ON DECK

CBC arranger-conductor Jimmie Gowler is really on deck here as he plans the music for his next broadcast on the Trans-Canada network's weekly feature that he's entitled "Prairie Schooner".

The show is dedicated to the pioneers of our western plains who knew the old covered wagon by its picturesque name of "prairie schooner".

With maestro Jimmie in charge at the CBC's Winnipeg studios, the program comes to you on Saturday nights at 6.30 Pacific time.

Coming Attractions At Capitol Theatre

"Hostages will be coming around our way Monday and Tuesday, May 28 and 29, followed by "Christmas Holiday", on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 31, June 1 and 2.

Hostages is the dramatic tale of underground opposition to the Gestapo in Czechoslovakia, in which the patriots outwit the Nazis after they have made a German officer's suicide look like a murder. Arturo de Cordova, Luise Rainer, William Bendix, and Katina Paxinou contribute largely to its excellence. The picture is directed by Frank Tuttle.

Liberal Candidate Supports Airport

A. W. Gray, Liberal candidate for Yale, wrote the Princeton Aviation Council dealing with the hard surfacing of the runways at the Princeton Airport. He enclosed a letter from the Deputy Minister of Transport which stated that funds have been authorized in the Department's estimates to provide for improvements to the runway surface of the Princeton Airport and that the engineering department is now engaged in securing certain additional data so that the plans and specifications can be compiled and tenders for the work may be advertised for.

"Doc" Smith Returns With Coast Visitors

Dr. Lee Smith, who rates one, two, three, as a booster for the Similkameen Valley, and Princeton in particular, is holidaying in the city. He arrived from Vancouver last week-end, and, following his usual custom, brought two well-known Terminal citizens to see the wonders of the Valley.

"Doc", as he is known to at least 75 percent of the populace, in this district, was practising in these parts a quarter of a century back, and though he has been back on the Coast for more than a decade, now he simply can't forget the friendships he made when the population was only a shadow of the 2200 we boast in Princeton today.

There are few beauty spots in the Valley "Doc" does not know. These are the places he extols to his guests and with new travelling companions on every trip, he takes these visitors back home to Vancouver where they tell the folks in the big city about our fishing and hunting.

On his current trip he is introducing Harry Clayton, a prominent tool manufacturer, to the wonders of the Similkameen. He also has Johnny Park, sports editor for the Vancouver Daily Province, whose name is familiar to thousands of sports fans throughout the country, for company. Clayton is an ardent fisherman, but Park was more interested in the Ski Hill. Who knows?—"Doc" might bring Park back to our next ski tourney? Stranger things have happened!

They Kept The Goods Rolling

SERGEANTS in the First Canadian Railway Workshop Company, R.C.E., in Belgium, these former Canadian Pacific employees played a major role in the vital work of keeping supply lines moving in Europe as the Allied armies swept to victory.

"Incorporation" To Be Subject of Talk

On Saturday next, Princeton will be visited by three distinguished members of the Provincial Government in the persons of Hon. E. T. Kenney, Minister of Lands, Mr. E. Davis, Comptroller of water Rights, and Mr. Melrose, Deputy Ministry of Forestry.

A public meeting will be held in the Elks' Hall, Saturday, May 26, at 9 p.m., at which these men will speak on the topic of Village Incorporation. All interested citizens are urged to attend, and learn the facts on this important subject.

Princeton stores will close at 8.30 Saturday night, to allow the clerks to attend.

This meeting is being sponsored by the Princeton Board of Trade.

Delegates to Game Convention

On Thursday and Friday of last week, Bud Woodford, president of the Princeton Fish and Game Club, and T. Cloke, of Allenby, attended the annual convention of the B.C. Interior Fish and Game Clubs, held at Penticton. There were a number of resolutions from Princeton, all of which were considered, and some of which were adopted.

Gordon Toombs was re-elected President. The next election will be held at Clinton.

Vancouver Trade Bd. Hosts To Interior

The Vancouver Board of Trade were hosts last Wednesday and Thursday to delegates from Interior Boards of Trade, R. S. Scott, W. Maxwell and E. E. Burr representing Princeton.

During their stay, the visitors were taken on conducted tours of the Westminster Paper Company, Heaps Engineering, and Pacific Terminals in New Westminster, the Burrard Drydock in North Vancouver, and Boeing's Aircraft plant at Sea Island.

On Wednesday night they were guests of the Vancouver Board of Trade at a banquet held in the Mayfair Room of the Hotel Vancouver. Delegates from all the Okanagan Valley towns as well as Kamloops were present. Arrangements were ideal, and on their return, the Princeton men were loud in their praise of the welcome extended by the Vancouver Board of Trade.

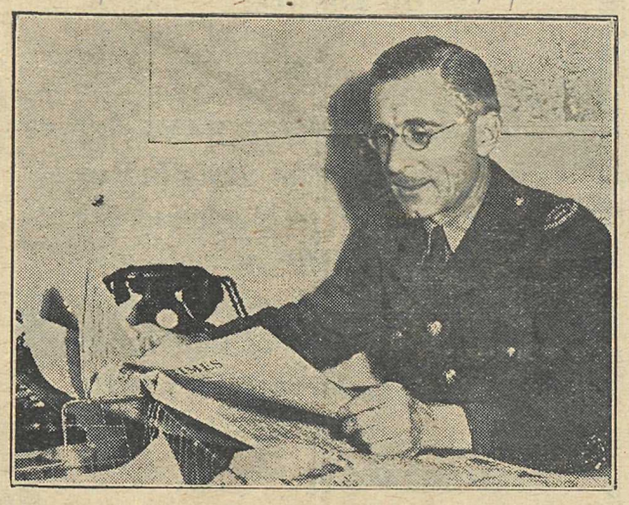
CBC IN EUROPE



The CBC's European coverage is directed by news chief A. E. Powley, above, who makes his headquarters at CBC offices in London.

