CIVIC PICNIC PROVED A BIG SUCCESS

That the big civic picnic held at White Rock on Thursday was a huge success in every way was the unanimous opinion of the two hundred men, women and children who made the trip. Despite the threatening weather, the long line of trucks and autos pulled away from the Abbotsford Garage at nine o'clock in the morning and after a pleasant ride, the picnickers made White Rock in about two hours.

There Old Sol was doing himself proud for the occasion and little time was lost in lighting fires and spreading the table cloths for the noon-tide meal. After lunch was over the Abbotsford Citizens' Band gave a well selected program on the pier and young and old bathed in the ocean while the music was rendered. About three o'clock a number of races were put on for the children and some spirited contests were witnessed. General regret was expressed, however, when the judges announcement that they were unable to get close enough to any of the fair sex in order to render a decision as to who wore the prettiest bathing suit.

The band again played during the supper hour and at seven o'clock the big gathering started for home, tired but happy after their day at the sea shore.

The many friends of Messrs. Johnnie McKenzies and Mr. Harris will be pleased to learn that they are both progressing favorably from the injuries they received at the Abbotsford lumber camp on Monday last.

Construction work on the new two-story building for the Abbotsford Garage and Machine Shop is proceeding rapidly and should be completed within a month.

Citizens were more or less excited when a rumor reached town to the effect that oil had been struck at Boundary Bay. At any rate the management of the Home Oil Company at once made to commence drilling operations on the present Abbotsford lease.

$10,000 HOSPITAL TO BE ERECTED AT ONCE

The regular meeting of the Matsqui-Sumas-Abbotsford General Hospital Board was held on Tuesday afternoon with all directors present but two. After a short discussion a resolution was passed empowering the Board to go ahead with the erection of the new hospital building at once. Toward this end, Mr. Benzie, the architect who was present, was instructed to prepare plans and specification at once and submit them to the Board for approval at the earliest possible moment. The proposed building will cost in the neighborhood of $10,000 and will provide accommodation for fourteen patients. An up to date operating room will be part of the equipment of the new hospital which will be erected on the Nelson property which is situated in the Municipality of Matsqui, about one half mile south west of the town. Tenders for the erection of the building will be called for as soon as the plans are ready and the Board expect to have the new hospital open sometime before Christmas.

BEE KEEPER IS UP IN COURT

Charged with failure to register six hives of bees, as required under the Apiaries Act, William Wright, of Sapperton, appeared in police court and at his request was remanded till August 23, in order that he may prepare his defence.

The prosecution, the first of its kind in this district, is launched at the instance of the provincial department of agriculture. Inspector Turnbull served the summons. Mr. H. Norman Lidster is acting for the department.

Abbotsford business men grew tired of waiting for one of the local company's to produce oil, so they went forth and bought some. And this unlooked for activity in oil, had no effect whatever on the price of Boundary Bay stock.

FRASER VALLEY LEAGUE HOLDS INTERESTING MEETING

The clubs represented at the meeting of the Fraser Valley League on Wednesday night were: Abbotsford, Mission, Langley and Clayburn. Mr. G. M. Morton, secy. of the B. C. F. A. was present and gave a most interesting and useful account of the workings of the governing body in Vancouver.

The Fraser Valley League was re-organized for the coming season with Mr. J. De Canonville, Langley, as president and Dr. Woods as 1st vice-president, and Mr. Stafford of Mission, 2nd vice president. Messrs. Haddrell and Brydges of Abbotsford were elected Honorable President and Honorable Vice-president, respectively. Mr. Dwyer of Clayburn was re-elected Secretary-treasurer, also league delegate to the B. C. F. A. The league executive will consist of one representative from each club affiliated.

The first of September was agreed upon as the closing date for clubs entering the league and all clubs intending to enter must notify Mr. Dwyer of Clayburn before this date.

For the coming season all playing members must be registered 7 clear days before they can be allowed to play and only one transfer during the season.

