EDITOR'S NOTE

It's week four of COVID-19 physical distancing.

I have been writing and re-writing this editor's note for the past few days because well, how can I adequately capture how dramatically our lives have been upended in just a few weeks? How disappointing it is to not have a proper last day of class and graduation ceremony after years of studying? How scary it is to graduate into an impending financial crisis? And for many, how deeply distressing it is to have to figure out money for rent and food immediately after losing their job?

But amidst all this existential dread, it has been inspiring to see the UBC community members extend kindness and support each other through the pandemic and its continuous fallouts.

It has been equally encouraging to watch our editors, staff and contributors not just diligently keep track of UBC and BC's ongoing pandemic responses, but also report on how COVID-19 is directly affecting our campus community. While we are not perfect, I hope this shows that we care and we try — especially as local news matters now more than ever.

Yet, all of this is just coverage from the past few weeks. To properly recap this wild year, we have filled these 16 pages with the year's biggest, funniest and most touching stories — all of which could not have been done without the work, love and care of our tireless contributors.

So thank you for everything and take care,

Alex Nguyen

BEST OF OUR CAMPUS

COURTESY UBC COMMUNICATIONS

DR. SHERYL LIGHTFOOT

— BY SONIA PATHAK

Dr. Sheryl Lightfoot, alongside First Nations House of Learning Director Dr. Margaret Moss, fills the role of UBC's senior advisor to the president on Indigenous affairs. Since 2018, her work has included creating a number of Indigenous-focused plans for the university, such as the Truth and Reconciliation Action Plan as well as the Indigenous Strategic Action Plan. Alongside Moss, Lightfoot's integral work to advance reconciliation at UBC continues today.

RYAN NEALE

DR. PETER DAUVERGNE

— BY CHIMEDUM OHAEGBU

International relations professor, environmental politics specialist and Atlantic Canadian, Dr. Peter Dauvergne has experienced and examined the climate crisis in many different ways — but he doesn't let it slow him down. Intent on informing his students of the dangers of the climate crisis as well as eco-anxiety, Dauvergne believes in the power of positivity: "I'm a diehard optimist."

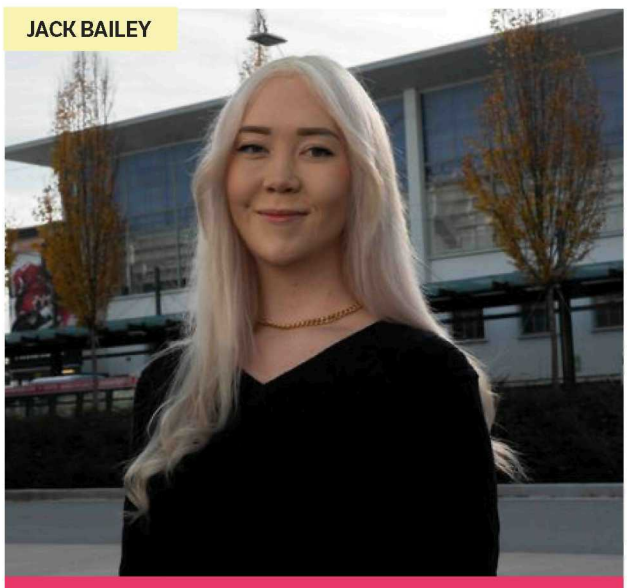
COURTESY PROJECT AURORA

CAMPUS LIGHTBOX

— BY SONIA PATHAK

As more mental health resources establish themselves on campus, Project Aurora is shining a light to make them all a bit more accessible. A website that consolidates all the on-campus mental health resources available into an online interface, Campus Lightbox allows students to filter through their options and find the resources that best fit their needs.

JACK BAILEY



ANNA TORNROS

— BY CHARLOTTE ALDEN

Intent on advocating for herself and other people with invisible disabilities, Anna Tornros has set her sights on transit. Working with TransLink to correct misperceptions of what a person with a disability looks like, Tornros isn't waiting until graduation to affect change around her.

SOPHIE GALLOWAY

OUT ON THE SHELVES

— BY TARA OSLER

There's a long history behind Canada's first Queer audience-focused library, but nowadays it can be found on the Nest's second floor. It is currently in the process of updating the literature classification system with the goal of treating different communities equally. This reorganization has expanded the traditional library classification system to include more identities within the 2SLGBTQIA+ community.

ELIZABETH WANG

SARA GHEBREMUSSE

— BY SARAH ZHAO

The only Black woman in the Allard School of Law's faculty, Sara Ghebremusse understands how unique her position is and how much her presence matters. Through work with the Equity and Inclusion Office and the Lind Initiative's "Thinking While Black" series, Ghebremusse has proven to be determined to be a voice for the Black community at UBC.

The Ubyssey is a founding member of Canadian University Press (CUP) and adheres to CUP's guiding principles.

