Harvard Calls Dean Curtis

Prof. George F. Curtis, Dean of the University of British Columbia's Faculty of Law, has been appointed Visiting Professor of Law at Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass., for the 1955-56 school year, UBC officials have disclosed.

During Dean Curtis' absence, Dr. Malcolm M. McIntyre will be Acting Dean of Law at the University. Dean Curtis will assume his Harvard duties about the middle of September and will teach "Contracts" and "International Income Tax Law" at the famous institution.

"We feel this is a signal honor to the University of British Columbia and to Dean Curtis," said UBC President N. A. M. MacKenzie. "This is one of the few occasions upon which Canadians have been invited to Harvard. It will mean an even more intimate association between our university, our Faculty and Harvard Law School than in the past."

Dean and Mrs. Curtis will travel abroad for two months this summer. He will attend the meeting of the United Kingdom Society of Public Teachers of Law in Edinburgh from July 13 to July 16 and will represent the Law Society of British Columbia and the Canadian Bar Association at the Commonwealth Law Conference in London, July 20-27. He will give a paper on legal reform at this meeting and will lecture to members of the English Speaking Union.

Frank Forward Honored By Metallurgical Group

Prof. Frank A. Forward, Head of the University of British Columbia's Department of Mining and Metallurgy, received International Nickel Company of Canada's platinum medal for "outstanding metallurgical achievement" in Toronto last month.

The award was presented at the annual dinner meeting of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy. More than 1,000 members present saluted Professor Forward with a standing ovation.

ACHIEVEMENTS

The Vancouver man was cited for his "outstanding achievements in the treatment of metalliferous ores, and particularly for his discovery and development of the leaching process for the extraction of nickel, copper and cobalt from the Lynn Lake ores of Sherritt Gordon mines."

Henry S. Wingate, Inco president, who made the presentation, remarked that when the award was established 13 years ago for outstanding metallurgical achievement, the donors had not anticipated that the day would come when a rival company would win distinction in the field of nickel metallurgy.

BEST AVAILABLE

"Inco," he said, "has combed the universities of the world to find the best brains available. Obviously, as Professor Forward has proved, we did not garner them all."

A committee appointed by the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy administers the Inco award.

Dr. Vladimir Okulich, Chairman of the Division of Geology, will teach Geo. 200 (General Geology) during summer session.

Faculty Summer Junkets Take Them Far And Wide

The "great trek" is underway. Travel, research and teaching assignments are calling University of B.C. faculty members and students far from the Point Grey campus.

Dr. N. A. M. MacKenzie leaves May 27 for a tour of Australia and New Zealand, made at the invitation of the Australian Universities. These institutions invite "a distinguished university man to visit Australia and to tour the Australian universities each year." Sir Charles Morris of the United Kingdom was their 1954 guest.

Dr. MacKenzie has also been invited to visit the Hebrew University in Jerusalem, and the universities of Alaska and Japan, but pressure of work at UBC has forced him to decline.

Dean and Mrs. Geoffrey Andrew leave May 18 for Europe. The President's Deputy will visit universities in England, France and Germany before he returns in August.

FROM FRENCH

Seven Department of French faculty members will leave the campus this summer for study abroad and for teaching assignments at other Canadian schools.

Dr. Lawrence L. Bongie, Dr. Gerard Tougas, Pierre Robert and Dr. Katherine Brearley will spend the summer in France. Dr. Bongie is taking a year's leave of absence from the University to continue studies abroad. He will do research on "David Hume's Influence on French Thought."