The grim story of the part Canada played in rolling back the Nazi and Fascist armies was told by Powley and the men with him — Matt Halton, Peter Stursberg, Bill Herbert, and other CBC war correspondents who ate, marched and slept in the front lines. Wherever our lads in khaki and blue engaged the enemy, these men were there with their mikes and equipment.

Now they will bring to Canadians the story of Europe as it rises from the ashes of war. Their reports are heard on CBC News Roundup on station CKOV Kelowna and the Trans-Canada network each weekday at 4.45 and 10.15 p.m.

News From Victoria

Four survey parties have been placed in the field in connection with the location of the Hope-Princeton Highway which is the No. 1 post-war project of the Provincial Government, it was announced by the Honourable Herbert Anscomb, Minister of Public Works.

Two more survey parties will be sent into that territory next week thus making a total of six parties altogether. In this way, it is expected to complete the entire survey before the end of this summer.

The Hope-Princeton Highway is a $2,600,000 project designed to shorten the distance between Coast points and the Interior.

Survey Power Sites

Immediate investigation and surveys to determine the most economical and otherwise suitable source of power for Vancouver Island will be undertaken by the P.C. Power Commission, it was announced by S. R. Weston, Chairman, following his return from the East where he engaged the services of H. G. Acres and Company, Consulting Engineers of Niagara Falls, Ontario, to assist in an advisory capacity.

The Commission will also study power development for the mainland in the C.N.R. belt from Prince George west and the Peace River, Cariboo, Kootenay and Okanagan Districts, Mr. Weston said.

Land Settlement Plan

Honourable E. T. Kenney, Minister of Lands, announced that alternative arrangements had been made by the Dominion Government in co-operation with the Province whereby the B.C. veteran can settle on the land after the war by securing a land grant of up to 160 acres free with a financial grant from the Dominion of $2,320 with which to develop his farm.

The B.C. plan will enable a man to start debt-free, he will have working capital of $2,320 and what he makes will be his own with no interest to pay. The spending of the grant, however, will be under the direct supervision of the Veterans Land Boards.

The scheme is optional. If a veteran prefers to take up land under the original provisions of the Veterans Land Act, he can get the loans under the general plan. Under the original scheme, a veteran pays up to 10 percent of the cost of land and buildings. He then gets a loan up to a total of $6,000 to cover the price and pay for chattels and at the end of ten years, he gets $2,320 of his loan written off.

Farm Labour Help

With a view to assisting farmers to secure labour with which to meet the existing shortage, pupils of Grades 8 to 11 who, in the opinion of their school principals have made such progress during the year as to entitle them to promotion to a higher grade, will be permitted to be released from school on or before June 1 to be employed by farmers, it was announced by the Honourable H. G. T. Perry, Minister of Education. Students of Grade 12 who have made an average standing of 66 percent are also included in this order.

Message to U.B.C. Students

Premier John Hart gave the annual address to the students graduating from the University of British Columbia at the 30th Annual Congregation held on May 3rd.

During the course of his address, he spoke of the great opportunities awaiting men and women of vision and enterprise to develop the vast resources of this Province. He also gave reassurance that the expansion of the University facilities would be carried out with every assistance possible from the Provincial Government.

New Westminster By-Election

Commenting upon the recent New Westminster by-election in which Mr. Byron Johnson, former member of the Legislature was elected with an over-whelming majority as the Coalition candidate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the Honourable A. Wells Gray, Premier John Hart said:

"The decision of the electorate in this by-election gives the Coalition Government great encouragement to carry on with those policies laid down by us and designed for the welfare of the people."

William G. Mattice Dies At Keremeos

KEREMEOS, B.C. — William Gordon Mattice, a highly respected pioneer of this district, passed away at his home here after a lengthy illness on Tuesday, May 15th. Mr. Mattice, a member of a United Empire Loyalist family, was born in Cornwall, Ontario, on December 26, 1872. In 1880 he with his family moved to Carberry, Manitoba, where in later years he owned and operated a wheat ranch. On December 11th, 1901, he married Victoria Caroline Williams and in 1907 moved to Keremeos, where he has carried on the business of fruit ranching.

The late Mr. Mattice until recently took an active part in community affairs. For 10 years he was secretary-treasurer of the School Board, during which time he supervised construction of additions to the local schools. He also assisted in the building of the local Anglican and United Churches and the Victory Hall. He was one of the fruit-growers and served on the Board of Directors of that organization for a number of years.

Besides his wife, Mr. Mattice is survived by three sons, Wilburn of Oliver, Clarence of Nelson, and Gordon of the R.C.A.F. at Rivers, Man.; and two daughters, Mrs. W. H. Gurney of Kamloops, and Mrs. G. Arnison of Keremeos, and five grandchildren; a sister, Mrs. Ida Smith, of Portage la Prairie also survives.

