Allenby Team Now League Leaders

LAST NIGHT'S DEFEAT FORCED PRINCETON INTO THIRD PLACE —COPPER MOUNTAIN STANDS SECOND

With only one game separating the leaders and the tail-enders as the schedule nears the end of the first half, the hockey season in the Similkameen Valley League is away to a very interesting start and there promises to be entretainment aplenty before the finish of the season. Tomorrow night's game, Princeton at Allenby, will mark the finish of the first half of the schedule. Should Princeton win, the series will be tied up, with three wins and three losses for each team.

Copper Mountain, winner of the pennant two years ago, is making a strong bid for it again this year. Not content with the strength added to their line-up by the importation of O'Grady, Hogg and Sweet, they have registered two more outsiders. Thompson and Sandy, who will be eligible to play on and after Feb. 6th. This will give them a complete new line-up outside of their goal-keeper.

Following is the standing of the teams at present, the goals scored by and against each team, and the unplayed schedule.

Allenby 1; Copper Mt. 0

Last Friday evening's hockey game, scheduled "Copper Mt. at Allenby," was played on Princeton ice. The decision to switch the battle ground to here was reached only at the last moment, after the players and fans, including the usual large quota from Princeton, had assembled at the Allenby rink in readiness for the game.

The change was made on account of the condition of the Allenby ice. An attempt made by the caretaker to smooth out a few humps near the centre of the rink met with a result that was not satisfactory. The weather was not sufficiently cold to form new ice to restore the disturbed surface.

When the belated decision to play here was reached, there was a merry scramble of players and fans. Within a few minutes a procession of Princeton cars and trucks was making the return trip to town, and accompanying it were the Copper Mt. cars and such of the Allenby fans as could arrange transportation on such short notice.

Financially, the Allenby Club suffered little, if any, as the collection taken up at the Princeton rink for its benefit just about offset the average receipts at their home games. Had notice of the game been given a couple of hours ahead, a much better gate would have been assured, as many Princeton fans did not hear about the game until it was over. The ice, also was not in the best condition having been used for the usual evening's skating.

Jack Cadden, captain of the Princeton team, again officiated as referee and started the game going at 9.15. His supervision of the play, if at times a little lax, proved quite acceptable to both competing teams. During the opening period he found no occasion to inflict a penalty. Though the checking was close and hard throughout there was no disposition on the part of theplayers to indulge in any rough stuff.

The opposing teams proved to be very evenly matched. Each had developed a system of team play which was pretty to watch. In this respect the work of the Mountain team was perhaps a little more snappy and effective than that of the mill boys, but this was offset largely by the deadly accuracy of the latter (particularly the Carrington brothers) in shooting on goal.

The lone score, which meant victory for the Allenby team, came in the second period after three minutes' play, when Buckle snapped up a rebound from the Copper Mt. goalkeeper and flicked it into the net. Try, as they would, the Mountaineers could not penetrate the millmen's defence for the equalizing goal, neither could the latter strengthen their slim advantage of one goal. During the closing minutes of the play Copper Mountain brought every player but the goal-keper forward to the attack without avail; the winners were content to maintain their slight margin and played a purely defensive game.

It was a disappointing reverse for the Miners, who, with their imported help hitting their stride, were confident of victory.

Copper Mt. 3; Princeton 0

On Monday evening, on their own ice, Copper Mt. applied a 3-ply coat of kalsomine to Princeton—the then league leaders—bringing them down to second place in the league standing, and incidentally advancing Allenby to the leadership. At that the number of goals they secured just evened up for the 7-4 defeat they had sustained in the opening game two weeks previous.

The reversal suffered by the Princeton team is not difficult to account for. Weakened by the absence of Newman on their firing line, and lacking entirely in combination, or team play, their efforts were futile against the splendid team work of the Mountain line-up, recently strengthened by O'Grady, Hogg and Sweet.

Individually, we believe Princeton had the better team. Certainly they had a big share of the play and a decided edge on the number of shots on goal. But the latter were always ineffective and generally from long range.

