Elaborate Program Arranged for Visit Of Lieutenant Governor and His Party

His Honor Randolph Bruce, Miss Helen MacKenzie, Hon. W. A. McKenzie and Mrs. McKenzie Will Be Princeton Guests Saturday and Sunday

The Similkameen's vaunted hospitality will be poured forth abundtantly this week-end when the first citizens of the province will honor the valley of sunshine with their presence. An elaborate program has been prepared for the entertainment of the king's deputy in British Columbia, His Honor R. Randolhp Bruce, lieutenant governor of the province, who will be accompanied by his charming neice, Miss Helen MacKenzie, and by Hon W. A. McKenzie, minister of mines and member for the Similkameen, and and Mrs. McKenzie

Displaying his usual energy and far-sightednens, President W. A. Wagchauser has arranged a function that will undoubtedly rank high in Princeton's history. It will be the first visit of His Honor to Princeton, and no stone has been left unturned to make it a memorable one.

The vice-regal party will arrive from Penticton Saturday, following visits to Kamloops, Merritt, Grand Forks—where they will attend the opening of the airfield today—and motor trips to Oliver and South Okangan points.

They will arrive in Keremeos Saturday morning and will find the beautiful orchard country in all its spring glory. They will, after a short stay, proceed to Hedley, where they will lunch.

They will arrive in Princeton late Saturday afternoon—and so pleased is His Honer with Princeton's preparations that he has extended his stay a full day beyond the original program—and will be our guest until Monday afternoon.

On arrival in Princeton the party will proceed direct to their private car which will bein waiting at the K.V. yards. They will then be the guests of President W. A. Wagenhauser, of the Princeton board of trade, and Mrs. Wagenhauser, at a dinner at their home.

They will proceed shortly after eight o'clock to a public reception and dance which has been arranged in their honor in the Orange Hall and which it is expected will be one of the most colorful events in the history of Princeton. The governor has expressed a desire to shake hands with as many as possible, and will deliver a short address.

Princeton orchestra will be assisted by Blakeburn Pipe Band, and admission will include a free supper at any Princeton cafe.

On Sunday morning the vice-regal party will inspect an assembly of the school children, Boy Scouts, Girl Guides and Great War Veterans at the cenotaph and His Honor will present a medal to Scout Fred Waterman and deliver a short address. It is hoped to have the talented Blakeburn Pipe Band stay over for the occasion.

Following the gathering, His Honor and party will become the guests of Mr. H. C. Smith, manager of the Granby Company, and will lunch with Mr. and Mrs. Smith and visit the company's operations at Allenby and Copper Mt.

His Honor will kick off at the football game between Princeton and Copper Mountain at 3:30 Sunday afternoon, the last official function arranged for him here.

In the afternoon it is hoped to have the party visit the Wilson mine and other places of interest.

A welcome arch will be erected on the Tulameen River bridge entering Princeton, and all citizens, especially business houses on Bridge Street, are asked to decorate with as much bunting and as many flags as possible. Veterans who parade are also asked to wear their decorations.

VISITED YESTERDAY

Princeton had an unofficial and unexpected visit of their Honors yesterday. President Wagenhauser received a telephone message from Mayor G. B. Armstrong of Merritt that the vice-regal party had left for Princeton by auto. The party was met, and directed to their special car, arrangements being made for the provision of the evening meal here.

The party had as their guests Assistant Superindent George Pratt of the Kettle Valley Railway, and F. B. Ward of the Douglas Lake Cattle Co. The car was attached to this morning's eastbound train, bound for Grand Forks.

When President W. A. Wagenhauser and Secretary H. W. R. Moore, representing the board of trade, called on His Honor the latter expressed his appreciation of the program arranged from him. "You people are making us so welcome," he said, "that I am anxious not to miss any of you. Instead of leaving on Sunday I will wire Victoria and arrange to stay over an extra day."

PROMPT ACTION

This colorful event was arranged in a prompt and efficient manner. Last Monday, hearing of His Honor's interior tour, President Wagenhauser wired A. M. D. Fairburn, private secretary to His Honor, inviting the party to stay over here. By Saturday everything was arranged.

MAY 25 to JUNE 1 IS EMPIRE SHOPPING WEEK

"Empire buyers are empire builders; for us the empire begins in Canada," is the slogan for Empire shopping week in Canada, a demonstration to encourage firstly the encouragement of home industries, and secondly a preference for imperial made goods over foreign importations. Empire shopping shopping week has been set for May 25 to June 1, and will be endorsed by Princeton board of trade.

ANTICIPATES GOOD TIME

Merritt, B.C., May 8.—We are going to have a good time in Princeton and are looking forward to our visit on Saturday, stated Hon. Radolph Bruce, lieut.-governor who with his charming niece, Miss Helen MacKenzie, spent Wednesday in Merritt. The lieutenant governor's genial manner, his anecdotes in speech, his irrepressible smile, his keen interest in all he sees assure for the Princeton people an interesting time. He beamed as he was told by the editor of the Merritt Herald of the splendid program Princeton was preparing for his visit and was pleased when told that Mr. W. A. Wagenhauser, president of the Princeton board of trade, had telphoned to say Hon. Mr. Bruce had a happy time ahead of him in Princeton. The lieutenant governor and Miss MacKenzie left tonight, Wednesday, in F. B. Ward's car for Princeton to join his special car for his visit by K.V.R. to Grand Forks. During their stay here, the lieutenant governor and "the first lady of the province" were guests at the famous Douglas Lake Cattle Company's ranch, visited the school, where they asked the principal to declare a half holiday, and inspected the new coal briquetting plant under construction and the Nicola Pine Mills. The lieut. governor was guest of the board of trade at a midday luncheon. All the talks were in light vein and carefree remarks and banter made the luncheon a memorable one.

Enthusiasm in outside points over the visit of His Honor is shown by reports from valley points that all tickets sent have been sold. Only a limited number are available. They may be had from H. W. R. Moore and A. Sorenson.

FORMER GREENWOOD MAN GIVEN BIG APPOINTMENT

C. W. Chesterton, newly appointed district superintendent of British Columbia branches for the Bank of Montreal. As he entered the services of the bank at Rossland in '96, and was later at Vernon, Vancouver, and Greenwood, Mr. Chesterton is well known to many local folk.

