Germans Have Renewed Attacks Near Verdun British Gained Ground

London, March 3.—After a temporary lull the Germans have launched violent attacks along a wide front, north and northeast of Verdun. These attacks have been preceded by a tornado of shell fire directed especially in the region of Fort Douaumont.

French statements report that the German atttacks have been repulsed. The Teuton lines have been decimated by the French fire.

Apparently the Germans have now been able to bring up some of their heavy artillery. Meanwhile the effort to lighten the pressure against the French is necessitating the diversion of large forces.

The British struck a sudden and powerful blow against the Germans in the Ypres district. The offensive resulted in a capture of 800 yards of trenches, taken by the Germans in February.

PREMIER'S ANSWER ON PROHIBITION

WHAT HON. W. J. BOWSER SAID TO THE DELEGATES WHO MET HIM

His Reply Was In Fullest Accord With The Demands Of Prohibitionists.

The reply of Hon. W. J. Bowser, Premier of this Province, to the delegates of the prohibition leaders, who met him a few days ago in Victoria and which was briefly summarized in despatches received here is given as follows in the World, the organ of the prohibitionists:

Mr. President and Gentlemen:

I will try and give you the decision of the Executive Council as clearly and in as explicit a way as possible, without any added phraseology, so that we may all have a common understanding of the decision that we have arrived at. I think that you will find, after hearing the decision of the Executive, that the new Government's course has been a consistent one since we took office on December 15 last, although we may not have met the views of the ardent Prohibitionists, who, perhaps, have not been as patient with the Government as we think they should have been, considering the conditions surrounding the whole question, and particularly on account of my absence from the City of Victoria.

Not In Favor Of Direct Legislation.

ALASKA MAY HAVE AEROPLANE SERVICE

IT IS EXPECTED THAT THE PROPOSITION IS BEING LOOKED INTO

The Proposal Is To Supplement Mails With Light Freight.

After many years of faithful service, the Alaska mail dogs,—those of them that have not been "conscripted" for service "somewhere in France"—may get a well earned rest next winter, says Jack Underwood in the Seattle Times. The United States Government has called for bids for the delivery of mail by aeroplanes in all Alaska towns not open to steamship service.

A syndicate of Alaskans is now in California arranging for the construction, and, in the event of the syndicate being unable to get favorable contracts for mail delivery, it will be used to carry gold from the interior each year, after the transportation by water has been suspended.

Should a mail contract be made with the government a fleet of aeroplanes will be built this spring and summer. Every year more than $1,000,000 is taken out by the miners of Idatrod and other interior camps, after navigation is closed, and this gold usually is hauled out by dog teams, the journey requiring several weeks. The Alaskans figure that the saving of interest on the money, while the bullion is in transit, would pay the cost of operation of an aero-

Nearly Two Million Pounds Of Halibut Were Landed Here In February

The month of February was not a specially good month as far as fish receipts at this port were concerned. The season was rather against the fishing enterprise. Nevertheless over a million and a-half pounds of halibut were landed here, and well on for a million pounds of herring came into port.

The total catche of halibut was 1,643,400 pounds, which at 5 cents a pound represented $82,170. This value is far below the real one, inasmuch as 8 1-8 cents has been paid the fishermen for some time.

In herring the catch was 875,000 pounds, valued at one cent a pound. This herring was for bait for the most part.

In addition to these, there was brought into port 38,100 pounds of cod; 6,000 pounds of salmon and 1,000 pounds of crabs.

The total amount of fish brought here was 2,563,500 pounds, which in a season when the weather was bad for a considerable time is very creditable.

EXCELLENT SHOW AT WESTOHLME THEATRE

Seven Reel Entertainment Is A Good One Now At Play House.

The seven reel show at the Westholme Theatre is an excellent one. "The Making of Crooks" is a very powerful modern drama in three acts, It shows the struggle of evil against the good.

Ham and Bud, in "The Liberty Party" is very funny.

