WHO DID IT?

And the King put the "Kit" onto Kitchener.

Who put the "Nay" into our Navy?

It was John Sir John.

"I" said Herr Bill.

"I had my will."

"And worked until."

"I put the War "Germans" into Germany."

Who put the "Rush" into Russia?

"I" said the Czar.

"The Kaiser said "War!"

"I laughed, "Hah, Hah!"

"Then put the "Rush" into Russia."

Who put the "Kit" onto Kitchener?

When Belgium said "Nay".

"K" said, "I'm fit."

"For my little bit."

Who'll put the "Fin" in the Finish?

The sharks in the deep,

Finding Germans cheap,

Salted so they'll keep.

They'll put the "Fin" in the Finish.

TIDE IS NOW TURNING

GERMANY AND AUSTRIA ARE BOTH BEING ROLLED BACKWARD

September 11.

The week just passed has marked the turn of the tide so far as both Germany and Austria are concerned.

In Austria the Russian forces continue their advance all along the line. The capture of Brodshau is expected at any moment. At Vienna it is officially admitted that Archduke Frederick has lost 120,000 men in his retreat from Galicia. The advance guard of the Russian centre is marching toward Bratislava. Great Austrian losses are reported from several points.

The Allied Armies operating in France have beaten the German advance, and the hosts of the Kaiser have been turned back. There has been one report that their line of communication has suffered. All the German attempts to break the French lines have failed, and for several days the French troops appear to have gained the advantage. The British troops have assumed the offensive movement which they have so long desired, and are striking heavy blows at the German forces. The general situation is regarded as highly satisfactory.

Prepere Asquith has asked for another half million men, and is evidently determined to drive home the blow that will shatter the German power forever.

London.—A German officer, writing to a friend states that they are getting nervous as to the war's outcome. He estimates that they have lost between 350,000 and 400,000 men since the war opened.

London.—The German forces have been outflanked. The French Official Bureau confirms this news. The French under Field Marshal Sir John French, delivered a crushing blow against the invaders at Cressy-Sur-Oise.

For the first time the Germans have been forced to retire, but the retiring was not one of good generalship, but of defeat. On both wings it is reported that the Allies were successful.

The German Imperial Guard, who were ordered to surrender, refused, and were annihilated by the British. It is also reported that the German Crown Prince was in their midst, and he is supposed to have shared the fate of his men.

Paris.—The left wing of the allied army, making up a certain portion of the forces now defending Paris, continue to make progress against the enemy. The French advance reaches from the right bank of the river Seine to the Montmarte, 8 miles east of Paris. The enemy is retreating in the direction of the river Marne, between Meaux, 25 miles east of Paris, and Reims, 42 miles beyond Meaux. The French and British have taken a number of prisoners and captured many guns.

Violent engagements have occurred on the French centre, 50 miles east of Paris, between Fere and Champcenise and Vitry-le-Francois at the south point of the Forest of Orléans. The French have fallen back nowhere. The Germans have lost ground near Vitry. This retreat is confirmed from other sources after a German division had been forced back near Vitry, and toward the Alsace frontier. A German division made an attack on the axis of Chateauneuf and Nancy, but was repulsed to the north passing the Forest of Champcenise.

Farther to the east the French troops have occupied the crest of Montoy and the peak of Pernoux.

There is no change in the situation in the province of Alsace.

Bordeaux.—The War Office announces the advance of the French and British is continuing. "We are confident of the success of the Allies." It is now assured. A battle is now raging all along the line, but a pause comes from time to time as the forces change their positions.

General Joffre reports that all is going well."

Sept. 8.

2:30 p.m.

Paris.—The French and British troops engaged in a battle now going on east Paris have taken numerous prisoners including a battalion of German infantry and a company serving rapid fire guns.

A despatch from Petrograd says that the strong Austro-Hungarian force at the towns of Nischleben and Maklowojew, in Galicia 25 miles south of Lemberg, was captured by Russians on September 5.

Rome.—According to the "Roma Tribuna" there are now in France a total of 250,000 Russian troops. This newspaper attributes the Emperor Wilhelm's visit to Metz to this concentration of the Russian forces.

CUMBERLAND BOYS TAKE BIG CUP

Rolling in splendid form, and making every coupling like veterans, the Cumberland Team of Volunteer Firemen captured the big Canadian Pipe Company's Cup, that represents the championship of Vancouver Island. It was a great struggle, and so far as can be learned a number of British Columbia records went by the board in the contest. The Alberni Team was both fast and strong, as indicated by the fact that their time was away below the record, but at that the flying bunch from across the mountains turned the trick and took the silverware.

