ABBOTSFORD AS A CENTRE FOR BUSINESS AND INDUSTRY IN FRASER VALLEY

Situated about half way between New Westminster and the city of Chilliwack, Abbotsford commands a most excellent situation for business and all kinds of industry. The opening for a good sized tow nis here, all that is required is to pull and work for the future of Abbotsford—a strong pull and a long pull and a pull altogether is all that is required to make the old town boom along. Everything else is here, there is nothnig wanting except the energy of the citizens of the community to make Abbotsford a centre that no one of the old timers ever dreamt of. At present Abbotsford is a good centre for all kinds of business but is not half what it should be and can be if Abbotsford had all that was coming to it.

Our shipping facilities, our educational facilities, our agricultural lands in the surrounding district are all here. Let us boost them along, and make the old town hum. We have the C. P. R. which is a branch line six miles to the main line of the C. P. R. at Mission Junction; the Great Northern to connect with the coast cities and with the big railways of the United States; the B. C. E. R. which gives excellent direct service with the coast cities and Chilliwack; and not far away, about three miles is the Canadian National main line and the Fraser River, which is navigable for considerably further up the river than Riverside north of Abbotsford. All kinds of shipping facilities are here ready to take care of all that is produced in the town or district.

There is plenty of cheap power: both the B. C. E. R. and the Western Power Company of Canada are here for business. Cheap power for manufacturing purposes can be secured, which is quite an item that intending manufacturers should not overlook, when wishing to locate in an interior town of the Fraser Valley.

Several industries have already been established which are tributary to the business interests of the town. One of these, and a very important one is the Abbotsford Timber, Mining and Trading Company, which ship all their lumber from the Abbotsford station, except what is taken away in big trucks to other towns in the Fraser Valley. The company employ a very large number of men and the best of wages are always paid; and last but not least is, the products of the big mills are very much in demand on account of the superiority of its grade. The Clayburn Brick and Clay Works are close to hand as also is the Kilgarde, the products of both are much wanted articles on the market today, taking second place to none. The big Fraser Valley Milk Condensory was opened on Monday and it is expected that shortly its product will be on the market, with quality and grade superior to much of its kind and second to none. The capacity of this institution is almost limitless, having an ideal situation and of modern construction. There are a number of small mills and shingle mills within short distances of the town all of which help to swell the business of the merchants and banks.

Abbotsford has its two banks, three general stores, hardware store, bakery, grocery stores, transfers, a drug store and grain stores, and all that goes to make up a good business centre. A perusal of our pages will show the more progressive of these.

Abbotsford schools have always been noted for the excellent work done by the teachers and pupils. The first and second year high school work can be taken up, and there is talk of establishing a high school, and it is only a matter of time until owing to the very great need of it the high schol will be established. During the year 1920-21 the teachers will receive a very great increase in salaries, which notes the progressive spirit of the people. Next to the schools come the churches of the town, where services are held every Sunday.

The interprovincial automobile route will pass through Abbotsford. There used to be a saying on everybody's lips a few years ago,—before the war; now the town is beginning to waken up again and there is talk of incorporation.

The climate of the surrounding district has a most wonderful effect on the soil, making it very productive. General farming, dairying and fruit growing are carried on with great success. An indication of the importance of the dairying industry may be seen in the fact that the Fraser Valley Producers selected Abbotsford as the site for their condensory. Small fruits are grown most successfully in the district. Nine acres were sold a few days ago for $11,000 which did not incude the estimated crop this year of about $7,000. Within recent years, now that more up-to-date methods of shipping are to be had men are finding that the land to the south west and north is most excellently adapted for small fruit and the acreage is increasing each year. When the Sumas Lake lands are reclaimed—work already begun—a very large area of lnd will be available for cultivation.

Abbotsford is a good place to think of locating as with concentrated effort on the part of its citizens it is bound to grow in importance each year.