Copper Mt. secured two goals in the first period on team work by Mills and O'Grady. The second period was scoreless and in the third another goal was added to the count when, following a mix-up behind the Princeton goal, the puck was sent to centre ice and Sweet happened to be in a position to flick it in.

After the game the Princeton boys were well lunched in the big dining room, and supporters, who accompanied the team up, had no reason to complain of the hospitality accorded them by the mining staff. The people there are good sports and good hosts.

In this game Roy Carrington appeared for the first time in the role of referee and acquitted himself very creditably.

Copper Mt. 5; Princeton 1

Five to one was the official score at the game played here last evening with Copper Mt. as the visiting team. But the score is a rank libel on what actually happened.

For the three regulation periods and one extra session of ten minutes' gruelling hockey on heavy ice the home boys held the visitors to 1-1 tie. Then about the middle of the first five minutes of the second extra period, a shot from the right wing hit the Princeton goalie on the body pad and ricochetted into the net. It was the beginning of a horrible ending to a good game—for the home team.

Bringing all their forces to bear in an effort to secure the equalizing goal they left their own goal unguarded, with the result that the visitors rushed in another 3 counters during the last five minutes.

The keenness with which the game was contested led to two pairs of opposing players losing their tempers and drawing penalties for mixing in personal combat. Apart from this the game was up to the usual standard for clean play, and Roy Carrington of Allenby again acquitted himself creditably as referee.

The management of the Copper Mt. team successfully carried through their arrangements for the special train. This arrived promptly on time, and by running out to the crossing near W. Thomas' ranch, deposited the large crowd of fans within easy reach of the skating rink.

The total attendance at last evening's game far exceeded that of any previous game.

Will Run Train Again Saturday Night

Arrangements have been completed to play the postponed game of Jan. 11 here on Saturday night next, and the management of the Copper Mt. team are again arranging for the same train service as last evening.

Pucklets

After the hockey season is over, how about arranging a prize fight in which hockey players, so disposed, would be eligible to enter. We are all for keeping the two sports separate.

Princeton requires a hockey coach and a caretaker for the rink. How about securing a man who could handle the two jobs and pay him for full time?

Princeton appreciates the action of Copper Mt. in arranging for special trains for their games here and will doubtless reciprocate at the next return game unless the roads are in good condition for motoring.

Last evening's game was a good one to win but a hard one to lose.

Well! We have the assurance of the Allenby fans that if Allenby doesn't win the pennant this season, they hope Princeton does. Ditto from Copper Mt.

It would vastly improve the game for fans and players alike at Copper Mt. if the management could arrange to put shades on their lights.

Copper Mt. has it all over us when it comes to ringing in players and the Mountaineers are playing their advantage. At that we have the material, if we can only get it working.

COALMONT NEWS

William L. Matheson returned from Vancouver on Saturday, Jan. 14th, looking and feeling better from the three weeks' rest.

There was a splendid attendance at the dance held in the Coalmont Hotel on Saturday, Jan. 14th. The dance was under the auspices of the local branch of the Canadian Legion, who have been asked to run these dances regularly. Commencing February 11th, it is expected that the Legion will run a dance every two weeks. The Blakeburn Orchestra supplied the music, and it is hoped that their services will be available for the future dances.

* * * *

A meeting of the Canadian Legion, Coalmont Branch No. 80 was held on the evening of Jan. 14th. Officers were elected for the year as follows: Honorary president, George Murray; president, C. R. Malcolm; first vice-president, J. C. H. Davies; second vice-president, Wm. Richardson; secretary,treasurer, John Lochhead.

* * * *

Miss Mabel McKay arrived on Saturday to spend a week's holiday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McKay. Mabel is on the staff of the B.C. Telephone Co. in Vancouver.

* * * *

James McKiernan is spending a week or two at his home in Vancouver.