The Secretary-treasurer gave an interesting account of the workings of the League last season and was able to report a slight balance on hand after expenses had been met.

Several new clubs are expecting to join the League this year and it was also suggested that junior clubs be formed in connection with the seniors.

Votes of thanks were passed to the retiring officers after which a most enthusiastic and interesting meeting came to a close.

All clubs should get busy without delay.

Misses Lillian and Kathleen Carson and Mr. Chew of Vancouver, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Eby.

WISH LAWYER'S ADVICE TO POOR FREE OF CHARGE

MT. LEHMAN, Aug. 15.—On Wednesday afternoon the regular monthly meeting of the Mt. Lehman Women's Institute was held in the lovely grounds of Mrs. Richard Owen. Members and visitors to the number of 25 were present. The vice-president, Mrs. I. D. Fearn, occupied the chair. One item of business which brought forth much discussion was the Modern Health Crusaders' League. It was decided to try this method of inculcating good health habits among the families of the W. I. members first and later to interest others in this matter. A resolution in regard to the obtaining of a lawyer to give advice free to the poor in criminal cases, was endorsed. It was expected that Mrs. Fadden of Huntingdon would address the meeting but she was unable to be present. After partaking of delicious refreshments those present made a tour of the beautiful gardens and conservatory of Mr. and Mrs. Owen. Music followed, closing with "Auld Lang Syne." The thanks of the Institute were tendered to Mrs. Owen for her gracious hospitality. Mrs. Gray, recently from London, England, and Mrs. McArthur of Oban, Scotland, were among the visitors present.

Services will be held in St. Mathew's Anglican Church at Abbotsford every Sunday night at 7:30. Rev. T. E. Rowe, vicar.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

1. All entries must be made not later than 5 p. m. Wednesday, September 21st, 1921, on proper form, to be obtained from the secretary.
2. All fruit, vegetables, field produce, flowers and ladies' work, to be in position not later than 12 o'clock on the first day of the show, Thursday, September 22nd.
3. Members of the Society are entitled to free entries and admission to the grounds and hall.
4. The price of membership tickets is $1, and they may be obtained on application to the Secretary.
5. In the horses, cattle, sheep, pigs, and poultry classes, the entry must in every instance be made in the name of the bona fide owner, and unless this rule is observed no premium will be awarded, or if awarded will be withheld. If any person shall exhibit any animal or bird of which he is not the bona fide owner, he will forfeit any premium which may be awarded him.
6. In all other classes the entries must be made in the names of the producers or manufacturers only and by such producers themselves or their agents, who must have special authority for doing so, and produce their authority in writing if so required by the Judges. Those who are not manufacturers or authorized agents may exhibit, but cannot compete for the prizes offered.
7. If any person other than the authorized agent shall enter an article for competition as producer or manufacturer by himself when it has not really been so, he shall forfeit any premium which may be awarded the article.
8. No person shall be allowed to enter for competition more than one specimen in any one class of a division, unless the additional article is of a distinct named variety or pattern from the first. This rule not to apply to animals, but to all kinds of grain, vegetable produce, fruit, manufactured articles, etc., of which each additional specimen would necessarily be precisely similar to the first.
9. Every article must be entered under some one of the headings in the regular list.
10. On the entry of each animal or article, a card All Entries Close, Wednesday, September 21st, 1921, will be furnished the exhibitor, specifying the class, the division, and the number of the entry, which card must remain attached to the animal or article during the exhibition.
11. Horses must be shown uncovered and in such a manner as judges may require or allow and if their exhibitors refuse to submit to the proper requirements of the judges, their animals will be ruled out, but exhibitors will have the privilege of showing their animals in harness, bridle, or under saddle as they may prefer.
12. All animals competing for prizes must be brought out for the inspection of the judges, or for exhibition, whenever called out by the official appointed to attend to that duty.
13. No animal or article exhibited shall have about it any prize colors or cards until the awards have been made in their respective classes.
14. No person shall be permitted in the horse or cattle rings during the time of judging, except the judges, the grooms or persons in charge of the animals, and members of the press.
15. No animal or article shall compete for more than one prize unless in the case of special prizes or sweepstakes.
16. The President and Directors shall have the supervision of the grounds and Exhibition generally.
17. Should there arise any dispute or misunderstanding not governed by the By-laws or Rules and Regulations of the Society it shall be referred to the Directors whose decision shall be final.
18. All protests or appeals must be in writing, must state plainly the cause of complaint, and must be delivered to the Secretary on the day of the show, accompanied by a fee of $2, which will be returned if the appeal is sustained and forfeited if protest is disallowed.
19. The Judges shall have the power of classifying stock and shall not award a prize to any article against which there is no competition if such article is unworthy of a prize.
20. All special prizes shall require a special entry unless classed as a sweepstake.
21. No person shall be allowed in the exhibit rooms while judging is in progress except the Judges and their assistants.
22. The Board of Managers will use every precaution in their power for the proper preservation of articles and stock on exhibition, but will not be accountable for loss or damage. Exhibitors must give attention to their articles or animals during the fair and at the close of the exhibition attend to their removal.
- Entries close not later than 5 p. m. Wednesday, September 21, 1921. This will be strictly lived up to.
23. Hall open to public 10 a. m., September 23, 1921.

