Last Call at The old SUB

It's our last year in the Old SUB—your last chance to experience a piece of UBC life and UBC history.

Last call for catnaps (and makeouts) on couches older than you are. Last call for concerts in the SUB Ballroom, sneaking into the third floor penthouse, and living off the grid in the rooftop garden. Last call for rock climbing behind the Norm and holding all your meetings in windowless basement rooms. Last call to fight the man from your corner office with the Resource Groups. Last call to find Sherwood Lett's buried treasure, or Sheldon Goldfarb's original archive room. Last call to navigate the club hallways on a quest to rescue your baby half-brother from the Goblin King and his terrifying codpiece. And last call for Wednesday Pit nights and Thursday Gallery breakfasts.

Don't miss the call—we only have one more year.

AMS President's Message

Caroline Wong • SUB 238L
604.822.3972 • president@ams.ubc.ca

What do you learn at university?

The chemical changes during hydrolysis, international security and conflict management, or statistical analysis of economic data? What about plant physiology, or how to conjugate Italian verbs? But learning at UBC is so much more than lectures and labs.

UBC is learning how to prevent your umbrella from flipping inside out on a blustery day. It's making friends with someone from a country you've never heard of, or discovering all the shortcuts between Swing Space and Buchanan D. UBC is participating in the annual Undie Run, watching sunsets at Wreck beach, buying your groceries from the UBC Farm, getting sweaty at Pit Night, cheering on your Thunderbirds, Storming the Wall, attending international conferences, people-watching at IKB, and getting cozy with strangers on the 99 B-Line.

I want to share with you a secret that I've learned while studying here. Becoming an integral part of a community or forming your own is the key to making this big campus your own. Whether it's your undergraduate or graduate society, residence house, club, resource group, sorority, fraternity or intramural team, I urge you to build a support network and find your home away from home.

With only 131 days of classes, what and how you choose to spend your time in and out of the classroom will define your experience. There are so many opportunities for involvement, leadership and learning to help you become the person you want to be. If there isn't something here that interests you, create it. Whether you are beginning or continuing your studies, I challenge you to explore. Think about pushing yourself to meet and understand different people, study abroad, or even switch your major if you want to. You are enrolled in one of the most globally influential universities, with a diverse student population, in one of the most beautiful cities on Earth. UBC is your launch pad, so create your possibility.

Where do you start? With the AMS. The AMS is your student society, a non-profit organization that is the central representative of over 50,000 undergraduate and graduate students. We operate the Student Union Building, administer over 370 clubs, run 13 businesses and 12 services, host leading DJs and bands, and employ over 360 students. We run your student health and dental plan, support the incredibly successful U-Pass program, and we're building the most sustainable Student Union Building in Canada. I invite you to visit our website at www.ams.ubc.ca to learn more about your student society and find out how you can take advantage of all the AMS has to offer.

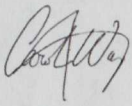
So what do you learn at UBC?

You learn to become a whole student. You learn to be someone who not only feeds their mind inside and outside the classroom, but also gains hands-on experience and develops a lifestyle that can carry on when you leave. At UBC, you can learn what you value, what drives you, and what gets you out of bed in the morning. And in April, I hope that you will be able to look back on this academic year, with its plans, surprises, achievements, and failures, knowing that it was a year of growth.

It's my honour and my privilege to welcome you to UBC—happy learning.

Cheers,



Caroline Wong
AMS President

UBC President's Message

Stephen J. Toope

Even if you've never studied cultural geography, you're likely aware that people tend to congregate within groups of common ethnicity and culture when settling into a new country. The results are obvious in cities like New York and San Francisco, where ethically distinct urban neighbourhoods are wonderful places to explore, especially when one is hungry. Canadians tend to do the same when living abroad. It's human nature to seek or create familiarity within unfamiliar environments. But university is different. You have arrived at a time and place in which it is essential for you to seek unfamiliarity in everything you do.

Post-secondary education is first and foremost about new experiences, and you will never have a better opportunity to choose from so many new and unique experiences. Take full advantage of these opportunities, and dare to take chances along the way.

Challenge ideas with your classmates and professors—they are among the best in the world. Be part of a community service learning project, a Go Global travel study program, or a cooperative education term. Sign on to help lead one of the hundreds of AMS student clubs. Try your hand at rowing, fencing, or Latin dance. Attend a concert at the Chan Centre; see a play at the Freddie Wood Theatre; take a class that is completely unrelated to your primary academic interests. Spend reflective time in the Nitobe Garden; walk the Greenheart Canopy; explore aboriginal art at the Museum of Anthropology.

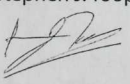
And if possible, don't leave UBC until you've "stormed the wall."

If you are beginning your studies, you worked very hard to achieve strong grades to earn entrance to UBC. But you were accepted not only for your strong grades, but for your curiosity and initiative. Utilize these natural assets to their full extent to explore the unfamiliar.

One last thing. Approximately 15 per cent of UBC's student population is made up of international students from over 145 countries. Make it a priority to interact and socialize with as many students as possible whose ethnicity and culture are completely different than your own. Strive to be a part of their unfamiliar environment.

You and the entire world will be better for the experience.

Sincerely,
Stephen J. Toope



President and Vice-Chancellor
The University of British Columbia

Meet Your Executives

Your AMS Executives work (and play) hard to represent you and all of your needs to the university and beyond. The elected Executive (and appointed ECSS) work together with the Student Council to manage everything AMS: the multi-million dollar AMS Budget, 12 AMS services, 370+ student clubs, internal university relations, government liaisons, and almost any other student issue you can think of. Take a moment to say hi—they would love to hear about any ideas and issues you may have.

1. President: Caroline Wong • president@ams.ubc.ca

The President is the public face of the Society, coordinates the Executive Committee, and is involved in almost any issue affecting the AMS. Check out Caroline's message to students on pages 5–6.

2. VP Academic & University Affairs: Kiran Mahal • vpacademic@ams.ubc.ca

Liaises with UBC, advocating students' interests on everything from education to campus planning. Key projects for 2013–14 include further work on an exam database, as well as initatives for student mental health.

3. VP Finance: Joaquin Acevedo • vpfinance@ams.ubc.ca

Manages the AMS's money, from preparing budgets to working with staff and businesses to monitor spending. Joaquin will be working to improve the financial health of the Society, increase student understanding of fees and their use, and creating a new vision for AMS Sustainability.

4. VP Administration: Derek Moore • vpadmin@ams.ubc.ca

Looks after all aspects of student life and student buildings: the Old SUB, the New SUB, the Shinerama campaign, the SUB Art Gallery and the clubs. With such a big portfolio—and a new building on the way!—he definitely needs that coffee.

5. VP External Affairs: Tanner Bokor • vpexternal@ams.ubc.ca

Lobbies government at all levels on behalf of AMS members. The VPX office can also answer questions students may have about the U-Pass program. Plans for this year include advocacy campaigns for improved student financial aid and improved transit to campus.

