

THERE SEEM TO BE a few empty seats wouldn't you say? This is how the auditorium looked to the candidates as they outlined their platforms to the student body. Studenty body? . . . Just count them!!!

Candidates Speak Before Empty Hall

By GEORGE RAILTON

The platform party far outnumbered the audience at the AMS election speeches yesterday.

The AMS Election Committee, possibly expecting a larger crowd than the 40 odd voters who turned up in Bu. 106 to listen to the last group of election speeches, engaged the larger Auditorium for this state's speeches.

Their expectations were ill-founded.

Only eight students turned out to hear the five candidates and their seconds.

Russ Brink regained his position as Co-Ordinator of Activities and John Goodwin took the position of vice-president, both by acclamation.

There are therefore only two positions to be filled.

Dal Warren and Judy Jack are running for the position of Executive member and Patience Ryan, Mir Huculak and Jim Pasdorf for UCC chairman.

The highlights of their speeches were:

UCC CHAIRMAN

Jim Pasdorf: he has the experience to handle the job and a fairly adequate insight into the various club problems.

Patience Ryan: Has the experience for the job. She will not fight for radical changes in council government.

Mir Huculak: Wants a change in the budgeting of club monies. He understands the problems as he is a club president himself.

Ramblers Meet Engineers in Final Game

Thursday at 12:45 the Ramblers will meet a powerful Engineering Team in the Stadium for the Annual Intramural Football Championship. Defending champions Ramblers who are undefeated in two years of play are led by ex-Bombers Mike Zlotnik, Bill Lindner, and Dave Bristow.

Engineering, who were defeated earlier this year by Ramblers, have greatly improved and should push the Ramblers all the way with the aid of speedy half back Willie (Fleming) Sproule and hard charging end Fred Parkinson.

CAR DRIVERS NEED PERMITS

In order to park in any faculty or student parking lot it is necessary to have a permit sticker on the car.

A great many cars are now being towed away because they are without lot stickers.

If you don't want to be liable, pick up a student permit, free of charge from the office of Buildings and Grounds.

He will thus be able to deal with the problems justly.

EXECUTIVE MEMBER

Judy Jack: will keep up the policy of an informed government. She will also press for completion of plans for the construction of a modern student union building.

Del Warren: professed disgust with the attendance at the election speeches. He would like to see some changes in council.

Quebec Premier Receives Brief

OTTAWA, Feb. 19 (CUP) — Quebec Premier Antonio Barrette will meet a student delegation in his office next Friday morning to discuss a new brief on education.

The brief was altered two weeks ago at an emergency NFCUS regional meeting because of complaints from the University of Montreal about the length.

It now asks for:

- A Royal Commission to study every aspect of education,
- A criterion of talent rather than finance for university entrance, with financial difficulties looked after by the province,
- A complete scholarship program instead of one whereby the student must repay 40 per cent of loans,
- An extension of thanks to the premier for certain legislation, and for the province's change of attitude towards education.

Prior to the alteration, U of

M stated that more time was needed to produce a fully researched document, and said it would not support the former brief because, "it was too short."

Most universities will send five representatives to the premier's office Friday, but McGill may send only three. Bishop's University disagreed with the basic principles of the brief.

Meanwhile, the federal government indicated in Ottawa yesterday that legislation to amend the Federal-Provincial Tax Arrangement Act may be introduced soon.

The legislation will allow corporations an increase in tax abatement from 9 to 10 per cent. The province has already announced that it will raise its own corporation taxes by one per cent to provide more aid for its universities.

Quebec does not agree with the granting of funds for education by the federal government. Some $42,000,000 now lays idle because of this stand; $26,000,000 held in trust by the National Conference of Canadian Universities, and $16,000,000 from the Canada Council. The NCCU distributes the federal money to the provinces at the rate of $1.50 per head.

Activity Awards

The deadline for nominations for Honorable Activity Awards is Wednesday, February 24th. All AMS members are eligible.

SERVICE HELD BY HILLEL

During dinner, the various rituals and origins of the traditional Sabbath foods will be explained.

The ritual Hebrew Sabbath prayers and ceremonies will be performed by members of the UBC Hillel Foundation.

All students on campus are welcome to attend. Tickets may be purchased in Hillel House (directly behind Brock Hall).

HEY, YOU!

Yeah, you there in the blue blazer.

Did you help break the record?

Did you discourage someone from running for Students' Council so we could break the record. So we could have six acclamations in thirteen tries?

Are you one of the councillors whom I overheard discussing how they had talked someone out of running for a position that was later acclaimed?

Did you maintain your ivory-tower neutrality by openly supporting a candidate—or by grooming a subordinate expressly for your job?

You did. Well, good for you—you're one of the crowd.

Stick around—maybe next year we'll have thirteen acclamations. What an achievement — keeps the silly students out of the whole business.

