OL. 10. No. 19 NINTH YEAR THE WEEK, SATURDAY, MAY 4, 1912 TENTH YEAR ONE DOLLAR PER ANNUM

EYMOUR NARROWS—There is no more remarkable evidence of the rapidity of western developments the rapid movement of ideas. For ty years the advocate of a bridge across nour Narrows has been "like the voice ne crying in the Wilderness." Less two years ago the project began to be d about by men who "saw visions and med dreams." A year ago it came n the range of political discussion. n months ago Premier McBride de- l that it was within the range of "prac- politics." Less than three months ago ncouver Island Committee was formed ost the scheme. Today everybody s that it will come in the very near e. The ground of belief is based upon ence in Mr. McBride's promise and act that so soon after he made that se a definite and important step has taken in the purchase of the Bute Railway Charter by Sir William Mc- e. Everyone familiar with local con- s in the neighbourhood of Bute Inlet s that while the Canadian Northern make use of Duncan Bay as a ship- Port to be served by Ferry from the and, that is only a temporary expedient hat it pressages all-rail connection with hainland at an early date. The Week ts what it stated last September, and ts it on unquestioned authority, that il connection will be established be- the main transcontinental line of the dian Northern and Victoria, by way of nour Narrows, within five years from st January, 1912; and that the cost idging the Narrows and the adjoining s will be borne by the Dominion and incial Governments in the ratio of to one, the total cost approximating ty-one million dollars. In this connec- it is rather amusing to read the con- rsy being waged between the Victoria nist and the Vancouver Sun. At first Colonist seemed to be surprised that hainland should be opposed to the pro- it has however been brought to see Vancouver in particular is so opposed it will fight it tooth and nail to a finish. will make no difference because it is table, but it will make a nice political ball before the thing is through. No- wishes to knock Vancouver or to limit affic but this is not a question of knock- it is a question of Victoria coming to own, and where the Vancouver Sun s to be very far out is in declaring Vancouver has a better harbour than oria. It is not a question of the present ition and capacity of either harbour, d the Sun would be the last to admit Vancouver Harbour has been develop- o its capacity; on the other hand it t to admit, if it wishes to be fair, that levelopment of Victoria Harbour has y begun. On the mater of compari- the simple question is which harbour sceptible of being made into the biggest safest, and secondly, which harbour he safest approach and the best natural ties? Every sea-captain, every expert rator and Lloyds representative, per- the most independent and capable rity of all, unhesitatingly pronounces vour of Victoria, whilst its position, 80 nearer to the open ocean, gives it an estionable advantage. Whatever in- l development takes place nothing can nate from the ledger account as it s against Vancouver some seventy of difficult and tortous passage gh the Straits, an almost dangerous ach through the Narrows and a sus- ility to fog which becomes more pro- ced every year as the Terminal City nues to grow. If these natural advant- do not ultimately determine that Vic- must become the chief Pacific port e Dominion then perhaps the Vancou- Sun will tell us what goes to make an port.

THE SOOKE CONTRACT—The past week has seen several developments in the matter of the Sooke Lake Contract and although at the time of writing the matter has not been finally disposed of there is every reason to believe that a "via media" will be found and that arrangements will be concluded which will ensure a completion of the work by June, 1913. This after all is the "desideratum," to get the work completed as quickly as possible. It looks as if, in spite of many drawbacks, this will be effected in a shorter time than was anticipated and that would be a redeeming feature in what has proved to be a very vexatious matter. The Week has no desire to complicate a discussion on this subject whilst negotiations are still proceeding. There is plenty of room for legitimate criticism of many aspects of the subject, especially the action of the Council in surrendering the deposit cheque, but important as these matters are in principle, they become negligible quantities when contrasted with the urgent necessities for a water supply. It seems to The Week that the only question that the Council has to decide is whether they shall hand over the work to the lowest of the new tenderers MacDonald & Zwoski or pay Porter Brothers a premium of $225,000 as insurance against litigation with the Westholme Lumber Co. As both firms are equally competent to complete the work within the specified time and are prepared to put up substantial bonds to guarantee this, the issue is narrowed down to the question of how much an indemnity against the Westholme Lumber Co. is worth. The Week does not think it is worth anything like $225,000 and therefore thinks that it would only be fair to the ratepayers to engage the lowest tenderers. This would seem to be at once the shortest and safest road out of the difficulty, assuming that a firm of contractors is to be employed. There is one other method which might be adopted, and it is well worth consideration, and that is to employ a first class engineer as manager of construction and to give him sole charge of the work under the direction of the consulting engineer, Mr. Wynn Meredith. The principal gain in this event would be that such a manager would have every incentive to carry out the work as economically as possible because his remuneration would not depend upon the amount expended, while in the case of contractors who get a percentage on the outlay the higher the cost, the bigger their profit. No doubt this point will be borne in mind by the Council, and if it should be favourably entertained the success of the scheme would depend on securing the right man to work it out.

ESQUIMALT WATER—A good deal has been said during the last few weeks about the advisability of purchasing water from the Esquimalt Waterworks Company. No doubt the suggestion is worth consideration but the consideration to be of any value must take cognisance of all sides of a many-sided question. For instance before the Water Commissioner could avail himself of this source of supply it is necessary to submit a by-law to the ratepayers and obtain their sanction. The minimum time which this would consume, including the preliminaries, is two months. Then if the by-law passed, the Esquimalt Company would have eighteen months in which to deliver the water; but assuming, and it is a reasonable assumption, that they would be willing to abrogate the strict provisions of the Act and to put their water into the city mains at the earliest possible moment it would take at least four months and possibly six months to do this, because nearly a mile of pipe line would have to be purchased and installed, and the line carried either under or over Victoria Arm. This would bring us up to the end of the year and the wet season, meanwhile all the contractors who are offering to complete the Sooke contract undertake to have the Hump Back reservoir in operation this fall and as that reservoir would be capable of collecting and holding 166,000,000 gallons of water, and the pipe line therefrom to the City could be installed before next spring, it would look as if it was almost too late for the city to gain any advantage by giving notice to the Esquimalt Company. If notice had been given a year ago so that the Esquimalt water would have been available this summer conditions would have been entirely different, but as matters stand today, and assuming always that the Hump Back reservoir will be in commission next fall, and the whole system completed by June, 1913, it is difficult to believe that we should be much ahead by giving notice to the Esquimalt Company.

