Value of Paid Subscribers to a Local Paper

THE VALUE OF A LOCAL PAPER TO THE WHOLE COMMUNITY

Advertising Values—News Note Values—Subscription Values —Editorial Values

After a great deal of discussion I have been able to convince the Editor of this great family journal that I ought to have an article all my very own in which to express my views to the subscribers and advertisers of this paper. For while the editor and myself are one and the same individual, yet, strange to relate, there is a continual strife between us. The editor is always looking at the paper as something to sort of fool along with and air his views, load up with as much news as is possible, and I do not count for anything in his opinion, except to look after the money end of the enterprise, and see that enough coin is collected in every month to meet the bills.

Well, what I want to say is of particular interest to subscribers. You see, it was only a few years ago that the management of this paper did not bother about collectinfi subscriptions. Of course if the money came in, all right, but we did not make any serious effort to get it in. There was plenty of local advertising going then, and the coin for this came in quite regularly. But in these latter days there is no local advertising to amount to a hill of red potatoes, and consequently, in order to make up the deficit I have had to hump myself and get in the dough from subscribers, and get it in pretty regular or else close down the works.

* * *

Upon running over my subscription cards a few days ago I found that there were quite a large number of subscriptions falling due the first of the year also that there was a larger number who should have paid up weeks or months ago. Not a few of them are in arrears since last May. The list has piled up until there is a matter of several hundred dollars coming in, and which, if I could get it in now, would prove of the greatest possible use in financing the paper for the next two or three months.

* *

I hate to send some of you subscription accounts, because you'll think that I am worrying you when you are short, but at the same time I am continually up against this dun proposition myself, and when I think of the poor paper dealers, the linotype men, the supply houses, the insurance men, and this that and the other one standing around with outstretched hands and an appealing look in their tearful optics, my heart hardens and I steel myself to the task.

There is, I know, a popular misconception to the effect that there is no expense in connection with operating a weekly newspaper. But that is wearing out. It was largely fathered by a race of beings who were formerly in the business and who were willing to take pretty nearly anything that was handed to them. They were mostly editors, not managers. If the editor of this paper desires to be sore about this, let him. This is my own column and I can say what I darn please.

* * *

I want to tell you people that the value of each individual paid subscriber is very often worth—to the local paper—three or four times the actual monetary value of the amount of the subscription price.

Figure that out for yourselves—the fact is so, and the fact so remains.

Now a quid pro quo: The value of a local paper—to individual subscribers—is very often worth ten times the value of the amount of the subscription price.

Figures that also out for yourselves — the fact is so, and the fact also so remains.

As for advertising values: As I am the manager I have to look after the advertising end and of course I boost the ad. advantages of the Surrey paper, but even in my wildest "boost" I have never stretched the bow so far as to dream that a little 50 cent ad. which was inserted in our column would produce $100 in returns to (no, not to me, I'm sorry to say), the person who inserted it.

Fact again, and the proofs are on my file.

Another time I stuck in a little reading ad. for some confounded Land Settling Scheme in the U. S. and do you know I've had letters upon letters from all sorts and conditions of people about that little reader.

News note items are on the same plane. Not exactly how many news notes are carried each issue, but, may I say, their quality.

A little paragraph inserted in the Surrey Gazette a few weeks ago was copied, rewritten and reprinted in six different daily and weekly papers; that is, I know of six, but it may have been inserted in sixty others where we didn't see it, and all from one little paragraph in the Surrey Gazette.

Now as to Editorial values: — Well, in my capacity as Manager I can tell you what the Editor himself would not like to say; and that is that he has received letters of commendation from "all sorts and conditions of men." Some of these letters have come from England; some from Toronto; some from France; some from Vancouver; some from New Westminster and some from—no, not from Surrey!

But Surrey people have phoned complimentary messages and have also extended encouragement in other ways.

Now—the Manager wants the final word.

To subscribers—send in your subscriptions and your arrears, if any, as soon as possible, please.

To non-subscribers—get into line. We know some of you get the "lend of the loan" of the local paper from your neighbors. Don't borrow, be a paid subscriber.

To advertisers—help us to help you, keep on advertising.

To Should-be-Advertisers: Mend your ways—boost your own business, boost your own community, for your own good and for the good of your customers and your neighbors.

FINIS.

In conclusion let me, as Manager, say don't forget the Surrey Municipal nominations and elections on Monday, 14th—Saturday, 19th.

Elect a Reeve—a Council—a board of School Trustees and Police Commissioners who are suitable to these war times.

Remember, Canada is at war—therefore Surrey is at War.

PREPARE TO PROTECT YOUR CROPS NEXT SEASON.

Throughout the country there was a splendid response during 1917 to the call for increased agricultural production. Larger crops were raised on the farms, and city dwellers by the cultivation of gardens and vacant lots contributed greatly to the success of Canada's efforts to relieve the world-wide food shortage. Greater production of food supplies than ever is required next year, for field crops are not only requirel to meet immediate human needs, but increased production of hogs, dairy products, and beef are dependent upon such crops.

