lways On Island.

The topic of the moment is the development of Vancouver Island, and every person who takes the trouble hink is cogitating on the best means of ing to its population and wealth. Proly for the first time the work is being ducted on system, thanks to the entering Development League, and its adable Secretary, Mr. McGaffey, an intelnt programme has been outlined and licity is being worked in a scientific ner. There is no reason why, if sufent funds are forthcoming to keep this anization at work, Vancouver Island uld not come to its own, and when it s it is no exaggeration to say that the of Canada will sit up and take notice. s not a little singular that the outpost he Dominion, both on the Atlantic and Pacific, should consist of a comparaly small island, exceptionally rich in neral deposits, and especially so in coal. be Breton has made the fame of the ritime Provinces, and its rich supplies fuel have caused the establishment of of the greatest iron and steel comies in the world. Vancouver Island similarly endowed, and its natural deopment is along the same lines. The l industry must come, and it should ie soon. When it does a tremendous petus will be given to Island develop- nt and settlement, not only will it nulate the production of coal and iron but it will be followed by the estabment of a secondary industry which spring up to use the crude material. e of the first steps towards the fulfilnt of this policy is additional railway struction, and in the opinion of not a good judges there must be railway petition. At present the Island boasts a railway which reaches from Victoria Wellington, and is being slowly extendin the direction of Alberni. This raily should be continued to the extreme rth of the Island as soon as possible. the opinion of good judges it is enly out of the question to build a North South railway on the West coast. The re line is not in favour of construction; is too deeply idented with bays and rds. Even if it were possible to follow shore line the mileage would be rmous. The most practical scheme ms to be an East coast line with nches running through the valleys to West Coast. Just how many branches uld be required it is impossible to tell the total absence of a topographical sur-, but this has been commenced at the th end of the Island and will be conued. Meanwhile two branches have n sufficiently canvassed to enable a dete conclusion to be arrived at; one to rclay Sound and another from Cowin, though Cowichan Valley to Alberni uld be built within the next two years. e former would open up a rich timber ntry in which nearly all the areas have n leased and would be operated if transtation facilities were afforded. The er would go through a beautiful valley which quite a considerable area of agritural land could be settled, in addition extensive lumbering possibilities. Just at either road would develope in the of minerals is uncertain because little specting has been done, but it is known t there are good showings. Before long there must be a railway to Nootka Sound and another to Quatsino Narrows. The former for the lumbering and marble industries, the latter for lumbering, agricultural and minerals. Quatsino is destined to play an important part in the future of Vancouver Island. It has a deep landlocked harbour, it would be the nearest port to the Orient South of Prince Rupert, and is in the vicinity of important coal deposits. North-east of Quatsino is a country of great agricultural possibilities in which there is at present no settlement. On the East Coast, at any point North of Comox coal mines will ultimately be developed, and in fact the North end of the Island may be said to be clamouring for railway construction. The view of The Week is that Island Development will be the magnet to attract Transcontinental railways. The Canadian Northern and the Grand Trunk Pacific must ultimately come here. It is probable that the former will come first, and there is little doubt that all the Island constituencies will favour a scheme to encourage them. It is pretty generally understood that they are looking for assistance, and in the direction of guaranteeing bonds there is no reason why they should not get it. Bonusing either by land or money grants is out of the question. Sufficient of Vancouver Island has already been alienated in the enormous E. & N. Land Grant, and the people are in no mood for yielding another acre, but a guarantee of bonds would be a reasonable proposition and would show that the people have confidence in their own country. The natural wealth of Vancouver Island properly advertised would be a guarantee against the Government ever being called on to make a payment under their guarantee, and in any event it is the method which has enabled the Canadian Northern to construct a Transcontinental railway and to overcome all their financial difficulties. The Development League is said to be preparing a definite plan, if it is well digested, and prepared in a spirit of fairness to all parts of the Island, it will receive the hearty support of The Week. It should be such a scheme as the Government can be persuaded to endorse, and in that case there will be no difference of opinion, and no division of forces. It ought to be possible to evolve a plan which would appeal to the Province as a business proposition, and meet with no opposition.