6. Executive Coordinator of Student Services: Matthew Duguay services@ams.ubc.ca

The "sixth executive," the ECSS manages the AMS Services, providing training, guidance and support. Although the ECSS is hired, not elected, Matthew also sits on AMS Council as a non-voting member to speak on behalf of the services.

WHO PICKED THESE GUYS, ANYWAY? AMS elections are held at the start of every Winter term. You can vote online or at a polling station with your UBC student card. Full information about elections is available on the next page.

Want to contribute? Attend a Student Council meeting, held every second Wednesday at 6pm. You'll be able to see firsthand how the society works, and all are welcome.

Read over the descriptions of AMS committees and services in this section—many of these will be looking for volunteers and input. Be sure to take note of the university governance committees, like BoG and Senate, which provide more opportunities for students to provide input. And finally, check out Section Two for a list of all kinds of clubs, societies and communities to get involved in.

Do you live in VANCOUVER-POINT GREY?

If you live in Vancouver Point Grey, your MLA David Eby wants to hear from you.

Invite MLA David Eby to campus for events including:

- Classroom guest lectures
- Campus club meetings
- Know Your Rights workshops

Kitsilano resident David Eby is an award-winning lawyer known for his advocacy on environmental and human rights issues. He is your provincial government representative as your Member of the Legislative Assembly (MLA).

Annual AMS Elections

www.ams.ubc.ca/elections

The voting public is just as important as the election candidates! Remember: your student fees pay for the operations of the society. Make your contribution to democracy and vote for the candidates who shape your union. You can vote online or at a polling station with your UBC student card.

If you love your student union and would like to turn that love into devoted hard work, or if you think your student union isn't all that and you can think of tons of ways to improve it, you might want to consider running for an AMS Executive position.

The elections are open to everyone. Your AMS is committed to supporting all candidates and offers reimbursement for many campaign costs.

Run for it!

You can run for AMS positions by following these steps:

Act fast!
AMS Elections take place near the end of January, but to run in these elections, you need to get in the game earlier. You need a campaign, promotional materials, platform speeches, and so on.

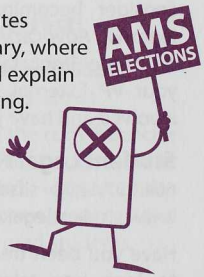
Research and choose a position!
You can run for President, VP Academic and University Affairs, VP Finance, VP External, or VP Administration. During the elections, you can also run for Senate or Board of Governors.

Get nominated!
Pick up a form from the AMS Administrative Assistant (adassist@ams.ubc.ca) at the AMS Executive Offices (SUB 238) in late November.

Get 50!
Fill out the form and get 50 other registered UBC students to sign it. Then submit it per the directions on the form.

Be campaign ready!
Spend your winter break creating your campaign materials, refining your platform, and recruiting a team so you're ready to go in January.

Meet candidates!
Attend the all-candidates meeting in early January, where the elections team will explain the rules of campaigning.



Show time!
Show them what you've got! The process usually takes two weeks.

IT HAS BEEN SAID THAT YOUTH DON'T CARE ABOUT POLITICS. PROVE THEM WRONG!

Get in touch with my MP office and find out about upcoming events, services to students, and opportunities to intern or volunteer.

AMS Lobbying / External Advocacy Commission

SUB 238J • 604.822.2050
vpexternal@ams.ubc.ca

The AMS has a long history of advocating on behalf of students, from the Great Trek in 1922 that established our Point Grey Campus, to the Great Farm Trek in 2008 that protected the UBC Farm from commercial development. The AMS has always provided a strong voice for student interests. We meet with the university administration; the municipal, provincial, and federal governments; and other provincial organizations to enhance the lives of UBC students.

The AMS lobbies these bodies on issues like student loans, accessibility to education, childcare, public transit, housing, and funding for post-secondary education. To help the AMS in our efforts to create positive results for students, consider becoming a member of the External Advocacy Commission to work on these important initiatives. Contact your VP External, Tanner Bokor, to get involved and have your voice heard.

Student Legal Fund Society (SLFS)

604.827.1208 • slfsdirectors@gmail.com
www.studentlegal.org

Have you been treated unfairly and wish to look into taking legal action? The Student Legal Fund Society was created by students in 1998. SLFS provides advisory, legal, and financial assistance to initiate and continue advocacy, lobbying, and litigation. Our interest lies in improving education and access to education at UBC, as well as dealing with other matters of law that set broad precedent and concern UBC students. The society has six directors elected annually and a seventh director appointed by AMS Council. Visit our website or contact us to get involved.

Finance Commission (FinCom)

FinCom Vice-Chair: Jeff Aschkinasi
SUB 238F • 604.822.2361
fincomvc@ams.ubc.ca

AMS FinCom works within the office of the VP Finance to oversee the financial business and administration of your student society. The commission is responsible for reviewing the finances of each club, constituency, and resource group, as well as managing student grant applications (the Clubs Benefit Fund, Constituency Aid Fund, Competitive Athletics Fund, and Student Initiative Fund). Remember to take advantage of student grants, which offer financial assistance for students with various innovative projects.

Student Administrative Commission (SAC)

SAC Vice-Chair: Nina Scott
SUB 238F • 604.822.2361
sacvc@ams.ubc.ca

SAC works closely with the VP Admin in overseeing the SUB's operations. The commission is primarily a resource for its constituents, which include the AMS clubs, constituencies, and resource groups. SAC also ensures that subsidiaries are functioning smoothly (both independently and as a whole) by providing room bookings, locker rentals, consultations, club constitutions, and much more! Any complaints with these bodies are resolved by SAC and comments and concerns may be directed to the SAC Vice-Chair. SAC meetings are held every week and you are welcome to attend!

University Governance

Like Voltron, these governing bodies combine the diverse powers of university officials, faculty members, and student representatives to oversee the functioning of the university as a whole. Unlike Voltron, they're easily reached to discuss your concerns.

UBC Board of Governors (BoG)

Mike Silley and Matt Parson bog@ams.ubc.ca • bog.ubc.ca

The Board of Governors is the highest decision-making body at UBC. It is responsible for managing, administering, and controlling the property, revenue, and affairs of the university. The Board is composed of the Chancellor, the President, three student representatives (two from Vancouver and one from Okanagan), eleven people appointed by the Lieutenant Governor, three elected faculty members, and two elected non-faculty members. More information, including minutes, schedules, and agendas of Board meetings, is posted on our website.

UBC Senate

senate@ams.ubc.ca • senate.ubc.ca

UBC Senate governs academic affairs at UBC and works alongside the Board of Governors. The Senate creates new courses and programs, sets admissions and academic policies, and manages scholarships and awards. The Senate is also a student's last resort for appeals on academic discipline and academic standing issues. The Senate is made up of 90 Senators, 18 of whom are students. Being involved in Senate is a great way to have an impact on the UBC community. Contact your student reps via email for meeting times or to raise concerns. A full list of representatives is available on the website.