In the big contest, which consisted of three tests, the times were as follows:

Dry Test—Cumberland, 40 1/2 seconds.

Wet Test—Cumberland, 39 seconds.

Breaking Hose—Line—Cumberland, 1 min. 65 seconds. Alberni, 1 min. 14 1/2 seconds.

The contests were clean and without a hitch, and all parties are to be congratulated. The Cumberland boys, on winning, and the Alberni boys on indicating that they can take a teaming with smile when a better team comes along.

The Cumberland visitors consisted of Chief T. E. Banks, Ass't. Chief C. Palham, Capt. C. Grant, J. Cameron, A. Thomson, A. Smith, H. Conrad, J. Hammerton, D. Bannerman, W. Hayman, B. Sweeney, F. Slaughter and F. Hurford.

The Alberni team was made up of W. Stewart, Capt. and J. Gerrard, A. Drinkwater, Jas. Drinkwater, Fred. Drinkwater, Wm. Hoskin, Stan. Hoskin, E. M. White, H. Perry and J. Forsythe.

The day was all that could have been desired, and when it is remembered that the teams were running on a soft dry road, the time made was nothing short of splendid.

AFTERNOON SPORTS

In the afternoon the sports consisted of a "Hub and Hub" race, a "Ladder Climbing Contest," 100 yards foot race, 220 yards foot race, a tug o' war and a 100 yards swimming Contest.

These were taken as follows:

Hub and Hub race went to Cumberland after a close finish.

100 yards race—D. Bannerman, 1st.

J. Hammerton, 2nd, and A. Drinkwater, 3rd.

220 yards race—J. Hammerton, 1st.

E. Slaughter, 2nd, and Wm. Hoskin, 3rd.

Sunday, Sept. 6.

Tug O' War—won by Alberni in first two heats.

Handing Dummy—A. Drinkwater,

1st, Time 21 1/2 sec., J. Drinkwater, 2nd, Time 20 sec., A. Thomson, 3rd, Time 22 1/2 sec.

Swimming Contest—E. Hurford, 1st.

Stan. Hoskin, 2nd.

This finished the programme, and it will be observed that the fine cup put up by the Alberni Department for the team making the greatest number of points in the contest, went to Cumberland.

A smoker in the evening wound up the festivities, and the Cumberland boys were again congratulated on the fine showing which they had made. It was a fine day's sport, and should do much to promote the best interests of the various volunteer departments all over the Island. Mayor Huff presided and a general programme was rendered in which the visitors took an important part to the great satisfaction of the audience.

FIREFMEN'S ASSOCIATION

At a well attended and enthusiastic meeting of the Cumberland and Alberni fire brigades held in the Fire Hall on Tuesday night, the above organization was formed.

Mr. M. F. Hill, of the Canadian Pipe Co., occupied the chair, and stated the objects of the meeting and explained the benefit to be derived from proper organization. After deciding to form this organization the following officers were elected for the current year:

Hon. Pres., M. F. Hill; Hon. Vice-Pres., Chas. T. Davis, Victoria; Pres., Chas. T. E. Banks, Cumberland; Vice-Pres., Chas. G. Forrest, Alberni; Sec-Treas., E. M. White, Alberni; Board of Directors, C. H. Grant, J. H.

CABLE CUT AT FANNING ISLAND

The Pacific Cable has been cut. It will take about one month to put it into commission again. The cutting occurred at or near Fanning Island where the cable lands after its long trip under the sea from Bamfield. It was on Monday morning at about 9:30 that the incident happened, and there has as yet been no details as to just how the trick was turned, if the authorities are in possession of such information. It is supposed that some one of the wandering German cruisers have made a dash in for the express purpose of putting the cable out of commission, and by doing have justified their long game of "Hide and go seek" carried on ever since the war opened. It is now up to the various Allied cruisers to find those double-blanked Dutchmen and introduce them to our old friend Father Neptune at the bottom of the sea. Any further delay will cause comment.

ANNUAL FAIR AT ALBERNI

At a meeting of the Directors of the Alberni Agricultural Association held on Monday night, it was decided to change the date of the Annual Show from the 3rd to the 1st of October.

