How Weekly Half Holiday Is Carried Out Under Law

City Solicitor Explains Changes In Law Affecting Shops And Early Closing

Owing to the many inquiries made as to the changes in the Shops Act and the new Weekly Half-Holiday Act, Fred Peters, K.C., the city solicitor, was interviewed in order to ascertain what the chief points of changes were.

He stated that thee Half-Holiday Act should be first considered. This legislation was absolutely new. Its chief provision is that after the 1st of July there shall be a half holiday in every week, in all shops which are not specially exempt from the statute, the half holiday to commence at one o'clock upon the day fixed.

With regard to Victoria, Vancouver and New Westminster the Statute provided for the holding of an election on the 14th day of June of this year. The election was held, and so far as those cities are concerned, the half holiday was fixed for Saturday.

With regard to the other municipalities including Prince Rupert the day was not fixed by Statute, nor was any provision made for holding an election upon the matter until January, 1917, but, it was provided, that if a bylaw had HERETOFORE been passed, fixing a weekly half-holiday, the day fixed by such bylaw should be observed as a half-holiday. In point of fact Prince Rupert had not heretofore passed such bylaw. The Statute proceeds to say that if there is no such bylaw, or if there is no agreement for a weekly half-holiday, the employer and employees in each business shall agree upon the day for the half-holiday, and, if they are unable to agree that the employer shall settle the question himself, by putting up a notice in his store that such and such a day is to be observed as a half-holiday. This state of affairs exists only until January, 1917, when an election will have to be held settling the day for the half-holiday.

These provisions apply to all shops with the exception of those expressly exempted in the Statute, which are bakers, barbers, cigar stores, drug stores, newspapers, restaurants, fruit and vegetable shops, and shops for the sale of soft drinks, cut flowers, dairy produce and confectionary. It is also provided that the Act shall not apply to any shop in which the only or principal trade or business carried on is a trade or business of any of the classes mentioned in Schedule 'A,' which are exempted c'asses. This would appear to mean that so far as the half-holiday is concerned that any of the exempted businesses or shops may keep open, notwithstanding that they sell some goods which are not exempt, provided the principal business is exempted.

There is another point worthy of notice. Section 9 of the Half-Holiday Act provides that if the half-holiday is settled on for Saturday that the shop may keep open until half-past nine o'clock on Friday, any by-law to the contrary notwithstanding. This gives to the shops where Saturday is agreed upon as the half-holiday the distinct advantage over a shop where another day is agreed upon, because the half-past nine rule only applies to Friday.

This Half-Holiday Act also applies to shops where there are no employees, the employer is apparently compelled to give himself a holiday. This by Section 12.

With regard to the Shops Act the City last year passed Early Closing Bylaws, with the working of which the merchants and general public are now familiar. But a very material change has been made in the Shops Act. Section 12 of the old Shops Act enacted that "A shop in which trades of two or more classes are carried on shall be closed for the purpose of all such trades at the hour at which it is by any such bylaw required to be closed for the purpose of that one of such trades which is the principal trade carried on in the shop."

This worked out in practice somewhat as follows: A grocer's principal trade naturally would be the sale of groceries, but he very often might have side lines which he sold in addition to groceries. Under Section 12 his principal trade being that of a grocer, he had to close for all purposes.

By the act of this year the very opposite principle has been adopted, which I cannot make clearer than by quoting sub-section (2) of Section 3 of the amending Act: "(2). In a municipality the Council of which has, by bylaw passed pursuant to this Act, required all or any class or

H S.CLEMENTS, M.P., IS IN THE CITY

MEMBER FOR THE DISTRICT IN HOUSE OF COMMONS IS HERE

He Has Arrived After Seeing the 102nd Battalion off for England

There arrived in the city on Sunday evening from the east H. S. Clements, M.P., and Col. Smythe, M.P. The former is the member in the House of Commons for Comox-Atlin, while the latter represents Algoma in the Commons.

Mr. Clements has just returned from a trip made as far east as Halifax where he saw the 102nd Battalion off on the way to England. He says the local members of the regiment left in the best of spirits.

They have arrived in England already without mishap. Mr. Clements will leave tonight for the south.

Col. Smythe, who is a fellow member of the Commons, has already organized the Algoma Battalion. Since then he has been assigned to the organization of the Lumbermen's Battalion and is here for that purpose. He will leave for the south this evening with Mr. Clements.