PRINCETON BAND HOLDS INITIAL PRACTICE MONDAY

If its first showing may be taken as a criterion, Princeton will not have to be without music for this year's July 1 celebration, and in a very short time the town and district will be treated to some really good band concerts, and will have at its beck and call a band of which it may well be proud.

Nine players and would be players gathered Monday night and produced the first real evidence of a band when the old instruments were dug out and the boys go through the exercises so well that they drifted into a couple of marches a the first time of asking.

Of course the instruments were a little balky after their long rest, and some of the players were a bit rusty, too but with elbow grease to the former and an odd cracked lip to the latter the polish is beginning to come back to both.

A second enthusiastic practice was week. It is planned to arrange to ers added. The toal roll now stands at about 15, with room for more yet. Arrangements have been made to get the instruments repaired, and more instruments will be added soon. Music is also on the way.

The Parish Hall has been engaged for weekly practices which will be held at 7:30 Monday evening. Special classes for beginners are held each Thursday evening at Mr. Gibson's cabin.

Anyone having in their possession instruments formerly used by the Allenby band is asked to turn them in to Eddie Anderson. The subscription list will be go under way this wek. It is planned to arrange to have players placed on shifts so that they can attend band practices regularly.

Practices will be held regularly each Monday evening, G. G. Lyall being named a committee of one to find a suitable hall. Classes for beginners will be held each Thursday evening at Mr. Gibson's cabin. Practices will commence at 7:30.

There is still room for new players. Those with instruments are especially desired, but old players who have no instruments and mere beginners will be welcomed. There is room for a cornet player, a bass player, and a few others.

Further election of officers resulted in the following positions being filled: leader, S. R. Gibson; secretary, Dave Taylor; treasurer, Hy. Foster.

Mr. Gibson taking over his duties, stressed the necessity of constant and regular practice, and felt assured that given this, Princeton District Band would make phenomenal pro-

AMBULANCE CENTER ORGANIZED FOR PRINCETON DISTRICT

Definite organization was effected at a well attended and enthusiastic meeting in the Princeton Hotel Sunday of a local center for the promotion of first aid and mine rescue work in the upper Similkameen Valley.

This year's July 1 celebration will see the first aid competitions a major feature, with teams from the different camps in competition. Instruction will be started at once, and it is hoped to include classes for women and juniors shortly.

John G. Biggs, inspector of mines, was in attendance, and in an address outlined the necessity for such a movement in the Princeton district. The large number of men employed in mining in this section makes the work one of vital necessity. Increasing interest was, he said, being shown in first aid and "safety first" movements in the mining sphere. A little knowledge might save much suffering, or even a life.

The movement is sponsored by the Hon. Minister of Mines, W. A. McKenzie, local member, and his inspector. It is supported by the local mining physicians and by mining officials, and it seems certain that classes will be a popular innovation in Princeton in the fall of the year.

It is intended to provide trophies in the form of silver cups to stimulate competition, while valuable individual prizes will be offered. Teams from Coalmont, Blakeburn, Allenby, Tulameen Copper Mt., Hedley and Merritt are expected to compete.

FRIENDS HONOR LOCAL MANAGER ON DEPARTURE

A banker—but human; that was the worthy tribute paid to H. L. J. Collas, popular manager of the Bank of Montreal, who after four years in Princeton has been transferred to Oak Bay—when a score of friends gathered at a happy function in the dining room of the Tulameen Hotel last night to bid him farewell.

President W. A. Wagenhauser was toastmaster; and that of course made the success of the event a foregone conclusion. But equal tribute must be paid to A. O. Johnson and Mrs. Steele for the really splendid repast they provided; while Charlie Watson as convenor of the affair left nothing undone.

Every member present spoke of Mr. Collas' fine character and his excellent work in Princeton. Congenial, pleasant, fond of children—in short, very human, Mr. Collas was referred to as a real banker, who knew his business but was always willing to stretch a legitimate point. Some men, and some industries here practically owed their position to Mr. Collas. In a position so important he had done much for the development of Princeton. And Angus wouldn't let them forget the golf, nor Wag the women. Mr. Harmon, manager of the Bank of Commerce paid glowing tribute to his "rival." Then Wag told how he took the Prince of Wales for a buggy ride, which is a story worth keeping. J. A. Brown had known Mr. Collas in the second C. M.R.'s. All had their turn—President Wagenhauser, H. W. R. Moore A. S. Black, L. A. Dodd, Elmer Burr, Angus Nicholson, L. Q. Wilson, R. M. Irwin Louis Sherbauer, Dr. R. S. Manson, J. A. Brown, G. C. Kimberley, J. A. McLaughlin, Charles Hunter. But it was left to C. E. Watson to make the most effcetive effort of the evening—because it was climaxed with the gift of a fine wardrobe trunk and club bag.

Mr. Collas heartily thanked his friends for their good wishes. He assured them that even though it meant promotion, he regretted to leave. He considered that in banking the personality of the men with whom the banker had to deal meant much, and he was also sure that a field like Princeton where the future was so assured, made loaning money comparatively easy. In his four and a half years here he had loaned for the bank a very large sum of money: he had lost only $40, when an old man had died. He wished his successor, Mr. V. G. Field, every success. Dave Taylor responded to a toast to his own success.

"Absent friends" were duly toasted, while J. A. McLaughlin voiced the sentiments of the entire gathering when he congratulated the chairman on his work.

Mr. Collas expects to leave Friday. He will relieve at Banff for two weeks after which he will go on to Victoria to manage the branch of the bank at Oak Bay.

LOCAL STUDENTS SUCCESSFUL

Two local students are included among the successful candidates in results of examinations at the University of B.C., announced yesterday. Tom Lindsay, son of W. Lindsay, manager of the Copper Mt. Departmental Store, gained second class honors. Miss Jessie Ewart, daughter of W. B. Ewart, Princeton hardware merchant, also passed. Both are first year students

MOTHER'S DAY

Sunday is mother's day. Wear a flower. Men generaly do not display the emotions they feel. There are things a man just can't express. Those things are beautifuly symbolized in a flower on mother's day. If your mother is alive, wear a red flower—and send her some; a white flower for a mother that is dead.

"Let Mother's Day be a dignified and inspiring tribute to motherhood, the most beautiful relationship in life."