St. John's Anglican Church was filled to overflowing at the funeral service at ten o'clock on Wednesday morning. There were many floral tributes and Mrs. S. Redman of Oliver sang "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere." Mrs. D. J. Innis officiated at the organ. Rev. F. C. Briscall conducted the service and the following acted as pallbearers: F. C. Sorge, S. R. Manery, J. W. Lewis, A. E. East, E. C. Armstrong and J. R. Campbell. Interment was in the family plot in Keremeos cemetery. E. C. Graham of Oliver was in charge of arrangements.

SINGS OVERSEAS

Before she went overseas last year, Joanne Dallas of the Canadian Women's Army Corps had toured western Canada with a mobile troop entertainment unit. She was also a champion swimmer, competing at her home town of Winnipeg and other western centres.

Now Joanne sings regularly with the Canadian Band in the BBC's overseas services. Conductor is Captain Bob Farnon, formerly with the CBC's Happy Gang.

Aero Clubs To Get Training Planes

"Aero Clubs in the province of B.C. are receiving notices from the Dominion Government stating that they are to be given training planes free. Vancouver Club was awarded 17; Victoria, 3, and New Westminster 3. Chilliwack are just organized and have asked for 3." The above from the Vancouver Province of May 19th. Princeton, have you formed your Aero Club and asked for your allotment of planes? You have the Airport you know!

Family Allowances, A Children's Charter

Many questions have arisen lately in regard to the relation of Family Allowance to Income Tax. "Is it true," you may ask, "that those who pay income tax already get what is, in effect, an allowance through a tax reduction for each dependent child?" The answer is yes. They will not receive both the family allowance and their present income tax deduction. They will be paid the family allowance, but the amount of their tax deduction will be reduced by the amount of the family allowance that they will receive. In other words, those whose present tax deduction is already greater than the amount of their family allowance, will be in the same position as before. Those whose tax deduction is less than their family allowance, will benefit.

"Will people have to apply for the family allowance if income tax deductions for their children are more than they would receive by way of family allowance?"—No. Income tax payers have the option of applying for the family allowance or of waiving their claim to the family allowance and claiming the full deduction for their children under income tax.

No one can say in advance, however, that he or she will not benefit from family allowances. Incomes may change during the course of a year. Anyone who is uncertain whether or not he or she will benefit from family allowances more than from the tax deduction should register for the family allowance and in this way be on the safe side. The income tax payer who applies for, and receives, the family allowance, can't possibly be worse off—he will, in most cases, be better off.

The allowance will not count as income for income tax purposes.

Family allowances, as most people know, are regular cash grants made to families towards the maintenance, care, training, education, and advancement of children. One hundred years ago, four-fifths of the population were working for themselves. Today, because of increased industrialization, the great majority of the population are earning wages or salaries. Wages are based on work done, not on the number of children in the home. The single man and married man with a family get the same rates of pay for similar work. A married couple cannot be expected to raise healthy children on a wage which may only be enough to support one person. Family allowances help to even things up.

In the same way regular cash allowances will give more equal opportunities to the families of farmers, fishermen, and others working on their own. Their receipts likewise depend on what they produce, or do, rather than on the size of their families.

Family allowances in one form or another have been introduced in more than thirty countries. Australia has had family allowances since 1941, and the system there is working very well. New Zealand introduced family allowances nearly twenty years ago. The amounts paid have been increased several times since. The latest increase was made after the Canadian Act became law, and brings the amount of payment quite close to our own, although, all things considered, the Canadian scheme is more generous than any in the world.

Here is the setup: Each child in Canada, under 16 years of age, including Indians and Eskimos, who are maintained in a family, will receive a sum as per the following scale:

Children under 6 years of age, $5.00 a month; children between 6 and 10, $6.00 a month; children between 10 and 13, $7.00 a month; children between 13 and 16, $8.00 a month.

The allowances are reduced after the fourth child because clothing, school books, and other equipment can be used again by the younger children in the family. There will be a reduction of $1 for the fifth child, $2 each for the sixth and seventh child, and $3 for each additional child. In other words, the four oldest children under 16 receive the regular allowance, and additional younger children have their allowances reduced.

Payments start in July, 1945. Family allowances will continue to be paid if the parent is sick, disabled, unemployed, loses his job, or if for any other reason, is not working. They will be paid out of the general revenue of the Dominion Government. The figures below show the revenue totals for the provinces covering the year ending March 31, 1944, and the estimated family allowance payments for the year beginning July 1, 1945, together with percentages:

Area	Total Federal Tax Collections:		Estimated Distribution of Family Allowances:
Maritimes	$ 109,000,000	4%	$ 28,000,000	11%
Quebec	905,000,000	34%	84,000,000	33%
Ontario	1,235,000,000	47%	75,000,000	29%
Prairies	186,000,000	7%	54,000,000	21%
Br. Columbia	206,000,000	8%	15,000,000	6%
Totals:	$2,641,000,000	100%	$256,000,000	100%

There are two kinds of discontent in the world—the kind that wrings its hands and the kind that puts all hands to work.