Col. Smythe, who is a lumberman, says the immense resources of B.C. in the line of timber are bound to make it a great revenue producer. He contends that the pulp wood of this coast is a rich asset.

HEAVY SALES OF HALIBUT WERE MADE

OVER 300,000 POUNDS OF FISH WERE SOLD DURING TWO DAY'S TIME

PRICE OF HALIBUT WENT DOWN TO SIX CENTS PER POUND

Saturday was a holiday with the fish buyers, and when they turned up on Sunday morning they were confronted with a fleet of fifteen vessels, whose catches aggregated a quarter of a million pounds. These heavy receipts, combined with other circumstances, affected the price, which sagged to six cents a pound.

At this price the Atlin Fisheries bought six catches, amounting to 70,000 pounds, and the Pacific Fisheries took 40,000 pounds at the same figure. While the Skugaid, of the Cold Storage Co.'s fleet discharged 60,000 pounds at the company's plant, some of the boats were obliged to hold their catches over until yesterday. Yesterday morning when buying was resumed prices were away down but finally came up to six cents again and at this figure the Atlin Fisheries, Pacific Fisheries and National Independent Fish Company, each secured about 45,000 pounds; making aggregate sales for the two days of over 300,000 pounds.

TRADES AND LABOR ON HOLIDAY POINT

DEPUTATION WAITED UPON THE CITY COUNCIL AT SITTING LAST NIGHT

City Body is Not in a Position to Take Any Action in the Matter

Last evening at the City Council meeting a deputation of the Trades and Labor Council waited upon the City Council relative to the Weekly Half Holiday.

S. D. Macdonald, representing the Trades and Labor Council, advocated a general day of closing for the half holiday. The Trades and Labor Council believed that a uniform day should be decided upon. They represented the Retail Clerks.

D. McCorkindale was afraid that there might be confusion should there be an adoption of different days in the week.

The Mayor explained the Act as interpreted by the City Solicitor which left the City Council without power to act.

The stand of the City Council is set forth in the statement given by the City Solicitor in another column.

HERRING WILL BE IMPORTANT TRADE

CAPT. SELIG GIVES HIS VIEWS WITH RESPECT TO THE FISHING INDUSTRY

Pacific Coast Will Have Its Part in the Herring Industry He Says

Captain "Bill" Selig, of the Vasa, who has, in his day, fished for every variety of fish that swims in the sea, from the dimunitive sardine to the monstrous whale believes that the day is coming, and that soon, when halibut fishing will be a small end of the fishing industry on this coast. Captain Selig recently, while in the vicinity of North Island, threw a herring net over the side. When in the course of half an hour, he drew it back again it was fairly bristling with fine, big, fat herring that had been caught in its meshes.

Captain Selig, who knows a fish when he sees it, says that this herring is equal in quality to some of the best brands put up on the Atlantic coast. They are entirely different from the small, lean variety that are taken for bait earlier in the season. Thousands of tons of the inferior grades of herring caught in the Atlantic find their way annually to the markets of Brazil, Argentine and the West Indies, and now that the Panama Canal is open, Captain Selig sees no reason why some of that trade could not be diverted to this coast.

Italian Gains

Rome, July 3.—The Italians continuing their offensive in Trentino are driving Austrians from the trenches at Selse Monfalcone. Hundreds of prisoners have been taken.

British And French Are Advancing Along Extended Battle Front

London, July 3. — North and south of the Somme the British and French have advanced over a twenty-five mile front. The troops overcame furious resistance, captured thousands of Germans and destroyed six observation balloons.

Since the enemy gained ground at Verdun recently the French and British commenced a general offensive firing a million shells a day, using guns of every type, destroying communicating trenches and ammunition stations, wrecking everything within range, opening channels enough to pass two million fully equipped men and compelling the enemy to retire.

Prisoners declare that the terrific bombardment prevents the advance of food to the front lines. Everything indicates that the start of the anticipated consolidated drive has been instituted, consequently London and Paris are confident that the action must shorten the war.

On account of tremendous opposition at every point the Kaiser cannot reinforce his armies. Desperate engagements are raging in every theatre. Intense excitement is prevailing in the Allied cities.

To prevent transmission of naval and military information Britain is regulating passenger traffic between Great Britain and the Continent, searching baggage and prohibiting unnecessary travel.

