THE BOARD OF TRADE

Condemns Criminal Neglect of Princeton by Someone Re Telephone.

Publicity Committee Appointed to Edit and Print Folder Soon as Possible.

At the regular meeting of the Board of Trade Monday night there was a good attendance and important matters dealt with. A long communication from C. S. Stevens, Superintendent of the Dominion telephone line, expressing regret for the absence of a public phone in Princeton and disclaiming responsibility therefor. He stated he had documentary evidence to prove where the blame rested,

Mr. Stevens urged the establishment of a telephone exchange in Princeton, and said he was willing to help bring about any immediate solution of the present difficulty. He further stated that it the Board would recommend a man to D. Ross, M.P., he (Stevens) had no doubt that an agent would be appointed and the office reopened. He thought the appointment of a good agent would be the means of increasing the revenue of the office.

A long discussion ensued in which the opinion was freely expressed that Princeton is prejudicially treated by some person having influence or authority in the telephone management. The damage done to the town and the serious inconvenience to business was emphasized the tone of all the speeches being resentful and condemnatory of the unfair treatment handed out to this community in the matter of telephone accommodation.

Mr. Waterman pointed out that the Vermilion Forks Co. had, by the erection of a private telephone line connecting the mine, office, &c., laid the foundation for a local exchange which the company, no doubt, would extend when the field was afforded.

A motion recommending H. H. Avery, jr., to D Ross, M.P., for the position of telephone agent was unanimously endorsed. Mr. Lumsden asked that line connection be given as formerly to the Howse Co., and that the Board include this in the motion of recommendation—agreed to. He stated that through personal pique and spite telephone communication had been withdrawn from the company.

The question of a folder for advertising all the resources of Princeton district was heartily concurred in by all the members. A general committee, to be subdivided, was formed for the purpose of outlining the work and allotting the sub-committees their subjects, which will treat of placer, ore and coal mining, agriculture, horticulture, grazing, water power, smelter possibilities, fire and builders' brick, cement, natural paint, lumber and timber, hunting, fishing, shooting, trapping, scenery, historical sketch, railways, roads, people, commercial institutions, religion, social condi-

FRUIT TREES LOADED.

Climate and Soil Give Evidence of Their Productiveness.

Hugh Hunter's garden and orchard are well worth a special trip to his country seat to have an adequate conception of the possibilities of fruit raising and vegetable growing. Tomatoes and cucumbers, raspberries and currants, early and late apples, these, and many other kinds were growing to perfection. Some of the apple trees were so heavily laden that some of the congested limbs had to be relieved of their superabundant burden. If there should be any doubting Thomas or hesitating Hezekiah regarding the growth of the tender sorts of vegetables and the perfection of apples it is only necessary to see Mr. Hunter's place from the main trunk road and which has been so imperfectly and briefly described. There are other gardens and orchards in this section which would equally well repay the visit of all interested in the fruit and vegetable industry. Well situated lands in this district have been demonstrated to contain fruit growing properties and the requisite climatic environment for successful fruit and vegetable production.

GOLDHUNTER ON GRANITE.

Charles Lambert and wife were in town last Wednesday from Granite Creek. He is busy with his big placer mining proposition at the North Fork and now that the water is low and lowering no time will be lost in digging for that ever seductive metal: Gold. Six hundred feet of the creek will be flumed at first and that amount of ground worked out then it will be shifted on as required. The distance to bedrock is the query Mr. Lambert has to answer. It is there the gold and platinum lodged in the long ago and he proposes to dislodge some of it for his own use and benefit—(hope he gets a ton of it.) Mr. Lambert is an old Atlin miner and made a snug fortune there. He is an expert miner and conducted a placer mining school in the Klondyke days, some of his pupils being almost able to find gold by scent. Some very pretty souvenirs of Atlin in the form of nugget watch chains, Mr. Lambert carries with him and are most interesting. He is an earnest advocate of a wagon road along Granite Creek, a work that the government is willing to undertake when some of the tardy ones make up their minds they want it.

GRADING WILL BEGIN

Camp Construction Now on Program Breaks the Cruel Suspense.

Princeton the Present Goal and Terminus of Constrnction Work on Railroad.

