—Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Policy to Build up City he Created

When Mr. Duncan Ross arrived at the campaign committee rooms this morning the crowd insisted on occupying chairs and calling for a speech from the candidate. At the call of the chairman, Mr. A. J. Morris, they gave another three rousing cheers and a tiger for Mr. Ross. Hats and hands were waved in the enthusiasm. Then the candidate spoke.

Consumer vs. Interests

"The skirl of the pipes and the enthusiasm of this impromptu demonstration arouses my Scottish blood," he said. "But I must not make a speech now. I must wait until tonight. I want to tell you that this campaign so far has proved to me that the present fight is not between the political parties, but is between the consumers and the protected interests.

Consumers are Solid

"In the mining districts and lumber camps I visited down south, all consumers, they are solid for reciprocity. If I can have the consumers with me in this fight I am satisfied. The other fellow is welcome to the support of the protected interests.

Message to Rupert

"This is a contest of peculiar importance to Prince Rupert. Prince Rupert is practically the creation of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. Sir Wilfrid has not been content to merely make Prince Rupert possible. He has initiated a policy which will make it a great city. Reciprocity is a policy which will not only reduce the cost of living to the people of Prince Rupert. It will develop the whole of this great northern district of Comox-Atlin, and make Prince Rupert prosperous.

Make Victory Positive

"It looks like a great victory so far, but elections are won by hard work and not by cheers. See to it that in Prince Rupert a big majority is piled up so as to make victory certain for the policy of Sir Wilfrid Laurier who is identified with you in the creation and development of Prince Rupert and this great northern country."

REAL HIGHLAND WELCOME GIVEN TO DUNCAN ROSS

Tartaned Piper Headed the Demonstration to the Reciprocity Candidate on the Wharf This Morning—Triumphal Procession Through the Town

By the rousing strains of the Highland bagpipes Mr. Duncan Ross strode arcoss the gangway of the Prince George this morning, a strong candidate with a strong straight cause. On the wharf to greet him thronged a group of his leading supporters crowding eagerly forward with the warmest of welcomes. Behind them again beyond the reserved space at the landing berth gathered others by scores, and the instant Mr. Ross set foot on the wharf up went a rousing burst of cheering.

"Ross Right for Rupert"

"Three cheers for Duncan Ross—Hip, Hip, Hurrah!" The shout resounded along the whole waterfront. Again and again rang out the welcome. The pipes skirled their loyal fighting strains. The tartan waved a welcome with the Union Jack. "Ross and Reciprocity for Rupert!" Some one sent up the great shout again, and catching the cry the crowd ripped out another swift crashing trio of cheers. In the midst of the welcoming thunder about him Mr. Ross was shaking hands with his supporters lining up to march to the Liberal headquarters.

"Cead Mille Failte"

Up Centre street they marched with the hero of the hour, and the piper led the way with the battle-cry of "Ross and Reciprocity for Rupert" boldly lettered on the banner in the midst.

At the Liberal Committee Rooms a second great welcome awaited the candidate. Here as the strains of the pipes ceased ore caught the familiar accents of the Gaelic giving to Duncan Ross the "Cead Mille Failte" which means "A Hundred Thousand Welcomes," from his Scottish friends in Prince Rupert. And Mr. Ross's reply showed that the kindly Highland talk has not failed his tongue after his years in Western Canada.

Reciprocity is consonant with the highest conceptions of Great Britain's fiscal aspirations and will help make Gerrade great as the Motherland is great.

NO PARTY HAS MONOPOLY OF BRITISH LOYALTY

Conservatives of Canada Ape Position Arrogated by House of Lords as Custodians of Integrity of British Empire—Stirring Address of Ex-Mayor Fred Stork

The Liberal committee rooms were packed last night, many being unable to obtain admittance. Alex Manson presided over a most enjoyable smoker and Howard Campbell who hails from Nova Scotia, made some telling points as to the benefits the fishing industry of that province and of Prince Rupert would receive by the adoption of the reciprocity pact.

But the most interesting talk of the evening was that by ex-Mayor Stork, so recently returned from Europe. In the course of his remarks he said:

"The position of the Tory party in England and in Canada are identical. The members of the House of Lords in England regard themselves as being the custodians of Brisitsh loyalty, and they strongly resented and opposed the trespass on their rights, as such, in the passage of the veto bill.

"This was eventually carried by the Liberal party and it is regarded as being one of the greatest victories for the common people that has ever been attained in Britain without the shedding of blood.

"The Peers opposed the measure on the ground that they were protecting the integrity of the British Empire in so doing. In Canada, strange to say, the very same argument is being used in opposition to reciprocity.