On-campus debate, 1980s

Other Bodies of Interest:

Graduate Students' Society (GSS)
president@gss.ubc.ca • gss.ubc.ca

Although listed among the constituencies that make up the AMS, the GSS offers further resources and opportunities for students, hosts open events, and advocates on behalf of grad students.

Vice-President, Students
http://vpstudents.ubc.ca

The VP Students' office shapes the student experience at UBC, including the Athletics, Housing, and Student Development portfolios.

University Neighbourhoods Association (UNA)
reception@myuna.ca • www.myuna.ca

The UNA is akin to a municipal council for residents on campus. As a body, it deals with parking and animal control, but it also acts as a community hub and university liaison.

AMS Services

Life as a university student is not without its challenges. Luckily, your AMS offers a multitude of student-run, free services to make your life a little bit easier, a little bit fuller, and all-around better—take advantage of them!

AMS Advocacy Office

Coordinator: Gordon Yung
SUB 249G • 604.822.9855
advocate@ams.ubc.ca
www.ams.ubc.ca/services

The Advocacy Office provides free, confidential support to students engaged in formal conflict with UBC, regardless of guilt or innocence. Our mandate is to assist students who are involved in any of UBC's formal appeal structures at any level. We help students with matters of academic and non-academic discipline, academic standing, financial assistance, and appeals of decisions made by the University. We also connect students to resources in dealing with personal and academic issues. Contact us today—we are here to help!

AMS Connect

SUB 249A • 604.822.9268
volunteers@ams.ubc.ca internship@ams.ubc.ca
www.ams.ubc.ca/services

Get involved! Looking for volunteer or internship opportunities? AMS Connect has all the tools you need to get a jump start on your career through relevant placements on-campus, throughout the Lower Mainland, and abroad. Check out UBC CareersOnline, the AMS website, or the Volunteer Opportunities Board on the SUB Main Concourse. Join us at our two volunteer recruitment fairs, or drop by our office for one-on-one consultations, including resume and cover letter advice. AMS Connect will connect you to the best opportunities!

AMS Firstweek

Coordinator: Jenny Chen
SUB 249K • 604.822.1989
firstweek@ams.ubc.ca
www.amsfirstweek.com

AMS Firstweek is UBC's official campus "frosh" week. Jam-packed with events, Firstweek gives first year students a chance to discover UBC campus and returning students a chance to get back in to the campus spirit. From pool parties to yoga to outdoor movies and fantastic dances, there is something for everyone. Firstweek's flexible schedule allows students to attend events based on their busy school schedule. In addition to receiving a wristband for access to all Firstweek events, each registrant will also receive a "frosh kit" filled with exclusive Firstweek merchandise. AMS Firstweek—it starts here.

AMS Food Bank

Coordinator: Cameron Rogers
SUB 42U
foodbank@ams.ubc.ca
www.ams.ubc.ca/services

Being a student involves more than completing assignments or acing exams; many students must also manage a tight budget. The AMS Food Bank is a free service designed to support any UBC student who has a valid student ID with a free seven-day supply of non-perishable food items. Please do not hesitate to use our confidential service by visiting our website for office hours or making an appointment through email.

AMS Minischool

SUB 249D • 604.822.9342
minischool@ams.ubc.ca
www.minischool.rezgo.com

Have you ever wanted to learn what a good pint of beer or a glass of wine is all about? Ever wanted to learn how to knit or play the guitar? How about improving your fitness with pole dancing or meditation? AMS Minischool provides these hobby courses and many others that deliver high-quality extracurricular education at the best rates available. Check our website for a comprehensive list of courses and complete registration information.

AMS Ombuds Office

Ombudsperson: Sunnie Fang
SUB 249F • 604.822.4846
assist@ams.ubc.ca
www.ams.ubc.ca/services

If you feel that you have been treated unfairly, or need to resolve a conflict with regards to the AMS, the AMS Ombuds Office can assist you. The Ombudsperson acts impartially, is independent of any administrative body, and provides a confidential service for students and AMS staff. Our services include mediation, conflict resolution, investigation, and general assistance in navigating the structures of the AMS. For assistance with university issues, please contact the Ombudsperson for Students.

AMS Rentsline

ubc@rentsline.com
www.amsrentsline.com

The AMS Rentsline is an accommodation service geared to Vancouver's West Side.

Students can post listings for free, and browsing the website is free. The website allows users to browse listings by distance from UBC, type of accommodation, neighbourhood, and rental cost. There is also a useful free service that will email users according to their preset criteria as soon as a listing is posted.

AMS SafeWalk

Coordinator: Alex Oswell
SUB 100A • 604.822.5355
safewalk@ams.ubc.ca
www.ams.ubc.ca/services

AMS SafeWalk strives to increase campus safety by offering nightly walking services throughout the school year. Our co-ed, two-person teams will accompany you anywhere on campus and ensure that you arrive at your destination safely. Our service is friendly and free of charge. You can access the SafeWalk office through Campus Security and the Blue Phone service, or call us on any of the direct-line phones located around campus. If you see walkers in bright red jackets, you can also ask them directly. Visit our website for more information.

AMS Sexual Assault Support Centre (SASC)

Manager: Anisa Mottahed
Assistant Manager: Ashley Bentley
NEW* location: SUB 249M
604.827.5180
Hours: Mon–Fri 9am–5pm
sasc@ams.ubc.ca
www.gotconsent.ca

The Sexual Assault Support Centre (SASC) offers non-judgmental emotional support, hospital/legal accompaniment, and information about options to female, male, and trans* survivors of sexual assault, as well as their friends, family members, and partners. All The SASC services are free, confidential, and conducted in a private setting. To access, drop in during office hours or call/e-mail to set up an appointment. Volunteer opportunities are also available.

Shinerama

Coordinator: Harsev Oshan
SUB 95L • 778.839.5948
shinerama@ams.ubc.ca
shineramaubc.ca

Shinerama is Canada's largest student-run campaign to raise funds and awareness for the fight against Cystic Fibrosis. Shinerama is the AMS's primary charity campaign, but it's also a fun event for a great cause! Last year, we raised over $40,000 for Cystic Fibrosis—and we hope to break $65,000 this year! If you're interested in getting involved, send us an email, and watch for our main event, Shine Day, on Saturday, September 7, 2013.

AMS Speakeasy

Coordinator: Silvain Dang
SUB North Concourse
604.822.9246 • speak@ams.ubc.ca
www.ams.ubc.ca/services

Speakeasy provides peer support and referrals for students dealing with a wide range of concerns, including academic stress, relationships, and mental health. No issue is too big or too small. Our volunteers are trained to work with you in a private, strictly confidential, one-to-one session. We can help you find resources and options that are best for you, or just provide an open ear to listen. Please visit our reception desk on the north side of the SUB Main Level for more information, or to talk to one of our peer supporters.