FOUR MINUTES TO COMPLETE CALLS TO VANCOUVER ISLAND

Have you tried the long distance telephone service between the mainland and Vancouver Island lately? The additional submarine cable gives ample facilities, and the average call is completed in four minutes. That's pretty good going, when it is remembered that Central hunts up the party wanted and gets him on the line. Try it and see.

Between 7 p. m. and 8 a. m. you get three times the day period at the same price.

TO SHOW FRUIT AT EXHIBITION

PENTICTON, Aug. 19.—This district which made such a creditable showing with its fruit exhibit at the new Westminster fair last year, will again be represented at the fair, to be held there next month. A committee appointed by the board of trade has been looking into this matter and a report on the subject was presented at the meeting of that body last week.

In this report it was stated that arrangements had been made with Mr. L. A. Rathvon to conduct the exhibit at the fair, under the auspices of the board of trade.

The rumor that Hon. John Oliver had broken his arm is all rot. We got a letter from him last week.

Speaker's Chair for Canada

The Speaker's Chair which is being presented to the Canadian House of Commons by the Empire Parliamentary Association (United Kingdom branch) to take the place of that destroyed in the fire at the Parliament Buildings, Ottawa, in February, 1916, is now completed, and it is expected that the presentation will be made by the Right Hon. J. W. Lowther, speaker of the Imperial House of Commons, during the summer.

The gift has been tendered by the donors as "an abiding token of good will between both Parliaments," and has been gratefully accepted as such by the Canadian House of Commons. The chair is an exact copy of the Speaker's Chair in the House of Commons (designed by Pugin, who was Barry's assistant in the building of the New Palace of Westminster), which has been used since the occupation of the present chamber by the Commons in 1852. Like the original, the replica is a beautiful example of carved oak. It stands 13ft. 6in., surmounted by a canopy bearing the Royal Arms, which are carved in a piece of old oak taken from the roof of Westminster Hall. The seat of the chair is upholstered in green leather. The right jamb of the chair is inscribed:—"Manus justus nardus; memet fidelis mens conscia recti"; and on the left jamb is inscribed:—"Nec prece nec pretio; libertas in legibus; hostis honori invidia; laus Deo."

The replica was executed by Messrs. Harry Hens and Sons, of Exeter, under the direction of Sir Frank Baines, of the Office of Works. It was recently on view at the rooms of the Empire Parliamentary Association, Westminster Hall, when the Speaker and a large party of Lords and Commons, were received by Sir H. d'Eville, secretary of the association, and Mr. T. Wilson, Clerk of Works and Deputy Keeper of Westminster Hall. Accompanying the chair is a framed roll of parchment, ornamentally inscribed as follows:—

"This replica of the Speaker's Chair in the House of Commons, at Westminster, is herewith presented to the House of Commons at Ottawa by the United Kingdom branch of the Empire Parliamentary Association, comprising members of both Houses, as a fitting symbol of the great Parliamentary tradition which binds together the free nations of the British Commonwealth."

