Outlines Plan to Encourage Mining

VICTORIA,—An outline of proposals formulated jointly by the provincial departments of mines and of industries, for the general encouragement of prrospecting for minerals in British Columbia and in particular for the extension of aid to returned soldiers wishing to engage in that line of work is made public by the Hon. Wm. Sloan, minister of mines.

Briefly it is intended that twenty-five parties shall be put in the field each of which will consist of two men, one a practical prospector of experience and the other a returned soldier. The parties will be grubstaked and the total number for which provision is being made will be divided among the six mineral survey districts of the province in proportion to the population of each district.

The government would undertake to provide camp equipment consisting of tent, fly, ground sheet, blankets, cooking utensils and tools and incidentals, which at the end of the contract would become the property of the propectors or in lieu of such equipment, the government would contribute $50 towards the purchase of same. The prospectors to supply their own personal equipment.

Further the government to make a uniform allowance, for all the province of $1.50 for food and other expenses, to each man for each day in field, payable monthly, or as might be arranged.

"At the end of the season, men who had served the full term of their contracted udertaking, properly attested to, would be allowed to the experienced prospector the sum of $125, and to the inexperienced man$100. In exceptional cases the resident engineer might remit a portion of the contract time.

Freeminers' certificates and services of district engineers is also part of the scheme.

Hedley G. M. Co. Earnings Fall Some

The Hedley Gold Mining company earned $31,741 in the year ended December 31 last according to a New York report. This is at the rate of 13 cents a share on the issue of 240,000 shares of the capital stock, as compared with 55 cents a share in 1918, when the total earnings were $132,578.

The company owns the Nickel Plate gold mine at Hedley, and the Copper Flat property, near Silver City, N. M. Its mining and milling equipment in Britsh Columbia ranks with the best of its kind. A statement made a year or more ago indicated that the company suffered the same handicaps as other corporations engaged in the production of gold. It was compelled to pay more for supplies and labor, but could obtain no more for its product than when costs were lower.

A 50 per cent per day raise in wages has been accepted by the men in the Nickel Plate gold mine operated by the Hedley Gold Mining company, thus bringing the minimum scale to $5 per day. One hundred and forty men are affected.

It remains to be seen if the property can be operated at a profit on the new scale.

In a statement given out by G. P. Jones, manager of the mine, he said the company was not sure that the mine could be successfully operated under the new wage rates, but it was going to try it out, hoping that in the course of a short time a bill would be passed by the government granting a bonus to gold mine operators of $10 per ounce for gold used for manufacture. This bonus would net the mining company $5 per ounce. Mr. Jones also pointed out that a raise in wages for gold mining presented a different question from that of ordinary merchandise. In the case of gold mining companies it was a question of whether they could continue to operate or not, since the value of the gold produced was fixed. In the case of ordinary merchandise when the wages for its manufacture advanced the price to the public was raised accordingly. It will, however, be some time before the result of the raise in wages at the mine can be ascertained with any accuracy.

Mrs. J. F. Knudson Passes to Reward

Elizabeth Ann Knudson, wife of John F. Knudson, passed away quietly at her home here Tuesday morning. The deceased had been an invalid for the past 25 years most of which time she spent in a wheel chair. She was born at Hamilton, Ont., and was 57 years of age on the 23rd day of last month. Besides her husband, she leaves a daughter, Mrs. C. V. Prosser, who gave her constant care and tender attention for years.

The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock sunday from the residence.

MINING ITEMS

A concentrator is being built at the Premier mine near Stewart.

Boyle Bros., of Spokane, and Lynch Bros., of Seattle, have large diamond drill contracts in the Stewart camp.

The dismantling of the Greenwood smelter is now in progress, C. P. R. cars now being loaded at the former reruction works.

Col. Bob Stevenson was in Greenwood this week. Col. Stevenson is working some placer leases on Rock Creek, that he discovered 60 years ago.—Ledge.

Holders of free miners' certificates should make a note of the fact, and govern themselves accordingly, that these certificates lapse at midnight on May 31st, and with the certificates also lapses all interest in any claims held. Certificates should be renewed therefore, on or before the 31st prox., the fee being $5. If not renewed until after that date, it will cost $10 extra.

