BIRTHS

FALK—To Mr. and Mrs. David Falk of Hedley, in the Princeton General Hospital, on Sunday, April 23rd, a son.

BAILLIE—To Mr. and Mrs. Allen Baillie of Allenby, in the Princeton General Hospital, on Sunday, April 23rd, a daughter.

OBITUARY

Elliot Hansen, 54 year old miner of Gold Bridge, died in the Princeton General Hospital early in the morning of Tuesday, April 18th as result of injuries received the previous evening at Copper Mountain. The inquest found that the death was caused in an accidental manner by a cave-in, and attached no blame to anyone. Shock and fatal mechanical injuries to the heart and stomach were sustained, stated Dr. McCaffrey in the coroner's report. Dr. Phillips attended the stricken man at the time of the accident.

The deceased leaves a wife, son and married daughter and two grandchildren. His twin brother Peter Hansen and Mrs. Hansen of Minto City, and Paul G. Reinan of Bralorne, came to Princeton Wednesday evening for the inquest and returned for the funeral on Sunday afternoon in Gold Bridge.

Employed this last seven months at Copper Mountain, the deceased had won a great many friends there, and the place is the poorer for his passing.

Police Blotter

On April 21st Eleanor and Mary Paton were charged with being intoxicated in a pubzlic place.

William Schatlenkirk, William Stewart and Louis Tezack were charged on April 21st with riding a passenger train. The trio were fined $8 and costs each, with an alternative of 5 days in jail. They chose the jail sentence.

Miss Ruth Ference was convicted on a charge of vagrancy on the 24th, and sent to Okalla for 30 days. Bernice Koller was givenk a like term after being convicted a second time for being intoxicated in a public place. The jail term was chosen in preference to a $50 fine and costs.

Convicted of dangerous driving, Angs Crawford of Copper Mountain was fined $25 and costs and was refused permission to drive a car for a period of 3 months.

Charged with assaulting a police officer, Mauritz Eggstrom of Hedley was found guilty and ordered to pay a fine of $25 and costs, or serve 30 days in jail. Eggstrom paid the fine. A. D. C. Washington was counsel for the plaintiff, and Corporal Bob Holliday appeared for Constable Limes.

HIGH SCHOOL MAKES CHOICE FOR VISIT TO VANCOUVER

Four Students: Two Senior, Two Junior, to Have Trip to Vancouver

It will be pretty nice to be in Vancouver at the time Their Majesties visit that city, but for four of the students of the Princeton Junior and Senior High School, that satisfaction will be heightened by the realization that they were chosen to represent their school by the acclaim of their fellow students.

These fortunate young people, Helen Russell and Stan Pattinson of the senior high school, and Roy MacGregor and Roy Macdonald of the junior school. will be the guests of the Vancouver school board from May 21st to May 29th. Three days will be spent in classrooms in Vancouver schools, other days are to be taken up visiting points of interest in the British Columbia metropolis, and on the final day they will see the King and Queen and all the ceremony surrounding the coming of royalty.

Shirley Proctor and Louis Hatton have been chosen to travel to Vancouver from the Coalmont school for this auspicious occasion.

Contestants Cause Crows Considerable Consternation

Things looked pretty black for the crows last Sunday when the local game association held its crow hunt.

Fourteen nimrods met at the Cenotaph at 8 o'clock in the morning. Lots were drawn to divide into two teams, the president's and vice-president's, and then the hunters scattered over the country to the places where each thought his luck would be the best.

"Curley" Pease brought home the biggest bag of black birds, 7 all told, by using a crow caller to lure the curious but canny crows within range. He had a streak of good luck in the morning, bagging six and kept the afternoon from being a washout when he bagged his last bird. Ray Bombard, also using a lure, shot his way to second position with four of the birds in his bag, but Roy Thorstenson gained more points by bringing down an owl and three crows. One of Roy's birds probably should have gone to Charlie Burt, who took a long shot at a flying crow that seemed unaffected and continued its flight. Charlie turned away, thinking he had missed, and the crow, apparently grimly content that it had given him no satisfaction for his shot, folded up in mid-air and crashed to the ground near Roy who finished its existence on this earth. Charlie also acted as a fine game flusher for Roy when he drove an owl into range of the Thorstenson gun.

The losing team stood the winners to a chicken supper that was served downstairs in the Travellers Cafe that evening. Only 9 members of the shoot were there, but it is reported that 'Curly' Pease brought his prodigious eppetite to bear, and did justice to enough for at least a couple of the absentees.

