VOL 2 NO. 19 LILLOOET, B. C., FRIDAY, MARCH 21, 1913 $2 PER YEAR

RAILROAD NOTES

Ed Kennedy, of Welch and Kennedy, was in town Monday on business.

Austin Welch, of Welch and Kennedy, spent Wednesday in town.

It is understood that Burns, Jordan and Welch, who have about two miles of construction work on Seton Lake—which takes in the only tunnel on the two lakes—will soon start on their contract at the upper end of Anderson Lake. This new work consists of four miles of construction running west. This firm of contractors is one of the largest in the west and have extensive contracts all over B. C. They are at present constructing a tunnel on the C. N. R., at Yale, which is nearing completion. This firm have just signed up for a piece of work embracing twenty miles of construction on the Kootenay Central, a branch line of the C. P. R., connecting their main line at Golden with the Crow's Nest line. This is all heavy work and will require about seven steam shovels.

Angus Nicholson, of Nicholson and Timelick, paid a flying visit to town yesterday, returning to camp this morning.

J. McDougall, J.A. Welch's superintendent, was in town Sunday enroute to Vancouver, where he is now in the hospital.

WITH THE SURVEYORS

The Provinctal Government has already commenced surveying operations this spring in the Lillooet district and Mr. G. M. Downton, B. C. L. S., with a crew of five experienced assistants is at present engaged in making a survey of Seton Lake.

This survey will complete the tie between Lillooet and Pemberton Meadows and will be another link in the chain enabling the Department of Lands to publish reliable maps of the important section which lies along the route of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway.

Now, that our district is being opened up by the advent of the railway. reliable maps are an imperative necessity and the Survey's branch ot the Department of Lands, so ably reorganized by the present Surveyor General Mr. G. H. Dawson, is making strenuous efforts to furnish them to the public.

The Lillooet district is much in the public eye at the present time, nor is the time far distant when the whole of the beautiful stretch of country from the Short Portage to Pavilion Mountain, so remarkable for its wonderful scenery and ideal climate, will be thronged with homeseekers eager to take advantage of a district where Nature is so lavish with her charms and where the whole atmosphere breathes superab u n d a n t health.

To the center of this district lies the town of Lillooet sheltered from the north by mountains of surpassing grandeur and commanding a view to the south and east that fills visitors with delight.

Numerous surveys are contemplated by the Department of Lands in this district and among the most satisfactory activities of the Government is the surveying of pre-emptions, by which means the pre-emptor's boundaries are defined for nim at an early period of his occupation.

Not only the Government is moving in the matter of surveys, but numerous property owne.s are taking advantage of the present activities to subdivide their properties into smaller holdings in anticipation of the grert influx of population which the railway will bring.

It is perhaps a little deeper even for us in the west to realize how fast the country is forging ahead. Those of us, who have watched the growth of Vancouver recently, have had all our ideas of progress staggered by the enormous changes that have taken place within the past five or six years.

Do we here also sufficiently realize that with the advent of the railway, we are actively situated on the nearest point to Vancouver at which a really dry and bracing climate can be obtained and may it not be supposed that with such advantages as we possess ihat the tired city workers of the greatest city on the Pacific coast will be sure to take advantage of the Pride of British Columbia.

Lillooet will come into its own, and the industrial enterprises, which at the present time are being carefully and seriously contemplated with so far towards solving the difficulties which have long checked the development of the vast natural resources with which the district abounds.

We are on the eve of a great forwaad movement in this district of ours and we should do well to keep the fact in mind and, refraining from an unreasonable optomism, view with complacency the future of a town which is ideal alike from a point of view of distribution and residence.

CANADIAN BORN

We first saw the light in Canada, the land beloved of God;
We are the pulse of Canada, its marrow and its blood,
And we, the men of Canada, can face the world and brag
That we were born in Canada beneath the British flag.

Few of us have the blood ofkings, few are of courtly birth,
But all are vagabonds and rogues of doubtful name and worth;
And all have one credential that entitles us to brag—
That we were born in Canada beneath the British flag.

We've yet to make our money, we've yet to make our fame,
But we have gold and glory in our clean colonial name;
And every man's a millionaire if he can only brag
That he was born in Canada beneath the British flag.

No title and no coronet is half so proudly worn
As that which we inherited as men Canadian born;
We count no man so noble as the one who makes the brag
That he was born in Canada beneath the British flag.

The Dutch may have their Holland, the Spaniard have his Spain,
The Yankee to the south of us must south of us remain;
For not a man dare lift a hand against the men who brag
That they were born in Canada beneath the British flag.

AS THE WAITER TOLD IT

New York Sun: The waiter who bawls out his orders to the cook changes the order somewhat to that given by the diner, as follows:

"Where's my baked pota-' to?" asks a customer. "Mrs. Murphy in a seal sk in coat,' shouts the waiter "Two fried eggs, don't fry 'em too hard." "Adam and Eve in the garden, leave their eyes open!" shouts the waiter. "Chicken croquettes," says the customer. "Fowl ball," calls the waiter. "Hash," says a customer. "Gentleman wants to take a chance," says the waiter. "I'll have hash, too," ordered the next customer. "Another sport." shouted the waiter. "Frankfurters and saurkraut," orders the customer. "Fido, Shep and a bale of hay calls the waiter.