THE "COLUMNS" ARE WONDER AMONG VISITORS

Expeditions From Princeton and Keremeos Visited Interesting But Little Known Formations

Towering pillars of basaltic rock, hurtled, one supposes, from the depths of the earth in the days of the dim and distant past when the earth was young and the hand of God was just framing creation; piled massively one against the other, in perfect formation, standing in place with nothing to hold them save their slight incline, the one against the other, yet apparently the work of a master mason; thousands of them, yet each part of the magnificent structure perfect in itself, a roughly hewn hexagon of hard, grey-white rock; this is a heritage of our wonderful valley of which very little is known.

"The Columns" are a truly rare and remarkable possession, and one which should be exploited from a publicity point of view. There are, it is said, only thre such known deposite in the world; and it is quoted on no less authority than Prof Odlum that of all three, if this were properly uncovered, it would be declared the most perfect. Not a few have, like our own Mr. A. E. Howse, crossed the breadth of Ireland to see the famous Giant's Causeway—declared by people who have seen both to be no more wonderful than our own.

The Columns are quite easily attainable, yet lamentably obscure in the mind of the Similkameen public. In fact one has to make several enquiries almost within their shadow at Keremeos before one can be accurately directed, while it is safe to say that the big proportion of upper valley residents have never heard of them.

Oddly enough however, two expeditions were organized last week, one from Keremeos, one from Princeton, in secutive days, and so enthusiastic are those who went over what they saw that this wonderful phenomena is due to receive considerable attention in the immediate future.

HOW TO GET THERE

The first part of the quest is a drive down to sunny Keremeos—in itself a real treat now that the roadside is green and the orchards are in bloom. One must pass through the town of Keremeos and turn off on the Penticton road. Stopping near the Tweddle ranch—one of the oldest and best in the district—it is well to select picnic site. This is a very simple matter, as beautiful Keremeos Creek, with its grassy slopes paralleling the roadside, is most inviting. There is a well defined trail over the bluffs back of the Tweddle ranch and while there are other ways of reaching the Columns, this is perhaps the best, because most easily followed. Once the bluffs are climbed the columns are discernable to one who has visited them before. The going is easy over rolling sheep-grazing country. From two to two and a half hours should be set aside for the upward journey, though the return trip can be accomplished in a little better than an hour.

Do not attempt to stage an elaborate picnic at the columns. Better take a little water and what food will best sustain and carry most easily. You will enjoy your repast on the creek banks much more when you return.

Princeton Party

Three cars from Princeton made the trip Sunday, and despite flaws in the organization of the event, were highly satisfied with their work. It is said to be about twenty years since an organized visit was paid to the Columns.

School Children Do It

Boys and girls of Principal Gurney's classroom at Keremoes school organized an expedition Saturday afternoon, and attained their objective in spite of many experiences, one of which was to run into a rain storm.

Mr. Jones, a young Yorkshireman, arrived from England this week to work for Mr. Murchy, Allenby.

Looking It Over

[Our own and other people's views.]

WELCOME

His Honor R. Randolph Bruce, representing our ruling monarch, will pay Princeton his first official visit this week-end. He will find a loyal and contented community, striving with the rest of this province over which he has been placed, for a place in the sun. He will find stalwart sons and cheerful daughters, loyal subjects every one.

He will find a progressive community hurtling forward to new prosperity, inspired by a new-born community spirit of the kind that made our empire great.

Princeton and the Similkameen welcome you, Your Honor. Long live the King!

CORRESPONDENCE

News From Jerry

W. A. Wagenhauser, Esq.,
President Board of Trade,
Princeton, B.C.

My Dear Mr. Wagenhauser:—I want to take this opportunity of thanking you for your many kindnesses to me while I was in Princeton, and to congratulate you upon the splendid spirit that your board of trade is showing . There is so much to do in British Columbia and so little being done that it really seems difficult to know where to start. A healthy board of trade spirit is always of value and an asset to any community. Unfortunately, in British Columbia party politics play such an overwhelming part that I have long since come to the conclusion that it is the greatest hindrance to our provincial advancement.

British Columbia has a great future before her and I have no doubt of the value of the party system of government. At the same time, however, it must be recognized that there are a great many things upon which men of all parties can unite for the general well-being of the province.

Let us hope that the brighter the future of British Columbia will bring that day soon, and it is through such men as yourself that the proper kind of a public spirit will come into existence in the province.

I want to congratulate you on your efforts in getting the right kind of a spirit abroad in the Similkameen and Tulameen valleys, a section of British Columbia that appeals to me as having a worth-while future before it. I also want to assure you that I was delighted to make my little contribution to your meeting.

Yours very truly,
G. G. McGEER.

MINING NOTES

Inspect Property

Mr. Gilbert and Mr. Roy, president and secretary respectively of the Princeton Mining & Development Co., are in Prniceton making further inspections of the property, locally known as the Foster mine. It is their plan to resume work and eventually to install a concentrating mill.

* * * *

K. K. Reid and J. W. Irwin, prominent New Westminster men, who are chiefly interested in the deal, were here this week, with Edward Floyd, mining engineer, and engineer for the new company, who has a life experience in coal mining.

Opening of this valuable property, which lies just across the Tulameen River from the center of the town and extends north over the flats and east to the Hunter property, is planned at an early date. The Ashington Coal Company has been formed to undertake this work, and has appointed Mr. Floyd as engineer.

According to Mr. Floyd the deal involves 8,325 acres of coal in clean domestic seams of six to eight feet deep; a clean, domestic coal four per cent better than any domestic coal found on Vancouver Island, and 12 per cent. cleaner. It is estimated there are 59,940,000 tons of recoverable coal, with a virgin value of $14,985,000.00 The life of the mines is estimated at over 100 years and a market for complete production, it is said, has already been found.

These men have many years experience in public life and will give their engineer every encouragement to take an active part in civic development.

In addition to this purchase, the Ashington Coal Company is negotiating for the Lynden coal mine, which, if successful, they will immediately operate in conjunction with the other property.

Arrangements are well ahead to commence operations at an early date and a plant will subsequently be erected to accommodate a large output. Markets for this coal have been established, it is said, as far south as San Francisco, including all cities on and adjacent to the Pacific coast.

Placer Men Busy

J. J. Marks has moved a lot of machinery up the river from Tulameen and expects to instal a lot more this week.

Prospectors and panners are out on the annual pilgrimage for gold. Garnet Sootheran expects to be on the job at his promising platinum holdings at Eagle Creek this week, while Billy Moses went up the river to start his season's work last week. Mr. Bagley has gone to the coast for machinery, and is expected to do extensive work. It is reported that Mr. Stines and colleaques are to establish a camp in Tulameen. It was also stated that Mr. Dornberg would this season resume active work, and would be on the job April 1. There is as yet, however, no sign of activity at his camp.