Look how we've progressed in recent years:

Year	Acclamation	Pres Candidates	Vote for President
1956	none	3	3201
1957	1 (UCC)	1 & 2 goons	3267
1958	1 (Treas)	3	4003
1959	4 (MAA Sec Treas USC)	4	4,000 plus
1960	6(ad nauseam)	1	acclaimed
1961	9 (ad more nauseam)	1/2	3/2

Actually, not all of the councillors are worried about keeping their ivory tower exclusive. Some of them really tried to round up more candidates.

They got only twenty-four.

Why so few? It's easy—you combine the Council's fear that one of the naughty non-Brock types might get on council with the bloc support of the Greeks for one candidate and then multiply by student apathy and bingo, you've got the answer.

FRED FLETCHER.

An Open Letter

With Reference to the Dignity of Man.

Each one of us has his, or her, own set of values. It is as erroneous for one individual to maintain the singular truth of his values as it is for another to reduce their moral worth to nothing with one derisive gesture. Upon this, it is believed, most people will agree.

With the above in mind an apology is presently in order. It has been moved, seconded and approved, not only unanimously but without hesitation, that: "A letter be written by the local student branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada to the student body of the UBC apologizing to all those whose sensibilities suffered by being forced to view the recent Engineer's "Pep-meet."

This is in no way to be construed as either a condemnation or a condonation of those responsible for the pep-meet. Neither does this refer to any individual who was free to leave and yet chose to remain. It is, however, a strong censure of those amongst us who have not yet learned to respect the views and beliefs of others.

Therefore, as representatives of the Engineering Profession in Canada, the undersigned present their humble apologies.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor,
The Ubyssy,

Dear Sir:

It is with a certain amount of unhappiness that I read of the reports of the Academic Symposium published in Tuesday's edition of the Ubyssy. However, there is an element of truth in the opinions expressed in these articles. But lest any reader should suppose that these reports represent the whole spirit of the Symposium, I would hasten to correct this view. This I do because I feel it is necessary to state that each view expressed in the articles is a personal reflection of one's own part he or she played in the Symposium.

You might well ask, what is the Academic Symposium trying to do? I believe this depends on two factors. Firstly, to a greater or lesser extent, the original purpose is already outlined in the programme of topics; in which the two panels directed our discussion. Thereafter, the success or failure of the Symposium depended on the individual's motive for attending, and his own contribution while at Parksville. Therefore, if the general discussion amounted to what one of your reviewers calls "a pile of garbage," he has only himself to blame—unless it may be that he was not even there.

If someone said something with which there were genuine grounds for disagreement and yet we all sat mute—who was to blame but you who disagreed? If we awoke sickly tired on a beautiful Sunday morning, who's fault was it. No, not the other fellow's, but yours, and yours alone. It is about time we learned to accept responsibility for our own actions.

Those who came to the Symposium with the intention of having a "Cacophany" (and some did) had just that.

If you felt the Symposium had lost its purpose, then surely you are at fault. But others came, I believe, with a sincere desire to participate in the purpose of the Symposium—the informal discussion of University life.

We all enjoyed ourselves, but the means of enjoyment was not always the same. What you as an individual "got out of it" was up to you. And regarding the results, if there are no constructive results, then who is to blame?

Sincerely,
Peter R. Bugg.

The Editor,
The Ubyssy,
Dear Sir:

Respect for law could well come to be considered lunatic if its representatives continue to indulge what appears to be an almost criminally irresponsible sense of humour.

I refer, of course, to the ludicrous spectacle, last Tuesday, of two R.C.M.P. officers chasing a motorized cart down the mall, siren wailing and red lights flashing. They completed this well-staged farce by taking away two students (and the cart) with them.

Such buffoonery constitutes an attack on the dignity of their position.

D. Sigurgeirson,
Arts III

Editor,
The Ubyssy.
Dear Sir:

To the Joan Haggerty's Ho-Hum, more slander.

Your kind is either puritanical or hypocritical. (I will assume the latter as the former are relatively rare.) It has often been pointed out that those who cry out the loudest on moral issues are usually the ones with the guiltiest consciences. Also, I haven't heard of many girls who aren't interested in hearing "dirty" stories. The stories at the Pep Meet were only acted as well as told. Are you ashamed by the reality of your own thoughts?

I should think you would feel lucky in being able to attend the Pep Meet, not many females have had the privilege. Your popularity, too, ought to go up as you will probably be the center of many eager queries from friends.

If the hypocrisy of your letter is an indication of your moral code, I shudder to think of the upbringing some children will receive in the years to come.

Yours truly,
Doug Rebagliate

The Editor,
The Ubyssy.

Dear Sir:

I am surprised at the scanty coverage given the soapbox orators. Frankly I think soapboxing is a damned good idea and worthy of support by students and Ubyssy alike. Personally, I'd like to see it become traditional for the thinking students on this campus to get up on their boxes at "Speakers' Corner" every Thursday and sound off on anything and everything.

