VOTES FOR THIS PORT

Money to be Expended by the Dominion Government in Preparing for Trade.

Other Votes Introduced into House to be Spent in Province of British Columbia

The main estimates for the fiscal year brought down in the House of Commons at Ottawa show the following for Prince Rupert: Public building, $5,000; quarantine station on Digby Island, $24,000; quarantine wharves at same point, $54,000.

The indications are that the quarantine station is to be a substantial one. When the officers in charge were here some time ago, an interview was published in the Journal in which it stated by Dr. Montizambert that a decision as to the exact character of the building had not been reached.

The votes for other British Columbia public works are as follows:—Chilliwack public building, $25,000; Cranbrook building, $25,000; Dominion public buildings renewals, $8,000; Duncan public buildings renewals, $10,000; Fernie drill hall, $11,000; Fernie public building $10,000; Grand Forks public building, $30,000; Greenwood public building, $30,000; Nanaimo public building extension $22,000; Nelson public building addition, $7,000; Revelstoke public building, $30,000 Vancouver public building, $80,000; Vancouver old postoffice building, locations, fittings, furniture, $35,000; Vancouver examining warehouse, $50,000; Vernon public buildings, $30,000; William Head quarantine station, improvements and repairs to buildings and fittings, furniture, etc. $10,000; total $415,000. Of this amount $321,994 is a revote for harbors and rivers.

Bamfield, west shore Vancouver island, $5,000; Columbia River improvements, $17,500; Columbia and Kootenay rivers wharves, $14,000; Fraser river (lower) improvements, $40,000; Fraser and Thompson rivers wharves, $10,000; harbors, rivers and bridges, general repairs and improvements, $10,000; Lockport, Queen Charlotte Island wharves $2,000; Masset, Queen Charlotte Island, wharf, $5,000; Masset, white settlement, wharves, $5,000; Porcher Island, mouth of Skeena river, wharves, $2,000; Sooke Harbor, improvements of entrance, $5,000; Stewart, head of Portland Canal wharves, $13,600.

To complete repairs to wharves, $1,000; to purchase New South Wales turpentine timber to be used for piles required in British Columbia generally, $15,000; Upper Fraser River and tributaries, improvements of navigable channel, $20,000; Lillooet River, removal of obstructions, $30,000; William Head quarantine station, improvements, $10,000; total, $232,600, of which sum $209,000 is revote.

NEW AWARD

Change Made in Contractor Who Will Construct Road on Eighth Ave.

Through an error of the streets committee in tabulating the prices to be paid for the work, the mistake was made of awarding the contract for the planking of Eighth avenue to the wrong contractor in the first instance. The error was rectified last evening by the adoption of a report from the streets committee recommending that the award be made to A. Johnson & Co. instead of J. A. Gillis.

Ald. Mobley wished to know if Mr. Gillis had been notified that he had been awarded the contract.

An answer in the negative having been given it was decided to adopt the committee's report and award the contract to Mr. Johnson.

FIGHTING JOE WINS

Martin is Again Returned to the British House of Commons.

After Strenuous Opposition He Succeeds in Holding East St. Pancras

(Special to The Journal)

London, Dec. 6.—Joseph Martin has won in the triangular contest in East St. Pancras, London. Mr. Jacobs the suffragette candidate, received only twenty-two votes.

Mr. Joseph Martin, so well known in British Columbia, where he was formerly prime minister for a short term, had a much hotter fight in East St. Pancras, London, in the present British elections than he had in January last. He had two opponents, Mr. Hopkins, Unionist, a wealthy business man, who had been quietly working in the constituency for some time past, and Mr. Isaac Jacobs, barrister, who is standing as a women's suffrage advocate.

The constituency was invaded by the militant suffragettes, whose motto is "Turn out this miscreant ministry." They made great use of Mr. Martin's own speech in the Commons, in which he said he had lost all confidence in Mr. Asquith. Mr. Hopkins, in a local election leaflet, called Mr. Martin "a dumped M.P.," as he comes from another country. "Like all dumped goods," said Mr. Hopkins, "Mr. Martin is not a very serviceable article. Since he was elected he had only voted in fifty-three divisions out of 155, about one-third of the work he was elected to do."

SALVAGE OF NORTHWESTERN

Work on the Patching of the Vessel on San Juan Island is Slow

(Special to The Journal)

Victoria, Dec. 6.—The salvage work on the steamer Northwestern, ashore on San Juan Island near here, is progressing well, but it will be several days before the vessel is refloated. Divers are patching the botton of the steamer and a temporary bow is being built.

Although there is about thirteen feet of water in the forward hold, it is not thought that the cargo is damaged, as the 300 tons of freight were stored aft. The twenty-six passengers who were aboard the steamship at the time of the accident, were taken abroad the Canadian Pacific steamer Tees, which answered the signals of distress.

The Northwestern was northbound from Seattle and heading for Nanaimo for cargo coal, when she was caught in a strong tide rip and carried on the rocks.

Mackenzie & Mann Charter Vessel to Carry Building Materials to Naden Harbor

(Special to The Journal)

Victoria, Dec. 6.—The steamer Henriette, of the G.T.P., has been chartered by the Canadian Pacific Fishery company, controlled by Mackenzie & Mann, to make several trips to Naden harbor, Virago Sound, with men and material for the construction of a whaling station there which is to be the largest of the company's chain of stations.

The station at Naden harbor was announced through the columns of the Journal some weeks ago. The situation is regarded as an ideal one for the purposes intended, as whales are plentiful in that vicinity.

DRAMATIC ELECTION

Sir George Doughty's Seat Was Scene of Wonderful Fight.

Unionist Well Known Here Has Been Returned for Grimsby Constituency

(Special to The Journal)

London, Dec. 6.—Sir George Doughty has been elected in Grimsby as Unionist supporter. He was defeated last election.

It must be admitted that in point of real spectacular work in elections the Old Land leads the way. The appeal to the electorate there means a battle royal and the present campaign is no exception to the rule.

An instance of the intense feeling that it is creating is afforded in the campaign in Grimsby, which resulted in the return of Sir George Doughty, who recently visited Prince Rupert to investigate the fishing resources here, and who will undoubtedly become financially interested in that industry here.

Sir George is a Unionist. While A. J. Balfour, the Unionist leader, was addressing the electors of Grimsby on the questions of the day, Winston Churchill, representing the government, was hurrying from Cheshire a distance of one hundred miles by special train and motor car to answer the opposition leader. As he sped on his way reports of the speech of Mr. Balfour were given him to allow him to prepare an answer.

A. J. Balfour said: "Now men of moderate opinion are realizing that the government are recklessly embarking upon revolution under pressure from a small section, who boast in language outrageous in its insolence, that Unionist and Radical alike must dance to the tune they choose."

