RECENT IMPROVEMENTS

Among the recent improvements in Abbotsford is noticed a sidewalk from the B. C. E. R. station to Essendene avenue along Railway street It is no ordinary dinky sidewalk but a regular up to date citified walk, six feet wide and the electric company are to congratulated on their usual fore sight in providing this accommodation for our citizens, who appreciate the fact that the company are endeavoring to make Abbotsford one of the most attractive towns along the line.

The adove is not the only improvement that the B. C. E. R. have made recently, as they have also installed an electric cluster of lights at Essendene avenue crossing, which illuminates the street up and down for a considerable distance. These lights have been placed at the request of the Board of Trade, the motion being passed at the meeting in November.

NEW BUSINESS FIRM

Mr. M. L. McPhee of the Pioneer store of Abbotsford and Mr. Mr. W. H. Kerr formerly of the Royal Bank of Canada, have joined business interests and henceforth the firm will be known as McPhee & Kerr. Both gentlemen are well known throughout the district and as general merchants they should have a bright future before them in this growing town of ours.

Improvements in the way of larger and more commodious building, larger stock, etc. are contemplated. Every effort will be made by the new firm to meet the wishes of their many customers in Abbotsford and vicinity.

PROVINCIAL POLICE MAKE TWO ARRESTS

—o—

Two arrests were made this week—one on Wednesday and the other on Thursday morning, which go to show that the provincial police officers at Mission City and Abbotsford are not asleep, but very much active in the carrying out the duties which their capacity as officers of the government call for. This part of the Fraser Valley is gradually becoming the terror of those whose self-imposed duty to evade the law.

On Friday last a man, who afterwards gave his name as John Doe, walked into Conrad Andersen's restaurant, bought a meal and paid for it, passing off "phoney" money. A description of the man was sent to Mission City, New Westminster and other points. But nothing further developed until on Wednesday afternoon W. H. Loat of the Silverdale Lumber Co., 'phoned the bank at Mission asking information as to the value of a certain bill which he had in his possession. When told it was valueless, he immediately notified Constable Gammon at Mission City On finding out the direction the man was taking word was sent to Municipal Constable Pope of Haney, to make the arrest there if possible. Pope met the man east of Haney and making the arrest brought him to Mission City on the Agassiz local, arriving in less than four hours after information was sent out for arrest.

On Thursday afternoon John Doe appeared before Magistrate Verchere at Mission City on three chrges—that of passing a Confederate bill on Conrad Andersen at Abbotsford on Friday, November 25th. repeating the operation on W. H. Loat at Silverdale and having another $10 bill of the same kind on his person when arrested at Haney. The prisoner "reserved his plea."

K. V. Munro, manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce at Mission City gave expert evidence as to the bank value of the bills, stating that they were perfectly worthless.

Conrad Andersen stated that on the afternoon of the 25th the prisoner walked into his restaurant and ordered a meal. When it came to paying for it, he said he had not enough change and handed the bill to Andersen. It did not look good to him, but Doe, who gave his name as Regan stated that if it was found that the money was not good he would make it good at any time. He was registered at the Abbotsford Hotel and was the next morning going to work with the Lumber Company After the man was gone Andersen consulted with several of the citizens, among them being Manager Kerr of the Royal Bank. He then went to consult the Abbotsford Hotel register. Not finding the name of Regan there he went to Constable Black and explained how he had come in possession of the money.

Constable Black gave evidence showing what he had done in the matter and stating that up to that time he had seen no unlawful money in circulation but since that time he had knowledge of the fact a similar bill had been passed off on a B. C. E. R. conductor.

On the second charge coming up Mr. and Mrs. Loat gave evidence. The prisoner had put up a pretty good story about the difficulties he had in securing a place to board, and eventually purchased a shirt at the store giving a ten dollar bill in payment and receiving the change back in good money. The prisoner found no fault with the evidence.

The third charge came up and Constable Pope testified that he had found the ten dollar bill produced in court, on Doe immediately after his arrest.

In summing up the evidence Magistrate Verchere decided that it would be best to send Doe alias Regan up for trial on the three separate charges. On Thursday evening Constable Gammon took the prisoner to New Westminster, where he will come up for trial at the next assizes.