The scroll is signed:—"Birkenhead, Lord Chancellor; James W. Lowther, Speaker of the House of Commons, Joint President, Empire Parliamentary Association, United Kingdom branch, Westminster Hall."

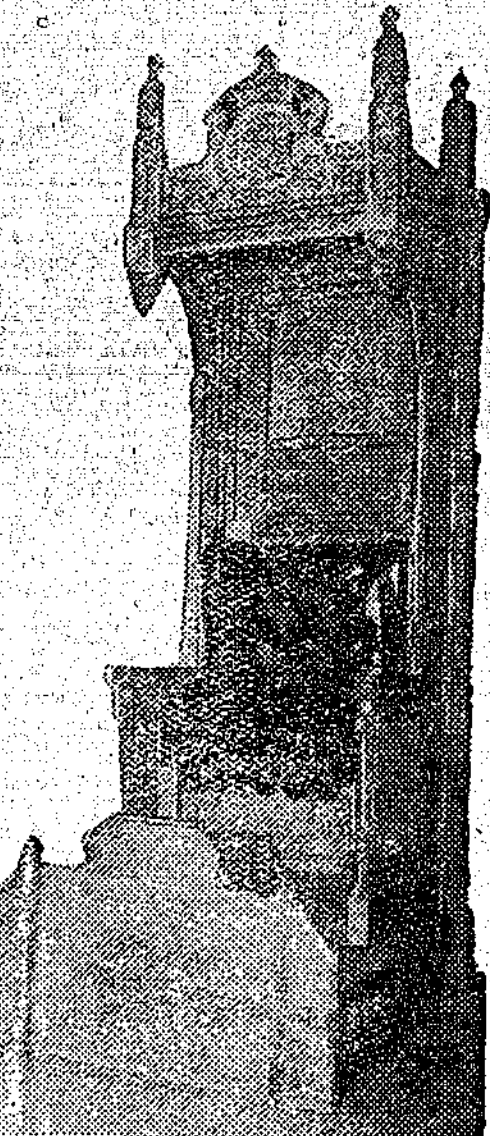

Formerly the Canadian Speaker, on leaving office, was entitled to take away the chair in which he sat as a perquisite, but this perquisite will now be lost. It is probable that there are some of the chairs of the old English House of Commons still in existence in country mansions. Dean Pellet, in his biography of Lord Sidmouth (Henry Addington), relates that in the dining-room of White Lodge, Richmond Park—a house given by George III. to Sidmouth in appreciation of his services

TAKING ADVANTAGE ## OF CONDITIONS

When the advertising department of the large department stores see a weakness in the local merchant as expressed in the absence or the curtailment of advertisements in the local paper of any particular community, advantage is immediately taken of this condition by the department store utilizing the space that ought to be made use of by the local businessmen. None is so quick to recognize an opportunity or to take advantage of it. There are no "slack times" for the department stores, for the reason that when business is slow and local businessmen in any particular section endeavor to curtail their costs of operating by cutting down their advertising in the local press, or do without it entirely, that is the very time the big city stores make their hardest effort to break into the field by making use of the advertising columns of the local paper. Here and there local businessmen are to be found who recognize the psychological effect of light conditions upon the buying public. They know that in a slack time they must advertise more. If they would retain the patronage of the community. They know that by so doing they can in a large measure reduce the inroads of the catalogue houses. They know that in the slack time people are more ready to send away for supplies, and it is then that the catalogue house "gets a line on" an increased number of customers.