Willie Van, better known on the screen as "Cutey," uses extreme means in "The Highway Man." He has a hard time with his sweetheart's father, but finally elopes safely.

"Rescue" and "Think Mothers" are two splendid dramas.

Berlin Depressed By Reverses At Verdun Demands Bread And Peace

London, March 3.—It is reported from Berlin that the great German losses at Verdun, in spite of the attempts of the German press to be cheerful, has caused a general dejection, especially amongst the women. Last night a crowd of 10,000 marched along Unter Den Linden, crying "bread and peace."

Mounted police had to be used to disperse them.

To Fight German Trade.

British, French, Russian and Italian representatives are to meet shortly to decide the means to fight the German trade after the war.

Change Of Policy.

That important changes are impending in the government's fiscal and commercial policy is the deduction the London morning papers draw from Chancellor McKenna's speech at the Commercial Congress.

The Standard remarks that the position of most of the members of Parliament relative to free trade and kindred questions has been altered and broadened by the lessons of the war.

"The whole atmosphere of the House of Commons," says the Standard, " is slowly changing. Tariffs, subide and preferential duties are no longer shunned by the Liberal party. It is expected that Mr. McKenna, before presenting the budget, will give Parliament some concrete examples of the application of his new policy for the development of foreign trade. He has counselled with the experts and has a sound, well-defined plan. Moreover, he does not intend to wait for the end of the war before putting into effect policies intended to assure that Germany shall never regain her lost markets.

"A wall against German overseas trade will be built, while the military issues of the war are still being fought. The government intends, that instead of Germany being able to flood the markets after the war, she shall find no markets to flood. Mr. McKenna's policy will be a policy of anticipation and development."

Eye Troubles Corrected

Mr. Bulger has had over ten years experience in sight testing and fitting glasses, and last mid-summer took a post graduate course, which included the latest discoveries in the science of optometry or eye measuring. One of the most important is dynamic skiametry. The new method of Prof. A. J. Cross, of New York, in which the eye is measured by a beam of reflected light and any error is recorded.

But we do not simply rely on one method; each eye is tested separately, in three different ways, besides trying the muscular balance, together and the nervous acuteness.

We use the new drugless methods, no drops in the eye and no heavy frame resting on your face; ours swings from the wall by a bracket.

FAVOR TARIFF REFORM.

The movement for tariff reform is gaining strength daily in Great Britain, says a special correspondent of the Daily News of Toronto. Even Free Trade purists of the Manchester school are beginning to appreciate that Protection is a defensive as well as a commercial policy. The refusal of the Manchester Chamber of Commerce to accept the Board of Directors' annual report is an event of prime importance. A poll is now being taken of the members of the Chamber and ballots are returnable soon. The Manchester Guardian obviously is apprehensive of a majority in favor of a protective tariff.

In the meantime, Lord Cromer, one of the most distinguished members of the old Unionist-Free Trade group, in a letter to The Spectator, expresses agreement with an article in favor of a general tariff which appeared in a recent issue of The Spectator. Mr. E. S. Montagu, Financial Secretary of the Treasury, speaking in Cambridge, advised his Liberal friends "to keep an open mind" on the fiscal system, " the whole of which would have to re re-arranged after the war," while Britain's relations with the overseas Dominions will have to be considerably altered.

Such declarations are of extreme importance, not only as indicating a change in official opinion, but as showing the miracle wrought on the Free Trade mind by the fact of the war.

FOREST PROTECTION AS IT AFFECTS CANADA

Interesting Report Published By Commission Of Conservation On Subject.

According to press reports, Sweden proposes to cut off the export of chemical pulp to Great Britain. Naturally all eyes are immediately turned to Canada to supply the threatened deficiency. The Commission of Conservation has just issued a report on "Forest Protection in Canada, 1913-1914," which is of particular interest in this connection. It contains much information respecting the work of the provincial forest services and of the federal departments intrusted with the care of our forests.