It was also decided not to print prize lists for this year, but to use last year's lists, as there were only a few minor changes in the list, and a large number of business men could not see their way clear to advertise this year. The principal changes will be published in the paper later. Any intending exhibitor who has not got a last year's prize list can secure one from the Secretary, Mr. E. M. White, who is re-caressing the lists as far as possible.

A number of special prizes have been donated, including a silver cup from Mr. J. G. C. Wood, M.P.P., for the best individual collection of vegetables. It is hoped that there will be a large entry for this handsome prize.

Club Meeting

Members, and those interested, in the Alberni Amateur Athletic Club, will hold a meeting for the purpose of getting the winter programme under way. This meeting is called for Monday, September 14, in the Athletic Hall, and all who contemplate joining the Club are specially invited to attend. Seven thirty is the hour. Come along.

City Council

The regular meeting of the City Council was a routine affair at which a large amount of regular business was transacted without making much in the way of news. A payment on the water system extension was ordered in order to pay off the men for work done to date. The Electric Light By-Law was put into committee, reported back, passed in third reading, and is now ready for the final touches. The wiring export is now in town, and has his work under way.

That is about all, for this time.

CANADA BENEFITS

THAT Canada will greatly beautify by the present war is taken for granted by the majority of the financial authorities all over the country. The Saturday "Sunday" appears to voice the general sentiment when it remarks:

GERMAN POLICY

NEWSPAPERS from Britain contain extracts from articles published in German newspapers which show how the German people are being deceived by the war machine in regard to the curses of the struggle and its progress.

First they were told that there was a fiendish Slav plot to wipe out the Teutonic race, an onslaught of the barbarian hordes against the "high civilization" of central Europe. Great Britain's intervention and the reason for it were concealed as long as concealment was possible, and then the Germans were told that Britain was envious of German progress and was determined to put her out of the way. Even the Berlin official record of the negotiations which preceded the war was hopelessly distorted.
It omitted to recount the propositions Sir Edward Grey made to the German foreign office in the interests of peace, particularly the British offer to use its utmost influence at Paris and Petrograd in behalf of any sincere suggestion Germany might make for an amicable settlement of the trouble. Through it all Germany is set forth as the innocent victim of a hideous conspiracy, the abused heroine of the piece, with Great Britain, France and Russia as the arch villains. The outrage upon the Belgian people is glossed over.

The same policy of deception has been adopted with regard to the progress of the war. There have been no German reverses, according to inspired newspaper announcements, except a "trifling setback" to a "few small boats off Heligoland." Every retho-ught of the French is set down as an overwhelming German victory, while the Russians are being driven back with terrible losses. The other day it was announced in Berlin and telegraphed all over the world, that the Germans captured seventy thousand Russian prisoners in East Prussia. Now we are informed by the Berlin Tageblatt that the total number of Russian prisoners taken in the war to date is 10,000, while 15,000 French have been captured. This admission strikes us with special force in view of the fact that the German official bureaus never claim a victory in which at least ten thousand prisoners are not captured.

It is only by turning to an enlarged production of foodstuffs that Canadian labour can be adequately employed, and Canadian railways kept fairly busy.
The increase in wheat production will naturally be accompanied by larger production in other Belgium and France to the utmost, oats, barley, flax, fruits, beef and pork. If the farmers are convinced that this is their golden opportunity, a stimulus will be applied to agriculture, such as it has not had since the boom conditions of the Clinton War period.

The business of every banker,
every manufacturer, every wholesaler and every man engaged in commerce and industry, will be stimulated by the increased food production which should occur next year, and by the increased prices which will be obtained for what Canada has to sell abroad.

It must be remembered that agriculture is Canada's basic industry and that all other industries are more or less dependent upon agricultural prosperity.

With this supreme opportunity for increased agricultural productivity, the business men of Canada would be standing in their own light if they did not use their influence with the farmers along this line. The farmer needs encouragement and information. It is the immediate duty of the governments and the business men to supply both of these elements.

ALBERNI

THE BEAUTIFUL

Practical Alberni Pointers

Alberni is reached by train from Victoria. Connections are made with Victoria, running through to Alberni on every other day. Passengers from Vancouver City can connect with steamer at Nanaimo.

Alberni is also reached by steamer from Victoria, and in the summer months there is no more delightful trip than this up the west coast of Vancouver Island and along the picturesque Alberni canal.

The island trunk line of the C. N. R. is now building from Victoria to Alberni.