* * * *

Two real estate deals of considerable importance were put through last week, Mr. D. P. ("Jerry") Brown being the purchaser in both cases. He purchased the two lots on the main corner in town next to the Cook Estate store, from the Canadian Bank of Commerce. He also purchased the property adjoining the Chinese laundry to the corner which formerly belonged to Danny Deane.

A very enjoyable whist drive and dance was held under the auspices of the Coalmont Girls' Glee Club in the bungalow on Friday evening. There was a good turnout, the following being the prize winners: ladies' first prize, Miss Mildred Hayes; gent's first, Allan Matheson; ladies' consolation, Mrs. Wm. Barton; gent's consolation, Wm. Oxley. The music for the dance was supplied by George Sills and Joe Vickers. The girls served a very dainty supper and the gathering broke up shortly after midnight. It is hoped that these affairs will be run every two weeks, but in the meantime the girls are figuring on holding a whist drive and dance on the third Friday in each month.

* * * *

On Saturday evening Miss Flo Mearnes was the host to a large gathering of the younger people at the Coalmont Hotel. Whist followed by dancing was indulged in. Those from outside points invited included the Misses Baxter, Steele, Mufford and Thompson and Mr. Eric Mallet Paret from Princeton, Wilfred Bryden and Wm. McKinnon from Blakeburn.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Prendergast returned from a week's visit to Vancouver on Tuesday morning.

* * * *

Mrs. Wesley Rossiter left on Tuesday for Vancouver.

* * * *

The Coalmont Gun Club has applied to the game board for an appropriation to cover the cost of several tons of hay to be distributed along the adjacent hillsides, for the benefit of the large number of deer wintering here. Owing to the fact that a larger number of deer have been compelled to winter here than usual feed has become very scarce and some of the animals have been reported to be in very poor condition, they have been eating sacks and similar diet right in town.

* * * *

Mrs. Ray Wanless and Mrs Irwin sr. of Princeton are staying at the home of Mrs. Wesley Rossiter during her absence at the coast.

* * *

Mrs. A. M. Stewart of Vancouver, who, as Miss Dixey, used to be our assistant postmaster here, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Lloyd. Andy is spending a few days at the coast.

* * * *

A meeting of the ladies of the community was held at the home of Mrs. Wesley Rossiter on Monday afternoon for the purpose of forming a Women's Guild. The Rev. A. J. Williams, Mrs. A. J. Williams, Mrs. E. W. Cook, and Mrs. Irwin, sr., came up from Princeton to give the Coalmont ladies the benefit of their experience in forming their Guild. It was decided to form a Women's Guild open to all ladies of the district. The following officers were elected: president, Mrs. C. R. Malcolm; vice-president, Mrs. Wesley Rossiter; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. James Smart. These officers chose Mrs. Wm. Barton and Mrs. Robt. Simpson as additional members of the executive committee. Following the organization meeting tea was served by Mrs. Rossiter. The next regular meeting will be held at 2.30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. C. R. Malcolm, above the Royal bank, when it is hoped that there will be as large an attendance of the ladies of the community as possible. Many did not know of the last meeting or did not understand that the work of the guild will be for the benefit of the community at large and membership is no confined to any one religious body.

Princeton Paragraphs

Mrs. R. E. Baxter of Hedley is the guest of her sister, Mrs. C. R. Watson.

Annual meeting of the Princeton board of trade Monday evening.

There were 370 paid admissions at last night's hockey game here.

This evening. Burns' anniversary entertainment by local talent at the Princess Theatre.

Mrs. O'Grady and little son arrived from Bellevue, Alta., yesterday and have joined Mr. O'Grady at Copper Mt.

A number of Scotchmen from here intend taking in the Burns' anniversary celebration at Blakeburn on Saturday evening.

Dr. M. D. McEwen of Hedley is at present a patient in the Princeton Hospital. His many friends throughout the valley will all join in wishing him a speedy recovery.