ROYAL MEMORIAL—It will be a matter of widespread interest to Canadians to know that our Government has decided to erect a suitable monument in memory of the late King Edward. It is not unlikely that this admirable precedent will be followed in many other parts of the Empire, for no Monarch was more widely respected or more generally beloved. The Canadian Memorial will be as far as is humanly possible worthy of its object and to this end the Dominion Government has invited the representative artists of Canada to send in competitive designs and to ensure the acceptance of the best design available has appointed an advisory Art Council who will judge all the competitive designs. The names of the gentlemen constituting this Council will carry weight throughout the Dominion as they are all well known men with high artistic tastes who have been prominently allied at Art Exhibitions for many years. Their names are Sir Edmund Walker, Toronto, Dr. Francis J. Shepherd, Montreal and Senator Arthur Boyer, Montreal. Canada has been twitted by the leading British Journals as being inartistic and lagging far behind other portions of the Empire in creative work. This competition will furnish an admirable opportunity to prove that our British "quidnuncs" may possibly for once be in the wrong. In any event it is to be hoped that Canadian Artists will rise to the occasion and they may certainly be counted on to appreciate its importance.

OVERSEAS CLUB—The Victoria Branch of the Overseas Club is making a splendid contribution to the Mansion House Fund for the relief of sufferers through the loss of the "Titanic." Not only have individual members of the Club canvassed the City with surprising results, but the collecting sheets posted in the various banks bear a splendid record. The Week is instructed to announce that the subscription lists will be closed on Wednesday next, the 10th instant, and on the following day the whole amount collected will be remitted to Mr. Evelyn Wrench, the Headquarters Secretary, for presentation at the Mansion House. Concurrently a full list of collectors and subscribers wil be published in the daily papers and The Week. The total amount of the contributions will be a great surprise not only to the members of the Club but to the general public.

THE GHOST WALKS—It is very inconsiderate of Colonel Roosevelt to fling a bomb-shell into the political camp by publishing President Taft's letter on the subject of Reciprocity. He might have been satisfied with throwing his hat into the ring, but you can never tell what the strenuous one will do. Nothing is more certain than he has no regard for the conventionalities. He went down one notch when he astonished the world by an unprecedented breach of good manners at the Mansion House. He increased the astonishment when, in violation of his solemn pledge, he entered the presidential contest against President Taft. He went down half a dozen notches when he began to call the President a liar; and now he falls almost as low as he can fall in the public estimation by publishing a "confidential" letter from his former friend and ally. Probably the Presidential contest is a "domestic" concern, and no business of Canada, but the cool proposal of President Taft to make Canada an "adjunct" of the States, and the complacent endorsation of the proposal by Colonel Roosevelt will confirm Canadians in the conclusion of the electorates, and will render it harder than ever for the Liberal press to defend the shoddy imperialism of Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

THE CITY ENGINEER—Everyone concerned is to be congratulated on the passing of the clouds which at one time threatened to mar the advent of the new City Engineer. The more one investigates the record and the achievements of Mr. C. H. Rust the more evident it becomes that in him Victoria has secured an engineer of eminence and proved capacity. A man who has been in the civic service at Toronto for thirty-five years and Chief Engineer of that city for fourteen must be a man of mark, and must, in spite of some failings, have made good. The Toronto press is a unit in his favour and in regretting his departure. Many of the most influential citizens, whose names are big in the financial world have spoken in the highest possible terms of Mr. Rust. He is still in the prime of life and should be able to give Victoria the exact service which she requires. Of one thing the public may rest assured that he is a big enough man to be placed in sole charge of his Department, and if so there may be some reasonable ground for hoping that botching and incompetency will become things of the past.

FLONZALEY—The last concert of the season, under the auspices of the Victoria Ladies Musical Club, will be held in the Theatre on Monday next. The concert will be given by a brilliant aggregation of musicians known as the Flonzaley Quartette. They were assembled in Europe by an eminent connoiseur and have had a remarkable career on two Continents. They have scored successes in such critical European cities as Berlin, Dresden, Leipsig, Stuttgart, and London; also in the leading American cities. The Boston press says: "The Flonzaleys need fear no rival in the country." The Quartette devotes itself entirely to the cultivation of chamber music and is the only European string quartette ever brought to American. Once more The Week bespeaks a generous patronage for the Ladies' Musical Club which has done so much for music in Victoria, and which depends on a full house at the Flonzaley Concert to wind up the present season on the right side of the balance sheet.

OIL IN BRITAIN—The Colonist has struck oil in an expert article on "Oil in Britain." The Week has not had the advantage in reading the original article but assuming the editorial is a correct synopsis it must be interesting. In the first place the article confuses "oil" with "oil shales." There are in Scotland oil shales from which very small quantities of oil have been procured for half a century, but the quantity is practically negligible. There is no place in the United Kingdom where flowing oil has ever been found. It is perhaps not fair to arrive at definite conclusions in the absence of the original article, but if the geology is as defective as the geography, which places the "Wash" to the "North-west" of Portsmouth then it will not constitute a very valuable contribution to the scientific discussion of an important subject.

I never see May Day come round again without a feeling of regret that the good old-fashioned customs are gone and that the official ushering in of the early summer is allowed to pass unnoticed. It is true that in some places the time-honoured gaities are continued, and I think that New Westminster deserves a special vote of thanks for not neglecting one of the prettiest legacies of the ages. But for the most part, especially in Europe, May Day would seem to have taken on a semi-political aspect and is the one day in the year when Labour, with a capital "L," parades itself, its aims and objects. Now I have no quarrel with Labour, but I do think that the First of May is a singularly inappropriate day for such gloomy considerations as the relations of Capital and Labour. May Day, to my mind, shares with Christmas the honour of being the children's day and should therefore be a day of happiness. One associates it with wreaths and flowers, with smiling faces and dancing feet, but—alas—one seldom has such associations in this sternly practical age, and so May Day comes and goes and there is no bubbling mirth to mark the transition.