Land prices as to acreage varies from $20. to $100 per acre for bush land, and from $100 to $1000 for land that has been cleared and brought under cultivation. Prices are governed by quality and location, and land can be had in any quantity.

It has been found that mixed farming pays best. On plots of from ten to twenty acres fruit growing, dairying, poultry raising, hogs and cattle will all pay well.

In Alberni will be found the usual advantages of a progressive Western Community that has faith, and the courage of its convictions. There are a number of good stores carrying a wide range of goods, schools, churches, the Alberni Advocate, newspaper, and a number of athletic and social clubs.

The climate is as fine as can be found on the Pacific Coast, taken the year round. The rainfall is less than that of the City of Vancouver, the frosts are light. There is seldom frost enough for skating or snow enough for sledding, and when either of these comes it only lasts a few days. For sailing and autumn months there is nothing in the world to exceed the Alberni weather.

Alberni is the outlet of one of the largest and most fertile valleys on Vancouver Island. In the District will be found a vast wealth of timber of the finest kind, coal, iron, copper, marble and other commercial stones, bricke clays and other materials.

There are numerous attractive opportunities for the manufacturer and investor. The Secretary of the Board of Trade, Alberni, B. C., will be glad to take these matters up with you. Write to him for particulars.

most cent for the material damage their uniformed brutes have inflicted upon the people of those nations. Already the Czar has announced that for every cent indemnity levied by the Germans on Belgium he will exact a similar amount with interest from East Prussia and Galicia. When the time of reckoning comes it will be for the German people to deal with the lying, crime-stained bureaucracy which has made their country loathed throughout the world, and the very word German synonymous with evil.

For The War

The Boston Transcript, one of the sunniest newspapers on the continent, shows its thorough understanding of the British character in the following editorial:

"Lord Kitchener's first speech in the House of Lords as military general manager for Great Britain breathes the sentiment of the man and the sentiment of the nation. He is cool, deliberate, neither overstating nor understating the perils of the contest. It is no military pronunciamento to which he invites his countrymen, but a war to be fought to finish, a war which will make tremendous exertions on British manhood and British money."

Kitchener embodies the British national character. The old racial traditions speak in his words. The descendants of the Celts who for almost a quarter of a century kept up the struggle against France, who continued to face Napoleon when their allies were compelled to forsake them, form Kitchener's appreciative audience. With less enthusiasm than the French, the British have more endurance. They never know when they are defeated. They rise from a lost round ready to renew the fray. Their greatest antagonist paid tribute to their constancy in admitting that every robust they received simply stimulated them to new exertions. New exertions they will have to make now, precisely as their forefathers of one hundred years ago were compelled to make exertions when they stood in the gap against the greatest military genius the modern world has known. Great Britain has enlisted for the war, even if that war lasts three years, as Kitchener thinks possible.

THE ALBERNI ADVOCATE.

Belgium.

Leslie Haze, a correspondent of the Canadian Courier, has a very interesting article about the "Land of Mighty Battles" as Belgium is now known. It is a chatty article, in part, as follows:

What is Belgian? Well, Belgium, this little country which has just started the world by opposing her puny strength, in the might of the German War Lord! To the eyes of the ordinary beholder, Belgium is very much like England. In fact, if you were to sail down the Meuse you might as well be sailing down the Wye, except that instead of old ruined castles you would come upon medieval towns, quiet, sleepy, little places that seem to put you back into the seventeenth century. Namur is one of these, as you step off onto the quay you are alongside one of the quiet, old streets, opposite is the little cafe with its tables outside and its tiny awning striped with many colours. You can eat "en plein air" and make the most of the faint breeze from the river. Be sure you see the cathedral of St. Gudule, with its great carvings. To return to our motors or rather our boat, I said the valley of the Meuse was like that of the English Wye. You will see the same rocky, wooded heights, the same sloping fields, but with this difference—instead of large fields of waving corn, strips of various crops are sown, looking like long green and yellow ribbons of various lines. The reason for this is that under the Belgian law each time the farmer dies the estate is divided among the sons, so that each succeeding generation sees smaller and smaller farms.