The French Report

Paris, July 3.—Under a blazing sun the British and French armies are continuing their drive along a twenty-five mile front above Hebutine and below Fay. The French have captured Habrecourt, Coulee, Montefau, and Curlu, with the latter place six thousand prisoners. The enemy made savage counter attacks but seemed to be completely swamped by the drive of the Allied troops. They seemed to be more short of men than of ammunition. The great drive so far is described as being more substantial than sensational. Before much further progress is made the ground taken must be secured, and the opposing positions well pounded by artillery. British casualties are small in proportion to the ground covered and gained.

NO REDUCTION IS MADE IN TRADE LICENSES

City Council is Not Agreeable to a Lowering of the Fee

At the City Council meeting last evening the question of the licenses fees for the year were considered on a request made by the tradesmen for a reduction.

When it was proposed to make no reduction Ald. Nelson moved that the matter be laid over for a week and that the Council go into the question of reduction for various licenses in the meantime. He argued that not only should land taxes be reduced but the business licenses should be lowered. He had favored a reduction in the liquor licenses and likewise in trade licenses.

Ald. Dybhavn thought this was a wrong time to introduce reductions in the trade licenses. He thought, however, that as the hotel keepers had been refused the reduction, therefore these trade licenses should not be reduced.

The motion not to interfere with the licenses carried.

classes of shops to be or remain closed during any specified hours or time, no person shall sell or offer for sale during such hours or time, in or at any shop, store, or place of business where trades of two or more classes are carried on, any goods, ware, or merchandise which he could not under such bylaw have then lawfully sold if such goods, wares or merchandise had been the only goods wares, or merchandise kept for sale in such shop, store, or place of business."

From this it would appear that a grocer, for instance, may after half-past six o'clock on ordinary weekdays keep his shop open, not for the purpose of selling groceries but for the purpose of selling goods of a nature exempt from Statute. For instance a grocer might keep open after half past six for the purpose of selling fruit, but he must not sell groceries. I believe this section was inserted to meet the objection raised by Vancouver and Victoria merchants that the purely fruit stores under the Shops Act competed unfairly with grocers who sold under the old Act. It must, however, be borne in mind, that when I state that this change has been made in the Shops Act that under the Half-Holiday Act no such change has been made, and the closing must be observed if the principal business carried on is one not exempt from the Half-Holiday Act.

It has been suggested to me that the Council could now settle the day on which the half-holiday should be held by bylaw. I feel satisfied that an attempt to do this would have the certain effect of causing trouble and leading to litigation.

From the peculiar wording of the Half-Holiday Act, when it speaks of a bylaw "heretofore passed," it would appear to me it was intended to take away from the Council the power of passing any such bylaw until January next. Again, even if we had the power to make a change suggested it could certainly not be done without a petition signed by over 50 per cent. in number of the occupiers of shops to which our old Early Closing Bylaws applied. Under the Shops Act we might originally have fixed a weekly half-holiday, but this was not suggested when the Early Closing Bylaws were passed last year. It would appear to me that having regard to the numerous questions that will arise, until most of them are set at rest next January, any attempt to alter our present bylaws would be unwise. The Legislature evidently favored the giving of a half-holiday on Saturday, and it was for this reason that they held out the inducement that if Saturday was chosen for the half-holiday the shopkeepers would have the benefit of being able to keep open until half-past nine on Friday; no such benefit being given in the case of a half-holiday on any other day than Saturday.

ORGANIZED LABOR SPENT AN ENJOYABLE EVENING

Trades and Labor Council Held a Very Successful Smoker

Under the auspices of the Trades & Labor Council, a largely attended and most successful smoker was held in the Knight of Pythias Hall on the evening of Dominion Day. The program included a monologue by Mr. Hill, songs by Geo. Waddell, A. Fortin, Mr. Couture, Tom Black, Mr. Craggs, Mr. Sullivan, Mr. Higbee (Ketchikan), whistling and singing by Charley Hunter; songs, by Mr. Shaw, Mr. Hughes and Mr. Harvey, and a piano solo by Mr. Daugherty. There were chorus's by the Ketchikan ball team and acrobatic stunts cleverly performed by Mr. Dyer. During the course of the evening a wireless bulletin telling of the great advance of the Allies was read from the platform. The audience instantly rose to their feet cheering and lustily sang The National Anthem and Rule Britannia, after which Mr. Couture in great voice sang the Marseillaise. Instrumental music was played by the Westholme orchestra and very appetising refreshments were plentifully provided by a committee of the Bartenders' Union under chairmanship and very able direction of Mr. H. E. Ross, to whose personal care the success in a large measure of the evening is cordially credited by the Trades and Labor Council. The Council also thank Mr. J. E. Merryfield for two boxes of excellent cigars. A most enjoyable evening's entertainment was rounded out with brief addresses on organized labor by Organizer W. E. Thompson, and President S. D. Macdonald.