The above remarks suggest to me that a reason for the abandonment of much of what was good and wholesome amusement not long ago may be found in the general lack of spontaneity which is so prevalent a mark of our modern civilisation. We are so accustomed to have things done for us, or to be told how to do things, that we have even forgotten how to play. We hire skilled performers to play our games in order that we may watch them and judge of their skill; we ride instead of walking, and use elevators instead of stairs, and our excuse is that in this age of specialisation and hurry no man can afford to spend time or energy on anything which is not in his own particular line. And even the children have caught the infection. Reader, have you ever watched a Maypole dance under present conditions? It is an education in itself. Poets and such-like folk, perhaps even Loungers, when they hear of a Maypole, recall such phrases as "tripping it o'er the lea," "winsome lasses," "bonny lads" and similar delicate expressions of the fantasy. But the modern Maypole dance careth for none of these things. It is a labour of intricate mathematics; it is as stately as the pre-historic minuet, and as uninteresting as a funeral. I always feel sorry for the children who take part, for theirs is as miserable a lot as that which falls to the boy or girl who, when presented with a box of chocolates, is only permitted to eat them, one at a time; whereas, as everybody knows, the only real way to eat chocolates is to stuff as many into the mouth as it will hold at once. Real pleasure can never be taught, for when restriction enters, pleasure flits away to more congenial haunts.

I want to register a formal "kick" against the general public. There is nothing like being comprehensive when you want to make a complaint, and I firmly believe that the people of Victoria are wholly to blame for the continuous volume of abominable rag-time music which is at present dominating every cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery and dulcimer, and all kinds of music throughout the city. No matter where you go, except Beacon Hill Park on Sunday, you hear some kind of a glide being played. It is not the fault of the orchestra; they have to play the tune the manager calls for. It is not the fault of the manager, he has to provide the music that the public want. It is the public who are responsible; they pay the piper and consequently demand the tune, and it is unfortunately true that when the musicians break away and play something really good, it meets with scant applause, whereas the latest vulgar rag-time is received with enthusiasm. Let a singer come on the vaudeville stage and sing a selection from Grand Opera, and let her be followed by a soubrette singing an American two-step, or "glide" ditty, then the real bent of musical Victoria will be seen. I am not speaking, of course, of the pillars of society, who do not hear soubrettes, or of the aesthetes who would faint at a comic song; I am referring to the man on the street, who is, after all, the real arbiter in most things touching the public. And it is the man in the street whom we have to thank for the barbarisms which assail us on each and every occasion that a band strikes up a tune. In my opinion, the modern man in the street would be more suitably accommodated in the gutter.

It is not very long ago that an article appeared in The Week from the pen of a prominent dog-fancier in Victoria, urging upon all owners of dogs the necessity of seeing well to it that their canine property did not annoy their neighbours by promiscuous barking. If I remember rightly the gentleman in question was public-spirited enough to run a fair-sized advertisement to this effect, and explained that his reason in so doing was to encourage the dog industry in the town by giving dogless individuals as little cause for complaint as possible. I seem to be unfortunate in having wandered to a district where night and early morning is made more than hideous by the howling of dogs. There is one animal, species not defined, who starts regularly about 10.30 p.m. with a desultory barking, which changes at stated intervals to the fierce watch-dog bark. Opposite is a house where a young puppy is chained outside about eight o'clock every morning and allowed to bark himself hoarse in a frantic effort to obtain freedom. Round the corner is another dog with a light tenor voice who suffers from being chained outside all night. I suppose that I should be thankful that there are no cats and no poultry in the immediate neighbourhood, but it seems to me that a full orchestra could be no worse than a small one. It is so thoughtlessly unreasonable of people to keep pets which are an annoyance to others, and surely the different owners must know that these dogs are a nuisance. Possibly, however, a dog-owner is like a snorer, who can keep a household awake and yet sleep through his own trumpetings without winking an eyelid. In the meantime, I live in hopes that some day those three dogs will get off their chains at a moment when the dog-catcher is passing by with his Canine Express.

I wonder whether anyone has noticed the contrast presented by the car service of Victoria and that of any other city in the West in one important respect, viz., the cleanliness and sanitariness of the cars. This week I have been taking special notice, and I find that every car I have ridden in has been carefully swept and the floor well oiled. Moreover, the dust has been cleared away from the ventilators. Hinges have been lubricated and ventilators that have not been opened since they left the car shops now allow the pure air of Heaven to enter and cool the fevered heads of the passengers. Hurrah for the B. C. E. R.! What I should like to know is: If this system can be carried out in Victoria, why not everywhere? I should like to ask one other question: If such a complete metamorphosis can be effected in forty-eight hours, why not before? I take off my hat to the local management in grateful acknowledgment of one nuisance abated, and freely admit that the last thing that would occur to me is that in this instance there is any possible connection between "cause" and "effect," or that once more the public have to thank the lighting the audiences with their fine singing. It is indeed a treat to hear such vocalists as these two artists, who are in the front rank of vaudeville singers and it is a most pleasant change to hear real voices and real music in place of the average ill-produced imitation howling rag-time "glides." Holmes & Riley will always be assured of a hearty welcome in Victoria. Lawton is a juggler with novelties to portray, and his work with heavy cannon-balls is excellent. Willard, the man who grows, is an extraordinary instance of the freaks which Nature sometimes perpetrates. The closing act by Mr. and Mrs. Voelker is one of the most musical that has visited Victoria vaudeville.

It's Really Funny

How some people when ordering a beverage, beer for instance, just ask for "beer," omitting the most important point, namely: "LEMP'S," for Lemp's Beer is a wholesome and delicious beverage, made from pure malt and hops. Always sold in bottles, a beer full of SPARKLE and invigorating qualities, making it unexcelled for table use. Order a supply for home use from your dealer—but be sure and ask for "LEMP'S." Drink Lemp's at your hotel, club, bar or cafe.

The Majestic Theatre

"The Motion Picture man in the Dark Continent" is a wonderfully pretty and effective film, showing wild life in the jungle and bush. This is a coloured film and represents a vast expense both of time and money, but it is well worth it. This picture was unreeled during the middle of the week.

Romano's Theatre

Romano's has been running the usual good stuff on Government Street. There has been plenty of drama and comedy, and one picture in particular, "The Guilty Baby," combined the best features of both. Next week, on May 6 and 7, will be seen views dealing with the late wreck of the Titanic.

The Crystal Theatre

Little & Allen have been the star vaudeville performers this week at the Crystal and their performance has been bringing the house down. Wednesday night, being amateur night, was productive of an extra big house, and the lobby was crowded with eager patrons. The pictures shown have been first-class and the popularity of the Crystal seems assured.