BOARD OF TRADE HAS INTERESTING MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of the Abbotsford Board of Trade was held in the G. W. V. A. rooms on Monday evening, Mr. N. Hill, the secretary, giving a report of the recent visit of Mr. Barrow, M. L. A., who was very sympathetic in regard to the interests of the town, including the proposed jail, hospital, water and light, and the Hazel Street crossing, all of which will be brought before the cabinet, but all improvements depend on incorporation.

In connection with incorporation the census has been taken and stand at 311 and this number will be doubled when the township is enlarged.

Word was received from the Minister of Agriculture that the pound law will be established according to the majority of the voters and notice will be given to take effect after thirty days. Mr. Cottrell offered his stables and yard as a pound and it is recommended for accetpance.

A further report was received from Campbell, engineer in regard to the waterworks, but nothing can be done until incorporation is decided on.

A notice or date board will be put up by J. Parton and a committee consisting of J. McGowan, J. Vanetta and N. Hill were apopinted to look after same.

The name of R. McEwen was added to the membership.

I TOLD YOU WHERE IT WAS

Mr. J. J. Sparrow had the misfortune to have something go wrong with his big weight scales this week and there was something doing for J. J. wants things just exactly right at all times. He secured the services of the local expert on all matters of that kind, Mr. Parton, who had the assistance of advice from our worthy head of the police force, Mr. E. Ruthing, Mr. D. Smith and several others The scales were fixed up all right but you say to J. J. "I told you that was where it was" and you will hear him laugh half a block away.

Messrs M. M. Shore and Joe Williams spent Sunday in Vancouver but arrived home before dark; and no ladies were noticed in the car with them.

Inspector Munn was a visitor to Abotsford today on official business.

Mr. Wright of the Abbotsford Garage was at Vancouver today on business.

Mr. Brydges, local manager of the Bank of Montreal, now that he has been around the district quite a lot has become quite a booster for the town and district.

The Abbotsford Quadrille Club will hold a dance on Friday August 13th.

The Abbotsford A. F. & A. M. had the honor of entertaining the Masons of Sedro-Woolley on Saturday evening last. There were about sixty guests altogether and among them Senator Hammar. A pleasant evening was spent.

SELL ON THE MARKET

We find many B. C. fruit men trying to make advance fruit sales on Plums, Prunes, Peaches, Apricots, Pears and Apples. The late crop reports point to a light crop of Plums and Prunes. The market is unsteady and only "safety first" prices tempt buyers. Medium crop of the balance of other fruits except Pears—Pears a good crop. Late Pears have been scarce on the market for some years and the size of the B. C. crop should not make any difference to the prices ruling as they will likely be in insufficient volume to meet the demand The same applies to Peaches and Apricots. Washington is quoting 90¢ per suit case 16 lb. box and $1.40 for 4 basket crate for Prunes, with prices expected to rise.

B. C. Prunes at $1.25 for 18 lbs. are a litle cheaper than these.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Bedford of Moose Jaw are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McLean on Sumas Prairie.

THE CONDENSORY STARTED BUSINESS ON MONDAY

The new condensory at DeLair, a suburb of Abbotsford, started on Monday to do business. Mr. Webb is the manager of the establishment and is a very busy man these days. Although there yet many things to fix so as to have the condensory running as desired. Some 30,000 gallons of milk were put through on Monday.

The milk comes to the condensory from Sumas and Matsqui prairie and Chilliwack if desired. The factory will be a great thing for the dairymen of the district.

Capt. Whitchelo visited the coast on Sunday; Mrs. Whitchelo and Miss Phyllis are visiting at Vancouver for a short time.

Mr. Geo. Hart nd family were at the coast on Sunday.

Port Moody has started a campaign to have the Dewdney Tunk road declared a primary road, and has invited all the North Fraser Valley municipal councils, Boards of Trade and other public bodies interested to co-operate in convincing the government that that is so. Maple Ridge as well as Moody and others between Mission and the sea on the north of the Fraser, are commercially interested in shortening the distance to Vancouver by cutting off a useless six miles detour via New Westminster.—Hammond Gazette.

