NOMINATION AND ELECTION.

* * *

Conservatives of Delta Riding Unanimous in Nominating Lieut. F. J. MacKenzie.

On nomination day the Conservatives of Delta were in one accord as to their choice of a Legislative representative, and it is a safe bet that the whole of the electorate of the three municipalities which comprise this riding—Delta, Langley and Surrey—will be of the same mind on September 14th, when they cast their ballots.

Lieut. MacKenzie is opposed by the Reeve of Delta, A. D. Patterson, of whom it may be said that though he has displayed a business-like character as Reeve of his separate municipality, it is doubtful if he has obtained that broad mind or varied experience so necessary, especially at this juncture, in dealing with provincial legislation.

Broad-mindedness and state-craft, however, do not appear to be planks in the platform of the party under whose colors Reeve A. D. Patterson is serving.

On the other hand, Lieut. Frank J. MacKenzie has been tried and has been found worthy.

He has labored unceasingly since 1909 for the betterment of his particular constituency, and he has been energetic in the passing of legislation for the welfare of the whole province.

Public men in public positions, such as Members of the Legislative Assembly, serve the public as a whole; consequently single individuals, here and there, are bound to suffer for the good of the whole community; but, should there be any such in the Delta riding, a glance at the record of their representative in the House should dispel all personal feelings of "grouch."

The Ladner ferry, the Pacific Highway, numerous public schools, main and trunk roads, bridges and dykes, land grants to settlers, the Egg Marking Act, the Rural Credits Loan Act, the Dairy Testing Act, the Compensation Act, and the Act Governing Commission Merchants—these and numerous other measures have all been a portion of the work of the present

Lieut. F. J. A. MacKenzie.

Member for Delta, and each enactment has been for the betterment of Delta riding and for the province as a whole.

The Egg Marking Act.

Owing to the fact that war conditions prevented the Dominion authorities from handling this matter, the Member for Delta found a way to deal with this vexed problem and thereby to preserve the poultry industry of B. C., which industry was showing a marked down-grade owing to the unfair Chinese eggs.

Mr. MacKenzie devised a Bill and was instrumental in having same placed on the statute books, which forces each and every Chinese egg to be so marked; thus making it an impossibility for dishonest dealers to hoodwink the small purchasers.

This Bill met with much opposition from the wholesale dealers, but the Member for Delta stuck with it till it finally became law.

Farm Lands for Returned Soldiers.

Mr. MacKenzie, too, was an active supporter of the Bill setting aside two million and a half acres of the best farm lands in the province to be granted to the soldier on his return from serving his King and Country, and our Member also advocated the right of the soldier to vote as well as that of his wife and daughters. It may be noted that the Liberals objected to a soldier voting at the age of 18, but the Member for Delta pointed out that a man old enough to fight for his country was old enough to vote, and the Act was passed accordingly.

The Rural Credits Act.

Mr. MacKenzie materially supported the Rural Credits Loan Act, whereby the farmers might secure assistance at once, and loans to the amount of $61,000 have already been granted to farmers in different sections of British Columbia.

The Compensation Act.

The Compensation Act, which means so much to the wives and children of the working man, also came in for a full measure of support from Delta's representative.

Agricultural and Municipal Committees.

During the last session Mr. MacKenzie was again appointed to the Agricultural and Municipal Committees, and a large number of motions, Bills and recommendations for the betterment of farm conditions were discussed by these two committees. Some of these have already been acted upon, whilst other recommendations and motions will come up again at the next session.

From the foregoing outline it will be apparent that Lieut. Frank J. MacKenzie, as Member for Delta, was a very live and effective wire in the House. His King and Country have now called upon him to do sterner and, it may be, deadlier work for the time being; the electors of Delta, however, will not "go back" on him for thus recognizing the call of duty, especially as they have a guarantee that the riding will be represented by a Cabinet Minister of his choice during the absence of their own Member at the Front.

DOMESTIC WATER SUPPLY.

White Rock Townsite.

Referring to the rules governing the Domestic Water supply of the townsite of White Rock and also in reference to the Cloverdale court case, both published in this issue, we have obtained the following particulars:—

The "tent" referred to in the Cloverdale case was rented to some women parties through a Chilliwack man who had himself rented an adjoining house.

No water supply being provided for the "tent" parties they were obtaining same from the service of the house rented by their friend.

