SWEEPING CHANGES IN CONSTITUTION FACE A.M.S.

New Manager System To Replace Present Alleged Laxity?

Certain findings of the Finance Committee were not endorsed by the Students' Council. It was felt that these matters involved such great changes that they required the endorsement of the students themselves. Following is the report which was not endorsed by Council:

FURTHER RECOMMENDATIONS

In presenting this report we have considered the primary clause in the previous Financial Committee's report regarding the appointment of a paid employee of the Alma Mater Society. It was suggested that we consider the appointment of either a treasurer, secretary, business manager, or curator-bookkeeper as best suited to our needs. Because at that time the conditions were such that there was much need for the work of the curator to be completely reorganized, they recommended that a curator be appointed for this year. This work is now organized in such a manner that with a little co-operation from the students, a sophomore or junior could carry on the duties of curator without being paid more than the expenses incurred by his office.

The present system of conducting business has been admitted a failure and because of that, this Committee was appointed, "to investigate the internal conditions of the business of the Alma Mater Society, with the view of bringing in recommendations for changes in policy to keep pace with the development of activities of the student body." Our detailed survey which was carried on over the Christmas Holidays, covered the reports, books, etc. of 1926-1927 and 1927-1928, which shows that our present system lacks: (1) a centralized guiding force; (2) permanency; (3) responsibility; and (4) co-operation. Because of the following two reasons the system of financing is lax: (1) there is usually only one person on the Students' Council who has a detailed knowledge of the particular matter under discussion, and (2) this one person might be biased. Furthermore, the system is not consistent inasmuch as certain branches of the Alma Mater Society are permitted to handle their own finances,

FROSH PARTICIPATE IN INITIAL DANCE

Lester Court, proverbial home of the Frosh, again echoed to the din of enthusiastic voices as the Freshmen glided around the floor at their first class party on Saturday night. Though at first upper classmen seemed to dominate the hall, the Freshmen arriving late came with a rush to uphold the honor of their class in having the majority present at their dance.

The Club Royal orchestra supplied music, and with such numbers as "Sally of My Dream," "Jeanne" and "Ten Little Miles from Town" for the cavorting of the infants and their more serious senior guests. Everyone "dragged," and waltzed until the call of supper turned the dancers into a hurrying horde that swarmed with magic-like rapidity into the dining room where students turned amateur waiters and liberally poured coffee not only in the cups but gave some to the floor. At the mention of ice-cream a veritable "Bartholomew's Day" took place as the ice-cream cups were slaughtered.

The hall was decorated with streamers of blue and gold, evergreen branches and small lanterns. These however received scant attention of the crowd that employed every possible moment with dancing.

Patrons and patronesses were: Dean Bollert, President and Mrs. Klink, Dean and Mrs. Buchanan, Dean and Mrs. Brock, Professor and Mrs. Angus and Dr. Shrum.

Runners Primed For Annual Grind

The annual cross-country race this year at Varsity will bring together the old rivals—Selby, Bunne and Chappell; over a course which will tax each man to the utmost. Two and a half miles of snow and ice will comprise the course on Wednesday at 3:15 for the most exciting and nerve-racking race ever indulged in by the Varsity students. The race will be run, rain or shine.

The entries have been pouring in like water and the most notable of these include Thornber, Carey, Hammett, Terry, McDiarmid, Munn, King and the three leaders. These men all ran well in the Arts '30 Road Race and it is a matter of considerable discussion as to which one will carry off the honors in this race.

Last year Jack Chappell won the race from a field of thirty entrants. The finish was watched by a large and interested crowd and the enthusiasm this year is at least equal to that of last year.

Another matter of interest is the rumor that the class of Arts '31 will be putting up a trophy for the winning team. 10 points to count for the first man in, then 9 etc., until the first ten men are home. This is calculated to add a great deal to the already large interest in the race.

Meralomas Defeat Senior "A" Women

Varsity hoop stars went down to a 23-30 defeat when the Senior "A" women clashed with the strong Meraloma team, on Saturday night at the V. A. C. gym. This game gives Meralomas a clear lead in the Senior "A" league, with the Felixes a close second and Varsity third.

Meralomas had the edge all the way through. Varsity failed to get going properly and if they did get a chance for a basket they fumbled or missed it. The student team was not up to standard and also had bad luck. Meralomas, on the other hand, were playing real basketball. Rettie Tingley was the star for Varsity and was responsible for many good tactical plays.

In the first quarter, the teams were fairly evenly matched, neither side displaying brilliance. At quarter time, Meralomas had a 7-6 lead.

The second period was much the same at the first. Varsity scored a free shot while Meralomas chalked up three baskets. The half time whistle blew with Meralomas ahead 13-7.

In the third quarter Meralomas began to play in earnest. Varsity could not check the swift onrush of the Meraloma team. The last period was a thriller. Varsity rallied desperately and managed to bring the score up 20-23 largely due to the good playing of Rettie Tingley. The final whistle blew with Varsity vanquished 23-20.

