The City Made Twenty-One Hundred Dollars Exchange

Great Mining Activity Becoming Evident In The North

City Saved Twenty One Hundred Dollars On Sterling Exchange

A message received from Mayor McCaffery at New York yesterday conveyed the news that the final acts in connection with the sale of the bonds had been accomplished and the deal is completely finished. The Mayor is leaving New York and will be in Montreal on Monday.

While there is no occasion to feel gratified at the conditions that have given rise to the upsetting of the exchange rate between London and New York, yet the city in the transaction that has just been completed made a decided gain owing to that fact. The city saved, according to the message that his Worship has sent, the sum of $2,100 on this score. The treasury certificates were deliverable in New York, and owing to the war the exchange between the two cities worked to the advantage of this city.

The completion of the dealings in the satisfactory way in which they have been concluded is the occasion of genuine rejoicing on the part of the citizens of Prince Rupert. There is certainly a disposition among the same people of the city to give the council of this year credit for good judgment in the transaction, and of the negotiations leading up to that.

Just at this point in may be in keeping to review in a brief way the course of the negotiations. The council of this year came into power impressed with the idea that the great work of the year was to get from under the system of financing that prevailed, whereby the indebtedness of the place was being carried along by temporary financing. Shorter Hours For Bars Comes Into Effect In Province

(Special to The Journal.)
Victoria, May 27.—With the approach of the close of the Legislature, with the dissolution of the House on June 1, the legislation of the session is all being whipped into shape. In connection with the liquor business this is very noticeable. The Prohibition Bill is being carried along, and in addition to this the amendments to the present license law are being introduced to comply with the promises that were given earlier in the session.

One amendment that has been awaited with a great deal of interest is that with respect to the shoring of the hours for the sale of liquor during the war or until the coming into effect of the prohibitory law, if that is carried by the people.

The amendment provides that bars shall not be opened until 11 o'clock in the forenoon and must not be kept open after 10 o'clock at night. This will come into effect with the passage of the bill.

J. J. Price, of Seattle, was a passenger by the train yesterday morning for his mining property in the interior.

Nothing Condemnatory Of Government By Army Committees

(Special Correspondence.)

Victoria, May 26.—It is rather significant that in not a single one of the four committees carrying on investigation work during this session has sufficient evidence been brought forward to warrant a committee report to the House condemnatory to the Government. Within the next few days it is supposed that the Kitsilano Reserve Investigation Committee will frame its report, while the Public Accounts Committee is also about through with its labors.

The Victoria Election Investigation Committee has wound up and the only committee which will be sitting until the dissolution of the Legislature is the Vancouver Election Frauds Committee, which after all is not investigating the Government, but is enquiring into frauds alleged to have been practised in Vancouver in the interests of the Liberal candidate, M. A. Macdonald.

The Kitsilano Committee report, it was said here, would be a comparatively brief one, despite the fact that considerable evidence was brought before the committee dealing with the purchase by the Government of the reserve at Vancouver, now to be sold to the Vancouver Harbor Board by the Dominion Government at an enhanced figure, the difference in price probably to be turned over to the provincial authorities under arbitration.

This report, it is believed, will inform the House that the testimony brought before the committee will show that the Province bought the reserve at a low figure, which, however, was quite satisfactory to the Indians. The Province set the price which it would pay and also that which the Indians were to each receive. The Indians, as a matter of fact, got more than the amount which the Government stipulated as a minimum. Messrs. Alexander and Hamilton Read were able to pocket a handsome margin, largely owing to the fact that there were not as many Indians who had rights on the reserve as had originally been supposed.

The evidence before the committee showed clearly that not a cent of the commission went to any member of the firm of Bowser, Reid & Wallbridge as had been insinuated. The committee will therefore report that the deal was one which was highly satisfactory from the point of view of the Province and of the Indians, and the money which Messrs. Alexander and Read got for their work was not additional to the sum which the Government had originally said it was prepared to pay for the property.

The expectation now is that when the arbitration between the Dominion and Provincial Governments on the value of the reversionary rights of the latter comes, the Province will receive a handsome margin over the $300,000 which is paid.

Another Indian reserve matter was probed by a board of enquiry when the Public Accounts Committee took evidence with regard to the Songhees Reserve deal put through by Mr. J. S. Matson in Victoria. About all that this enquiry showed was that the Government did not pay a cent more than it had at the outset said it would pay, and Mr. Matson's commission dwindled down to a small amount, when he got through paying parts of it to the chief of the tribe for his assistance in getting the rest of the Indians to sign up. The total purchase price was admittedly low, and the value of the property for railway terminal purposes is admitted. These facts will be reviewed by the Public Accounts Committee, whose report will indicate that in no way was there anything which would reflect discredit upon the officers of the Government in the matter. No evidence was produced to show that any of the purchase money found its way to the pockets of Government officials.

The Public Accounts Committee investigated the question of nominal fees for registration of certain mortgages, but in each case an adequate explanation was furnished. The committee also received voluminous evidence respecting the parliament

Busy Season Evident In Mining Channels Throughout District

The season in a mining way is opening up with the greatest promise as far as this district is concerned. It is yet too early for prospecting on a large scale in the higher parts. The snow is still on many of the mountains but within a few weeks time prospecting will be possible everywhere, and the examination of properties will also be made easier.

Within the past week upwards of a score of important mining men or the representatives of large interests have been here in connection with mining deals or looking over the ground.

This coming week representatives of large interests will go into the Copper River district to make an examination. J. J. Price, of Seattle, who has had years of experience in Alaska, has gone to visit properties he took along the line of the railway. F. Ruggles, representing New York capital, has been to the Wells group in from Usk, which is held under option. As soon as the snow leaves two experts will be here from the east to pass upon the property.