The Jordan River Scheme.

At the moment of writing a final reply has not been received from the British Columbia Electric Railway Company, with reference to the proposed agreement with the City of Victoria looking to the development of the Jordan River water power. There is, however, little doubt that the agreement will go through, as the alterations made at the request of the City Barrister are purely technical and legal. The sooner the By-law is before the ratepayers the better, for it will be a satisfactory thing to wipe one important matter off the board and make room for the next. The agreement is highly favourable to the City and will become an important factor in its growth. It secures an adequate supply of light and power at the minimum rates which prevail in Canada, and that for a City of 40,000 inhabitants is no slight boon. It is only necessary to go over to Vancouver in order to learn how much a similar policy has contributed to its prosperity. There are not a few people who believe that the B. C. E. R. has made the terminal city; that is stretching matters a little, but it indicates appreciation of the important benefits which have resulted from working amicably with such a strong corporation. Mr. Goward considers that in two years the necessary works will have been completed, and the City will be enjoying the benefit of the new arrangement. It should be possible with this important increase in power to carry out the long looked for scheme of hauling freight on the street lines. This is a matter which will conduce greatly to the convenience of wholesalers and manufacturers, and will effect an important economy in the cost of transportation.

The Inner Harbour.

A good deal is being said these days about making Victoria a great City. Any considerable growth in the Capital depends on largely increased shipping. Victoria can never be made a first class port unless the inner harbour is deepened in conformity with the plan upon which the Dominion Government is already working. A competent authority informs The Week that at the present rate of progress it will take just twenty years to complete the work. Can Victoria afford to wait twenty years? Even then it seems that no vessel more than 600 feet in length can enter the harbour. These matters have no doubt received the attention of the Board of Trade and the Development League, but the point The Week wishes to make is that steps should be taken to accelerate the rate of progress in dredging, and as the Hon. William Templeman is now in the City it would seem as if there is hardly any subject which could engage his attention of greater importance than this, unless it be the Songhees Reserve, and of that one can only speak with bated breath in view of the unfulfilled promises of the Minister for British Columbia.

Fish Traps.

Travellers by boat between Victoria and Vancouver will have noticed that several fish traps have been installed in the Straits. An old fisherman has called the attention of The Week to this fact and claims that they are a violation of the Statutory Regulations which forbid the construction of fish traps in the Straits leading into the Fraser River. This may be all wrong and in any event The Week has no knowledge of the subject, but it registers the complaint by request in the hope that it will catch the eye of someone competent to speak on such an important matter.

The Water Question.

After taking a little more time to think it over the City Council has finally decided to make a definite offer for all the holdings of the Esquimalt Waterworks Company, and if the offer is not accepted, which of course it will not be, to proceed to expropriate under the clauses of the recent Municipal Act. This is a wise decision, and one which will meet with the approval of the ratepayers. The sum offered, $858,000, is a little less than the arbitrators are likely to award, but it is the figure which the Council is justified in offering since it represents the total expenditure. The probability is that when the arbitration proceedings are over the award will run to about $900,000. Whether it is the intention of the Water Company to test the validity of the new law by appealing to the Privy Council is known only to themselves, but even so, it is an excellent thing that the first step should have been taken to ensure a final decision, and in the event of an appeal six months should suffice to settle the matter once and for all. It should be understood that the present action of the Council is subject to ratification by the ratepayers, and that the whole matter has to be submitted to them in the shape of a by-law when the arbitrators have finished their work and have determined the ultimate price. The Week has supported this scheme because it believes that it is the best and the cheapest for the city. In doing so it never lost sight of the fact that in years to come a still bigger scheme might be necessary, and in view of the rapid increase in population during the last three years, it may not be too soon to consider what the Colonist very properly suggests, that is, the taking up of the Sooke scheme as well. No city ever yet secured too much water; less than three years ago Seattle thought that it had corralled a supply which would satisfy a city of a million people; today, with not more than 300,000, it is beginning to talk of another scheme and to realise that in a few years it will be short of water. It is no mistake to look ahead and neither individuals nor corporations ever look too far ahead; for this reason is would be a good thing to get the Esquimalt water question settled quickly, and then to look into the Sooke proposition.