The owners of the Eureka silver mines on Silver Creek are busy engaged in re-opening the roadway to their property from the main highway leading into Hope. A gang of men are employed on this work under the supervision of Superintendent Williamson. Mr. Williamson states that there will be over one hundred men employed in the Eureka mine by midsummer. This means considerable additional business for Hope.

Warren to Remain with Consolidated

Vancouver—J. J. Warren, who built the Kettle Valley Railway line, a subsidiary of the C. P. R., will shortly retire from the position of president of the K. V. R. The line will be formally incorporated with the C. P. R. system and D. C. Coleman will likely be the new president, with Mr. Warren occupying the honory position of chairman of the board of directors.

Mr. Warren will remain head of the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Co. of Trail, a company also closely allied with the C. P. R.

A Toronto lawyer, 50 years of age, Mr. Warren has spent many years of his life in mining and railway construction in British Columbia.

Mr. Warren referring to the labor situations the mines and smelters of the interior mentioned some of the recent innovations introduced by the Consolidated for the relief and benefit of their employees. The housing problem is being solved by a system of loans on easy terms to the employees and the result is already being seen in many new houses going up in Trail.

The company has also adopted a system of insurance applicable to all employees over six months with the company and graduated in amounts corresponding to the length of service.

A few weeks ago an all round increase in the wage scale was also granted. Mr. Warren expressed the belief that capital must recognize the claims of all workers to decent living. At the same time he expresses serious misgiving with the present economic situation, as the cost of living is mounting higher than the scale of wages while the margin between the cost of production and the market values of the products, is rapidly growing less. If the wage scale continues to increase there will soon be little or no return on capital investment. When that stage arrives development and expansion will inevitably be arrested and work become scarcer.

The key to the situation, Mr. Warren thinks, is a reduction in the cost of living, but just where the reduction is to begin he was not prepared to state.

Speaking of the local situation in the Similkameen, Bounday and Kootenay mining camps, Mr. Warren anticipates a greatly increased output of minerals for this year provided there is no labor blowup. The demand for metals is growing and promises to remain strong for some time to come. He is not very optimistic about the price of copper, however, and expressed a fear that if the price went much lower many mines would have to close as the metal could not be mined at a profit on the present scale of costs at a lower selling price than the present.

Time Extended for Income Tax Returns

Orders have been sent out by the finance department at Ottawa extentding the time for filing Income Tax returns for the whole of the Dominion to May 31st.

It appears that a large number of persons are filing in returns who do not require to do so.

Under the Income Tax Act all unmarried persons whose gross incomes are less than $1,000, and all married persons whose gross incomes are less than $2,000, are not required to file returns, unless specially requested to do so by the inspector of taxation.

Only persons whose incomes exceed the above exemptions are required to file returns without any notification.

Rule of Road to Change on July 15

Effective July 15th next the "rule of the road" in the Interior of the province will be changed to conform with that of the provinces to the east and the states to the south. This, providing an amendment to the Highway Act tabled in the legislature recently by Hon Dr. King, minister of Public Works, is made law, which it doubtless will be. By this bill the province is divided into two districts. District No. 1 will include Vancouver and surrounding settled district and all of Vancouver Island. District No. 2 takes in the remainder of the province. Obviously this dicision is made to put as much of the province as possible under the new road rules while at the same time it gives the B. C. Electric company time in which to make changes in its lines and rolling stock, for in District No. 1 the new rule will not come into effect until end of 1921 unless earlier proclamatio of the lieutenant-governor-in-council either as to the whole or part of District No. 1.

Are sermons indispensable? This one of the questions on which a decision may be taken by the bishops of the Anglican Church at their meeting in Lambeth in July. A section of churchmen are declared to hold that if a man has not the gift of preaching, it would be better for everyone that he should not preach. The "Two Sermons each Sunday" custom they, say imposes a great strain on the clergy —a strain equally if not more heavily felt by the laiety.