The production of maximum crops demands constant watchfulness and effort on the part of the farmer, fruit-grower, and vacant lot cultivator in order that such crops may be protectel from the numerous pests that attack them. We repeat: "Crop protection means crop production." Insect pests destroy annually from 10 to 25 per cent. of all crops grown. The total loss to the country is enormous; if we express the aggregate loss inflicted annually by insect pests to the field crops of Canada in terms of wheat we find that the total loss is sufficient to feed the entire population of the country for one year. Much of that loss can be prevented. At the present time it is incumbent upon us to take every means to prevent it. Insects can be as effective as enemy submarines in destroying food supplies. Like submarines, they are insidious in their operation. They must be sought out and destroyed.

Farmers, fruit-growers and others are urgently requestel to make the fullest use of the Entomological Branch. Enquiries may be mailed free of postage to Dominion Entomologist Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

B. De FOREST GRANT OF WHITE ROCK.

Extract from a letter Published in the British Columbian.

"While standing on a street corner in Lewes a few days ago a company of about 150 men marched past, and at their head strode a sergeant who looked for all the world like B. De Forest Grant, of White Rock. I yelled: "Hello, Grant!" but he paid no attention until the column had gone fifty yards or so, when he turned round and waved his hand. I don't know yet if it was Grant or not."

WINTER TIME IS TELEPHONE TIME.

The telephone is of particular value in winter time. When weather conditions are unfavorable to travel, with short days an ldark nights, the telephone is right at hand. One simply talks, distance does not count. Though storms temporarily interfere with service, the men in the field soon restore communication. Telephone service is continuous, as continuous as human power can make it.

The long distance telephone is your best friend in winter. Special rates on our lines in the evening.

"THE SLING."

Boys of the Red Cross On Active Service.

The second volume of "The Sling," published by the boys of a Canadian Field Ambulance in France and edited by "One, Frances," formerly associated with The Surrey Gazette, has just come to hand.

Volume II. is artistically illustrated from sketches drawn at the front by some of the Red Cross Boys themselves and has a cover design which embraces the arms of the Canadian Medical Corps, the Union Jack and the Red Cross.

The printing and press work is executed by Kent & Matthews, London, England, the head of which firm being the father of Cpl. F. G. Kent, who spent his honeymoon, and the last days of his leave before going overseas, on the shores of Semiahmoo Bay, White Rock.

Frank W. Leeson, a former resident and large property owner of White Rock is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Johnston.

Mr. Leeson, who now resides at Duncan, V. I. left White Rock some time ago to take up farming on the Prairies, but the salubrious climate of B. C. drew him back to the Pacific Coast.

WHARF ROAD CORNER AT WHITE ROCK.

To Be Widened and Improved.

By reference to a legal notice in another column of this issue of the Surrey Gazette it will be seen that the Municipality of Surrey are advertising a bylaw empowering the council to expropriate certain private property at the corner of Martill Street, locally known as the Wharf road, and the Sea front road, White Rock, in order to obviate the present dangerous turn at that point.

It is believed that this is but a portion of an extensive program of necessary improvement work which the 1918 Surrey Council will undertake in this particular section of the Municipality.

FARMER'S INSTITUTE.

General local members of the Surrey Farmer's Institute attended the meeting held at Cloverdale yesterday.

SURREY FARMERS ARE EXEMPTED.

Appeal Exemption Tribunal, His Lordship Mr. Justice Murphy, presiding.

Ernest Richards, farmer, Cloverdale, was exempted as long as he remains on the farm.

C. C. Brown, Cloverdale, was allowed to stay on his farm. This was an appeal by the military and was withdrawn by Captain Asser.

B. E. Myman, Cloverdale, A Swede, proved that he was a Swedish subject and was therefore exempted.

H. W. Stevens, of the Westminster Trust, was exempted till the first of June.

The case of Ernest Richards, the first man on the list, was championed by Mr. Robert Kelly, of the Kelly, Douglas Co., on whose farm the appellant works. Captain Asser contended very strongly that Mr. Kelly still had a foreman and another man on the farm, and that they could "carry on very nicely without this man, but Mr. Justice Murphy ruled otherwise.

SURREY DYKING COMMISSION.

At the recent meeting of The Surrey Dyking Commission, Secretary Bose read an agreement calling for the construction of a dyke along the Elgin road from Woodward's Hill to Nicomekl river at a cost of approximately $9,000 of which the municipality will contribute $1,000 the balance to be raised by taxing the properties affected by the dyke. The agreement only waits the signatures of persons interested, and these are expected to sign within the week.

It was also suggested that a dredge be purchased to deepen the Serpentine river near the mouth to allow water further back to flow away. A meeting of farmers will be held shortly to discuss this matter more fully, when their decision will be given to the secretary.