EARLIEST HARBOR OPENING: Captain S. W. Keay, O.B.E., a six-year veteran of the wartime Merchant Navy from Canadian Pacific Steamships and survivor of two sinkings, here receives the stick he won by bringing the Gatineau Park into Montreal on April 9, a full day earlier than navigation for ocean vessels ever had been opened before in that port. Watching Alexander Ferguson, port manager, National Harbors Board, make the presentation is Captain Edmund Aikman, assistant to the chairman of C.P.S.S., and himself a former winner of the stick. To Captain Keay's left is Chief Engineer T. M. Atkinson, M.B.E., of the Gatineau Park, another of the more than 6,000 Canadian Pacific sailors now serving the Admiralty in the Battle of Supply. The decorations of Officer and Member in the Order of the British Empire won by the captain and chief engineer of the Gatineau Park are among 71 such awards and mentions in despatches on the C.P.S.S. honor roll for gallantry at sea. Captain Keay was serving in the 42,000-ton Empress of Britain and the Duchess of York when they were sent to the bottom, as two of 12 Canadian Pacific vessels lost by enemy action. On D-Day the winner of Montreal's "first-in" prize this year was a berthing officer at Southampton and prior to this he had brought the invasion troop carrier, Empire Lance, from the American west coast, where she was built, to her station for the assault on Normandy.

Save The Best Yearling Hens

Save the best yearling hens for egg production in 1946 and also to produce more eggs in the fall of 1945, is the advice given to Canadian poultrymen by the poultry authorities of the Dominion Department of Agriculture. Assurance has now been obtained that Britain will require eggs in 1946 in at least as great quantities as in 1945. The periods during which Britain wants shell eggs most are in the fall and in the winter and early spring. In the past six months, Canada was able to make a fine contribution. A like contribution will be expected next fall and winter.

With fewer early chicks this year, say the poultry authorities, the prospects are not so bright. The alternative is to save and carry over yearlings into 1946. It is important that enough be carried over to make full pens, because pullets and yearlings do not go well together. Where individual producers have not enough to carry over, possibly two or more producers could arrange to put their yearlings together by purchase or otherwise. It is important that no laying birds be sent to market this year.

OPEN LETTER TO YOUTH...

THE PROGRESSIVE CONSERVATIVE PARTY BELIEVES:

1. That it is the right of every Canadian Boy and Girl to be educated to the full extent of his or her capacity, irrespective of financial or social standing.
2. That a Youth Advisory Council, composed of representatives of Youth from all Provinces, must be set up to make recommendations to the Government on matters of policy affecting Canadian youth.
3. That Youth must be assured of employment with adequate remuneration, and with opportunities to develop his or her individual ability to the maximum.
4. That a Positive National Health Programme for Youth should be established, including improved nutritional standards and efficient preventative health service.

JOHN BRACKEN SAYS: "I will see that the State in our time—as well as the home, the church and the school—discharges its full obligation to the Youth of this land upon whose shoulders will shortly fall the responsibility of the welfare of Canada.

CBC's Sports College

Canada's newest youth movement is the CBC's "Sports College", the Saturday afternoon radio program which has skyrocketed to a membership of 60,000 young Canadians in just the six months since it first went on the air.

Recently at the CBC's west coast headquarters in Vancouver, regional representative Ira Dilworth announced successful arangements to move the Sports College broadcast to a more convenient time for B.C. listeners. It will now be heard each Saturday at 5.45 p.m.

A combined CBC hookup will carry the program to stations CBR Vancouver, CFJC Kamloops, CJAT Trail, CKLN Nelson and CKOV Kelowna, all on the Trans-Canada network; and to stations CHWK Chilliwack and CJVI Victoria on the Dominion network.

A joint project of the YMCA and the CBC, the Sports College has for its head coach and director the former Olympic athlete, Lloyd Percival. He has presented to the nationwide audience such sport headliners as Syl Apps, Sweeney Schriner and Hap Day of the Toronto Maple Leafs, and boxing champion Joe Louis. Percival got the original idea for the Sports College from a chance remark made to him by the late Knute Rockne.

In the first six months the CBC program received 78,000 fan letters. Percival has personally replied to 3000, writes the scripts and prepares booklets as well. Mail now comes in even faster, topping the 1000-a-week mark. More than 65 percent of it is from boys in rural areas.

Believed to be the only thing of its kind, the College states its aim to be "the highest standard of health, through clean play". Instruction is given in major sports, muscle building, and diet.

Each new member receives a badge for his sweater, and free booklets on ways to improve abilities in various sports. A measure of the scheme's success is the number of mothers who have written to the CBC to report that their youngsters now show a healthy interest in such foods as jelly and stewed prunes.

Scouts Plant Forest

Ninety Scouts from fourteen Scout Troops in Kitchener and North Waterloo in Ontario, recently added 5,000 trees to their Scout forest in Eramosa Township. The Scout Association purchased the land and is reforesting it over a period of years with the co-operation of the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests.

Wings Over Canada

By Russell L. Gibson and Robert Reeds

Victory in Europe has naturally raised a storm of questions about the resumption of various kinds of civilian production, and those questions have also included airplanes.

* * *

The questions, of course, bring up the whole question once more of what will happen to Canada's huge aircraft building industry and the 120,000 workers who owe their living to it.

* * *

The Fairchild aircraft plant in Montreal may have an answer to a big part of the problem. Until a short time ago busy on war planes, the Fairchild plant is now turning out pre-fabricated, knock-down houses, complete with linoleum laid on the floors and all painting done.

