GERMANS MAKING ANOTHER ATTEMPT ON VERDUN

Lieut.-Governor Assented To Bill Relative To Parliament

Fight Developing On Italian Front May Be Important

Fierce Fighting Again At Verdun Heralds Third Phase Of Conflict

Paris, March 15.—The renewal of the fighting to the west of the Meuse, after three days of comparative quiet, is regarded as heralding the beginning of the third phase of the battle of Verdun.

The defenders have profitted by the inactivity that has been prevailing by strengthening the weak points in their armour. They therefore await events in full confidence.

Exposed To French Fire.

There has been heavy fighting around Deadman's Hill. The Germans debouching in masses from Corbeaux and other similar woods to the west were obliged to cross open ground. While so exposed the well-directed fire of the French did fearful execution.

Germans Filled Ranks.

The ranks quickly filled up. Although they were stopped again and again they succeeded in gaining a footing in the French advanced trenches.

French Advances.

An official despatch says, that west of the Meuse the enemy made no further endeavor to advance.

Along our front, between Bethincourt and Comieries, counter attacks with bayonet charges and grenades enabled us to regain part of the trenches captured yesterday by the enemy in the direction of Hill 265.

We now hold Bethiany Heights, Le Mort Homme, the southern position of the wood of Crumidiers and the village of Crumidiers.

There is nothing of importance from the right banks of the Meuse or the Woevre district.

Red Rose Mine Has A Fine Body Of Ore In Lower Working

The mining operations at the Rocher de Boule Mountain and vicinity is showing up excellent ore bodies. The Red Rose is one of those upon which extensive work has been laid out and which is being developed by capital with W. Adams in charge. It is expected to get the property in shape to start shipping on a small scale at least this summer.

The Omineca Miner refers to a strike made on the property in the following:

"Emil Gallon, who came down from the Red Rose, reports that a fine body of ore has been opened up in the crosscut which is being run 350 feet below the upper tunnel. The extent of this showing has not been definitely ascertained yet, but enough ore has been uncovered to prove to the owners that the Red Rose is a big mining proposition."

FIGHTING ALONG ITALIAN FRONT

AUSTRIANS FORCED TO EVACUATE ADVANCED POSITIONS

Severe Fighting Is Reported Along The Isonzo Front.

The Italians, after a violent bombardment, have forced the Austrians to evacuate several advanced positions.

LICENSE BOARD HELD A MEETING

COMPLAINTS AS TO HOTEL PREMISES WERE EXPLAINED SATISFACTORILY

The Various Hotels Reported To Have Proper Facilities.

The Board of license Commissioners met yesterday afternoon at an adjourned meeting. There were present Ald. Nelson, Acting Chairman in the absence of the Mayor; Ald. Smith, and John Vierick. The Chief of Police reported upon the various licensed places. The report was that he found the premises all complying with the law.

At the previous meeting there had not been any complaint that the hotels in question were violating the law as to selling. The only complaint was that the fronts of the bars might not be fully in accord with the regulations.

The subject of diningrooms came up, when the question was asked if the Board would consider the granting of permission to cut out the diningrooms as had been done in Vancouver. This, it was explained, would relieve the hotels of keeping up a non-paying end of the business and would at the same time help out restaurants that would be to that extent benefitted.

Ald. Nelson said he would prefer such an application to be made before the Board when the Mayor returned, as his tenure of office was only for a few days, and he did not want to commit the Board to any policy.

It was therefore decided to postpone any application with respect to this for a little time.

Paris, March 15.—Turkey will leave every other military operation in an endeavor to stem the advance of the Russians, which up to the present is unchecked.

NORTHERN MINE IS BETTER THAN EVER

Engineer Mine More Promising Than Since Located.

People lately out from Atlin report that the Engineer mine, the property of Captain James Alexander, located between Carcross and Atlin, long known to be rich in gold-bearing ore, is now looking very much more promising than ever before as the result of a large amount of development work recently done on it. In fact, it is believed by expert mining men to be the richest of gold-bearing on the American continent.

Captain Alexander has been working the Engineer property for the past several years in a small but profitable way, making a three stamp mill not only pay for the development of the mine but yield a nice profit at the same time. The development work has proven the exfent and richness of the property beyond all question, and the results are so encouraging that operations will be carried on the coming season on a much larger scale than ever before—a scale which will yield fabulous profits to the fortunate owner.

Liberal Tactics Have Strengthened Conservative Cause In The Province

(Special to Journal.)

Victoria, March 15.—Hon. F. S. Barnard, the Lieutenant-Governor, this afternoon gave his formal assent to the bill passed by the Legislature at midnight last night, to make it certain that Parliament could exist until June 1.

It is thought possible that the Government may not now pass the P. G. E. Aid Bill, the Workmen's Compensation Bill and the Shipping Aid Bill this session, but it will go to the country on them.

Delegations endorsing prohibition and those opposed to it waited on the Premier today. They had various proposals to urge upon him.