AMS Tutoring

Coordinator: Olivia Yung
SUB 249O • 604.822.9084

Why a Health & Dental Plan?

The Plan is a critical service of the AMS and GSS designed to fill the gaps in provincial health care. As a student at UBC and a member of the Alma Mater Society, you're covered by the AMS/GSS Health & Dental Plan. The cost of the Plan is part of your student fees.

Covered by Another Plan? Weigh the Costs and Benefits

Being enrolled as a dependant in a parent or spouse's employee benefit plan usually requires your family member to pay additional costs to have you covered. The AMS/GSS Plan may provide better value. You can also combine it with your other plan to maximize your overall coverage—up to 100%—and eliminate out-of-pocket costs.

Alternatively, you can opt out of the AMS/GSS Health & Dental Plan by providing proof of equivalent health and dental coverage.

Change-of-Coverage Dates

All enrolments and opt outs must be completed between Sept. 3 - 24, 2013. Only new Term 2 students can opt out or enrol their spouse/dependants between Jan. 3 - 24, 2014 for coverage from Jan. 1 - Aug. 31, 2014.

Student Resource Groups

www.ams.ubc.ca/ams-resource-groups

The AMS Resource Groups are a safe and open space for students to find support and discuss topics including race, gender, justice, sexuality, and the environment. Meet fellow scholars and activists, participate in dialogue, and help make meaningful changes.

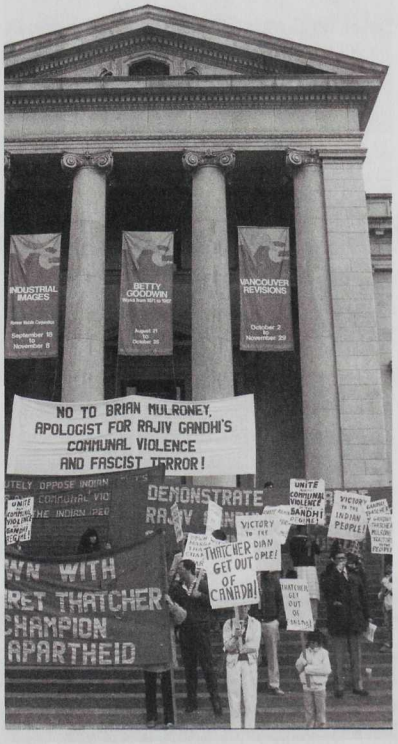
Colour Connected Against Racism

SUB 245E

ubccolourconnected@gmail.com

Listserv: https://groups.google.com/group/colour-connected-ubc?hl=en

Colour Connected Against Racism is an AMS resource group that provides support and information to students who feel alienated and disempowered due to discrimination. We organize events on various issues pertaining to 'Peoples of Colour,' and lobby the University and other institutions to implement necessary changes.



We also address issues of sexism, homophobia, poverty, domestic and global exploitation, and other social injustices. Our centre is filled with resources where students can learn about their history and share their experiences in a supportive and positive environment.

Pride UBC

prideubc@gmail.com • www.prideubc.com

Collective members are available to offer educational and support services to those who self-identify within the multitude of gender & sexuality identities and non-identities, as well as to allies and those who just wish to know more. We assist those coming out; supply a forum for discussion; hold social events, workshops, daily discussion groups; and host Outweek, a campus-wide, week-long celebration in February. Our members come from diverse backgrounds and everyone is welcome.

Social Justice Centre (SJC)

socialjusticecentre.ubc@gmail.com

The SJC aims to serve all students interested in finding progressive solutions to societal injustices. We work towards profound social change by raising awareness about social justice issues and providing contacts to socially active people and organizations. We provide a forum for discussion about social justice issues, facilitate concrete actions in response to discussions, and foster student engagement and activism. There are lots of opportunities to get involved, so please contact us!

Student Environment Centre

SUB 245B • enviro@ams.ubc.ca
www.secubc.com • facebook.com/secubc

If you are concerned about ecological problems facing the planet, the Student Environment Centre is the place for you! We connect students with environmental resources, educate students on ecological problems, fund student-driven initiatives, support and foster a community of concerned and informed individuals on campus, provide networking opportunities between other environmental clubs on campus and provide a forum for sharing ideas. Past events and ongoing campaigns include the Uberdrop UBC, Back to the Hankies, and Responsible Consumption Week. Everyone is welcome to attend our weekly meetings or to drop by our office any time with ideas for projects, questions, or to join the discussion.

Womyn's Centre

womyncentre@gmail.com

The Womyn's Centre is a welcoming place for female-identified, transgendered, and intersex folks to hang out. It is also a great place to meet our friendly exec; eat; study; nap; use the Centre phone; attend fun workshops; obtain free condoms, menstrual products, resources, books, and pregnancy tests; and contribute to what goes on at the Centre! Stop by to find out what kinds of exciting, fun, creative, and empowering activities, discussions, and events we will be putting on this year!

UBC Services

In addition to all of the great services and support your AMS offers, UBC students can access even more resources provided by the university. Need a job? Help with homework? Have personal health concerns? Take advantage of these UBC Services designed to serve you!

Access & Diversity (A&D)

Rm 1203, Brock Hall • 604.822.5844
access.diversity@ubc.ca
students.ubc.ca/access

Access & Diversity works with the University to create inclusive living, learning, and working environments for all students to thrive. We provide leadership in developing programs, policies, and processes that enhance our community for students of all racial and ethnic backgrounds, sexual orientations, and gender identities, and for students with disabilities. We determine and facilitate disability-related accommodations for students, faculty, and staff with disabilities and produce alternative format materials for people with print disabilities. Access & Diversity provides study and social spaces for students with disabilities at the Crane Library, and for women at the Women Students' Lounge.

The Centre for Student Involvement and Careers

Brock Hall • 604.822.4011
students.ubc.ca

The Centre for Student Involvement and Careers is a hub that connects you to career-building experiences and involvement opportunities. Whether you want to be a MUG leader, are looking for ways to give back, are searching for a job on campus, or planning your next career steps, the Centre is a great place to start. We also can help you meet, connect, network and build relationships with employers, as well as research and explore career options. Your career starts now, right here at UBC.

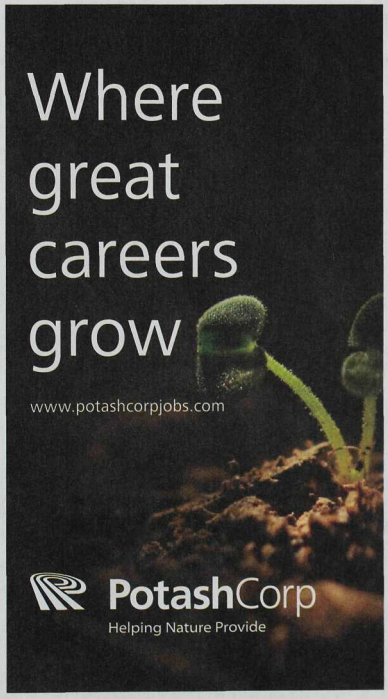
Give back and apply your learning to non-profits, small businesses and public schools on projects driven by community priorities. The Community Learning Initiative connects you with opportunities to engage with community in both local and international contexts.