A novel target shoot is being arranged by vice-president Dr. Butler, to take place on the range north of the airport on Sunday.

The King's Broadcast Schedule

Tentative arrangements for broadcasts from Vancouver and Victoria during the visit of Their Majesties the King and Queen, are announced by the Canadian Boardcasting Corporation. They include an address by the King from Victoria. On Monday, May 29, a special crew of CBC announcers will describe the reception at the City Hall, the first of two broadcasts from Vancouver. This is scheduled for 10:45 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. PST.

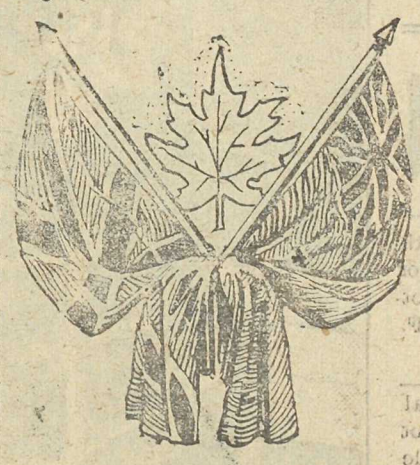
The departure for Victoria of Their Majesties on board S. S. Princess Marguerite and the scene as the ship steams slowly through the Lion's Gate, greeted by a formation of Indian war canoes, will be described from 5 to 5:30 p.m. PST the same day.

The arrival in Victoria harbor at 8:45 will be described to listeners on the western network of the CBC.

There will be three broadcasts from the British Columbia capitol on Tesday, May 30.

The address of welcome by Premier T. D. Pattullo will be heard at 11:00 a.m., followed at 11:30 a.m. by a presentation of the Colours to the Royal Canadian Navy at the Esquimalt Naval Dockyard.

The King will speak at the Government of British Columbia luncheon at 2 p.m. This will be one of five occasions on which His Majesty will speak during the month-long tour.



SCHOOL BAND IS ORGANIZED

The Princeton School Band is Official Name of New Musical Body

Thursday afternoon of last week was a momentus time at the Princeton school. The students chose their representatives to go to Vancouver during the tour of Their Majesties, and the membtrs of the Princeton School Band elected their officers making it an official part of the school body. It will operate under the student council on the same status as the other clubs, and is to practice every Thursday afternoon in the school building. The band chose Don Allen to act as president of the executive that will handle the business of the organization, and placed Don Logan in the office of secretary-treasurer. These two are to work with and through the student council, and have power to add to their numbers if it is seen necessary.

The first practice is to be held this afternoon under the direction of band instructor Bert Rose and band master Ray Williston.

Seventeen members are signed up according to the latest report. Four clarinets, 3 alto horns, 2 trombones, 2 saxaphones, 2 bass horns, 1 baritone, 1 cornet, and a bass and side drum make up the complement of instruments, all of which have been bought or supplied by the youngsters or their parents, or loaned by persons interested in the welfare of the youthful musical organization.

When the band has shown that it is well established and capable of making public appearances, and thereby earning part of the expense of a uniform, the student council plans to take up the matter of uniforms.

Baseball Season Softball League Being Planned

Baseball and softball enthusiasts are once again organizing their respective sports here in Princeton.

On Thursday evening last downstairs in the Traveller's Cafe, the softball association elected Dave Wallace to the position of president and placed Gabriel Schulli and George Russell in the posts of vice-president and secretary-treasurer respectively. A committee was formed, including one representative from each of the three teams playing in the league. Geo. Currie will represen the pool hall boys; Lawrence La Valley is to act for the high school, and Gurrino Schulli for the Cosmo team.

It is planned to start play in the league by May 1st, and, if possible, to have four teams competing. Andy Muir has been appointed as umpire-in-chief, and in his absence, the captains of opposing teams may choose referres satisfactory to both.

Dave Wallace, Cecil Ritchie and Andy Muir will form an executive for settling disputes arising from games. Their judgement will be final. Teams will be limited to twelve players, and no player may change from one team to another after the start of the league.

On Friday evening the baseball association met in the same premises to plan their activities for the season to come.

As president, the group elected Nick Bush, and as vice-president and secretary-treasurer they chose 'Bones' Placard and Andy Vaydo. Honorary members are Mr. Fitzgerald, W. B. Ewart and W. S. Garrison. 'Bones' Plesard is to manage the team. The finance committee consists of Bert Lawrence, Harold Gray and Don Currie. Grounds committee members are Gordon Currie and Bill Bettie.