Members of the Legislature left to-day on a trip over the P. G. E. One member of the opposition told a reporter who asked him whether he was bound, that he was about to commence a voyage of discovery.

to the Crown—there were two old and bulky armchairs standing guard, one at each side of the fireplace; they were chiefly remarkable for their lumbering size and gaunt, inconvenient form, and visitors, always curious as to their history, were told they were the chairs of the House of Commons in which Addington had sat as Speaker. He originally possessed three of these chairs. He presided over the House of Commons in three consecutive Parliaments, and had the distinction of being the first Speaker of the Commons of the United Kingdom on their assembly on January 22, 1801, after the Union with Ireland. One of the chairs disappeared, Dean Pellet says, and the mystery of its fate was never solved.

The chair of the first Speaker of the first reformed House of Commons is in the Parliament House of the Commonwealth of Australia at Melbourne. It is the chair that was provided for the temporary chamber in which the House of Commons sat after the fire of 1834, and was taken away as his perquisite by Charles Manners-Sutton when he completed, late in 1834, his long term of office as Speaker. Manners-Sutton's son took the chair out to Melbourne when he was appointed Governor of Victoria, and presented it to the Legislative Assembly, whose successive Speakers sat in it for many years. In course of time another chair was substituted for it, and at the inauguration of the Commonwealth in 1901 it was placed—with a brass plate recording its history—in the House of Representatives for the use of the Speaker.

LEAF SPOT OR YELLOW

LEAF OF CHERRIES

Sweet and sour cherries alike suffer severely from this disease when there is considerable wet weather in May and June. The fungi causing leaf spot or yellow leaf of sweet and sour cherries, and the shot-hole of plums, are very closely related. They are present wherever these fruits are grown and are commonly found on the wild species of Prunus. The main factor which regulates the amount of damage they cause, is the weather. Abundant moisture in May and June results in heavy infection. Relatively dry weather prevents the spread of these fungi to the extent that no damage is caused.

The life history of this fungus pest of cherries is simple. The diseased leaves of the past year lying on the ground furnish the place of hibernation. On these dead leaves spore cases are formed and during wet weather in May and June spores are shot out of these cases and carried by the wind to the new leaves above. The same wet periods which cause the spores to be discharged into the air furnish the necessary moisture conditions for the germination of the spores as they adhere to the new leaves. Upon germination the fungus enters the leaf tissue and at each place of infection small dark blue spots appear in about ten days. These spots turn later to a dark red or reddish brown. In some cases where infection is slight the spots drop out leaving holes but where a large number of infections have occurred the entire leaf soon turns yellow and falls.

The first infection takes place at about the time the petals fall.

The first infection takes place at about the time the petals fall and periodic infections may continue for a month or more. Often it happens that the leaves are yellow and falling before the fruit is ripe. In other years the infections accumulate more slowly and the leaves drop later. The most important damage caused is the weakening effect on the entire tree. Defoliation, especially when heavy, prevents the maturing of the new wood of the tree. This may predispose the tree to winter killing the next winter.

Because of its common occurrence and damaging effects upon the trees themselves, this disease should be controlled in every commercial orchard. The first thing that should be done is to cultivate the orchard before the blossoms are out. Care should be taken to cover as many of the old leaves as possible. In this way the amount of infection is materially reduced. Spraying with either lime sulphur, or bordeaux, will control this disease. Bordeaux 4-4-40 formula is strong enough and is preferred by many growers. The it is effective against yellow leaf even at weaker strengths. Lime sulphur at the strength 1 to 40 is effective. Iron sulphate may be added to the lime sulphur at the rate of one and one fourth pounds to 40 gallons. This increases its adhesiveness and prevents burning. In order to avoid the early and often very destructive infections it is advised that the first application be made just as petals are about all off, or at least a few days later. Another application should be made from two to three weeks later according to the amount of wet weather. A third application just after the fruit is picked and a fourth, three weeks later are advised if weather conditions favor infection. Sulphur dust 90 parts to 10 parts arsenate of lead is as effective as the liquid sprays and may be used.

