ALBERT MEYER HAS REACHED HOME PORT

The Cod Fishing Schooner Of The Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Company Got In Yesterday Morning---Will Leave For Alaskan Waters

The cod fishing schooner of the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co. arrived safe in port yesterday morning in tow of the halibut trawler Andrew Kelly of the same company. The fears of the local offices with regard to her have thus been allayed and the three-master is now alongside of the company's wharves outfitting for her cruise in the northern waters. She is a model vessel for the business, having been selected by Mr. Brown, the experienced manager of that end of the company's business, for this particular line of trade. She has brought north with her a full complement of salt for the first cruise and is well equipped in most of the details for the voyage. The completion of the outfitting will not take many days in this port and before the middle of the week the schooner will set sail again on her first cruise under the new owners.

Captain Martin, the skipper in command, met adverse winds on the way north. He was driven by contrary winds far to the west, as forecasted in these columns yesterday. The Meyer, in fact, was carried to the vicinity of the Aleutian Islands before she was able to make this port.

Last Sunday night she had reached the west coast of the Queen Charlotte Islands, but owing to the condition of the weather she had to lay to until favorable breezes were met to carry her to Dixon Entrance. Off the northern coast of Graham Island the Kelly sighted the big schooner, and although the trawler had not been long on the halibut banks, she at once took the sailing vessel in tow and brought her into port to the infinite delight of the management of the Cold Storage.

As soon as the outfitting is done the schooner will make for the Alaskan waters to take on her first cargo of cod for the local company. This will mark the beginning of the cod industry for the local port. With the start thus made there is every reason to believe that this end of the industry will be carried along to a very important proportion as compared with the other branches of the industry.

The northern waters are known to abound with cod and the schooner will make for the banks at once with her fourteen dories. These will be used in the taking of the fish and they will be placed on the schooner, where the salting will be carried out. The schooner thus becomes a great fish curing plant in itself.

BUTEDALE IS GETTING SOCKEYES

THE RUN OF SALMON AT THAT CANNERY IS REPORTED ABOUT AVERAGE.

There Seems to Be About the Usual Supply of the Fish Being Taken.

The run of salmon at some of the inlets in this northern part of the coast are reported to be getting an average catch of fish. In the case of Butedale Cannery, belonging to John Wallace, the sockeye are reported to be running in fair numbers, so that there is hope that there will be increasing catches in these waters a little later on. This is the news that was brought to the city yesterday by J. K. Pine, who is employed there.

He says that the cannery is having an average catch so far this year. The weather is somewhat against the taking of them as the fish appear to be swimming deep, as is usual in dull rainy weather.

SOLDIERS STABBED ON THE STREET

I.W.W. SYMPATHIZERS ATTACKED THEM IN SEATTLE WITH SERIOUS RESULTS.

Woman Speaker Incited Gathering to Deed by Denouncing the Army.

Seattle, July 18.—Three soldiers were stabbed here today when a woman speaker at an I.W.W. gathering denounced the army. The crowd of sympathizers standing about attacked the representatives of the army who were listening at the time and ended by stabbing them.

SETTLERS FOR KISPIOX.

The Outlook There Is Excellent for Good Crops This Year.

There is quite an influx of settlers into the Kispiox Valley, says H. W. Sharpe, who returned from that district on Wednesday, says the Hazelton Miner. Among the settlers located in the last month are four families and a number of single men, mostly from the Northwest. Many others are coming in.

The wagon road is well up the valley, the construction gang being now camped 34 miles from Hazelton.

The farmers have good crops of hay and grain, with prospects of the best season in the history of the Kispiox. Bert Glassey and his neighbors are building a road from the Poplar Park bridge to their pre-emptions. Other roads are badly needed. Mr. Sharpe will soon open a general store on his Kispiox place. His stock has already arrived in Hazelton.

Shipyard Strike Extends.

Hamburg, July 18.—The strike declared by the workmen in the shipbuilding yards here extended to other trades, and it is estimated that more than 5000 persons have laid down their tools.

G. T. P. ORDERS SEVENTY-FIVE LOCOMOTIVES

Toronto, July 18.—The Grand Trunk Pacific has placed an order for seventy-five of the latest type of locomotives preparatory to the line opening up for through business. This is in addition to the large number of locomotives that are already in use by the company.

SETTLER DROWNED AT KITIMAAT

SAMUEL HENDERSON LOST LIFE WHILE ENGAGED WITH SURVEY PARTY.

His Two Companions Who Were in the Canoe on River Escaped.