"Reciprocity, a Liberal measure introduced for the benefit of the common people of Canada, is being bitterly opposed by the manufacturing and moneyed classes, who claim that the development of trade with the United States is bound to weaken our ties with the Morther country and ultimately lead to the annexation of Canada to the United States. In this way the Tory party of Canada, as the House of Lords in England, is seeking to arrogate to itself the position of custodian of British loyalty.

"No class, no party, no clique rich or poor in Great Britain or Canada, or in any portion of the British Empire, has or can have any monopoly of sturdy British loyalty."

$20,000 OFFICE BLOCK FOR SECOND AVE.

Second avenue is to have another fine set of office buildings and residential rooms to cost from $15,000 to $20,000. The buildings are to be erected on lots near the offices of S. Harrison & Co., realty agents, who have just sold them to Mr. Charles Gore of the firm of Bevan, Gore & Elliott, stock brokers, Vancouver and Victoria.

Some other property on the neighborhood of Hays Creek has also been transferred to the same owner who will develop this as soon as evidences of substantial progress begin to become apparent on the dry dock works now under survey. Mr. Gore is arranging at present for plans for his new buildings which will add considerably to the appearance of Second avenue in the business section.

It is probable that on the Hays property Mr. Gore may erect an apartment house of considerable size to accommodate labor for the new dry dock. Progress on the dry dock development work according to the latest report of Mr. Pillsbury the engineer in charge of the work at present is good, and substantial advances may be expected in all directions before long.

RECIPROCITY CERTAIN TO STAMPEDE THE COUNTRY

One Great Railway Magnate Who Believes Increased Immigration to This Province Will be the Direct Result of the Endorsement of Reciprocity

"What a holler the Conservative party would have set up if the delegation sent from Washington to negotiate the present reciprocity pact had been turned down by the Liberals," said ex-Mayor Stork in his address at the Liberal smoker last night. "And especially after the Conservatives had for years been striving to obtain this very same reciprocity with the United States," he added as the cheers subsided. "They would have had an election cry that would have stampeded the whole country, just as the party of Laurier is now doing."

Sir Donald Mann's Opinion

Very good reciprocity stuff are the statements credited to Sir Donald Mann, which seem to have been carefully though out. This railway magnate observes that mixed farming is necessary to the complete prosperity of the West. Exclusive wheat-growing is not a healthy thing for the prairie provinces. Reciprocity will encourage mixed farming by furnishing a nearby market for certain farm products that at present cannot bear the cost of a long haul.

The possible diversion of wheat from East to South does not seem to make this half-owner of a transcontinental railway nervous. He cheerfully maintains that there will be such an increase of production because of the increased immigration which reciprocity will bring that it will more than make up for the loss of traffic. British Columbia, he says, may look forward to a heavy increase in immigration which will be a direct result of reciprocity.

The Liberals now count that day lost whose slow descending sun sees not some Conservative preaching reciprocity at a Liberal convention.

DAILY EDITION. SATURDAY, SEPT. 2

THE MAN FOR COMOX-ATLIN

This morning there arrived in the city on his tour of triumph the man for Comox-Atlin—Duncan Ross! He is no stranger to Prince Rupert. For two years past his has been a familiar figure in the city, and up the Skeena. Many men here remember him from the Greenwood days; others remember him as the member of Parliament for Yale-Cariboo; the largest number know him as one of the most popular contractors on the Pacific section of the Grand Trunk Pacific.

At a time when some of the early arrivals in the city fell a victim to cold feet, and announced their intention of going back to Vancouver to live, Duncan Ross stayed with the district, became a property owner, and qualified as a voter in Comox-Atlin. Duncan Ross is a true representative of Comox-Atlin, spending most of his time in the constituency and holding a vote here.

When reciprocity was first mooted, and at a time when a vacancy in Comox-Atlin was not dreamed of, Mr. Ross perceived its importance to the progress and development of Prince Rupert and the Comox-Atlin district and delivered a masterly address upon the subject. The address was valuable enough to be reprinted in pamphlet form for public distribution. When Mr. Borden forced an election upon the country on the issue of reciprocity, and Hon. William Templeman decided to return to contest the Victoria seat, Mr. Ross became the logical choice of the supporters of reciprocity in Comox-Atlin.

The election of Duncan Ross becomes the more imperative owing to the candidate selected to oppose him. Mr. Clements is an outsider living in Vancouver. It is true he visited Prince Rupert in the early days, but the remarks attributed to him when he shook the dust—or the muskeg—of the city from his feet to return to Vancouver to live, makes his return to seek its representation in Parliament a piece of magnificent audacity.

Even the Journal, the recognised Conservative organ, could not conceal the significant item of information from its readers that when Mr. Clements was last in Prince Rupert it was as representative of the Standard Oil Company.