The Flonzaley Quartette

In its issue for April 6th, "The Outlook" has an intelligent article on American Music, in which it lauds the efforts that are being made throughout the United States to familiarize the people with the best class of music as interpreted by the most talented artists. This is the kind of work which the Victoria Ladies' Musical Club is doing in our own city today and the fact that they are able to close their season with a presentation of the Flonzaley Quartette argues that they have been true to their determination to offer only the best to the citizens of Victoria. Wherever they have appeared the members of this quartette have been received with unbounded enthusiasm and even if a liberal discount were allowed on the press notices which have appeared in every city where they have played, their success has been tremendous. An interesting item in connection with this musical combination is the fact that two Stradivarius violins, two Guadigninis and one Testori are the instruments used in their recitals. The Flonzaley Quartette will appear at the Victoria Theatre on Monday, May 6th, and their reputation should ensure a packed house.

May Robson

May Robson is an actress of exceptional ability and in her new play, "A Night Out," of which she is co-author, she has every opportunity to develop that fund of clean cut humour and that world of brilliant and thrilling pathos which has made her famous. It is a rare quality and but few actresses possess it to a convincing degree. She will impersonate a young-old woman, broad-minded, free from affectation and possessing a keen sense of humour, nothing absurd or ridiculous escapes her attention, and being fond of excitement as a mild stimulant, she persuades her two grandsons whom she adores, into all sorts of extravange, and a visit to a restaurant of shady character for dinner is the climax of her adventure. Of course, Granmum, as she is called by the family, is not aware of the character of the place, and complacently waits for a rather elaborate dinner. Presently, however, the police raid the restaurant and all is excitement with a nervous desire to be somewhere else in a hurry. Granmum is hustled into the street, not politely but vigorously, hence her disheveled appearance later. Arriving home they find the house in darkness and the doors locked, and the only means of entering the house is by climbing up the ivy in front of the house to an open window. This is done by Granmum and the boys. This adventure leads to an explanation. The boys are ambiguous and Granmum sustains them. Following this incident, comes the distressing report that a bond has been taken from Granmum's locker in the safety deposit vault, and a detective is immediately put on the case.. The arrival of the policeman with a brooch belonging to Granmum that she lost in the restaurant during the excitement, produces consternation and a very humorous situation. From this juncture the story moves rapidly, in which love and devotion of the young people is sustained by the influence of the jolly, whole-souled Granmum. At the Victoria Theatre, Tuesday, May 7th.

The First of all Successful Plays on Woman Suffrage

"Whenever a manuscript about woman suffrage comes into my office I throw it aside the moment I recognize its subject," said a New York manager the other day. "Everybody is writing them; but the subject is as impossible for the stage as capital and labour. Woman suffrage presents one insuperable difficulty: if the author does not take sides his play has no conclusion; if he does take sides he offends at least half of his audience." All of which sounds logical but scarcely squares with what has actually happened. One of the principal successes in London this season was Alfred Sutro's comedy, "The Perplexed Husband." A. B. Walkley, critic of the London Times, declared Mr. Sutro's work "amusing, stimulating, thoughtful and interesting." And yet "The Perplexed Husband" is all about woman's rights. Charles Frohman is going to produce the play in America next season. Apparently Mr. Sutro has evolved a comedy with a splendidly timely thesis out of which naturally grows sprightly action. Thomas Pelling, a tea merchant, has returned home to find his attractive young wife converted to suffragette-ism. She has domiciled in the house a very theoretical philosopher professor and a lady firebrand. The wife has been to see an Ibsen play. She feels herself another Nora in "A Doll's House," and poor Mr. Pelling is aghast. On the advice, however, of a practical married sister, instead of combating the craze, Mr. Pelling pretends to fall in with it and introduces into the house a very charming young woman with a Greek soul, who he says needs converting also. Without following all

THE Staggard Tread Tires are the most economical you can buy because the double thickness and quality of the riding treads equal that of any two ordinary tires.

Their chief value, however, lies in the protection they afford both passengers and car in checking every tendency to slip or skid on any kind of wet or slippery road or when making sharp emergency turns.

Written Specially for The Week by "Criticus"

A great mind can always afford to consider trifles. It is only the person of mediocre intellect who can not see fine distinctions in things material or abstract. Not every one in Victoria is capable of discerning the difference between "I will drown and nobody shall save me," and "I shall drown and nobody will save me," and yet there is all the difference in the world. The former might be said by a determined suicide whilst the latter is a cry of fear. Accuracy of language and even spelling has its benefits and a leading medical man in Victoria tells an amusing story of a patient coming, with almost breathless haste, to pay his account immediately following its receipt—whilst the ink was still warm in fact—simply because the patient's name was correctly spelt which it seems did not always happen—and another instance comes to mind where a year's subscription was joyfully paid to the B. C. Agricultural Journal simply because that journal spelt the name of the flourishing town of Duncan properly (that is without any "s" at the end of it.

Many deviations from the correct use of words, apart from spelling are found and there is generally a reason for these departures although it is not always apparent. A people who are not naturally refined, that is, born refined, with cumulative culture of many generations in their composition will of course be aware of their weakness and the tendency to coarseness of expression, and in their commendable ambition to conceal this will rush to the other extreme and become guilty of the indelicacy of overdelicacy and so our English language is spoilt to suit this spurious refinement and mock modesty, and good plain serviceable words are shunned by reason of some hidden meaning attached to them by these over-refined coarse people. This has taken place and is accepted without question or objection by other "genteel" coarse people.

The London Journal, "The World," was started by the late Mr. Labouchere with the plain descriptive title, "A Journal for Men and Women." This would not do for Victoria—it would have to be a Journal for "Gents and Ladies."

Women of rank and birth and real position which needs no spurious aids —no props—are heard to talk about the bay mare, the Jersey bull or the Pointer bitch, but, in shame be it said, we have drifted into the coarsest indelicacy of all which is over-delicacy and Victoria "Ladies" must substitute "female horse" for mare, the "gentleman cow" for bull, and the "lady dog" for bitch, and so it goes on right through our vocabulary. Let us have done with such snobbish "genteelness" and speak English without fear.

The newspapers do not give us much help—they are perhaps not written with the idea of serving the purpose of a lesson in finished cultivated English for the people to be guided by — the papers are read enough to use up a great deal of the reading time folk have and this is the sort of English frequently to be found, "It is 'up to' the Government to find out where the country is 'at.'" "The price paid was 'in the neighbourhood' of a million dollars." What nonsense! How far off was it—one mile away or only a block? It will take place "in the near future"—why not "soon," and so it goes on again.

There are three Noahs—to wit: Noah, Noah Shakespeare and Noah Webster, but the greatest of these is Webster. Unfortunately his influence on our retaining our correct pronunciation of English is nullified by the sale of cheap American dictionaries, preaching wrong accent and often, wrong spelling.