This was in direct violation of rules and regulations issued to the owner of the rented premises, by the White Rock Syndicate's Agents,—The Westminster Trust Company.

The owner of the rented house protested against this violation of the water rules and the case eventually became a legal issue.

The same day on which this Cloverdale case came into court, a gentleman, the Reeve of a neighboring Municipality came to our office and gave us particulars of a somewhat similar difficulty which was then taking place over the White Rock water supply in connection with his own property here; we also have further information of a like nature on file.

In the Cloverdale case the defendant stated in her defence most emphatically, that, she was obeying the instructions of the Water Company;

We do not know ourselves whether these rules and regulations of the White Rock Syndicate, in regard to their domestic water supply, are legal or not; we do know, however, that they are being enforced by that Syndicate's Agents and we also know that this enforcement has, and still is, working great hardship on inhabitants and summer visitors.

We think that this matter should receive immediate attention, not only by local authorities but also by those who have the regulation of Public Utilities and Water Rights.

EXTRACT FROM RULES AND REGULATIONS.

White Rock Syndicate Water Supply c|o Westminster Trust Company.

1. Only one tap shall be attached to any one service.
2. Only tenants, occupiers or residents of the property shall use or draw water from the service.
3. The tap and service shall be kept in good repair and the water not allowed to run to waste.
4. Water rates shall be charged for each service as follows:—

First month of service, $3.75, or if paid by the 10th of the month $3.00.

Second month of service, $2.50, or if paid by the 10th of the month $2.00.

Extract of Letter of Instructions, re Water Supply.

"I noticed when in White Rock recently that you have two houses (one house converted into two) and a tent upon your property all occupied by separate families. It is, of course, our intention to supply only one family with each service, and it will be necessary, if you wish your tenants to use the water, for you to pay for three services."

"I agree to the water being cut off without notice in the event of any infraction of the above rules and that it shall not be turned on again until all costs and expenses are paid by me."

THE COMING ELECTION

On Thursday, August 3, the nomination for Members of the Local Legislature were completed, and they included forty-seven Conservatives, forty-six Liberals, twelve Socialists, one Prohibitionist, and nine Independents. The only constituency in which a Conservative nominee is not opposed by a Liberal is Newcastle, where Mr. Parker Williams, who still classifies himself as a Socialist, in spite of the protest of the organization, is once more trying a fall with Dr. Dier. The outstanding feature of the nominations is the unity of the Conservative party, and the excellent prospects for its success. The campaign is being conducted along clear-cut lines. Mr. Bowser is appealing to the electorate solely on his record. He makes no promises for the future, but points to the practical legislation of the last session as the best justification for his return. He and Mr. H. B. Thomson in their provincial tour have tried to point out that the one essential of the moment is to strain every effort to develop our natural resources in land, lumber and mining. The legislation for which Mr. Bowser is responsible has this for its main object. The demand of the moment is for business Government. Trifling issues are being relegated to the background. The times are too serious to regard them, and the public is indisposed to consider anything but the successful prosecution of the war, and the development of business as an essential thereto. This is Mr. Bowser's policy, and he asks for the confidence of the electors, because of the evidence furnished by his legislation that he can be trusted to carry it into effect.

The Liberal Policy.

"Found Wanting."

The Liberal policy is equally clear. It has nothing to do with business or the development of natural resources. It consists of an attack upon the personal characters of the most prominent men in the Conservative party. It consists of a tirade of abuse, vituperation and insult. It necessitates the preaching of a Blue Ruin Campaign in the financial circles of Eastern Canada, and an hysterical attempt to hold up the business of the province at home by blocking the wheels of progress. It is so blinded by its partizanship that it cannot distinguish between an honorary and a paid position, nor can it understand the difference between a destructive and a constructive policy.

It comes before the electors for the fifth time since party government was adopted in B. C., with the same programme as has ensured its defeat at every contested election. It has nothing new to offer, and the fact that it has failed in a most palpable manner to justify any of the charges which it made before the last session of the Legislature has not only taken all interest out of its campaign, but has even eliminated the element of curiosity which enabled it to pose successfully at the bye-elections. It is no perversion of a well-known text to anticipate that the verdict of the constituencies on the Liberal leaders and their policies will be: "Weighed in the balances and found wanting."—Victoria Week.