Mr. Winston Churchill was at that moment making his dramatic midnight journey from a political meeting in Cheshire to Grimsby to answer Mr. Balfour's speech. Mr. Balfour said: "This unhappy gentleman

MRS EDDY PASSES AWAY

(Special to The Journal)

Boston, Dec. 6.—The death occured on Saturday evening of Mrs. Eddy, the founder of the Christian Science Church. Her death followed a cold contracted several days before which affected her lungs. In spite of this Mrs. Eddy followed her usual daily custom, and Friday after being out Thursday which made the cold worse, was compelled to remain in bed. Her strength gradually diminished and she died Saturday night. The funeral will be held on Thursday.

STABLES IN THE CITY

Subject Comes Up for Discussion Again at City Council Meeting.

Owner of Building is Placed in a Very Awkward Position in Matter

How to deal with stables in the city is now becoming a grievous question with the city council. The first serious trouble in this respect arose some weeks ago in connection with a stable being put up for the Pony Express. Ever since that date there is sure to be a letter from residents concerned asking for action in the matter on the ground that the stable is near dwellings.

Last evening W. J. Green wrote that the stable was occupied. It was proposed to refer it to the health committee to investigate, but Ald. Hilditch thought such a course would hardly afford much satisfaction.

The owner of the stable was present and asked to give an explanation. He said the owner of the lot had got permission to build and in consequence he (the speaker) had got the lumber and started work. He had been stopped by the sanitary officer but again told he could go ahead and had completed the stable only to be told he could not use it.

Ald. Hilditch said there was little to investigate. He did not know where the health officer got his authority for authorizing the work to be gone on with. The building inspector had already explained his position. The committee could do nothing except stand by the bylaw.

Ald. Mobley did not know that the building inspector could refuse a building permit. It might be that it would not be permissable to occupy the building after it was built but the inspector could hardly refuse it.

His worship said that it appeared that the mistake was on the part of the sanitary officer, that is, if any mistake had been made.

It was explained by some members of the council that if an officer of the council made a mistake the council would have to stand by it.

Sanitary Inspector McFarlane explained his position. It had been pointed out to him that he could not prevent the stable being erected. He had informed the owner of the stable acting on the instructions of Ald. Barrow that while he could not prevent the stable being erected, he could when it was erected take action.

It was finally decided to have the matter again investigated by the committee.

ARBITRATION ENDS

Haysport Owner Claimed to Have Strong Pull With Government.

Counsel for Opposing Sides Addressed the Commissioners—Award Has Been Made

The arbitration proceedings between the owners of the Haysport townsite on the Skeena River and the G.T.P. came to a close before the arbitrators, A. Carss, G. R. Naden and T. D. Pattullo last week. The addresses of counsel W. E. Fisher for the G.T.P., and L. W. Patmore, representing the Haysport syndicate, was given and the award has been made and stands awaiting the lifting out of court of it by the parties concerned.

Among the points put forward by Mr. Noble, one of the parties concerned, was that he wanted the site for the purpose of putting up a cannery there. When his attention was called to the fact that the Dominion government had refused to grant any further licenses for canneries on the Skeena, Mr. Noble intimated that he could get it all right. He had a great pull with the Dominon government.

Mr. Fisher argued that as far as the foreshore was concerned the statutes gave the power to the Dominion government to grant it for railway right-of-way. This had been done, and no claim could be put up by the Haysport syndicate for that. Mr. Noble had no rights registered. He

THE NAVAL POLICY

He Would Take Expert Advice And Then Appeal to Country to Bear its Share

Frankly and clearly Mr. R. L. Borden in the debate on the address, set forth in the House of Commons the policy of the Conservative party on the naval question. The speech of the leader was listened to with close attention and the enthusiasm which its delivery evoked was ample evidence that it expressed the attitude of his followers upon the momentous issue with which it dealt. There was no uncertain sound in Mr. Borden's declaration of his views. By no contortion of the text can his speech be construed as an utterance fashioned to mean one thing in one section of the country and then convey a different impression in another.

It set forth a policy for Canada as a whole as a component part of the British empire, thus "It may fairly be asked what we would do if we were in power today with regard to a great question of this kind. So far as I am concerned, it seems to me that our plain course and duty would be this—the government of this country is able to understand and know, if it takes the proper action for that purpose, whether the conditions which face the empire at this time in respect of naval defence are grave or not. If we were in power we would endeavor to find that out—to get a plain unvarnished answer to that question, and if that question based upon a report of the government of the Mother Country and of the naval experts of the admiralty were such—and I think it would be such—as to demand instant and effective action by this country, then I would appeal to parliament for immediate and effective aid. And if parliament did not give immediate and effective aid I would appeal to the people of this country.

A Permanent Policy

"Then, as to a permanent policy, I think the people have a right to be asked about that. I think the question of Canada's co-operation upon a permanent basis in imperial defence involves a very large and wide consideration. If Canada and the other dominions of the empire are to take their part as nations of this empire in the defence of the empire as a whole, shall it be that we contributing to that defence of the whole empire shall have absolutely as citizens of this country no voice whatever in the councils of the empire relating to the choice of peace and war throughout the empire? I do not think that would be a tolerable condition. I do not think the people of Canada would for one moment submit to such a condition. Should the members of this house representing 220 constituencies of this country from the Atlantic to the Pacific no one of them have the same voice with regard to these enormous imperial issues that humble tax-payers in the British Isles have at this moment? It does not seem to me that a condition of the kind would stand for the integrity of the empire, for the closer co-operation of the empire and I for one think that these issues will have to be taken into consideration and a permanent policy would have to be worked out. And when that permanent policy had been worked out and explained to the people of Canada, to every citizen in this country, then I would say it would be right for any government to go to the people of Canada to get them to pronounce their mandate and their disapproval or approval of that policy."

Amendment to Address

In substitution for Mr. Monk's amendment, Mr. Borden moved the following, which was defeated by the Government party:—

"We beg to assure your excellency of the unalterable attachment and devotion of the people of Canada to the British crown and of their desire and intention to fulfill all just responsibilities devolving upon this country as one of the nations of the empire. We desire, however, to express our regret that your excellency's gracious speech gives no indication whatever of any intention on the part of your excellency's advisers to consult the people of Canada."

THE NEW MEMBER

Alexander Lucas Has Been in Politics For a Long Time

Mr. Alexander Lucas, who was elected by acclamation for the provincial constituency of Yale, first entered politics in 1881, at the age of 29, and in 1894 distinguished himself by defeating Hon. A. L. Sifton, now premier of Alberta. The occasion was in a three-cornered contest in Calgary West for a seat in the old legislative assembly of the Northwest territories. He himself was defeated by one vote in the recount by Mr. Oswald Critchley, the other conservative in the field.

Mr. Lucas was born near the village of Warwick, Ontario, on September 2, 1852, and his first political fight was in opposing Hon. Peter Graham for the federal seat of East Lambton, when he was beaten by a small majority. In 1885 he came west to Calgary, where he was once president of the board of trade, thrice alderman and twice mayor. In 1897 he moved on to British Columbia. He was provincial organizer for the Conservative party, and later provincial land assessor. He resigned from the latter office about a year ago to assume the active management of his farm at Waleach, six miles east of Agassiz. F. G. T. and E. A. Lucas, comprising the legal firm of Lucas & Lucas in Vancouver, are sons of the new member.

