WHERE TO PURCHASE

Your Christmas Goods---A Few of the Good Things Offering.

Large and Well Assorted Stocks Carried by Local Merchants Strictly Up-to-Date.

Now that Christmas is only a short way off and people are purchasing their holiday supplies, and sending gifts to friends and relatives both far and near, the Star is taking advantage of the occasion to give the merchants a sort of Xmas gift in the way of calling special attention to the manner in which they have prepared to cater to this trade. Princeton has stores that any town might well be proud of, carrying stocks that can supply the demands of the most exacting buyer, in wearing apparel, edibles, etc., as well as suitable Xmas presents for men, women and children. There is small excuse for sending your money out of town to purchase articles that can be had at home; it is a bad practice and means building up outside concerns at the expense of our own merchants.

The A. E. Howse Co., Ltd.

This store as usual carries a large stock of standard goods in the grocery, drygoods, and hardware lines. A stock of millinery, confectionery and children's toys is also carried. In the grocery department you can find anything you may wish for in the way of canned goods fresh from the manufacturer. All the latest and best breakfast foods are found on the shelves, put up in attractive packages, giving the buyer a wide range to choose from. A choice assortment of breakfast hams and bacons is also keep on hand. The housewife in search of the necessary ingredients for building plum puddings and Xmas cakes can find a fresh supply of these waiting to be made use of. Jams, jellies, pickles, nuts, oranges and raisins are here in abundance. Christie's sodas and tea cakes invite inspection. And if there is anything you don't see just ask for it

On the drygoods side of the house are to be found the celebrated H. B. K. brand which guarantees satisfaction. A wide range of ready made clothing, hats, caps, gloves, shirts, sweaters, and hosiery is to be found for both old and young. A large and uptodate stock of footwear is kept on hand from the heavy working boot to the stylish shoe. Rubber goods are on the shelves also.

The hardware department includes most everything that is to be found in the city store. A small line of crockery and glassware is also carried.

If you want to know what lines of millinery are carried just drop in and inquire of the smiling and obliging manager. This big store makes a specialty of outfitting miners, loggers, etc.

Thomas Brothers.

The Star takes pleasure in directing the attention of the public to the advertisement of Thomas Bros'., general merchants, on the third page, in which they announce that they carry everything of the best in their line. Among other choice articles to be found in this store is the well known Eden Bank creamery butter, probably the best butter made in the Province, a fresh supply of which is always kept on hand. Canned meats fish, and fruit are shown in abundance and are of the best brands. Biscuits, cakes, candies, nuts, etc., can also be had here, and fresh citron peel, lemon peel, raisins and all kinds of spices are offering.

A well assorted line of drygoods is always to be seen at this store; boot and shoes are on the shelves in variety, also rubber goods. The famous Hudson Bay blanket is in evidence and finds a ready sale. This firm carries hardware in most of its branches, and saddles, etc., are also handled. Thomas Brothers look upon it as a pleasure to be at your service, so don't hesitate about asking to examine their stock.

Cook & Company.

This firm has also seen the advantage of having their business kept before the public eye, and attention is directed to their announcement on page 3. This is the pioneer store of Princeton, and although not so large as some others, a well stocked store in groceries, drygoods, hardware and general merchandise is to be found, and those desiring any of these will be well paid in giving this firm a call. They make special mention of their stock of rubber goods, a full line of which is carried. Christmas toys have not been overlooked, and the little ones can have their dreams realized if their parents will call at this store. A small stock of wearing apparel for the gentler sex is also kept. Cook & Co. will appreciate a call from you.

J. R. Campbell, Druggist.

The citizens of Princeton are justly proud of their drug store and of the man who has shown his enterprise in furnishing for the benefit of the public such an uptodate pharmacy in our midst. The City Drug Store carries a stock unequalled in any town in the interior of British Columbia, and anyone in need of attention in this line can rest assured of receiving the best that money can buy. Mr. Campbell carries as a side line an assortment of the very latest things in manicure sets, toilet sets, fancy perfumes, and atomizers, as well as a complete stock of children's toys. He is showing a special lot of Lowney's chocolates, done up in the most bewitching packages imaginable, which baffle description. If the covering is an indication of the contents, there is a treat in store for anyone who buys them. Handkerchief cases, card cases, cigar cases, dainty Xmas cards, fancy and humorous post cards are here in profusion and of the newest patterns. Fancy stationery can be had also. The finest pipes, tobacco and cigars can be seen and it is no trouble for Mr. Campbell to show you his goods.