Certificates Expire May 31st

Prospectors and others concerned are reminded that Free Miners' Certificates expire May 31, and that renewals be made this month at the government office.

P. H. Fraser Here

P. H. Fraser, manager of the S & M Mines, Ltd., came up from Vancouver this week and went out to the property on the Hope summit yesterday.

Trites and Party Here

A. B. Trites and party, well known Vancouver mining men, were in town early this week and went out with Mr. McDougall, now of Olalla, for years a leading figure in Similkameen mining. They were looking over the nickle deposits which Mr. McDougall uncovered recently near Olalla, and also his copper property adjacent to Princeton.

Contractors Visit

W. A. Webb, of Vancouver, who has the contract for the bulk of the output of the Tulameen Valley Coal Mine, was a visitor to Princeton early this week. M. Y. Aivazoff of Vancouver, Greek consul, was also looking over the property, and may become interested.

COALMONT SEEKS BETTER ROAD CONNECTIONS

More dependable railway service, better roads, and encouragement of industry were the chief points expressed by E. V. Lucas, representing Coalmont-Blakeburn board of trade at Friday's banquet. To the newcomer to Coalmont the backward condition of everything was most impressive.

Shippers had difficulty in securing cars—this was one of Mr. Barnes' chief difficulties in his lumber business; roads were bad. While there was a sentiment that the route to Hope and the coast should go through Tulameen territory, generally that section of the valley endorsed the selected route to Hope by the Roche, and were pulling with Princeton for the completion of this link.

But what Coalmont did want, was to have this road made more useful to them when it came. Better connections with Princeton were essential. The present road was not satisfactory, and a proper connection should be made to help in both local and outside sales of Coalmont lumber and coal.

NEW SERCETARY U.F.B.C.

W. E. Chappell of Vernon, it is announced, has accepted the position of secretary of the United Farmers of B.C., made vacant by the resignation of S. R. Gibson, who has taken a government road position. Mr. Chappell is a well known Okanagan grower. F. E. Hardwick of Princeton is president.

Who Is Bucking the Cement Sidewalks for Princeton
When a government official comes in from Victoria to tell us that it will take until August to get material to build a few hundred feet of cement sidewalk, then there must be someone bucking it. If W. A. can't get a more up-to-date assistant than the representative that came in here, he had better apply to the Conservative executive of this town, and get a live wire.

PRINCETON PLAYERS TO HOLD MEDAL TOURNEY SUNDAY

Will Play Off Monthly Spoon and Medal Competition—Friendly Play Enjoyed Last Sunday

The first regular contests for the monthly spoon and medal will be held by Princeton Golf Club this week-end. The male members of the club will be striving for the monthly medal while the ladies will be playing for the spoon.

In both cases match play against par will be the rule, with the ladies having the right to select their own partners.

Friendly Play

There was no regular scheduled competition for the Princeton Golf Club last week-end, and members spent a quiet day in friendly play on the links. Dull weather this week has somewhat reduced the attendance at the links.

Oliver and Osoyoos players recently met in a friendly inter-club contest with Osoyoos club, with the advantage of more intimate knowledge of their own course, succeeded in carrying off most of the honors. Ralph Lewis, playing in his first season, led the entire field.

PENTICTON BEATS SUMMERLAND

In their opening inter-club match of the year, Summerland golfers lost to Penticton on the Summerland links at the end of April by a narrow margin in an interesting competition.

PRINCETON'S NEW TENNIS COURT NOW READY

Princeton's new tennis court has now been put into good shape, and is ready for play. Backward weather is however holding back the real opening of the local tennis season, with players impatient to get under way.

As a result of efficient work, a natty doubles court has been conditioned, well surfaced with ashes, and as the new location—the rink site—is highly central, the court is expected to be in much demand this season.

Start at Penticton

Penticton tennis courts opened informally May 1, when, thanks to the work of an energetic committee, the players found the courts in excellent shape. Anew rubberoid tape will be experienced with on the centre courts this year. The formal opening is set for May 11. The courts are under the mangement of Claude Holden and O. G. Crane.

FOOTBALL TOURS ARE BECOMING MORE POPULAR

Although it is very much to the fore the Welsh footballers' tour is not the only one by a foreign team to Canada this season. Almost as interesting and quite as colorful is that of the Turkish team, which has at last materialized after a year or two of unsuccessful negotiations.

It is known as the Beshiktashi Gymnasium Soccer Club, and makes its home in historic Byzantium. The tour is chiefly the result of efforts of a prominent Turkish merchant recently in Eastern Canada. The Turks are prepared to look after their own expenses, accepting only a percentage of gate receipts.

Another prominent tour fell through, that of the Arsenal Club, a London first league team. This was not encouraged by the Dominion Football Association who hesitated to make two guarantees in a single season.

INVITE PRINCETON ATHLETES

Merritt school athletic officials have extended an invitation to Princeton and Similkameen school athletes to take part in their local meet, but owing to the proximity of the event to the May 24 celebration at Keremeos, it has been found inadvisable to accept this year.

BLAKEBURN'S UNBEATEN RECORD IS SHATTERED

Copper Mt. Draws First Place in Similkameen Football Defeating Coal Miners 1-0 Sunday

Standing

	P	W	D	L	F-A	Pts
Copper Mt.	1	1	0	0	1-0	2

Game Sunday—Copper Mt. at Princeton.

By the margin of a single goal, scored by Scotty Craigen, who is better known as the leading scorer in the hockey league, Copper Mountain drew first blood in the Similkameen Football League and at the same time ended Blakeburn's long supremacy and shattered their proud record of never having been beaten in organized football.

The game, played at Copper Mountain Sunday under almost ideal conditions, made an auspicious opening for the new season, the second of the Similkameen Football League. Vice-president W. A. Wagenhauser of Princeton duly set the season under way when he officially kicked off. He is still, rumor says, nursing a discolored big toe, but the report that the steam shovel was used to fill up the cavity in the football ground is discredited as groundless—which if it had been true, the Copper Mountain club would have been.

Copper Mountain owed their verdict—which was well won—to a superb half back line and a smoothly working front rank which kept the visitors from settling down to their usual long-short passing game at any stage. Copper Mountain held the nap hand most of the way.