Varsity Senior "A" women will take on the V. A. C. Felixes, to-night at 8 o'clock in the V. A. C. gym. This game ought to be well worth seeing as the teams are evenly matched.

If the co-eds win this game they will have a second place tie with the Felixes in the Senior "A" league.

Meeting Called For Friday To Discuss Finance Report

COUNCIL ENDORSES 29 CLAUSES; OTHER RULINGS TO BE CONSIDERED

Radical changes to the constitution of the Alma Mater Society are involved in the recommendations of the Finance Committee, which will be presented to the students for discussion at a general meeting of the A. M. S. in the Auditorium, Friday noon, at 12.15.

The report comes as a result of the work of Alex Smith, Hugh Morrison, and Arnold Henderson who were appointed by Students' Council in October to investigate conditions of the Alma Mater Society. This committee has been working since October on its report, and when it was finally submitted to Students' Council the latter discussed it for over 15 hours before finally amending certain clauses, deleting others, and endorsing the report as amended.

Certain clauses were deemed necessary for student discussion before being officially endorsed by the Alma Mater Society. These radical clauses will be discussed Friday.

Last spring a comittee composed of Bill Thompson, Gaundry Phillips, Howard Nicholson, Les Brown, Ross Tolmie, Russ Munn, and Bill Masterson was appointed to investigate conditions of the Alma Mater Society. This committee investigated basic wrongs and recommended that another committee be appointed. The result was the formation of the present Finance Committee whose report is now submitted.

Other business to be considered is the endorsement of the following motion:

"That the Board of Governors of the University of British Columbia be and they are hereby requested to pay over each year to The Toronto General Trusts Corporation or to the Trustee for the time being under the Trust Deed securing payment of moneys borrowed by the Alma Mater Society for the purpose of erecting a building for gymnasium and other athletic activities out of such fees as are collected for the use of the Alma Mater Society, being the student and alumni organization having charge of student and alumni activities of The University of British Columbia, the sum of Three Dollars for each full undergraduate registered as such on the Register of The University of British Columbia, and that such payment by the Board of Governors of The University of British Columbia continue so long as any moneys secured by the said Trust Deed remain unpaid."

Following is the report of the Finance Committee as amended and endorsed by Students' Council with the introduction attached:

This committee composed of Alex Smith, Hugh Morrison and Arnold Henderson was appointed by the Students' Council to complete the work of the Finance Committee which was appointed at the close of the Spring Term, 1928, "to investigate the internal conditions of the business of the Alma Mater Society with a view of bringing in recommendations for changes in policy to keep pace with the development of activities of the Student Body," but which was unable to make a complete report owing to the books not being available. The present committee has gone into the books and files of the Alma Mater Society and subsidiary organizations, placing the most of their work on the reports of 1926-27 and 1927-28. Though some of the following suggestions and recommendations do not apply directly to finance, it is believed that they will, indirectly, aid some of the many activities at U. B. C.

(1) ITEMIZATION

We recommend: (a) That every expenditure and every receipt be charged or credited to a particular branch of activity of the club.

(b) That a system of notation be adopted to save time and space.

(c) That this symbol appear on the check stubs, ledgers, budgets, bills, and any report connected therewith.

(2) ECONOMY

We recommend: (a) That the amount of money received from fees and gates receipts, etc., and the amount of money spent in the last

BASKETERS DROP GAME TO ISLAND INVADERS

Defeated by the Victoria basketball team, the Varsity Senior "B" women staged their most thrilling match of the season on Friday night at the V. A. C. gym. The game was fast and hard fought from beginning to end, both teams spurred on by the staunch support from sidelines. Although the co-eds were above the mark the visiting team proved too strong for them.

Wilma Watson starred on the Senior "B" team playing a spectacular game. Her fast running, passing and straight shooting did much to help the Vasity score. Lois Toutellotte also played exceptionally well throughout.

The game started with Victoria scoring the first basket. Helen Maguire, who was playing well, netted the first basket for Varsity while the Victoria team chalked up eight points in the first quarters. When the first time whistle blew the score stood 8-2 in Victoria's favor.

The second quarter was even more exciting. Varsity checking hard and both teams being able to score only two points each. Lois Tourtellotte worked well in this quarter but could not score. Then Wilma Watson, taking the ball from Varsity's end of the floor, dashed to the other end and scored a basket. Victoria was still in the lead 10-4 at half time.

In the second half the game was not quite as closely contested. The co-eds did not watch their checks as carefully and Victoria managed to net two baskets to Varsity's one, in

BIGGER AND BETTER HANDBOOKS

In an attempt to provide a more complete and instructive handbook than has been issued in the past, the Publications Board has decided to commence work on next year's handbook in the near future. This will enable the handbook staff to investigate and study university opinion as to what constitutes a desirable handbook. Consequently co-operation of the students is requested and all suggestions either from individuals or organizations will be welcome. Announcement will be made concerning the appointment of the handbook editor at a later date in the Ubyssey.