* * *

Judging by reports of devastation in Europe together with the fact that Canada's lumber resources are still among the world's largest, there should be plenty of demand for such houses, if they can be made cheaply enough, and if ways can be found to pay for them. Dozens of other big aircraft plans such as Boeing on the West Coast, Canadian Car and Foundry at Fort William, Victory at Toronto, might also be used successfully for the same purpose.

* * *

Right at this moment there are only three aircraft plants in Canada capable of immediately turning out useful post-war planes. One is the former Canadian Vickers plant in Montreal busily preparing to produce four-motored DC4's under licence to Douglas in California. These are to be built for Trans-Canada Airlines.

* * *

The other two plants are Noorduyn Aviation in Montreal and Cub Aircraft in Hamilton. Noorduyn is still busy making Norseman transports, a Canadian-designed plane ideal for bush flying. The Norseman is still being built and will continue for some time to be built for military uses in the Pacific. There will be a definite market for this plane all over the world after the war too.

* * *

Most aviation experts, however, figure that 85 percent of the industry's future will be in making private planes, lighter, cheaper types for you and I. Already there are several designs which will carry two or three people and which will potentially cost less to fly than an automobile to drive.

* * *

So far, however, only one make, Cub, has been made and sold in Canada. During the war Cub has been busy overhauling heavier military trainers, and even now has contracts to keep it going for the rest of the year on sub-assemblies for Mosquitos for the Far East.

* * *

But jigs and tools are ready for immediate resumption of civilian production and so there will be new light civilian planes the moment Ottawa says to go ahead. That may be by the time this reaches plint, and already orders are on hand. The Jordan Wine Co. in St. Catherines, for instance, has ordered a plane for its executives. It will more than pay for itself in time saved, the company figures.

* * *

How soon other Canadian factories will start building light planes is a big question mark. Certainly it won't be on a big scale until we have far more landing facilities and places to fly to.

Scouts Start Museum

Boy Scouts of Kelowna B.C., have been responsible for the founding of a Museum in Kelowna. Already over 4,000 articles of historical and other interest have been gathered together. The museum is located in the hayloft of a barn for the time being. The collection includes Indian relics, collections of butterflies, birds' eggs, mounted birds and animals, souvenirs of the present war, cap badges of Canadian regiments and many other items. It is expected that the city will eventually take over the venture.

SPORTS COLLEGE AT NEW TIME

Recently at the CBC's west coast headquarters in Vancouver it was announced that the popular Saturday afternoon Sports College program has been moved to a more convenient time for B.C. listeners.

It will be carried at 5.45 Pacific time over Trans-Canada and Dominion networks, being heard locally over station CKOV Kelowna.

British Invention For Flying Boats

LONDON.—A new British invention, the "Waterdrome" will make landing from flying-boats as comfortable for passengers as stepping out of a train.

The waterdrome is equivalent to an airport building and hangar in one. It will eliminate the present need for taxi-ing across choppy water and transferring passengers to and from a motor-launch.

The waterdrome would be built at the edge of a constant-level lagoon or a stretch of sea sheltered by a breakwater.

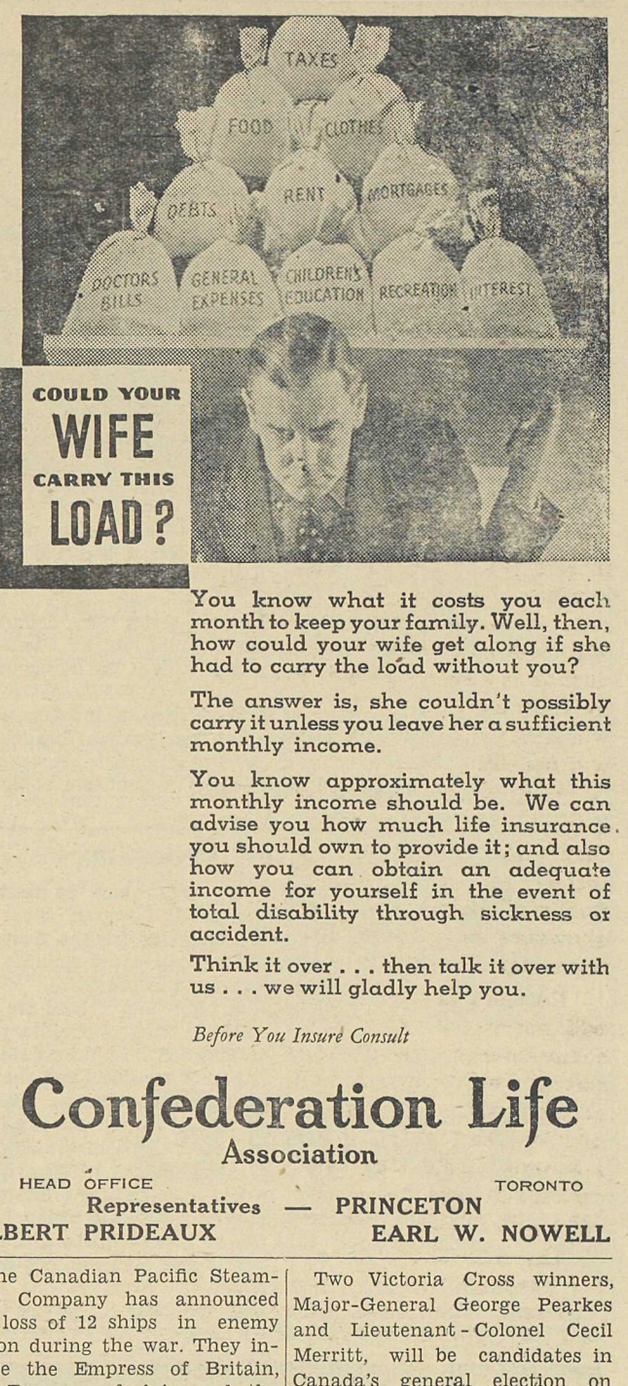
By means of a special device the flying-boat, after it lands, is drawn into the hangar and trolleys are run through the shallow water to the hull to take off passengers.