A sad fatality occurred last week in the Kitimaat River, resulting in the loss of one of the settlers in that valley, Sam Henderson. He had been canoeing on the river for the Government survey party that is working in that part of the province. At the time of the accident, as far as can be learned, he and two others were coming down stream in the canoe after taking supplies up to the party that is engaged there.

The canoe struck a snag and Mr. Henderson was thrown out of the canoe. His companions tried to reach him, but could not. He sank at once and was never seen again. It is presumed that he became entangled among the rubbish with which the river is filled in many parts. The Government is offering a reward of $100 for the finding of the body.

The unfortunate man was one of the most progressive settlers in the valley. He had about two acres of land cleared and under cultivation. He was not married. He came to the coast from Ontario, his home being near Ottawa. For seven or eight years he has been residing on his land in the valley.

FISHING BARGE IS SUNK BY ENA

THE C. P. R. FREIGHTER COLLIDED WITH REYNOLDS AT KETCHIKAN.

The Smaller Vessel With Her Cargo of Fish Sank at the Wharf.

The news was received here from Ketchikan by wireless that the C.P. R. steamer Princess Ena had collided with a fishing vessel in the harbor and sunk her. The fishing barge was the Reynolds, and she was loaded with fish at the time. The details are not all available, only the main facts in connection with the accident being received. The Princess Ena was making a landing, it is presumed, at the time and in some unexplained way crashed into the small vessel, which was sunk at her moorings.

The message says that the cargo on board the Reynolds went down with the vessel.

Boundary Survey.

Mr. Ogilvie, of the Alaskan boundary survey service, who has charge of the locating of the exact line of demarkation between Canada and Alaskan territory, Prince of Wales Island to the mouth of the Portland Canal, was in the city yesterday. He left again for North Island by his gasoline launch Teddy during the day.

King Of Greece Makes Serious Charge Against The Conduct Of The War By King Ferdinand's Troops---Roumanians Near Bulgaria's Capital

New York, July 18.—The King of Greece in a statement to the Associated Press declares that the bodies of the victims of the Bulgarian outrages marked the trail of King Ferdinand's army. The eyes of the wounded were gouged out. Masses of smoking ruins were everywhere found on the line of march filled with the bodies of women and children.

King Ferdinand flatly denied the allegations as to atrocities when they were first made. In a telegram dispatched from Sofia on July 12 to the London Evening News he said:

"The stories and reports which the Greeks and Servians have been circulating in Europe concerning so-called outrages committed by our troops on Greek and Servian populations in Macedonia are absolutely unfounded, and are published with the object of creating a bad impression."

King Ferdinand proceeds to tell of the liberties endured by the people of Adrianople without regard to their nationality, and closes with the allegation:

"Systematic attacks and persecutions have been directed against the Bulgarian element in Macedonia by the Servians and the Greeks."

Marching on Sofia.

London, July 18.—Roumanian troops are at Plevna and Mesadra, thirty miles from Sofia. King Ferdinand of Bulgaria is a supplicant to the King of Roumania for terms of peace. The powers are trying to induce Roumania not to occupy Sofia.

Denmark in Peace Column.

Washington, July 18.—Denmark, through Minister Constantine Brun, became the twenty-first nation to accept the principle of Secretary Bryan's peace plan. Details of the plan have already been forwarded to Denmark.

COMMISSION TO BE HERE SOON

BODY INQUIRING INTO LABOR QUESTIONS FOR PROVINCE COMING WEDNESDAY.

They Will Proceed to Hazelton That Day and Hold Sitting Here a Week from Today.

The city of Prince Rupert is having its own share of commissions this month. Following the coal inquiry, there will be sessions of the labor commission held in the district next week. That body appointed by the Provincial Government will reach the city it is expected on Wednesday of next week and proceed at once to Hazelton, where a sitting will be held that evening in the interior centre.

Returning to Prince Rupert there will be a sitting of the commission here on Saturday, when the body will hear any representations that it may be desired to present before it for consideration. The commission is presided over by H. G. Parson as chairman, with Frank McNamara, one of the well-known newspaper men, as secretary.

ACTIVITY MARKS GRAHAM ISLAND

DEVELOPMENT IN THE VICINITY OF MASSET AND NADEN HARBOR.

Fishermen Are Following the Movements of the Spring Salmon Towards South.

(Special Correspondence.)

Masset, July 17.—Operations in the oil and coal fields have been suspended by three of the companies, awaiting the arrival of piping and other material.

Wallace Fisheries plant at Naden Harbor closed down for a short time, some of the fishermen leaving for the south end of Graham Island, where the spring salmon are running in large numbers.

The Misses Jenns visited friends at Delkatla recently and were guests at Queenstown for a few days.