GET INVOLVED

Programming options include short-term commitments (Reading Week), placements that span the academic year (Trek), as well as academic courses that have a community-based experiential learning component.



Counselling Services

Rm 1040, Brock Hall • 604.822.3811
students.ubc.ca/livewell
Mon–Fri 8:30am–4:30pm; Wed 7pm close (Sept–Apr), 6pm close (May–Aug)

Counselling Services offers free, confidential, primarily short-term counseling for UBC students wanting assistance with a wide range of concerns including depression, stress, anxiety, relationship problems, and other personal difficulties.

In the initial appointment, a counsellor will gather information needed to enable rapid matching to appropriate services, depending on your goals. These resources may include services within our centre, elsewhere on campus, or in the community. Emergency appointments are available on a same-day basis. Counselling Services also provides group programs on anxiety management, mood management, and stress management.

Sometimes students need help managing mental health concerns, and it's OK to ask for assistance. Reaching out for help early on will make it easier for you to get back on track.

Enrolment Services Professionals

Brock Hall • 604.822.9836
students.ubc.ca/campus/enrolment-services-professionals

Your Enrolment Services Professional (ESP) supports you throughout your entire time at UBC as part of your network of support. From the start of your degree, up until you graduate, your ESP can help you with things like tuition, course registration and financial planning. If you need help and aren't sure who to contact, you can start with your ESP.

International Student Development is a hub where all students on campus can pursue their globally-focused passions and connect with like-minded people.

If you're interested in building your international network on campus and improving your intercultural fluency, International Student Development can connect you to leadership and volunteer opportunities that will help you do just that. If you're passionate about global issues, check out the Dr Simon K Y Lee Global Lounge. This space is open to you to stage events, collaborate with like-minded students and access staff support.

KD Lang performs at Welcome Back BBQ, 1980s

Through the Global Fund, there's also funding available to help you pursue your globally-focused endeavors.

Have questions about life as an international student? Come to International House to talk to one of our highly knowledgeable International Student Advisors. If you're in your first year, Jump Start is here to guide you through your first year of studies and provide you with ongoing academic coaching and peer to peer support.

Office of the Ombudsperson for Students

Rm 1043, Brock Hall • 604.822.6149
ombuds.office@ubc.ca
ombudsoffice.ubc.ca

The Ombuds Office is an independent, impartial, and confidential resource for students to help address and resolve concerns about unfair treatment at UBC. The Office provides general resource information and makes appropriate referrals, identifies and explains relevant university processes and policies, and works with students to plan and explore options on how best to move forward. The Office does not act as an advocate for the student and does not take sides. The Office collaborates with all UBC community members on matters related to fairness and promoting systemic improvements.

Scheduling Services

Brock Hall • 604.822.9292

604.822.7011 • students.ubc.ca/livewell
Mon–Fri 8am–4pm (Thurs 8:50am–4pm all year, Wed 8pm close Sept–Apr)

Student Health Service offers health care for registered UBC students year-round. Services are provided by family doctors and registered nurses. You can make an appointment by phone, in person, or by registering online using the MyHealth booking system (you must initially register in person at the clinic in order to use the online booking system). Same-day appointments are available for ill students. All services are confidential and most are covered by iMED and the Medical Services Plan (MSP).

Sometimes students need help managing mental and physical health concerns, and it's OK to ask for assistance. Reaching out for help early on will make it easier for you to get back on track.

UBC Wellness Centre

Rm 183, Lower Level, Irving K Barber Learning Centre • 604.822.4858
students.ubc.ca/livewell
Weekdays 9am–5pm (Tues 9am–4pm)

The Wellness Centre is staffed by trained student volunteers who have a passion for mental and physical health promotion. They can share health resources with you, refer you to counselling or health services, and partner on health promotion and education events. With all the pressures of university life, sometimes it's nice to talk to another student. The Wellness Centre peers are available to listen and help.

Constituencies

Constituencies

Constituencies are the smaller student associations of individual faculties and schools at UBC. Every constituency gets at least one seat on the AMS Council. Constituencies also have their own elected councils and can assist students with the day-to-day concerns and issues specific to their school or faculty. These societies also host some of the most notorious parties, dances, and academic events on campus. Get involved and see what students with similar academic interests can offer you!

Clubs

www.ams.ubc.ca/clubs

Need a reprieve from lectures, readings, and assignments? Perhaps you just want to get away from the stresses of academic life, or learn a new skill.

In the pages to come, you'll find clubs organized by category, from shared academic interest to recreational sports. A complete alphabetical listing of clubs is available on the AMS website (see above).

If one of the 370+ clubs doesn't accommodate your eccentric or wacky hobby, speak to the Student Administrative Commission and start your own.

How to Start Your Own Club with the AMS

Does the club already exist?

If you want to form a soccer club and one already exists, you may have trouble getting approval from SAC. To make sure your club will be unique, contact the Clubs Administrator at sacadmin@ams.ubc.ca with an outline of the club you wish to form.

Meet for a 15-minute consultation/ information session

Before filling out any documents, SAC needs to meet you, provide you with all the necessary information, and answer any questions (e.g. how to write a constitution, where to find resources, etc.). This meeting is crucial for starting a club! Before the meeting, please take the time to review the Clubs Constitution in the downloads section on the SAC web page.

Prepare documentation

Once you are confident in creating the club, it's time to prepare your paperwork. You'll need:

- Club constitution
- Budget
- One-year plan of intended activities, events, etc.
- Letter of intent addressed to the SAC Vice Chair

To ensure that SAC can easily read your proposal, all documents must be typed.

Present to SAC

Submit a copy of all the documents (as indicated above) to the executive secretary in SUB 238A (glass office on the left). Failure to submit all items will result in delays in the club constitution process. Your documents will then be reviewed by SAC. If no revisions are necessary, you will be invited to a SAC meeting to make a five-minute presentation followed by a short Q&A session. SAC will then decide whether to constitute the club or not. Some of the criteria used by SAC are:

- If the club's mandate furthers the mission statement of the AMS
- If the club's mandate does not overlap with the mandates of existing AMS internal groups
- If there are sufficient resources within the AMS
- If the club is open to all AMS members
- If there is adequate justification for AMS affiliation
- Other criteria as determined by SAC

All of the information and forms to start a new club, as well as a list of existing clubs, are available on the website.

Funding Your Club

www.ams.ubc.ca/student-government/finance-commission

The AMS offers grants to clubs for one-time projects that not only help your club, but benefit the AMS and the student population in general. For more information on eligibility and how to apply, visit the Finance Commission's section of the AMS website.

Academic & Management Clubs

Clubs for students with shared academic interests, including science and finance.