Fourteen members of the Conservative cause favor compensation for the liquor interests. The possibility of a split in the party is nil, however, as the Liberal tactics of yesterday in opposing the validating bill, in urging immediate dissolution without any action on prohibition or in refusing to pass the necessary year's estimates has united the Conservative members, who will stand behind the Premier in the carrying into effect of the necessary measures to carry along the business of the country.

H. H. Watson, of Vancouver, and A. Lucas, of Yale, made fighting speeches in the House this afternoon.

Mr. Watson defended the Government in connection with the Kettle Valley, the Canadian Northern and the P. G. E. railway policies.

Mr. Lucas declared that the Liberals were attempting to discredit the Province for the sake of getting into office.

Liberals Afraid To Face Session in The Legislature

(Special to Journal.)

Victoria, March 15.—The Lieutenant-Governor today gave his assent to the bill passed yesterday to make certain the life of the Legislature till June 1.

Victoria, March 15.—Not since the days when Joe Martin was Premier of British Columbia have there been more stirring scenes in the House than took place yesterday. In an endeavor to block legislation, designed to amend the Constitution Act, the Opposition members forced the House to sit until twenty minutes after midnight.

Liberals Contention.

Today the Liberals claim that it is quite possible that Parliament has been automatically dissolved.

Almost every hour of the day was one of excitement at the Parliament Buildings. There were frequent conferences between the Premier and the leaders of the Opposition, demands became so excessive that Premier Bowser withdrew his offer of terms and defied the Liberals to do their worst.

The Situation.

The situation arose in this way: Four years ago, on February 27, 1912, to be exact, an order-in-council was passed for a general election, making the writs returnable on or before June 1st of that year. Under the Constitution Act the House, as at that time, sat for four years from the return of the writs, although in future Legislatures will sit for five.

It appears that one of the writs were returned on March 15, although believing that the House could sit until June 1, 1916. Premier Bowser brought in a bill to put the matter beyond doubt. He had several conferences with the Liberals during the day offering to drop contentious legislation such as the P. G. E. aid bill, the shipping bill, the Workmen's compensation, the agricultural aid and other such measures as the Opposition might name, if they would agree to a moderate supply and to make it definite that Parliament could exist until next June.

LIBERALS AFRAID.

Early Election Promised.

He promised them an early election, the Government going to the country on the bills which would be dropped for the present, it being the probable intention of the Government if elected to have a summer session to put them through.

At first the Liberals agreed to the proposal, then they came back later with the statement that the only supply they would agree to vote would be civil salaries for three months, and enough money to make spring repairs on the roads. They refused any public works vote at all. They also wanted immediate dissolution and an election at once.

Refused Demands.

Their demands were indignantly refused by the Premier in a fighting speech on the floor of the House. He told of the private conferences and declared that the Liberals apparently desired to throttle the prohibition bill, as he would be unable to put it through as he had promised if the House dissolved now. He declined to consider the voting of any supply, other than a supply for the whole year.

Messrs. Brewster, Macdonald, Williams and Place attacked the Premier in unmeasured terms. They defied the administration to put through the amending bill and used every artifice in their power to delay its passage.

A Bitter Fight.

The fight throughout the day was a bitter one, with the Government "sitting tight" and the Opposition angrily battering it at every point.

The Premier claimed that at the worst he had all of today in which to put through the bill to make it clear the life of the Parliament was until June 1.

The Opposition contended that, as several of the returning officers certificates in 1912 were marked March 14, the House was automatically dissembled at midnight last night.

With one amendment after another they held the fort until twenty minutes past twelve, when the bill was finally given its third reading.

They now promise action before the Court of Appeals to determine the exact status of the Legislature.

Premier's Attack.

Premier Bowser told the Opposition late yesterday that he would withdraw his offer to allow them to name the contentious bills to be dropped for the session, and although he proposed to lay over some measures, he would decide himself what they would be.

He charged that the Liberals were secretly allied with the liquor interests in endeavoring to force dissolution at once, thus tying up the business of the country, preventing the estimates being passed for necessary work and delaying a prohibition vote indefinitely.

As It Stands Now.

As the situation now stands, unless the Liberals can file a legal hole in the Government's armor, Parliament, unless dissolved earlier has a lease on life until June1. It is probable that the House will be prorogued, the Parliament dissolved about the middle of April, with an election towards the end of June, or first of July. Much depends upon the obstructionist tactics used by the Opposition.

Votes For Soldiers.

Premier Bowser proposes to bring in a bill to give the vote to all British Columbia soldiers in the British possessions. Those in the Old Country will vote on the elections here, but not those at the front, it being difficult to obtain necessary power to take the vote of men on foreign soil.

The Premier declares that despite the opposition of the Liberal members he proposes to carry through his prohibition programme so that the people may vote on it at the time of the general elections, the Premier and his section of the Conservative members will endeavor to eliminate compensation from the issue it is said, although many of the members in caucus are struggling to have this added, either in the bill or on the referendum.

WANT QUICK ACTION.

