Dear Mr. Goldie:

RE BELLEVUE.

I have your letter of July 29th enclosed with that of August 5th, and note what you say about the hog transaction you made with Lambert. As you know he had no authority to make this purchase without my approval, and he has not yet stated that ^{he understood} it was to be a cash transaction. I think the best way would be for you to get him to O.K. your bill and arrange with him to send it forward to me, requesting payment. I will then see what can be done, although it is no easy matter raising money here at this time.

Lambert has certainly worked very hard there, and I hope he makes out alright this year. It is almost impossible for me to tell though how things are going, as I have been unable, from the information as forwarded, to keep the books up to date, and have still been unable to close off the accounts for the last fiscal year. At this writing I do not know what the Bellevue outstanding liabilities are, but they are certainly greater than a year ago, and I am most anxious to clear them up as soon as possible, and you may count on it that Rainbow will not be slighted in this respect.

Yours very truly,