THE INSULT

I've swum the Colorado where she runs close down to hell;
I've braced the faro layouts in Cheyenne;
I've fought for muddy water with a bunch of howlin' swine
An' swallowed hot tamales and cayenne;

I've rode a pitchin' bronco till the sky was underneath;
I've tackled every desert in the land;
I've sampled XX whisky till I couldn't hardly see,
An' dallied with the quicksands of the Grande;

I've argued with the marshalls of a half dozen burgs;
I've been dragged free and fancy by a cow;
I've had three years' campaignin' with the fightin', bitin' Ninth,
An' I never lost my temper till right now;

I've had the yellow fever and been shot plum full of holes;
I've grabbed an army mule plum by the tail;
But I've never been so snortin' really highfalutin mad
As when you up and hands me ginger ale.

Promise Survey of Old Dewdney Trail

HOPE, Mey 4—A survey of the Hope-Princeton-Dewdney Trail has been promised for this summer by Hon. Dr. King. The Hope Prospectors' Association took the matter up with Mr. Guire, government engineer, and are rejoiced at the promise referred to.

It is claimed that this is the shortest route for the trans-provincial highway, and that ten miles of it is being used from the Princeton end now. This is the route followed by the old time miners, and prospectors and others who use it state it is better than the so-called southern route via Silver Creek pass, or the Canyon, or northern route. They are emphatic in their statement that the Hope-Princeton route will best serve the mining interests.

A. E. Rabb is president of the Prospectors' Association, with D. J. McRae vice-pesident, and P. N. Raymond secretary. Mr. Raymond favors the Hope-Princeton route as best calculated to serve the whole district and its industries. "True, it is only a summer time route," he says "But no one would go via Ashcroft or Clinton in winter, anyhow. Moreover, this route we advocate offers the finest scenic advantages, fishing and sport facilities generally possible to enjoy anywhere.

THE CHAUTAUQUA

Twenty one residents and business men of Princeton have placed their signatures on a guarantee to the management of the Chautauqua which will fill an engagement here on May 14th, 15th and 17th. This committee has guaranteed the sale of season tickets to the amount of $800, and this amount of money must be in the hands of the manager of the Chautauqua by noon of the opening day. The committee thought fit to bring this aggregation of specialists in their respective lines here that the people might have the opportuity of hearing speakers of national reputation and of listening to a class of music seldom heard outside of the larger centres. The local committee has done this being actuated solely by the desire to bring to this commuity a program that will be both intellectual and elevating. There will not be one penny of financial gain to themselves, in fact there will be a financial loss if the required amount of tickets are not disposed of by noon of the opening day. Now, the way to assist this committee is to purchase your ticket before the opening day. This not only means assisting the committee in fulfilling their guarantee, but means a big saving to yourselves, as the six entertainments with tickets purchased individually will cost $6 as against $2 for season ticket covering all of them.

SWAT THE FLY

"Swat the fly, and swat it now," is the familiar but timely advice which Dr. F. T. Underhill, city medical health officer, of Vancouver, hands out, and which he asserts is especially applicable to the first few weeks of warm weather which we are experiencing.

"Every fly successfully swatted now means at least one million less flies by next August, and every million less flies during the hot summer months means a consequent great decrease in the common types of illness and a million less chances for conagion," he says. So swat the fly.

A Vancouver paper says that Hon. J. D. McLean, provincial secretary, has voiced the opinion that Kamloops is the most moral city in the province. What about Princeton?

The Chautauqua was originated by Bishop Vincent at Chautauqua Lake, in New York state, not many years ago. The movement has grown to such an extent that there is now hardly a small town in the country which does not have a course of Chautauqua lectures and entertainments during the year.

Serbian Tamburica Players On Last Day of Princeton Chautauqua

One of the most unique musical instruments known in Canada today is the Tamburica. This is the national instrument of the Serbians, but it can only be played properly by those who are thoroughly acquainteed with the insricacies of the strings, and the softness of the twangs. There is only one Tamburica orchestra on the American continent, and this is the one that Chautauqua brings to the people of British Columbia.

Dressed in gaily hued colors of the Serbian national costume, the orchestra put their entire heart and soul into the stirring music they play. When they give the historical selections from their home land, together wth the compositions of the newer world, the Serbians master beyond compare the hitherto unknown possibilities of the Tamburica as a musical instrument in this country, and they have rightly earned for themselves the name of the "Minstrels of the Balkans."