THE IMPERIAL CONFERENCE OF UNIVERSITY STUDENTS

In recent years various efforts have been made from time to time to bring about closer contact between university students through Canada and the Empire. Conferences have been held at which representatives of student organizations have discussed matters of vital importance in student life, and as a result momentous decisions have been reached regarding the conduct of student affairs.

The most noteworthy conference from the standpoint of British students was convened at Oxford and Cambridge in 1924, when representatives from various universities in the Empire met to discuss matters of common interest. Of such value was this assembly to the representatives who attended that it was decided unanimously to make the event quadrennial.

This year, as a result of an invitation issued by the session of the National Federation of Canadian University Students in 1927, the second Imperial Conference will be held at Montreal early in September. The meeting will discuss such matters as student exchanges and tours, student publications, openings for post-graduate work and other questions of paramount importance in university life.

The advantages of a representative assembly of such nature are too obvious to require elucidation. It is of particular value to a young institution to come in close contact with the culture of older universities, and it is greatly to be desired that U. B. C. should be adequately represented at the forthcoming conference.

The graduates of this university have individually distinguished themselves throughout the Empire, but never before has U. B. C. been given an opportunity to meet formally representatives from universities outside Canada or the United States.

We hope, therefore, that this unusually interesting conference will number among its members a student from this university who will be able fully to express and clearly to interpret the ideals and traditions of U. B. C.

CHESSITES STAGE FURIOUS MATCH IN COMMON ROOM

The Chess Tournaments, at present occupying the Upper Common Room, have been progressing feverishly. The entrants in the Championship maintain a certain amount of decorum befitting their position but the participants in the Minor tourney are apparently striving to break all speed records.

In the Championship, Cecil Yarwood of Agriculture is at present to the front, having won all four games played so far. Following him is R. A. Pilkington, having won three games and drawn one. The rest of the players are close behind. At such an early date, no reliable forecast of the result can be made.

The Minor Tournament so far has been more remarkable for its celerity than the soundness of the play. J. Davidson is well in the lead, having lost but one game. Russ Kininmont, who defeated Davidson, is running in second place, with only one loss and two draws chalked up against him. The speed-king of the tourney is McEachern who has played sixteen of his seventeen games.

It is hoped to finish both tournaments by next week, when the annual match with the Faculty is due to take place.

Sophomores, Attention!

Arts '31 will hold a class meeting in Applied Science 100, Thursday at 12.10 sharp. This meeting is of great importance since a quorum of Sophomores is needed to decide the question of a commemorative gift. Dr. Sage will speak on the subject and advise the class in this matter.

GROUP OF SEVEN EXPLAINED TO ART CLUB BY SPEAKER

Mr. Varley, of the B. C. Art School, was the speaker at the meeting of the Art Club held Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. H. A. McEwan. Mr. Varley is an exponent of the Group of Seven, and as such, discussed the desire of the younger school to develop a technique which emphasizes the impression and not the mechanics of the art of painting. The subject is extremely interesting and many of the members are anxious to try the modern technique. The next meeting will be held at the Vanderpant galleries, February 21, 8 p.m., when Mr. Vanderpant will discuss the modern aspect of pictorial photography.

S.C.M. SERVICE AT WESLEY CHURCH

A special service by students and for students will be held at Wesley Church on Sunday evening, February 17. The speaker will be Mr. Harry Avison, secretary of the Student Christian Movement for western Canada. Mr. Avison graduated from McGill University in 1922, and since that time has been president of the S.C.M. movement in that institution. His subject Sunday evening will be "The Rediscovery of Religion."

A special section of the church will be reserved for students, and it is hoped that a representative audience will welcome the speaker.

NOTICE

Varsity ties have been obtained and may be procured at the Curator's Office for $1.50. Only a limited number have been purchased so students are advised to apply early.

Finance Committee Report

In this issue we print the report of the Finance Committee as amended and endorsed by the Students' Council, and also the portion of the report which has not yet received the endorsement of Council. The whole of this report will be open for discussion at the Alma Mater meeting on Friday.

On the whole this report shows a thoroughness and impartiality which represents work, true investigation, and an honest desire to better the business conditions of the Alma Mater Society. We feel we are voicing the opinion of the whole student body when we say the Finance Committee has done its work well.

Like other reports of this nature, however, this one contains certain clauses which might better be deleted or changed, and perhaps there are some omissions.

Let us first consider the report as amended and endorsed by Students' Council. The Ubyssey gives its whole-hearted support to clauses (f), (g), (h), (i), and (j) under Alma Mater Meetings." We believe the whole student body should be encouraged more than they have been to decide their own policy.

Section (10) "Mamooks Club," clause (i), recommends "That the Mamooks Club prepare a report to be followed in the publication of a better Handbook." We ask that recommend" replace the word "prepare." We also refuse to accept official representation on the executive of the Mamooks Club as suggested in clause (b). The Publications board refuses to be the "mouthpiece" of any organization, and we have no desire to act as controllers of the Mamooks Club.