The arrest onThursday at Clayburn was a very simple matter for Constable Black. It appears that F. E. Mullins believed he was some cheque artist andincluding the name of the Horst Hop Co. on a cheque which he was not entitled to do. For two weeks or thereabouts he has been sojourning comfortably at Sardis, while Constable Scott was looking for him. He decided that a walk would do him good, especially on an important duty in which a book and a young lady were concerned. He made the trip to Abbotsford on foot arriving in town on Thursday morning. On receiving his satchel he took the electric car for Clayburn, where he decided to get off. While on the platform Constable Black and Mr. Andersen drove along on their way to Mission on the "Doe" casee It appears that Mullins had no sooner taken the train at Abbotsford than Constable Black was told who "was in town." He got busy and found the man had gotten off at Clayburn. When arriving at Clayburn Constable Black found his friend waiting for him. He asked him if his name was Mullins. The answer came promptly that it was Harrigan. The arrest was made and the prisoner taken to Mission City tol isten to the "Doe" case. Afterwards he was brought back to Abbotsford. Constable Scott arrived from Chilliwack and took the prisoner back to Chilliwack to stand his trial.

NEW BANK MANAGER

Mr. S. A. Morley has been appointed manager of the Royal Bank of this town. Mr Kerr having resigned his position as manager to go into business with Mr. M. L. McPhee. In Mr. Morley the people of Abbotsford will have no reason to complain, as he has been a general favorite with the patrons of the Bank wherever he has had charge of one of the many branches of this well known banking institution.

SHORT COURSE IN FRUIT GROWING

A short course in fruit growing is to be held in Abbotsford on Dec 7th and at Aldergrove on December 6th. To the man who purposes planting an orchard or to the grower who has already an orchard this course should prove of immense value. The subjects will be taken up along practical lines with demonstrations wherever possible, and isplanned to meet the requirements of the fruit grower and the intending planter would do well to attend and be ready with any questions which they wish to have discussed, in order that the subjects cover all the difficulties that are met with by the fruit grower in his practical work.

At the morning session a selection of nursery stock, orchard plans and planting will be discussed. The proper selection of nursery stock is an important factor in the planting of an orchard, and on the quality and treatment of the nursery stock depends largely the ultimate success of the orchard The methods of pruning and planting often causes loss and set back to the trees owing to the methods used and the proper system of pruning and planting will receive its due consideraton

In a season such as the last summer the question of conservation of moisture was an important one from the point of the fruit grower At the afternoon session methods of increasing the water holding capacity of the soil, and the conservation of the moisture through the growing season will be fully taken up. The proper implements used in orchard practice will be discussed. The place of cover crops on the fruit farm with the best kinds to use, depending on the type of the soil and its conditions, will be fully taken up.

Until such times as we can prove to our own satisfaction that we can control the pests in our orchard it will be a useless handicap to the planting out of young orchards. If by the proper handling of the old orchard we can renovate and bring it into a condition in which it will bring a profit it will be a boon to the fruit growing industry of the province The question of control of orchard pests is one of the most important factors in the cleaning of the orchard. This question which will be discussed at the afternoon session should prove of great interest to the fruit growers of Aldergrove and Abbotsford district.

At the evening meeting, pruning of the orchard both summer and winter will be under consideration The proper pruning and thinning out of the trees has an important bearing on the cleanliness of the orchard and the control of orchard pests. Sprays and spraying will also be fully taken up at the same meeting. The use of improperly mixed sprays, spraying at the wrong time for the control of pests has caused many fruitgrowers to lose faith in spraying. The proper sprays to use, the time of spraying and the best outfits to buy will be discussed fully at that meeting.

All those interested in fruit growing are invited to these meetings The courses are free under the auspices of the Horticultural Branch of the Department of Agriculture Victoria, and are such that no fruit grower or intending planter can afford to miss them. Come yourself, bring your friends and be prepared to take part in the discussion.

Encourage every home enterprise. Take an interest in every industry, invest liberally in the stock of faith and good will, and distribute it all over your town, in every factory, every workshop, every business house, says a contemporary. It will pay you large dividends, and will cost very little. It can never depreciate in value. It will always be above par. Buy home made goods. Ask your merchants for them. Wear home made garmets, eat home made articles of food, sleep on home made beds, read the home paper. In this way the money you spend is only loaned. It will come back to you again with interest. Praise up your town—don't run it down. Stand by your merchants and manufacturers—they are the bone and sinew of your municipal structure. Stand by your churches and your schools, they are the hope of your future. Stand by your press it is the tireless sentinel that guards your interests.

We owe it to the community in which we live to do everything we can in every way possible that will be to its advantage. Our neighbor's prosperity means a great deal more to us than someone's who lives elsewhere. We should bear this in mind in buying our goods. We can affford to pay our home man a firm price for his wares rather than send our money away, knowing as we do that every dollar our citizen makes will help in sustaining our schools, our churches and our public institutions. It pays richly to patronize nome industry.

THE MARKET.