Every attendant at Chautauqua will readily admit tat the Serbians are clever musicians. They will quickly climb into the good graces of those who attend, and everyone should hear them, both afternoon and evening, when they appear.

LOSS from paint-neglect is vastly greater than the cost of paint-protection. But it is to be noted also that the real cost of using ordinary paint—however cheap it may be—is vastly greater than that of painting with a pure and durable paint such as

B-H "ENGLISH" PAINT
70% Pure White Lead (Brandram's Genuine B.B.)
30% Pure White Zinc
100% Pure Paint

If you would avoid constant repainting—if you would have the paint that has maximum covering-capacity, investigate the cause of the high reputation attained by B-H. You'll find that the favor in which it is held by so many experienced painters is due to a truly remarkable degree of purity—a purity attained by using such ingredients as the famous Brandram's Genuine B.B. White Lead—together with pure zinc and the purest linseed we know how to make in our own splendidly-equipped mills. Your investigation will result in a trial of this brand—and that trial will make you a confirmed adherent of this paint that goes so far and that lasts so long. Its fine, smooth surface never cracks or peels—the tough, air-tight coat it gives affords the surest kind of surface-protection against time and weather.

Early next week a construction gang will commence operations and material has been coming in for some time.

LEGENDS AND TALES OF THE OKANAGAN

QUEEN SCOMALT

The legend of Queen Scomalt and her kingdom of the happy isle is the attempt of the aborigines of the Pacific Coast to explain their origin. Like all such legends, it is pathetically mingled with the origin of evil and human suffering. Even the darkness of their skin seems to have been as an evil to them. It was as the brand of Cain upon their race, for, according to the legend, their race was originally white. Christian teaching obliterated this legend among the Indians; but it is well worth quoting. Alexander Ross discovered the legend during his long sojourn with the Okanagan Indians. It may be re-interpreted thus:

Far in the dim distance of dateless time,
When the sun
No bigger than a gleaming star
Gave his scant light to the rolling deep,
An island
Lay restless on the waters.
This the isle of white men—
Their stature huge
As the mighty trees that rooted to the soil
Raised their ample limbs in supplication
To the gods.
Their mates with wealth of beauty and of love
Gave them all that life could yield of joy.
Their children
Played upon the sand
And chased the waves upon the sounding beach.
The cup of life was full and brimming o'er.
No dread disease e'er came to take the young,
No sin
To soil the souls of those whose lives
Were filled with strength and beauty.
E'en death no grief or terror held;
Only the old and weary in his arms he took
And they
Were tired and glad to go
At the close of a long day,
Enshrouded in the unrevealing dark.
Beauty was their queen;
She reigned with loving hand
And led her people to the wells of joy each day.
Tomorrow held no terrors;
Today was all in all and all complete.
No freedom here;
The bond of love held fast.
No need for Freedom where the bonds so sweet.
Queen Scomalt
At break of day arose and to the wind her tresses gave
E'er in the churning foam she plunged,
And like an arrow white
Sped outward to the swinging deep.
Refreshened she to her people went and stood
While they their homage gave.
Her radiant form all eyes in wonder held.
And nothing in the world else was seen.
In rhythm with the pounding waves her body swayed.
Her people with her worshipping until
They seemed like moving billows of the sea,
Chanting in tune with the far outer deep.
The children worshipped too,
The babes in their swaying mothers' arms.
Their morning song now ended,
To the chalice of the Hills led by their Queen
All wend their way.
In the hollow of the hill the rain is held
A lovely lake
Of a sudden lies cool and still before them.
A mighty rock dank with dews of night
From the mirror lake arises
Dark against the faintly silvering blue.
By rocky steps Queen Scomalt
To this her rocky throne ascends.
Her people along the pebbly marge in patience stand,
And as the Queen above appears they raise
Long hands in supplication to the Sun.
He in answer, smiling from the sea,
Kisses the radiant form upon the rock
And she her beauteous arms extends to his embrace.
At this the people stoop and drink and are refreshed.
To their labors then they gladly turn
And do with beauty what their duty tells.
Such their days.
Their came a day, an evil day,
When into their lives
Jealousy and Envy crept.
Some they wooed and won.
But the Queen, marshalling the unbeguiled,
Drove the fallen to the farthest corner of the isle
And calling the vast ocean to her aid
Broke the rock adrift.
Long days and nights the mournful isle
Drove towards the rising sun.
The long fingers of the waves
Clawed upon the rock
And snatched the wretches one by one
Into the unfathomable dungeons of the deep.
Two alone were spared—
They man and wife,
Their beauty dimmed by darkening sun.
On the far shore unknown, alone they lay
As angels from the Empyrean hurled.
Life stirred within and to the woods and streams
Of this new land they crept
To conquer or to die.
From then a race of hunters sprang,
But doomed to wear the mark of wrath—
A darkened skin—theirs until
O'er joyous waves the phantom fragment
Bears them to the beauteous isle.

