The Crown's Evidence Has All Been Put In In The Murder Trial

Before adjournment last evening of the Assize Court all the evidence for the Crown in the case of Rex vs. Ohara and Nagano for murder had been put in. It was then after 4 o'clock, and Mr. Shoebotham for Nagano, asked for an adjournment until the morning, when he could put all his evidence in in a short time. Mr. Patmore, for Ohara, wished also to take up the question of putting in witnesses. Mr. Justsice Macdonald concurred in these requests and adjourned court until 10 this morning. It is expected this case will be concluded by tonight.

Yesterday morning W. E. Fisher, counsel for the Crown, called corroborative evidence. E. Carlson gave his testimony as to what took place. He added little or nothing new to that already in.

Ernest Pierce, who was with Ratchford on the night of the trouble, was also called. He testified that Murphy was stabbed by Ohara just outside the door.

John Wesley, an Indian who had watched part of the mix-up from the street was a slow witness, as his evidence had to be interpreted by Rev. W. E. Collison into English, and then by the official Japanese interpreter into Japanese. He added nothing new to the evidence already given.

Upon resuming in the afternoon Dr. N. McNeill was called to testify to the character of the wounds.

He testified to having made a post mortem examination of the body of Pittman at the B. C. Undertakers. Among other wounds, there was one on the left cheek extending down over the left lower jaw bone, over the neck until within half an inch of the breast bone, at about the centre of that bone. There were wounds which looked as if it had been caused by a sharp instrument about the breast bone. Viens in the neck had been severed and also arteries. There were two small wounds in the upper lobe of the left lung, which might have been caused by a shap insrtrument. Death was due to hemorrhage he believed.

Asked how far a man could go wounded that way, witness said that a man could not likely go very far. He would not expect him to go more than 500 yards. He would think the wound was caused by one blow.

Cross-examined by Mr. Shoebotham, witness was asked to explain the two wounds in the heart.

The doctor said that the two wounds were not more than an eighth of an inch apart. They were very similar.

Witness said that there was nothing in what he found to prompt him to believe the man was unhealthy. The man would be a strong man.

He did not think the wound would have been made by a clever.

Joshua Robinson, another Indian, gave evidence which had to be doubly interpreted.

In his cross-examination by Mr. Shoebotham he testified that he did not see the blow struck by Ohara. He saw Murphy fall.

The court adjourned at 4:15, until today.

CHANGE IN ESTABLISHED BUSINESS IN THE CITY

M. M. Stephens Retires From Firm Which Has Been Here From Early Days.

By mutual agreement a change has been made in the firm of M. M. Stephens & Company. Under the new arrangement J. Charles Halsey assumes the control of the business, while Mr. Stepehens retires from it. The change has taken effect now.

The firm is one of the oldest real estate, insurance and financial concerns in the city. Both Mr. Stephens and Mr. Halsey have been identified with it from the early days of the place, and the firm won a splendid reputation.

Mr. Stephens has not decided upon his plan for the future, but he will not be leaving the city.

COAL PROSPECTS GOOD AT HAZELTON

DEPOSITS AT TWENTY MILE MOUNTAIN ARE VERY PROMISING

Development Will Take Place At Once To Open Up The Property.

That the coal deposits near Twenty Mile are to be developed in the near future is the news brought by Arthur Skelhorne, who is spending a few days in the district, says the Omineca Miner, of Hazelton. A report on the property by James Ashworth, a noted engineer, has just been received.

Of the eleven seams occurring, only one is recommended for development, but that is evidently of considerable importance. Mr. Ashworth reports that No. 2 seam contains 5 ft. 4 ins. of bituminous coal, coking 71 per cent. on a nine-ton test. He estimates that the seam contains 14,000,000 tons, and as the point for working is only 300 feet from the siding at Seaton, the proposition looks extremely favorable.

This coal can be landed at Prince Rupert to compete on the most favorable terms with the Vancouver Island product.

Mr. Skelhorne is forming a development syndicate to open up the property, which is owned by the Seaton Coal Company.

The city has been placarded with posters relative to the Patriotic Fund campaign next week.