Forest fire protection is assuming a large place in public attention. It is obvious that, if Canada is to continue as a wood-producing country, she must conserve her resources of this natural product. The report treats exhaustively of the fire protection of forest lands along railway right-of-way. Through co-operative action, great headway has been made in securing the reduction of forest losses through fires traceable to railway causes.

The forests of British Columbia and on Dominion lands in the West have been dealt with in reports containing the results of special studies conducted by Dr. C. D. Howe and Mr. J. H. White. The Trent watershed in Ontario, has also received especial attention, in a report of an investigation by Dr. C. D. Howe in the townships of Burleigh and Methuen. This district is important in that, while of very little value as an agricultural area, it is being repeatedly overrun by forest fires and the little remaining merchantable timber destroyed. It is suggested that the area be placed under the control of the Dominion Forestry Branch for protection from fires and for reforestation.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the Northwest Territories and a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Applications for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5, which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only; but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 per acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

PREMIER'S ANSWER.

terms of the Alberta Act is not of course, as you know, in accordance with the policy of the Conservative party, that is to say, we have not yet been educated up to the point that we are in favor of direct legislation. Some of the eastern provinces have followed that practice, which I think has originated principally in the States to the south of the boundary line, and the Liberal party in this Province is now about to follow the practice of direct legislation. We as Conservatives have not yet come to the conclusion that it is the proper way to enforce the responsibilities of a cabinet or of an assembly. We think that it would, to a certain extent, do away with responsible government and that in very many cases it would lead to the referring to the people of very many questions which they would find unnecessary, after a petition might have come up.

I do not say that in the case of Prohibition. Perhaps this question may be a larger one and may call for more than usual thought, but in order, as a new leader of the party, to keep inviolate the principles of the Conservative party as we now have them, I think perhaps a middle or compromise course might be adopted in this case without our actually meeting your suggestion that we make a reference in the way spoken of by you.

To Aid In Framing Bill.

Now I do not on the other hand think that the Government should be asked to necessarily refer an act on the basis of the Alberta Act or the Saskatchewan Act or any other act. But what I think can be done, is that the Government could draft an act with the assistance of yourselves or your committee which might not necessarily be an Alberta Act or a Saskatchewan Act, but might be a Hugh John Macdonald Act, for instance.

I don't say that it would be, but the fact of it being a Hugh John Macdonald Act would be palatable, of course, to any of the Conservatives. (Laughter and applause.) But it seems to me that the Government ought not to drop away from its policy. The idea of the Government would be to draft an act in my department in order to bring your views before the people and we will be glad to have your committee or your solicitor in order to have the very best possible act in reference to Prohibition, which would be left to the electors of this Province to decide upon.

To Be Submitted To The People.

I do not think that I can put it any clearer than that. You saw my liquor act which I take some personal credit for, and which was known as the Bowser Act locally, and I do not see why we should not have a liquor act perhaps better than the Saskatchewan Act—I do not know whether better than the Alberta or perhaps better than the Hugh John Macdonald Act—but have an act that might be termed the Bowser Act, which you will agree upon and that act will be submitted to the people.

Now we want, of course, to place before the people in this act your views and it will be for the people to decide whether they will have prohibition in this Province or not.

The matter has been the subject of so much public debate that all the people are educated up to a certain standard and there is a great deal of interest being taken in it, and if a man has sufficient interest to go to vote for any candidate, and under the circumstances does not see fit to ask for a Prohibition ticket to vote either for or against it, then in that case we will not consider his vote at all. But the majority of the votes cast on the Prohibition question will decide the matter.

To Be Effective January First.

It is the decision of the Government, as early as possible, to place this act, containing your views, before the House, and have it carried to its third reading this session, and, of course, there will be a section in the act which states that it will come into operation after the people have approved it. If approved, this act will come into force on the first of January next.

Effective No Matter Who Wins.