Port Moody will do well if it can convince the Oliver government that the Dewdney Trunk road should be made a primary road. A short automobile route is required from Mission to the sea, and while no one wants an injustice done to New Westminster six miles of good road counts in a long trip from Mission to Vancouver. But apart from the cutting out of the six miles a direct road from Port Moody to Vancouver would relieve the traffic on Kingsway and lessen the chances of more accidents. It is almost certain that a good road will be built along the present route of the Dewdney Trunk road, if not now it will after the next election.

Hon. Arhur Meighen makes a strong plea for a better understanding between the two races in Canada. They are both here to stay. They must get along together somehow. They should refrain from continually trampling on each oher's toes.

The new Premier's perception of the desirability of better relations between the French and English in this county may well be quickened by the fact that he has now only three supporters from Quebec and that therefore any change is bound to be for an improvement, so far as he is concerned.

Nevertheless, he is quite right. Nothing is to be gained by further discussion of who was right or wrong on the conscription issue. Neither side will yield its point of view, and the war is over anyway. If Canada is to prosper, she must look to the future and not to the past.

If a word of advice may be offered one great source of friction would disappear if the French Canadians would quit reading those of the Ontario newspapers which represent the narrow and nasty strain of sentiment prevailing is some sections of that province. The school question, or rather the language question, should be settled by an acknowledgement that one portion of Canada is French and the other English, and that both intend to remain so. Ottawa could with advantage be erected into a federal district where both languages would be on an equal footing. As to the schools in Northern Ontario, the province might do well to try the ecect of less bickering and more generous financial aid.—Sun.

When a man is employed by an ordinary business firm he is expected to earn the money he receives as salary or wages. If he is working in a shipyard, for instance, his particular stunt as a rivetter, blacksmith or what not, has a definite relation to the accounts in which the set cost of the ship on which he works is made up. And so on through all business concerns. Earning power is recognized. Whether he gets too little or too much it is not necessary to consider on the present occasion.

When a man gets a government job things are different. Earning ability does not come in. It is conceivable that an employee, accustomed to the profit and loss view of a business firm, feels, when he gets a government appointment, a certain sense of lassitude. The urge of a commercial concern is absent. It is true that in some government departments, notably the post office, most of the employees earn their money. The necessity of each doing his bit to earn a profit for his concern is replaced by the necessity of getting the mail bags off in time, and attending t the multifarious business of the department so that there shall be no arrears. But there are many government offices in which there is nothing of this kind demanded, but on the contrary there is much leisurely routine. There are occasional sinecures. In some official positions time is found to lag, and a habit of procrastination prevails. If a thing is postponed today it can be done tomorrow. Sometimes there is not really enough to fill up the time and there is a disposition on the part of the occupants of offices to look at the clock and to wish the hands would go round the dial at a quicker pace.

Things are not quite so leisure'y in government offices in Canada as they are in England, where being a civil servant has developed into an art. When Charles Lamb was a clerk in the East India office he was remonstrated with by his superiors on account of his habit of getting late to his office. "But then I go away so early," he said with irrepressible humor.

Civil servants who wish to earn their salaries are to be sympathized with because of the difficulties in the way of doing so. To a man of an ardent and strenuous temperament the calm routine of a departmental office must seem a trifle dull. Notwithstanding this, there has never seemed to be any considerable dearth of applicants for vacant berths. As considerably more than one-fourth of the total expenditure of this province goes in salaries and wages to civil servants of one sort or another the matter is worth thinking about.—Province.

It will be remembered that last year the provincial legislature, with the always laudable object of killing two birds with one stone created a new department, gave it large command of funds and bade it encourage the establishment of industries in British Columbia and the employment of returned men therein. According to a report which has just been received from the King's printer considerable progress was made during the first five months of the department's existence, the period covered terminating at the end of 1919.

The organization of the department is extremely simple. It consists of a head, the Premier; a deputy head, the Industrial Commissioner, Major Donald B. Martyn; and an advisory board of seven who act without pay. The members of the council or board are Major R. J. Burde, M. C., M. P. P., Port Alberni; F. G. Dawson, Prince Rupert; A. C. Flumerfelt and Joshua Kingham, Victoria, B. C.; J. H. McVety and Nicol Thompson, Vancouver and J. E. W. Thompson, M. P. P., Phoenix.

