BRITISH SUBMARINES PENETRATED DARDANELLES

THE TURKISH ARMY IS IN VERY CRITICAL CONDITION

CANNONADING AT POINTS ALONG THE WEST FRONT

NO IMPORTANT ENGAGEMENTS SINCE THE ONE AT HOOGE TRENCHES

London, Aug. 18.--Sir John French reports there have been no important incidents since the capture of the trenches at Hooge on August 10. There have been occasional artillery engagements but no infantry actions.

Progress Of The War On Western Front By Means of Mines

Paris, Aug. 18.—An official report says:—"There has been violent cannonading at Artois in Champagne, and at a prominent forest at La Louviere on the front at Seille.

"The struggle by means of mines continues at a great many points. Near Beuvraugnes south of Doye, an explosion of one shell shattered the shipping works of the Germans.

"In Argonne various attempts were made by the enemy to make progress by means of hand grenades. In the region of Marie Therese. All of these have been repulsed.

"In Vosges the position taken by us on the Sondenach Ridge is still in our hands, despite violent bombardment."

J. E. Oppenheimer arrived from the Rocher de Boule mine last evening. He is going south this morning.

Interior Of District Great Farming Country

J. E. Merryfield Who Has Returned From Ootsa And Francois Area Speaks In High Terms Of Its Possibilities

This northern part of the province is capable of all kinds of development, and this will follow now that the railway facilities are provided. Everyone who goes into the valleys of the interior return with the same report, and that is one of optimism.

J. E. Merryfield returned last evening from a trip into the Ootsa Lake and Francois Lake districts and the Buck Flats. He returns convinced that a very rich farming area is to be opened up there. These valleys will compare most favorably with the other parts of the north, that are perhaps better known than those mentioned, because the Ootsa has been more inaccessible in the past.

Mr. Merryfield says the land is the very best. The crops are this year excellent, and the live stock looking in the pink of condition. There has been a very considerable done in the way of settlement and with an area that is so well adapted for grazing stock, has found no small part of the farming operations. The Dominion Government has made provision for the placing of pure bred bulls in the district so as to improve the stock. This has been no small help to the stock raisers, who appreciate these

An Open Verdict By Coroner's Jury

Yesterday afternoon the coroner's jury concluded its duties in connection with the inquest in the circumstances connected with the death of John Pitman at Port Essington. The verdict that was brought in, was an open one, fixing the crime upon no one. It was to the effect that he came to his death by a hemorrhage caused by a wound in the neck, inflicted by a sharp instrument.

All Evidence Is In Except That Of Murphy

Preliminary Hearing In The Murder Case From Port Essington Was Continued Here Yesterday

All day yesterday was taken up by Stipendary Magistrate McMullin in hearing evidence in the Port Essington murder case. The perliminary hearing was practically concluded yesterday, with the exception of the taking of the evidence of Murphy, the man who is lying in the hospital at Port Essington, as a result of wounds inflicted upon him on the same night as Pitman was killed. His evidence will be taken just as soon as it is ascertained that he is fit to give it. It will probably be taken at Port Essington.

Einar Carlson testified he went to the restaurant after the hotels closed. He identified Ohara and Nagano as being there. He was not positive as to Kameda being the other one.

Witness asked Nagano, "Can I have a bowl of soup until tomorrow, and I'll pay you for it." Nagano said, "Soup, yes." Witness had two bowls of soup. After he finished he went and sat down with Murphy.

Trouble Started.

One of the Japanese came up and said, "You pay me now."

Witness did not know which one it was. He replied, "I told you I pay you tomorrow."

Ohara came and hit him with his fist. Witness said, "If you are going to start any trouble over it, I will go and get the money right now."

As he reached the office of the Skeena Commercial Company some one struck him on the back and knocked him down. Ohara and another Jap attacked him.

To Mr. Peters witness admitted he was pretty full that evening.

An Eye Witness.

John Wesley, an Indian, testified to Carlson coming out, followed by Ohara and Nagano. He saw from the opposite side, fighting inside. He saw Ohara strike Murphy in the back with a knife. Outside Murphy fell down the steps in a heap.