The professional florist's chrysanthemum has a lesson. One huge bloom on a stalk is a strange and wonderful thing. It is produced by forcing all the life and nature of the plant into one shoot and nipping off all side branches and flowers. Apply this simile to our people and you find the one blossom—the dollar bloom, and the dollar bloom is very fine and large and people come and gape at it and fancy it is beautiful but some would like to see a few—only a few—of the nipped off flowers and one of these is loved and is called correct English.

Correspondence

THE NAVAL AND MILITARY EMIGRATION LEAGUE

To the Editor of The Week:

Dear Sir,—I beg to enclose herewith copy of an Appeal, issued by this League, which has been signed by the Right Hon. Earl Grey, late Governor-General of the Dominion of Canada, the Duke of Bedford, Field-Marshal Lord Grenfell, and myself.

I am also enclosing copies of a report issued last year and of an interim report just issued. These will give you some idea of the useful Imperial and philthropic work in which which the League is engaged, and from them you will see that every care is taken in the selection of suitable men and that the League is neither a charitable institution nor a commercial agency. We have at present applications from large numbers of ex-service men of good character and physique, who are unable to find permanent employment at home and are anxious to start life in the Oversea Dominions, where openings can be found for them.

The objects of the League should commend themselves, I think, to all who are interested in the welfare of the men who have served and, in many instances, suffered for the Empire, but to none more than to our kindred across the seas.

I am, therefore, asking you to give such publicity to our Appeal and to the work of the League as may arouse the interest of your readers in a movement, from which the Dominions, as well as, if not more than, the Mother Country, will profit.

As you will notice, an Overseas organization has been formed; but this part of our work is susceptible of considerable development, which will, however, depend very largely upon the practical interest which the Press, represented by such papers as yours, takes in the subject.

On behalf of the Council, I am,
Yours faithfully,
RONALD B. LANE,
Chairman.

P. S.—The British Columbia representative on the Committee is Arthur E. Hepburn, Esq., of Vancouver.

Appeal for Our Ex-Service Men

The Naval and Military Emigration League is in pressing need of funds, to carry on its Imperial and philanthropic work.

The Patron of the League is Field-Marshal H.R.H. The Duke of Connaught and Strathearn, K.G., K.T., K.P., &c., who is also President of its Canadian Branch. The President of the League is Field-Marshal The Rt. Hon. Earl Roberts, V.C., K.G., &c.

The main objects of the League are to find openings in His Majesty's Dominions Overseas for ex-service men, and to advance, by way of a loan, the amount necessary for their emigration, arrangements for the repayment of which are made through the Oversea Representatives of the League. The men to whom such advances are made must be of good character and physique, must show aptitude for Colonial life, and must be unable to obtain permanent employment at home.

The condition of many of these men at present is deplorable, and to help them to make a new start in life is an urgent public duty.

Already a large number of men, through the advice and assistance which the League has been able to render, have emigrated to Canada, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa to their own advantage and to that of the countries to which they have gone. The work which has thus been done by the League has gained the appreciation of the Governments of the Dominions and other Oversea Authorities, who are affording special facilities to those who emigrate under its auspices. To continue this work and to meet the demands of the hundreds of applicants who are seeking the aid of the League, generous support is imperatively required. An appeal for financial help is, therefore, made to all who are interested in the welfare of our ex-Soldiers and ex-Sailors, and who desire to encourage men of British blood to settle in His Majesty's Dominions, in preference to foreign countries.

In making this appeal the League desires it to be understood that it does not advocate indiscriminate emigration and only advises it in the case of men who are unable to find suitable employment at home.

INTERIM REPORT

July 1st, 1911, to February 29th, 1912

Men Emigrated

1. The number of men who emigrated under the auspices of the League during the above period was 173, of whom 76 went to Australia, 2 to New Zealand, 1 to South Africa, and 94 to Canada, all of whom obtained employment, directly or indirectly, through the various overseas committees and representatives appointed by the League. Forty to fifty more men are emigrating during the next few weeks.

The total number (exclusive of wives and families) sent out since the active formation of the League, about two years ago, will be nearly 500. In arranging for the emigration of the men, every possible facility has been afforded by the Canadian Emigration Department, and by the various Australian Government Agencies, in London. Through these agencies, special introductions are often obtained, to the advantage of the emigrants, from many of whom letters have been received expressing the thanks of the writers for the services rendered by the League and by its Canadian committees (especially those in Toronto and Vancouver), and by the British Immigration League in Australia.

Inquiries and Applications

2. The number of inquiries dealt with by correspondence and interviews, during the past eight months, averaged over 200 per week, or from 6,000 to 7,000 in all. Many of the inquirers are in urgent need of help to enable them to emigrate, but, owing to the lack of funds, the League is, at present, unable to make the necessary advances.

Openings Overseas

3. There are excellent openings for large numbers of ex-Service men in our Oversea Dominions, and the various Governments are prepared to give special facilities to carefully selected men sent out under the auspices of the League, which is being recognised, both at home and overseas, as the established association for the emigration of ex-Service men.

Applications have been received from Australia for 300 single men, towards whose passages £6 each will be provided out of a fund raised for the purpose in Sydney, and from Canada for 150 time-expired men, whose fares will be paid by the Dominion Government. Employment for these men has been guaranteed at current rates of wages and pay. To enable the League to avail itself of the Australian offer, funds must be provided, for a number of needy cases, in order to advance the balance of fare (£10) and landing money (£2 5s.).

Leaflet for War Office

4. The League is authorised by the War Office to issue a Leaflet drawing the attention of "Army Pensioners contemplating Emigration" to the objects of the League.

Regimental and other Associations

5. In addition to securing the co-operation of a number of Regimental Associations and other bodies interested in ex-Service men at home, the League has been promised aid by the Victoria League and the Overseas Club through their various branches and correspondents in Australia and Canada in looking after the men on their arrival overseas, by co-operation with the various committees appointed by this League. The League is also in correspondence with the Veterans' Brigade of Canada, the Imperial Home Re-Union of Canada, and other Oversea Associations, who are prepared to further, in every possible way, the work of the League.

Canadian Branch

6. Since the issue of the last report, Mr. J. S. Dennis, assistant to the president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, has become a Vice-President of the Canadian Branch of the League, and Mr. A. B. Wilmot, Government Superintendent of Immigration, St. John, New Brunswick, has undertaken to represent the League in that Province.