SUB Businesses

Located in the heart of campus, the SUB is still the best place to satisfy all of your needs: fuel for studying, a pen for your midterm, or a beer after class, the SUB has it all. All AMS businesses are owned by your student society and support our members by employing students and funding AMS services. Check out the SUB map on pages 176–177 to locate these services.

AMS Retail Services

Bernoulli's Bagels
SUB Main Level • Closed Sun
Mon–Fri, 7am–7pm; Sat, 10am–3pm

We make and bake genuine Montreal-style bagels fresh daily on the premises. Our bagels are made the traditional way using high-quality ingredients, fresh yeast, and no preservatives. We offer a wide selection of vegan bagels and spreads.

Blue Chip Cookies
SUB Main Level
Mon–Fri, 7am–7pm; Sat–Sun, 9am–4pm

All of your favourite brewed and barista coffees made from 100 per cent fair-trade, organic, shade-grown beans. Blue Chip serves an assortment of cookies and pastries, including a wide selection of vegan and gluten-free and savoury items, made in-house, from scratch, every day.

Burger Bar
SUB Lower Level • Closed Sun
Mon–Fri, 10:30am–9pm; Sat, 11am–9pm

We are located inside the Pit Pub with a take-out window for all ages. Come down and enjoy one of our daily burger specials, our Ocean Wise fish and chips or our Burger Bar original waffle-fry poutine from our new poutine menu. Come hang out, have a beverage, and enjoy hot wings, nachos, and other great pub fare while you watch the game!

CopyRight
SUB Lower Level • 604.822.4388
Mon–Fri, 9am–5pm
copyright@ams. ubc.ca

We can print (from USB/CD/email) up to 42"x96" in colour or black & white, scan up to 11"x17", fax, laminate, fold, cut, and provide finishing services such as cerlox or spiral binding documents.

The Gallery Lounge
SUB Main Level • Tues–Thurs, 9am–1am
Mon & Fri, 9am–11pm
Closed weekends

Now serving their famous breakfast until 3pm, The Gallery continues to offer freshly-made food and local craft beers. This is your place for well-priced drinks, open mic, karaoke and trivia. Look for lots of vegetarian and vegan options from both our grab-and-go display case and hot grill items.

Honour Roll Sushi Bar
SUB Lower Level
Mon–Fri, 10am–6pm; Sat, 11am–3pm

We make fresh maki rolls, rice bowls, bento boxes, and more all day. Ask about our party platters, great for any size group!

the moon Noodle House
SUB Lower Level • Closed weekends
Mon–Fri, 10:30am–6:30pm

the moon serves up fresh food fast with its tasty noodle and wonton soups, rice bowls, and made-to-order stir-fries. Watch for new specials, changing daily.

The Outpost
SUB Main Level
Mon–Fri, 8am–6pm (Sept–Apr); Mon–Fri, 9am–5pm (May–Aug); Sat, 10am–4pm

AMS/GSS Health and Dental Plan

Rm 42V, SUB Lower Level • 1.877.795.4421 • www.ihaveaplan.ca

The AMS/GSS Health & Dental Plan is extended health and dental coverage, designed specifically for students to cover expenses not covered by basic health-care plans. More detailed information about the Plan is available at www.ihaveaplan.ca, or at the Health & Dental Plan Office on campus.

Who is covered?

All AMS and GSS members who pay AMS fees for the Health & Dental Plan are automatically enrolled, including full-time and part-time students, international students, and those auditing a course.

To verify if you are enrolled in the Health & Dental Plan, check your fee statement and look for the "AMS med/dent fee" line item. You can do this online through the Student Services Portal at https://ssc.adm.ubc.ca/sscportal/servlets/SRVSSCFramework.

What is covered and how much does it cost?*

The Plan includes benefits for prescription drugs, health practitioners, dental care, vision care, travel coverage, and more.

The total cost of the Plan is included automatically with university fees each September. The policy year is from Sept. 1, 2013 to Aug. 31, 2014. Students beginning in Jan. 2014 will be assessed a pro-rated fee for coverage from Jan. 1 to Aug. 31, 2014.

*Please note that at time of printing, the benefits for 2013/2014 were still subject to change. For more information, visit www.ihaveaplan.ca at the beginning of the school year.

What if I already have health and dental coverage?

If you're covered by another extended plan (i.e. parent or spouse's employee plan), you can combine both plans to maximize your overall coverage and reduce or eliminate out-of-pocket expenses. You may also choose to opt out of the AMS/GSS Plan and have the fee reversed from your student account.

All opt outs must be completed within the Change-of-Coverage Period (see below) or within three weeks of your registration date, whichever is later. If it is your first time opting out, you will need to provide proof of other health and dental coverage. Visit www.ihaveaplan.ca and follow the on-screen instructions for opting out.

Can I enrol my spouse or dependants?

Students have the option of enrolling their spouse/dependants by completing an enrolment process and paying an additional fee. Common law and same-sex couples are eligible. Visit www.ihaveaplan.ca and follow the on-screen instructions for enrolments.

Mandatory Health Insurance for new International Students (iMED)

iMED is the mandatory basic health insurance program the University provides for new international students. All new international students are automatically enrolled in the iMED plan, which provides coverage for the three-month waiting period for BC MSP or for the entire length of a one-term exchange.

Medical benefits include emergency hospitalization and medical services for an unexpected sickness or injury. Once you register for your first class, a fee of $150 (for all students except one-term exchange students, for whom the fee is $213) will appear on your student account and your card will be sent to you via email; print it and keep it with you at all times.

For more details about the iMED policy, please visit the iMED web site at www.david-cummings.com/imed.

Change-of-Coverage Period

Students can opt out or enrol their family during the following periods only:

- For students starting in September: Sept 3–24, 2013
- For students starting in January: Jan 3–24, 2014 (New Winter Term 2 students only)

Blackout Period

Claims processing is delayed while studentcare.net/works waits for complete enrolment lists, after opt outs and enrolments have been processed.

Returning eligible students who were covered in 2013's Winter Term 2 will not experience a Blackout Period in Winter Term 1. All other students will have a Blackout Period during the first two months of Winter Term 1.

Only new Winter Term 2 students will experience a Blackout Period in 2014's Winter Term 2.

Claims can be dropped off at the Health & Dental Plan Office, but they will not be processed until the Blackout Period ends. You may also hold your claims until this time. Remember: claims are your responsibility until received by Pacific Blue Cross. Practitioners and pharmacists can't accept Pay Direct or assignment of benefits during the Blackout Period.

Tuition Fees & Financial Options

Financing your education isn't always easy. There are many factors surrounding tuition and money—get informed. If you are experiencing financial hardship, the provincial government, UBC, and the AMS offer many options to help ease the burden.

The Cost of Education

Post-secondary education is an expensive endeavour, and we live in an increasingly expensive world. Tuition for Canadian citizens and permanent residents is set by the university and regulated by the provincial government. Domestic tuition cannot increase by more than two per cent each year in inflation. Domestic tuition accounts for approximately one-third of the cost of attending UBC. International students' tuition is determined by the university and accounts for the full cost of attending UBC.