There is one advantage about that, that it does not make any difference what happens in the general election—which of necessity takes place this summer—which party is returned, whether Conservative or Liberal. No session could be held before the first of January after the people approve of the act that we pass this session—and without any reference to what the color of the next House may be, this act will become law at the next session. This will also meet your wishes and our own, namely, that the matter will be kept out of party politics.

As to the next question of the assistance to be given on the day of the polls to see that the proper vote is recorded, you can rest assured that, as Mr. Nelson said this morning, the same assistance will be given your people to have their votes recorded as we would give for recording the votes on election day for any of the candidates.

Carry On Straight Majority.

And now the next question is of the majority. There has been a difference in the majorities in local option in Ontario. They require a different majority there, larger than anywhere else, even larger than in Manitoba. The only plebiscite since I have been in the Legislature was the time when we referred the question of local option to the people. The policy then laid down by the Government was that all those voting in the poll on election day for the election of candidates and who did not vote at all on the local option ticket were counted in the grand total as against the measure."

Now, in order that there may be no mistake about this matter, I propose to write a letter to Mr. Rogers setting out the views of the Government upon the question, so that there will be no suggestion or misinterpretation of the statement which I am making this afternoon, which must necessarily be more or less defective.

Bars To Close Early.

Now the question of the act coming into force next January, providing it is carried by the people (of course if it is not carried by the people it drops there), the Government feels that the conditions caused by the war have so sobered the people and given them a different viewpoint, as Mr. Malkin very properly put it this morning, when he made the suggestion that the soul of the people had really been stirred upon all moral questions, that it seems to me there should be, as you suggest, amendments to the Liquor Act to come into force at once this session. These, of course, will be of a most stringent nature and will deal with several questions, some of which you have mentioned this morning. As regards closing hours and any other important amendments which I think will be improvements to the Liquor Act, these will be in force during the war and the war only. The war will not probably be over next January (we regret to say), and if the Prohibition Act comes into force it will obviate the necessity for further amendments, but if it does not meet the approval of the people, then these Liquor Act amendments will be in force until the end of the war.

To Apply To Clubs.

The suggestion which I make as to amendments to the Liquor Act we also propose to make applicable to clubs. I don't see why they should be in any different position from the hotels at this time. (Applause.)

Will Enforce Law Stringently.

And I think you will be very well satisfied with the amendments that we have to offer to the Liquor Act which will be introduced in the very early stages of the session. I know that it has been suggested before that you would give every assistance that you could to the Government in connection with the framing of this act, and you may rest assured from my past reputation as a legislator, and particularly on the question of liquor legislation, that it is not only the

ALASKA MAY HAVE.

The introduction of a fleet of flying machines in Alaska will be hailed with general rejoicing by interior Alaskan cities, both winter and summer, especially Idatrod and Fairbanks. In summer, mail to these points is sent by steamship to St. Michael, then up the Yukon River and its tributaries. It usually takes a letter from twenty to thirty days to travel from Seattle to Fairbanks and about the same period of time is lost between Seattle and Idatrod. With aeroplanes operating from the coastal towns this time will be cut down more than 70 per cent.

The routes over which the government has called for contracts for the delivery of mail, per aeroplane, are as follows:

From Valdez to Fairbanks, 358 miles; from Fairbanks to Tanana, 162 miles; from Tanana to Kaltag, 381 miles; from Kaltag to Nome, 225 miles; from Seward to Idatrod, 380 miles; from Idatrod to Nome, 280 miles; from Seward to Anchorage, 110 miles.

While Alaskans have been complaining about the northern mail service for many years, it was not until the Alaska Engineering Commission put in a protest and the Alaskans themselves began to organize a company to carry mail and express by aeroplane that the postal authorities took the matter seriously. The seven routes proposed by the department would reach the principal mining districts of the interior. The Engineering Commission became interested in the project because of the trouble and loss of time in getting mail from Anchorage and Seward, the coast terminal of the Federal Railroad, to its executive offices at Fairbanks, the inland terminal.