GOVERNMENT TO PROVIDE LIMBS

ARTIFICIAL ARMS AND LEGS WILL BE FURNISHED WOUNDED

Everything Will Be Done To Restore Injured Men From Front.

The Government will provide artificial limbs, eyes, etc., to such soldiers from Canada as have lost them at the front. Men discharged in England are entitled to the best medical advice available and thereafter to the best possible type of artificial limbs or eyes, as the case may be. These are provided at the expense of the Canadian Government. Men who are discharged in Canada are entitled to like consideration. Everything possible is to be done, in short, to restore shattered men so far as possible to their normal condition. This is considered to be exclusively the function of the Government.

Artificial limbs' manufacture has reached a very high state of perfection, so that crutches will probably be little in evidence after the war.

Christmas Tree For Soldiers.

The Helping Hand Society are furnishing a Christmas tree to be decorated for the benefit of the Northern B. C. boys who are at the front. They hope that the people of Prince Rupert will aid them in providing a rememberance for each. The three days preceeding Christmas will be devoted to this purpose.

Rome, Dec. 8.—An official report states that along the whole front there has been greater activity on the part of the enemy's artillery, to which our batteries effectively replied. The enemy also is making extensive use of asphyxiating gases.

On Monday afternoon intense preparation by the artillery was followed by the enemy's infantry making attacks on our positions north of Pre. The attacks were completely repulsed.

On the Carso front, despite the adverse weather conditions, our infantry is maintaining its aggressive attitude.

A brilliant action which developed yesterday in northern Seene enabled us to capture a strong extended entrenchment to the east of Petcino. We took one hundred and forty-six prisoners, including eight officers, a quantity of rifles and ammunition and other war materials.

On Western Front Calm Has Prevailed Aeroplane Fight

Paris, Dec. 8.—An official report says it has been comparatively calm on the front. Artillery actions took place at Artois in sectors of Loos and Givenchy between the Somme and the Oise. In face of activity on the part of the enemy's artillery, our guns opened an action of great violence. Observations made by aeroplanes enabled us to establish the efficiency of our fire.

Fighting with grenades continues to the east of Butte De Souain, where we made progress between Argonne and the Meuse. Our batteries destroyed several reservoirs containing suffocating gases.

One of our aeroplanes giving chase at a height of 3,000 metres of a German machine, approached within a distance of 20 metres, when it attacked the German aeroplane with machine guns. The enemy's aeroplane took fire and immediately exploded, two passengers falling within our lines.

A Belgian offiical report says artillery action have been quite intense along the whole Belgian front. We counter shelled effectively the opposing batteries and shattered the enemy's works at Car Poesele. We dispersed also a convoy company on the road between Dixmude and Steenstraete.

GRANBY COMPANY'S PRODUCTION COST

THE ANYOX PLANT IS TURNING OUT COPPER CHEAPLY

Fourth Furnace Was Paid For Out Of Operations By The Company.

The Granby Company had been credited with the ability to lay down its copper in New York at about 8½ cents per pound, but the quarterly statement shows the figure to be 11.9 cents per pound. The company's Grand Forks property has been known to be a high cost producer, but the new Anyox mine was expected to bring the average much lower than that shown in the September 30th quarter.

Officials of the company explain the situation as follows: Cost at Anyox was 7.939 cents per pound; at Grand Forks 10.91 cents, to which must be added freight, refining, selling and general eastern expense. These brought the Anyox figure up to 9.4 cents and Grand Forks to 12.4 cents, or an average of 11.9 cents per pound, after all credits for precious metal values. In other wards, while Granby's report showed the expense of producing 12,000,000 pounds of copper to have been $1,823,827, an indicated cost of over 15 cents per pound precious metal credits amounted to $384,000, or 3.2 cents per pound.

The Grand Forks property is of lessening importance in Granby's operations, and its high cost is not surprising. High costs at Anyox were due in part to the installation of the fourth furnace at the smelter and the new agglomerator, expense of which was charged to operation.

Future costs at Anyox are expected to be much more satisfactory, as construction is practically finished. Furthermore, an increased recovery of about four pounds copper per ton of ore is possible with the new ag-

STUDY IN SOCIOLOGY AND EUGENICS GIVEN

Striking Films Shown At Westholme Theatre This Week.