It has not yet been decided whether or not the team will operate within the Similkameen Valley league, or play what they describe as outlaw ball, which means, if they decide upon that arrangement, that the games played will be against outside teams from Penticton, Oroville, Oliver and other baseball towns, and will have to be arranged for as the season progresses. The secretary is making inquires with regard to this, and if enough of such arrangements are likely, ou law ball will be chosen.

BOY SCOUTS TO ORGANIZE IN PRINCETON

Ellis and Tidball Keen to See Scouting Activities Started Here

An effort is being made to re-establish a boy scout troop here in Princeton.

A meeting was held at the home of Rev. and Mrs. P. R. Ellis Friday evening. Unforseen circumstances prevented two interested persons, W. E. Lucas and Bill Cameron from attending, but, nevertheless Rev. Mr. Ellis, Bert Tidball and Charles Whiten took the first few steps toward re-organizing the movement in this city. A letter has been dispatched to the district commissioner in Vancouver, asking full particulars in regard to forming a troop, and various capable persons likely to take an interest in such a movement here will be interviewed with the intention of forming an active scout committee to look after the troops affairs.

Through the kindness of Rev. Mr. Ellis, it will be possible to use the Parish Hall as a meeting place when the troop is finally organized. However before this is done it it the intention of those who have shown interest enough to attempt to start the troop, to see that a thorough background is laid to ensure against a sudden burst of enthusiasm, followed by a sudden collapse. A competent scoutmaster and two asistant scoutmasters must be found who, backed by a strong scout coumittee, will be able to carry on a consistent program of activities designed to hold the interest of the boys in the troop.

Another meeting is to be called when Rev. Mr. Ellis has received particulars from the office of the district commissioner at Vancouver.

Orange Hall Much Improved Inside

There's a lot of activity going on in the Orange Hall this week. A new floor is being laid and the walls and ceiling are getting a few coast of cream kalsomine. The rush in the work is caused by the Amber Ski Clb dance in the hall on Friday evening, but it is the Orange Lodge that is having the work done.

Most everyone will agree that the hall is a poor enough building to serve a town as large as this as a community hall, but even then, the Orangemen are to be commended for their efforts to improve what we now have. It promises to be a very presentable structure when the work planned on it is completed this year.

"Give It the Works"

THAT'S what our buyers tell the Research Bureau when they want to have merchandise tested for strength or performance.

Stockings, cloth and fabrics are tested at strain points by the "Mullen Tester," which records the pressure required to burst them. Linoleums, leather and certain fabrics are given severe friction tests to prove their wearing qualities. Overalls and work garments are subjected to a straight pull to determine the tensile strength of the denim. Rayon products are tested for their ability to wash and iron as well. Processed fabrics are subjected to tests under running water before they are advertised as shower-proof. Hats are plunged into pails of water or left under a running tap before we call them weatherized. Suits are taken to pieces to determine the soundness of the inner construction. Boards are painted and exposed to the weather for months to determine the wearing qualities of the paint. A motor pushed a heavy iron roller over a mattress and spring for days to determine the effects of reasonable wear and tear.

By means of tests such as these we are able to guarantee that the merchandise finally selected for our Catalogue will give satisfaction to our customers. EATON advertising means what it says; exhaustive tests have been made to prove that all statements are true.

NOW IN HANDSOME NEW CONTAINER--THAT IS ALL

Horace and I were right on the spot when the announcer gave out the news. "Think of it," he said, "Monogram Gin . . . the supreme refreshment . . . the Gin so many people prefer . . now in a beautiful new streamlined bottle for your convenience. They simply could not improve on the Gin, so they made the container more attractive."

"Good news," I said to Horace, "You can pay more but YOU CAN'T BUY A BETTER GIN THAN MONOGRAM."