The Parks' Board.

It is quite clear that Alderman Stewart is making a little band-stand play in connection with his proposed abolition of the Parks' Board. He professes to be anxious to save the ratepayers money; he also professes to have discovered that the Parks' Board is wasting that money. He proves his case by asking for the disallowance of the salary of a superintendent who has done better work in the Parks and Boulevards than has ever been done in the city before, and who on a capital outlay of $700 has produced a thriving nursery worth $7,000, and all this in less than three years. The amount of money which the city is wasting, even if the superintendent is not worth his pay, is in the neighbourhood of $150 a year; for of the total salary of $1,800 the Parks' Board would pay about $900, the property owners $750, and the balance would come out of the public funds. This is the mole-hill which Alderman Stewart finds to be such a mountain. In view of the proved extravagencies, or perhaps it would be more correct to say wastefulness, of the Streets Committee, due to the lack of system revealed in the late investigation, it would appear as if there is a field in which Alderman Stewart might exercise his economic proclivities with greater advantage.

Music and The Drama.

The Week went to press too early to allow of a reference to "Jack Straw" and John Drew, and although it is a week since he appeared at the Victoria Theatre it would not be fair to omit a reference to one of the most amusing comedies, and one of the best performances that I have seen for a long time. There is only one word which defines John Drew, and that word is inimitable. His debonnaire style is unique and is possessed by no other leading actor. True, like all great actors, he has mannerisms and tricks, but in this respect he sins in good company. He is always John Drew but the brand is so excellent that it is easily forgiven. The part of "Jack Straw" fits him like a glove, and there is not a moment from first to last when the audience is not rippling with laughter. There are plays and plays; people who go to the theatre to be instructed would not care much for "Jack Straw"; people who are not above being amused would find it delightful; it is all unreal, but unreal just as are Anthony Hope's delightful romances. There never could have been a Princess Flavia or a Prisoner of Zenda, but such characters are none the less attractive and entertaining although it requires some imagination and fancy to realize and enjoy them. This is the peculiar flavour of Jack Straw which some well meaning critics have missed. Mr. Drew was supported by a strong company; every part was well played and Miss Rose Goghlan fairly divided the honors with the Star.

Why "Salvation Nell" Cannot be Played in Certain Towns.

Many towns which have come to look forward to Mrs. Fiske's annual visit with the Manhattan Company, will not understand why they have been seemingly discriminated against this year. Yet the reason is a very simple one. "Salvation Nell" cannot be presented except on a stage of large dimensions. An idea of the elaborateness of the scenery may be gotten from the fact that the materials which enter into the construction of the third act weigh ten tons, and require twenty-four hours to be assembled. The back scene covers just twenty-five hundred square feet. Such a mere detail as the clothes which hang on the fire escapes is an item of some consequence. In several instances bookings have been cancelled when the stage dimensions of the theatres concerned were fully ascertained. "Salvation Nell" will appear at the Victoria Theatre Friday, July 9th.

The New Grand.

The premier vaudeville house is giving an excellent show this week. All the turns are good, but the still-life studies with the sporting dog are by far the most attractive. Indeed I have rarely seen a prettier turn; it appeals strongly to all lovers of dogs and of sport and is greeted with rounds of applause. With my usual weakness for moving pictures I cannot refrain from commending the set running this week, which depicts a stirring and dramatic incident in which the Salvation Army comes to the rescue, the series of pictures is well conceived and is the best advertisement the Army could have.