A travelling crane in the roof of the hangar lifts mail and freight direct from the flying-boat's hull and transfers it to vehicles waiting nearby.

It is planned to equip the waterdrome with bookstalls, shops, and restaurants.

A Sturdy Lifeboat

LONDON—Many allied airmen owe their lives to the perfection of a sturdy lifeboat which can be carried by air and dropped by parachute to crews who have been forced to come down in the sea. The lifeboats, which are equipped with both engines and sail, are capable of travelling considerable distances, and they carry provisions, first-aid equipment, radio, and methods of attracting the attention of would-be rescuers.



You know what it costs you each month to keep your family. Well, then, how could your wife get along if she had to carry the load without you?

You know approximately what this monthly income should be. We can advise you how much life insurance you should own to provide it; and also how you can obtain an adequate income for yourself in the event of total disability through sickness or accident.

Think it over . . . then talk it over with us . . . we will gladly help you.

The Canadian Pacific Steamship Company has announced the loss of 12 ships in enemy action during the war. They include the Empress of Britain, the Empress of Asia and the Empress of Canada taken over by the government for war purposes.

Two Victoria Cross winners, Major-General George Pearkes and Lieutenant-Colonel Cecil Merritt, will be candidates in Canada's general election on June 11. General Pearkes won his V. C. in World War I; Colonel Merritt his at Dieppe.

Dear Consolidated— I want to be an Anode Caster—

Some months ago this Company sent a questionnaire to each of its 2400 former employees who have joined the armed forces. The men were asked whether they intended to return to Consolidated after the war, what kind of work they would like best to do, what technical training gained in the service they would like to use in peacetime, and other personal questions. Here are some interesting facts resulting from the questionnaire:

62.5 PER CENT replied—an excellent response under war conditions.

97.3 PER CENT of those who replied wished to return to their employment with the Company.

62.8 PER CENT of these wished to come back to the same job.

29.4 PER CENT stated their desire to try a different kind of work with the Company.

These figures will prove of utmost value to the Company in its plans to aid returning employees. Every effort will be made to establish each man in the type of work he prefers, with placement in a position equivalent to that which he would have attained if he had remained at home.

The problems of caring for returned veterans, including those disabled, will be complex and difficult, but Consolidated willingly accepts its full share of this burden, realizing that industry must co-operate with the Government to ensure the success of Canada's rehabilitation programme.

AN OLD MILL FOR A HOME

Writer and commentator Arthur L. Phelps may not see much of his unusual summer home, pictured here, now that he has gone to Montreal to join the staff of CBC's International Service.

In search of material for his recent series "The Canadian Pattern", Mr. Phelps came across this old mill at Chaffey's Lock in a quiet Ontario valley, and bought it for his summer home.

Mr. Phelps is supervisor of United Kingdom and Commonwealth broadcasts, with his office at the Montreal headquarters of the CBC's International Service. Programs are beamed world-wide over the CBC's short-wave transmitters at Sackville, N. B.

Military Call-Up — New Procedure

The Minister of Labour, after conferring with the Minister of National Defence by telephone, announces that the following decisions have been made in respect to "call ups" for the Army:

(1) On and after this date, call-ups for the Army are suspended.

(2) Arrangements have been made that volunteers will be enrolled for the war in the Pacific and there will be an opportunity for any men who wish to do so to volunteer for this service.

(3) Any men ordered for medical examination who were due to report prior to May 7, 1945, must do so and be medically examined; however, those who are found fit for the Army will not be called for military service for the present.

(4) Any men who have been called to report for military duty on May 7 or on a prior date, who have not reported and are consequently delinquent, must do so and if found medically fit will be enrolled in the Army.

(5) Any men who have been called to report for military service on a date after May 7, 1945, will be given transportation and sent home and will not be enrolled for Army service unless they volunteer for service in the Pacific.

Department Re-Organization

George P. Melrose, Assistant Chief Forester, has been appointed Assistant Deputy Minister of Lands in connection with the re-organization that is taking place in the Forestry Branch of the Lands Department becoming a separate department. The promotion of Mr. Melrose to this new position has involved other changes in personnel. C. C. Ternan, assistant district forester in Vancouver, has been promoted to the post of assistant to Chief Forester.