Under the present plan, Fairbanks mail in summer, is taken to Skagway from Seattle and then shipped to Whitehorse by railroad and thence to its destination by river steamboat. The commission's mail originating at Seward or Anchorage was sent south to Skagway and requently to Seattle to catch a vessel bound for Skagway, thus occupying about sixty days for the delivery of a letter and an answer thereto. With an aeroplane delivery from Valdez the time consumed would be from six to eight days. Members of the commission estimate that the introduction of aeroplanes will save the government many thousands of dollars each year.

Isolated by the frozen Bering Sea for eight months in the year, Nome will receive greater benefits than any of the other towns from the aerial mail service. Ordinarily the mail to the Bering Sea metropolis is thirty to forty days in transit from Seattle. This time will be cut down to ten days.

From Kaltag to Nome is one of the worst divisions in the Alaskan service. The coast of Bering Sea is frequently swept by blizzards. Mushers regard this as the most dangerous part of the journey, and it will be no less risky for the aviators in the aerial service.

The syndicate of Alaskans which brought the project to the attention of the government has recently tested a biplane that carries 1,000 pounds of useful cargo in addition to its aviator, gasoline and equipment. It is believed that with a fleet of this class of machines, if provided with suitable landing places and machinists to make necessary repairs, a dependable mail service can be established.

PREMIER'S ANSWER.

view of the Government, but of myself, personally, that we want to get the very best act that we can, so that it will be effective. And if this act is carried by the people I can only tell you in conclusion that I will use my every effort so long as I remain Attorney-General to see that it is properly enforced. (Prolonged cheeers.)

As the Premier concluded there was an outburst of cheering from the deputation.

In an instant Mr. J. Rogers, the President of the People's Prohibition Movement, was on his feet. "I would like to express our appreciation," he said, "of the full manner in which you have met our views. I do not think we could expect more. you mention the Alberta Act, but this we only submitted as a standard. There are Liberals in this room who I think will concur with me and will agree that in saying what I have I speak for all parties. I believe the act will be of the high standard of your other acts and that you will enforce it. We will be glad to give every assistance in the preparatiton of the measure and welcome your offer that we do so."

Mr. G. F. Gibson then said: "As one who cannot be called a follower of yours in the past, I want to express my pleasure at the full and complete way in which you have met our representations. I believe you speak with all sincerity and that you will carry the law out to the letter. I think I can say that for my co-Liberals."

Ringing cheers followed, led by D. S. Curtis, of New Westminster, and as its notes died away Mr. Gibson called for the singing of the National Anthem as marking a great historic event. This was done with a will, after which the Premier and his colleagues were kept busy acknowledging the congratulations of these present.

Eye Troubles Corrected

Mr. Bulger has had over ten years experience in sight testing and fitting glasses, and last mid-summer took a post graduate course, which included the latest discoveries in the science of optometry or eye measuring. One of the most important is dynamic skiametry. The new method of Prof. A. J. Cross, of New York, in which the eye is measured by a beam of reflected light and any error is recorded.

But we do not simply rely on one method; each eye is tested separately, in three different ways, besides trying the muscular balance, together and the nervous acuteness.

We use the new drugless methods, no drops in the eye and no heavy frame resting on your face; ours swings from the wall by a bracket.

By persistent experimenting I have now evolved a system of heating two rooms in a residence with your kitchen range, besides supplying hot water for domestic uses, regardless of the position of the range boiler. By the turning of one valve you turn your stove into a house heating system. I am now trying to improvise a thermostic automatic valve which will do away with the handling of any valves.

Desperate Fighting Is Being Continued In And Around Verdun

Paris, March 4,—The Germans now hold Douaumont village, but the French dominate them from the commanding heights with their guns. As the sides of the opposing forces are fairly evenly matched it is likely the village may change hands more than once before the battle ends.

Experts say the German possession of the place is only temporary. The technical advantage remains with the French, whose lines continue unbroken.

