Hope-Princeton Highway Progress

More than thirty major highway projects are under construction exclusive of all minor improvements and maintenance of roads, bridges and ferries and protection works, it was announced jointly by Premier John Hart and the Honourable E. C. Carson, Minister of Public Works.

The Hope-Princeton Highway is the second largest project of the Public Works' undertakings and involves the construction and reconstruction of eighty-one miles. The work is very heavy indeed, especially the section through the Cascade Range.

Section "A" extends from Hope to Skaist River at Mile 28. The contractors on this section have made a very determined effort to complete as much work as possible this year. By November 30 there is every chance that they will have completed 40 percent of the work. Since they have opened up the work in so many places, it is not possible to set out the progress in miles. A well equipped force is now attacking the very heavy rock section along and approaching the Skagit Bluffs. As winter approaches, they will attack unfinished sections nearer to Hope.

Section "B" extends from Skaist River to Princeton, a distance of 53 miles. This is lighter work than Section A but is relatively heavy as compared to most highway work. It is quite probable that by November 30, clearing, culverts and grading will be completed from Copper Creek to Princeton, a distance of 30 miles and a good start made on the work west of Copper Creek.

Of the total yardage to be moved, the record stands to date for both sections: Solid rock: estimated quantities, 618,600; excavated to date, 145,000. Other materials: est. quantities, 3,112,500; excavated to date, 670,000.

On both sections the crushing of gravel surfacing is well in hand and delivery on the road has already started.

OBITUARY

Robert McKelvie

Funeral services were held under Canadian Legion auspices from St. Paul's United Church on Monday for Mr. Robert McKelvie, who passed away in the Princeton General Hospital on Thursday, September 12. Mr. McKelvie had been in failing health for some time, and the end was not unexpected. He was 57 years old on the 6th of this month. Interment was in the Princeton Cemetery, Princeton Mortuary in charge of arrangements. Following the committal service, A. D. C. Washington, president of the local branch of the Canadian Legion, conducted the simple, but impressive rites accorded to Legion members, and Bugler William Burton sounded the Last Post.

Born in Ayrshire, Scotland, Mr. McKelvie was a tailor by trade, and came to reside in Canada in 1910. He had been resident in Princeton since July, 1921, and for many years followed his trade, working here with his uncle, Hugh McConnell.

Mr. McKelvie was widely known, and enjoyed a large circle of friends. When war was declared in 1914, he volunteered for service overseas with the Canadian forces, serving with No. 1 Company in the Royal Canadian Engineers. He saw service in France, where he was wounded, and on his return to Canada became an active and valued member of the returned veterans' organization. Mrs. McKelvie died some years ago. He is survived by one daughter, Cynthia, Mrs. John Masters, Montreal; his uncle, Mr. H. McConnell, Princeton; and other relatives in the Old Land.

Edward A. Anderson

Residents of Princeton were shocked to learn that Edward Adolph Anderson had died suddenly, following a heart attack early Saturday morning. He had apparently been in the best of health, and no warning signs had preceded his sudden end. Funeral services, largely attended, were held from St. Paul's United Church on Tuesday afternoon. Interment was in the family plot, in Princeton cemetery Oddfellows' section, Princeton Mortuary in charge of arrangements. The time-honoured rites of the Oddfellows' Lodge followed the graveside service. A wealth of floral tributes testified to the esteem in which the deceased was held.

Mr. Anderson was born in Kurina, Sweden, on October 4, 1892. Coming to Canada in 1906, he had lived here ince 1910. His residence was on Harold Avenue. Recently he was in the service of the Granby Company. He is survived by his wife; one son, Ralph; one daughter, Ne-Alma; and brother, Frank.

Mr. Anderson was an Oddfellow of long standing. Few men were blessed with a wider circle of friends. In everything he undertook to do, his enthusiasm was always a tonic. Whatever he did, whether in his daily work, in the realm of sport or in the lodge room, he did with his whole heart.

For a number of years he was president of the Princeton Ski Club, which he represented on many occasions at ski zone gatherings. He was a leading figure in organizing ski meets here, and the success of these was due largely to his ability in getting people to work together for a common end.

The sympathy of all who live here, and of many friends elsewhere, is extended to Mrs. Anderson and the members of the family in the great loss they have sustained.

Lew Hop King

One of our local Chinamen passed away on Tuesday in the Princeton General Hospital, where he had been ill for many weeks. He was Lew Hop King, better known to Princeton residents as "You Buy". He will be remembered as a kindly soul, who sold his wares with Oriental patience, one who returned again and again with the same request "You buy". In this greeting there was always the suggestion of a question mark. Well, perhaps tomorrow.