The present reciprocity fight, is a clear contest between the protected interests—the trusts—and the consumers. Mr. Clements' acknowledged services under the Standard Oil Company classify him as a "trust "man; Mr. Ross on the contrary is a representative of the great consuming classes.

It is quite possible of course that Mr. Clements will fulfil his promise and retire from the contest now that Mr. Ross has proved to the hilt that Mr. Clements was wrong in denying that he (Mr. Clements) had advocated reciprocity with the United States. If Mr. Clements should decline to fulfil the terms of his challenge, that would be but one more reason for the people of Comox-Atlin turning him down, and turning him down hard. Comox-Atlin is the kind of constituency that insists on its representative being a man who keeps his word of honor.

The southern part of the constituency has heard both men, and signified its approval of Duncan Ross. Tonight in the McIntyre Hall a great public meeting will be held at which the voters of Comox-Atlin will be able to see and hear "the man for Comox-Atlin." Ross and reciprocity are popular subjects in Prince Rupert.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

CONSTANT READER—"Carpet-bagger" is a term used in politics. It is defined in Websters Dictionary as "any roving adventurer or person meddling in the politics of a place where he has no true interest."

Mr. Clements for instance.

In opening their headquarters in the rooms of an undertaking establishment, the local opponents of reciprocity show that they possess an uncommon amount of foresight.

The list of Conservative nominations in Manitoba is announced, but the name of Hon. Robert Rogers is not to be found therein. This means that Hon. Robert Rogers on second thoughts finds he is of Hon. Richard McBride's way of thinking as to how the elections will go.

In the current number of Colliers Weekly to hand—the issue of August 26th—there is a two page illustrated article by one J. Sedgwick Cowper entitled, "Linking the East and the West." The article deals with the opening of the Prince Rupert section of the National Trans-Continental and is calculated to stir up some tourist traffic to Northern B. C.

Colliers has a circulation of a million or more. To have had the article inserted at advertising rates would have cost the city the price of several lots. The author of the article is the same citizen whose vote has been handed over to an alien.

At the meeting of the National Board of Arbitration in October, Dr. R. F. Carson, president of the Central league, will suggest a plan for many changes and reforms in the conduct of minor league baseball. The Central League, like many other of the smaller baseball circuits, has fallen on evil days, and it is the belief of many that radical changes must be made in minor league orgarization if the national sport is to hold its own in the cities of 100,000 and less. One of Dr. Carson's suggestions is to make it mandatory for every class B club to deposit $1,000 with the National commission to attest the financial ability of the owners of the franchise. It is alleged that most minor league clubs are now operated on a "shoestring" by promoters who risk nothing and have nothing to risk.

DEVOTED PRINCIPALLY TO THE INTERESTS OF WOMEN

This is a little section of the paper, which from day to day will be devoted to subjects of special interest to women. Any and all of the ladies of Prince Rupert are invited to contribute to its columns, and to take part in its discussions. Suggestions and criticisms are invited by the editor. The hope is expressed that "The Cosy Corner" will fill a social need.

BLACK AND WHITE

An odd, but smart suit of white serge, braided as shown in cut with black silk soutache braid. Note the unique cut of skirt and also of bodice. the latter made in peplum style and laced on sides. The lacing idea is also carried out on sleeves, and the braided collar has tiny revers of white taffeta, opening over a chemisette and stock of Valenciennes lace. A heavy white cord and tassel serves as additional decoration in front of bodice.

WOMAN CONVICT

Important Situation Arises Over Judicial Decision

Here is a judgewho undoubtedly takes the women's right question too literally. The decision of Judge Smeltzer of Iola, Kan., condemning Mrs. Reese to work on the streets the same as any other criminal has brought upon his head a great amount of criticism. In fact the case has divided the community radically and formed one of the most interesting features of Kansas criminal history. Judge Smeltzer maintains that women should not be favored over men in any way, while the superintendent of roads construction employing the convict labor, refuses to allow a woman to work with the gang of men. The case is being fought bitterly.

Breakfast Patties

Take any left-over cold meat, beef, pork or mutton. Chop fine enough to fit a teacup. Add one small onion, a small piece of butter, pepper and salt and mix together. Now take your cold potatoes, put in a pastry dish, mash fine; add pinch salt, one egg beaten smooth. Take enough flour to make stiff enough to roll out, cut with buscuit cutter, put in a teaspoonful of the chopped meat in centre, fold over, press edges together and fry in boiling fat till golden brown. S3rve with tiny bits of crisp bacon.

"BIRKS"

LITTLE HINTS

A sun bath is of more value to health than much warming by the fire.

A piece of ham bone added to vegetable or stock soup will improve the flavor.

One teaspoonful of ammonia to a cupful of water will celan gold or silver jewelry.

FASHION FANCIES

Longer sleeves are inevitable.