The Romano Theatre.

The above theatre, recently opened by a well known citizen, Mr. Quagliotti, is quite a welcome addition to Victoria's attractions. It is a neat, comfortable, well arranged house and will accommodate nearly a thousand people. It is run on the lines of the usual Bijou theatre in large cities and gives a first class moving picture show with musical interludes. It is receiving excellent support, and will no doubt justify the enterprise of its proprietor.

An Easy Prescription.

Once a well-known citizen of Chelsea, named Carr, tried to call Dr. Bean to a sick member of his family in the middle of the night. Mrs. Bean answered the night bell and called down the tube: "Who is it?" "I'm Mr. Carr." "Well, take the next one," quoth the lady, "they run every few minutes."

Up-to-date Bandits.

Trotter—"During my travels in Italy I was captured, bound and gagged by bandits."

Miss Homer — "How romantic! Were they anything like the bandits in the opera?"

Trotter—"No, indeed; the gags they used were all new."

Favourably Impressed.

"Why do you insist on having a native of Italy to work on your farm?"

"Becuz I've read so much about them fine Italian hands."

Quite a Scheme.

"You send me violets every morning," said the beautiful girl.

"I do," responded the ardent lover, "no matter what the cost."

"Quite so. Now why not send up a bunch of asparagus tomorrow instead. It would be just as expensive and would make a big hit with pa."

On Holidays

By BOHEMIAN.

Long ago, just how long I should not like to say, because latterly the savants differ on the subject, a decree went forth to the effect that thereafter man should earn his bread by the sweat of his brow. In this twentieth century the interpretation need not be too literal, and at any rate its application is largely figurative. It is true that thousands of our fellows do earn their bread by the sweat of their brow, which is only another way of saying that the majority of mankind are manual labourers, but the conditions of toil are far different now-a-days from what they were when thousands of Egyptian slaves toiled at the building of the pyramids, or when the unfortunate Israelites were forced to make bricks without straw. In those days labour was looked upon as part of the curse; in these days it has acquired dignity and nobility. To eat the wages of idleness is considered a reproach, and no man can be respected in a community, at any rate in the Western world unless he is a worker.

All the arts of modern times are directed to lightening the load of the manual labourer; moral sentiment has been aroused in his behalf. Humanitarian principles have spread and have been adopted as the foundation of Legislation, and the law factories of the world are busy grinding out rules and regulations, which shall ensure improved conditions and environment for the many who still have to wield an axe or a hammer, a shovel or a pick.

One of the ameliorating conditions of twentieth century labour is the holiday. Even in the last quarter of a century the world has come to mean much that it never meant before. Before Bank holiday and "Mabon" day in England, there were few public holidays, now they run to a round dozen, at any rate so far as labor is concerned. Then the Saturday half holiday is almost universal, and generally speaking the twelve-hour day of last century is an eight or nine-hour day now; so that we all get not only more full holidays but very many more half holidays, and pieces of holidays. This has been rendered possible by the increased productiveness of the race, so that men can live and live better on fifty hours' work a week than they could at one time, and that not so long ago on seventy.

But while this is true it must also be admitted that in many respects work is more strenuous, which means that life is harder. With the shorter hours of labor has come a quickened stroke, and a correspondingly quicker exhaustion. This runs through all occupations, and probably it is more felt by the man of business than by the man of the hammer and shovel. Brain work is arduous in the twentieth century; education has quickened and brightened the intelligence to such an extent that competition is keener, and there are fewer opportunities for the man who loves not work, but seeks to live by his wits. The business men of this continent are notoriously brain sweaters, who age rapidly in the endeavour to keep the ball rolling for their wives and families; they take too few holidays, and are credited with carrying the telephone and the ticker to their country resorts. But when all is said and done holiday making has become a great institution and is admittedly one of the features of the times; it is also a necessity, and the old adage that "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy" was never truer than it is today, and Jack knows it and is disposed to take his holiday whenever he can get it, and he is wise. He is not sure that he is going to live more than once in a world where there are holidays, and on this principle does not want to miss them.