At the Westholme Theatre last night a most striking film was shown. It was "Kindling" in five parts, shown with six reels. The play is one that depicts slum life in the city, and concludes with the emancipation obtained by life on the western prairies.

The play is a study in sociology, showing the degeneracy incident to tenement life and all the temptations that go with such a career. A little study in eugenics is also introduced.

The "Fire Escape," a one-act dram affords the humor for the evening.

IMPORTANT WITNESS

Pitman was holding Ohara.

Pitman Staggered.

Pitman staggered down the steps and across the street. He went staggering down the street.

Murphy asked for help, saying he had been knocked out by a clever. He took a hold of Murphy's arm to raise him, when he saw Ohara coming with a knife up in the air. Witness and others ran; Ohara followed.

Cross-examined.

Cross-examined by Mr. Shoebotham, witness said that Komeda went round the end of the counter to get his weapon. He did not jump over the counter that he saw. Witness was standing —— —— of feet from the door, on the right of the platform when Murphy fell. He did not see Angus after he came out. He did not see Nagano drive any blow home. When Pitman started away Ohara and Nagano followed. He could not say how far Nagano followed Ohara. His attention was not drawn to that. He did not see where Nagano then went. He was not prepared to swear that Pitman was stabbed at the top of the steps.

Cross-examined by Mr. Patmore, witness said he was sure Komeda had the clever. Nagano, he was sure had a knife. When Nagano swung round he had the knife raised above his head. He brought the knife down in the direction of where Pitman was.

To the court, witness said that he saw Murphy, Pitman and Angus come out of the door.

Charles Glacy.

Charles Glacy lived near the place. He was just going to bed when he head a lot of running and noise. He came to the door. He saw a man lying on the sidewalk. He did not pay much attention, as he thought it was probably a drunken man. A man came and flashed a light on the man. He came to witness. It was Komeda. Komeda asked where the police could be found. Later on he learned it was Pitman's body.

Cross-examined by Mr. Shoebotham, witness said Komeda was very excited. He said a drunken man was breaking up the restaurant.

Harry Berryman.

Harry Berryman lived upstairs in one-half of the building, in which the restaurant was situated. He believed Komeda owned the restaurant. It was Komeda who got all the goods.

On the night of the trouble he was awakened by breaking glass. He looked out the window. He saw Pitman and Carlson. They went back into the restaurant, and witness went back to bed. Another crash came and he got up. He saw Nagno standing. He saw Ohara coming running towards men who were helping a man who later said he was Murphy. Witness called on Ohara to stop. He did so. He told Ohara if he had trouble he should report to the police.

The court adjourned at 5:45, until today at 10 o'clock.

PACIFIC COAST MARINERS IN NAVY

CAPT. BARNEY JOHNSON IS DOING GOOD WORK IN SUBMARINE SERVICE

Many Others From This Coast Are Doing Well In Service.

Pacific Coast mariners who have gone to the old country and offered their services to the Admiralty are doing splendidly. None of them seem to have any difficulty in securing the posts they sought and those who are taking special courses are ready to qualify and will be leaving their schools very shortly. The last mail from England brought some interesting news about the local men who are now serving or are about to serve their country.

Capt. Percy Shadforth formerly master of the whaling tender Gray and a deep-water man of considerable ability, is now completing his course in mine-sweeping at an English school. Some people have the idea that a seaman has only to step aboard a trawler and throw his sweeps over the stern and he is a qualified mine-sweeper. The British navy, however, requires a higher grade of efficiency than that. Since he reached England some time ago, Capt. Shadforth has been very busy studying. At the time the letter was written he was on his last course, and no doubt by this date has qualified. The captain will be given a mine-sweeper, but where his activities will be directed is not known. It is the most dangerous work in the navy, but Capt. Shadforth faces it with a smile.

Capt. Johnson On Subs.

Capt. Barney L. Johnson, one of the best known mariners along the British Columbia coast, formerly of the G. T. P. steamer service, and for a short time prior to the outbreak of war a Vancouver pilot, is now working hard on his submarine course, and will very shortly be sent away in command of a diver. Immediately after war broke out Capt. Johnson offered his services to the Canadian Admiralty, and was ordered to Esquimalt. He volunteered for submarine work and finally assumed command of one of the craft. When all prospects of trouble on this coast had melted away, he made up his mind to take a more active part in assisting his Empire. Consequently he offered his services to the British Admiralty and was ordered to proceed home. He commenced a course in submarine work, and has been studiously engaged for some months.

