Thrilling Escape From German Empire

W. T. Hillier, Formerly Operator at Dead Tree Point, Relates His Experiences.

Following exciting experiences in escaping from Germany after the receipt of Great Britain's ultimatum to Berlin, Mr. W. T. Hillier, formerly in charge of the Dominion wireless station at Dead Tree Point, returned to Victoria a few days ago. Probably the most thrilling episode of which he was an eyewitness, says the Victoria Daily Colonist, was the shooting, without trial, of forty Russians by German soldiers.

Mr. Hillier was undergoing treatment at Wiesbaden and intended spending three more weeks there, when, following the declaration of war against Russia and the wanton invasion of Luxemburg territory by German troops, Britain sent her ultimatum to Berlin. "Immediately," Mr. Hillier says, "the passions of the populace became inflamed against England. An unholy joy seemed to pervade the people of Wiesbaden. On all sides I heard expressions of opinion that Germany feared no one. The more foes she made the better the people seemed pleased. I saw placards posted up in the town with the legend 'The Kaiser will be Emperor of Europe and America.' I saw forty Russians, many of them peaceable visitors to Wiesbaden, on the outbreak of war arrested as spies, led out into the public square and shot. Their shrift was of the shortest. They were given no trial. Soon I was warned to leave the town as were all Britishers and Americans. When I went to take my train I saw two ladies on the platform assaulted by the populace, their clothes torn off by an infuriated mob, who believed they were Russian spies in disguise. The ladies, I think, were two Americans, but I was not sure of their nationality. On the day I left I saw numbers of wounded brought into Wiesbaden from Luxemburg. At Cologne, where I and other refugees were taken from Wiesbaden, we were lined up on the platform by troops. Some tried to escape and I was one of those successful. I made my way to the Cologne bridge, with what object in view I hardly know, but I found it guarded by soldiers and had to retrace my steps. Coming back by way of the railway track I found a baggage car open and hid there among the trunks. Shortly afterwards the train to which this car was attached left the station and I got as far as Dusseldorf, where some of the trunks were removed and I was found by the guard. I offered him 150 marks in paper money if he would allow me to proceed, but he refused. He took the money from me and searched me for whatever else I had, taking the 240 marks in gold, which was all the money I possessed. He then allowed me to proceed and I found my way to a village in Holland a few miles beyond the frontier. From there I went to Flushing and took a boat to England.

"In passing through Cologne I saw that the famous cathedral there was displaying searchlights for the purpose of locating the enemy's aerial craft, while cannons for firing on these had been mounted on the cathedral. I saw many Zeppelins, and while I am not versed in aviation I doubt the efficiency of these airships in war. Whenever I saw them they were flying low and presented an easy mark to hostile guns. People outside Germany can hardly realize the lengths to which her mobilization has gone. Every male person from the age of 17 to 55 or 60 has been summoned to the colors. The street cars are being run by women and girls. As far as I could gather the entire German campaign against France is being directed from Mainz.

"On the way from Flushing to England I was privileged to see a great British fleet, comprising battle cruisers, cruisers and torpedo boats, on its way to the North Sea. In England I found everything very quiet. The people showed a deadly earnestness in their war preparations. Of course the war has greatly interrupted business and 90 per cent. of the large firms are only working half time. There were large numbers of Canadians in London and elsewhere in Great Britain and the last of these will not be able to return to the Dominion until some time in October, so great is the rush across the Atlantic. No emigrants are allowed to leave the country."

Mr. Hillier's experiences are particularly unfortunate because at the time he was forced to leave he was within three weeks of completing a special treatment for the eyes, which he anticipated would have completely cured the affection from which he was suffering. He will be transferred to the Ikeda Bay station shortly.

Thanksgiving Day.

A dispatch from Ottawa states that Thursday, 8th October, will be proclaimed as Thanksgiving Day in the next issue of the Canada Gazette. The Government has decided to revert this year to the old custom of having Thanksgiving Day on Thursday, instead of Monday, as has been the case in the last five or six years.

Miss Cross and Miss Hastie were in town yesterday from Port Clements.

G. Hewitt, who has been with C. deB. Green's survey party at Lawn Hill all summer, returned yesterday.

Well Informed Captain Reported With Leipzig.

There has been a report in circulation for some days to the effect that a mariner who for several years was in command of a steamer that called at Queen Charlotte Islands points has joined the German cruiser Leipzig and is informing the commander of the enemy's craft of the nature of British Columbia's coast line. The captain arrived on this coast from Germany in the early days of the sealing industry and for some years was engaged in the coastwise steamship busine s.

The report current states that the skipper joined the Leipzig while she was at San Francisco. If this rumor is correct the commander of the German war vessel has at his disposal some very useful information. The captain reported to be on board the Leipzig knows this port very well, and is familiar with all points about the coast hereabouts. The skipper in question returned recently from the Behring Sea.

Local Men At Valcartier.

Indian Agent Thomas Deasy received the following letter from Lewen Tugwell, one of our pre-emptors, who left his location to serve King and country:

"B Company, 11th Royal Irish Fusilers,
Valcartier, Quebec, Aug. 30, 1914.

Dear Mr. Deasy:—As you will see from the above, I managed to get with the first contingent. I was only just in time and had to go off without saying good-bye to mother. Capt. Jenkins is acting Lieutenant of the company I am in. The men all like him very much. At present the drill just consists of learning to march and handle a rifle and is not very interesting. Everyone expects we shall get orders to go to Aldershot in a few days; but, of course, no orders are published.

Lewen Tugwell."

Prince Albert Pulled Off Rocks.

The S S. Prince Albert was successfully floated off the Butterworth Rocks last week. She has been patched up satisfactorily and with a few repairs that will be made in Prince Rupert she will be able to go south for permanent repairs under her own steam.