New Westminster, Nov 25th—The local meat market has refused to be influenced by the conditions prevailing elsewhere on the continent and instead of weakening to-day showed a marked stiffening in prices. A slight weakening was shown in some lines at the market last week, and by some of the dealers the eastern situation was supposed to be responsible, but if sympathy with the eastern markets were the cause, it has since vanished, local conditions controlling the market entirely.

The market this morning while well attended was somewhat featureless. The same strong demand in almost all lines was evident, and a brisk business was done, the business in fact being limited only by the amount of produce offered, which was to-day somewhat less than usual in many lines.

Potatoes are still soaring upward, and good quantities are offering. It was possible to obtain potatoes this morning at $25 per ton but the majority were held at $28, and a Japanese from Lulu Island sold two tons at $30 a ton a record for this season.

Eggs maintained their high figure set last week, 70 cents, the wholesalers finding it necessary to pay 65 cents for their supplies. Even at this figure the buyers were unable to secure anywhere near the amount they required. By 10 o'clock there was not an egg left on the market. Butter remains steady at 40 cents.

The poultry market was less active to-day than for the past few weeks. Fewer fowl were brought in and buying was not as brisk. The chickens this week were of a good quality for the most part, but the buyers would not pay the prices that were asked. Chickens weighing from one to two pounds each, sold as low as $4.50 per doz. As high as $15 was paid for a few exceptionally fine roosters weighing from five to six pounds. A few dozen white Wyandotte pullets sold at $16 per dozen. Hens sold at $12 to $14 and more good pullets could havve been disposed of at fair prices. The roosters however were too numerous and those that sold at all went at a low figure.

The fruit market was not strong the fruit brought in still being of poor quality, not comparable with the fine fruit that has been offered until last week. The result was that the buyers held off and business lagged. The government fruit inspectors found it necessary to hold two lots of apples from sale, on the ground of over grading and in one case of scab. Warnings were issued to three other vendors who had either overgraded their fruit or neglected to mark it according to law. The growers are apparently endeavoring to dispose of their poorer stock, holding the better grades for higher prices later. From 75 cents to $1.25 was paid according to grade. Pears fetched 75 cents to $1.00. The supply was comparatively small. Fancy apples sold at $1.50 a box.

Fish were plentiful. Cod and Nanaimo herring were again for sale, and sturgeon was also offering. There were no crabs or any smelts. Wild ducks were more plentiful than ever, and the price is gradually climbing down. The demand for wild ducks is good and a large number are sold weekly from the large mallard to the wee teal.

Cut flowers are the staple stock of the florist at this season. At the present time they are confined to carnations and chrysanthemums. The large blooms of the latter variety are sold at 75c a dozen and are easily disposed of. Smaller chrysanthemums and carnations sell at 50 cents a dozen.

The following are the wholesale prices;

BIG TIME AT THE BAZAAR

Yesterday was the day for the bazaar that this paper has been advertising for the past few issues. It was a busy day for the Ladies of St. Matthews. Everybody was there and prepared to buy The stalls where the articles were for sale was an especial attraction. The proceeds we understand were perfectly satisfactory, but not any more satisfactory than the numerous purchasers at the bazaar, who will by their purchases make many a heart happy on Christmas morning.

That grand refrain, "The Maple Forever" will be brought vividly to mind to former residents of our Fair Dominion, whose avocations have called them far afield, especially those residing under the "Star Spangled Banner" when Aviaton Silver Tips, in his supermagnifoneous 323 h. p. compound, diametrical, pyrotechnical, gasolaneous arrowplane "Fern'e" flees to Skyattle on his honeymoon trip We would advise the daring aviator, in the words of one of our late and lamented generals to be sure to "keep the powder dry."

A special meeting of the Matsqui council was held in the Orange Hall all members of the council being present, and the reeve in the chair

The meeting was to meet the representatives of the Glen Valley Land Co., Mr. Bissell and others, regarding the building of a trunk road through their property from the B. C. E. R. track to the Fraser River, to be used as a logging road for the present, and then taken over by the council. The estimated cost of the road to be $21-000.00

Before the council would take any action in the matter authorized Councillor Satchell to have surveys made to ascertain how this road could be connected up with the trunk roads already in operation and the matter will be discussed at the regular meeting on December 3rd.

THIS IS WORTH CONSIDERING

Intense love for England, not by intensel ove for England, not by looking backward toward Rome, or Normandy, or the ancient home of the Anglo-Saxons. Canada can rise to greatness only by an intense Canadianism, a national spirit so powerful as to draw together men of all races and racial origins. Imperialism must adjust itself to this national spirit.

Would this love apply to Abbotsford?