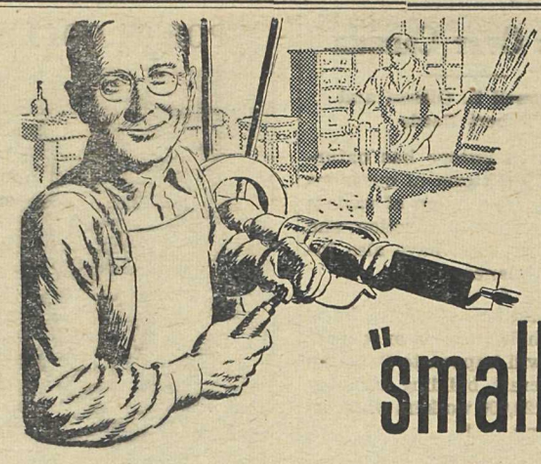
K. C. McCannel, assistant district forester in Nelson, will succeed Mr. Ternan in Vancouver while Mark Gormley of Vancouver, will proceed to Nelson to take over Mr. McCannel's position.

Canada to Co-operate

The Canadian Boy Scout Movement is to co-operate in the formation of an Inter-American Committee on Scouting, and John A. Stiles, Chief Executive Commissioner for Canada, has been named the Dominion's representative on the Provisional Committee which is scheduled to meet at Caracas, Venezuela, in December. The formation of the new committee, which is to include all South and Central American countries, with the United States and Canada, is to bring all Scouting methods on this continent into line with the principles laid down by the founder of the Movement, Lord Baden-Powell of Gilwell.

Chief Scout, Belgium

Lord Rowallon, recently appointed Chief Scout of the British Empire and Commonwealth, attended a great rally of Scouts in Belgium on St. George's Day. Despite the fact that Scouting was outlawed by the German occupation authorities, Scout membership grew in Belgium in leaps and bounds during the occupation. Boy Scouts played an important part in underground activities.



"small business" ISN'T SO SMALL!

Ordinarily one Canadian in every six gainfully employed, earns his livelihood in a "small business." It may be a farm, a store or a lumber-yard; an architect's office or a service station. Taken together, these individual enterprises provide a very substantial part of Canada's total jobs—must continue to do so after the war.

No fewer than 94 out of every hundred establishments in the manufacturing, wholesale, retail and services fields are small, employing less than 15 people. Together they employ 37% of all the workers engaged in these classes of business.

(From 1941 census)

During the years ahead many people who dropped small business for war reasons will want to return to their accustomed or new ways of making a living. Thus old businesses will be revived. Many new ones will be started by returned men and people now in war industries. The commercial banks will do their part to afford assurance that no sound credit requirement need be left unserved in the field of small business.

As such businesses grow, they create additional job openings; that has been the pattern of Canadian enterprises. Most large companies began in a small way. And practically all could name some bank which played a part in their growth by providing the loans they needed to finance their day-to-day operations.

Your bank stands ready to serve businesses, small or large, well established or just starting out. Banks do not initiate such businesses—but they do furnish necessary working capital and many other forms of banking service.

Want to Bet On Another Shell Game?

In the well-known shell game, three half shells are used and a pea is placed under one of them. After swiftly moving the half shells about on his table the operator offers the bystanders a bet on the location of the pea.

All the time it is in the curved little finger of the operator's hand.

In the political arena, Prime Minister Mackenzie King has achieved an unenviable position as the most adept shell game operator in Canadian history.

Time after time Canadians have voted for one thing and have found they really got something else—or in most cases nothing.

On June 11, Mr. King and what remains of his following are going to invite you to make another bet.

REHABILITATION

Subject of Vital Importance To Canadians

AS a Veteran of the last War, one who learned about Rehabilitation the hard way as a Soldier Settler under the S.S.B., I am vitally interested in seeing that the men and women who return from this War receive a square deal.

The Liberal Government has enacted legislation to provide a generous and comprehensive scheme for rehabilitation of the returning Veterans, including gratuities, re-establishment credits, educational grants, vocational training and the Veterans' Land Act. Altogether One Billion Dollars will be expended under these plans. In the application of these schemes, particularly in the development of land settlement projects, there will be plenty of opportunity for a Federal member to be of service to Veterans in ironing out snags, overcoming official red tape and generally promoting the welfare of Veterans.

I pledge my word that I will do all in my power, if elected to represent Yale Riding, to advance the cause of the Ex-service men and women of Canada.

Liberal Working Plan

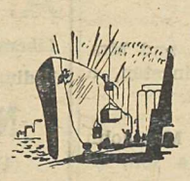
for Full Post-War Employment...

For Veterans—$750,000,000 to get them started in good paying jobs in industry, on the land or in business for themselves as each of them chooses.

Housing—$400,000,000 to finance the biggest building scheme this country has ever known.

Family Allowances—$250,000,000 a year to lessen the burdens of parenthood and to equalize the opportunities of young Canadians for success and happiness.

Export Credits—We've got to have exports if we're going to have jobs. Your Liberal Government has arranged to finance war-wrecked countries who will be good customers later.



Industrial Development Bank—Your Liberal Government has set up machinery to help enterprising Canadians develop new business.

Farm Loans—One man in every three in Canada works on the farm. To help them get better equipment, your Liberal Government has arranged that they can borrow the money they need for better working and living conditions.

Floor Prices—The Liberal Government's policy is that when farmers and fishermen prosper, so do other Canadians. It has therefore taken action to put a floor under the prices of farm and fishery products.

Reduction of Taxes—Your Liberal Government believes in jobs first. To this end, taxes will come down to free spending power.