UNICORN CARIBOU

Strange Herd of Animals Make Queen Charlotte Islands Habitat.

That the wilds of Graham Island in the vicinity of Virago Sound are, or have been from time immemorial the habitat of the nearest approach to the fabled unicorn that is known to naturalists, is the conclusion forced home by inspection of the only two specimens yet secured of the much-discussed Queen Charlotte caribou, one of which has now been well mounted by Curator Kermode of the British Columbia Museum, which institution the rate specimens are to adorn.

How the caribou reached the Queen Charlottes is one of nature's secrets, but it is presumed that they have been there since the island formed part of the mainland—now 30 miles away—and have steadily deteriorated through in-breeding, until today the few survivors can scarce be recognized as of the same species as the mainland caribou.

The three animals in all secured for the museum were killed by Indians three years ago, and very badly preserved. Expert attention has done wonders with them, however, and the first mounted specimen shows an animal of lightest fawn about the size of an average mule deer weighing perhaps in life 225 pounds. It has no plough, as have all the heads of the other members of the caribou family, and it is especially curious that two-thirds of the heads secured have but a single horn for each animal, growing on the right side of the head, while on the left side there is the merest lump at the natural growing point. Each of the museum specimens has been fully matured, even aged, as evidenced by the wellworn or lost teeth.

TO DEVELOP MINES

Collier Purchased in Vancouver to Carry Products From Queen Charlotte Islands.

The Coal Properties Will be Worked And Output Transferred to Mainland

The development of the Graham Island collieries by a company with headquarters in Vancouver seems now to have reached a stage where shipping may soon be expected to follow. The Zafiro, formerly a coal carrier for the United States navy, has been purchased by Messrs. Gibbs & Goldberg, of Vancouver, for the purpose.

The purchasers of the steamer which aided in the capture of Manila from the Spaniards, will utilize the Zafiro for carrying passengers and coal between the Queen Charlotte Islands and the mainland. The new owners are connected with a syndicate being incorporated with $1,000,000 capital to work the Graham Island collieries. Besides having a large passenger accommodation, the Zafiro is capable of handling some 2,000 tons of coal.

She is a British vessel and was for many years operated between Manila and Hongkong. The steamer was owned by the China & Manila Steamship Company at the outbreak of the Spanish-American war, and was lying at Hongkong in company with the steamer Nargsham, with a cargo of coal.

Being in dire need of coal, Admiral Dewey purchased the two vessels with their cargoes at a cost of $1,000,000. After the war the Zafiro was sent to the navy yard at Bremerton, and there rusted until fifteen months ago, when she was purchased by the Chicago Junk Company for $3,300, at public auction. It is reported that the steamship was sold to her present owners for a figure between $15,000 and $20,000.

Although used in the American navy, the Zafiro never changed her British register. The owners of the Zafiro state that the steamer will be placed in drydock for repairs.

FISHERIES REPORT

Value of the Industry to Canada Represents Nearly $30,000,000

The annual report of the fisheries department, as tabled in the Commons, shows that the total value of all kinds of fish and fish products taken by Canadian fishermen during the last fiscal year was $29,629,169. This sum constitutes a record, being $4,178,084 ahead of 1908, and $149,607, better than the total of 1905, which was the previous record.

The great increase in value is due to increased catches in the western provinces, British Columbia alone contributing nearly four millions of the increase.

The total number of men directly engaged in the work of the fisheries throughout Canada last year was 90,357.

In commenting on the action of the department taken two years ago to assist fishermen on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts in transporting fresh fish to the inland provinces by means of special fast freight services and government assistance in the way of meeting the express charges, the report says: "Before the question of improved facilities was taken up by the department the interior Canadian markets were practically altogether supplied from the United States. Of course there are some kinds of fish not caught off the Canadian coasts, and for which, there is a certain demand at hotels, etc., which continue, and no doubt will continue, to be brought into Canada; but that the trade in staple food fish, such as cod, haddock, halibut, salmon, etc., which were previously obtained from the United States, has been practically altogether replaced by Canadian fish, is quite obvious.

"In 1906 the imports of fresh fish from the United States into Ontario and Quebec was 1,968,572 pounds. In 1908 such importation had fallen off to 1,180,543 pounds, while during the year which ended on March 31, 1910, such shipments, excluding oysters in the shell and lobsters, of which there were 2,115 barrels of the former and 26 barrels of the latter, had fallen off to but 761,569 pounds.

"Not only had importations of fresh fish from the United States been practically supplanted, but the consumption of such wholesome and nutritious food, drawn from Canadian sources is rapidly increasing."

ILL-ADVISED COURSE

The action of the Chief of Police of this city in refusing a newspaper man admission to the police court is an action on his part that is open to the most severe condemnation. Apart altogether from the causes which might have actuated his action, this move on his part was most ill-advised. It was little short of presumption on the part of the chief to undertake to shut the doors of an open court to any member of the press purely on his own whim.

In the fight against crime newspapers have played an important part in conjunction with the police authorities. Usually the best of feeling exists between the representatives of the police forces and the newsgatherers. Confidences are always respected by the best of newspapermen and seldom are these confidences violated. Moreover newspapermen have responsibilities to the public and are not surely to ask police officers to think for them.

The chief is entitled to hold whatever opinion he may like with respect to individual newspapermen. When he presumes to close the doors of a court to any member of the press he is taking a course that it is well for him that police authorities of the city are leniently inclined. We have no quarrel with Chief McCarvel on personal grounds. We object very seriously to his conduct in the instance referred to, although it does not affect The Journal itself.

(laughter) by a combination of specials and motor cars is to arrive at midnight. What I am afraid will add to the inconvenience of his journey is that he is to be supplied at intervals with fragments of my speech (more laughter) in order that he may be happily prepared with an answer by the time the clock strikes polling day (laughter) which will see the return of my friend Sir George Doughty (loud cheers). I presume that about this moment (Mr. Balfour looked at his watch) he is about to reach Retford. (Laughter.) I now propose to ask him (loud laughter) a particular question. How does he think our parliamentary system, at this moment, is working or is likely to work under his plan with regard to home rule? (Cheers.)

"We thought a proper response to our statement was that our opponents would refer Home Rule to the people. (Cheers.) I made that challenge at Albert Hall. I repeated it, last night, at Reading. Today I have got my answer. It is clear, explicit, honorable, straightforward, but utterly unsatisfactory. (Loud cheers.) Are we, alone among all the nations of the world, we who are the authors and fathers of constitutional freedom and democratic liberty, to cut our throats in the fact of the whole world (cries of 'No!') and admit the bankruptcy of free institutions? You talk of bedlam and dodges. You talk of destroying parliamentary institutions. It appears to me the wild men who control, but I hope will not long control (cheers), the affairs of this country, are in a fair way to destroy all that is valuable and essential, both in our parliamentary system and constitution."