JAMES GORDON,
—in the Kelowna Courier.

Keremeos, May 4.—Mr. E. Mills had a fall from a scaffold while carrying out some carpenter work and is confined to his home, having a serious cut on his chin and injuries to his lips.

Every Way You Look At It
The Investment Is Sound

IT would be an easy matter for the directors of the Penticton Development & Exploration Co., Ltd., to send their agent into any one of the Coast cities and dispose of the entire allotment of shares now offered to the people of the district. In fact requests have already been received for stock from outside sources. But it is the desire of the promoters of the Company to make it primarily a local concern, owned and operated by men living in the immediate vicinity of the mine. They are so certain of the soundness of the investment that every means of placing the stock in the hands of residents of the district will be exhausted before outside help is invited.

This is not a case of working in the dark. The mine has already been proved—the ore is here in sufficient quantity to make its recovery a money-making proposition, and investment in the stock of the Company at the present market value of $1.00 per share should net the purchaser a substantial return.

Send for a copy of the prospectus, together with maps and actual photographs of the mine property, and read the straightforward story of the history of the Development Company from its inception. There are no wild claims or promises made--it's a simple, truthful statement by men who have the welfare of the Company at heart.

ROAD IMPROVEMENTS FOR CAWSTON DISTRICT

Work To Be Done Outlined At Board of Trade Meeting In Live Community

Cawston, April 30.—The usual meeting of the Board of Trade was held in the school house last night, Mr. R. B. Sheridan presiding. The committee (otherwise known as the Cawston Amusement company) appointed by the Board of Trade for the purpose of raising funds by means of three entertainments for the erection of a community hall, presented their report having carried out the duties required of them. The convener of the committee, Mr. T. Swan, gave a brief outline of the work the committee had done, and the secretary-treasurer, Mr. R. L. Cawston, Jr., presented the financial statement which showed a balance on hand of $383.65. This report was adopted and the committee was accorded a hearty vote of thanks for the work they had done. A committee consisting of Messrs. C. Tickel, L. V. Newton, F. McDonald and F. M. Wright, was appointed to look after the matter of raising funds during the summer season and maintaining the interest now felt in the matter of building a hall. This committee was also asked to make arrangements to hold a community gathering at an early date for the purpose of making all the newly arrived settlers acquainted with each other and the older residents, and also to discuss plans regarding the size and character of the community hall.

Mr. F. M. Wright on behalf of the roads committee reported that the district superintendent and the district engineer had recently met with the roads committee and examined the work desired in the neighborhood. The wooden syphon near Mr. Sheridan's residence would be replaced by a concrete one and the bad mudhole filled. The road would also be built up near Mr. MacKenzie's house. The bad place in the road near Mrs. Blinco's house could not be improved until the flume along that road was changed from off the road allowance onto the lots adjoining. The main road from the bench to the town would be raised over, more dirt put on and rolled to make it more solid. The crossing near the cannery would be left until arrangements could be made to straighten the main road. Roads would be opened to Mr. J. Martin's and Mr. Olson's farms and Mr. Sylvester would also be given an outlet. In connection with the road to Mr. McKay's land in the meadow nothing could be done by the government at present. The engineer suggested that the land company do some temporary work on this road so as to make an outlet for land owners in the meadow. This matter was left in the hands of the road committee with a recommendation that they write to the land company in connection therewith. The road committee was also asked to see what steps could be taken toward the naming of the various roads.