Witness saw Pitman come down the steps and run towards the pool room, followed by Kameda and Ohara. He saw Nagano standing with a knife in his hand.

He saw Ohara later come back from the direction Pitman had gone. He came towards where Murphy was being helped. He had a knife. They all ran. Ohara followed them.

Cross-examined by Mr. Peters, witness said he did not see Pitman stabbed. He saw Pitman strike the cook.

Joshua Robinson.

Joshua Robinson, another Indian, was with the last witness opposite the place. He saw Ohara waving a knife and Murphy fall down the steps. There seemed to be another mix up at the bottom of the steps.

Medical Evidence.

Upon resuming court in the afternoon, the first witness was Dr. N. McNeill, who examined the body when it was brought here.

He described the wounds which he found on the body of Pitman, the victim. There were bruises in various parts. The fatal wound was a great gash in front of the shoulder, which exposed the lung.

In reply to a question by Mr. Peters, Dr. McNeill said that it was quite possible for a man to have run 288 feet after receiving such a wound, before he collapsed.

John Retchford.

John Retchford testified that he was standing near the Oriental Cafe. He saw Carlson come running out, followed by two Japanese. He identified Ohara as one of them, who was wearing a grey sweater.

Carlson fell down. He said, "Don't hit me Tokio, I'll fix it." The three went back to the restaurant. Witness followed them. Witness was paying the 20c for the soup. Murphy, Robt. Angus, Jack Pitman, Carlson, and the three Japanese in the prisoner's box, were all in the building. Ohara caught Carlson by the throat and backed him up against a box. Carlson's nose was bleeding.

Warned Japanese.

Bob Angus walked over and said, "Don't you hit a white man."

British Submarines Have Penetrated Beyond The Dardanelles

Athens, Aug. 18.—Two more British submarines are reported to have penetrated the Dardanelles, and to have entered the Sea of Marmora, where they are preventing the sending of ships to revictual the Turkish army in the Gallipoli Peninsula. The situation of the Turkish army in Gallipoli is now regarded as critical.

British Advance.

London, Aug. 18.—General Sir Ian Hamilton reports that the British left has won 500 yards of ground, including a Turkish trench at Gallipoli, and the Australians have repulsed Turkish attacks.

Situation In Greece.

There is little change in the diplomatic situation. Venezilos asks four days to study conditions before attempting to form a new cabinet in Greece.

Flower Show Held Under Local Society

Magnificent Display Made At Board Of Trade Rooms ---List Of Prize Winners As Decided By Judges

The 'ocal Horticultural Society held a flower show yesterday afternoon in the Board of Trade Rooms. The display of flowers was remarkably good. There was not the number of entries that the society would liked to have seen, but the quality was above criticism, and showed that this city can produce flowers second to none in the country.

Mrs. Dawson, Vice-President of the society, opened the exhibition. She did not speak at any length, but lamented the fact that there was not a larger number of exhibitors who had taken part in the display.

The prize winners were as follows:

Foliage Begonia—1, Mrs. T. McClymont.

ALL EVIDENCE.

Ohara let go Carlson and started at Angus. Kameda ran to shut the door. Witness blocked him in this. Kameda tried to go behind him to shut the door. Witness got into the doorway, just outside when Kameda slammed the door in his face. A stool just then came through the window.

Looking in the door he saw Kameda and Nagano, the cook, had Murphy backed up against the counter. Ohara was hitting Carlson on the head with his crutch. He hit him twice, breaking the crutch each time.

Japanese Got Knives.

Murphy got free. Kameda and Nagano ran back to the meat market. Nagano got a French knife and Kameda a clever.

The door opened and all tried to rush out. Witness backed up as he heard the dishes breaking. The door opened and Murphy came out with Pitman. Ohara came next. He had a knife in his hand, like a cheese knife. Pitman grabbed Ohara. The cook was brandishing the French knife. Murphy fell down the steps. The cook, who had been wrestling with Pitman turned back. He had blood on the left arm of his white coat. Pitman staggered down the steps.

Kameda had come out the door with the cleveh and disappeared.

Pitman Staggered.