There are two reflections which occur to one in this connection: the first is that in no country in the world can a man take a holiday with greater enjoyment than in Canada; it offers the limit of opportunity to the pleasure seeker. The other is, that in no country in the world can the average man better afford to take holidays, and as I am encroaching on my Dominion Day by sweating my brain when I ought to be ruralising, I will stop and begin to practice what I preach.

Great Expectations.

Bobby—Make a noise like a frog, uncle.

Uncle—Why?

Bobby—'Cause when I ask daddy for anything, he says: "Wait till your uncle croaks."

"She's very homely, but doesn't seem to realize it."

"Hasn't she any women friends?"

A Plain Proposition.

"What on earth made that old millionaire marry that young widow?"

"She did."

One Sure Thing.

"Your baby cries a great deal."

"Yes," answered Mr. Bliggins. "It isn't well."

"What's the ailment?"

"I don't know. The only thing I'm sure of is that it isn't the sleeping sickness."

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

Metal Work Suspension Bridge, Lillooet.

Sealed Tenders, superscribed "Tender for Metal Suspension Bridge, Lillooet, B.C.," will be received by the Hon. the Minister of Public Works up to noon of Saturday, the 10th July, 1909, for the cables and metal required in connection with a Suspension Bridge over the Fraser River, to be delivered at Lytton, B.C.

Drawings, specifications, contract and forms of tender may be seen on and after the 24th day of June, 1909, at the office of the undersigned, Victoria, B.C., at the office of R. J. Skinner, Timber Inspector, Vancouver, and at the office of the Government Agent, New Westminster.

Each proposal must be accompanied by an accepted bank cheque or certificate of deposit on a chartered bank of Canada, made payable to the Honourable Minister of Public Works in a sum of five hundred dollars which shall be forfeited if the party tendering decline to enter into contract when called upon to do so, or if he fail to complete the work contracted for. The cheques or certificates of deposit of unsuccessful tenderers will be returned to them upon the execution of the contract.

Tenders will not be considered unless made out on the forms supplied, signed with the actual signature of the tenderer, and enclosed in the envelopes furnished.

The lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted.

Best Store for Home Furnishings

Especially the furnishing needs of the "Newly Wed"

For every home furnishing need there is no better store than this. Every item for the proper, comfortable and economical furnishing of the home may be had right here. But while this is a home-furnishing store it is first of all the ideal store for the "newly-weds." One of the features of this store as a desirable place for brides and grooms is its experience in the furnishings of such homes. All this has been gathered from the work of almost fifty years and you get the benefit freely. Costs you nothing to come in and discuss this important matter with us for we are always glad to give you the fruits of this experience. We don't advise and ask you to buy from us, but only to purchase furniture and furnishings of good quality and to avoid the mistakes of some who for the "saving" of a few dollars sacrifice quality. The fact that more Victoria homes have been furnished by Weiler Bros. than by all others should be sufficient proof of the quality of our offerings.

Loose Covers for Your Furniture

Summer time is an excellent time to cover your furniture with loose covers made from some of these charming materials—so Summery in appearance—we offer on our Second Floor. r Hibbert Played No Favourites.

large body of people, and some embers of Parliament, would be d to see Sir Hibbert Tupper back public life, whether leading the Opsition, or assisting Mr. Borden in forlorn hope.

Resentment is cherished in very quarters against this ex-Minister, o, both in Parliament and in the side administration of his department, cared little what enemies he de. Perhaps he strained the letter the regulations occasionally, but he yed no favourites. When Minister Marine he was in high disfavour St. John, because he insisted that ferry from the east to the west e of the harbor, less than a third a mile of smooth water, must carry ats and life preservers.