Co-operative Education Programs

www.coop.ubc.ca

Co-op programs create employment opportunities for enrolled students. Placement in a faculty's Co-op program helps translate academic classroom experience into the professional world. Co-op helps students integrate paid, full-time, four-month work terms into a university degree program.

Work Learn Program

students.ubc.ca/careers

Work and study at the same time and help fund your education. UBC and the AMS offer a variety of part-time Work Learn jobs on campus that can be molded to fit your class schedule. Visit Career Services for more information.

Government Student Loans

www.studentaidbc.ca

The government provides loans to students with difficulty affording post-secondary education. Apply for provincial or federal student loans at least six months before the end of your school term, and you are allowed a six month grace period after graduation before loan repayment begins.

UBC Student Bursaries & Scholarships

students.ubc.ca/enrolment -

Students who have maxed out their student loans and still have unmet needs may qualify for UBC bursaries under Policy 72. Bursaries are based on financial need. UBC also provides scholarships and faculty-recommended awards for students who demonstrate academic excellence.

AMS Fee & U-Pass Subsidies

www.ams.ubc.ca/

The AMS also provides financial hardship subsidies for many fees. If the U-Pass or SUB Renewal fees are causing you undue financial stress, you can fill out the application form (on the AMS website) for a partial or full subsidy. Resources are limited, so not all applicants will receive bursaries.

Health Plan Premium Assistance Fund

www.gss.ubc.ca/health

Assistance with the Health & Dental Plan fee is available on a need basis. Any student who has not opted out of the AMS/GSS Extended Health & Dental Plan may apply for this bursary. Application information is available on the Graduate Student Society website (above).

AMS Funding

www.ams.ubc.ca/governance/finance-commission/ams-funding
fincomvc@ams.ubc.ca

Students have access to a wide variety of special funds and benefits to fund projects, including the Student Initiatives Fund, the Clubs Benefit Fund, the Sexual Assault Initiatives Fund, and more. For more information, check out the AMS website or contact your Finance Commission Vice-Chair, Jeffrey Aschkinasi.

Student Housing

Student Housing and Hospitality Services provides 8500 spaces on campus for students in traditional-style dormitories, shared suites, studios, and family apartments. A broad range of students live on campus, from entering first-year students to upper-year graduate students and their families. Immerse yourself and make campus your home.

Your Rights as a Renter

UBC Residences

You are governed by your tenancy contract, not the Residential Tenancy Act. Contact your Residence Life Manager or the University's Equity Office if you feel the contract has been violated.

Off-Campus Renters

You are covered by the Residential Tenancy Act. Your security (damage) deposit cannot be greater than a half-month's rent. To enter your suite, your landlord must provide you with written notice 24 hours in advance. You have a right to complain to the Residential Tenancy Branch if you feel these terms are not being met. You have many additional rights as a renter—know them. Read the Residential Tenancy Act online at www.rto.gov.bc.ca or www.tenants.bc.ca.

Your Rights as a Worker

The general minimum wage in BC is $10.25 per hour. Liquor servers' minimum wage is $9.00 per hour. You are entitled to a 30-minute, unpaid meal break if you are scheduled to work over five hours. Overtime pay begins after you have worked eight hours in a day, forty in a week, or have had fewer than 32 hours in a row off from work in a week. If scheduled, you have to be paid for at least two hours, unless you are unfit for work. Contact Employment Standards Branch with questions or concerns at 1.800.663.3316, or online at http://www.labour.gov.bc.ca/esb/welcome.htm.

Law Students' Legal Advice Program (LSLAP)

lslap.bc.ca • 604.822.5791

LSLAP is a non-profit society run by law students at UBC. We provide free legal advice and representation to clients who would otherwise be unable to afford it, including advice on tenancy and employment issues.

AMS Events

Manager: Anna Hilliar
SUB 249J · 604.822.5336
programs@ams.ubc.ca · amseventsubc.com

University life extends beyond the classroom and the library. AMS Events invites all students to come out and play!

AMS Events exists to enhance student and campus life, as well as liven up the local Vancouver entertainment scene. We are your source for concerts, guest lectures, and a variety of entertainment, which is usually hosted on campus. We serve as the in-house talent buyer for the Pit Pub and the Gallery Lounge, while also providing experienced event management for Firstweek, Welcome Back BBQ, and the AMS Block Party. In addition to our ever-expanding events calendar, we also put on weekly gigs that have become a part of UBC lore.

If your club is planning an event and has questions, wants to rent sound equipment, or needs help booking entertainment, drop us a note and we will do our best to help!

Sustainability

The AMS and UBC strive to make this campus one of the most sustainable in Canada and the world. Learn about and get involved with some of the great initiatives happening on this campus.

AMS Sustainability Office

Coordinator: Justin Ritchie sustainability@ams.ubc.ca
Outreach
Coordinator:
Jenna Singh
sustainoutreach@ams.ubc.ca
www.amssustainability.ca

The AMS Sustainability Office carries out the AMS Lighter Footprint Strategy—an outline for developing ecologically-responsible action in AMS operations and student life across campus. This year, the office is moving forward on taking the sustainability commitments of the student union to the next level.

In March 2011, the AMS passed a student referendum to establish the AMS Sustainability Projects Fund, a reserve of over $100,000 for student-led sustainability initiatives. AMS-funded projects now include biodiesel produced by UBC Engineering students, workshops in sustainable skills like knitting and cheese-making, and support for gardens and bikeshares around campus. A blog about the projects and information on how to apply is available on the AMS Sustainability web page.

The Sustainability office also manages AMS-wide projects, like the Waterfillz machines, which allow students to refill water bottles without the negative effects of bottled water. We now have Waterfillz locations across campus in the SUB main floor and lower level, West Mall Swing Space, the MacMillan Building and the Kaiser Building. AMS Waterfillz machines have received more than half a million 500mL fills over the last two years, keeping hundreds of thousands of bottles out of the landfill while saving UBC students more than $1 million than if they had purchased bottled water. The AMS also works to reduce waste through composting at outlets and through the green bins in the SUB; with your help in composting our food waste, as much as half of our organic food waste in the AMS could be collected and composted, either in our on-site vermicomposting bins or at UBC's larger on-campus facility.

For more information and opportunities, check out the AMS Sustainability webpage, or one of the many other sustainability initiatives on campus, including:

UBC Sustainability

campus.sustainability@ubc.ca sustain.ubc.ca • @SustainUBC

Acts as a hub for green initiatives across campus, including sustainability research, teaching and learning.

New SUB Sustainability

subsustain@ams.ubc.ca • mynewsub.com

Dedicated to ensuring that the New SUB exceeds the highest standards for sustainability, and represents the AMS's lighter Footprint Strategy. Students are welcome to contact the New SUB group to ask questions, offer ideas or apply for member-at-large positions.