Just as those premonitory signs of earthquake are unmistakable and distinct so also is it with the building of the railway to Princeton, signs of which are equally evident and one may be sure, much more pleasant 'to take.' At last, preparations for actual grading have begun.

Superintendent of construction, Geo. Cunningham, was in town Tuesday ordering material for a camp to be started on the Similkameen River about three miles below town. This camp will serve two heavy rock cuts, one on either side. Another camp for earthwork will be built near Allison and still another nigh Princeton when required and as the spirit moves the inscrutable Jim.

It will take about seven months to finish the heavier cuts the balance of the time required to complete the line is the merest guesswork—it may take years, it may take forever. The perfecting of airships is going on apace and it is not unlikely that in the race between them and the locomotive the ship will win into Princeton. Meantime citizens will welcome the roar of Jim Hill's artillery among the suburban hills.

WILD FRUIT PLENTIFUL.

Parties from the hills and Hope Mountains give it out that there will be 'oceans' of wild fruit this year. Someone has a fortune staring them in the face who will embark in the canning or drying of wild fruits, especially huckleberries, which now cost at least 25 or 30 cents per tin of one pint. A good tonic wine is produced from the olalla and as a dietetic fruit in the form of "soap-olalla" it is said to be beneficial in constipation and of some merit in spurring on a jaded or lazy liver. The pill editor now leaves the reader to act as he wills, the simple curatives and the simple life are his if he desires.

MESSAGE WAS TOO LATE.

R. Fitzgerald has had a sad experience through the absence of a public telephone in Princeton. A message from a dying brother having to go to Hedley for transmission by post to Princeton took so long in transit that he was not able to reach the sick one before his life departed and thus too late to meet him alive. If the manager of the line would make it known on the outside that there was no public telephone connection with Princeton these painful incidents would be avoided. Mr. Fitzgerald has the sincere sympathy of many friends, which is also extended to family of deceased in the loss of father and breadwinner. The family, mother and five children, resides at Sumas, Wash., where Mr. Fitzgerald died on July 23rd.

PROGRESS IS OBSERVED.

Trip Through the Similkameen, Land of Minerals and other Resources.

Ernest Thomas arrived from Penticton last week on a visit and was pleased to note the evidences of progress in the substantial buildings that are now in course of erection and those that have been erected. His faith in the great undeveloped natural resources of this country has never wavered a little bit. The times are fairly good in Penticton, and Keremeos is now passing through the primary stages of a far-reaching revolutionary movement affecting the social and agricultural conditions in that prolific section. Newcomers with money and new ideas are peopling all the Penticton-Keremeos country. Fruit and beef are the spine and staples of the district.

Hedley is, Mr. Thomas says, a much improved town from a business standpoint since he last saw it. No doubt about its future; the gold is there and wherever this alluring stuff is there will be something doing and no empty dinner pails standing around with a bad smell in them. Of course it's wrong to covet, but if Princeton had the Nickel Plate and the Daly Reduction payroll it would be a town of a few thousand people, at least. Two hundred delegates are coming to Penticton the second week of August to inspect irrigation methods and otherwise get in touch with the people and their fruit culture.

Mr. Thomas returned to Penticton on Monday. He says that Geo. Winkler, an old time Princtonian, is in the hills searching for a lost mine, his quest now having extended over a period of four years.

A reader wants an explanation of the motto under the Star title: Let a voracious, designing, patronizing person into your friendship and they will either ruin or gobble you altogether.

J. D. Lumsden, manager for the Howse Co., leaves today for Vernon on a holiday visit to relatives.

C. O. French returned from a successful prospecting trip last week and will shortly go up to Welldo to attend the ceremony of officially baptizing it with liquid from the soup springs. He will lay the foundation of a 'city' there and be installed its first mayor—and maybe its last. The latter phrase is intended to make the knockers feel good.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

New postage stamps commemorating the Quebec tercentenary are on sale. The stamps are beautifully designed and executed, the historic scenes being truly representative of the early days of Canada.

In the forthcoming Dominion elections a Socialist candidate will be in the field along with the Liberal and Conservative aspirants. While it is not at all probable that a Socialist will be elected he will at least, have the pleasure of harassing the flanks of the other parties. It is generally admitted that the Socialist vote cuts into the Liberal ranks more than that of the Conservative and as it is a part of their creed to oppose the party in power they undoubtedly will cut some "ice" at the polls next fall.

