Dear Sirs,

We beg to advise you that we now have sale for a car-load of good white potatoes at $22.00 f.o.b. shipping point.

We are willing to handle yours on a commission basis of 10%, so this price would net you $20.00, but we wish it distinctly understood that we do not guarantee this price, or in fact any price. We are simply handling for you to the best advantage in the usual way and charging you our regular commission of 10%.

If you were short of this weight the freight would be the same as on the minimum, and the receivers would charge us up with the difference which of course you would have to pay, so you see the necessity of making up at least a minimum car. There would be no objection to there being a few hundred lbs. over.