Sir Hibbert married a daughter of -Chief Justice Macdonald, of Nova otia, another of whose daughters is wife of the Rev. Louis Jordan, merly pastor of St. James Square esbyterian Church, Toronto. Soon er the younger Tupper became nister of Justice. Judge Macdonald ited Ottawa and called upon his n-in-law. He found the latter busy his office, but ventured to interpt him, with the greeting of an ectionate relative. Sir Hibbert's reponse was to ask his father-in-law w he presumed to be absent from province without leave.

"I didn't think that was necessary," d the Chief Justice.

"I do," said the Minister of Jusce, and it is not recorded that there s any less harmony in the family cle thereafter than previously.

Who are the "Benign and Brother-Bats?" the latest announced secret ciety. Perhaps they benignly go bats.

A great addition to controversial philosophy is Dr. Sera's "On the Tracks of Life." The author's object is "to find amidst the thick confusion of moral, religious, and political prejudices, false scientific conceptions and out-of-date aethetic formulae, the traces of a life higher than our actual existence." The book's sub-title, "The Immorality of Morality," furnishes a clue to the exposure of many of the namby-pamby ideals accepted by the majority.

LICENSE TO AN EXTRA-PROVINCIAL COMPANY.

"Companies' Act, 1897."

Canada:
Province of British Columbia.
No. 497.

THIS IS TO CERTIFY that "The Great West Permanent Loan Company" is authorised and licensed to carry on business within the Province of British Columbia, and to carry out or effect all or any of the objects of the Company to which the legislative authority of the Legislature of British Columbia extends.

The head office of the Company is situate at the City of Winnipeg, in the Province of Manitoba.

The amount of the capital of the Company is five million dollars, divided into fifty thousand shares of one hundred dollars each.

The head office of the Company in this Province is situate at the City of Vancouver, and Richard J. Potts, loan company agent, whose address is Vancouver aforesaid, is the attorney for the Company.

Given under my hand and seal of office at Victoria, Province of British Columbia, this 14th day of June, one thousand nine hundred and nine.

(L. S.) S. Y. WOOTTON,
Registrar of Joint Stock Companies.

The objects for which the Company has been established and licensed are:—

8. To acquire all the assets, rights, credits, effects and property, real, personal and mixed of whatsoever kind and wheresoever situate, belonging to the Great West Permanent Loan and Savings Company, or to which it is or may be or become entitled, and a conveyance or assignment thereof, in the form of the schedule, to this Act, or to the like effect, shall be sufficient:

9. The new Company may lend money on the security of, or purchase or invest in,—

(a) Mortgages or hypothecs upon freehold or leasehold real estate or other immovables:

(b) The debentures, bonds, stocks and other securities of any Government or any municipal corporation or school corporation, or of any chartered bank (to the extent of not more than 20 per cent. of the paid-up capital stock of any such bank); provided that the new Company shall not lend upon the security of, or purchase or invest in bills of exchange or promissory notes; and provided also that the new Company shall not invest in nor loan money upon the security of the stock of any other loan company, except as herein authorised:

(2) The new Company may take personal security as collateral for any advance made, or to be made, or contracted to be made by or for any debt due to the new Company:

10. The new Company may act as an agency association for the interest and on behalf of others who entrust it with money for that purpose, and may, either in the name of the new Company or of such others, loan and advance money to any person, or municipal or other authority, or any board or body of trustees or commissioners, upon such securities as are mentioned in the next preceding section, and may purchase and acquire any securities on which they are authorised to advance money and again resell the same:

(2) The conditions and terms of such loan and advances, and of such purchases and re-sales may be enforced by the new Company for its benefit, and for the benefit of the person or corporation, for whom such money has been lent and advanced, or such purchase and re-sale made; and the new Company shall have the same power in respect of such loans, advances, purchase and sales, as are conferred upon it in respect of loans, advances, purchases and sales made from its own capital:

(3) The new Company may also guarantee the repayment of the principal or the payment of the interest, or both, of any moneys entrusted to the new Company for investment:

(4) The new Company may, for every or any of the foregoing purposes, lay out and employ the capital and property, for the time being, of the new Company, or any part of the moneys authorised to be raised by the new Company, in addition to its capital for the time being, or any moneys so entrusted to it as aforesaid, and may do, assent to and exercise all acts whatsoever, which, in the opinion of the directors of the new Company, are requisite or expedient to be done in regard thereto:

(5) All moneys, of which the repayment of the principal or payment of interest is guaranteed by the new Company, shall, for the purposes of this Act, be deemed to be money borrowed by the new Company:

11. The new Company may liquidate and carry on for the purposes of such liquidation, the business of any other company carrying on any business which the new Company is authorized to carry on, upon such terms as are agreed upon:

12. The new Company may, subject to any limitations or prohibitions imposed by its by-laws, lend upon its own paid-up stock to an amount not exceeding in the aggregate of all such loans ten per cent. of the new Company's paid-up stock, but no such loan shall exceed sixty per cent. of the par value or the then current market value, of such stock, whichever value is the smaller. The amount of such advances shall be deducted from the amount of the paid-up capital upon which the new Company is authorized to borrow:

13. The new Company may borrow money and receive money on deposit, upon such terms as to interest, security and otherwise as are agreed on, and may issue its bonds, debentures, and other securities for money borrowed; provided always that the total of the new Company's liabilities to the public outstanding from time to time, shall not exceed four times the aggregate amount of the then actually paid up and unimpaired capital stock; and provided further that the amount held on deposit shall not at any time exceed the aggregate amount of its then actually paid up and unimpaired capital and of its cash actually in hand or deposited in any chartered bank in Canada and belonging to the new Company.

Why Not a Gas Range For A Wedding Gift?

No gift so well represents your good judgment. It would certainly be a daily reminder of your good taste and liberality. An up-to-date cooking apparatus would make an unusually welcome present to many Victorian brides. A Gas Range would be an ideal gift from parent to daughter upon her marriage.

We want ladies who think a Gas Range is a pretty good thing, but that it cannot be used for all cooking purposes to consider this fact: A Gas Range will do anything that a coal range will do and most things better. It will broil or bake far better than either coal or wood. You can prepare a full coarse dinner or make a cup of tea or toast in a minute with gas. No good housekeeper would be without a gas range or stove, because heat can be regulated to a nicety, her fuel is always ready with a tap-turn and her expenses lessened.

We want every woman who cooks with a coal or wood stove to try cooking with gas. They will then realize why some women like to cook and bake; it is such a real pleasure to cook with gas. No dust, no dirt, no kindling to chop, no coal to carry in or ashes to carry out and much more time for reading, recreation, making calls, etc. We like to demonstrate the safeness, the economy, the efficiency, and the cleanliness of gas for all cooking purposes.

We cordially invite you to see the new Gas Ranges and Gas Stoves in our Showrooms. Prices are popular. Easy payments if you wish.

VICTORIA GAS COMP'Y Limited

Cor. Fort and Langley Streets, Victoria, B. C.

At The Street Corner

By THE LOUNGER

The Victoria Rose Show was a thing of beauty and delight. Portland may claim to be the Rose City, but there is only one respect in which it can beat Victoria, and that is a matter of quantity, not quality. More superb specimens I have never seen than the best of those which were on view this week, and in spite of the drought and the fear that there would be no June roses, Victoria has once more risen to the occasion and made a fine display. A good deal might be written about the humanising effect of flowers. I wish I could notice the same spirit in Victoria which is manifested in many of the smaller Canadian towns. Frequently during the season the school children are taken out into the fields and lanes to pluck wild flowers, and the occasion is one not only of enjoyment but of instruction. In this way they are brought into contact with the charms of the country, and the beauties of the wood and are introduced to an intimate knowledge of their treasures which has a very marked influence, not only on their artistic taste but on the moulding of their young characters. Victoria offers remarkable facilities in this direction of which fuller advantage might be taken.

