The audio-visual presentation will be given in the Mildred Brock Room of Brock Hall; signs posted at the entrances show how to get there.

PREVENT ROUND SHOULDERS, HELP ELIMINATE THAT NAGGING BACK-ACHE, AND MAKE A FRIEND OF A FILER:

Would any division having control of spare high stools (approx. 30 inches) be good enough to lend or donate them to Catalogue Maintenance? Claudia Kerr will welcome them in the interests of humanity.

LIBRARY TOUR FOR CLA VISITORS:

On Thursday, June 24th, at 3:00 p.m. some 29 librarians attending the CLA Conference visited the UBC Library system. The Information and Orientation Division had prepared a varied programme for the guests. Librarians from Humanities, Social Sciences, Science, and Government Publications took many of the visitors on a fast-paced general tour of the Main Library. Volunteers from Circulation and Reading Rooms escorted guests to individual library divisions and branches, where they were treated to more specialized tours. Following the tours the visiting librarians were entertained at a hospitality hour arranged by Walter Harrington at the Faculty Club.

In conjunction with the tours I. & O. arranged a meeting of those academic librarians at CLA who were interested in library instruction. Fifteen guests met with Elsie de Bruijn for an informal discussion of orientation problems and techniques. Later Mrs. de Bruijn showed the guests some of the instructional methods used by UBC Library.

I. & O. would like to thank the staff members who acted as guides, escorts and hosts and those who remained on call during the tours. There were fewer visitors than we had expected ...perhaps because of the rain, perhaps because it was so late in the conference week. But at 5:45 on Thursday the librarians who came were heard to remark that their visit to UBC had been "rewarding", and even "fun"!