"You Buy" was born in China about 70 years ago, and had lived in Similkameen some thirty-odd years. It is believed that he is survived by his wife and family in China. Funeral services were held this afternoon, conducted by members of the local Chinese community. Interment was in the Chinese section of the local cemetery, Princeton Mortuary in charge of arrangements.

Goodbye, "You Buy"!

Standard Time Resumed Saturday, Sept. 28, Midnight

This is to advise all who live in Similkameen that STANDARD TIME will be resumed at MIDNIGHT, Saturday, September 28. Put back your clocks ONE HOUR on this date, and you will have the right time from then on.

Jimmy Pringle To Play Cribb At Nanoose Bay

After taking a long time to make up his mind, Jimmy Pringle has finally made the plunge. He left here yesterday for Nanoose Bay, where he has undertaken to lick Dr. McCaffrey at cribb. The opponents will be evenly matched. The stakes are heavy, and we wait anxiously the result. Perhaps they will play for the return ticket to Princeton. What then?

Highway Motors At Your Service in New Management

The Princeton Highway Motors, at the corner of Bridge and Fenchurch Sts., opposite Ewart's store, has been sold to Al. Williams and George Smyth of Haney, B.C., transfer becoming effective immediately. The present repair and service station was opened by Messrs. T. Jenner and T. Hancox in March, 1945, who wish to thank all their customers for their patronage, and would bespeak for their successors the same happy relationships, and continued patronage.

The new proprietors will take over at once. Mr. Williams has had years of experience with the Haney Garage, and Mr. Smyth has recently been discharged from the R.C.A.F. In the well equipped shop which they have acquired they will be able to maintain the high level of service to which patrons have been accustomed.

Harvey Murphy Addresses Meeting In Elks' Hall

On Friday night in the Princeton Elks Hall, Harvey Murphy, leader of B.C. hard-rock miners in their fight for higher wages and union security, addressed a public meeting. In the course of his address he referred to the wartime controls endured by the miners for the sake of ultimate victory in the war against Germany and Japan. He was emphatic that the 44 hour week should be applied to hardrock miners as well as to other industries in the province. "Only backward mentality", he declared, "makes some ask what the miners will do with their spare time, if the 44 hour week is granted."

He denied that higher wages was the main cause of higher living costs, and maintained that price controls had been lifted while wage controls remained. "Canada, with all its controls, never had profit controls."

"The hardrock miners in Canada never won a strike yet", he said, and attributed this to the lack of organization, and believing that the present strike would be won.

Rev. H. E. D. Ashford Revisits Princeton

En route from Vancouver to Penticton, Rev. H. E. D. Ashford stopped over in Princeton on Tuesday. Mr. Ashford is now field secretary for the United Church missionary and maintenance fund, and covers the four western provinces.

After visiting many friends during the day he was supper guest at Mrs. W. S. Garrison's, and at 8 o'clock was present at a reception held in his honour at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Butler. Mr. Ashford told of his personal experiences as a missionary, and as a member of the R.C.A.F., and also of the work of the United Church at home and abroad.

Keremeos Trumpet

Ron Campbell is in Vancouver on business.

Stan Turnill of Vancouver was a caller here Tuesday.

Constable and Mrs. Barry Haynes are on holidays.

Mrs. Merta Stewart of Vancouver was a recent visitor here.

Many local hunters were out Sunday roaming the hills for venison.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Carey of Rock Creek spent the week end here.

A good time was had by all at the Firemens Ball on Friday night.

Rev. Max Warne attended the Teen Town convention in Penticton over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Mattice of Parksville, V.I., are back in Keremeos for the picking season.

Apple picking is well under way again. Tomatoes and cantaloupe are still coming in.

Seven new members were initiated at a recent meeting by the Keremeos Lodge, B.P.O.E.

Nine hundred ration books were distributed here. The ladies did an excellent job but ran short of books.

The new rock crusher is now in operation in Keremeos with promise of more hard surface road between Keremeos and Hedley.

Mrs. Clarence Reid left for her home in Vancouver after spending a holiday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. McGuffie.

Van's Dairy recently installed a new milking machine. They milk two cows at one time and is both sanitary and a labor saver.

Jim Young left Monday night on holidays. He will visit his parents at Kamloops. Ed. Dickson of Princeton is relieving him at the local Bank.

The Keremeos packing house workers recently voted to join the Federation of Fruit and Vegetable Union, C.C.L. Elected presndent is Cliff Evans; vice-president, Walter Gemmel; secretary-treasurer, Alice Miller. Other executive members, Floyd McCord, Mildred McCord, Art Reimsche, June Halliday and Mrs. Ben Brown.