Hockey games for the coming week are: Princeton at Allenby, Friday night; Copper Mt. at Princeton, Saturday night; Allenby at Copper Mt., Monday night; Allenby at Princeton, Wednesday night.

A public meeting has been called for Tuesday evening next in the Parish Hall for the purpose of taking up with a representative of the B.C. Public Survey the question of a circulating library for Princeton.

Mrs. R. H. Carmichael and son Harvey are spending a couple of days in Princeton, guests at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Butler.

Mrs. Kirby of Keremeos was in town on Monday on her way home after spending a month at the home of her son at Seattle, and visiting other coast points. She announces her intention of immediately re-opening the hotel at Keremeos.

Constable J. P. Brown returned during the week from Victoria, where he attended the double funeral service of his grandfather and grandmother, whose deaths occurred within 48 hours of each other.

Provincial Constable Charley Martin was down from Coalmont Tuesday. He reports the deer as being very plentiful this winter in the vicinity of the Roaney mining camp, one of their favorite winter haunts. They appear, he says, to be faring very poorly on account of the crusted snow and a number of the sportsmen there are figuring on the possibility of inducing the government to provide a quantity of hay to distribute among them. The coyotes also appear to be quite numerous and are believed to be molesting the deer.

BASKETBALL

Basketball which received a knock out early in the season when the blocking of the road down the valley made it impossible to arrange return games with Keremeos, promises to take a place in the spotlight yet before the season is over.

We have the assurance of Road Foreman P. Y. Smith that just as soon as possible the road from here to Hedley will be opened up, and he expects that may be any day now. From Hedley to Keremeos the road is reported to be in good condition.

With the prospects of being able to arrange some matches the Princeton hoopsters held an organization meeting Tuesday evening. Geo. Benzies was appointed manager and Cecil Ritchie captain. Princeton will be able to field men's senior and junior, and a ladies' team. Regular practices are now being held.

"ALL WHITE" CAFE

Mr. and Mrs. James Murdock have purchased the fixtures, acquired a lease on the premises, and assumed the mangement of what has up to the present been known as the Cosy Lunch Cafe, in the new Howse Block.

Mrs. Murdock has had many years' experience purveying to dances and entertainments at her old home in Kelowna, and patrons of the "All White" Cafe are assured of the very best the culinary art can provide in the way of real home cooking.

Last week Mr. and Mrs. Murdock moved their household effects over from Kelowna, and are temporarily occupying rooms adjoining the cafe. When the ice cream season arrives they purpose using the corner office room of the building as an ice cream parlor.

The net revenue from premiums and annuities amounted to $11,482,977, an increase over the previous year of $1,683,603. The net revenue from interest and rents was $2,913,781, which was $325,683 in excess of that for the previous year.

CHINESE NEW YEAR

(By Rev. A. J. Williams, Past of St. Cuthbert's Church of England.)

For a time after the coming of the Republic in China there was an attempt to establish the use of the western calendar but old custom was too strong and the only New Year generally observed by the people is still the old lunar one which brings New Year's Day about a month later than our usualy. It is the greatest holiday in the Chinese year and the time for family reunions and celebrations. No work is done for three days by any who can avoid it while in many cases the holiday goes on for a couple of weeks until the Feast of Lanterns brings it to a close on the fifteenth of the first month. As one walks along the Sabbath-like streets on New Year's Day one meets parties dressed in their best attire going the rounds to pay their respects to the older members of their various families and later in the day one hears the clang of cymbals and sounds of revelry issuing from behind the closed shutters of the merchants' shops. All the previous night firecrackers have been going off and one wonders how the folks can keep so lively with so little sleep. All debts are supposed to be squared up for the half year on New Year's eve so debtors who have been in hiding from their creditors can now issue forth with joy. It does not always pay to issue forth too soon, however, if owing a debt one is not expecting to pay, for oft time a keen creditor who has been trying to round up his bad debts with the aid of a lantern all through the night will continue to carry the lantern round long after daylight on the pretext that it is still dark and debts are still collectable.