We believe that clauses (a) and (b) under section (11) "Publicity" should be deleted. " "Undesired publicity" is sometimes the truth. We maintain that the truth should not be withheld from the reading public, even when it may harm our university. Surely we can answer for our actions. Clause (b) is "bilge," and if Students' Council attempts to prevent students from explaining their own actions it would be contrary to all university ideals. We agree, however, that students should be held responsible for what they say or print.

We support the clause that coaches should be allowed expenses. Providing all activities are represented we advocate that coaches be paid salaries.

Concerning the suggested "Manager System" there is much to be said both for and against. Would it be better to continue as things are at present, or should there be the suggested business manager? These questions are difficult to answer.

According to the Finance Committee the present system of finance has failed because it lacks a centralized guiding force, permanency, responsibility, and co-operation, and this in turn may be due to ignorance of affairs or biased opinion. Several people have agreed that the present system of finance is a failure. We feel we are voicing student opinion when we say that it is time something was done to better the existing financial system.

If the proposed manager system were adopted it would certainly tighten up the loop-holes through which the money of the A. M. S. is sometimes allowed to escape. Further, both centralized control and direct responsibility would then be possible. Permanency would be improved by such a stable organization, with the proposed Finance Executive training various managers and their assistants in the work of the manager system. Obviously co-operation would be improved with the functioning of such an executive where all activities are represented. In short, we believe adoption of the prposed manager system would do much to better conditions at U. B. C. so long as the head of this system is always responsible to the Alma Mater Society.

The proposed salary of $250 per year, we believe would more than pay for itself from the resulting economy, and it would place a greater sense of responsibility on the business manager.

Concerning the appointment of the business manager we would suggest that candidates be required to pass special examinations pertaining to the work, while seniority and experience would play their part.

The old system has proved inadequate. Why not try the new?

College Ciceroes Castigate Rural Rhetoricians

On Friday evening Varsity debaters defeated the Mount Lehman Debating Society in a stiff encounter. Mount Lehman was supported by Mr. Tropper a graduate of Arts '24, and Reverend Moses, Theology graduate of '28. The negative side of the debate was upheld by Earl Vance and Charles Gillespie. Mr. Farber was in the chair.

The topic under discussion was, "Resolved that National foreign blocks are in the best interests of the Canadian people." Mr. Tropper leading the affimative pointed out how the richness of a nation depended on its variety of types, this he compared to the ancient Greek empire.

Mr. Moses went on to say that each type is necessary to build up a strong nation and that the block system was the way in which this could be accomplished. He then continued to show how it could be applied to Canada.

Vance and Gillespie illustrated that there are two examples of the block system already in existence in Canada which were not successful and stated that if other national foreign blocks were introduced they too would be a failure.

Library Reprimands Well Known Students

"Sign these cards, please, and return them to the Librarian in charge," was the fateful sentence received by Greville Rowland, president L. S. E., Students' Council, and Doug. Pollock while conversing in the Library last Friday. In pronouncing these words amid the surprised stares of the nearby students the assistant librarian presented the gentlemen in question with two pink slips, representative of a misdemeanor committed within the precincts of the Library reading rooms.

In an endeavor to procure a more studious conduct in the Library, December last, the Library Committee decided to inaugurate the system of reprimanding those creating a disturbance in the reading room. This decision was the reason why one of the after Christmas surprises for the returning students was the array of green cards present on every reading table in the Library. These cards bore an extract from the calendar regarding the conduct required of those using the Library.

A month after its inauguration this ruling began to take definite effect and the aforementioned victims became the recipients of the first two cards presented.

The Whole Gamut

How often it happens that one's pen runs dry just when one has much writing to do! Perhaps this occurs in the library where you are making extracts from a reference book, or are composing an essay. Ink you must have and you therefore set forth in quest of this precious fluid. By politely approaching several persons and stopping to chat a few minutes with each, and thus attracting the attention of the desk clerk who comes over and conscientiously reprimands you, making you the cynosure of all in the room, you get your rubber sac filled and return shamefacedly to your studies.

I have no sympathy for you. During the period of frenzied activity which precedes examinations there may and often does come about an ink famine, when the owner of a bottle, if he wish to keep it long, is well advised to hide his property from public gaze. Having suffered greatly from the depredations, for such I regard them, of many friends and acquaintances and others, upon my bottle, which was drained to the drop, and actuated by a desire to make the lot of my fellows easier than at present, I suggest to the Students' Council that a trough for thirsty pens might be a humanitarian piece of legislation.

Is it any wonder that there are so many violations of the laws against speeding when advertisements of automobiles proclaims for them speeds of 60, 70, 80, and up to 112 miles an hour? This is really pandering to the American passion for hurry.

Suppose Mr. Motorist does save four minutes on his way home in the evening, what good does it do him? Is time so valuable that he need risk his own life and that of others in his mad rush to reach his destination? And does he require a 100 horse power car to transport him?

