Correspondent Calls For Support Of William Manson

British Columbia Forever Shows Wherein Manson Is Logical One To Support

To the Editor:

Now Jack Turnbull of the News. I've got you on the hike. Paper pluggers and lead pluggers are dangerous artices for politicians to deal with, and you well know Jock that in bonnie Scotland we would much rather draw the plug from a quart bottle of Scotch than from a Smith and Wesson revolver.

Now Jock fun is fun and you and I have had our share of fun in this campaign, but being the election is so close and we must be more canny I am in full earnest Jock that we cannot be so unfaithful to our own best interests as to cast a vote for Mr. Pattullo.

I think Jock you had better cut it out. Pattullo may be all right as an aristocrat but Mr. Manson is the laboring man's friend. He always was Jock and I don't think he will go back on us now.

To remind you Jock of what we white folks like to see we don't want any man that hires Chinese labor in his home or his factory. I am sorry to say that Mr. Brewster has too many of them in his cannery and Mr. Pattullo could often find a woman for domestic help instead of Chinese or Jap.

Jock you are getting to be a better boy and I will report you guid to dear old faither.

BRITISH COLUMBIA FOREVER.

ELECTION TIME REFLECTIONS

VOTE FOR HON. WILLIAM MANSON AND THE BOWSER GOVERNMENT

T. D. Pattullo's recommendation for Mr. Brewster, the leader that having reached fifty years of age, he is almost sure to remain honest is a very doubtful compliment to pay to any man who has not been convicted of wrong doing. There are several Liberal candidates that fall below the 50 age. Are we to infer that these men are likely to become dishonest and are not to be trusted. There are two or three in the north that the electorate is going to remove from all temptation.

* * * *

Perhaps Mr. Pattullo was reminiscent of the Vancouver by-election when he inferred that Liberal politicians were not to be trusted far out of sight until they reached 50 years of age.

* * * *

It need not surprise the public to have the Vancouver election plugging explained away on the score that those accused of being mixed in it had not reached the half-century mark.

* * * *

Mr. Pattullo defends the course of foregoing a public owned electric plant on the ground that the city would have been better off by taking that course. There are others that will agree with the proposition that the city might have been just as well off to have taken the company offer. But the fact remains that the Liberals of he Province were pledged to public ownership or at least had a very lengthy listo f principles upon which they were supposed to get the support of the electorate. One of these was the public ownership plank. On the hustings these self same Grits were ready to die rather than go back on one of these principles, which were in reality only designed as vote catchers. At the first opportunity

Hon. William Manson Is Assured Of Grand Success At The Polls

Hon William Manson, Minister of Agriculture arrived home Tuesday morning by the Prince George having completed a trip through the southern portion of his constituency. He visited Surf Inlet, Hartley Bay, Kitimaat, Butedale, Bella Coola and Namu.

Business conditions in that part of the district were never better, The canneries at Butedale, Bella Bella, Kimqush, Namu and Bella Coola have all had a good season and some of them have made record packs.

At Ocean Falls construction work on the pulp plant is being rapidly pushed through. Three shifts are working, some 900 men being employed at the present.

That work together with the logging operations of he Company is causing great activity in that section.

The Bella Coola valley is looking its best at this season of the year. Additional land is being put under cultivation. Although the season is rather late the crops have turned out well. The fishermen have done well, the Bella Coola cannery having put up a record pack. This together with the operations at the pulp plant at Ocean Falls has given great encouragement to the people of Bella Coola, who find that the valley has now entered upon an era of prosperity.

At Surf Inlet mining developments is proceeding in fine shape. Some 250 men are employed partly as miners and partly on the new dam at the waterfront and on the

Bill Aimed At Cutting Off Prince Rupert's Fish Business Has Been Killed At Washington

The bill intended by certain interests that have been antagonistic to Prince Rupert securing its rightful share of the fish business has been killed at Washington.. This is the proposed measure that has been before Congress since May, and which has been hanging as a danger over the fishing trade out of here. Lately it was attached to a revenue bill, and early yesterday the disquieting news was received here that that bill had gone through. Later, however, came the news that the abnoxious clause governing this fishing business had been struck off of it, and so the situation remains as at present.

The abnoxious measure set forth as follows: "No fish or frozen halibut or salmon from the North Pacific Ocean or its tributary waters shall be admitted to the United States through any foreign country, except when the same is in bond from an American port."

This move, which is said to have had its origin among the fish packers and buyers of Ketchikan, was pressed very strongly of late, at least by the Seattle fishing concerns.