Capt. Johnson and Capt. Shadforth tumbled across one another in the old country a few weeks ago, and they had quite a time renewing old acquaintances. According to letters, Capt. Johnson is not looking nearly as well as when he was on this coast.

The Second Shadforth.

Another Shadforth who is at sea doing his duty is Capt. Albert Shadforth, who was with the C. P. R. on this coast and was pilot on many of the northern steamers. He volunteered for active service and after examinations in England was ordered to join the armed merchant cruiser Digby. Nothing is known of her movements.

Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

PRESUMPTOUS TORIES.

The News is very wrath because the local Conservatives received a message from the Chief Inspector of Fisheries on this coast stating that certain concessions had been granted by the Department at Ottawa in the interests of the herring industry. In a special spasm the News writer wants to know what Joe Merryfield had to do with it. The question is very easily answered. It was answered by Mr. Cunningham himself when he was here, and answered at the meeting in the city hall. Before the representation had been made by the local committee, Mr. Cunningham had been approached on this subject through the Conservatives of Prince Rupert. Mr. Merryfield had written to Mr. Clements, the member for the district, urging action along the line upon which the concessions have now been granted, in order to meet what was felt to be a need for the present time here. Mr. Clements had taken the matter up, either through the Department at Ottawa, or directly with Mr. Cunningham, and the fishermen are receiving the benefits of that action.

To the Liberals, it would appear that it is a most presumptuous act on the part of the local Conservative Association to make any representations to the Government looking to the benefitting of any class in the community. One can readily understand that these Liberals so regard the situation, having in mind the record of that party when it was in power. But the Conservatives of Prince Rupert are constantly bringing to the attention of the various departments at Ottawa, through the member for the district, matters that need attention and looking to the fullest development of the district and the city, or to the benefit of any class of workers like the fishermen. It is true that they are not out shouting about what they are doing. They have, however, a member in Mr. Clements, who is ever ready on every reasonable request to back it up. The local Conservatives are without ceasing, doing what they can to see that the fullest justice is done to every class in the community, and they will continue to do it.

It will be remembered that having in view the whole situation the representations made for the benefit of the fishermen by the local Conservatives, through Mr. Merryfield, was to allow the taking of herring within the bounds of the area, as now allowed for this year. The committee which sat here, composed of men on both sides of politics, asked for the extension of the right to fish for herring, in the whole of the waters of District No. 2, which takes in a wider area than that now allowed to be fished over. Such a concession may come, but action could not be taken until the sitting of the Advisory Board later in the winter, which would render it of no practical benefit for local boats this season. This was exactly what the local Conservatives realized, and accordingly pressed for this special area to be effective this season.

There was no attempt made by the local Conservatives to appropriate any honor for what has been done. No attempt was made to drag anything that might appear to savor of partyism into a matter that would work to the advantage of the port, and that deserving class of fishermen that we are endeavoring to have make this its headquarters. It remained to the Liberal organ to attempt to stir up party feeling on the subject. But the outburst of wrath on the part of that organ will in no wise deter the local Conservatives from making representations that it considers are for the advantge of the place whenever it choses to do so. We do not wish to detract in any shape from what the local committee has done, when we state that we believe the concessions granted, with respect to the herring fishing, would have been granted had the representations not been made by the general committee and that the interest shown in the herring fishermen through Mr. Merryfield would have brought about the results desired. We do not want to drag partyism into any of these things. We would gladly refrain from even stating the cold facts were it not that an ill advised move has been made by the other side to try to gain a party advantage.

glomerator. This should, of course, have a decided tendency to lower costs.

While Granby's report for the September 30th quarter showed net profits of $486,435, the actual results have turned out to be considerably better. The preliminary figure was based on an inventory value of 15½ cents per pound for 8,385,100 pounds of unsold copper, which has since been disposed of for $168,000 more than the inventory value. In other words, net for the quarter was $654,000 instead of $486,000 as shown by the report.