Still the vogue of velvet increases.

The waist-line is everywhere higher.

All the early autumn hats are rather small.

More fancy feathers and less plumes are worn.

Large white satin revers are used on many silk suits.

Wide wale diagonals will be much used in tailored costumes.

Veoveteens and corduroys will make up handsome skirts.

Three-quarter coats prevail in Paris tailored costumes.

Rich and gorgeous blues have a masterful place in millinery.

Taffeta has a stronger place in fashion than for many years.

All fashion indications point to a still larger use of embroideries.

CHURCHES NOW IN RUPERT

Permanent Buildings Erected and Planned by Various Congregations. R. C.'s New Hall. New Churches for All Soon.

While all of the Prince Rupert churches are showing great progress this fall as compared with their position last year, the Roman Catholic congregation is advancing with the rest. Rev. Father Bunoz has instructed Messrs. Munro and Lailey to prepare plans and specifications for the erection of a large hall for socials and other gatherings The hall will be 26 ft. x 60 ft. and of permanent construction equipped and decorated in the best style. Behind the building will be a kitchen annex fitted to serve the hall during socials, etc.

The R. C. Church, which was the first permanent church building was designed by Messrs. Munro and Lailey. The next church to be built was the Anglican Chapel of St. Peter at Seal Cove, and now the Methodists are planning a permanent church building.

Meanwhile the growth of the Presbyterian and Baptist congregations necessitates their holding services in the Empress Theatre and MacIntyre Hall so there is every prospect of their having fine church buildings shortly. The Presbyterians have their site selected and are already erecting a temporary building.

MATT WELLS VS. KNOCKOUT BROWN

Signal Success of English Champion Lightweight. Knockout Brown is Knocked Out.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

New York, Sept. 1.—Matt Wells, the English lightweight champion, last night added to his laurels by outboxing and outfighting Knockout Brown, the lightweight, in a ten round bout before one of the largest crowds ever witnessed at a pugilistic bout in this city. The bout was the second one to be held under the new boxing law, and brought a crowd of probably 14,000 persons to the Madison Square Garden. The British champion was never for a second in danger at any period during the milling, and left the ring unmarked, while Knockout Brown was bleeding about the mouth and from a cut under the right eye at the finish.

Mr. Kearney recently arrived from Toronto. He is an expert electrician and graduated in the factories and office of the Canadian General Electric Company before being despatched to take up the important agency at Prince Rupert.

CITY LOTS CHANGE HANDS

Down Town Property Has Been Movong Freely This Week

An interesting sale was put through by McCaffery & Gibbons this week when they sold their own lot on Third avenue, occupied by the Prince Rupert Tent and Awning Company to a North Dakota man for $9,500. A lot in Block 34, Section 1, which they recently purchased for Mr. Elias Emad of Montreal they turned over to a Victoria man at a profit for Mr. Emad.

This firm also sold 640 acres of Lakelse land for $7700 to Vancouver parties.

IT GOT HIM

Reciprocity is Popular Subject to Prince Rupert Man

"I've been a Conservative for 21 years, and always voted straight, but this reciprocity has got me under the collar," was the straight testimony of a speaker at the reciprocity meeting last night. Several other Conservatives present, who are sinking party politics for the good of the district were among those who applauded most loudly.

The meeting was packed out to the doors and into the street.

Launch Owners, Look Here!

Plain Facts of a Vancouver to Prince Rupert Power Boat Cruise told in plain terms for Possible Purchasers. : :

TWO Launches came into Prince Rupert Harbor the other day. Both were beautiful pleasure craft. Both had come from the south on a long cruise. Both had fifty H. P. gasoline engines.

BUT one launch was towed by the other into harbor, and headed straight for the Rupert Marine Repair Wharf. To Mr. H. Robinson of the Rupert Marine Ironworks her owners told a sad story. Her engine —NOT A "STANDARD"—had given trouble the whole way from Vancouver. Had it not been for the continual help of the other launch the disabled one could never have made the trip.

THE ENGINE OF THE OTHER LAUNCH WAS A "STANDARD," IT DID PRACTICALLY DOUBLE WORK ALL THE WAY, AND NEEDED NOTHING FROM THE REPAIR MAN ON REACHING RUPERT. THIS LAUNCH TOWED THE LAME LAUNCH MOST OF THE WAY AND ALSO LIT HER ELECTRIC LAMPS BY MEANS OF A CONNECTING CABLE, WHICH IS JUST ONE MORE INSTANCE FROM ACTUAL EXPERIENCE TO PROVE THAT

The Best Engine for Northern B.C. waters is The "Frisco Standard"

Cut represents three-cylinder type "Frisco Standard" Gasoline Engine, sizes 25 h.p. to 125 h.p. : : :