VITAGRAPH MASTERPIECE AT THE MAJESTIC

"Shadows of the Past" Will Be Presented in Three Acts This Evening

Mark Stetson, a scheming politican, entangles the Brandons, husband and wife, and their friend Antoinette, in his smuggling schemes and engineers their arrest, to protect himself.

The picture opens with the liberation from prison of the trio and their determination to lead a respectable life. Stetson, who has kept track of the three, knowing of their release, visits them in their home and insinuates that he still has them in his power. They flee the city.

Five years later, Brandon, by perseverance and industry has achieved a position of trust in an insurance company. Antoinette promises to become his wife.

Stetson, a supposed friend of Haddon, visits the lawyer's office, sees Antoinette and follows her home. He discovers she is living with the Brandons and determines to use them in his scheme of selling Haddon to the opposition candidate. Brandon resents the politicians advances of friendship, but is compelled to accede to his wishes, though not until after a desperate struggle in which the wily schemer obtains the upper hand.

During the nomination dinner, the Brandons are to induce Haddon to visit a famous Cafe, create a scandal and endanger the candidate's chances for election. In the meantime, Stetson makes love to Antoinette. He proposes she help him in just one more little innocent scheme and then he will go out of her life forever. Still fearful of him she consents. Stetson takes her to his apartments. Antoinette becomes suspicious when she finds the doors locked and demands to know what he intends doing. He tells her he is going to break Haddon. She gets an inkling of what Stetson intends doing and by a clever ruse escapes, and, by taxi, makes all speed to reach the cafe and Haddon in time to prevent the fulfillment of the plot.

Stetson and his accomplice follow. Antoinette's taxi dashes across a rail road track just in time to escape an oncoming train. Stetson, trying to follow, smashes in to the engine and the occupants of the auto are hurled to their death.

Antoinette reaches the Cafe before the Brandons have had time to carry out the politician's orders and they, surmising something has gone wrong decide to make the best of the situation. Antoinette tells Haddon of her past and all ends happily.

EXPLANATION OF FAILURE TO VISIT THE CITY

Ketchikan Ball Team Were Unable to Bring Many Visitors Here

The following letter received by V. A. Cole, is self explanatory:

Ketchikan ball team came to Prince Rupert to fulfill a contract made with the management of the Prince Rupert Ball Club, Dominion Day, played ball but brought the team only. V. A. Cole of Prince Rupert, working in conjunction with Mr. Stackpole, of Ketchikan, did everything possible to secure a boat from either the G.T.P. or the C.P.R. to run the excursion from Ketchikan to Rupert, but for some unknown reason could not secure a boat for that purpose, although any guarantee required would have been furnished by the Ketchikan people to secure said boat.

The people of Ketchikan had decided to declare a holiday on Dominion Day and everybody from that town come, feeling that we owed it to Prince Rupert.

It is hoped that one of these companies will see their way clear to arrange a schedule so that it will be possible for Ketchikan and Prince Rupert to continue the good fellowship that has existed in the past.

Eye Troubles Corrected
Mr. Bulger has had over ten years experience in sight testing and fitting glasses, and last mid-summer took a post graduate course, which included the latest discoveries in the science of optometry or eye measuring. One of the most important is dynamic skiametry. The new method of Prof. A. J. Cross, of New York, in which the eye is measured by a beam of reflected light and any error is recorded.
But we do not simply rely on one method; each eye is tested separately, in three different ways, besides trying the muscular balance, together and the nervous acuteness.
We use the new drugless methods, no drops in the eye and no heavy frame resting on your face; ours swings from the wall by a bracket

Prince Rupert, B. C.,
I have great pleasure in certifying to the excellent hot water and heating system that you installed in our parsonage, and that after six months of operation through the winter months it has given every satisfaction.
The system heats a thirty gallon tank of water to boiling temperature in one hour after the fire has been started; it in no way interferes with the oven for baking purposes. In addition to this, the wall radiator which you placed in dining-room and connected with the range boiler has given us splendid satisfaction, supplying us with ample heating throughout the winter, saving us the cost of a stove and fuel.
I most heartily testify to the satisfaction and efficiency of your system and gladly recommend it.
Yours very truly,
(Signed) (Rev.) J. F. DIMMICK.