If you are in search of a suitable and welcome present for father, mother, sister, brother, your wife or sweetheart, drop in at the City Drug Store and make your wants known, and if you don't get what you want, it wont be Campbell's fault.

Summers & Wardle, Butchers.

You won't get groceries, hardware, or toilet sets at this establishment, but you will be able purchase the finest in meats Mutton chops, pork chops, sausages, sirloin steaks T-bone steaks, and rib steaks, rolled roasts and unrolled of the juiciest and best that the land affords, are here waiting to be exchanged for cash. The lordly and imposing turkey will be on hand to grace the festive board on Christmas, and to secure one you had better speak early.

When you have made your purchases you will need an express, so just ring up Billy Hunter and he will deliver them safey.

In case you should run short of the wherewithal, call at the Bank of Commerce and Manager Jackson will lend you his ear.

XMAS TREE ENTERTAINMENT.

The Xmas tree entertainment will take place in the Court House on Friday evening next, the 21st inst, and promises to be a most enjoyable affair for both old and young. Santa Claus has sent word that he will be on hand with his whiskers and presents enough and to spare, and many a little heart will sweil with joy when the Xmas tree groaning under its load of good things is presented to view. The programme to be presented by the older ones promises to be all that could be desired. Mrs. Waterman and several other local vocalists are down for a number, and if you want to enjoy yourself and help the kiddies to the same be sure and take in the entertainment.

Lots of fresh eggs in stock at the A. E. Howse Co. Ltd.

Jack Thynne, the well known rancher on the Nicola road, left on Sunday last on a visit to the old sod, and will spend Christmas at the home of his boyhood days. A large number of his friends made the event an excuse for a surprise party on the Thursday evening previous and Jack was wished all kinds of nice things on his trip.

COPPER MOUNTAIN

Property Bonded by the Dominion Copper Co.---Work to Start at Once.

E. F. Voigt Puts Through Deal with This Big Company—No Means will be Spared in Development.

E. F. Voigt returned from Vancouver on Sunday, after an absence of several weeks, and he brings back with him good news to the people of Princeton. He has bonded group No. 14, comprising three claims and a fraction, situated on Copper mountain, to the Dominion Copper Co., a corporation of sound financial standing and at present operating in the Phoenix, Deadwood, Wellington, and Summit camps. James Lindsay made a report on the group 14 a few months ago and it was upon his recommendation that the deal was made. Representatives of the Dominion Copper Co. are expected to arrive in Princeton at once when arrangements will be made to start development work immediately and a force of men will be put to work.

If this property turns out as good as expected, it will mean more to Princeton than may seem at first sight. What has been lacking in the past has been the lack of money and enterprise to take hold and show the value of the copper deposits in this section. Once this is done, any amount of money will be found ready and willing to come in and take a chance.

Mr. Voigt has stayed with Copper mountain for a good many years, at no small expense, never wavering in his belief that she would come to her own, and it is to be hoped that success has at last crowned his labors.

THE FIREMEN'S BALL.

The date for the firemen's ball has been set the 2nd of January and the committee in charge are sparing no pains to make it a huge success. Excellent music has been secured for the occasion, and a lunch will be served at midnight. Quite a number of Hedleyites have announced their intention to be present. The proceeds will be devoted to purchasing necessary apparatus for the brigade, and its the duty of every citizen to dig up the price of a ticket and show your appreciation of the Volunteer Fire Bri-Brigade.

Word reached Princeton on Sunday of the finding of an Indian woman hanged to a tree in the vicinity of Aspen Grove. From what could be learned it appears the woman was a Boston Bar Indian and becoming tired of this strenuous life committed suicide.

REVISED CUSTOMS TARIFF.