These are just some of many steps in the Liberal Government's Working Plan to ensure full employment after the war. In addition it has stimulated tremendous private savings in Victory Bonds and War Savings Certificates; put through Unemployment Insurance, set up a special Department of Reconstruction staffed by experts. In fact all its policies are directed to the same end—a "high and stable level of employment and income."

JOBS! Jobs with bright futures for the young men and women coming out of the Armed Services with the best part of their lives before them! Jobs for all! Jobs with big prospects and good, reliable money that will keep its buying power! After all the hard work, sacrifice and self-discipline which has brought us through the war, the people of this country have earned a brighter future in a better, juster, grander Canada than we have ever known!

LOOK how much Canadians have accomplished, here on the home front, even without the energy and initiative of all the vigorous young people now in uniform, and their zest for daring! What is there Canada can't do with them back on the home team? Why, with their help, we Canadians are headed full speed for the greatest period in our history!

THE all-important question today is the civilian staff-work and leadership which we call "government." The Liberals have a working plan. It's big and bold! Parts of it are outlined for your judgment in the left-hand column. It has been designed with the aid of the keenest minds in every phase of industry, agriculture, labour and learning. The plan will work. In fact it is already bringing results. It will continue to do so! The Liberals can tell you this with confidence because they have had successful experience in operating nation-wide plans.

VOTE for your Liberal candidate. Make sure the team which made this plan for full employment shall see it through—and win the peace!

John Bracken—~~The~~ Worker

When, on December the 11th, 1942, John Bracken accepted the leadership of a great progressive people's party, he did not proceed to enumerate outworn planks in an out-of-date political platform. Instead, in clear ringing tones and with admirable clarity he described in detail what he aptly termed "The People's Charter."

He might just as aptly have called it "The Worker's Charter." For when John Bracken speaks of the People he means the Working People. He means workers . . . ordinary, everyday people who labour for their daily bread. So that when orators glibly refer to the "masses" it is quite incomprehensible to this son of the soil. To him they are individuals whom he knows, understands, likes and, above all, wishes to help. They are, indeed, the only people this working farmer knows at all intimately.

The moment you meet John Bracken you know that you are in the presence of a practical man — a Worker. The lean face, the strong hands, even the lined face speak of open air toil, of long years of labour, the daily chore, the weariness, the insufficient rewards.

And if you want to find one single, all-comprehending reason why John Bracken, for more than twenty years, was able to retain unchallenged the Premiership of Manitoba, here it is:—The people—the workers—recognized him as one of themselves, devoted above all else to their interests.

And now — listen to John Bracken — the Worker . . . "The people are confused and concerned. They remember the poverty and unemployment of prewar days. They want assurance that the poverty — the insecurity — will not return. They have hoped and seen their hopes disappointed" and they are "suffering from a feeling of immense frustration . . .

"They are looking for a lead . . . they are waiting for some positive assurance of post-war security . . . And when they think of security they mean — jobs at adequate pay — insurance against the risks of illness, old age, accident and unemployment. They mean a society in which they can have faith that economic justice will obtain."

Then, speaking of his own vital, resurgent people's party John Bracken adds:—"We are out to make it the party of the ordindry man, in every walk of life, who demands that human welfare shall become the primary objective of the nation's economy."

FOR LABOUR— A NEW FEDERAL CODE

"The accomplishment of Labour's purpose will not be found in the regimentation of State Socialism. Canadian workers will do far better for themselves . . . to create a dynamic enterprise wherein, through their collective bargaining agencies, Labour may receive fair wages and an improved standard of living . . . Profits can be taxed, but a monopoly of power in the hands of a political group is impossible to control . . . Any government of which I am leader will see to it that Labour becomes a partner in enterprise and enjoys its rights . . ."

John Bracken

John Bracken believes that the rights of Labour can best be secured under a system of private competitive enterprise. He accepts and endorses the opinion expressed on this point by William Green, President of the A.F. of L., and Phillip Murray, President of the C.I.O., who stated on March 28th, 1945:

"The rights of private property and free choice of action, under a system of private competitive capitalism, must continue to be the function of our nation's peaceful and prosperous expanding economy. Free competition and free men are the strength of our free society."

To make these rights real and effective the Progressive Conservative Party will establish a National Development Board to include labour, agriculture, business and government.

The Board will have the responsibility of working out terms for full production and employment as well as the preservation of our natural resources and the construction of projects in the public interest.

The National Development Board will have power to encourage the establishment for each industry of an Industry Council, composed of representatives of labour, management and agriculture, as the case requires, to assist in the formulation and application of plans for full production and full employment in such industry.

√Minimum Wages.

√Maximum Hours of Work.

√Equal pay for equal work and equality of opportunity and treatment in other respects for men and women workers.

√Minimum age of employment.

√Holidays with pay.

√Extension of Labour - Management Committees.

We shall provide a uniform and comprehensive security plan for all Canadians including—

√Retirement pensions.

√Increased old age pensions at age 65.

Where social services are administered provincially, we shall provide grants large enough to ensure adequate standards of social security to all Canadians.

We shall ensure representation for Labour on Government Boards and Commissions. Important wartime wage orders and Labour relations codes shall be enacted by Parliament, not by Order-in-Council.

By these and many other progressive measures, the Progressive Conservative Party will ensure to Labour, as a partner in progressive enterprise, its full rights and responsibilities in achieving prosperity for all Canadians.