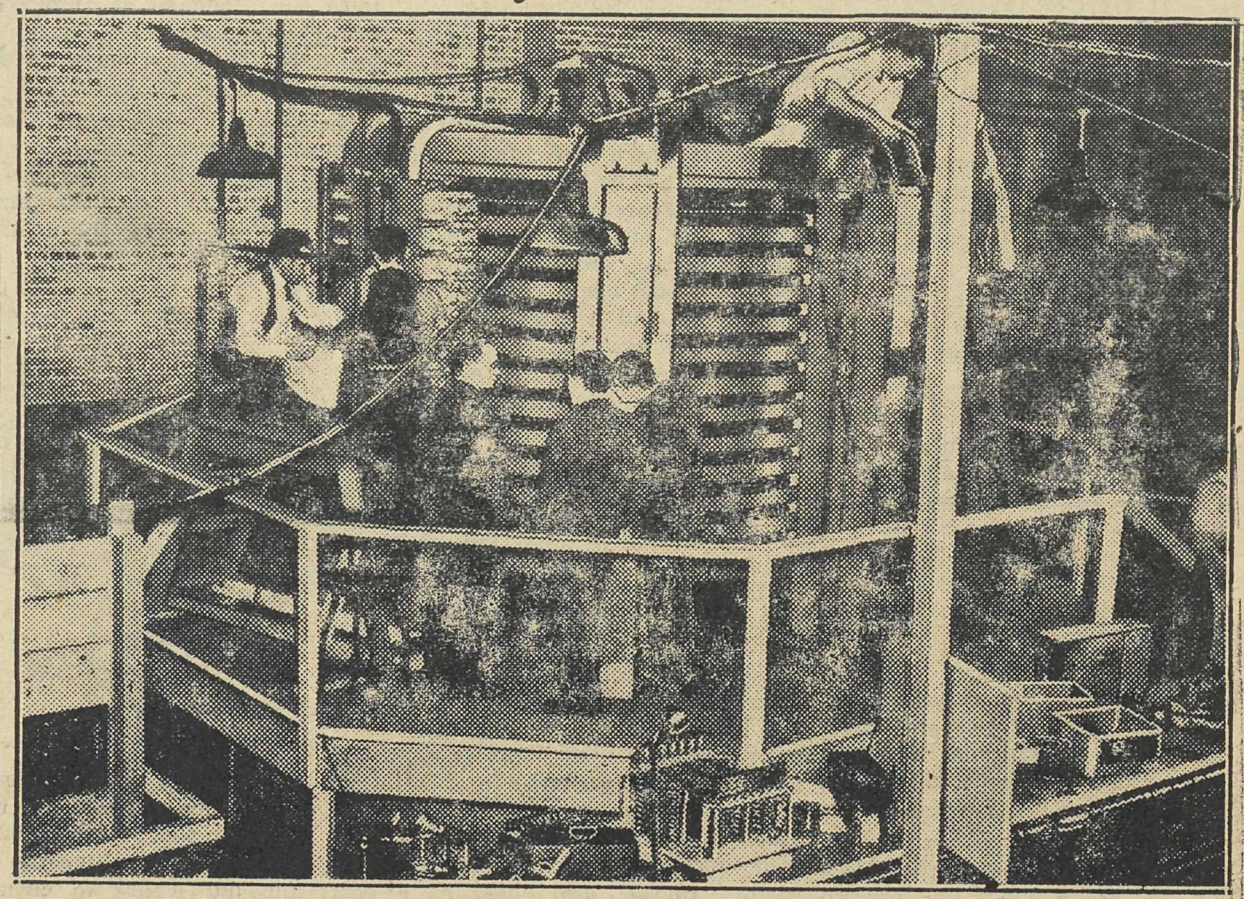
Twenty Tons of Voice



(Photograph from Northern Electric Co. Ltd.)

ENGINEERS of the Bell System supervise their streamlined creation as finishing touches are put on the twenty-ton, multi-voiced sound reproducer which, with a moving speaker system will serve as a corps of "private guides" to visitors touring the General Motors "Highways and Horizons" exhibit at the New York World's Fair. In the machine, 150 equally spaced photoelectric cell devices scan a motion picture film at the same time throughout its length. Thus 150 different parts of the same story are being told separately, at once. Moving cars, in the exhibit, carry spectators before a model panorama of tomorrow's highway system. Each car is equipped with speakers which give a perfectly synchronized description of the exact scene before which the visitor is passing. This is said to be the most intricate sound instrument of its kind ever developed.

Round the Corner

I is with sincere regret that we announce the death of the Grand Old Game, Basketball, resident here since 1927. Death came after a lingering illness, the direct result of the fire which caused serious damage to the Orange Hall March 5th, 1939. Official autopsy revealed the death resulted from the lack of a community hall in Princeton, the Orange Hall being no longer available.

The seeds of the game were first sown in Princeton by the Rev. Mr. Ashford, now a missionary in India, and Dr. Lee Smith, now of Vancouver. The game as played in those days, was of a rough, rugged type, and did not flourish. However, with the coming of three teachers, Bill Lucas, Cecil Ritchie and Pi Campbell, in 1931, pasketball was given new blood. Under the capable hands of these masters, what had been only a seed now sprang into bud, blossomed and bore fruit. From 1931 until its death just recently, basketball in Princeton had enjoyed real distinction, twice having reached the Senior B finals, and finally topping all previous attempts by winning the Provincial Senior C title in 1937. Outside the Serior ranks, the Intermediate boys have been Interior finalists three years out of six, and the school team has for the last two years won the Interior High School Championship.