William Sibbald, contractor for the new jail at Masset, is progressing favorably with the work on the building, which will be used by the constable as an office and residence, and have cells for the use of those who do not respect the law.

J. F. Macdonald, Dominion Constable, left Masset on the last steamer and will visit Queen Charlotte City, Skidegate, Alliford Bay and other towns before leaving the employ of the Government.

A party of United States surveyors is encamped near the north end of Graham Island, marking out the boundary line between North Island and the Alaskan shore.

Masset Indians purchased two launches from the white fishermen at Langara Island which will be added to the fleet of gasoline boats owned by the natives.

The Naden Harbor whaling station reports twenty-one mammals treated during the month of June.

The people of Masset are agitating for a better mail service between Prince Rupert and the north end of the Island. A through steamer from Vancouver to the south means a better boat connection for that end of the Island. The residents object to the weekly schedule still in operation to Masset and other parts in the north.

Among those who are in the city at the present time is D. D. Munro, of the Kitsumkalum Valley. He is living on his land near Terrace and reports that the valley of the Skeena is looking remarkably well this season in spite of the fact that this has been a backward summer all over the province. Mr. Munro is hard at work clearing land for cultivation and is using on his table vegetables that have been grown on land that was cleared and brought under cultivation this year. He has tomatoes that were planted outside this season and which are now in bloom without the aid of glass. The tomatoes will, he says, ripen easily in the open in that valley every year.

Mr. Munro has now about eight acres that are being cleared of timber and stumps and will be brought under cultivation. He is getting ready for the carrying on of the great market garden area that is to serve Prince Rupert and which cannot fail to be a grand success. There is a considerable clearing already made and under cultivation. This is being added to as fast as the land can be got ready and before next year there will be a large open area under cultivation.

The valley, he says, is looking well. There has been more than the usual amount of rainfall this year, but this has not done any harm, for the reason that the district is within the dry area and can stand considerable rain without any injury. Visitors to the valley are all delighted, he says, with the outlook that there is in the line of truck gardening and fruit raising, and Mr. Munro is more than ever delighted with the prospects that there are.

He has come to Prince Rupert for supplies and will return this morning to carry on the operations that he has in hand in the way of clearing. Residence on the ground has more than ever impressed him with immense possibilities of the Skeena valleys and he is satisfied to remain right there.

WILL BE GOOD BOUT.

Boxers Who Are to Meet in McIntyre Hall Getting in Fine Shape Here.

The bout that is to take place next week between Lem Kegg of this city and Eddie Shannon of Seattle will be a very keenly contested one. The boys are in good shape and there promises to be a very fast contest.

Shannon is training now in good shape at the Windsor Hotel gymnasium with Cyclone Scott, who has the greatest faith in his man. The visitor is certainly a fast one and it will require all the training and skill that the local boy has to outpoint him.

It has been arranged that the meet shall take place in McIntyre Hall. The ring will be put in shape at once for it.

FRANK BOWSER IS MADE CHAIRMAN

GETTING READY FOR TRADE.

The announcement that the Grand Trunk Pacific has ordered seventy-five locomotives of the most modern type for its trade is an indication that the company is getting ready for its through traffic which now comes close to being inaugurated. It has been hinted from time to time that when the road is finished and the Grand Trunk Pacific equips its through service the trains will be equal to anything on any road on the American Continent, or may even surpass the best that is now in use. The most modern equipment is to be used throughout in cars and in every other way.

It is therefore not surprising that the order placed now for through locomotives is for the very best type made. Prince Rupert is to be the terminus of the best railway line on the continent and it is evident from promises that it will be the best-equipped road in point of rolling stock.

FEELING IN ONTARIO.

By a majority of 278 North Grey a few days ago elected Colin S. Cameron, Conservative, to represent it in the Legislature. It was the vote in the town of Owen Sound that defeated Mr. John McQuaker, Liberal candidate, as the town gave Mr. Cameron a majority of 290, while in the rural parts Mr. McQuaker had a majority of two.

Sir James Whitney's already large majority is increased as the result of the provincial election in North Grey. This riding was carried in the general election by Mr. McKay, a former leader of the Opposition, by a majority of 741. It has now been captured by the Conservatives by a majority of 280. This election has attracted a good deal of attention as a test of the leadership and policy of Mr. Rowell, who succeeds Mr. McKay as the leader of the Liberal Opposition.

INDIAN FOOLED CHINESE PARTY

ALASKAN NATIVE AT NADEN HARBOR CANNERY IS ENJOYING GRAND DRUNK.

For Ways That Are Dark the Heathen Chinee Has Been Beaten.

(Special Correspondence.)