As to the modus operandi, the commissioner investigates all applications and makes recommendations to the council. The applications, the report states, are considered entirely on their merits. There are no rules as to percentage of loan sought in relation to capital. The rate of interest is six per cent plus adidtional charges involved. After all conditions have been complied with payments are made on vouchers showing that the money is being used in accordance with the purpose for which it is loaned.

The report notes that very early in its existence the advisory council decided to limit its field to industrial undertakings proper and to make no loans in connection with wholesale or retail businesses or other strictly commercial enterprises. This eliminated a number of applications at the outset. In all 19 applications were granted, and loans amounting to $442,200 approved during the closing months of last year. In the same period 155 applications were rejected so that the committee dealt with an average of nine applications a week, of which one each week was successful. This seems a reasonable rate of progress in view of the time the necessary inquiries would require if the scheme were to be worked on a basis that would bear the strictest examination from a purely business standpoint.—World.

THE AVERAGE LIFE OF THE AVERAGE WOMAN OF TO-DAY

Did anyone ever call you an average woman? If so, what did he mean by it? If you are average, who are you? Where do you live? What do you do?

If you are an average woman of statistics you are very likely domestic—a housewife. The hearthstone is the scene of all your triumphs and all your failures.

Physically, considered, you measure about 5 ft. 4 in. in height, which is fairly tall. Your bust is from 30 in. to 36 in. and your hips 6 in. or 8 in. wider. Your weight averages about 9 stone.

The pecentage of brunettes is greater than that of blondes; therefore you are dark. Your head is 23 inches in circumference. Your hand is rather broad and is immensely capable It can perform all household tasks it is rapid with the needle, it is experienced in the art or correction.

A palmist has said "The hand of the average woman is a marvel to me. Its capabilities run all in one direction—domestically. The lines which denote nerves usually are faint The hand almost always denotes strength, integrity, and character—and stubbornness."

Shoemakers agree that the average woman wears a No. 5 shoe. Those upon which she spends the most money are solid-comfort boots, for a busy housewife cannot afford to be troubled by stiff, aching feet.

The average woman marries. As a rule she marries an average man, who, according to more statistics, brings her in an average income of four pounds a week. The average age at which the average woman marries is twenty-eight years and the average number of her children is three. Sad to relate, these children are apt to be unruly youngsters, for the average woman has exceedingly average ideas as to the upbringing of her offspring.

In the matter of clothes the average woman has decidedly average taste. She is never stylish, but she is usually neat and trim. Her catering and cooking are also average. The average woman rarely dines "out" and when she does, she has no idea of ordering a meal. The sight of a menu card frightens her and she asks for the most extraordinary combinations of food.

But after all, being an average woman has its compensations. Her life, monotonous though it may be, is untouched by the fevers that attack women in the upper and lower scales. She will remain young in looks much longer than the woman above the average, for her hours are regular and she is always able to sleep, for her work is of a kind that induces sleep.

An average woman, confronted with her problem the other day, thought a moment before she answered the question: "Does it pay to be an average woman?"

Finally she said: "Yes, it does. I work hard and I get tired, but I have a comfortable home of which I am very proud and very fond. My husband is not rich, but that keeps him home at nights with me and the children. He and I have to save and go without things and this has drawn us nearer together." Here her eyes grew tender and she laughed whimsicaaly as she added, "Yes, it is really worth while to be an average woman."

RULES AND REGULATIONS

1. All entries must be made not later than 5 p.m., Monday, October 4th on proper form, to be obtained from the secretary.

2. All fruit, vegetables, field produce, flowers and ladies' work, to be in position not later than 9 a. m., on the day of the show, Tuesday, October 5th.

3. Members of the Society are entitled to free entries and admission to the grounds and hall.

4. The price of membership tickets is $1, and they may be obtained on application to the Secretary.

5. In the horses, cattle, sheep, pigs, and poultry classes, the entry must in every instance be made in the name of the bona fide owner, and unless this rule is observed no premium will be awarded, or if awarded will be withheld. If any person shall exhibit any animal or bird of which he is not the bona fide owner, he will forfeit any premium which may be awarded him.