The Liberals at Victoria are very anxious to get a snap verdict of the people before they are found out at their humbugging. By some method, best known to themselves, that party has cast a spell over the old Socialist leader, Parker Williams, and have succeeded in having that worthy forsake the principles of the Socialist party in order to get the Liberals into power. Anyone who has followed politics in British Columbia well remembers the wicked attacks that the Liberal party, when it had before a following in the House, made upon the Socialists. The old-time antagonism has all passed away now and the lion and the lamb lie down beside one another. The former spokesman for the Labormen of the Province is now a faithful ally of the Liberals, whom he has denounced most unspairingly in years gone by. The attempt to win the thinking Labormen of this Province to the cause of the Liberal party through the wooing of Parker Williams or any other self-constituted advocate of the workingmen will fail when the situation is understood fully.

"The Incorrigible Dukane" is a straightforward story, told in a hearty, boyish style, with all the merriment of youth crowded into the five parts required to unfold the plot. The incorrigible Dukane, more familiarly known as Jimmy, has been leading the gay life of a millionaire's son, Dukane, Sr., being the wealthy owner of a concrete construction company. But his frivolity has finally drawn upon him the parental wrath and ended the parental allowance. So it becomes necessary for Jimmy to go to work. He is sent out to the West where his father's company is building a dam. Jimmy expects to be superintendent, but en route to the West a tramp steals his clothes, leaving his own discarded clothes of the vintage of '80. Clad in this sad uniform, Dukane arrives at the scene of the dam and tells the burly superintendent that he is Dukane, Jr., and has come to manage the job. The superintendent politely (or as much so as a burly superintendent can be) tells him to go to work with the pick and shovel at $2.00 per day. The surprises and adventures that ensue from this point, the development of the romance between himself, in the guise of a stone-cutter, and the daughter of the ranch owner who is fighting his father's company from building on his land, and his ultimate triumph in exposing the treacherous engineer who is cheating his father by substituting some cheap product for concrete, make a lively and very enjoyable photoplay.

"The Incorrigible Dukane," produced with all the care for which the Famous Players Film Company is famed throughout the world, with realistic exterior and elaborate interior settings, is such a photoplay as will interest people of all tastes and preferences. Superbly directed by James Durkin, and carefully constructed so that all the interesting elements of the story are logically developed and presented, the subject should not only amuse but delight the patrons of the Westholme.

IRISH CONCERT HELD IN PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Good Programme Was Given Last Evening By Ladies' Aid.

The Irish concert given last evening in the Presbyterian Church, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society, was a decided success. Fred Stork presided. The place was decorated in a manner to remind one of Ireland at every turn. Shamrock was used largely, while the harp was also in evidence.

The Misses Stevens rendered a piano duet. Mrs. J. McLeod sang "Killarney," and for an encore rendered "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms." Mr. Darton sang "A Son of the Desert Am I." A number that received a hearty encore was an instrumental selection, with Mrs. Bryant, guitar and Messrs. Edmonds and Duffy mandolins. Mrs. Burritt gave a recitation.

A comic song by Private W. B. Anderson with banjo accompaniment by Private Avery, both of the 102nd, was much enjoyed. Mrs. J. McLeod rendered "Keep the Home Fires Burning." Private Collins gave a cornet solo with Miss Irwin as accompanist at piano. Misses Stevens rendered a piano duet.

LARGE COPPER ORDER PLACED IN NEW YORK

European Nations Are Looking After Supplies Of The Metal.

One of the large foreign governments has placed an order for 10,000,000 pounds of copper metal at 26 1-2 cents. Deliveries of the metal are to be made during the months of October, November and December, says a New York despatch.

Domestic consumers are showing renewed interest in the market and the inquiries from Europe also are assuming larger proportions. This is considered remarkable, in view of the active purchasing by all consuming interests for several months past.

The sale of 10,000,000 pounds to a foreign government caused no surprise in the trade, because of the general knowledge that all the European nations are anxious to take care of their future requirements and are willing to contract for metal far in the future.

March First starts the Big Sale at Kirkpatrick's.

Eye Troubles Corrected

Mr. Bulger has had over ten years experience in sight testing and fitting glasses, and last mid-summer took a post graduate course, which included the latest discoveries in the science of optometry or eye measuring. One of the most important is dynamic skiametry. The new method of Prof. A. J. Cross, of New York, in which the eye is measured by a beam of reflected light and any error is recorded.

But we do not simply rely on one method; each eye is tested separately, in three different ways, besides trying the muscular balance, together and the nervous acuteness.

We use the new drugless methods, no drops in the eye and no heavy frame resting on your face; ours swings from the wall by a bracket.

"The Reliable Plumber," Prince Rupert, B. C.,

I have great pleasure in certifying to the excellent hot water and heating system that you installed in our parsonage, and that after six months of operation through the winter months it has given every satisfaction.

The system heats a thirty gallon tank of water to boiling temperature in one hour after the fire has been started; it in no way interferes with the oven for baking purposes. In addition to this, the wall radiator which you placed in dining-room and connected with the range boiler has given us splendid satisfaction, supplying us with ample heating throughout the winter, saving us the cost of a stove and fuel.

I most heartily testify to the satisfaction and efficiency of your system and gladly recommend it.

Yours very truly,
(Signed) (Rev.) J. F. DIMMICK.