Many interests have representatives now at Alice Arm, while elsewhere throughout the district the country is being exploited.

Mr. Hinman, representing New York capital, is investigating the district with the object of finding a property that will make the introduction of the necessary capital worth while. A vast body of ore is what is sought by him for his purposes.

building's contract. About all that this showed was that the contractor, W. S. McDonald, spent a good deal of money more than he needed to spend, and then unsuccessfully tried to get repaid by the Government. That is to say, the general effect of the transaction was that Mr. McDonald lost money on the contract, and the Government got very good value for its expenditure. There was not a little evidence to show that there had been any "scampering" in the work. These facts will be covered in the committee report.

There was one matter taken up by the Public Accounts Committee which reflected upon an official, the inspector of legal offices, but did not in any way implicate the members of the Government. Although $2,000 commission money came, not from the Government but from the realty (Continued on Page Four.)

CANADA TO HAVE GREAT PROSPERITY

E. S. BUSHBY SAYS THE EAST IS ALREADY FEELING GOOD EFFECTS

The Farmers Have Big Crops In In The Prairie Provinces.

E. S. Bushby, Chief Inspector of Canadian Customs, is here. He arrived by train and will proceed south on Tuesday. He says that Canada is now feeling the benefits from the war conditions, and in the east factories are booming.

He says that through the prairies there is a very large acreage put into wheat this year. The season has been somewhat backward, but the growth now is very good.

There is an immense quantity of last year's crop still in the country. This is keeping the lines busy hauling the wheat to the consumers and the shippers. The prospects are most gratifying as far as the general prosperity of the country is concerned.

Mr. Bushby has always had faith in Prince Rupert as a great port. He still believes in it. He is a great advocate of cities fighting for what they feel is their needs just as individuals do, and he sees no reason why Prince Rupert should be any exception to the general rule.

FISHING FLEETS.

The building up of the fishing business in Prince Rupert carries with it, if the very best is to be got out of it, the ownership of a fleet in the port. This city welcomes all comers that can make business possible out of here, but in the end it is the locally owned fleet that must make the industry. Every time that any trouble arises in connection with the holding of the trade, that fact is brought home more forcibly.

The starting up of the drydock, which is an object that all will readily hope to see accomplished, should bring closer the time when a large fleet of fish boats will be owned here. The construction of small fishing boats might well become a lucrative side line in connection with the building of large freighters. When Prince Rupert has a fleet of locally owned boats she will have a large population of fishermen residents in the city.

THE GREEDY HUN.

The Chicago Tribune claims to have discovered complete evidence that Germany in 1914 intended to invade America, if war had not been brought about in Europe. It has found that a plot existed in Haiti for furnishing an excuse. It was not taken advantage of apparently, simply because the murder of the Austrian Archduke gave the Berlin Government the chance that it was looking for nearer home. All this would, if it appeared in a newspaper in an Allied country be described by some people across the border as the absurd product of war-fevered brains. But the Tribune has, more than any other great American daily, been striving to keep the States out of the war. If it believes what it publishes regarding the Haiti plot, we should think that its ideas as to the international duty of the Washington Government would undergo some changes.

Suggestions for Successful ADVERTISING

The Best Time To Use Advertising Space

While the successful advertiser makes all times his own, their must of necessity be occasions when there are special advantages in presenting live facts about your goods to the public.

Advantages In Strenuous Times

Did it ever occur to you that in times when money is specially "tight" that the average buyer, and especially the thrifty housewife makes it a point to buy where the best can be got for the money expended? Have you an advantage to offer? Your advertising it will give you far better results than when times are better.

Buying Values Are Investigated

The value of money is appreciated now. Values count and are investigated by the public. This is the time to get full results from those who have good values to offer the public in any line of consumption.

man's profit, it was not deemed strictly ethical and the committee will no doubt feel called upon to express its regret that such an incident should have occurred.The Victoria Election Investigation Committee is not getting very far notwithstanding the fact that the Liberals when requesting the formation of the committee declared that they would produce very damaging evidence before it. It has been shown that a blind pig existed here on by-election day, but no one seems to know what party operated it. Several men who may be called will be able to say, it is expected, that men of both political faiths were in and out of the place and had sandwiches and beer, but were not asked about voting. One witness before this committee said that he had been provided with a ticket to Victoria by Conservative representatives, but this statement is somewhat offset in its value by the claim of Robert Gosden before the Vancouver Election Committee that he got a ticket to Victoria to come from Vancouver and vote for Brewster. In the matter of tickets to the capital city, it would appear to look like a saw-off. Likely enough the Victoria committee will not be able to give a report that reflects on one party more than the other.The situation in the Vancouver investigation is already well known.
Reports can not be made by the committee minorities, but they are always able to present their views on the floor of the House by making amendments to the committee reports when presented.The Morning Journal delivered to and any error is recorded.But we do not simply rely on one method; each eye is tested separately, in three different ways, besides trying the muscular bal-

"The Reliable Plumber," Prince Rupert, B. C.I have great pleasure in certifying to the excellent hot water and heating system that you installed in our parsonage, and that after six months of operation through the winter months it has given every satisfaction.The system heats a thirty gallon tank of water to boiling temperature in one hour after the fire has been started; it in no way interferes with the oven for baking purposes. In addition to this, the wall radiator which you placed in dining-room and connected with the range boiler has given us splendid satisfaction, supplying us with ample heating throughout the winter, saving us the cost of a stove and fuel.I most heartily testify to the satisfaction and efficiency of your system and gladly recommend it.

Yours very truly,