To get rich quick and easy is the ambition of many. They defalcate and steal and lie, never thinking that those means frequently result in the loss of years behind the bars or, what is of more importance, the lost confidence of their neighbors and feliow citizens.

Every new industry and business, every new settler, prospector, miner and mechanic means so much more wealth and prosperity added to the town. Every legitimate means to induce these to come here and locate should be employed and every citizen should organize himself or herself into a committee of one to promote the good work.

The town scavenger reports that some citizens refuse his services, preferring to dump their closet contents on the garden or in the river. It was to prevent pollution of the rivers and wells, sources of drinking water supply, that health and sanitary officers were appointed by the government. So far, Princeton enjoys the reputation of being cleanly and free from any endemic disease. It would be false economy on the part of citizens to withhold patronage of the scavenger and it would be false justice to permit any evasion of the law by those who are perfectly able to pay for the necessary scavenging.

Some of the qualifications necessary to make a good editor are put in the following way by the Baltimore Sun: "The trade of the editor requires a degree of intellectual muscularity not only beyond the college professor's reach but also beyond his comprehension. A good editor must have the casuistic skill of a Huxley, the rippling humor of a Johnnie Ray, the abysmal learning of a Virchow, the eloquence of a Webster, and the powerful sweep and whoop of a Gladstone. He must read write and speak every ancient and modern language, with all the dialects thereof. He must understand politics, archaeology and plain sewing. He must be gentle enough to judge a triolet and strong enough to balance a footstick on his nose. He must know every human being worth knowing from Tadmor in the wilderness to the hills of Yubadam. He must be sober, patient and beautiful. He must wear good clothes, shave daily and love children.

In England the problem of Sunday labor is receiving serious consideration. The House of Lords has recently passed the Weekly Rest Day Bill which provides for every workingman a Sunday rest from toil. By this law greedy corporations and individuals would be obiiged to "rest up." Incessant work is even more dangerous to the physical and moral existence of man than none at all.

Four hundred and fifty Union Jacks have been sent out to as many schools in the province. The hours are fixed by regulation of the Department for the flag to fly. As a means of inculcating loyalty in the children of the land there is much in favor of the flag idea. But the loftiest patriotism comes only from the lives of great men who by their words and deeds proved their love and devotion for their country. It is in the reading of history and biography of patriots, as well as song, that lofty inspiration is given to the young.

The manner in which the Dominion telephone line has been built and managed must form the subject of parliamentary investigation. To permit a government-owned utility to be run any old way so far as reports and receipts are concerned, and to use the line as a means of "getting even" with anyone who happens to incur the ill will of those in control of it, would be an unanswerable argument against government ownership and have a tendency to breed corruption of the foulest kind.

The Winnipeg Free Press, one of the very best papers in the Dominion, has kicked over the Liberal traces, as the following will show: "The Free Press is not concerned in saving anybody's face—neither its own nor Sir Wilfrid Laurier's—and it declares the fact that the wrongs justly complained of by Manitoba Liberals remain unredressed." Evidently the Free Press and the Star are in the same boat, each having unredressed grievances of the people to champion and each forced to defend its action by the only honorable course open: Continue in the good work and let the ballots do the rest.

SHORT AND PITHY.

Sleep, sloth and stupidity rob men of splendid opportunities; then they become knockers and backcappers, jealous of those who are wide awake, honest and successful.

The heart rather than the tongue will be the convicting 'organ' in the final settlement.

If you belong to the Board of Trade
don't think to escape,
For they'll criticize you and sneer at your fine shape,
They say your long-standing debts you

Before you join a crowd that won't "wash

But people will talk.

Now, the ball team looks shabby, but it plays with care,
Princeton don't mind it, as you are surely aware,
Uniforms cost money: Well! what's the use,
An unsupported team will go to the deuce.
So people will talk.

And then if you show the least public spirit or boldness of heart,
With a slight determination to take your own part,
They will call you conceited, vain and
an upstart,
But be kind, stick to the truth and run
your own cart.
For people will talk.