Mr. Balfour passionately declared that Home Rule never figured in the Radical election address. The Radicals never explained their speeches or knew what was meant by Home Rule. Yet if the government were returned they would claim that it was a mandate for Home Rule. "It is outrageous," he declared.

William Blakemore, of Victoria, is in the city He will assist the local opponents of the Scott Act in a vigorous campaign against the passage of that measure on December 14. Mr. Blakemore is a very fluent speaker and will likely be heard on the platform during the campaign.

FAVOR THE SCOTT ACT

Mass Meeting Held in the Empress Theatre

On Sunday evening in the Empress theatre, after the close of the services in the churches, a mass meeting was held in the interests of those who favor the passage of the Scott Act. D. McLeod presided, and in a short address admonished all to take an interest in the campaign on behalf of their fellow men.

The speakers were Dr. Kergin, H. F. McRae, W. E. Williams, W. H. Montgomery, and Dr. McLeod, the pastor of the Baptist church. Very different aspects of the case for the Scott Act were presented. The theatre was well filled.

Personals

Mr. Hagen, who is to take charge of the Indian school at Port Simpson, is in the south. He will return with Mrs. Hagen in a few days.

* * *

Mr. Andrew George has returned to the city after a few weeks' visit to his home in Victoria and to various other cities of the south.

* * *

Mr. Spencer, a well known contractor in Vancouver, paid a visit to Prince Rupert last week. He accompanied Major Morris of the Salvation Army on his trip here, and took occasion to look over the new city.

The Epworth League tomorrow evening will be under the direction of the Christian Endeavor department. Messrs. Rowe, Derry and Hamlin will give short addresses in discussion of the topic "The Curse of the Bar." Young men and the general public are invited.

The curfew bylaw was considered in committee last evening at some length. The council will again consider it in committee before passing it. Under its provisions as now amended in committee the hour when children under 14 years of age without a parent or guardian must vacate the streets is 8.30, from October to March inclusive, and at 10 o'clock for the remainder of the year.

Objecting to the publication of information which it was felt would handicap the police in its efforts to effect the arrest of a suspected hold-up man, Chief McCarvel a few days ago ordered a reporter of the Empire from his office where police court is held. Police Magistrate Carss has since ordered his court open and the chief has been forced to allow the man he objected to to enter.

contended that the land was taken hold of by speculators who had put a townsite on paper to sell it. The townsite was put on after the right-of-way went through, and it was on the basis of the railway building that the value was given to the lots. It was a fake townsite proposition, and Mr. Noble never intended it originally as a townsite property.

Dealing with the question of the townsite, he showed the plans with streets and lots laid out between the railway right-of-way and the water which ran out 687 feet into navigable water.

On the question of a cannery, Mr. Fisher argued that Mr. Noble had not done anything at the time he might have done it. The order forbidding any more licenses made it impossible to use the site, although Mr. Noble stated he had a great pull with the government and was sure of obtaining it.

As far as the cannery site was concerned the building of the railway did not take away from its value. The cannery could still be built there and would have the advantage of the railway.

Mr. Patmore for the Hayesport syndicate, argued that Hayesport foreshore was a part of the harbor of Port Essington and as such it came within the right of the Dominion government to control its foreshore. He contended that the right which was granted to the syndicate by the Dominon government was good in spite of the provincial government not consenting to it. As far as the cannery site has been concerned, the railway had spoiled the chance to erect it.

The result of the finding of the Commissioners will not be made public until one side or the other pays the costs and takes the award out of court.

CITADEL IS OPENED

Interesting Ceremony Held on Sunday in Connection With the Event

On Sunday afternoon the Salvation Army opened its new citadel here which marks the real beginning of its effective work in the city. The organization has very comfortable quarters now on Fraser street at the head of Sixth avenue. The front part, which is devoted to the general purposes of the army as a meeting place, is capable of seating about 300 persons comfortably. The ceilings are high, making it airy and cheerful, while abundance of light is afforded.

A very commodious platform has been placed at the extreme end of the hall, while the remainder is well provided with chairs, making a most comfortable place for worship.

In the rear of the building has been fitted up the living quarters for the officers in charge of the work.

The workmanship throughout is highly gratifying to the officers of the army who speak in the highest terms of the contractor, Mr. Morrison.

Yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock the opening ceremony took place, Major Morris, of Vancouver, who is in charge of the work of the Army in British Columbia and the Yukon, being present to take charge. William Manson, M.P.P., presided, while Mayor Stork and Ald. Mobley and the city clergy all had prominent places on the platform during the ceremony.

With the singing of "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name" outside the citadel, the proceedings were opened. Major Morris followed with prayer, after which Mrs. Ensign Johnstone and Lieut. Wright sang a duet.

The honor of hoisting the Salvation Army flag for the first time over the building fell to Mrs. Morris.

Mr. Manson was then presented with a silver key inscribed simply "William Manson, M.P.P., S.A., Dec. 4, 1910." The presentation was made by the little daughter of Major Morris. Mr. Manson followed with a short address in which he congratulated the Army upon the building that they had now provided. The opening of the citadel really marked the initiation of the Army's work here, although for some time it had been carrying on its operations under the able leadership of Ensign Johnstone. He traced the history of the Army from the year 1865 when William Booth organized the Christian mission which 13 years later developed into the Salvation Army. During its history it had followed the original aims of General Booth very closely and had a very important place in lifting those who were down to a better life.

The place was filled to the doors in a short time, and many found it impossible to gain admission. Mrs. Morris sang a solo very acceptably, and Mrs. Ensign Johnstone and Lieut Wright also contributed to the musical programme. The Presbyterian choir attended in a body and rendered a selection to the delight of all.

The address of Major Morris on the Evolution of the Salvation Army was listened to with a great deal of interest. He traced the organization's history from the earliest times up to the present, giving a clear idea of the work carried out by it under some of the different departments. With respect to the local situation, he explained that the citadel and the lots on which it stood represented an expenditure of over $13,000. Of this sum not quite $900 had been raised locally. The remainder of the cost stood as a charge against the local corps which would have to be paid for if that was possible. The accounts of the Army were kept in the most strict manner and all its business was done on the most business-like principles.

On the conclusion of the address a vote of thanks was moved the speaker by Mayor Stork, seconded by Ald. Mobley. Mayor Stork referred to his former meeting of the mayor in Fernie. He congratulated the Army on its building and the work it was doing.

Ald. Mobley also paid a compliment to the work done by the Army in the Yukon and elsewhere. He said whenever he threw bricks at the officers of the institution he took care that they were gold bricks.

After singing "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name," the meeting was closed by prayer offered by Rev. Mr. James of the Anglican church and the benediction by Rev. Mr. Kerr of the Presbyterian church.

Major Morris is to remain in the city until Thursday evening and will take charge of the services in the citadel.

FLOURISHING BROTHERHOOD

Baptist Young People Have Strong Organization

At a regular meeting of the Brotherhood of the First Baptist church held last evening the following officers were elected for the first six months of the new year: Hon. president, Rev. W. H. McLeod; president, Harrison W. Rogers; vice president, Clarence Swindell; recording secretary, Wm. N. Reilly; corresponding secretary, Clyde H. A. Rogers; treasurer, R. M. McIntosh. The appointment of various committees such as membership, social, literary and devotional was left over for the new executive.