British Soldiers in India

7. The Rev. H. C. Martin, Secretary of the Royal Army Temperance Association, Simla, who, with Major W. J. Ottley, of Sialkot, represents the League in India, reports that he has dealt with one or two suggestions made by the League, and that the way is now rendered more easy for time-expired men, desiring to emigrate, to secure free passages to Australia, and that, although Reservists are not eligible for passages to British Colonies at Government expense, there is nothing to prevent them from going to Australia or other Oversea Dominions direct, at their own expense, provided they secure the previous sanction of the War Office.

Concluding Note

8. Every possible care is taken that only men of good character and physique, and who are willing and able to work, are sent out under the auspices of this League. And all monies advanced towards the emigration of men in need of assistance are required to be repaid, by arrangement with the oversea. representatives of the League.

ARTISTS

A beautiful picture is like a Society woman. Both are the cleverest forms of hand-painting. Both also require to be touched up from time to time to make them last. The value of a work of art is usually in inverse ratio to its youth. Unlike a girl, the older it becomes the more it is sought after. All real artists should possess the artistic temperament, which means a dislike of regular work and a disinclination to cold water. Many of our great academicians are believed to have started life as artists.

WESTERN RAILWAY MATTERS

he season is now so far advanced that the railways are proceed- ore actively to carry out the plans that have been prepared for There is a tremendous amount of work in contemplation by the ent companies. One of the features of the Canadian Pacific Rail- programme is the building of new yards at Winnipeg, for which has been secured to the north-east of the city. The plans involve round houses, certain shops and another bridge over the Red . A report from Regina says that construction work will soon full swing in that locality. Labourers have arrived there to ed with the Grand Trunk Pacific extensions. It is expected that e end of the present year the G. T. P. lines from Regina to the lary, from Regina to Moose Jaw, and from Moose Jaw north- for a distance of sixty miles will have been completed.

attention will be given the disputes between the company and the various districts. No street cars are being operated in Point Grey, this dispute being still in the courts. The government is much interested in this district, since it still owns considerable land therein, and in Point Grey is the site of the proposed university. The principal difference between the government and the Company is in relation to the franchise in D. L. 301 and in Hastings townsite, both of which are now part of Vancouver city. The company was granted perpetual franchises in these districts, as Hon. W. J. Bowser, attorney-general, announced on the election platform, because no objection was made by ratepayers when application was made for same. Ratepayers afterwards contended they had no opportunity to object, and opposed the franchise very strenuously. Until this opposition was made the government was not aware that it had granted the company a perpetual franchise. Then it limited the franchise to 21 years, but the company holds that the original franchise is still valid.

Satisfactory Adjustment Somewhat Difficult

In addition, there is difference of opinion in regard to the company's franchise in South Vancouver, Burnaby, New Westminster, and even in North Vancouver. This week, a committee of North Vancouver district aldermen are inspecting the agreement to see if the franchise still holds good there. This point was brought before the members of the legislature recently when West Vancouver was applying for incorporation. At that time the government stated that if the franchise to North Vancouver was voided because the company failed to carry out the contract, then permission would be given to grant a franchise to another company.

A disappointed investor asked The Monetary Times if there was not a duty devolving on the government in relation to the promotion of companies which hardly ever or never returned the shareholders anything. He remarked that on the coast, where there is prosperity, promoters frequently secured a moderate amount of money from several people, a company then being formed and even works established, and while the company may be deeply in debt, the promoters revel in luxury. Just what the government should do he did not say, neither did he suggest any action on the part of the shareholders who ought to be able to do something themselves.

MARITIME COAL, RAILWAY AND POWER COMPANY

The annual meeting of the Maritime Coal, Railway and Power Company, of which Hon. William Mitchell is president, took place at Montreal. The company is located at the Joggins, Cumberland County, Nova Scotia, and while they are producing seven hundred tons of coal per day, English capital to the amount of a million dollars has been secured, and further development of the property will take place during the coming summer.

Correspondence

The Week accepts no responsibility for the views expressed by its correspondents. Communications will be inserted whether signed by the real name of the writer or a nom de plume, but the writer's name and address must be given to the Editor as an evidence of bona fides. In no case will it be divulged without consent.

A PLEA FOR A TREE

To the Editor of The Week:

Sir,—On the land selected at North Saanich for the Experimental Farm is a good deal of bush which must unfortunately be cleared away. In one corner close to the main East Saanich Road is a splendid dogwood tree, and it is for the preservation of this tree that I make this appeal. The tree stands only a few yards from the road on a little knoll, quite by itself and clear of all brush and undergrowth. It is some 50 or 60 feet high, with a trunk of over one foot in diameter and is well shaped. At present it is covered with a mass of budding flowers, the large bracts which surround the flowers proper and which will soon be dazzling white are a shimmering golden green looking in the sunlight like plates of some beautiful unknown metal.

In clearing the land there can be no necessity for removing this tree which has for years, and which will for years yet to come form an object of interest to wayfarers and a delight to the many tourists who pass along this much frequented road.

There are no doubt plenty of dogwood trees still to be found in the bush, but along the highways they are getting scarcer and scarcer as the years roll by. Though I am pretty well acquainted with the country round about Victoria and its beautiful trees I do not know of a finer specimen of the dogwood than this one, and therefore I hope that this plea for its life may reach the eyes and find favour in the hearts of those in whose hands its fate lies.

I am, etc.,

CHARLES ST. BARBE.

Sidney, B.C., 22 April, 1912.

Victoria, B.C., 21st April, 1912.

To the Editor of The Week:

Sir,—Do you not think that in all the various reports and examinations so far given in the public press, the real and main reasons for the awful catastrophe, the wreck of the Titanic, are being overlooked or ignored, perhaps deliberately. In the first place the responsibility of the British Government for the disgraceful state of the law as regards the carriage and safety of passengers, and the outstanding fact that on board the Titanic was the managing director, who, having been warned of the vicinity of ice, permitted such a speed as twenty-four miles an hour to be continued and did not give immediate orders for the speed to be slowed down. It is twaddle to say "Accidents will happen at sea." That accident had no right to happen. How is it that the Cunard company have had no catastrophes, because human life comes first in their estimation and not commercial greed which is at the bottom of all these catastrophes, with scarcely an exception. Such is the opinion of a

SCOTSMAN.

ST. GEORGE'S DAY

Victoria, 23 April, 1912.

To the Editor of The Week:

Sir,—On Tuesday, April 23; yes, it is very astonishing how few Englishmen realize that this day of all days is their day. When I say their day, I mean to say, that this is the day of their Patron Saint, St. George. I wonder how many of you Englishmen saw the flag of St. George flying from the city hall, stopped to think, also to feel proud of that same flag which is so dear to us, being as it is, the true flag of our nation, also the first flag to fly over the first settlements of the English in Canada.