Freedom is the basis of democracy; thought, the basis of a University. Let's stimulate both. Oh, and children—leave your garbage in the Brock, that's not the nasty old Communist on the soapbox—he's gone home.

Candidates' Statements

UCC PRESIDENT MIR HUCULAK

The clubs at university play an important role in broadening our education. We therefore must have a strong and smooth running club system. In order to achieve this streamlined system, which was lacking in the past year, I propose to:

1. Cut down the expenditures of the clubs by allowing them to raise their own money through various functions, which at present they are not allowed to do.

2. Seek better office and meeting space for clubs.

3. Completely overhaul the financing system with the A.M.S. in regards to clubs so that they could have better and easier monetary control.

4. Establish regular meetings with club presidents.

5. Lend projection and music equipment free to the clubs.

In order to carry out this reform I need your support. I promise to do my very best and will devote my energy in carrying out your wishes.

Thank you.

MIR HUCULAK.

"Apathy! Deadwood!" — Today's adjectives of the student. But, do the complainers take action?!? The position of U.C.C. President permits the holder to exert his influence in doing something. Let's aim for greater liaison between the various clubs and the U.C.C.

What of the Brock Extension — are all clubrooms efficiently used? Could the bookstore be student owned and operated with no profit? These are a few of the areas I intend to concern myself with if elected that I am qualified for this position. I have a knowledge of the overall problems of club activities, and of some of the specific problems of individual clubs.

I will make only one promise, and that is I will endeavour to work always for the best interests of the University clubs, and to promote their interests on Student Council.

EXECUTIVE MEMBER

DEL WARREN

It is with great pleasure that I accept the opportunity to run for Executive Member.

The word "Ombudsman," a Scandinavian term, sums up my platform. We might translate this term to mean "the warding student's rights." The Ombudsman, created in Sweden 150 years ago, performs the function of investigating complaints by the individual against the acts of officials and government departments. I believe that the Executive Member should base his actions on the philosophy of the Ombudsman because there is always the danger of individual rights being sacrificed when any organization grows to the size of U.B.C.

JUDY JACK

If elected I will endeavour:

1. To continue to convey by correspondence or by brief, the Student Body deliberations to members of the Legislative Assembly with the intent of keeping the Government informed of University activities and further requirements.

2. To present Student views to the Faculty Committee on adequate parking.

3. To press for the completion of plans and construction of a large modern Student Union

Buildinb, sufficient for the needs of the future, and incorporating a cafeteria, student rooms, and a complete College Shop.

Sincerely,

JUDY JACK.

Seconders' Statement

JUDY JACK

Executive member is a position requiring a person highly charged with energy and an intense interest in all facets of student activity. This member must possess the spark to generate electric interest in a wide variety of student problems. In seconding the nomination of Judy Jack for this position I am convinced she has these qualifications.

Judy has served as Frosh Council Vice-President, U.S.C. representative, Home coming committee secretary, NFCUS secretary and WAD member, and in these positions gained wide experience in coping with the problems facing U.B.C. students.

It is with sincere belief in Judy's abilities that I recommend her as your Executive member of council.

DON NORTH.

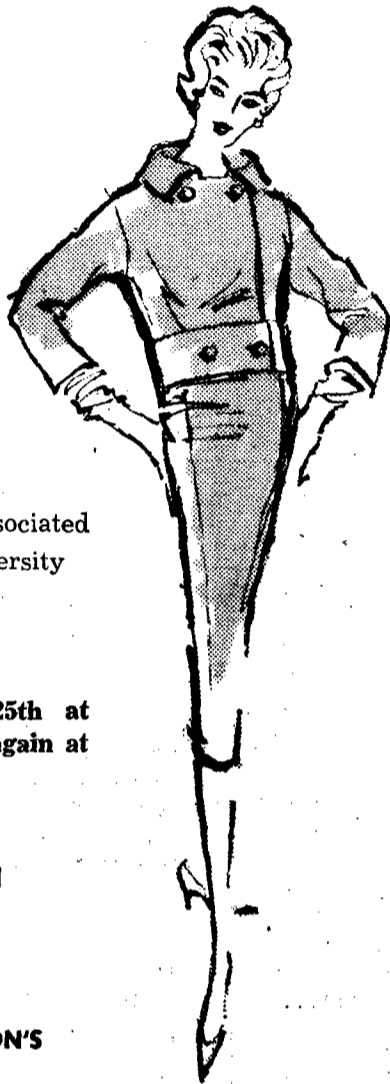

Editor's Note:

The seconder's statement appearing above is printed in today's paper because the elections committee decided to give Miss Jack until Friday noon to prove her eligibility. For this reason her seconder's statement could not appear in Friday's UBYSSY with the others.