It has always seemed peculiar to me that though movies shown in B. C. are subject to censorship and are thoroughly expurgated, vaudeville acts are free from surveillance. Quite often in both the Pantages and Orpheum things are said and done on the stage which must be embarrassing for the cultured persons among the audience. I honestly believe most of those present enjoy the suggestiveness and vulgarity that characterise many of the so-called acts. But there are a puritanical few to whom these brazen breaches of good taste are nauseating. The marvel of it all is that the Ministerial Association or the Local Council of Women hasn't seen to the matter long ago.

What People Are Thinking

Editor, Ubyssey.
Dear Sir:

Regarding the sentence passed by the Students' Court on Mr. R. G. Griffis on February 2nd.

After hearing the evidence and Mr. Griffis' own statements, the Court passed the following motion:

"In view of the fact that Mr. Robert Griffis was admittedly guilty of disorderly conduct and total disregard of property and windows of the University, we hereby impose a fine of Five Dollars to be paid by the aforesaid to the Treasurer of the A. M. S. by noon of February 6th, 1929."

This decision was read to Mr. Griffis, the only change being the use of the second person instead of the third, and the question was asked, "Have you anything to say?" Mr. Griffis did not protest against the sentence at that time, and he paid the fine immediately.

Regarding the publication of the sentence, it was Councils' expressed wish that you do so.

Yours very truly,
J. R. TOLMIE.

The Editor, "Ubyssey."
Dear Sir:

From what I have seen and heard of late I have gathered that what you want for the columns of your paper is correspondence. Consequently, as you might guess, I am making my first attempt. The other day there was occasion for me to enter the precincts of your worthy Pub. Office, and what a sight met my eyes! The floor was littered with paper of every description. Plaster was knocked off the walls in several places. One of your associates was making a valiant attempt to keep the radiator from catching a chill. While you yourself were engaged in a tussle with another of the inmates over a matter of no moment. In short, the whole office presented the aspect of some such place as a Men's Common Room. May I ask, is it too early to start Spring cleaning? Someone suggested that you hire a janitor to attend to your domicile exclusively. In fact, I might even accept the position myself. Try to imagine the possibilities of such a scheme. If you would accept the help of the extra janitor you might even produce more sensible editorials!

Yours as ever,
"OSWALD."

P.S. This hardly merits one of your valuable "we print this for what it is worths."

Editor's Note:—We do not print this letter for what it is worth. From his remark about our editorials, readers may gather that Oswald belongs to a fraternity. We shall not break faith with the writer by disclosing either his name or the name of his fraternity, but suggest that if Oswald is serious in his desire for a more orderly Pub. office, he remove "common room" influences from the editor by ejecting from the Pub. all of his rowdy fraternity brothers, and make it clear to them (as we have tried to do in our editorial columns) that the Ubyssey office is not a fraternity house. In the meantime we would be obliged to Oswald if he would point out to us through our correspondence columns in what way our editorials could be more sensible.

Editor of Ubyssey,
Dear Sir:

Regarding the proposed change in letter awards.

In granting awards we must first consider for what reasons are the awards to be made. In "Letter Awards" the reasons suggested were: For outstanding athletic ability, judged as a team-man rather than an individual star, judged by his ability to make the team any year, judged by men on other teams competing in that sport; further considerations being training spirit and sportsmanship. These reasons were selected because an award under such a system would be appreciated by the winner, honored by other athletes, and recognized and respected by everyone. Furthermore the standard of athletics is unquestionably judged by the calibre of men to whom an institution gives its highest athletic award.

If the above reasons are those which we desire to give our awards the present system should be changed. The time played should not be the vital consideration, for the fewer the men from the previous year, the less seasoned the team will be, and thus a tendency to lower calibre than in other years, yet there will be a greater number of awards issued. Under the present system it is quite possible for deserving athletes to fail to qualify because of injuries, and an undeserving athlete to qualify for want of better players. Also the granting of big blocks to certain sports only is unfair, a man whose athletic ability in tennis, swimming, boxing, rowing, golf, etc., ranks him amongst the best in Canada, is far more deserving of a Big Block than many who do now qualify in our "Major Sports." At present there are so many issued that there is not sufficient honor connected with it to gain the desired recognition on our own campus.

The method suggested of selecting the athletes is as follows: The coaches in conjunction with the club would select the participants in their sport, with the exception of Big Block men, in order of merit. These lists would then go before the "Big Block Club." Each of the members would select ten. These would go before "The Awards Committee" composed of two members from the Faculty, two from the Alumni, two from the Big Block Club, and the President of the Big Block Club who acts as chairman. This committee would total the votes for each candidate, and the result of this would not be made known. They would then select a number not to exceed ten athletic awards. These awards would then be presented to the Men's Athletic Association for approval.

The Big Block Club would be started by selecting ten of the present under graduate holders of Big Blocks who are outstanding athletes. These would consider immediately the undergraduate holders of Big Blocks attending University. This would constitute the Club who would select ten new men at the end of the year.

This matter has been under consideration for some time and the Men's Athletic Executive are presenting it as a possible solution to our letter awards problem. However the meeting is called in such a manner to permit free discussion. It is hoped that members of Men's Athletic Association will think about the details of "Letter Awards" before this meeting to save time in the discussion.