EXTRACTS FROM SPEECH OF LIEUT. F. J. MACKENZIE,

1916 LEGISLATURE.

"With regard to making provision for the welfare of our returned soldiers, I would urge on the Government's prompt and generous consideration of their claim. While various committees have been created and each committee undoubtedly will do their best and formulate suggestions and schemes each looking at the problem from possibly different view-points, I would at this time urge on the Government the necessity of perfecting the machinery under which the problem created by returned soldiers and by de-mobilization can be satisfactorily dealt with.

The solution of this problem must be found and it must not be postponed until great numbers of men are released from service.

Rural Credit Bill.

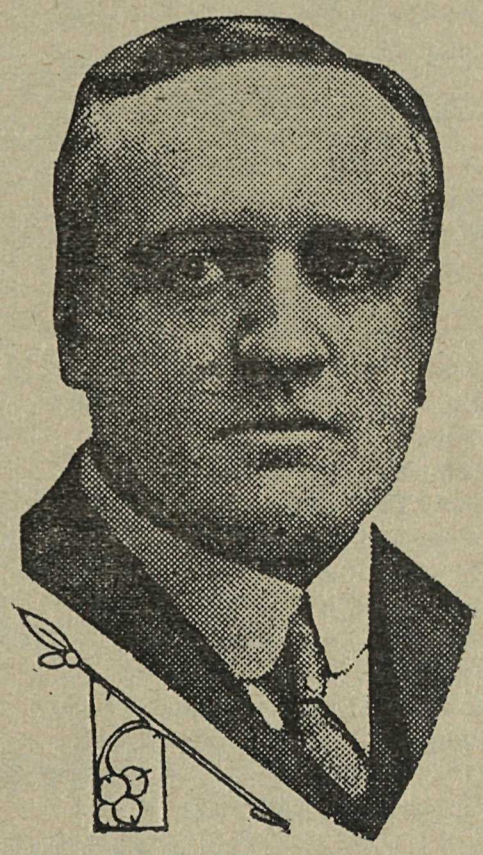
"This, Sir, is the Bill that will largely, if not completely, remedy the evil of sending out of the Province millions of dollars for food stuffs that can be grown quite as well here. We have the soil and the climate. We also have the farmers. But lack of capital, Sir, has been the brake on the wheel of progress in the rural communities.

Eggs.

The problem of protecting the poultry men from unfair competition with eggs from Chna took up some ltle tme last session. This House—with an earnest desire to remedy the difficulty that confronts the poultrymen—passed a resolution asking the Dominion Government to make stringent regulations governing the importations of eggs from other countries. This comes under their jurisdicton, Sir, and we desired them to insist on the marking of these eggs so that the purchaser could not be deceived into buying them for fresh eggs, marketed by the poultry men of this Province.

Land Policy.

I would, Sir, like to go into the land question, speaking from the standpoint of one who believes in the sale of lands—and the utilizing the proceeds to develop other portions of this Province—giving roads, bridges and schools to the already settled portions—rather than over-taxing those that are now here, or over-borrowing on the credit of the Province.



* * * * *

The Hon. W. J. Bowser

Premier of British Columbia

* * * * *

When the Liberals condemn the sale of lands, they do not show where they will secure revenue to offset the revenue from the sale of these lands other than by taxation."

PRESS EXTRACT LEGISLATIVE SESSION, 1914

One of the most informing speeches made in the House at Victoria on the adddress in reply to the speech from the throne, was that of Mr. F. J. MacKenzie, member for Delta, in which the work of the various departments of the government in his riding was detailed, as well as the needs of his district. A tribute was paid to those pioneers who hewed the way for others to follow, and the success of the great reclamation projects carried out by the people themselves without government assistance, was pointed out. Unqualified endorsation of the government's land policy of the department was approved. The work of Mr. J. D. Taylor, M.P., in securing to settlers the right to title to their lands in the railway belt was commended.

EXTRACT FROM SPEECH, 1914.

"If the government's policy of expending revenues was along the lines 'of helping those who help themselves,' Delta Riding would loom large in provincial appropriations.

"At any rate, who has a greater claim on the portion of the income from the resources of this province than the hardy pioneer who struggled along in bygone days and so truly and well laid the foundation for those who are to follow?

"We have in these three municipalities, Delta, Surrey and Langley, room for a much larger population—splendid land that can be procured below speculative value—yes, below productive value. We asure those who desire to cultivate real farm land a cordial welcome.