The revised customs tariff, upon which the Dominion Government has been working for three years past, was presented to Parliament on Thursday, Nov. 29th, by Hon. Mr. Fielding, Minister of Finance, and is made up of three separate columns: (1) British preferential tariff. (2) intermediate tariff. (3) general tariff. The first applies as at present to Great Britain and the British Colonies which already enjoy its benefits. It is not proposed to bring the intermediate tariff into use at once, but it will be held for the purpose of negotiation with foreign countries who may wish to do business with Canada on a fair scale, the idea being to hold it as a standing offer to all foreign countries desiring reciprocal tariff arrangements with the Dominion, by which means it is hoped that a large increase of Canadian markets abroad may be secured. The general tariff applies, for the present, to all foreign countries and those parts of the British empire which have declined hitherto to trade with Canada upon a reciprocal basis.

A flat preference rate of one-third off in favor of Great Britain is abandoned, each item in the customs classification being dealt with individually. The Finance Minister reiterated his desire to divert trade as far as may be from foreign into British channels, the new tariff being formed so as to encourage the sale of British iron and steel goods in this country. For the purpose of convenience the new tariff abolishes the cumbersome fractions, a change that will no doubt be much appreciated by those engaged in custom offices. The intermediate tariff as a rule is about 10 per cent. less than the general tariff schedule. The surtax against Germany is retained, with the hope expressed however that negotiations will lead to its withdrawal at an early date.

The duty on agricultural implements is reduced from 20 to 17½ per cent.; on windmills from 25 to 20 per cent. The duty on uncleaned rice is wiped out. Oranges, lemons and limes are placed on the free list. The steel bounties are extended on a sliding scale to 1910.

The surplus for the six months ending March 31st next will be thirteen million dollars. After all expenditures are met there will be one million and a half left to reduce the public debt. This is a most encouraging and satisfactory showing, and indicates the prosperity of the country under Liberal rule, as contrasted with the ever occuring deficits under the old Conservative reign of corruption and mismanagement.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

The 10th ordinary general meeting of the British Columbia Electric Railway Co. Ltd. was held recently in London, and shows that company to be in a most flourishing condition. Speaking of the general outlook in British Columbia, the chairman made some interesting and important references, from which we briefly quote:

"In spite of the fact that British Columbia had failed to secure its fair proportion of the development and confidence with which other parts of Canada had been favored by European capitalists, he had the same unbounded faith in its future that he had always had, and the same complete confidence that the Province was destined to support a large and thriving population of happy people. It could not be otherwise with a country possessing such vast coal and iron ore deposits, such magnificent forests and such unlimited water powers. The prosperity of British Columbia had not yet begun. * * * The prosperity of British Columbia would date from the time when it commenced to attract capital in large sums from the old world investing countries. The people of British Columbia would, therefore, do well to think twice before they sent forth to the world senseless resolutions and meaningless by-laws of a threatening and antagonistic nature to capital. * * * In conclusion, he would add a word of caution There was not a speculative boom at present in the Dominion, but he had not said there was not going to be. The Canadian market had hitherto been kept clean and wholesome, but they were threatened, when money got cheaper, with a deluge of promotions involving most of the worst practices invented during the Kaffir mania."

The following is a fair sample of the methods used by the press supporting that peculiar Conservative-Socialist combination, the McBride Government, in their feverish desire to cast reflections on the Liberals. It also shows how much reliance is to be placed on them. The Nelson News nails the basest kind of political lie, as follows: The Cranbrook Prospector editorially charged that J. A. Macdonald, leader of the Opposition, had visited Fernie during the coal strike with a view to making political capital out of the miners' misfortune. This charge was reproduced in other Government organs, presumably "with a view to making political capital." The Daily News telegraphed Mr. Macdonald for an explanation of the case. His reply is brief and to the point and entirely exposes the malicious nature of the attack made upon him.

Vancouver, Nov. 22, 1906.

The Daily News, Nelson, B. C.

Have not been in or near Fernie since July, nor have I interfered directly or indirectly in the strike.

(Sgd.) J. A. MACDONALD.

The Cumberland Enterprise, referring to the Premier's statement at Cobble Hill that the operation of the new school act is satisfactory to the public, points out that the schools will cost the town of Cumberland $1,800 this year. Under the old act the city contributed for the support of the schools in 1905, $664.65. But in 1906 under the new act which McBride is so pleased with, the city will contribute about $1,800. How do the rate payers like full control? asks the Enterprise.