6. In all other classes the entries must be made in the names of the producers or manufacturers only and by such producers themselves or their agents, who must have special authority for doing so, and produce their authority in writing if so required by the Judges. Those who are not manufacturers or authorized agents may exhibit, but cannot compete for the prizes offered.

7. If any person other than the authorized agent shall enter an article for competition as produced or manufactured by himself when it has not really been so, he shall forfeit any premium which may be awarded the article.

8. No person shall be allowed to enter for competition more than one specimen in any one class of a division, unless the additional article is of a distinct named variety or pattern from the first. This rule not to apply to animals, but to all kinds of grain, vegetable produce fruit, manufactured articles, etc., of which each additional specimen would necessarily be precisely similar to the first.

9. Every article must be entered under some one of the headings in the regular list.

10. On the entry of each animal or article, a card will be furnished the exhibitor, specifying the class, the division, and the number of the entry, which card must remain attached to the animal or article during the exhibition.

11. Horses must be shown uncovered and in such a manner as judges may require or allow and if their exhibitors refuse to submit to the proper requirements of the judges, their animals will be ruled out, but exhibitors will have the privilege of showing their animals in harness, bridle, or under saddle, as they may prefer.

12. All animals competing for prizes must be brought out for the inspection of the judges, or for exhibition, whenever called out by the official appointed to attend to that duty.

13. No animal or article exhibited shall have about it any prize colors or cards until the awards have been made in their respective classes.

14. No person shall be permitted in the horse or cattle rings during the time of judging, except the judges, the grooms or persons in charge of the animals, and members of the press.

15. No animal or article shall compete for more than one prize unless in the case of special prizes or sweepstakes.

16. The President and Directors shall have the supervision of the grounds and Exhibition generally.

17. Should there arise any dispute or misunderstanding not governed by the By-laws or Rules and Regulations of the Society it shall be referred to the Directors, whose decision shall be final.

18. All protests or appeals must be in writing, must state plainly the cause of complaint, and must be delivered to the Secretary on the day of the show, accompanied by a fee of $2, which will be returned if the appeal is sustained and forfeited if protest is disallowed.

19. The Judges shall have the power of classifying stock and shall not award a prize to any article against which there is no competition if such article is unworthy of a prize.

20. All special prizes shall require a special entry unless classed as a sweepstake.

21. No person shall be allowed in the exhibit rooms while judging is in progress except the Judges and their assistants.

22. The Board of Managers will use every precaution in their power for the proper preservation of articles and stock on exhibition, but will not be accountable for loss or damage. Exhibitors must give attention to their articles or animals during the fair and at the close of the exhibition attend to their removal.

Entries close not later than 5 p.m., Monday, October 4th.

Zenith Carburetor For Any Car Or Truck

We are prepared to equip practically any make of car or truck with the ZENITH CARBURETOR—and we also guarantee to satisfy you with its service or return your money.

We could not do this if we were not confident of the Zenith performance. We know from our own experience of our customers that this remarkable carburetor can and does deliver the goods—that it lives up to its name, the Zenith of Carburetion.

We know that the carburetor which was chosen for use on every Liberty Engine, for the "NC-4", for all large British and French tanks, for Major Schroeder's altitude record-making plane, for the majority of European cars and for more than 100 makes of American built cars and trucks—we know that such a carburetor must be "right."

That's why we heartiy endorse the Zenith Carburetor That's why we recommend it for any car whose carburetor is not functioning properly.

Come in and let us give you a demonstration.

Is your engine running cool? If not let us put some Cooling Compound in it. It has never failed to give the best results.

MATSQUI FALL FAIR

The date of the Matsqui Fall Fair has been fixed for September 10th, at the grounds at Gifford grounds. The day before will be the day for getting the exhibits to the hall and the 10th, Friday, the day when the visitors may view the exhibits of the rich district of Matsqui.