With these facts before us it is with even greater respect that we pay homage to the late Mr. Basketball, who died from a lack of accomodation.

Princeton is going to have its own special queen this year when the Elks hold their big carnival in the Thomas Hall on the evenings of May 11th, 12th and 13th.

Young ladies competing for the honor of being Princeton's queen are to be chosen by the number of votes cast in their favor, each ticket sold counting for 100 votes. The queen will be acclaimed at 11 o'clock the evening of the final day of the carnival, and will be crowned during the big Elks' Dominion Day celebration, July 1st. Her car will be near the head of the big parade on that day, and she will be paid the honor and homage that befits her exalted position. Age of the eligible participants must be from 16 to 23, it is stated, by those in charge. Ed Westover and L. Q. Wilson may be contacted for tickets and information about the queen competition.

A last minute report indicates that the successful candidate for the enviable position of carnival queen will be given a free 3-day trip to Vancouver to see the King and Queen when the Royal tour party is in that city.

At the carnival itself, all the old army games and attractions will be offered the public. Brother Bills will handle the booths and concessions on the three evenings of the big affair.

It is being sponsored by the B. P. O. E. as a means of swelling their charity fund, and such a worthy cause deserves, and will get the Elks believe, plenty of support from the people of this district.

As L. Q. "Tug" Wilson puts it, "Help the boosters—boost."

Old Time Tunes Prove Popular at "Barn Dance"

The Orange Hall was the scene of a barn dance sponsored by the Princeton Orange Lodge on the evening of Wednesday, April 19th.

An orchestra consisting of members of the lodge supplied old-time and modern music for a good crowd of dancers, although it was apparent that the younger crowd was conserving its energies for another affair, a small number being present. That, however, did not dampen the spirits of those who attended, and many memories of days not long past were revived as old-time music and dancing filled the hall.

A great deal of work was put into decorating in a rural fashion, with silhouettes of calves setting off the walls and stage front. The orchestra played from behind lighted kerosene lanterns and wore realistic straw hats.

THE STABILIZING INFLUENCE

In a world of chaos—of wars and rumors of impending events—the daily newspaper stands out as a permanent and stabilizing influence in every community in Canada. When rumor has spread throughout the country, fed upon the flame of mass curiosity, and always curving farther and farther from facts, it becomes a reassuring experience to read the true facts in your daily newspaper. Here, through vast newsgathering organizations directed by trained observers, you are able to read and digest ALL THE FACTS as they ACTUALLY HAPPENED! Rumor plays no part in the life of a good daily newspaper. Its far-flung sources of authentic information enable it to turn the spotlight of truth upon every important event, sifting rumor and fact and flashing the complete story to every daily newspaper reader. Your home will be enriched by a good daily newspaper—its stabilizing influence will reflect itself in a more tolerant outlook upon the world in which we live.

Elks Oratorical Competition to be on May 24th

On May 24th, the Elks of Princeton hold their annual oratorical contest for students of the schools of the Similkameen in the Orange Hall. A competition is to be arranged for grades 1 to 8, and one for grades 9 to 12. Each school in the Valley is allowed one representative in each division. Topics are to be left to the discretion of the elecutionists. Valuable permanent trophies will be awarded the successful competitors. It is the hope of the Princeton Elks that all Similkameen schools will cooperate in this worthwhile endeavor, intended to instill self- confidence in the participants.

Russel Bernard, five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bernard, was admitted to hospital early Wednesday afternoon for treatment of a badly cut and crushed left index finger.

The lad had been playing with a group of his playmates and the injury was inflicted when a blunt ax dropped on his hand.

A general anesthetic was administered by Dr. R. J. Wryde, and a successful operation saved the lad's finger.

A boisterous, gusty wind, sweeping across the Princeton airport on Saturday afternoon put a bit of a crimp in the model contest, so long anticipated by the boys of the model aeroplane club here.

Although five models were entered in the affair, and several of the lads were optomistic enough to hope for enough of a lull to launch their ships, and took them to the field, only one model took the air. The gas model built by Theos Lewis was prepared for flight by its builder, and sent into the uncertain skies. It was able to start what seemed a safe flight, but a swirling puff of wind whipped it up into a stall, and, robbed of its flying speed, the little aeroplane dove to the ground, cracking the propeller. This damage was fixed, but subsequent flights proved equally unsafe.

Another contest for young aviators will be held when conditions are more favorable.