The only goal came after about thirty minutes play, and it was Kelly always dangerous, who was chiefly responsible. He barged one of his cross shots from the wing, and Williams, while he stopped the ball was unable to hold it. Craigen was on him in a trice, and volleyed the ball through, though it is claimed that the ball was over the line from Kelly's shot, and came out again.

The first half was superb football but the second saw both teams becoming a little nettled. For the first time in the valley football goal nets were used. There were rumors of a protest over the residential status of Parker, one of Copper Mountain's new men, but no objection was officially lodged.

Teams

Blakeburn—Williams; Miller and McIntosh; Smith, White, and Nesbitt; Craig, McGregor, Lewis, Dixon and Hackwood.

Copper Mt.—Moore; Foster and Thomson; Newton, Slogar and Luxon; Thompson, Wilson, Craigen, Parker and Kelly.

Referee—Jerry Brown.

AT PRINCETON SUNDAY

Princeton's soccer season will open Sunday when the formidable Copper Mountain aggregation who skittled Blakeburn Sunday, and have two victories over Princeton in exhibtion matches to their credit this year, will be visitors. Princeton will field its best team of the year, and at its new strength is expected to give Copper Mountain a real run. The line up will be found on page 8.

Old Tubes Spoil New Tires

USING an old tube may ruin a new tire. Because the rubber in a tube after continued use finally becomes "dead." Then it develops "pinholes," slow leaks, etc., and you are running on a tire that is half-soft. Come in and see our Goodyear Tubes. They're full-bodied, thick-walled, and much more economical because they last longer. Millions of motorists have found them satisfactory. Come in for your size. The prices are right.

For emergency repairs we recommend the famous Goodyear Tube Repair Kit. Three sizes to choose from. Get yours now.

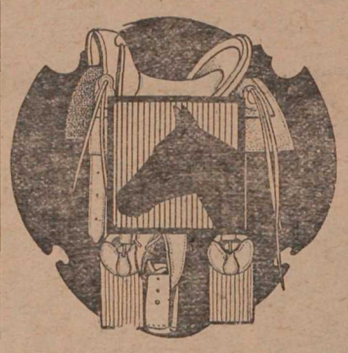
Wets and Drys

(A Romance of the Tulameen)



They were seated around the heater in the Coalmont Community Club room. Most of them were prospectors or miners and also most of them were, Micawber like, waiting for something to turn up. The weather was the topic and from the trend of their conversation one would have thought that the whole of their future depended upon whether the coming summer was going to be wet or dry. The opinions were about fifty-fifty with a margin on the side of the drys. Bill Rowan, a visitor from Granite Creek, was strongly convinced that we are going to have a wet summer.

Said Bill, "It's just such another spring as we had back in the 'eighties' and that year this valley was flooded most o' the summer. Along in the 'nineties' we had another wet summer and it was in that year that the town o' Coalmont began to have its being. Later on when the government was having sidewalks laid, it was considered advisable to have them elevated and that's how come we have the high-up sidewalks at the present day."

"Your ideas about the weather may be all right," said Jim Darby, "but I notice that Foster predicts a dry summer."

"Foster," said Bill with a sneer, 'doesn't know any more about the weather than I know about milking cows and that's nothing to speak of."

"Yea," piped up Little Bobs, "ye may be right at that but I'll bet ye my bottom dollar that if cows gave beer instead o' milk ye would be a first class milker."

"Say, you little banty rooster," exclaimed Bill, "I have heard you shooting your head off about that bottom dollar for the past twenty years. Why don't you buy half a dozen with it and get rid of it?"

"Speaking of cows and sidewalks," said Paddy Murty, "reminds me that I have often wondered how it is that when cows want to lay down and chew their cud they always seem to pick the highest part of the sidewalk. It makes it mighty hard for ould fellows like me to climb down and then climb up again after passing them."

THE O.P. ENTERS

It was during a lull in the conversation after it had drifted from the weather to sidewalks and cows that the Old Prospector dropped in.

The O.P. had walked down from Tulameen with the intention of returning by the afternoon train, a journey which he undertook every once in a while. The ostensible reason for the O.P.'s visit was to say "Hullo" to his old tillicums, but it was generally supposed that there was another one which he carried back in his hip pocket. However, it may as well be admitted that that is the O.P.'s business.

Having appreciatively accepted some liquid refreshment, the old timer was asked to give his opinion about the weather probabilities.

"Well the fact is," said the O.P., "I don't profess to be a weather prognosticator but if I may be allowed to express my opinion I would say it's going to be a dry summer. This spring looks very like a spring that we had thirty years ago and it turned out to be one o' the driest summers on record. Me and Scotty MacLeod were working on a claim up Granite Creek and at the tail end o' July we couldn't get enough water to pan with. Well, one day we happened to be poking around turning up some o' the dry gravel now and then when we accidentally came across the richest bit o' gravel that any of us had ever seen. You can believe me or not, but in a short time we had picked up half a hatful o' nuggets. I was remarking to Scotty that it was too bad that we did not have water to pan with when he seemed to be struck with an idea and telling me he would be back soon he started down the creek towards the village. I had no idea what he had back of his head but as he was usually level-headed I didn't worry very much. In the meantime I passed the time away by turning over the gravel and picking out more nuggets. When Scotty returned I got a big surprise, for he was packing a four and a half gallon keg o' beer on his shoulder. My first thought was that he intended to celebrate, but after we had a few swigs he exclaimed that it was his intention to use beer instead o' water for panning. I looked at Scotty, thinking maybe the finding o' gold had affected his brain but he was quite compos mentis. Well, we brought down a big tub from our shack so as to salvage as much o' the beer as possible and we started in to pan. Now you can believe me or not but in the first pan we got enough gold to buy a dozen kegs o' beer."

At this interesting part of the O.P.'s narrative he heard the whistle of the Kettle Valley train so the old gentleman had to hurry away to save himself from a shank's mare trip to Tulameen. There was an interval of silence after the O.P. had gone forth, which was presently broken by Paddy Murty, who exclaimed. "Did yez hark to the ould windjammer telling us about passing the time away by picking up nuggets? Dang his ould hide I could see them nuggets in me mind and me knowing that the ould divil was drawing on his imagination."