It was unanimously agreed to affiliate with the Associated Boards of Trade of British Columbia.

Nurse Grey, of Keremeos, wrote suggesting the advisability of action being taken to get a dentist to visit Cawston and carry out some much needed work among the school children. Mr. L. V. Newton was asked to attend to this matter as he had offered the use of a room at the store for the purpose of the dentist's visit.

VALUABLE CROPS TO BE RAISED ON SUNNY GLEN LANDS

Many Acres of Potatoes, Corn, Tomatoes, Alfalfa and Small Grains

Cawston, April 29.—Valuable crops will be raised on the Sunny Glen Fruit Growers Association's lands during the coming season if the present plans are carried into effect. It is proposed to raise 15 acres of potatoes, ten acres of corn (of which about one half will be for seed purposes) and five acres of tomatoes. The balance of the land under cultivation, about 25 acres, will be sown to various small grains. Alfalfa will be sown on ten acres with grain as a cover crop. Vetches are to be tried experimentally and sufficient mangel stecklings will be raised for planting five acres next year to raise mangel seed.

The Rogers lots, opposite to Mr. McDonald's, have been purchased by Mr. McIntosh and will be developed during the season.

The balance of the Hanna lots, not yet under cultivation, laying next to Mr. Benglor's property, will be plowed and prepared for crops as will also the lots owned by Messrs. Campbell and McNab, located adjoining Mr. G. V. Stebbens' property.

TO PREVENT FLOODING

Keremeos Creek Bed To Be Cleaned Out, Says Mr. Fraser

Cawston, My 3.—Mr. Finlay Fraser, government road superintendent for this district, stated in the course of an interview on Saturday that steps were being taken to clean out the course of the Keremeos creek so that the water could flow without interruption past Mr. Samuel Manery's property, under the Great Northern railway company's trestle bridge and out to the river. This work has been rendered necessary in order to prevent flooding during high water along the route previously taken by the old irrigation ditch which leads out of the Keremeos creek.

Asked if anything was to be done to prevent flooding from the Daly slough in case of extra high water. Mr. Fraser said that nothing could be done at present as there was no right of way for the return of this water to the river.

He also stated that the government's appropriation for road work in his riding amounted to $43,600 for the ensuing year.

EXTENDING SPUR TRACK

Cawston Depot To Be Erected at a Cost of $2,000

Keremeos, May 1.—Mr. T. F. Dixon, superintendent of the Great Northern railway, stated in the course of an interview yesterday, that the material for the spur track at Cawston has been laid on he ground. The grading has been completed and the steel will be laid during the coming week. Mr. Dixon stated that the new depot would cost $2,000. He pointed out that this sum would erect a comfortable, convenient building of ample dimensions for the present requirements. Work will commence in from two to three weeks, by which time all the material will be assembled.

Regarding the daily train service, Mr. Dixon stated that arrangements were being made to have a train go up to Princeton one day and return the following day. This would be a more convenient service during the fruit season than that at present existing as all cars could be moved as soon as loaded. It would not be feasible at present, he said, to have the train go up and back each day owing to the time limit law.

A Correction

Keremeos, April 30.—Mr. R. C. Clarke, of Keremeos, who recently imported a number of pure bred jacks for the purpose of introduting mules into this district, wishes us to contradict an article which appeared in our columns about two weeks ago. Mr. Clarke informs us that Mr. H. W. Doyle is neither the breeder nor the importer of these animals. We are glad to make this correction as it is not our desire that there should be any misunderstanding in the matter. The article in which the mistake occurred was contributed from an outside source.

MASQUERADE BALL ON MOUNTAIN TOP

Dancers Leave Green Valley And Ride Up To Hedley Mine For Pleasant Time

Hedley, May 1.—A masquerade ball of unusual brilliancy was held last night in the spacious dining hall at the mine, and the whole night was put in at dancing by some seventy-five or eighty couples. Cars containing dancers from Princeton, Allenby, Keremeos, etc., arrived during the afternoon and early in the evening and the skips were busy between seven and eight o'clock. At the top of the gravity car line two freight cars, fitted with seats were waiting and about forty rode up to the mine in them and on the locomotive. The visitors from Princeton and Allenby greatly enjoyed this trip going from the green valley up into two feet of snow which had newly fallen at the mine. The skips commenced running again in the morning between six and seven o'clock for the accommodation of the visitors. There was a splendid variety of costumes and the scene in the prettily decorated and brightly lit ball room was a pleasing one.