Every effort this year is being made to have the fair a bigger success than ever and for this reason a very excellent prize list has been gotten up to induce exhibitors to appear in full force. The amount to be given out in prizes will be much larger this year than last year. This is done not only to encourage exhibitors but to show that the men behind the big fair have faith in the district.

In reviewing the prize list one finds that the prize list shows an increase in prize money for horses and cattle from one-third to nearly one-half more than last year. For a brood mare with foal at foot the first prize is $5.50 and the second prize $3.00 as against $3.75 for first and $2.00 last year; Colt, two years, gelding or filly $5.00 and $2.50 as against $3.75 and $1.50 last year; span horses, mares or geldings, in harness $6.00 and $3.00 as against $3.75 and $2.00 last year. The same generous increase is found with the other prizes given to horses.

In cattle the prizes start at $5.50 and the lowest prize given for any animal is $1.50, which is second prize for a calf, the first prize being $2.25. Many of the second prizes are $3 and $2.00.

In sheep and pigs the prizes are very good; Sheep first prizes are $3 and even as high as $4 for firsts and F$3.00 and $1.50 for seconds. And $5.00 and $3.50 is the standard prize for all pigs winning.

In many other lines the amount has been increased.

As an agricultural district Matsqui is second to few districts in Canada and the directors of the fair are out to encourage the showing of the excellent stock grown in Matsqui.

WEEK IN CALGARY

The weather continues fine. Business has been fair this week and the prices are steady, excepting potatoes. The volume of cherry shipments has been large and good prices have held sour cherries are not much in demand and quoted prices f.o.b. shipping point vary—Kelowna quotes $1.75, Vernon $2.25. There is about the same difference in their quotations on sweet cehrries. The retail price is uniform here, so the difference in quotations appears only to interfere with the brokers. Berries are passing excepting Blackberries and fair prices have been the rule. Currants in uniform packages are in demand. The market is well supplied with California Bartlett Pears and Elberta Peaches as well as Tragedy Plums from Washington. B. C. Cots have made an apeparance; so far only the small early variety has arrived. There is no inclination noticed amongst buyers to buy in advance of the market needs.

Washington advices show that in advance in price on prunes and peaches is expected.

The vegetable movement from B. C. is heavy. From now on, cauliflower, cabbage, beet, turnips, and potatoes will be in competition with local stuff. B. C. new potatoes are scarce. The jobbers who buy car lots have much lower quotations before their roller arrives. It loks from present quotations that new spuds had reached the bottom for a few weks.

We hear of Okanagan quotations on onions around $50.00, but jobbers are not interested yet.

Dairy butter is advancing, this week's prices being 40¢ to 45¢ for straights. Shipment of fancy butter 49¢; creamery butter steady.

Friday we noticed a fine crate of Penticton Apricots of large size and case well filled shipped by the Penticton Co-operative Association.

OBSERVATION WOULD CURE THE L.C.L. SHIPMENTS

We have observed transfers at Calgary of L. C. L. shipments for the North and South, during the initial part of the shipping season. When time permits of careful transfer there is nothing to complain of. The officials and employees of the express company are doing good service as far as their ability goes. When transfers are up to the 1,000 crate mark with a boiling sun pouring down on the workers and only 30 mutes time to make the transfer, accidental slips, upsets and other damaging things happen, it can scarcely be avoided.

Looking over the crates we notice Hammond Hatzic and Mission, well organized districts, filling the bulk of the space, there is no need for these districts taking up L.C.L. space, they have their excellent facilities for car shipments where their fruit can be loaded by themselves and unloaded by the buyers at this end. The loss in transit at peak of every season must be considerable. The condition of arrival causing jobbing and price cutting are often traceable to this unwise method of shipping. L.C.L. shipments should not come at height of season in any of the districts mentioned. When the first bumper crop is marketed from B. C., we expect to see every prairie market unnecessarily slumped all because too many of the growers in big shipping districts are still using "kindergarten methods", instead of assisting their organization to market in a car lot shipment.

Mr. D. J. Thomas, formerly a lieutennt in the 72nd, is assistin; Mr. M. M. Shore at the C. P. R. offices for a few days.