Miss Josephine Walker, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Walker of Quadra Island, was recently united in marriage to Donald Huntley, second son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Huntley of Oliver. Bridesmaid was Miss Phyllis Walner of Toronto. Rev. Mr. Stobie of Penticton officiated. A reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McClaren Clarke, Keremeos.

Hank Egli is staging another boxing show on Friday, Sept. 20th. Hank is getting very lively support on this athletic endeavor. Garney Willis donated money for a set of gloves. This is sponsored by the B.P.O. Elks Longe. In the coming show, Hank, former Golden Glove winner will put on an exhibition bout with Ole Johnson of Westbank, ex-army champ. Also on the same card is Ernie Girbov vs. Clarence Walker, Vernon Golden Glove champ.

BOARD OF TRADE

The regular monthly meetings of the Princeton Board of Trade will be resumed next Monday. During the summer months any emergent business was handled by the executive. Now, with the resumption of regular meetings, the members will again have their say in all questions that come up for discussion.

Mr. Gregory, President of the Board, intimates that there are many important questions coming up for discussion, and it is hoped that a full attendance will be on hand on Monday night at the supper gathering in the Traellers' Hall.

Princeton is still in the formative stage, and the citizens of today have in their hands the making of the town of tomorrow. In the absence of any municipal body the Board must assume many of the functions that would otherwise be referred to the City Hall.

INFORMATION DIVISION DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

Unemployment Insurance Fund

The amount to the credit of the Unemployment Insurance Fund at July 31, 1946, was $328,304,394.84, according to a statement released recently by the Unemployment Insurance Commission. The Fund is made up of contributions by employees, employers and the Dominion Government.

Since the creation of the fund at July 1, 1941, the amount of $303,617,954.17 has been contributed by employers and employes, while the Dominion Government has contributed an additional one-fifth of the amount paid by workers and employers, as required under the Unemployment Insurance Act: Government contributions to the Fund amounted to $60,723,590.83 up to July 31, 1946.

In addition to the three-way contribution, the Fund has benefited by interest on investments and profit on sale of securities to a total of $20,661,717.19, since it was established. The total sum paid into the Fund up to July 31, 1946, was $385,003,262.19. All funds received for unemployment insurance purposes are invested in Dominion Government securities by an investment committee appointed under the Act.

Disbursements for benefit payments have amounted to $56,698,867.35 since benefits first became payable near the end of January, 1942. Benefit payments for calendar years to date have been: 1942 — $349,655.94; 1943—$929,219.33; 1944—$3,265,707.67; 1945—$14,561,475.71; and 1946 (first seven months) — $37,592,808.70.

Under the Unemployment Insurance Act, the Dominion Government pays all costs of administering unemployment insurance and the National Employment Service, in addition to its direct payment into the Fund. This means that no expenses of management in connection with unemployment insurance are charged to the Fund.—(C).

BANK CREDIT BRIDGES THE FINANCIAL GAP

Every day, business firms make use of bank loans to keep men working, machines running, goods flowing. This bank credit may be used to meet continuing expenses while goods are being processed; to build up stocks of raw materials; to purchase component parts. As finished goods reach the market and payment is received, the loan is repaid.

Enterprising farmers, fishermen, merchants—all make similar use of bank credit to meet their short-term financial needs. Thus your bank helps Canadians maintain steady operations—to take advantage of market opportunities both at home and abroad—to grow. And this, in turn means more work, more goods, a higher standard of living for you and for every Canadian.

The List That Shows Who and Where

If you are an EATON customer there is a stencil of your name and address at EATON'S Mail Order in Winnipeg. Your stencil, with hundreds of thousands of others, makes up the mailing list. Space is a problem, but the hard job is keeping this list up to date. It would be easy if people just remained the same; but they grow up, marry, die and about 7,000 of them move to new addresses every month. To keep track of all these changes requires the time of a large staff. YOU can help, too, by notifying us of any change of address. All this work is done so that EATON'S customers receive EATON'S Catalogue regularly.

INDIAN SUMMER IN CANADA'S NATIONAL PARKS

"Indian Summer" is a term which has become part of the English language and is freely used throughout the English-speaking world. Yet its origin is something of a mystery. This delightful Canadian season which was perhaps first known as "Second Summer" appears to have been foretold to the earliest white settlers by native Indians. This might account for its being named "Indian Summer".

Until the advent of this "extra season" many amateur weather prophets will assure you that summer has merely taken a short vacation and will be back again before the arrival of "Old Man Winter". While "Indian Summer is an unpredictable phenomenon, not usually forecast by the weatherman, there is no mistaking its actual arrival, but its duration may vary from year to year. Unlike the "Chinook winds" which blow down from the western mountains, warming the valleys and melting the prairie snows, there is generally an absence of wind during this "celestial period. It is usually characterized by days of quiet, mild weather accompanied in some parts of Canada by a hazy atmosphere in daytime and clear, crisp nights.