Excellent music was rendered by the Allenby orchestra. The lady residents on the hill and the Hedley Gold Mining company donated an appetizing supper which was daintily served at midnight, after which items were rendered by Miss Pickthall, of Allenby, Mr. E. Scranlon, and Mrs. Meher. Mr. McKay also gave a recitation. All these contributions to the night's enjoyment received well deserved applause. Breakfast was served about six a. m. Mr. Floyd Turner ably acted as floor manager.

Handsome prizes for costumes were donated by Messrs. T. H. Rotherham, Jas. Stewart, R. E. Baxter, Bruce Rolls and the Miners' Union. The difficulty of selecting the winners was a serious one, competition being very keen. Mrs. Charles Stewart was awarded the prize for the best ladies' fancy dress costume. She wore an excellent and costly Highland dress. Attired as a cobweb, Mrs. T. Andrews of the mine, gained the prize for the best ladies' comic costume. Mr. H. E. Wenerstorm, of Allenby, was adjudged to have the best gentleman's fancy dress costume, he being dressed as a chinaman, and the best gentleman's comic costume prize fell to the lot of Mr. W. Phillips, of the mine, who was disguised as a prospector.

Dispenses Sparkling Wit and Humor

Dr. J. A. Armand

Dr. J. A. Armand, the Parisian raconteur, and perhaps one of the best known European humorists, who appears on the British Columbia Chautauqua circuit is not always as humorous as he will be when visiting the Pacific coast province. He is a past master in psychology and in the peculiarities and genius of the various nations of the earth among whom he has widely traveled during the past 20 years.

The reminiscences of his career must be intensely interesting and fascinating, for he is old enough to remember many events of the Franco-Prussian war and the seige of Paris in 1870. In his early days he followed the courses of the Paris University for the purpose of becoming a medical practitioner, but his learnings were always towards the science of psychology of which he became eventually an eminent exponent specialist and lecturer.

British Columbia, however, will see Dr. Armand as he really is, a happy man, full of concentrated energy and humor fairly in the extreme, jocular and impressive, and Chautauqua audiences will not soon forget this modern French humorist.

There was a time when Prof. Armand lectured in what we might call "deep" subjects, among them being Psycho Therapeutics, telepathy and subconscious impression, and the power of mental heeling, but these lectures were given before scientific institutions in the old land.

Dr. Armand has been nick-named "The Apostle of Cheerfulness," as he never fails to tell his audiences that the key to success, good health and happiness consists in looking upon the bright side of things and in keeping, under all circumstances, a cheerful mental attitude.

PRESIDENT BEATTY ON Y. M. C. A. WORK.

In a foreword to an attractive little pamphlet issued by the Railway Y.M.C.A. of Canada, Mr. E. W. Beatty, President of the C.P.R., pays a tribute to the work of this association.

"The high value of the work," says Mr. Beatty, "of the Young Men's Christian Association in the interests of men and boys has come to be generally and properly recognized, particularly on account of its efforts and accomplishments on behalf of our soldiers during the recent world war.

"Among the various spheres of the Association's activities not the least valuable is the work of the Railway Branches which minister to the intellectual, the social, the moral and the physical needs of railway men irrespective of race or creed.

"The inception of this work on the Canadian Pacific Railway dates back to 1906 when the building at Revelstoke, B.C., was erected, and so well satisfied were the Company's officers with the experiment tried there that 9 additional branch associations have since been established. These provide home surroundings and comforts for men in train service when away from home and to many employees located at outlying points they afford the only home facilities that are available to them.

"It is not only that good meals and clean beds and baths are provided, but the educational advantages, the recreational facilities and the opportunities for social intercourse amidst wholesome surroundings must necessarily contribute to the well being of the men and benefit the community in which they live, and the Company with which they are employed.