The French artillery fire has been so fierce that the Germans are unable to push the attack at any point on the Douaumont plateau. Masses of reserves have been brought up for the fighting, which began with renewed activity on Thursday.

Desperate onslaughts were made by Pomeranian and Brandenburg regiments. In the first and second attacks the assailants, who fought with great bravery, reached the French barbed wire entanglements, but so fierce was the hail of bullets that the grey-coated legions of the Kaiser melted away. The officers rallied them till no more were left to rally.

BREWSTER AGAIN IN LEGISLATURE

Vote Was Nearly Two To One In Favor Of Opposition Leader.

Victoria, March 4.—The by-election today resulted in the election of H. C. Brewster, the recognized leader of the Liberal party in British Columbia, by a large majority. The vote stood H. C. Brewster, Liberal, 4834; Hon. A. C. Flumerfelt, Conservative, 2437; majority for Brewster, 2,357.

MORE ACTIVITY IN MINES AT HAZELTON

The Victoria Group Is Showing Up Well On Rocher De Boule.

Another property on Rocher de Boule is to be added to the working list. The Victoria (or Indian) group of claims, adjoining the Hazelton View, owned by D. McLeod, has been taken over by A. Erskine Smith, on a working bond, and Duke Harris is preparing to begin work as soon as a camp can be established.

The showing on this property is of an unusual character, the ore being arsenical iron in quartz, carrying values of $32 to $127 a ton in gold. Mr. Harris says his samples averaged $90 in gold. The ore carries no other values. The vein is 3 1-2 feet wide, and is traceable for 1,500 feet. Mining men will watch with interest the development of this property.

LOCAL LIBERALS CELEBRATE VICTORY

AFTER IMPROMPTU PARADE THEY HELD SHORT MEETING

Various Speakers Expressed Pleasure At Results Of Victoria Election.

The local Liberals, following the news of the victory gained at Victoria, formed a procession, and to the music of horns and tin cans "serenaded" some of the Conservatives, including the Journal office.

Later they marched to their committee rooms where they held an impromptu meeting, with short speeches from a number present. Alex. M. Manson presided.

Athol Fraser saw signs of a sweeping Liberal victory. He desented the local Government as the most corrupt the Province had ever had.

Fred Stork said the victories at Vancouver and at Victoria were not victories for the Liberal party. He did not believe there were more Liberals in the Province now than there were four years ago, but the Conservatives, the labor men and the Socialists had joined hands with the Liberals to make things better in the Province. He thought they might be pardoned for the celebration they had, for they had had twelve years of beating, but they had taken it like men. He did not want the party to be made up of the men looking for jobs. That had been the curse of the Conservative party. As far as his voice would go in the Liberal party, there would be none of that.

George R. Naden felt quite sure that there would be a Liberal Government in British Columbia inside of ninety days. He contended that half the electors of the Province had voted in these last elections. The Government should bring down only sufficient estimates for three months and go to the people. He believed the Liberals were going to have a chance to govern the Province. If ever they got as rotten as the present Government, he hoped they would be turned out also. Men like Brewster, Macdonald, Parker Williams and John Oliver, would give them good government.

Wm. P. Lynch contended that he knew the Government was doomed when it had violent hands on the finances of the Province. The Liberal Government was not going to have any easy task, however. There was no reason, however, why a rich province like British Columbia should not be put in shape, where an honest man might make a living.

Alex. M. Manson agreed with Mr. Macdonald, when he said it was not a personal victory. The Province had awakened. He hoped, that before a Liberal Government sank to such degredation, that they would be brought to life by the electorate.

BONES OF SEALS USED FOR FERTILIZING MAY YIELD MILLIONS

Washington, March 4.—A vast deposit of seal and sea lion bones, useful for fertilizing purposes, found on the Pribiloff Islands, off Alaska, can be ground and shipped in Government vessels to the Atlantic seaboard, says Secretary Redfield.

Raw ground bones for fertilizing purposes are worth $35 a ton and the grinding costs less than $1 a ton. The deposits of bones on the Pribiloff Islands are estimated to be six feet deep and several square miles in area. Their commercial value is put at several million dollars.