Massett Hospital Society Organized.

A meeting was held on Tuesday night at the St. Ives Hotel for the purpose of organizing a society in connection with the Massett Hospital. The following officers were appointed to act until December, 1915: President, James Martin; vice-president, W. E. Wanless; secretary, Charles Harrison; directors, J. K. Anderson, F. Hicks, S. Ives and R. O. Davies. A. E. Jessup was appointed as one of the government directors. President Martin then read over the bylaws, which were slightly altered and afterwards adopted. The membership fee was fixed at $5.00 per annum.

C. Harrison, Observer.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bastian of Sewall spent Wednesday at Massett.

Jack Van Valkenburg and son, Stearns, came in from Port Clements yesterday on a short visit.

The Sangin river bridge is being repaired and otherwise strengthened by a competent crew under foreman Charlie Spence.

A proposition is on foot on the return of Henry White from the fishing grounds in Alaska to launch the large schooner on the stocks at the Indian reserve and make trips to Prince Rupert, conveying freight.

Mr. Charles Harrison has lost no time in rebuilding the government telegraph office, which was destroyed by fire last week, a commencement on which was started Tuesday. Messrs. Kennedy and Batchelor are making good progress on the building, which will be finished in a few days.

A. G. Fallowfield and R. B. Enwistle, two former residents of Massett, have left Prince Rupert to join Vancouver regiments for the front. Mr. Fallowfield now sports the kilt, and is a full blown private in the 72nd Highlanders. Bob Enwistle has joined the 6th Royal Canadian Engineers. The experience he gained here in handling an axe and running a motor engine should help Bob in making a name for himself.

The first ship from San Francisco by way of the Panama Canal arrived in New York the other day, saving a month by taking the new route. This decrease in the time of water shipments from the West to the East coast of the United States means much to domestic commerce, and undoubtedly the trade will grow rapidly as its benefits become apparent. The great canal is in working order, and the fact that it is open for business a year ahead of time speaks volumes for American enterprise and for the skill and unswerving diligence of the American army engineers. The Panama Canal is the achievement of the century, and its growing use would be watched with keener interest if the great European war did not demand first place in popular attention.

The Prince Rupert Board of Trade must not run away with the idea that the whole business of this Northern country depends on furnishing goods to the people along the railway line. They forget that a large number of islands are situate in the immediate neighborhood of that city, and the residents require communication, direct, and at intervals that mean no delay. We wonder if the peopl of Seattle or Vancouver would overlook the islands in the neighborhood of those cities, as we are treated? A fortnighly steamer means to the islands that it takes no longer to obtain goods from Vancouver than it does from Prince Rupert. Of course a large number of the Prince Rupert firms are but branches of Vancouver houses; but there are independent business men, who should not lose sight of the coming trade of the Queen Charlotte Islands. With only eighty-five miles intervening, it is not to the credit of Prince Rupert that a fortnightly steamer is considered sufficient for the trade that the large city could do with these islands.

What is wanted on these islands are men who have a small amount of capital and who would engage in the salting and smoking of fish all the year round. There is also a large business to be opened up in shell fish. Off Langara Island, the herring are found in large numbers and halibut can be caught the year round. The different species of salmon swarm in our waters—the Indians asserting that the last run of "pink" salmon was phenomenal The Indians are adepts at smoking salmon, and a good business could be done with them in this line.

To Make North Coast Safer For Steamers.

Col. W. P. Anderson, chief engineer of the Marine Department, is on a visit of inspection to the Northern coast in connection with the aids to navigation and to investigate the reports of further needs to make the northern course still more safe for shipping. The Alaska coast is not nearly so well provided with navigation safeguards American skippers feel relief as soon as they get out of Alaska waters into the waters of Northern British Columbia. The Langara Island lighthouse will be visited by the inspector as well as Bonila Point, off the northwest shore of Banks island, where a light of the same power as the one on Langara is to be established next summer.

Canada's Answer.

Round the world Mother gives forth a warning—
A despot our homes would destroy;
E'er the bright early dawn of the morning,
Canada answers: "Aye ready, your boy."
On his collar a maple leaf glistens,
Emblem of faith in the land of his birth;
All the world wonders and listens:
"Britain's honour, or six feet of earth."

Yield not, though vast hordes are pressing,
Our brightest, our bravest, our true—
From wheat fields and mountains are rushing,
At the call to the red, white and blue.
Forgotten is creed, race and color—
White, black, red stream over the sea;
Shoulder to shoulder for honor—
For God and for country—for thee.

Land of the shamrock and heather,
Home of the lily and rose;
Where our forefathers oft fought together,
Help comes from where the green maple leaf grows.

Rule, aye rule, Britannia,
Britannia rules the waves,
Britons never, never, never,
Shall be slaves.

Synopsis of Coal Mining Regulations

COAL mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the Northwest Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 an acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territery the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10.00 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORRY.
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

What's the matter with you Pessimists?

If you knew as much as I do about the future of Delkatlah Bay you would be chasing me up with payments on your lots.

The farming may be a little slow in developing, and the coal seams hard to trace in paying quantities, but Delkatlah is on the eve of development as a Winter Tourist Resort which will place it only second to Prince Rupert in Northern British Columbia.

I am not a prophet, for such prophecy only requires the application of ordinary common sense.

Buylng lots in Delkatlah is like sowing seed—the money disappears like the seed in the ground only to spring up and yield ten fold.

Canada needs no summer resort, it has all the summer climate it wants, but from Nova Scotia to the Rockies it needs a winter climate, and that's what we have. The Spring is the time to sow seed. Sow your wages in a lot at the rate of $5.00 a month and have a home in town.

Immediately back of Delkatlah pre-emptions are being taken up at the rate of ten a week. That will soon increase values.