In addition to the election of officers, a great deal of other business was brought up, chief of which was the discussion of the debate which is to be held between the Presbyterian and Baptist Young Men's organizations. At a recent meeting of committees from the two clubs it was decided that this should be held Dec. 8, bate should be held on December 8, and arrangements were made for that date. Since that meeting it has been decided to postpone the debate until after Christmas, owing to certain meetings which are to be held in the near future in the cause of the Scott Act. The subject "Resolved, That a Bachelor Tax be Imposed," however, will be threshed out by several members of the Baptist Brotherhood at the next meeting on Monday night.

The matter of joining the world-wide Baraca Union was brought up and it was decided that the secretary should forward the necessary amount and have the name of the Brotherhood enrolled on the list as belonging to the Baraca.

Reports were also given by the conveners of the various committees. It was found that everything had been running perfectly and many new members had been added since organization. The Sunday Baraca Bible class has largely increased, and quite a number of men are now receiving good instruction under the teaching of Rev. W. H. McLeod at this class on Sunday afternono.

A cordial invitation is extended to all men of the city to attend both of these meetings, on Sunday afternoon at 2.30, and on Monday evening at 8.00.

NEW YEAR'S LIGHT

City Will be Illuminated for the Rejoicings of That Occasion.

Ald. Hilditch Presses to Have the Streets Lit up for Christmas Shopping

The streets of the city will not be lighted up by the new civic electric plant until a few days before New Years, according to the information given by the commitete in charge last evening. The matter came up on a question from Ald. Hilditch who wanted information as to when the electric light would be in use on the streets. He wanted to know if there was any delay.

Ald. Smith said they expected to have the juice in about the New Year possibly three or four days before that date.

Ald. Hilditch wanted to know what was causing the delay.

Ald. Smith said the machinery was all here and was being put in as quickly as possible. There had been no unnecessary delay.

Ald. Mobley corroberated what Ald. Smith said. The work had gone on with expedition.

Ald. Hilditch felt that if everything was on the ground he could not see why the light should not be on before the end of the month. He wanted to see the light on beofre Christmas.

Ald. Smith said no one was more anxious to see this done than he was. He felt that it could not be on before the time mentioned.

Ald. Mobley suggested that Ald. Hilditch should work in conjunction with the electric light committee to hurry matters up.

Ald. Hilditch said he was not at this late hour going to shoulder any of the responsibility of the electric light committee. That body had enough troubles. He had heard that all was not going as smoothly as it should. He wanted to know if the committee knew anything of this.

The committee stated that so far as they knew the delay was purely that which was common to all such installations.

To the Electors

Ladies and Gentlemen:

In response to a largely signed requisition received yesterday asking me to allow my name to be placed in nomination for the office of Mayor of the City of Prince Rupert for the year 1911, I hereby accede to the request and beg to announce myself a candidate.

I will take occasion later on to present my views upon Municipal issues to the electors and in the meantime I would respectfully solicit your support upon airs of the City.

HOW TO HELP THE CITY

Licensed Bars Retard a City's Progress—"Dry Towns" Are the Most Prosperous — British Columbia Brainstorm — A Striking Object Lesson—A Crime Again Humanity

Referring again to an article which appeared in last Tuesday's issue of a local paper under the caption "Just Two Weeks More," we wish to add with much emphasis that the "Canada Temperance Act" (the Scott Act) will be passed by the thinking, intelligent voters of Prince Rupert "by all means" in order that "Prince Rupert shall remain the size it is now," and also in order that the city of Prine Rupert may offer to a waiting world a good, clean, wholesome business city, and may increase in population 100,000 in the next ten years just as Minneapolis has done in the past ten years, because she offers them a "good place in which to live," and in this way Prince Rupert will assure her business men great and wonderful "growth in business, building and manufacturing enterprises just as Minneapolis and Los Angeles have done.

The business man will say on December 14th in "Just Two Weeks More," that the Licensed Bar must go from Prince Rupert, must go utterly, must go never to return. Why not? The bar or saloon is the liquor traffic's method of distribution. For this reason the life of the traffic depends on the bar. The bar has always been without merit and always will be. It is not necesasry as is the bakery or meat market, but is a constant source of misery, disorder and crime. A bar cheapens property in its neighborhood and is a menace to morals and good government. It harbors criminals, promotes vice and takes money from men without giving them any thing of value in return. It robs families of happiness, health and comfort and the society which it offers is the kind which drags down but does not uplife. Imagine a father urging his son to spend his leisure time in a bar because of the benefits it offers in a social way. The most eminent medical men declare alcohol to be the most dangerous of al drugs, as it affects those parts of the human organism which when diseased most completely incapacitate the user for the daily duties of life. To illustrate this last point by a concrete example: In trying to induce the president of a large manufacturing establishment to withdra whis name from the petition to the state legislature asking for a temperance measure, he replied: "I am liable in damages for the acts of my employees. If one goes out at noon and eats a free luch at the corner saloon spending the money intended for lunch for beer and whiskey, the chances are that he will not be as alert or keen as he would have been without it. The possibility of accident grows in proportion to the amount of liquor in his system. If an accident occurs we must pay; consequently I am going to protect myself, as a matter of good business policy, by trying to close saloons around our factory." (Would this "intelligent white man, a man of broad-minded views," consider for a minute the location of a manufacturing establishment in Prince Rupert under conditions as they exist today?) No logical argument could be produced to refute this statement. The fact that under present employer's liability laws and workmen's compensation acts employers are held liable in damages for the acts of their employees—without regard to the employees' carelessness or disobedience of express orders—made it necessary to reduce all possible risk of accident. Will the licensed bar encourage large manufacturers to locate manufacturing establishments in Prince Rupert? The abolition of the bar or saloon is the most stupendous economic issue of the hour and the age. The bar cannot be defended as a moral institution, and it is likewise without defense in the plan of economics. The argument of brewers and liquor men that to vote out bars means confiscation of property and the turning away from work of thousands of laborers does not appeal with much force to thinging men. There is not a city or town in the country which has abolished the saloon in which the demand for labor has been reduced. If the great breweries, distilleries and liquor manufacturers would close their doors tomorrow there would not be a decrease in the demand for labor. There would be readjustments in some instances but that would be all.

No Effect Here

This cry was raised in Springfield, Ohio's largest "dry" city, during the campaign which ended with the closing of saloons. But "dry" Springfield is furnishing a greater army of men with work today than ever before in its history and even now the demand is not satisfied, while houses are not being built fast enough to care for the families of working men who are flocking to that city.

The brewers and newspapers they control preach one thing but the great business world practices another. apital and labor agree on the proposition that the liquor traffic is an enemy of both and they are moving forward with relentless and irresistible force for its overthrow. The liquor trust may shed hypocritical tears over the closed breweries, distilleries, saloons and bars, but the public well knows that in the very economy of things there is no place for the bar and it is a waste of men and money.