The Irish celebrate St. Patrick, the Scotch St. Andrew, the Welch St. David; now let us see if we can't celebrate our Uatron Saint a little better in the future. Remember these lines:

"Se. George for Merrie England,
Was the sterling battle cry,
When brave knights in armour,
Watched and prayed in days gone by."

M. W. OLIVER.

HARBOR MOTTO

Mayne Island, May 1, 1912.

To the Editor of The Week:

Sir,—In two local papers it is proposed to erect a motto at the entrance of Victoria Harbour. Victoria is not only a seaport town but the capital of the province and I would suggest that a motto of broader appliance would be more appropriate. "Be British," the last order of a brave seaman, might be considered.

Dominion & Provincial News

To Lay Out Trail to the Coal Fields

President W. R. Smith of the Citizens' Association, Stewart, is in receipt of a letter from William Manson, member-elect for the Skeena district, stating that C. J. Gillingham, road superintendent, had been instructed to make a preliminary survey of the proposed Stewart-Groundhog trail, with a view to ascertaining route and cost of construction. An additional appropriation will have to be secured to carry the trail east from the Bear river-Naas trail for which $22,000 has been allocated. The building of the trail from the Groundhog anthracite coal basin to seaboard at Stewart will effect a shorter route to the coal fields and build up a substantial and ever-increasing trade for this port.

Crossing the Fraser

The ice bridge over the Fraser became unsafe for traffic last Monday, a fact demonstrated by a steer breaking through while crossing to this side, morning another animal was lost in the same manner, and in the afternoon the water cleared out a wide channel from the bend above the hospital to the junction with the Quesnel. Passengers and mail arriving that evening from the north had to be transferred in canoes.

North Fork

Reports from North Fork are to the effect that the numerous parties engaged in placer mining in that vicinity are doing exceptionally well this season.

New Contracts on K. V.

Three more contracts on the Kettle Valley railway were let this week, Clyde H. Williams & Co. secured six miles; Milligan, Dussault & Co., nine miles, and Porter & Connely ten miles. These contracts are all for the extension of the line west of Carmi, and will bring the new line within fifteen miles of the summit. The contractors were in Grand Forks on Monday making financial arrangements for the carrying on of the work, also for the necessary supplies required in the different camps.

Good Money in Trapping

Geo. P. Crandell (Sunny Jim), who left Grand Forks the second week of last month on his return trip to his trapping grounds up the north fork of Kettle river, returned to the city on Monday, bringing down with him five ermine, five beaver, three mink, five lynx and twelve martin skins, as well as three big horn owls, upon the latter of which the government pay a bounty of $2 each. The skins are all in excellent condition and are worth somewhat over $400. When it is considered that Mr. Crandell trapped only about a month, $400 is pretty good returns for the labor entailed in the securing of the skins.

xing Tournament

Tuesday night Messrs. Davis kuce staged the last boxing and ling tournament of the season e Victoria Theatre. On the it was a good entertainment, worth the price of admission, ave satisfaction to the hundreds ople who thronged the house. e nine bouts four were good, assable, and three poor. The scientific bout was the one in the plucky little Swede Peder- as beaten after a very even set- the last round. If his man had en at least ten pounds heavier, son would have won from start sh. I regret that there should h inequality in the weights as metimes found at these boxing ts. To handicap pure science ting it up against weight and h is not a "sporting" deal. The etween Willis and Gordon was one, but I have my doubts r the decision to go a fourth was just, I think Gordon had a argin on points at the end of d. Willis was altogether too action and had no variety in ck. On the whole the quality show was hardly equal to the ll it was above the average, splendid patronage it receiv- ld encourage the promoters to er next season, for nothing is ertain that the largest hall can be filled to see good boxing estling.

New Branch

w branch of the Vancouver Development League has just rmed at the south end of Salt Island. This comprises all that section of the island lying south of the "Divide," including the districts of Cranberry Marsh, Beaver Point, Isabella Point and Burgoyne Valley. The ports of call, served well by the C. P. R. steamboat "Joan," are Fulford Harbour (from which the branch of the League takes its name of The Fulford Harbour Branch of the V. I. Development League), Beaver Point, Burgoyne, Musgrave's and Lyonesse. The progress of this district was retarded last year by the loss of the "Iroquois," with the consequent disorganization of the means of communication, so land has not advanced in price as in other sections, and the district is not as well known as its contiguity to Victoria would warrant.

Whilst it is a district of good farming land, it is certainly destined to become the site of the summer homes of city residents, for which it is particularly adapted, the calm waters of its harbours offering safe boating and canoeing, combined with good fishing, despite the frequent poaching of Fulford Harbour by fishermen with Seine nets, whilst for good sport with gun as well as rod, probably no district so near Victoria is its equal.

Messrs. W. J. L. Hamilton, J.P., and C. J. Soule are respectively president and secretary of this branch, and are now engaged in collecting particulars of all properties in the market, as they find many would-be purchasers have failed to secure what they want for lack of the necessary information.

Loss of the Titanic

The Overseas Club has received a card of acknowledgment from the White Star Line in reference to the Resolution passed at the last meeting of the Club which was referred to in the daily press but not quoted in extenso. The Resolution reads as follows:

"That the Victoria Branch of the Overseas Club wishes to place on record its overwhelming sense of sorrow at the catastrophe involved in the wreck of the Titanic and the loss of so many precious lives and desires to express its profound sympathy with the sorrowing relatives and friends in their hour of bereavement.'

The Card of acknowledgment reads as follows:—

"The White Star Line most gratefully acknowledges the expression of your deep sympathy and shares with you profound sorrow for all to whom the loss of the S.S. 'Titanic' has brought great bereavement."

Gossip from the Stalls

the developments, it may be said that the lady with the Greek soul eventually pairs off in a very quaint scene with the white souled professor who is known as "the master." The wife realizes her folly, and deserted by her teacher, falls into her husband's arms. In other words, the light of a little humour is shed upon the perplexing subject of woman suffrage and much wisdom is gleaned. Perhaps that is the fly in the amber of American-made plays on the same subject; that they take themselves and their subject too seriously.