"I was thinking more about the beer than I was about the nuggets," said Bill Rowan. "I had a suspicion that the old gent was handing us a line o' bull but I couldn't help visualizing that keg o' beer—four and a half gallons o' honest to goodness beer being poured into a gold pan and us sitting here with our tongues hanging out. If the old skinflint had set up the drinks we could have stood for his blarney but here we are high and dry and nothing in sight. I don't suppose any of you have the price?" The answer to this was unanimous shaking of heads, so Bill said, "In that case they might as well go home." Which they accordingly did.

INGENIKA COUNTRY OF TREMENDOUS OPPORTUNITY

W. R. Wilson Outlines Potential Possibilities of Coal Area of His Newest Venture

A country with water power facilities equal to those of Niagara Falls, and with coal deposits the most astonishing in the world; with wondrous scenic and tremendous natural wealth was outlined by W. R. Wilson, president of the Wilson interests, referring to the Ingenika, his new field of activities, at the board of trade banquet Friday night.

munity growth and human progress, Co-operation was essential to come he said. This banquet was an outcome of the principle of evolution. There had been in actuality boards of trade since the first civilization, and as civilization progressed men realized more and more that they needed one another's help.

There would be a great example of evolution provided in the Peace River country soon, declared Mr. Wilson, referring to a trip to his Ingenika property just completed. Here through a practically level expanse of plain, ran the Crook River, clear as crystal, Summit Lake and Retliff Lake were gems of beauty. Down the Parsnip River to the forks with the Pembina, and along the Peace to Fort Graham, and the mouth of the Ingenika River, 72 miles; the giant Findlay River, 300 feet wide, entering Findlay Lake; all running through a country of great resources. The altitude of Summit Lake is 2300 feet, of Findlay Lake, 2100 feet, a fall of 200 feet in 125 miles.

This seemed to bear out the theory that the entire Peace country was once an immense lake, draining through Retcliff Lake to the Fraser River.

The traveller proceeds down the Hudson River to Hudson Hope, with a lake at an elevation; into rough country through Findlay Falls Canyon, 700 feet deep, rapids 19 miles long with a fall of 360 feet, providing water power almost equal to that of Niagara Falls. Here a stream of water eight feet deep, running at the rate of 3½ miles per hour, could generate immense power.

Right in this section was found the most wonderful coal field known in the entire world. This was a section of which British Columbians were generally ignorant, yet it was their duty to learn of it.

In travels all over this continent and in South Africa Mr. Wilson said he had never seen a country equal to B.C. in potential possibilities.

In the Ingenika coal deposit the carbon content was 82 per cent; the ash less than 2 per cent. With this coal you could smelt without coking, the only coal known in the world with which this was possible, save for small patches in Pennsylvania.

Here was a wonderful opportunity. The now great Sullivan mine at Kimberley was offered to a company with which Mr. Wilson was connected 11 years ago for $11,000. The manager who is in charge of a plant should assume responsibility, should be awake to such possibilities. All this is a form of evolution. We must be abreast with the times.

The Similkameen is not alone in fostering meetings of this kind. Man was not a creature who could live alone It was a good thing to assemble for the good of the entire Similkameen district, but we should not limit our scope to that. Become provincial in your outlook, urged Mr. Wilson, and you will have provincial influence.

The Paint That Costs The Least

is the Paint that covers the greatest surface—that takes the shortest time to apply—that wears the longest. Martin-Senour "100% Pure" Paint does all three. Here's the proof. "100% Pure" Paint covers 900 square feet of surface per gallon.

Hand-mixed-lead-and-oil, and cheap prepared paints, cover only about 500 square feet.

The greatest cost of painting is for labor. It takes less time to apply Martin-Senour "100% Pure" Paint because its fine, even texture spreads much easier.

MARTIN-SENOUR
"100% PURE" PAINT
(Made in Canada)

is guaranteed to be exactly as represented. The purity of the White Lead and Zinc Oxide—the high quality of the Linseed Oil—the minute fineness of the grinding by powerful machinery—insure a paint that gives years of protection and beauty to your home.

Why use cheap paint—that is expensive to put on—when Martin-Senour "100% Pure" Paint wears nearly twice as long?

At the Theatre

Once more Princeton theatre goers have been disappointed. "Chang" is not to be shown after all. Mrs. Garrison received word only today that the picture is not available. A comedy featuring Harold Lloyd has been substituted. Monday's show is another smuggling romance.

"The Patent Leather Kid," a truly great war drama, will be remembered locally for many a day. It was a really graet picture. "Caught in the Fog" was a thrilling smuggling romance of the high seas.

COUNTY COURT OPENS

Judge J. R. Brown is here today to preside at a regularly scheduled session of the county court, which will convene this afternoon. There are three applications for naturalization and three civil cases.

Sucessful Event at Blakeburn

One of the most successful functions ever held in the camp, was the verdict of the bumper crowd which attended the ice cream social, concert and dance under the auspices of Blakeburn Parent-Teacher Association Saturday night.

There was a good quota of Princeton visitors, with the Three Musketeers' orchestra in fine style. Fancy Blakeburn sitting looking at the snow-capped hills and eating ice cream—and Princeton helping them!

Included in the excellent program were: piano solo, W. Barras; song, Mr. Smith, "A Perfect Day"; dialogue by seven little girls; tambourine dance, Miss Vincent; Highland dance, Miss Vincent; mouth organ selections, Messrs. Hackwood and Bullen; song, "Love's Old Sweet Song," Miss Robertson; violin selection, Mr. Delprato; song, "My Ain Wee Hoose," Miss Vincent; song "Absent," Mr. Smith; conjuring tricks, Mr. Hackwood; song, Miss Robertson; song, Mr. Macdonald.

May Queen Crowned at Keremeos

Keremoes greeted the merry month of May with rejoicing and time honored ceremony Thursday last when the May carnival held in the Victory Hall, proved a conspicuous success.

A gay procession trooped into the hall to open the function. First came little girls, led by Nita Armstrong and Marjorie Mills and in their wake ex-May Queen Mrs. Wilburn Mattice. She was followed by diminutive maids of honor, Norah Mills and Joyce East, each carrying a bouquet. Behind then marched the new queen's page, Evelyn Lintott, who bore the queen's crown on a crimson velvet cushion. Then came Her Majesty herself, Queen Muriel Smith, in a dainty frock of white organdie; the rear being brought up by the Maypole dancers. The procession mounted direct from the floor to the center of the stage, where, with the new queen standing in front of her prettily decorated throne, and her court at attention, the party formed a very pretty group. In a neat speech the ex-queen wished her successor all happiness and joy, and placed the crown on her forehead. Stepping forward, the new queen delivered her "coronaiton" speech, and was seated on her throne.