Pitman staggered to the street and then went staggering on. Nagano stayed in front of the restaurant. Ohara started after Pitman. The cook, Nagano followed up.

Murphy at this time called out, "Come on boys and help me." Murphy was off the steps. Witness and Erny Pierce went to his help. There was blood over his cheek.

Ohara came running back just at that time and came towards where they were. He had his knife. Witness dropped Murphy and ran. Ohara followed some way.

Saw Line of Blood.

Witness saw a pool of blood at the restaurant. This was just outside the restaurant. There was a line of blood along the sidewalk in the direction in which Pitman went.

The next day he saw the blood outside again.

Cross-examined by Mr. Peters, witness said he had seen Kameda several times about the restaurant.

Witness did not see Pitman stabbed. If Angus said Pitman was stabbed at the bottom of the steps, he would not say that it was incorrect.

He was not prepared to say that Pitman was stabbed at the top of the steps.

Witness did not see any disturbance at the bottom of the steps.

He did not know who stabbed Murphy. He did not know whether he was stabbed then or not.

Mr. Peters wanted to know if he and his companion had stayed with Murphy they might have saved him.

Witness said he might be killed himself.

Mr. Peters asked, that in view of the fact that witness did not know where Pitman was stabbed, nor as to Murphy being stabbed, he was not a very observant man.

Ernest Pierce.

Ernest Pierce gave evidence that there were four Japanese in the restaurant. Murphy was the first to come out, followed by Ohara, who stabbed him. Murphy fell down. Ohara came back towards the door and Pitman grabbed him. The cook was there waving his knife around. He saw blood on the arm of Nagano, the cook. Pitman staggered down the steps. Angus was at the bottom of the steps.

Pitman made his way down the street.

A Fourth Jap.

Before the knives were produced, the fourth Jap, not one of the prisoners, went out through a hole in the back of the restaurant.

Kameda came out with a clever. He went down the steps and disappeared. Ohara followed Pitman. Nagano also followed. Angus also went down the street.

Cross-examined by Mr. Peters, witness said he was sure Ohara stabbed Murphy. Either Ohara or Nagano stabbed Pitman. Kameda had nothing to do with it.

He was sure it was not Kameda that went out through the window.

Angus Recalled.

Robert Angus was recalled and in reply to Chief Gammon, said that after he (witness), was stabbed at the bottom of the steps, he did not go to the top of the steps.

In reply to Mr. Peters, he said he was positive Pitman was stabbed at the bottom of the steps. That stabbing at the bottom of the steps was the fatal one. It was across the right cheek and into the body.

An adjournment was then taken, this completing the evidence, with the exception of the deposition of Murphy and Dr. Laye, which will be taken later.

practical methods.

At this time of the year the cattle graze on the native grasses, in many instances literally hidden from view, so rank is the growth. The winter climate is excellent and little protection is needed for the stock. Another good feature is the fact that the country is well watered in all parts.

The first settlers went into that district about twelve years ago, going by way of Bella Coola and Ashcroft. They have so far advanced now that there is talk of starting creameries in the country to take care of the dairy production.

The land is easily cleared for the most part, there being a very large part of it that is open. One advantage possessed by the settler in that district, is that he can cut abundance of hay in summer to take care of his stock in the winter, without waiting for a crop. There is, Mr. Merryfield says, land enough there to provide for all the needs of the north without importing. Residents of Prince Rupert should visit that part, as well as the other section of the country which is tributary to here, and learn more of what the country is capable of producing. The hospitality of the settlers is of the highest order.

Wheat, barley and oats are yielding large crops this year. There is a tendency to go in for mixed farming, which should give the best results. Vegetables thrive well, while fruits are also easily raised. There has been a start made at planting apple trees, which promise to do well.

There have been, this year, a number looking over the country with the idea of going in for farming there on a large scale. The outlook is excellent from an agricultural standpoint.

But it is not alone a country for farming. As elsewhere in British Columbia, the mineral wealth is most promising. A. G. Garde, of this city, was seen at Ootsa Lake looking over what promises to be a very great zinc property. Back of Huston free milling gold has been discovered in very promising quantity.

Altogether the country, Mr. Merryfield feels will be another Okanagan, only richer if anything.