Trusting this will clear up some misunderstanding regarding this, I remain,

Respectively yours,
A. E. HENDERSON

The Editor of the Ubyssey.
Dear Sir:

In reply to the letter of Horatius of the last issue perhaps a few things for his enlightment might not be out of place.

(1) Two bouncers were not "hired and paid to help out those without tickets."

One doorkeeper for the senior ball was instructed to keep out gate crashers, who were not bona fide members of the senior year. The class president has not "failed lamentably" in admitting a member of the senior year who has paid class fees.

(2) Any objections to the draw should have been made by a member of the class at the time of the draw and not after the senior party by some knocker hiding behind a pen-name.

(3) How crashing Hi-Jinks subtracts from the executive ability of the President or reflects on the other members of the executive Horatius fails to explain.

If Horatius is a member of the Senior Class and is expressing a general opinion it would be well to call a meeting to determine the attitude of the class. If Horatius is not a member of the Senior year could we be so humble as to suggest that he permit us to handle our own affairs.

WARREN SUGGESTS TOLMIE AS SUCCESSOR TO LEAGUE WORK AT OXFORD

Harry Warren, U. B. C. Rhodes scholar now at Oxford, in a letter to Ross Tolmie makes a strong appeal to the Universities of the Dominion to take their proper share in the activities of the League of Nations.

Warren is chairman of the Dominion Sub-Committee, which is affiliated with the British Universities League of Nations Society, and which has for its purpose the formation of League of Nations Societies in the various Universities of the Dominions and India. With the best interests of Canada, and more particularly British Columbia, in mind Warren makes the suggestion that he nominate Mr. Tolmie for the chairmanship of the Dominions Sub-Committee to succeed himself in order that this University may have the honor of being represented in the highest office of the committee during two successive years.

This is the letter:

Dear Tolmie,

Congratulations! I am sending this to you personally because I am anxious that B. C. should be the first to take her place among Canadian Universities in this recent development.

In this connection would you like me to nominate you for the Committee as my successor? I would be only too glad to do so and it would be nice to see B. C. representing Canada for two years in succession.

The Conferences at Geneva are well worth while and I recommend you to try and work me in during your stay in Oxford.

I follow all the University news as closely as I can and a U. B. C. success means as much to me as it does to any of you!

Best wishes for success
from
Yours sincerely,
HARRY V. WARREN.

In a statement accompanying the letter Warren outlines the work of the Dominion Sub-Committee. It consists of representatives from Canada, New Zealand, Australia, Irish Free State, South Africa, and India. The manifest interest taken in international affairs by students from the Dominions studying in Europe suggested that students at home might take a similar interest if the opportunity for study presented itself. The real reason for the formation of the Committee was quite different however. It was, in Warren's words, in response to "an international demand that Dominion students should take their place beside the students of the other countries in the world in their activities relating to the League of Nations."

UNIVERSITY SUPPORT NEEDED

Accordingly the Dominion Sub-Committee, formed by and affiliated with the British Universities League of Nations Society, has begun its work of arousing student interest in the League. The first step is "to get into touch with some body in the universities of each Dominion, which will concern itself, either wholly or in part, with the League of Nations." The next step would be the formation of a National Universities League of Nations Society, similar to the British Society in England. This national body would be affiliated with the Federation Universaire International pour la Societe des Nations, which is a central, international organization with which all student societies rendering support to the League are affiliated.

DOMINIONS LACK R PRESENTATION

These steps, besides being desirable in themselves, appear to involve the honour of the Dominions. At a recent meeting of the Federational Universaire International the British League Society was asked if it could take steps in getting the representation of the Dominions in the Federation International. In veiw of the fact that all the large countries as well as some very small countries send delegates to the Federation International, and also that the Dominions send delegates to the League of Nations itself, it was pointed out that the Dominions have no official student support in the activities of the League. Therefore unless the Empire wishes to appear deficient in a desire for Universal Peace in the eyes of the world it is necessary that the steps outlined be undertaken. Warren closes his statement: "We do know that the interest we feel in this subject is shared by large numbers of other Dominion students in Europe; and we hope that a similar interest exists in the universities of the Dominions, and that this appeal may find some response."

OHIO STATE U. GIVES VIEWS ON FRATERNITIES

Columbus, Ohio. — "Resolved. That Fraternities and Sororities at State Universities Should be Abolished."

This is the subject that Indiana and Ohio State co-eds will debate shortly. Ohio State's affirmative team goes to Indiana and the negative debates in the Chapel.

Interesting arguments that will be advanced by the affirmative team at Indiana follow:

Miss Whitney is non-sorority girl but both Miss Bollenbacher and Miss McCall are members of Kappa Delta Sorority. Miss Bollenbacher says, "I am convinced that we are better off without them. Undoubtedly if everyone had made as thorough a study of the subject as we have they would be just as convinced as we are now.

"One of the most important points we are stressing is that on account of fraternity life there are three important groups harmed, the student who is a fraternity member, the student who is not a fraternity member, and the University itself," she said.