British Columbia Brainstorm

The campaign in this province for the "Canada Temperance Act" has caused the big brewers of Vancouver and Seattle and the people they control to act like crazy men. Think of them appealing to the business men for help. The writer in Tuesday's paper says: "The only thing that will give the Scott Act any chance of passing in this city is indifference on the part of the business men." * * "The people who will eventually have to foot the bills will be the business men of the town." * * "It is the fight of the business men as a whole and it is up to them to get in and help things along." This extract gives one some idea of the brainstorm which afflicts this writer. If such were true then we naturally would expect the business world to want its employees to patronize saloons. But the contrary is true. In both Canadian and American cities where the people are asked by the liquor men to "save the city" business firms and manufacturers are making it hard for drinking men to hold their jobs.

Striking Object Lesson

One of the most striking object lessons on the business side of sobriety comes from St. Louis, Missouri. The street railway company of that city employes 4,000 conductors and motormen. Each of these employees has received a letter from the company which reads as follows:

"If employees of this company choose to frequent saloons, either on or off duty, or attend the races or other gambling places, rooms or resorts, they are exercising a right which cannot be denied them, but they cannot remain in the employ of the company. Robert McCullough, general manager."

What a farce for the brewers and their Prince Rupert dupes and tools to cry to the business world, the business men of Prince Rupert to save their business from elimination, and that same business world threatening the discharge of its employees if they patronize the bars and the brewers. Many corporations insist upon total abstinence on the part of their workmen and in many instances this applies to artenders, who are refused work in saloons if they drink. In practically every shop and facory preference in promotion is given to total abstainers and everywhere on the part of railroads, manufacturies and corporations of all kinds a man who drinks has not an even chance for work with the man who does not drink.

It is a False Cry

If the world of industry has thus put the seal of its disapproval on the liquor traffic, how false the cry that the liquor business should be maintained because of the money invested and the number of men employed. The laboring men is no longer hood-winked y the requests of the brewers to help save the brewery business. Leaders of organized labor are making it clear to workingmen everywhere that it is to their interest to join the forces which are moving for the extinction of the licensed bar. These labor leaders truthfully declare that the bar is the workingmen's worst enemy and that it is opposed to those reforms which organized labor is pledged to carry out.

Equally as false is the statement that "the drinking of loquor is not considered a crime by the world at large."

Crime Against Humanity

From every standpoint the liquor business is met with arguments which cannot be refuted and which brand it, not as a business institution but as a monstrous crime against humanity.

The liquor business and the licensed bar are wholly and absolutely indefensible.

Serious Questions for Prince Rupert Voters

Do we want saloons in Prince Rupert? If so, why?

Who of us want them, and for what?

Is time spent in them which could be better spent elsewhere?

Is money spent in them which would do more good spent otherwise?

Is there likely to be gambling in them?

Is any money worse than wasted in them?

Do fathers set bad examples there for their boys?

Do our boys get good habits there that will make them good men, or habits that may make them good-for-nothing men?

Are our wives, mothers and sisters made happier by having loafing and drinking places to tempt their husbands, sons and brothers to waste their time and spend their money in drinking and loafing instead of being at home with their families?

Is the saloon a good place to educate the young men who are to be the husbands of our daughters?

If no money were spent in saloons, would there not be more good trade and less bad debts in business, and more comfort in homes?

Would anybody be hurt or injured by having these places shut up? If so, who? And how would they be hurt?

Would some men be better off today if they had never been in a saloon?

Would some women and children in Prince Rupert be better fed and better clothed if their husbands and fathers had never been in a saloon?

Would some homes in Prince Rupert be happier?

Would anybody who is dead be alive today?

Would saloon-keepers themselves and their families be better, happier, and more useful to some other business?

Do you like the dictation of the saloon in politics?

Let us think of these questions and vote as we think RIGHT, not as those who only want our money wish us to vote.

"Old friend of mine. Gives me a bite every time I come round."

Mrs. Henpeck—Do you remember when and where we first met?

Henpeck—Yes, it was on a Friday, the thirteenth day of the month; it was at a dinner party, and there were thirteen at the table.

Mother—Ain't you going to wash up them tea-things, Marianne, before you go out?

NEWS OF THE PROVINCE

Items of General Interest From Centres in British Columbia.

KILTED REGIMENT

Vancouver.—The tartan plaid and the busbies wil shortly become fashionable in Vancouver, for authorization has bene received for the introduction of the Highland apparel into local military circles. A communication has been received from Ottawa stating that the authorities approve of the establishment of a Highland regiment in the terminal city. This new corps is to bear the name of the Seventy-Second Seaforths.

Major A. G. Edward Leckie, who has seen service on the South African veldt and whose name is honored throughout the military world, will command the regiment which it is proposed shall be made up of eight companies, thereby emulating the example of the Fifth Royal Highlanders of Montreal. It is expected that the corps will consist of 350 men exclusive of bandsmen and pipers.

A great deal of interest is being evinced in the promotion of Vancouver's kilted regiment. Lord Strathcona is taking a deep interest in the movement, and he has stated his wish that the regiment be formed as quickly as possible, and that it be represented at the coronation by a smal detachment. Recruiting will be commenced within the next few weeks.

LIBERAL OFFICERS

Vancouver.—The annual meeting of the Vancouver Liberal Association when last year's officers were all re-elected, paid a tribute to the late Mr. Osborne Plunkett. Mr. J. W. West placed a proposal before the club to provide permanent party headquarters costing $1,250,000. The proposal was endorsed and referred to a committee for consideration. Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: Hon. president, Sir Wilfrid Laurier; hon. vice presidents, Mr. John Oliver and Mr. Ralph Smith, M.P.; president, Mr. J. H. Senkler; vice presidents, Messrs. Jas. Stables, G. E. McCrossan, Geo. E. McDonald and J. Hickey; secretary, Mr. S. L. Prentor; treasurer, Mr. R. Kelly.

GOING TO CORONATION

Vancouver—Young Vancouver will in all probability be in the limelight at the coronation of King George after all. After listening to a brief address from Captain R. N. Davy, the commander of the high school cadets and the Rev. A. H. Sovereign, the school board decided to allow the sixty trim stalwart young men who wear the uniform of the high school corps to proceed to England and demonstrate to the representatives of the assembled nations the stuff of which young Canadian manhood is made.

LIBEL ACTION

Vancouver.—J. P. McConnell, of the Saturday Sunset, was committed for trial in the Vancouver police court on a charge of criminal libel brought by Mr. N. Clark, president of the South Fort George Townsite company. Mr. S. S. Taylor, K.C., appeared on Mr. McConnell's behalf. He pointed out that the magistrate already decided that he did not pass judgments on the facts in such a case, and he asked, with the consent of the prosecution, that the case might go up to the higher court without further preliminaries. When it came to trial they would be prepared to prove every statement they had made.

Mr. C. W. Craig, for the prosecution, agreed to this course, and only formal evidence was taken.