FORESTRY CONVENTION TO BE

HELD ON SEPTEMBER 19, 20, 21

Arrangements have been completed for the holding of a Provincial Forestry Convention at Vancouver, September 19th and 20th and at Victoria September 21st, under the auspices of the Canadian Forestry Association. The British Columbia directors of the Association are Hon. Hewitt Bostock, Hon. A. C. Flumfelt, P. Z. Caverhill, Provincial Forester, Chas. D. McNab, H. R. MacMillan and E. D. Prettie. It is

STACEY WILL TOUR

HIS CONSTITUENCY

After an extended absence, Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Stacey returned home last week. Leaving Chilliwack in the Spring, Mrs. Stacey spent a short time with her husband at Ottawa and then left for England on a visit to her son, being accompanied on the ocean voyage by Mrs. and Miss Grossman.

Mr. Stacey remained in Ottawa till the end of the session and, upon the termination of his parliamentary duties, followed Mrs. Stacey to England and spent four weeks in the Old Country.

While it was Mr. Stacey's first visit to England and full advantage was taken of the opportunity to visit the many historical scenes and places in the Old Land, he took some time to study historical scenes and places in the Old Land, as well as a scenic standpoint. He has returned home firmly convinced that of all the countries that participated in the world war, Canada has suffered least and, further, that it has more assets, potential and actual, than any of the other countries. The complex situation created by the attitude of labour unions and conditions, the Irish question and the economic situation in the Old Country generally, formed an engrossing study and in pursuing it Mr. Stacey's admiration for Mr. Lloyd George and his wonderful ability was greatly increased. Chilliwack's Federal member found time, however, for other things than economics and politics; much time was spent in viewing the institutions and places of interest in and around London, the city of paradoxes, in which it is so easy to get lost and yet most difficult. Like many another visitor to the Empire Metropolis, he has returned with a very high opinion of the London police force and a delightful recollection of such places as Hampton Court, Kew Gardens, etc. A brief visit to Cardiff and South Wales, the Valley of the Wye delighted Mr. and Mrs. Stacey with the beautiful scenery of the countryside and altogether the trip proved a most enjoyable one for both.

Upon returning home Mr. Stacey was not long in getting down to work as a few hours after his return the "Progress" man found him in the fruit packing house in his orchard, with sleeves rolled up, hammer in hand, busy nailing together fruit boxes and getting some of his prize-winning Chilliwack fruit ready for shipment to the prairies.

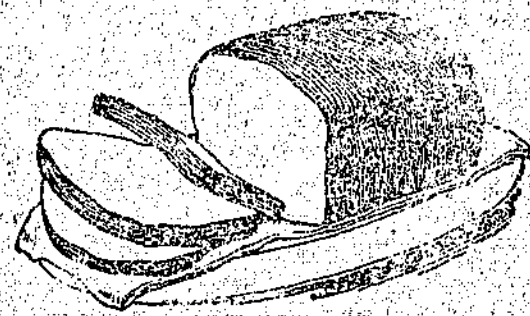

Mr. Stacey stated his intention of a complete tour of his constituency in the early Fall for the purpose of getting into personal touch with his constituents and giving them a report of recent legislation, etc., enacted by the Federal Government.

While the subjects for discussion will accord the greatest prominence to British Columbia, there are a number of Eastern questions having close application to this province such as the future of the Eastern timber supply, and the progress of applied forestry amongst Eastern pulp and paper companies. A distinguished group of speakers, each an authority in his special sphere, will take part. Every effort has been made to have the programme thoroughly practical and helpful and to make the topics and their treatment of positive service to the business interests of British Columbia. The Canadian Forestry Association is a national institution, twenty-one years old, with no identification with any government or commercial interest. The membership is composed chiefly of Canadian citizens having a patriotic interest in forest conservation. Mr. C. E. Usher of Montreal has been President since 1919 and will attend the British Columbia convention.