One of the first things that a stranger finds himself up against in coming to Princeton in search of land is the absence of a land office, where reliable information can be had, and annoying delays and unnecessary expense are caused on that account. Just fancy travelling 60 miles to Fairview, the office for this district, especially at this time of year in search of information that should be had here. If we had a real live member to represent us, one who would make it his business to look after the undivided interests of the constituency, we might hope to have such matters brought to the attention of the Government. As it is, unfortunately, we are represented by a man who has no interests here, and therefore he does not bother himself with the requirements of this section.

Grand Forks has troubles of its own in the Hindus line. Hundreds of these lean and lanky fellows have found their way to that town and are now busy freezing and starving to death. If the man who induced these people to flock to British Columbia could be located, it might help some.

BEAR CREEK CAMP

Promises to Become a Big Dividend Payer in the Near Future.

The Province of the 6th inst. publishes the following interesting piece of news: What is said by local mining men to be one of the biggest strikes of high grade ore made in British Columbia in recent years in reported from Bear Creek this morning in a letter received by W. H. Armstrong, vice-president of the Similkameen Mining & Smelting Co., from the mine superintendent. A week ago the superintendent wrote that the vein had widened from four to six feet and that a decided change was coming in the formation. At that time he could not speak with assurance as to the ultimate width, as the change was not sufficiently pronounced. In the letter received this morning however the ore has crossed the foot-wall and the shaft is now in solid high grade ore. The shaft is six feet across and there is still two feet of ore to the hanging wall, making a solid body eight feet wide.

At the present rate of progress the company will have at least half a million dollars' worth of ore blocked out within the next six months, although the present works come under the head of exploration rather than mining. The exploration work is now in itself representing a handsome profit, assuring the fact that when stoping and shipping commences these profits can be increased immediately Average assays show the ore to run about seventy dollars per ton, fifty dollars in gold and ten dollars each in silver and copper.

A CLOSE SHAVE.

To be saved by a single shot from his rifle from the death grasp of a big black bear was the thrilling experience of Ed. Munroe of the Kettle Valley line railway camp now stationed at Lynch Creek. Last Saturday Munroe was out hunting for deer, when all at once he came right on top of a bear. He had two shots in his rifle and fired one of them at the bear which was not more than fifteen feet away. The shot took effect, but not fatally, and the bear turned on the hunter. By this time Munro realized the seriousness of the situation and that his life depended on the remaining shot, so he carefully took aim and fired just as the bear was about to rise on his hind legs to give his victim the death embrace. Fortunately for the hunter the shot took effect, having penetrated the bear's hear, and he fell dead at his captor's feet. The animal measured over six feet in length and weighed over six hundred pounds.

ROSSLAND.

Two copper furnaces were blown in at the Trail smelter early in the week and two more will be in operation within the next week, as coke is now coming in freely from the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Co. Manager Labarthe says that very encouraging reports are being received from the east as to the quality of the antimony which is now being turned out from the refinery on a commercial scale. The plant, it is expected will be able to supply all of the requirements of Canada, so far as antimony is concerned.

Great difficulty is experienced in getting freight in especially over the Nicola road the past few weeks Annoying delays have caused a great deal of inconvenience to merchants and others who are dependent on freighters for their source of supply. The bad state of the roads prevent anything like time being made, and some of the freighters refuse to take their teams out.

The B.C. Standard Mining Co. has decided to lease the Hunter V. and Double Standard to the Hall Mining & Smelting Co. for a period of three years. Both properties are at Ymir.

Mining on a vigorous scale is projected at Granite creek next summer by newly interested outside parties.

Coal properties in this vicinity are in demand on favorable terms.

Three workmen named E. A. Eldridge, Hugh McMillan and Arthur McMillan, employed the Government bridge across the Thompson river just west of Ashcroft, were drowned last week by being thrown into the swift and icy waters, through the breaking of a cable which held fast a scow on which the men were working. Seven men were thrown into the water, two of whom managed to crawl quickly to safety. Two others were rescued by the heroic action of their fellow workmen after they had been in the water for some time.