Mr. Clement Carmichael, secretary of the South Fort George Townsite company, said that was the company referred to in the Sunset on November 5 and in subsequent issues, and that Mr. Clark was president of the company.

Mr. McConnell was formally committed for trial and will have to appear before Judge McInnes on the question of bail and date of trial.

Mother.—Mercy, child, how do you get your hands so dirty? You never saw mine as dirty as that!

Child.—No; but I guess grandma did!

STUDY TUBERCULOSIS

W. J. Gage has offered to provide five scholarships of $100 each, to be awarded to the students who make a special study of tuberculosis at the Muskota College Sanitarium, Gravenhurst, Ont.

The object of these scholarships is for the purpose of extending the interest taken in the study of tuberculosis and of encouraging research work in this subject.

These scholarships have been offered to the students of the University of Toronto, and whilst it is not possible to take advantage of this scheme during the present session, it is hoped that next year arrangements will be made so that students may avail themselves of the provisions made and that they will take an active interest in competing for the prizes offered. The intention is that students should go to Gravenhurst and reside there for a specified time, in order that they may avail themselves of the clinical study of tuberculosis, but owing to the large number of final students in attendance at the university this year, and because of difficulties in the time table, it was found impossible to make provision for the arrangement until next session.

BUILD FISH PLANT

Work Will Be Carried on all Winter on the Building at Seal Cove.

George H. Collins Has Returned From a Trip in Interests of Canadian Company

George H. Collins, of the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage company, returned to the city by the Prince Rupert. He will remain some little time here in connection with the construction work on the company's cold storage plant at Seal Cove.

Mr. Collins has been east on business connected with his concern.

The work of construction is now in progress under George L. Clayton, who will prosecute the work all winter provided there is not frost to interfere with it. The raw material in the shape of cement, sand and gravel is on the ground in abundance and there is nothing to prevent the work going ahead all winter so that a good start will be made on the walls before the spring opens.

Indians Have Had a Very Good Hunting Season on the Queen Charlottes

(Special Correspondence)

Skidegate, Nov. 29.—The Queen Charlotte City hospital has lately had a run of bad cases, and much credit is due Dr. Cross and his staff for the good results obtained.

Mr. Kitson & Son are pushing the building for the cold storage plant, while Mr. Barge is rushing the new public school building.

The Indians have taken a large number of bear, and have a fine showing of excellent pelts.

The Skidegate Indians have, during the last few days, taken three scow loads of lumber from the local mill for a new church.

Several more launches are about to be built by native boat builders for the people of the village.

The steamer Bruno keeps close to schedule time, even in bad weather, and her regular arrivals have come to be looked upon as one of the features of the place.

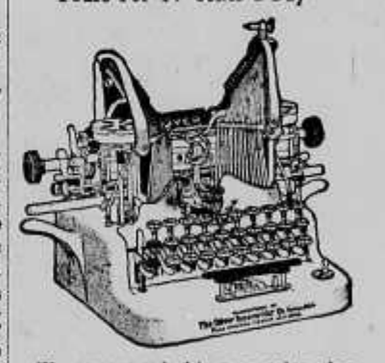
Yours For 17 Cents a Day



We announced this new sales plan recently, just to feel the pulse of the people. Simply a small cash payment—then 17 cents a day. That is the plan in a nutshell.

The result has been such a deluge of applications for machines that we are simply astounded.

The demand comes from people of all classes, all ages, all occupations.

The majority of inquiries has come from people of known financial standing who were attracted by the novelty of the proposition. An impressive demonstration of the immense popularity of the Oliver Typewriter.

A startling confirmation of our belief that the Era of Universal Typewriting is at hand.

A Quarter of a Million People are Making Money With

The OLIVER Typewriter

The Standard Visible Writer

The Oliver Typewriter is a money-maker, right from the word "go!" So easy to run that beginners soon get in the "expert" class. Earn as you learn. Let the machine pay the 17 cents a day—and all above that is yours.

Wherever you are, there's work to be done and money to be made by using the Oliver. The business world is calling for Oliver operators. There are not enough to supply the demand. Their salaries are considerably above those of many classes of workers.

"An Oliver Typewriter in Every Home!"

What is our battle cry today. We have made the Oliver supreme in usefulness and absolutely indispensable in business. Now comes the conquest of the home.

The simplicity and strength of the Oliver fit it for family use. It is becoming an important factor in the home training of young people. An educator as well as a money maker.

Our new selling plan puts the Oliver on the threshold of every home in America. Will you close the door of your home or office on this remarkable Oliver opportunity?

Why the Scott Act Should be Defeated

Anything appearing in this column under the above head is published by the Press Committee of the opponents of the Scott Act and is not intended as representing the views of this paper.

Situation in Chilliwack

Advices from Chilliwack are to the effect that the Scott Act vote at that point on the 14th instant will result adversely to those extremists who are advocating the substitution of this impractical and discredited theoretical system for the very drastic and thoroughly workable high license and strict regulation law that is operating most beneficially throughout British Columbia today. The Prohibitionists of Chilliwack are evidently well financed, for it is announced on good authority that they recently offered "any figure he might like to name" to the editor of one of the local newspapers for all the space which he would give to their cause containing favorable argument. In Chilliwack the people appear to be well advised of the fact that a favorable vote on the Scott Act proposal is in reality an unwarranted and surreptitiously engineered vote of condemnation upon the McBride government and policy.

You cannot make men good by legislation, nor can you make them "temperate." Paradoxically, the most intemperate men of the day are the extremist temperance advocates.

In Kansas

"The prohibitory law of Kansas is the worst law ever passed in any state of the American Union," declares County Attorney Taggert, of Kansas City, Kan., in an interview published in the St. Louis Times, of the 17th ultimo. "It has made thieves and perjurers of men who were honest, and it has resulted in corrupted officials. It cannot be enforced anywhere, and under the present system it drives the man who would be contented with a single drink at the bar to drink half a pint of whiskey instead. It is costing Wyandotte County at least $30,000 a year to maintain a semblance of enforcing the law. There were 250 convictions last year, but the revenue from them went, for the most part, to the Attorney General's office, not to the county. This town is also in a worse condition in the matter of rentals and taxation than it was before. The tax rate is increased 2½ per cent on the $1,000, and the business streets are full of 'for rent' signs. The business that was formerly transacted in saloons here now goes to Kansas City, Mo. There isn't any less drinking nor any less drunkenness."

Alcholic Consumption

The general superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League (the chief prohibition organization of the United States) asserts in his recent annual report that 41,000,000 of the people of the United States are now living in prohibition territory. With the exception of Maine and Kansas, which have a population of less than two and a half millions, practically all alleged "prohibition territory" has been gained during the past ten years. In this period, the consumption of alcoholic beverages has increased about twenty-fice per cent faster than the total population. In the light of these facts, it is pertinent to ask, who, what and where does prohibition prohibit? It is significant to note that in 1900 there were 189,089 "retail liquor dealers," who paid the special tax of $25 to the federal government; 1910 their number was 202,687, in increase of 13,598, or 7.2 per cent. Is this in spite or because of "prohibition"?