Transportation Options

The road to education should be easy, affordable, and sustainable, and that's why the AMS and UBC offer many alternatives to driving to campus.

Bike Co-op

ubc.bikecoop@gmail.com • bikecoop.ca

The Bike Co-op is dedicated to improving the UBC community cycling experience. We provide cycling resources and services to the campus community and work to promote and improve cycling at UBC. Volunteer at one of our work parties, learn about bike repair and earn a key to our famous Purple & Yellow Bike fleet—an on-campus community bike share program.

The Bike Kitchen

www.thebikekitchen.com

The Bike Kitchen is a full service, non-profit bicycle repair shop with its own entrance on the north side of the SUB. We specialize in inexpensive, refurbished bicycles and offer a full selection of new and used parts. We are also available for customers to repair their own bikes, and offer assistance for those who need help. Receive 10% off new parts with your student card.

UBC Transportation Planning

trans.plan@ubc.ca • www.transportation.ubc.ca

Transportation Planning develops and implements transportation policies and programs that support UBC's vision for a sustainable campus, and is responsible for transportation engineering and traffic management planning on campus roadways. Our office administers the U-Pass program, provides bike parking, and end-of-trip facilities throughout campus for cyclists. We support access to sustainable transportation initiatives, including emergency ride home and car share programs.

The U-Pass

www.upass.ubc.ca

The U-Pass is a three-zone bus pass that provides unlimited access to all Translink services (city buses, community shuttles, Skytrain, and the SeaBus). In January 2013, students resoundingly approved the program for another three years at $35 per month. Should you have issues with picking up your U-Pass; questions about the new electronic fare system, Compass (coming in late 2013); or are interested in advocating for better regional transit to campus, please contact the VP External, or visit www.ams.ubc.ca/services/u-pass.

UBC Ride Share Program

604.879.7433 • 1.888.380.7433

info@ride-share.com • ubc.ride-share.com

Need to drive or be driven to campus? Fill those empty seats in your car or someone else's car! Simply register for free online and search for matches. You can also ride Monday to Friday in an available Vanpool for a monthly fare.

Campus Media

Stay informed and be heard! On a campus the size of a small town, UBC media are necessary to keep up to date with student life and the broader community.

The Cavalier

cavalier@cus.sauder.ubc.ca

The Cavalier is Sauder's exclusive student newspaper, providing news regarding campus life, academics, culture, and the business world. Look out for our monthly newspaper in print and online, and do not hesitate to join us and get involved!

CiTR

SUB 233 • 604.822.1242
stationmanager@citr.ca
www.citr.ca

Broadcasting 350 watts of independent radio from the top of Gage Towers at 101.9 FM, CiTR is a progressive student-run radio society at UBC. We are Vancouver's source for local and indie music, campus and community news, UBC sports, arts, and culture. Sign up for station tours, broadcasting training, or our new DJ program. Volunteers at the station can host their own show; plan events; write for our music publication, Discorder; or relax in our listening lounge. Visit our website to learn more, subscribe to our podcasts, and stream live radio.

Discorder Magazine

SUB 233 • 604.822.3071 ext. 3
editor.discorder@gmail.com • discorder.ca

Spawned in 1983 as the program guide and print supplement for campus radio CiTR, Discorder Magazine is published ten times per year on the web and in print across Vancouver. Driven by a dedicated production team, Discorder harnesses raw volunteer power and converts it into edgy and informative news. Our content includes music and film reviews, analysis, interviews, and full-length features—all under the umbrella of independent music, arts, and culture. To contribute words, ideas, or baked goods, stop by our office.

UBC News

@UBCNEWS

UBC News is the University's new online news portal that is updated by UBC Public Affairs with the latest news releases, feature stories, expert profiles, athletics highlights, and campus videos. The website provides information of interest about UBC to journalists and members of our community: faculty, staff, students, alumni, and supporters. The latest news is also available through a variety of subscription options, including by subject matter "beat" areas and via a weekly UBC Reports news summary e-mail.

The Ubyssey

Coordinating Editor: Geoff Lister
SUB 24 • 604.822.2301 • @ubyssey coordinating@ubyssey.ca • www.ubyssey.ca

The Ubyssey is your national award-winning student newspaper and UBC's definitive campus news source. We also happen to be one of the best (informal) journalism schools in the country—our alumni report for nearly every major publication in Canada. We also offer design, illustration and video experience. Whether you want to write one article a semester or an article every day, there's a place for you at The Ubyssey.

The Thunderbird

The Thunderbird is the official news organization of the UBC School of Journalism, and offers perspectives on Vancouver, British Columbia and beyond from journalism students.

Culture & Gardens

UBC is a visually stunning university, with a multitude of cultural attractions to bring learning outside the classroom. Many of these places offer student rates, so take advantage of them before it's too late.

AMS Art Gallery

SUB Main Level, Southwest corner
sacart@ams.ubc.ca • Mon–Fri, 11am–5pm
Free admission

Nestled in the southwest corner of the SUB, the student-run AMS Art Gallery has provided both UBC students and non-students the opportunity to publicly display their artwork for over 30 years. Along with student art are selections from the AMS Permanent Collection, featuring works by seminal Canadian artists from the past 80 years, and a dedicated bi-annual exhibition. Come experience our semimonthly exhibitions, as well as various evening events as we celebrate our last year in this space before moving to the new SUB. Find us online, or like us on Facebook to stay updated on all AMS Art Gallery activities.

Personal safety is an important consideration for everyone regardless of age, gender or ability. The purpose of this guide is not to induce fear, but to provide resources to help you avoid and prevent dangerous situations. Do not feel foolish or embarrassed asking for help if you feel you need it. Any situation that causes you concern or fear is a legitimate reason for seeking help. If a situation feels wrong, it probably is.

- Be aware of your surroundings.
- Trust your gut instinct and ask if you want help. SafeWalk, the blue phones and other services are there to prevent dangerous situations and to help you feel safe.
- Intervene if you feel comfortable.
- Recognize that everyone has a role in preventing violence. Educate yourself and others. The Sexual Assault Support Centre (SASC) offers free resources.

Know that it is never your fault if you survive an act of violence. Contact SASC for support, answers to questions, and advocacy. Visit us at our new location in SUB 249M. Call us at (604) 827-5180. E-mail us at sasc@ams.ubc.ca.

HEY CANADA!

TRUST YOUR TASTE BUDS!

DID YOU KNOW THAT MORE CANADIANS PREFER THE TASTE OF PEPSI OVER COKE?*

TAKE THE ULTIMATE TASTE CHALLENGE™ AND TASTE FOR YOURSELF

*Among those cola drinkers tested who stated a preference in a national blind taste test between Pepsi/Coca-Cola, Diet Pepsi/Diet Coke & Pepsi Max/Coca-Cola Zero. Coca-Cola and related marks are trade-marks of Coca-Cola Ltd.