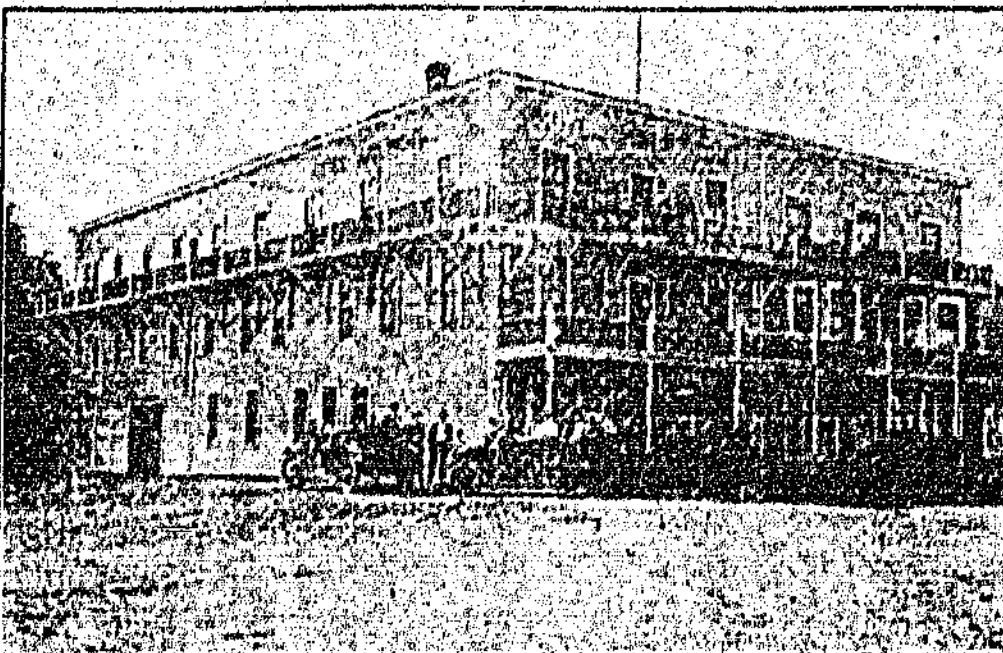

Brussels, the capital, is one of the cleanest and prettiest towns I have ever seen; broad avenues of trees everywhere and right through the town beautifully laid-out gardens. As all the world knows, a good deal of lace-making is carried on. In the shopping streets you will often see neat French girls seated at the doors of the various establishments, engaged in the manufacture of this world famous lace.

The country around Brussels is flat and the roads good. It is no unusual thing to meet loaded wagons 60 miles from the town. In fact, as far as transport is concerned, Belgium is unusually well served, for the whole country is intersected by canals. By means of the canal connecting the sea with the Rhine, goods can be conveyed to the middle of Europe, some hundreds of miles. The railways are numerous and state-owned.

The field of Waterloo, a few miles from Brussels, is a tiresome journey, and unless one is a student of military tactics will hardly repay a visit. It is just a field, the points of interest are far apart and there is nothing to the ordinary observer to identify the place with the mighty struggle of former years.

Bruges is more interesting, for though one of the dead cities, she has preserved most of her ancient grandeur. Part of the old walls are still standing and the fine cathedral, which replaces a very ancient edifice built in the seventh century. In the days of her greatness, ships used to sail from England and the Mediterranean direct to Bruges, but during the fifteenth century the old sea entrance through the Zwin Channel gradually filled with sand, and from that time her prosperity declined. Antwerp stepped into her place, helped largely by the operation of the same natural forces which submerged Bruges commercially, for the same agency which led to the filling of the Zwin Channel widened the arm of the sea on which Antwerp stands. In speaking of Antwerp one must not forget that it is a fortress as well as a town.

I suppose, at the present juncture, no article on Belgium would be complete without some reference to Liege. The character of this district is made rugged than any other part of the Ardennes and stands at a higher elevation. A small river winds its way through dark, overhanging rocks and the railway which runs from Liege into Prussia goes through twenty-five tunnels in as many miles. Commercially, Liege is a city of no mean importance, being concerned mainly with the working of its large collieries and the manufacture of firearms, but it is not in this connection that the attention of the world is at the moment concentrated on the town. Liege occupies a position of the greatest importance, because it stands in the path of any army advancing from Germany. A circle of detached forts covers the Meuse Valley, so that not only would Liege be safe, but the passage of the Meuse would be rendered impossible. Liege commands all the roads leading to Germany and is therefore a strategic post of the first importance. The outlying forts stand in circles of about thirty miles, the distance between them averaging two and a half miles. Six forts are on the right bank of the Meuse, and six on the left. Those on the right bank would be the first to be attacked, as they protect the main line of railway from Cologne, and would be the immediate object of German action.