Freight rates give rise to a problem. These amount to $6 a ton normally, from the Pacific coast to the Atlantic, via Panama, but there are no quotations from Alaska down

SOLDIERS APPEALED FOR NEW RECRUITS

ADVANTAGE TAKEN OF LIBERAL GATHERING TO TRY TO GET VOLUNTEERS

Invitation Given To Join The Colors By Members Of 102nd.

Taking advantage of the gathering to celebrate the Liberal victory in Victoria last night, non-commissioned officers and men attended the meeting and appealed for recruits. The appeal was not attended with any results. Alex. M. Manson, the chairman, gave every opportunity for the soldiers to make the appeal.

Quartermaster-Sergt. Haynes said the presence of the men in uniform was for the purpose of trying to secure some recruits to go with them to fight the battles of the Empire. Anyone with red blood in his veins, who could get away, should join them. He asked any such to come next door and enlist. He spoke disparagingly of any who took advantage of the fact that he was not a citizen of this country, but who took all the advantages that went with living here without doing his duty.

A. Walker said he had spent a large part of his time serving in the army. He wanted some of the men, whose hairs were not as grey as his, to come on and join them and proceed to France and fight for the country.

CANADIAN SOLDIER IS VERY WELL FED

Receives Meat And Vegetables Every Day, With Fish On Fridays.

Lieut.-Col. H. A. Mullins, who is visiting the southern cities, says that the Canadian soldier is the best fed soldier of them all. The Government cut down the cost of the soldiers' food only by eliminating all waste and not by reducing its nourishing qualities or its quantity, reports the News Advertiser.

To show how much better the Canadian battalions were fed than their Allies in England, France, Russia and Italy, or their enemies in German and Austrian forces, Col. Mullins showed a sample day's ration of the Canadian soldier and compared this with the day's ration of the soldiers in other countries.

The Canadian gets meat every day except Fridays, which is a fish day. On Sundays he is served with mutton. He eats daily one pound of meat or its equivalent in fish; one pound of potatoes, one pound of bread, 6 ounces of fresh vegetables, 3 ounces of sugar, 2 ounces of butter, 2 ounces of jam, 3 ounces of bacon, 2 ounces of beans, 1 ounce of cheese, 1-2 ounce of salt, 1-2 ounce of split peas, 1-4 ounce of tea, 1-3 ounce of coffee, 1-36 ounce of pepper and 1 1-2 ounces of milk powder. This milk powder is better and more affectionately known to the Canadian soldier as klim.

The British soldier's rations are different, in that he gets a little more beef and bread, but a less quantity of vegetables, and those dried. Luxuries such as tea, coffee and cocoa do not figure on his ration, the Government making an allowance for this. The French soldier is given 35 ounces of bread, but the Piou-pious eat only 11 ounces of meat and 2 1-8 ounces of vegetables and 1 ounce of sugar. The dauntless Cosack eats, or is supposed to eat, 36.15 ounces of bread, 21.67 ounces of meat, 4.8 ounces of groats and 2.7 ounces of butter or delectable tallow—this ration doubtless occasioning his fierceness at Erzerum and other notable events in Turkish and German history.

THE DOMINION ACCEPTS OFFER OF MACE

Gift From Sheriff And Corporation Of London Will Be Ready For Next Session.

Ottawa, March 4.—The Government has accepted the offer, sent by cable, of the Sheriff and Corporation of London, to present to the Canadian Commons a new Mace to take the place of the one lost in the Parliament Building fire. It will be here when Parliament meets again next session. The new Mace will contain a small portion of the old historic Mace, which was salvaged from the ruins of the Commons Chamber.

Until Thursday the Mace of the Ontario Legislature has been doing duty in the Comomns, but a new emblem of authority took its place. However, it is simply a wooden affair, although beautifully carved and gilded. The Ontario Mace has been sent back to Toronto in readiness for the opening of the Legislature there.