The Chicago retailing fish firms on the other hand opposed its passage, because they stated the fish arrived from Prince Rupert in far better shape than when shipped from Seattle,

The effect of the bill, as explained by the Seattle fish firms, would be to prevent American boats coming to Prince Rupert and shipping in bond from here to American cities as is done now. It was not intended to interefere with fish from Canadian boats entering the United States.

From the start the passage of the bill by Congress has been fought locally as well as could be done. The G. T. P. Company, working in conjunction with the Dominion Government, had the British Ambassador take the matter up at Washington, where it was combatted on the ground of its being in conflict with treaty rights. The Mayor and Council, as well as the Board of Trade and all other bodies that had any connection brought themselves to bear on it, and also enlisted any assistance that could be obtained directly or indirectly.

The defeat of the proposed law is a matter of hearty congratulation by all here.

Last Month Proved Record One For Prince Rupert In Halibut Landed At This Port

Last month established a record for this port in the quantity of halibut landed here. For August there was 3,135,600 pounds brought in, valued at the low rate of $5 a hundred at $156,780. This amount has never been reached before at this port.

In salmon the month of August shows 10,773,500 pounds tatken, valued at $538,675. This large amount was due to the fact that the cannery season was in full swing on the Skeena.

In cod there was 72,700 pounds.

MANSON A WINNER.

Hon. William Manson is now conceded to be elected. All through the riding he is the popular choice. He will have a good majority to go back to stand support to the Conservative Government that will be returned.

PREVENT PLUGGING.

It is only one week until election day. Conservatives should take pains to see that in plugging of the ballot boxes like what disgraced the by-elections in Vancouver is carried out. The evidence taken at the investigation showed that the organization was planned for the general election. It is known that preliminary work was done in this riding. The plan was stopped and Conservatives must be prepared to prevent any repetition of the by-election scandals.

THE FISH BILL.

The defeat of the bill intended to divert fishing business from here by Congress at Washington is indeed good news. The passage of such a measure would have had a most disquieting effect upon the business here. It is more than probable that in some other way the difficulties might have been overcome, but the effect for the meantime at least would be most injurious.

NEWSPAPER REPUTATION.

During his speech at the Liberal meeting last evening Mr. Pattullo took occasion to quote from The Journal several times, and in doing so paid this paper the compliment of being always right. Now Mr. Pattullo probably was speaking a little in a bantering spirit, we suppose, but The Journal has a reputation for reporting accurately and is proud of that feature. We claim that when the public read a report of what takes place or is said it should have reason to feel confident of its truth.

they showed they were ready to go back on these.

* * * *

The News misrepresents Hon. Mr. Manson on the tax proposition, with respect to the city and the Provincial Government. Mr. Manson has used his influence to the fullest extent to get for this city what Point Grey has got. Moreover, here is little danger but what Prince Rupert will get the benefit asked for.

LIBERAL MEETING WAS COLD AFFAIR

THERE WAS SMALL ATTENDANCE AT THE PUBLIC GATHERING IN EMPRESS

T. D. Pattullo And Other Speakers Criticized Conservative Government.

The Liberal meeting held last evening in the Empress Theatre proved a very cold one. The attendance was small and there were unmistakeable evidences at all stages of the proceeding that T. D. Pattullo is fighting a losing battle and is losing every day. During the time the candidate was speaking there were only about 135 present.

George Frizzell acted as chairman. He spoke very briefly in opening. Rev. W. Stevenson, who is in charge of the Prohibition movement here, spoke at the opening. He advocated a vote for prohibition on different lines.

Mr. Blethen of the Seattle Times gave the information that there now were fewer arrests after prohibition came into effect. The speaker believed that prohibition would cut off a vast amount of misery. He believed it would mean more labor in the province. It was true that if the bars were closed a number would be displaced but it was shown that 8 or 9 men would be found a place for every one put out of employment.

W. P. Lynch attacked the railway policy of the Government. Branch railways were never paying investments. These railway builders did not care whether it did or not. They wanted to make money out of the expending of the money. He contended that in the expenditure the Government handed over about $1 for 50 cents worth of work. If they returned this Government this would continue. If they voted Mr. Brewster and Duff Pattullo in they would get a government that would call for contracts and have the work done for half what it now cost.

T. D. Pattullo said he had been asked to put in a word in favor of Woman Suffrage. He could see no reason why women should not have the vote on the same qualification as men.

On the salmon industry he did not believe that the industry should be in the hands of a monopoly and that Orientals should get the benefits out of it. It was not an issue as to whether he employed a Chinese servant at one time. He himself would vote in favor of the total exclusion of Orientals from British Columbia.