The Ubyssey accepts opinion articles on any topic related to the University of British Columbia (UBC) and/or topics relevant to students attending UBC. Submissions must be written by UBC students, professors, alumni, or those in a suitable position (as determined by the opinions editor) to speak on UBC-related matters. Submissions must not contain racism, sexism, homophobia, transphobia, harassment or discrimination. Authors and/or submissions will not be precluded from publication based solely on association with particular ideologies or subject matter that some may find objectionable. Approval for publication is, however, dependent on the quality of the argument and The Ubyssey editorial board's judgment of appropriate content. Submissions may be sent by email to opinion@ubyssey.ca. Please include your student number or other proof of identification. Anonymous submissions will be accepted on extremely rare occasions. Requests for anonymity will be granted upon agreement from four fifths of the editorial board. Full opinions policy may be found at ubyssey.ca/submit-an-opinion

It is agreed by all persons placing display or classified advertising that if the Ubyssey Publications Society fails to publish an advertisement or if an error in the ad occurs the liability of the UPS will not be greater than the price paid for the ad. CLUB PROFILES: THE MOST CREATIVE CLUBS ON CAMPUS

I remember pitching this idea to the blog editor when I first started writing for The Ubyssey. I started writing for blog because I wanted to write but I was too afraid of doing interviews. Since writing this article I've gotten over that fear and done many interviews over the past two years. I've also learned so much from everyone I've had the chance to talk to. It's not that scary if you just think about it as a conversation!

THERAPY DOGS WORK, BUT NOT HOW YOU'D EXPECT THEM TO

When I wrote my first article about therapy dogs I never imagined I would have to think about how to cover a pandemic. That definitely wasn't in the brochure. I couldn't have been more happy with the community I found at The Ubyssey and the experiences it's given me, though and I'll always carry those memories.

FRITES AU BC FERRIES

I think this still encapsulates my personalilty well, as all I do is talk about BC Ferries. One of the reasons I wrote this was because I saw that if you wrote for The Ubyssey magazine you could get free tickets to a play. I really wanted to take this guy out on a date to that play, so I thought I would shoot my 'jouralistic' shot. I have literally no idea what that guy is up to now. It's crazy to think of how my life has changed completely for the better in joining The Ubyssey.

If you haven't notice since lines yet, here's the chance to see the best of the year. Since lines are little jokes we put at the top of each print issue beside our founding year. THUNDERBIRDS 6 ON 6

Sports writers look back on a year full of upset wins and heartbreaks

	MICHAEL LIU	SALOMON MICKO BENRIMOH	BILL HUAN	BRENDAN SMITH	DIANA HONG	ANDY PHUNG
FAVOURITE THUNDERBIRD MOMENT OF THE YEAR ?	Men's hockey destroying Manitoba in the Winter Classic	Men's and women's hockey shocking everyone by beating their top-ranked opponents in the playoffs. More specifically when two consecutive shots hit all three posts behind Rylan Toth as the Thunderbirds hung on for dear life in the Canada West men's quarterfinal against Alberta.	Women's soccer winning U Sports on the flukiest goal ever	Men's football upset of Saskatchewan. For a young team that struggled to finish games, a comeback win against one of the better teams in the Canada West was arguably the biggest upset of the year	Women's soccer winning U Sports	Women's soccer winning U Sports
MOST DISAPPOINTING TEAM ?	Men's soccer, so much talent in the regular season but dried up in U Sports competition	Men's soccer had a stellar Canada West season but fell all too quickly at U Sports Nationals in Montreal	Men's soccer	Not that I would call it a bad season for women's hockey overall, but it was hard to understand their scoring issues and the talents on their roster should have made them a contender throughout the year	I thought women's hockey would have accomplished more since they had a great start	Men's soccer. Excellent in the league, but U Sports...
MOST UNDERRATED ATHLETE/TEAM?	Bar Nyhof (M swimming)	Kennesha Miswaggon (W hockey)	Manroop Clair (M basketball)	Katelyn Filewich quietly had one of the best seasons in U Sports women's basketball, winning Canada West player of the year for her efforts	Cara Kovacs (W volleyball)	Jordan Hayes (Men's soccer)
BIGGEST SURPRISE/UPSET OF THE YEAR ?	Men's hockey	Men's hockey. The team shocked everyone when they took out Alberta in the Canada West semi-finals to book a spot at nationals for the first time in 42 years.	Men's hockey	Men's hockey had the biggest upset, but women's rugby winning the Canada West and making their first ever trip to nationals deserves some love	Men's hockey	Men's hockey
WHICH ATHLETE/TEAM TO KEEP AN EYE ON FOR NEXT YEAR?	Men's volleyball showed great signs of competitiveness but came up just short against a very good U of Alberta squad in the Canada West semi-finals. Will be looking for them to come out strong with most of their team returning next year	When Gabe Olivares (QB, football) took over for the struggling Tommy Yanchuk, it changed the course of the team's performance. Olivares backstopped the team to huge season-ending wins over Regina and Saskatchewan, so he's definitely one to keep an eye on for next year.	Both volleyball teams	Keep an eye on women's volleyball. It is uncommon for Doug Reimer's squad to have two straight years where the team is not competing for the Canada West and U Sports titles.	Gabrielle Attieh (W volleyball)	Men's volleyball. They're on the right track
HOW MUCH DO YOU MISS SPORTS RIGHT NOW??	I would like to speak to Satan	F@!# ME	help	More than the Patriots will miss Tom Brady next year	SO MUCHHHHH AHHHHH :'(	My one month free of DAZN is the month without soccer