Whatever may be said about "Indian Summer" it is the general consensus that autumn in Canada is in many ways the most agreeable as well as the most invigorating period of the year for out-of-door recreation. This is particularly true of autumn in the national parks. After the first few light frosts decidious trees don their mantle of brilliant foliage. The woods along the park highways become a riot of colour — orange, gold, green, crimson, and many other widely variegated combinations which nature blends into a harmonious pattern for its own special fall showing. Wildlife, no doubt sensing the approach of winter, is more active than usual and more easily seen. Big game animals, which are one of the chief attractions of many of these parks, are more easily detected as they move about and rustle the dead leaves. The park highways and byways are less busy at this time of year, and the cool, crisp autumn air makes cycling, hiking, and riding more enjoyable than ever. When the day's activity is over, evening around the camp stove or camp fire can become a most enjoyable and comfortable experience and develop many pleasant memories. The canoeist can paddle farther now and can select many trips that would have been rather tedious during the heat of summer. Fish are biting well and there is an absence of mosquitoes and other annoying insects. Migratory birds are restless and are more in evidence as they prepare for their southward flight for the winter. There are generally greater opportunities for undisturbed nature study, photography, and sightseeing.

Much has been written about the vivid beauty of the Canadian landscape in autumn, but it is only by getting into the open, exploring the woods and streams, the lakes and mountains, the roads and trails through valleys painted with nature's glorious autumn colorings, that one can truly appreciate the spirit of this season and feel the thrill of its magic spell. The enjoyment derived from a trip through the national parks of Canada in autumn is an experience that will not easily be forgotten.

LETTER to EDITOR

Peachland, B.C.,
Sept. 12, 1946.

Dear Sir:

While in Princeton last week end, we lost a kitten from in the car; it was parked across the street from the Princeton Hotel, near the Liquor store. My black army cap disappeared at the same time — it had a Fort Garry Horse cap badge on it.

The kitten was a Persian, smoke colored, almost blue, I suppose it would be called. He was poisoned when quite young, and doesn't have the proper use of his rear quarters.

If there is any way you could help us in getting him returned it would be greatly appreciated. We will give a reward for his return. If found, have him shipped to C. Inglis, city clerk, Peachland, and they will take care of him until we come to town. We are of the opinion he was stolen as he had never left the car before.

Thanking you in advance.
Respectfully yours,
Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rowland.

"You can't tell me anything about shortages," said Mr. Building Contractor. "I am having trouble getting about everything from nails to bathtubs. The situation is general."

"That's just the point we are trying to make," said Mr. Telephone Man. "We, too, are having trouble getting material and equipment of various kinds. We don't like it any more than anyone else does, and we'll welcome the day when waiting lists for service will disappear."

A Recreation that developes Skill

BILLIARDS promotes sportsmanship and skill. If you see a man with a keen eye and an optimistic outlook on life, it's a safe bet he's just played a game of billiards on our modern Brunswick equipment.

A Gentleman's Game

"On Anxiety Street there are plenty of neighbours."

"It's mighty decent of you, Harry, to take young Bill to school while I'm on my back," said Don.

"Yes, it's a real neighbourly act," his wife added.

"Think nothing of it," said Harry. "They say, you know, that on Anxiety Street there are plenty of neighbours. Certainly I've learned a lot about being neighbourly from the business I'm in."

Harry's business . . . the life insurance business . . . is founded on that very thing. It comes to the aid of anxious people in time of trouble or bereavement. Four million people have found that the surest way to peace of mind for themselves and their loved ones is to pool their savings and share in the benefits of a fund which pays out more than half a million dollars every working day to policyholders and beneficiaries.

Life insurance was designed to provide protection for the people through the people's thrift. During the war years its payments to policyholders and beneficiaries in Canada amounted to over One Billion Dollars. Thirty Million Dollars of these payments went to beneficiaries of those who had died on Active Service overseas.

Near you is a life insurance agent. Ask him for advice in planning your future. It is good citizenship to own life insurance.

MODERATION

Because we are a moderate people, Canada has come through the war with perhaps the least dislocation of any nation actively involved. That is a remarkable tribute both to the overall policies of our Government and to the fundamental wisdom of the Canadian people.

And it holds out a glorious promise for the future.

But to make that promise come true in the days ahead we shall have to continue to live up to our principles of moderation. We shall have to continue to think, act and live—moderately.

To give in to the natural desire for immediate enjoyment of everything and anything presently in short supply can result only in inflation and disaster.

This is not our way.

The House of Seagram suggests that each day's enjoyment be moderate so that the rich promise of Canada's tomorrow can be fulfilled . . . to the full.