New paper mottoes with all sorts of good wishes have been put up on the door jambs and lintels of the houses and new paper gods pasted on the door to keep off evil spirits. On entering the homes of the better class non-Christian families one finds the stick of incense burning before the ancestral spirit-tablets and the bowls of feed set out in order for the entertainment of the spirits of those of the family gone before. In some ways it is not an ignoble thought that the ones who have passed from human sight come back in an especial way at this time of general family reunion and join in the general happiness but it is difficult to believe that ancestor worship as held in China has not been more of a curse than a blessing to that land. It has made the people too averse to change no matter how good the change might be and has enforced carly marriage with its consequent problems of over-population in many districts with unspeakable miseries for hundreds of thousands of little ones.

At Kueiteh itself there is a very special celebration held every Chinese New Year, for just off the southwest corner of the city is the temple of the god of Fire and the grave mound where the god is buried. This mound is considerably bigger than the ordinary grrave mound and possibly marks the resting place of the individual fire into that part of China many centuries ago. The temple itself is built on an artificial mount near by and for three days at New Year's time this place is the scene of tremendous activities. Parties of men and women come from a radius of many miles around carrying banners and letting off firecrackers and playing all manner of music as they draw near the scene of their devotions. A great market is held there at this time where the articles produced by the different home industries are displayed for sale. Wooden combs, thimbles, clothes beaters, like rolling pins, pitchforks with prongs of one piece branching out from the handle, beds, chairs, stools and household goods of all descriptions, canvas money-belts and wallets, spear heads and iron work of many kinds, jade, snuff-boxes and all sorts of ornaments toys for the children of which the most popular seem to be the gaudy little wooden swords and spears, sweet-meats and everything possible in the way of eatables of course, and all these things arranged in rows of booths which leave but narrow lanes between and make it quite an undertaking for one to forge one's way through. Sometimes we have added to the activity of the scene by making the welkin ring with the sound of the gospel cornet and the singing of hymns and never lacked listeners whilst the music went on and one has to take it in good part when interrupted in the midst of one's exhortations by a voice from the crowd requesting more blowing on the cornet. We never found the crowd anything but good natured and happy and just looking for a good time.

It is interesting to follow the worshipper of the god as he comes to pay his respects to the object of his devotion. First comes the visit to the grave and a clod of earth is taken from the neighboring field and carried to the top of the mound where it is deposited, thus keeping it in continual repair from year to year. Then on descending the worshipper kneels before the little stone tablet protruding above the top of the ground and "K'eo t'oes," knocks his head three times on the ground. That is he is supposed to do so, but from what I saw the head does not always make very good contact in these degenerate days. From the grave the way leads to the temple and the worshipper goes up to the steep ascent on the one side, throws his bundle of incense into the great iron pot burning before the idol and then goes on down the descent on the other side. He then can enjoy himself to his hearts content feeling that he has done his duty by the fire god and it is up to the latter to see that no harm by fire comes to his worshipper's home for the coming year. But with China in the state it is such form of fire insurance is very inadequate and this district as others, has been devastated by fire and sword for many moons now with the prospect of more in the future. It seems tragic that where a people require so little to make them happy that they cannot obtain even this little but perhaps the New Year will bring them better things. In any case we will wish the ordinary decent citizens of China every happiness for the New Year and the best of luck as we wish it for ourselves.

To Resume Shipping From Old Coal Mine

SPOKANE INTERESTS HAVE ACQUIRED AND WILL DEVELOP HOLDINGS OF THE OLD UNITED EMPIRE COAL COMPANY

Interest again centers in what was formerly known as the United Empire Coal Mine located near the old cement plant at East Princeton. The property comprises some 1500 acres of ground extending on both sides of the K.V. railroad, and has been acquired by Spokane interests with Jas. H. Lewis and B. F. Tisley of Spokane at the head.