"The eminently satisfactory results of this work on the Canadian Pacific lines in the past for which I desire to express my admiration and appreciation, have without doubt been achieved through the earnest and cordial co-operation of the Company's employees with the Association's officers and staffs, and with the continuance of their united efforts the future success of the work can, I feel sure, be confidently entrusted to them."

The Railway Y.M.C.A. provided 140,000 beds to railway men and served 328,000 meals in 1919. Its buildings are valued at $580,000.

THE FRISKY FORDS

Sweet spring has come. The little Fords all from their holes crawl, out,

And honk and rip and snort around and galy skip about,

They skitter here, they scuttle there, and in their innocence

They knock down some old gentlman or climb up on a fence.

Ah, little Fords! When you were made With so much skill and pains

How sad that Henry couldn't find a way to give you brains!

—Tennyson J. Draft.

A plain or garden variety of metal button hook is a handy thing to keep in the tool kit. It has a number of uses, among which are the fishing but of small parts that fall into inl accessible places and the pulling out of cotter pins. For this latter service it is the best tool one could use, for its hook seems to be made for the purpose of catching hold of the loop-end of the cotter pin.—Motor Life.

In 1915, 50 cars were exported; in 1916, 68 cars; in 1917, 96 cars; in 1918, 176 cars; and in 1919, 150 carloads left the province.

Victoria, B. C.—Canadian Holstein cattle are highly regarded in Australia, according to H. A. Simmons, who recently delivered a small herd of these cattle there. He claims that the Holsteins bred in the Antipodes are not as good as the Canadian bred stock and is making preparations to assemble another herd for export.

Regina, Sask.—More settlers are coming into Saskatchewan from the United States this spring than at any time since the outbreak of the war, according to figures which have been received by local C.P.R. officials. While this influx is considerable, it is said by these same railwaymen to be nothing to what may be expected later in the summer. During the first three weeks of the month twenty settlers arrived here from U. S. points on their way to land they had taken up. Five carloads of settlers' effects were registered at Portal as passing through to points in thi province and twenty-three cars to Alberta points. Settlers are also coming through Kingsgate and Emerson, the traffic at the latter place being particularly heavy and as many as 46 carloads of effects passing through the port of entry in a day.

CANADIAN MILLING INDUSTRY

The Canadian milling industry has, since 1914, made progressive strides and flour exports between that year and 1919 increased nearly five times. Today this business has an annual capacity of slightly more than 35,000,000 barrels a year and new mills are being continually added. In 1890 Canada exported 115,099 barrels of flour valued at $521,383. By 1910 this had increased to 3,064,128 barrels valued at about $15,000,000. In the fiscal year of 1919, 9,196,806 barrels were milled at a value of $99,836,696.

Great Britain has been by far, Canada's best customer for flour, her imports from the Dominion of this commodity, for the last fiscal year, being equal to about 60 per cent. of the total, or $56,000,000 out of nearly $100,000,000.

Exports by countries for the last year were as follows:—Great Britain $56,270,225; United States $99,794; British South Africa $17,309; Newfoundland $34,147,527; British West Indies $6,329,527; Other countries $34,147,750.

The Trade returns for the present fiscal year show that, as yet, the exports of flour are holding their own, though the European countries are again engaged in grain growing and milling. In the last available period of five months 4,928,164 barrels of flour were exported, as compared with 4,461,313 in the same period in 1918. Of these 3,912,405 barrels went to the United Kingdom; 38,423 to British Guiana; 146,596 to the British West Indies, 297,845 to France; 100,182 to Greece; 55,735 to Italy; 73,109 to Newfoundland; and 228,084 barrels to other countries. Great Britain took a little more than 1,000,000 more barrels than she did during the same period in 1918, and 1,700,000 more than in 1917. Other departments of the milling industry loom large also, as the following figures show: oatmeal $4,032.567; cereals $4,247,249; bran, etc., $1,592,212.

Whilst on account of the change of conditions in Europe, the export trade may fall off considerably, the Canadian milling industry by reason of the activity produced during the war, is in a very strong position and should be able to hold its own in the period of competition which is undoubtedly ahead.