TWENTY-FIVE AIR MONSTERS KILLED

Many Zeppelins Shot Down—Others Wrecked In North Sea.

Twenty-five Zeppelins have been destroyed in battles in the air since the beginning of the war, according to official statements of the British and French Governments. Fishermen have notified the authorities of ten others wrecked and helpless in the North Sea.

At the Zeppelin factories at Friedrichshafen fifteen are admitted to have been brought down by the fire of the enemy. It was also stated that 80 Zeppelins were in commission at the beginning of February. The fact that the LZ-95, destroyed some days ago, was put in commission about that time, it was stated, might be taken as meaning that 95 Zeppelins have been put into service since the beginning of the war.

GERMANY'S CREDIT IS TOTTERING

Caused By The Record-breaking Depression In The Rates Of Exchange.

Imperial German five per cent. bonds are now offered at the equivalent of eighty cents on the dollar by a banking house in New York, which has been active in attempting to dispose of the various Teutonic issues.

It offers the Austrian five and a-ha'f per cents. at the equivalent of sixty-two cents on the dollar. That is to say the German bond of 1,000 marks is offered at $190, as against an asking price of $203 a short time ago, and the Austrian bonds of 1,000 crowns is offered at $125.

The banking house in question contends that the continual reductions in the price at which it offers German, Austrian and Hungarian issues is due solely to the record-breaking depression in the rates of exchange on those countries.

As a matter of fact, the phenomenal depression in the exchanges and the unheard of depreciation in the

GERMAN PRISONERS MAY COMPLETE ROAD

Reported That C. P. R. Men Will Return Home, Arriving About April 6.

A telegram was received in Vancouver by Du Cane, Dutcher & Co., the engineers responsible for the original report on the railway, that the 280 railway construction men who left Vancouver to construct the Kola to Kandalaksha line in Russia last October, had left Kola for America on February 24, and are expected to arrive home about April 6. The line has not been completed, but the Russian Government has so many German prisoners at its disposal now that the completion of the work can be accomplished practically without cost, says a Vancouver exchange. The men who left Canada had a contract of six months work, including transportation, so that their return will just about complete its expiry.

THE ELECTION RESULTS.

Yesterday the City of Victoria returned H. C. Brewster to the Legislature, defeating the new Minister of Finance, Mr. Flumerfelt. This result was not altogether unlooked for. Mr. Flumerfelt was regarded as a most promising cabinet minister, if he could be elected. This latter was regarded as a most difficult task. Mr. Flumerfelt was not a man of previous experience in a representative capacity. He had none of the wiles nor the manners that make for popular election. He was, in fact, about as unlikely to catch the popular vote as could be imagined. His opponent, Mr. Brewster is much more likely to catch the popular idea, and he did it. In the return of Mr. Brewster the Province secures the services, again in the House, of a most conscientious worker. Victoria, in common with most other places in the Province, has its voting strength cut down materially by the absence at the war of a large number of men. It is asserted that the proportion of Conservatives with the army is very high, which materially affects the situation in Victoria.

The Legislature has now the opposition it sought. For a long time there has been a howl that the Conservatives did not provide an opposition. It has now done this. A statesman like Fred Stork even admits it was the Conesrvative vote that elected the two members. There is no doubt there was a large number of Conservatives who desired to see an opposition. Now they have it. The House is now so constituted that the fullest discussion can take place on all business done. The Liberals have described the Government of the day as the most corrupt anywhere. It will now be up to these men to substantiate their charges. With an election coming on, the Opposition will not be able to shirk all responsibility upon the Government members. These Opposition men will have to take responsibility for what they say in the House, and for their stands on the questions of the day.

E. D. Johnston, City Treasurer, has returned from Victoria where he went in connection with the private bill the city is seeking to get through the Legislature, respecting serial bond issues.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the Northwest Territories and a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Applications for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5, which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only; but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 per acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.