Protests Against Prohibition

At the close of his masterful address Mr. Watterson said:—

"I protest against that religion which sands the sugar and waters the milk before it goes to its prayers. I protest against that morality which poses as a saint in public to do as it pleases in private. As the old woman said of the old man's swearing: 'If there's anything I do bybominate, it is hypocrisy.' In my opinion, that which threatens Kentucky are not the gentlemanly vices but perfidy and phariseeism in public and in private life.

"The men who made the Blue Grass famous, who put the brand of glory upon its women, its horses and its vintage, were not ashamed to take a drink nor to lay a wager; though they paid their losses and understood where to draw the line. They marked the distinction between moderation and intemperance. They did not need to be told what honor it. They believed, as I believe that there is such a thing as pretending to more virtue than honest mortals can hope to attain.

"I know very well how I shall be rated for saying this; how my words will be misrepresented and misquoted and misconstrued; I told you not to ask me to come here, but being here, I am bound to speak as I am given the mind to think and the light to see and to warn our people against the intrusion of certain 'isms,' which describe themselve as 'progress' and muster under the standards of what they call 'God and Morality,' but which fifty years ago went by a very different name; 'isms' which take their spirit from Cotton Mather, not from Jesus Christ; 'isms' which where they cannot rule, would burn at the stake; 'isms' which embrace the sum of all fanaticism and intolerance, proposing that instead of the rich, red blood of Virginia, ice water shall flow through the veins of the people; 'isms' which, in one word, would blot Kentucky out of the galaxy of stars and recreate her in the dread image of Maine and Kansas.

"I refuse to yield to these. Holding the ministry in reverence as spiritual advisors, rejecting them as emissaries of temporal power, I do not intend, if I can help it, to be compelled to accept a rule of modern clericalism, which, if it could have its bent and sway, would revive for us the priest-ridden systems of the middle ages. I do not care to live in a world that is too good to be genial; too ascetic to be honest; too proscriptive to be happy. I do not believe that men can be legislated into angels—even red-nosed angels. The 'blue laws' of New England—dead letters for the most part, did more harm to the people, whilst they lasted, than all other agencies united. I would leave them in the cold storage, to which the execration of some and the neglect of all, consigned them long ago, not emblam them and import them to Kentucky to poison the meat and drink and character of the people. I shall leave my home life, my professional career and my familiar associates to say whether I do not place, and have not always placed, the integrity of man, the purity of waman and the sanctity of religion above all earthly things; but I hope never to grow too old to make merry with my friends and forget for a little that I am no longer one and twenty! When the time arrives for me to go to my account, I mean to go shouting; to go with my flag flying, and, as I have never lied to the people of Kentucky, please God I never shall. I have told them a great many unpalatable things. I have met their disapproval full in the face. I have lived to see most of my admonitions against this, that and the other vain hope vindicated by events. I want to live yet a little longer still to tell the truth and shame the devil; but if obscurity and adversity and neglect shall overtake me it will be a comfort even in the valley of the shadow of death that from first to last I fought, not for the speckled gospels of the short-haired men of Babylon, but for the simple manhood and lovely womanhood of old Kentucky—never New Kentucky, but always and forever Old Kentucky—your birthright and mine."

What the Bishops Say

Bishop Satterlee said:—

"Prohibition has been tried in other places and it has been found wanting. In Maine, which is pointed out as the first place where prohibitory laws were enacted, prohibition is a farce."

Archbishop Messmer says:—

"I do not believe that we can reform men by law. Prohibition, according to many observers, actually brings more liquor than the open sale of intoxicants under the proper police supervision."

Both Bishop Webb of Milwaukee and Bishop Grafton of Fond du Lac, have declared themselves as opposed to prohibition.

Bishop Grafton declared that prohibition by causing continuous violation of law, was more dangerous to the people than occasional cases of drunkenness.

Cardinal Gibbon says:—

"I am persuaded that it is practically impossible to put prohibition into effect in any large community.

"Laws like prohibition that are certain to be violated had best not be made, for incessant violation draws down upon them disrespect."

Ald. Hilditch, at last evening's council meeting wanted to know if anything had been done towards getting water on Ninth avenue. He noticed a ditch had been dug but no pipe was in it. His worship explained that half inch pipe instead of inch and a half pipe had come. The larger pipe was now due.

Form of Ballot Paper

Voting on the petition to the Governor-General for the bringing into force of Part II of the Canada Temperance Act.

For the Petition
Against the Petition	X

DIRECTIONS FOR THE GUIDANCE OF VOTERS

The voter will go into one of the compartments, and with a paper there provided, place a cross thus, X in the upper space if he votes FOR the adoption of the petition (Scott Act), and in the lower space if he does AGAINST the adoption of the petition (Scott Act).

The voter will then fold the ballot, so as to show a portion of the back only, with the number and initials of the deputy returning officer, and deliver it to the deputy returning officer, who will place it in the ballot box. The voter will then forthwith quit the polling station.

If a voter inadvertently spoils a ballot paper, he can return it to the proper officer, who, on being satisfied of the fact, will give him another.

If the voter places on the ballot more than one mark, or places any mark on it by which he can afterwards be identified, his vote will be void, and will not be counted.

If the voter takes a ballot paper out of the polling station, or fraudently puts any other paper into the ballot box than the ballot paper given him by the deputy returning officer, he will be subject to be punished by fine or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months, with or without hard labor.

DON'T FORGET THAT THE PETITION ISFOR THE SCOTT ACT. IF YOU ARE NOT IN FAVOR OR A DRY TOWN YOU MUST MARK YOUR BALLOT IN THE LOWER SPACE. AGAINST THE PETITION MEANS AGAINST THE SCOTT ACT. AND DON'T FAIL TO VOTE. EVERY MAN IN TOWN ENTITLED TO VOTE ON THIS QUESTION SHOULD DO SO. IT IS THE MOST IMPORTANT QUESTION WHICH WILL BE SUBMITTED TO THE PEOPLE FOR YEARS, AND MEANS THE LIFE OR DEATH OF THE CITY.

To the Electors

Ladies and Gentlemen:

At the completion of my term of office as Alderman, I have been approached by a number of my colleagues and citizens with the request that I permit myself to be entered in nomination for the office of Mayor for the ensuing year.

After consideration, I have consented to that request, and herewith announce my candidacy.

At public meetings to be held later on to discuss municipal issues, I will present a programme of work, as the basis of my candidature.

Yours respectfully,

Prince Rupert, B.C.

NOTICE

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that application will be made by the City of Prince Rupert at the next sitting of the Legislative Assembly of the Province of British Columbia for an act amending the City of Prince Rupert Incorporation Act, 1910, so as to enable the City to borrow and raise money by the issue of inscribed stock to convert debentures already issued into such stock, and to consolidate debts provided for by individual by-laws so that consecutive debentures or inscribed stock may be issued for such debts as consolidated.

Dated at Prince Rupert, this 14th day of October, 1910.

WILLIAMS & MANSON,
Solicitors for the Applicants.