Then followed the intricate Maypole dance in the center of the hall, exquisitely performed. Great credit is due to the girls, and to Miss Davidson, who so ably trained them. Several much appreciated selections were given by Keremeos new orchestra, comprising Mrs. Liddicoat, Miss Ivy Smith, Messrs. LaBounty, Marsden, Proctor and Echlin.

The "Afflicted Choir" Messrs. Colwell, C. Smith, L. Marsden and L. Innis next poured forth their melody of woe. An attractive gypsy dance was performed by Misses Davidson, Ellice, Parsons, Manery and Newcombe, in full costume.

"The Scheme That Failed," a play with spirit, was the concluding number. It was ably directed by Mrs. Echlin and included in the cast were: Misses Ivy Smith, Lucy Ellice, Thelma Schmock and Audrey Smart; Messrs. Ralph Beck and Ross Innis.

Carleton—Ring

A pretty wedding was solemnized at Keremeos Wednesday morning, May 1, when at the home of the bride's parents, Mary, the fourth daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Ring became the bride of Mr. William Robert Carleton, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Carleton. Both are members of well known Keremeos families.

The ceremony, which took place in the presence of immediate friends of both families, was performed by Rev. T. C. Colwell. The bridal couple stood under an archway decorated with blossoms, and from the center of the arch was suspended a large white wedding bell. The bride, who carried a lovely spray bouquet looked charming in a pretty dress of marrow-glace colored flat crepe, and was attended by two tiny girls, Dorothy Newton (the bride's cousin), dressed in a hand made Belgian dress of yellow organdie; and Juanita Pedy (the bride's neice), who wore a dress of salmon pink organdie. Each carried a dainty basket of flowers.

During the signing of the register Mrs. Innis played "The Flower Song." Following a buffet lunch, the happy couple, amid showers of rice, took their departure for Princeton, and after a honeymoon at the coast will reside in Keremeos. The bride travelled in her wedding dress with coat and hat to match.

HEDLEY NOTES

Spring Is Here

The fruit trees which are, and have been heavily in blossom this year in the vicinity of, and in Hedley, have probably escaped any injury by frosts to date.

The white currant bushes are bearing well, but the regular red ones are more or less sparse with their blooms.

The sweet peas and stock are sprouting well through the ground, tut many of the other garden seeds appear to be somewhat backward.

It is somewhat early to forecast what the raspberries will do as the budding is not apparent at date.

Mrs. Anderton and daughter of Fort William, Ontario, have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Jones over the week-end.

The Rev. Mr. Cameron, an old-timer of Hedley but now of Keremeos, paid the town a short visit recently. For a man of 85 years he may well be proud of his agility. He is looking well and in good health.

A few of our townsmen who have been negligent in obtaining dog licenses have had an extra journey to Keremeos to obtain them.

On Sunday last at Union Church service we had the pleasure to have with us the secretary of the Canadian and Foreign Bible Association of Vancouver, and to learn of some of the wonderful work done by the society. Mrs. R. Carr and Mrs. H. Silvester were appointed to help with the work in our community.

TULAMEEN RIPPLES

A right hearty welcome is extended to all who will visit here this summer. A place where everything reigns supreme; where water's ripples, in fact, everything ripples here—in other words, a second Lake of Killarney.

We can guarantee that after a visit here, you will not want to take to the Pacific waters as a cure-all, nor an insane asylum for a change. And as for sheiks and flappers, why that is a thing of the past. No good wife need be scared she will lose her spouse and become a dependent for keeps. So come and have a good time, one and all; your dear hearts will be warmed and delighted at the real good fellowship that will be extended you from the beloved citizens of good old Tulameen.

A kite put three circuits out of order

On the afternpon of April 9, trouble developed on three long-distance telephone circuits between Vancouver and Seattle, the lines becoming intermittently noisy.

Electrical measurements revealed that the source of the trouble was at a point in New Westminster, and a further investigation revealed the actual cause. A kite had become tangled 'round the wires

A New Westminster telephone man was speedily on the scene and by removing the kite he prevented a repetition of the trouble.

MINES SIMILKAMEEN'S PRINCIPAL HERITAGE

P. B. Freeland, District Engineer, Reviews Mining Situation at Board of Trade Banquet

The highly gratifying increased production of B.C. mines and the especially marked development of the Similkameen mining division, was reviewed in detail by Phillip B. Freeland, resident mining engineer for distrct No. 4, addressing the board of trade banquet here.

In her mineral resources British Columbia had a choice heritage that in itself assures the gem of the Pacific of a high place among the regions of the world. It was gratifying to see that this wealth was gradually being wrestled with, and that there was an appreciable annual increase in the tonnage of Britsh Columbia mines.

Mining is a basic industry. It brings assured and visible wealth and accordingly would create a market for the farmer, thus materailly helping in the solution of his difficulties.

He will best serve the mining development of our province who pays most attention to the discovery and development of new ore depsits, held Mr. Freeland. The rich surface deposits are rapidly being worked out, and exploration and research into better and cheaper ways of mining and reduction must now employ first place.

PROSPECTING FIRST

The prospector would play a more important part than ever in the next era of British Columbia's mining development, but the prospector must work along new lines. It was not so much feverish enthusiasm, and the goad of stumbling upon some rich deposit, as calm, determined search for pay values more carefully concealed. This called for more brains and quite as much grit as old time prospecting.

Mining companies should realize the importance of the prospector, and encourage him in every way. The prospector should make his prime interest at the discovery of ore rather than the conversion of his discovery into mines. It was foolish for a prospector with little capital to try to develop a deeply concealed vein. His time could be more profitably employed in making new discoveries. Development should be left to established concerns.

The Similkameen was particularly fortunate in the diversity of its minerals. Placers, for all the lost enthusiasm of the creek gold rushes, were by no means exhausted. In this, the most uncertain branch of mining, however, procedure should be with caution. Careful exploration work should go before big expenditures on equipment.

Otherwise, failures will shatter public confidence and deal a serious blow to the industry. The publi's money will develop B.C. mines, and as the man on the street generally buys on the word of the mining man, his confidence must be carefully guarded.

MUST KEEP CONFIDENCE

Mining is very much a business, and the promoter a very necessary link. He brings capital and opportunity together, and produces a mine.