Masset, July 17.—It is a very true saying that "wherever two extremes meet there is sure to be something doing," and this was realized most forcibly a few days ago at Naden Harbor. Howkan, Alaska, is as far removed from the confines of Hong Kong as the North Pole is from the southern axis of this mundane globe, but the races of the sufferers from overcrowding and a temperature ranging above fever point, and the fast disappearing red men of the snow-capped Alaska mountains find a common outlet for their native means of obtaining a livelihood in searching for and preparing food required by the human race in the vast waters of the equable climate surrounding the Queen Charlotte Islands. Daring the dangers of the deep, the native garners the harvest of salmon, while beneath the roof of the large cannery building hundreds of Chinese attend to the making of cans and other means necessary to preserve and place before the consumers the delicacies found on the tables of rich and poor of all countries.

In the case of the Indian, his home is along the rocky shores, wherever nightfall may find him; the Chinamen huddle together in some large building, wifeless, and finding solace during their short hours of respite from labor in the juice of the poppy and the enchanting game of "fantan." The fishing "junks" of the Chinese are a prohibited means of locomotion on our waters, and a mutual feeling of respect is felt between the two races—provided the natives of the Flowery Kingdom confine their attentions to occupations in a restricted area, ashore.

There are times when a spirit of riva'ry will assert itself in all that is human, and the Chinese have a few attributes that tend to show prowess

RUSSIAN SETTLERS.

A cablegram was received in Vancouver from St. Petersburg that the first of the Russian Volunteer Fleet, which is bringing Russian immigrants to British Columbia, will sail upon her return voyage from Vancouver on August 15. Curiously enough the cablegram did not state when the vessel would sail from Russia, but the voyage will probably occupy from 16 to 20 days. The steamer is expected to make Prince Rupert its first port of call, and it is believed that she will arrive here about August 10. This vessel will bring about 1000 immigrants. The agents of the line here are Messrs. Asancheyev & Co.

CAMOSUN LATE.

The steamer Camosun arrived in port late yesterday, not arriving until about noon. She discharged among her other freight 34 head of cattle for Pat Burns. The stock is for shipment to the interior by the Grand Trunk Pacific.

SALMON IN RIVERS INLET.

Reports from Rivers Inlet indicate that there is a lighter run of salmon so far there than is usual. The season, therefore, cannot be said to be a good one. The catches so far reported from these canneries are as follows: Wadhams, 3000 cases; Brunswick, 2000 cases, and the other canneries about 1000 thousand cases each. In this pack it is reported that there is a good proportion of sockeye, which is regarded by the cannery men in these local waters as promising in view of the fact that the run in Rivers Inlet is usually ahead of the run here. It is expected that there will be a run of sockeye now in the Skeena and the Naas.

BROUGHT IN HALIBUT.

The trawler Andrew Kelly of the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Company returned to port early yesterday morning with the schooner Albert Meyer of the same company in tow. The Kelly had not been long on the fishing banks when the schooner was sighted and at once preparations were made to bring her into port without delay, as it was known that there was anxiety felt in port as to her delay in arriving here. The Kelly brought in 40,000 pounds of halibut, which is being discharged at the company's works.

INDIAN FOOLED CHINESE.

and daring. Some days ago a challenge went forth from the "tin-making" brigade of Chew Fat, of Naden Harbor, to the "soldering crew" of Hot Wing for a four-oared boat race in the large seine boats of the cannery company. These craft much resemble the "junks" used by the pirates of the China Sea, and are numbered, otherwise the spectators would have been unable to distinguish the victors from the vanquished, the "can whollopers" and "soldering" competitors bearing a marked resemblance to each other.

Out on the waters of Naden Harbor assembled the crews, and the wharf was lined with spectators. Away they went, ninety-and-nine strokes to the minute, the bow man acting as stroke oar, and each individual Chinaman reaching for earth on the down stroke and for the Celestial heaven when the oar returned from the bottom of the Sound. The excitement was intense, but was not to be compared with what followed. The Chew Fats won by half a mile, the oars of the Hot Wings having become entangled in the queues of the Chinese rowers.

Back to the large domicile of the Chinese went the crews and their friends to open the case of Chinese gin, won by the successful crew. It had disappeared, and so also had a young Alaska Indian who owned another boat and was a better rower than the Chinese. He had entered the back door of the Chinese lodging house and carried off the prize. Somewhere along the shores of Hecate Straits there is a "cache" which will be opened when the "big feast" is held. At Naden Harbor there is a bunch of Chinamen using Chinese vocabulary which sounds like: "I'll-ask-her, how can, sowa-shee stealum whisakey; me no sell um, sabbee; findum Howkan sowa shee; he no likee Chinamanlacee; he too much likee whisakey. Him too smart."