"The non-fraternity man tends to develop an inferiority complex, and to feel very much out of things. He also finds it difficult to get into any worth while organizations and finds all imoprtant offices and duties filled by fraternity people," she said.

Syracuse Dean Raps Modern College Girl

Although the modern college girl is intelligent, cultured, capable and industrious, she is not a great success as a home-maker, wife and mother.

This opinion is one advanced by Prof. Annie Louise MacLeod, dean of the college of home economics at Syracuse university.

"Young women must change their attitude toward domesticity before they can be happy and efficient in their homes, declared Professor Macleod at a recent convention of the American Sociological Society in Chicago.

"The college girl is not trained to take her place as a wife and mother. All her interest and ambition in college is directed away from the home.

"Intelligent young women resent the implication that they are only fit to cook the meals and wash the dishes. We can't go back to the days of our grandmothers, but the thing to do is to learn to go forward. In my opinion we need three new programs in women's education.

"First education adapted to the triple demand made upon the women of the present, as a citizen, an individual and a family builder. Secondly, the eradication of the stigma of inferiority connected with the home."

Oregonian Council Asks Ideas and Criticism

Oregon State Barometer—

"Suggestion Week," a period for constructive criticism of any phase of student activity by students and faculty members, has been scheduled for this week by Grant McMillan, student body president. This is the first time that such a project has been used on this campus and it is believed to be entirely new to Pacific coast colleges.

Criticism Wanted

This step was taken in an endeavor to give students who have helpful criticism of any phase of student government, activities, student officials and procedure a chance to voice their opinions to those who are in a position to carry them out. Many valuable and constructive ideas and plans for student government have been lost because the students feel that they cannot be heard, believes McMillan. As a result they express themselves to a few and the ideas are lost.

FRAT'S RUSE GAINS ILLEGAL HOLIDAY

Students at the University of Kansas found a unique way of getting a vacation recently. Each morning, as the flu doctor made his rounds through fraternity houses, the boys proceeded to pour hot water down the throats of their pledges. As a result, the number of students running temperatures was so startling that college was dismissed for a period of 10 days.

Student—Alternating current must be used in the electric bell. As the current runs through the coil a magnet is formed which pulls over the hammer to strike the bell. As alternating current is used, when the current flows in the opposite direction the polarity of the magnet is reversed, and the hammer is forced away again. This process repeated very rapidly rings the bell.

Harvard Survey Shows Value of Athletics

The Harvard Alumni Bulletin brings forth some interesting figures on the question of whether an athletic at Harvard is a better student than the non-athlete. A most exhaustive report and study of this question, was made by Assistant Professor Snedden of the Harvard Graduate School of Education.

The subjects of the study were the 506 members of the class of 1927, beginning with their entrance in 1923, and carrying it through 1928 when the last few members got their degrees. It was found that there were 301 athletes and 505 non-athletes.

Concerning them it was found that:

1. More athletes graduated, 81 per cent. of the athletes getting their degrees, while only 68 per cent. of the non-athletes acquired them.

2. The athletes averaged 8.01 semesters for the time of graduation to the 8.07 semesters required by the others.

3. Fifty per cent. of the athletes at some time during their college career were on "pro" to the 49 per cent. of the non-athletes who were on probation.

4. The athletes enrolled for stiffer course than did the non-athletes and also took a greater amount of work. The athlete averaged 4.45 courses per semester while the non-athletes averaged only 4.41 per semester.

5. The non-athlete gained a higher average in his studies than did the athlete.

Professor Snedden in reporting to the Carnegie Foundation stated that no laudation or indictment of athletics could be based on this study.

Another interesting fact brought out by Professor Snedden showed that of the 15 sports considered, the football players had by far the lowest average while the crew men were at the head of the list.

PHASES OF HONOUR SYSTEM DISCUSSED BY U. OF M. DEAN

Arguments were presented for and against the system on the basis that in certain cases machinery for its enforcement is necessary and when this situation arises it is really not an honor system at all. Dean Heckel of the University of Missouri concurred in this opinion, saying that a real honor system should not require a system of supervision and detection but that the punishment should come in the depreciation of the fineness of the character of the student violating it.

The second division of the discussion decided that the honor system is an asset to the educational world and its advantages far outweigh its disadvantages. Recognizing the values of the system the N. S. F. A. was requested to encourage and aid colleges and universities to improve their honor systems if they had them and where the system does not exist it was suggested to lend aid in helping establish it.

The problems of the honor systems vary with institutions in different sections of the country and some schools limit their systems to a few major problems as cheating, handling of library books and the care of university property, while in other colleges it includes matters pertaining to honesty in any phase of college life.

Toronto Co-eds Ridicule Uniform Hosiery Plan

"Ridiculous!" was the unanimous opinion of Varsity co-eds when they read the note in yesterdays' "Varsity" concerning an edict issued by the Dean of Women in Arizona, that all women should wear uniform hosiery. That it would be quite impractical up here in this land of changeable weather was agreed.