The greatest need of British Columbia was exploration. Fully seventy per cent. of British Columbia's composition is rock. We do not know the exact geology of most of that rock. We should have a thorough and comprehensive examination to determine just exactly the extent of our mineral resources.

Coolness, determination, and optimism are essential factors There are many more mines to be found. Co-operation would play a big part.

Princeton in 1908 called forth a few reminiscences. In that year Mr. Freeland first entered the Similkameen, and came to Princeton. There was just enough money in the town to run a fair sized poker game. "And if you can show today the co-operation those poker players showed when a stranger came to town you will have no trouble in developing your mines."

The Similkameen mining district was not by any means unknown. The Hedley ore body was known by mining men and geologists all over the world as being of an entirely peculiar type. All British Columbia had the same plea—development. Co-operation among the citizens themselves, and a united drive to establish the Similkameen's resources would play an important part in getting them under development.

FOUR CHANGES OF RULES SUGGESTED BY HOOP COACHES

Four changes of rules adopted by the National Association of College Basketball Coaches at the annual meeting, but the session decided to table for a year the most drastic change, viz., to eliminate the center toss-up after a score, and to substitute a throw-in from the side.

The first of the new rules provides that on a jump ball neither jumper may touch the ball after it has been tapped until after it has been touched by another player on the floor.

Various technical fouls connected with the jump, as catching the ball before it has been tapped, were changed to mere violations, the penalty for which is loss of possession of the ball rather than a free throw.

The rule on carrying was clarified to permit referees to rule with more uniformity.

Henceforth, when a player converts his second free throw after being fouled in shooting, the ball will be tossed up in the center. If he misses, it will be in play.

PRINCETON GOLFERS FAIL QUALIFY AT KAMLOOPS

Three Princeton golfers made an unsuccessful bid yesterday to lift the interior title when they invaded Kamloops to participate in the championship tourney. None, however, were successful in reaching the competition proper.

Ernie Grey with 99 fell just 6 strokes short of the 93 necessary to qualify. Alf Sorenson had an even hundred, with H. C. Smith a few strokes behind. Sixteen qualified.

The title had not been decided when the Princeton men left but Clark and Reid, the present champion, were all square at the end of the first eighteen in the final, and were shooting somewhat ragged golf.

GREETINGS FROM MERRITT EXTENDED BY DR. J. J. GILLIS

Greetings from Merritt were extended by Dr. J. J. Gillis, former mayor of the Nicola capital, and now sitting member for Yale. Rather than let an occasion like this pass over without Merritt a sister town being represented, he and Mr. Mayon of the Merritt Herald had arranged late that afternon to make a special trip over.

Though he had been a resident of Yale for eighteen years, he had never before had the opportunity of sampling Princeton's hospitality.

He was convinced that the Similkameen had the right idea in amalgamating its forces to press the cause of the whole valley. A central association of business men could do more good than an organization under almost any other auspices. It was far more efficient than a political association, where selfishness was unfortunately too apt to prevail. He could say from experience that the legislators paid sincere respect to any resolution from a good live board of trade.

The Similkameen's needs were simply akin to those of the rest of the province. All of British Columbia needed developing. But by presenting a united front the Similkameen could assure itself of getting all the assistance that was possible.

FARMERS' NEEDS STRESSED BY U. F. PRESIDENT

The farmer as the essential first unit of production was stressed by E. E. Hardwick, president of the United Farmers of B.C., in an address to the board of trade banquet here that aroused no small interest.

Mr. McGeer knew freight rates, and the Similkameen Valley knew its needs and desires; but in all this agitation the really important factor in production, and the really deserving class, the farmer, was passed over with hardly a thought.

Where would our modern economic life be without the farmer? Mines are a great heritage, but you can't eat them. The farmer produces the first essential—food.

There was much room, held Mr. Hardwick, for improvement in the farmer's condition, and good legislation could repair some of the ills, but a general recognition of the farmer's importance and his condition could do most.

GIANT EAGLE FLIES TILL EXHAUSTED

A saga of wild life that would be hard to duplicate was revealed here this week when Johnny Cosgrove, well known Hedley oldtimer brought to town a giant eagle, of the golden type. It was a beautiful bird, with a seven-foot spread and the plumage in perfect condition.

But more interesting than its size and appearance was the story of its "capture." It was picked up, dead, by some children on Mr. Cosgrove's property, known as "The Roadhouse" on the Hedley road, this side of Hedley.

One of its steel-like legs was tightly gripped in a No. 4 Victor trap, which was at the end of a two-foot chain. Wired to the chain was a bit of wire two feet long, and this was tightly wrapped about a bit of a tree, two inches in diameter, and weighing four or five pounds.

How far the bird flew with this weight it is hard to say. It is likely that it was caught in a trap set for some animal, and it may have flown for miles with its burden—until exhausted, at any rate.

CUSTOMS COLLECTIONS FOR PRINCETON SHOW INCREASE

Customs collections for the port of Princeton for the first six weeks of the 1929-30 fiscal year set something of a record, and if business for the remaining forty-six weeks is in proportion, this will be a banner year.

April collections were considerably above the average, being $7893.12 compared with $3066.80 for 1928 and $5800.45 for 1927.

Following are the details.

	Importations	Excise Duty	Excise Tax	Total
1929	$7,232.15	$120.00	$540.97	$7893.12
1928	2171.05	120.00	775.75	3066.80
1927	4,519.03	360.00	920.42	5800.05

KETTLE VALLEY OFFICIALS ATTEND BANQUET

Both men of action rather than words, T. H. Crump, divisional superintendent, and Andrew McCulloch, chief engineer, of the Kettle Valley Railway, expressed appreciation of the opportunity to meet with men interested as they were in the development of the Similkameen, and assured the guests at the board of trade banquet that they would cooperate in every way possible.

It was quite an achievement to have Mr. McCulloch attend at all, and to have him speak is considered by his old friends a remarkable feat. The "father of the Kettle Valley Railway" has a marked dislike for publicity, and would not even attend the banquet given to celebrate the opening of the Kettle aVlley Railway, in the construction of which he played a very important part.

Mr. McCulloch said he realized what could be done by community effort. He was in Seattle in '89 and had kept close tab on that city's remarkable development.

He did not think that this district was doing too badly after all. There was at least a movement of progress. Years ago there was only one mail a week over the K.V.; then two; then three, and now six. There will, no doubt, be mail service seven days a week before long, and "after that we can hardly do much better," he said.