Mr. Pattullo said he was glad to deal with the question of public utilities, which Mr. Manson had referred to at that time. Mr. Manson had supported the Government that gave away he water rights of the city. While Mr. Manson was Mayor the city paid $1,500 to Mr. Woodworth for the rights he had got.

On the matter of the telephone companies, Mr. Pattullo said there were outside companies that had the right to come in here. Knowing that, he felt that it would be as well to have local men make money out of it. He made a proposition to the Board of Trade to get the rights. At the meeting it was proposed to have the citizens secure this. The money was subscribed, he being one, to hold the system until the city was incorporated. It was due to his own action in bringing this to the attention of the Board of Trade that the city had the system.

It would be better for this city to get over the idea of not allowing local men to make anything out of the city.

Turning to the question of the light and power proposition. A company was agreeable to supply power at the gates of the city at quite as fair a rate as the city could have produced it. He believed it would have been a good thing to have had that company's proposition carried out, so that they would have influential capitalists interested here.

Mr. Pattullo recounted his visit to Victoria in connection with the obtaining of the charter for the city when the water rights were being proposed for on behalf of Prince Rupert. Mr. Manson did not put up a fight for what the delegates wanted. It was then that he broke with Mr. Manson.

He attacked the patronage system. He did not pretend to say that he would if elected favor putting his opponents in high office. He believed that a system of local boards could be organized to take care of this road working in the district.

The Conservatives would have to go into the wilderness for a time to be regenerated. He had favored Liberals retiring from the field whenever Socialists or any other independent candidates were stronger.

In concluding his appeal for a vote, Mr. Pattullo advocated the selection of Mr. Brewster, because he was an honest man who had enough to live on comfortably and had reached about 50 years and so was not likely to go astray now.

G. R. Naden spoke very briefly.

At Kitamaat the settlers are making progress on their places, and the logging going on in the neighborhood is greatly assisting that community. A school has now been opened at Kitimaat which should prove a great encouragement to new settlers coming in.

Political conditions in the southern portion of this district, Mr. Manson says is most satisfactory and he is assured of large majorities at all polling places.

Public meetings were held at Bella Coola, Hagensborg and Ocean Falls at which there were large attendances anxious to hear full particulars of the Government policies which is hearily endorsed and is in striking contrast to the absence of any programme or policy put forward by the Liberals who have nnothing to offer but criticism and abuse.

SCENE FROM "DIPLOMACY" (FAMOUS PLAYERS) AT THE MAJESTIC THIS EVENING

Cameron Cove Case Is Still Before Supreme Court For Settlement

The Westholme Lumber Company's case against the G.T.P. for damages incurred in connection with the filling in of Cameron Cove is still in progress. Yesterday evidence for the plaintiff company was concluded. The defendants case has yet to be put in. Mr. Albert, who had given evidence the day previous, was re-examined by Mr. Mayers for the Westholme Company. Mr. Albert said there had been negotiations repeatedly with the G. T. P. looking to a settlement. When he put the extra cost of handling at the wharf, over using Cameron Cove at 75, he used a figure that was well within the mark.

J. G. Weston testified that he had had a contract from the Ocean Falls Lumber Company for unloading from the scow at the G. T. P. wharf to the yards for $1.75 a thousand.

He believed it would be worth from 50 cents to 75 cents a thousand to handle light lumber over the wharf and pile it there. Heavy lumber would be worth from $1 to $1.25.

A. Carss called, testified to correspondence produced, which he had written as solicitor for the Westholme, seeking a settlement. He had written to H. S. Clements, M. P., in Ottawa asking him to seek to get the G. T. P. to settle.

Cross-examined by Mr. Davis, the witness could not recall that some of these claimants had tried to have members of the Provincial Government interest themselves in getting a settlement. He did not ask Mr. Clements to interview members of the Government to get the G. T. P. to settle.

H. F. McLeod, District Registrar of Title, gave evidence relative to certain documents.

H. A. Wheatley testified as to work done at the Cove, and technical evidence was given by J. Fred Ritchie and Mr. Ford.

This concluded the case for the plaintiff company.

At the hearing the day previous Sol Cameron testified that he had seen Sir Richard McBride, Premier of the Province before the lease to the lots was taken and Sir Richard gave him an assurance that certain lots marked as reserved would be kept reserved to give access from the open harbor.

C. D. Rand before the sale had also given him an assurance that the opening to the harbor would be kept.

Witness testified that he had the tug Edith drawing eight feet of water which had taken scows drawing from six to seven feet up to his lots. Later the railway company blocked up the entrance to he bay and kept it blocked for over a year. The Westholme Lumber Company went on laying the foundations for the lumber yards on the leased property because he hoped to see the Government compel the opening of this. His company had then to get waterfront on the harbor to take the place. This had entailed extra cost owing to the grade from the wharf being much heavier than on Third Ave. from his lots which was the easiest grade from the waterfront to the city. In handling coal and lumber there was heavy loss also between the two places.