"It is bad enough as it is to begin a mild day with silk stockings, and be caught in a blizzard before you reach home again," ventured one maiden. That it would influence one's whole dress ensemble appears inevitable and Milady craves variety. "The Varsity" elicited the following comments concerning the subject.

Elija Tulleken IIPol. Sc.—"Why not uniform hosiery? And uniform legs, too!"

D.D. II Moderns — "Decidedly impossible. It wouldn't be artistic."

L. White II Modern Hist. — "The parents will agree—but will the boys?"

Stanford Prexy Praises Kellogg Peace Pact

Stanford University, Palo Alto, —(P. I. P.)— "The honor system is not based on the right principle." David Starr Jordan, president emeritus of Stanford, declared in an interview in the Daily on the occasion of his 78th birthday. "It is not human nature for students to testify against one another."

Dr. Jordon believes that professors cannot justly expect to have students take an examination and live up to the regulations and ethics of the much heated honor system.

In the same interview he was questioned as to his views on the Kellogg Peace Pact signed recently by the United States.

"It was one of the greatest things which has happened," replied.

"I don't believe it to be a back door to the League of Nations. The back door, like the front door is always open."

AGRICULTURE AND HOME ECONOMICS MAY GET TWO-YEAR CURRICULA

Approval of a new two-year curricula in agriculture and home economics in addition to the present four-year degree courses was given yesterday by the college board of regents in the regular January meeting. President W. J. Kerr was authorized to arrange details of such curricula and submit them to the state board of higher curricula at its next meeting.

Failure to earn a grade of C or better in two-thirds of his studies automatically drops a student from the University. No student who has been dropped twice before may be re-admitted except in special cases.

PUBLIC HEALTH MEETING SLATED FOR FEB. 27

Students Invited by Medical Men

"How to add years to your life and life to your years," is the subject of a series of brief lectures to be given at a public community health meeting in the Hotel Vancouver ballroom Feb. 27, at 8 p.m.

An unusual feature on the program will be the presentation of one of the most marvellous productions of the day, a motion picture demonstrating the entire process of digestion of the food in the human body. This will bring the meeting to a close at ten o'clock sharp.

His Honor R. Randolph Bruce, Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia, has kindly consented to give an opening address of welcome to the visitors, following which the program will commence promptly at 8 o'clock.

Dr. Bowman Crowell, director of Clinical Research in the College, will speak on "Seven Wonders of Medicine;" Dr. M. T. MacEachern, formerly superintendent of the Vancouver General Hospital and now director of Hospital activities in the College, will talk on "Choosing Your Hospital;" the cancer problem will be dealt with by Dr. Burton J. Lee, Professor of Clinical Research, Cornell University and a recognized authority on this subject, who will tell of the advances made in the treatment of this disease. The Rev. C. B. Moullmer, S.J., executive officer of the Catholic Hospital Association of America, a brilliant speaker, will give an address entitled "Men, Medicine and Money." Mr. Robert Jolly, Past President of the Protestant Hospital Association of America, and Superintendent of the Baptist Hospital of Houston, Texas, will speak on "The Dividends of Hospitals."

All those who are interested in health problems will be attracted by this series of brief but highly interesting and instructive talks, and a record attendance is expected for the night of Wednesday, February 27.

KANDID KONFESSIONS

I am a hockey player. But things were not always thus; I was once a respected member of the community. Like all social outcasts there is another person in my sad tale of woe. He was the opposing bare-back, or something like that. I hadn't played the game before but it looked very simple. As a matter of fact I did very well because my girl friend Maybelle said so! Well, anyhow—this other man checked me all over the ice but finally I shot from the sad line( it was a blue one of a deep ultramarine color) and the big fat man with the big stick let it go right past. He seemed rather surprised. I guess I was too fast for him.

However the man who puts us on and takes us off took me off. I think maybe because the fat man had a sweater like mine they didn't like it. Maybe they were jealous of me.

I really think I obtained my position (not the one I am usually in when on the ice) by my ability to shoot down the ice and gain goals by the law of averages.

I sat in the little box for some time with three other fellows but got tired after a while and decided to join in again. Nobody liked it though and two men took me off brutally. They were quite nice to me afterwards and told me not to worry as the nice man with some sort of a wagon would be along in a minute. It was nice to think of getting a ride home. I knew that the people appreciated my playing for the college.

However I had to wait too long as the car had to come all the way from New Westminster so I went home alone.

A bed collapsed at one of the fraternity houses about 11 o'clock last night. Fortunately, it happened early and not everyone was in bed yet. As it happened, only eight were injured.

while others are not. It is, therefore, evident that a change is needed in conducting finance.

We, therefore recommend that adoption of the following system of management, which is similar to those used in many other universities. We believe it will remedy the chief defects of the present system as pointed out above. The proposed system provides for the training of executives, thus insuring a consistent treatment of all financial matters. On the Council there would be three people who would have an intimate knowledge of each financial matter brought up, viz: the business manager, the treasurer, and the president of the organization. All matters would also have been thrashed out twice before being presented to Council, thus saving time in Council meetings.