The new company, incorporated under the laws of the state of Washington is known as the Hunter Creek Coal Company. The name was selected from the creek which passes through the property, locally known as One Mile, but shown on the government map as Hunter Creek. The possibility of confusion with the mine operated here by Chas. Hunter was apparently overlocked at the time.

Mr. Tisley and Mr. Lewis arrived here during the week accompanied by the latter's brother, Jesse L. Lewis, and Andrew Erickson of Coeur d'Alene. The former will remain until the portal of the old workings can be cleared to permit of an inspection. They will then return to Spokane leaving Jesse Lewis and Erickson behind to carry on the work of cleaning out and restoring the old workings.

In the spring a larger force will be put on development work with the object of bringing the mine into a stage of production for next winter.

Some 14 or 15 years ago the mine was brought to the stage of development where it could produce in a limited way, and partially supplied the requirements of the cement plant which operated at East Princeton for a short time. Rail connection was at that time established by the G.N. railway. Some years ago this steel was lifted and more recently the bridge, over which it crossed the river, has been sold and partially dismantled.

The Kettle Valley railway however runs through the property and provides very favorable means for transportation of the coal. Only a short spur would have to be constructed to bring the steel to the mine portal. A tunnel driven in tapped two seams of coal at some five or six hundred feet. These are four and ten feet in thickness. Altogether the old workings comprise about 1500 feet of tunnelling.

MANY INSPECT NEW FORD

There was a constant stream of interested visitors at the display rooms of the Burr Motors Ltd. on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday to view the new model Tudor.

The general consensus of opinion appeared to be that the new machine amply fulfills all the glowing reports that have been received about it in advance, and bookings, aready heavy, promise to keep Mr. Burr, and the Canadian factory, very busy filling all demands.

There were of course those who could see in the aristocratic gas machine with all its triumphs of modern engineering skill, nothing but a "Ford," and, as one lady naively remarked "why you could buy a Chev for very little more."

In order to give visitors from Copper Mt. and Allenby who were in town last evening for the hockey game a chance to view the new model, Mr. Burr succeeded in having it held over here a day longer than announced. Last night, at a late hour, it was shipped to Merritt where it will be on display for the balance of the week.

RICH ORE SPECIMENS FROM SUMMIT CAMP

Alec Robinson is in from the Tulameen country with some fine samples of silver-lead ore. He has a property near Summit Camp, which is at the headwaters of Tulameen River. He is quite enthusiastic of the possibilities of the section lying between the Kettle Valley Railway and the international boundary, along the valley of the Skagit. There is a fine open valley from the pass between Silver Creek, which empties into tre Fraser River near Hope, and the source of the Skagit, but the district on the whole is very mountainous. Different groups of claims have been located throughout the district, but hardly any exploration has taken place on a general scale. Both Dr. Charles Camsell and Dr. Cairnes have discussed this section in geological reports. — Western Canada Mining News.

All too many do. Often its their own fault. When a new Gurney Range would mean so much less work, so much more time for play and . . . better meals they let youth and beauty fade as they toil over old fashioned stoves. Your husband in HIS work probably enjoys every time and labor saving convenience. If you put it up to him in the right way he'll see that you enjoy the leisure and pleasure of a modern Gurney Range. Bring him to see the new Gurney Models tomorrow or today.

Quality BEER

THE QUALITY OF BEER depends, of course, almost entirely upon the MATERIAL that is used in its composition.

The main constituents are MALT, which gives it BODY and CONDITION, and HOPS, which FLAVOR and PRESERVE it.

We are using only the finest CANADIAN MALT and the finest BRITISH COLUMBIA HOPS, blended with the best IMPORTED BOHEMIAN HOPS, thus our BEERS are fine, pure and palatable.

Our storage capacity is very large, which enables us to create in our Beer the qualities of RIPENESS and MATURITY.

We brew and bottle the famous OLD MILWAUKEE LAGER BEER, try it.

For sale at Government Liquor Stores and Beer Parlors.

We invite the public to visit our Brewery Plant, at New Westminster, where they can convince themselves of the truth of our statements.