Mr. Cameron testified that the rock cut cost $225; the retaining wall cost $750; the landing yard cost $2500; the roadway cost $330.

Mr. Cameron testified that he had instructed the present action to be taken. It was being taken for the benefit of himself and the widow of Parker Clarke, the other shareholder.

Cross examining witness, Mr. Davis asked if the Bank of Montreal did not give instructions to bring this action.

Mr. Cameron said he asked the Bank of Montreal to bring the action. He had insisted upon the Bank bringing this action. The retaining wall was to have been paid for by other four holders of property there. they had not paid for it. They could if they had the use of their property for the purposes intended.

The court adjourned at one o'clock noon Mr. Cameron was asked by Mr. Davis as to whether in the notice of loss on Cameron Cove were not described as warehouse lots and not waterfront lots.

Witness acknowledged that but contended that they had water frontage.

In reply to a question Mr. Cameron said that for shipping by rail it would be cheaper to take lumber off scows in Cameron Cove and haul by wagon from the contemplated yards there to the railway line.

A series of questions were put by Mr. Davis as to bringing in coal by scows.

Mr. Cameron to the amusement of the court and all present persisted in pressing forward the statement that had his company been allowed to do business on the contemplated yards, coal could have been brought in far cheaper, the public would have got

EXCELLENT PROGRAMME AT THE MAJESTIC TONIGHT

Marie Doro Is Featured In Famous Players Story Of Love And Diplomatic Intrigue.

Marie Doro is featured in the Famous Players-Charles Frohman production of "Diplomacy," at the Majestic Theatre this evening, which was released on the Paramount programme on Februray 28. It is a picture that interests at all times and contains strong moments. The story is of diplomatic intrigue and it is played by an excellent cast. On the production side, too much care has been taken. There are large sets, one of the notable ones being of a ballroom and many dancers. Another is of a hotel lobby. The picture was taken in the South, the extreme South, and beauiful exteriors are provided.

Miss Doro has the role of Dora, a young woman in love with an Englishman who in the beginning has limited means. Her part, as in fact is the whole story, is one of straight drama. In the course of the story there are many occasions where she is given opportunity for emotional portrayal and well does she acquit herself. Elliott Dexter is Julian, the Englishman who through an appointment in the diplomatic service and the successful issue of an investment is permitted to win the consent of Dora's mother to the marriage. Mr. Dexter is wholesome, likable. Frank Losee is Henri, the older brother of Julian, and, like Frank Losee, he fits his part.

Russell Bassett is Baron Stein, the foreign diplomat seeking at all times the advantage of his government. Mr. Bassett has a strong role, and makes it stand out. George Majeroni is a polished Count Orloff, who wrongly suspects Dora of causing his arrest in Russia and nearly breaks up a honeymoon. Edith Campbell Walker is interesting as the instrument of Stein.

"Diplomacy" is a good picture. It has pictorial quality, is well produced, is finely acted, and contains an interesting story.

Mr. C. R. Denike, of Bulger & Denike, passed through the city yesterday returning from a pleasant trip to Vancouver over the G.T.P. route. He reports trade fairly brisk in the Alberta store and is well pleased with conditions, and thinks Prince Rupert shows early promise of bright future.

CAMERON COVE CASE

the coal cheaper and he would have made money.

Mitchell Albert, manager in Prince Rupert of the Westholme Lumber Company testified to the actual records of the company in Prince Rupert. They had imported here almost 20,000,000 feet of lumber since 1910. He detailed the amount for each year brought in by scow and by steaamer. For the whole time 12,408,875 feet was by steamer.

Mr. Albert contended that had they had the Cameron Cove property they could have brought more lumber in by scow and stored a large quantity. As it was now they had to rent storage places away from the wharf. This added to the cost. This was futher increased by the steep grade they had to draw it up. At Cameron Cove he believed lumber could have been handled for 5 cents a thousand while at the present wharf it cost from $1.75 to $2.25 a thousand.

Cross examined by Mr. Davis, counsel expressed surprise that the claim for damages had raised from $27,000 until now it stood at $190,000. Mr. Davis was also surprised that Mr. Albert had not kept exact figures to show what it cost to unload lumber at the wharf.

Mr. Albert said he had time and time again computed the cost as a load was taken off and it was about $1.00 a thousand.

During his cross examination when the subject of where the storage of lumber was now made, Mr. Albert said Mr. Mehan of the G.T.P. had been very kind in giving space to pile lumber.