Benefit Dance

On Wednesday, May 8th, a dance will be held at the Gorge Pavilion in aid of the Titanic Relief fund. The pavilion has been placed at the disposal of the committee by Mrs. Simpson, who will superintend the evening's entertainment, whilst the Musicians Union, through the courtesy of their president, Mr. Peel, have promised a free orchestra. A special car service is guaranteed by the B. C. E. R. Tickets are now on sale at Challoner & Mitchell's, $1.00 each. Any help in the way of light refreshments will be thankfully received and publicly acknowledged by Mrs. Simpson.

"The Game's the Thing"

"Play the Game"--"Keep your Eye on the Ball"

By C. B. S.

The climate and agricultural prospects of British Columbia make it a land for settlement for all classes from the Old Country in the future apart from any mineral discoveries that may or may not come about. Interest in the Old Country is at present deeply aroused to the potentialities of the Province and Vancouver Island enjoys her fair share of that interest. Among the emigrants filtering through to this "Ultima Thule" a goodly proportion want an opportunity of looking round to see how the land lies, but their purse extends little further than the legal minimum for a settler's assets and when he has been a couple of months in the Island or not even beyond the terminal city he finds he has little or nothing left.

Unfortunately foreign labour agencies—German, Swedish, Danish, Norwegian, Finnish and Polish—seem to be more efficiently worked and get labour for their respective countrymen than true British, and if it is to be a white man's country surely the welfare of our own kith and kin require preference to foreign aliens. Then, too, the astute American finds a way of gaining employ—is it not possible for the powers that be to enquire into and remedy the cause that is bringing about the effect. Recent [R]evolution in the shape of the coal strike at home has started an inquiry from which many valuable lessons will be taken to heart and adjustments peacefully evolved without doubt; surely an advanced form of Government such as we have out here need not lull itself to sleep simply because there is practically no opposition to keep it awake. The confidence which the late Government very justly earned for itself has resulted in its re-election by a very one-sided majority, the voters being quite content to leave well alone. This has, however, unfortunately killed that virtue of party government, whereby, with a strong opposition, the due sense of proportion is kept up: it may lose its level, and, that otherwise smooth pool renders itself liable to become ruffled with a sudden splash. Sudden splashes stir up mud besides causing ripples, so it is incumbent on a one-sided government to provide against unemployment.

A proper inquiry into the labour question will be the natural death of the I. W. W. movement, the real existence of which is due to the high price paid to white labour and the continued influx of coloured labour—black as well as yellow. Advertising a country has its limits even from an industrial point of view and photographs form a very valuable adjunct to print, these attractive agencies have their time as well as open purse limits, but it must be remembered the worm will turn and as the late Mark Twain once said the mosquito inside the curtain is worth ten thousand outside. We hear and talk about the numbers of people who come from the Old Country and what they are disposed to pay for bits of British Columbia rock, soil and slough; they take the rough with the smooth and buy their experiences with as goodly a smile as the alien, but they don't care about being bled whilst the alien gets the plums of employ because he is bloodless. The home-returned would-be settler can do as much harm and cause as much irritation to the welfare of British Columbia as the single mosquito just referred to. It is well worth while for the powers that be to put their heads together and solve the problem of meeting the home settler half way before he finds that the game is not worth the candle and turns his eyes towards other climes. If a little bleeding has to be endured let the result of the hardships be "only a scratch," and soon healed. No one will object to that, in fact it is only the wholesome result of a hard day's toil or sport and it does not do to make things too smooth for the new arrival; but give him that hunting chance. Only the absolute waster will then be left and he will soon find he must shift for himself and, if he does no harm after all as no one listens to him, his statements are accepted at their proper valuation.

There is a silver lining to every cloud and though the atmosphere has recently been darkened by a grim ship-wreck, our home papers bring us news of the cordial reception of the doings on French soil tending to cement more closely than ever that entente cordiale which times its birth with the dawn of the present century and may it have a lasting interest to British and French Canadians and extend to this province as much as to Quebec.

The Uplands

There are sub-divisions and subdivisions but of all the subdivisions which have been offered to the public in the neighbourhood the Uplands is easily the most important, the most extensive and the most attractive. It is in reality a magnificent natural park stretching along the shores of Cadboro Bay, rising with a gentle slope from the water edge to the main highway, running from Victoria to the North. It is dotted with the finest collection of oak trees in the neighbourhood of the Capital City. From any point on the estate one looks across the blue waters of the Straits of Georgia to the Olympics on the right, to the snow-clad Mount Baker in the glimmering forefront, and to the Islands of the Straits on the left. There is no finer natural panorama anywhere, to sit in the Uplands Park on a fine summer day and watch hundreds of yachts and launches moving on the placid waters of the Straits, or the great ocean liners passing "like painted ships upon a painted sea," is a sight never to be forgotten. Whatever other advantages the Uplands estate might have it possesses that of scenic beauty in the highest degree. The owners have wisely determined that in all their dealings with the estate they will respect nature's work. Nothing has been done to mar the natural beauty of Uplands. There are no small lots, no mean houses, no unsightly heaps; the order of the day is large lots, handsome dwellings and up-to-date equipment. If one may borrow a phrase the spirit of altruism prevails for every lot is laid out with full respect for its neighbours. The result is a beautiful and harmonious whole. It is hardly necessary to say that sanitariness is a distinctive feature of the lay-out of this fine property. For years the knowing ones have predicted that Cadboro Bay would become the great rallying point of those who wish to live on the waterfront and yet be screened from the winds which at times break across the Straits. This dual advantage is realized at Cadboro Bay. A circumstance emphasized by its recent selection as the headquarters of the Victoria Royal Yacht Club.

Victoria Camera Club

Following the example of Toronto and Winnipeg, Victoria is to have a club devoted to amateur photography. It is well known that there are many ladies and gentlemen resident in the city who have a remarkable talent in this direction, and many more whose interest and love for the art would be greatly fostered by association with, and the help of, other enthusiasts. Already an excellent series of informal lectures has been arranged for the winter months, and it is proposed to inaugurate a systematic collection of record photographs embracing the whole of Vancouver Island, which, in the natural course of events will become of great value. Pictures of some of our newer city streets taken before and after the march of local improvements should be very interesting. Excursions to the lesser frequented local beauty spots will be held each week throughout the summer and autumn, and the fruits thereof displayed at an exhibition to be held in the early spring. A representative collection will probably be sent to the Royal Photographic Society's exhibition in London, and should prove a valuable factor in the campaign for making British Columbia better known in the Old Country and elsewhere. The Acting Hon. Secretary will be glad to answer any enquiries addressed to him at Box 1367.