* * *

I notice a little more activity in our street making, and it begins to look as if before very long some of those which have been the untidiest will really enjoy a summer cleaning. Cook street promises to be one of the finest boulevards in the City, and now that it is approaching completion one can get a fine view of what a well built, well designed modern street may look like, by standing at a door and taking a birds-eye view down to the sea. If the road-bed and surfacing are in keeping with the boulevarding, this will be a really noble thoroughfare, but I want to lodge a protest against the manner in which roads like Linden Avenue are left with coarse crushed rock, and no fine surface. The poor horses, especially those belonging to tradesmen and transfer companies, which are obliged to take this route, have had a fierce time for some months past. It is simply cruel to compel them to travel over such a surface. There is no excuse for it, because no macadamized road is finished without a fine top dressing, and even if there was some uncertainty as to the manner in which Linden Avenue was to be finally rounded up, that is no excuse for punishing dumb animals meanwhile. I hope this matter will not be considered too trivial to merit attention.

* * *

Congratulations to the new Parks Board on the promptitude with which they have decided to demolish the torture pens, remove the birds and animals, and shoot the bears. If they are turned out of office by Alderman Stewart's resolution they will have had a brief but not inglorious existence, and will have signalized their term of office by an act of mercy, which is more than can be said for all public bodies.

* * *

I think after all the new concrete tower must be holding water because one day this week, the first time since the tower was built, I had good water pressure in my garden, previously only the meanest kind of a dribble. If the improvement was due to a supply from the new tower, then the pressure was excellent, and I only hope that the Commissioner will be able to keep that tower full; if so it will form a very satisfactory supplement in the Rockland Avenue district.

* * *

The decision to build an unclimbable fence around the Smith's Hill reservoir is a wise one; it should be built at once, and it would be better to have iron than wood. Why not do the thing decently and have a six-foot unclimeable iron palisade. It would cost more than wood, but would be permanent. It would not blow down in a high wind, nor require constant repairing. It is the only kind of fencing for a reservoir and I hope the City Council will show sufficient enterprise to adopt it.

* * *

The Country Club has undoubtedly achieved a success with the race meeting. In spite of all doubts and fears it has completed its fourth week with success, and possibly eclat. None of the objectionable elements which were so much dreaded have been in evidence. All Victoria has got into the habit of attending. The racing on the whole has been good, and where there have been a few doubtful performances, the stewards have been swift with their retribution. It just amounts to this that a race meeting can be purged of its worst element, and can be rendered as respectable as any other gathering of several thousand people. Now that this has been demonstrated it is to be hoped that the Country Club will be allowed to finish the season without ill-advised interference. They have furnished innocent amusement to thousands of people, and have brought ship-loads of people to the city who would not have otherwise come, but further they have demonstrated the sufficiency of Canadian law and good management to render respectable a sport which had fallen into disgrace across the line through bad management, and failure to control.

* * *

At last the Empress grill room has been opened, and not a day too soon. Personally I am expecting great things of it, and if the service is on a par with the general administration of the best hotel in Canada, it will become a popular resort and will be a boon to the city.

The Gardiner Stock Company is disbanded, and Mr. Gardiner has disappeared, leaving a long list of undischarged liabilities, and a general feeling of dissatisfaction. Unfortunately the members of his company have not received their pay for a considerable time, and the fiasco thus presses heavily upon those who can ill-afford to bear it. Mr. Gardiner received every encouragement from the Press and the public until it was seen that he was thoroughly incompetent to manage theatrical affairs, and to gauge the requirements of the public—then he fell down. The venture has cost somebody quite a respectable sum of money, but the experience has been well bought if it has taught the losers that Victoria has no use for cheap drama.
