The Helen and Capitol Prize.

FOUND WORK SUSPENDED SAW A LOT OF FINE ORE.

Work on the Helen and Capitol Prize has been suspended, the track taken up, and the main shaft closed. There was no one about to state reasons for close down. The dump shows a lot of fine ore. So far as seen the work this spring has mainly been done on the Helen shaft.

A couple of humming birds are taking great delight in bathing in the fine spray from a hose.

They dart into the thick of it, hang suspended on out stretched wings and then dart to a twig to shake the water off, then back into the spray.

If both appear at the same time there is a merry chase, for one at a time is the rule of the game.

ORP SINKING, WINZE in the tunnel. This winze was started on a fine copper showing.

The winze is located about three miles south of Eholt.

At the fire in Greenwood last week fine work was done by the fire department, which saved the city from a general conflagration.

Mr. Paul Johnson has returned from Sandon and the Slocan.

Every body is anxious to get to work, but the coke supply is still short and no cheerful news comes from Fernie.

At the smelter the gang of men who were at work cleaning out the flue finished on Monday. The upper end of the flue was full of dust. This dust will be smelted later. It carries much gold.

Six cars of coke arrived at the smelter yesterday.

Miss Emma Medill of Anaconda was married to Mr. J. H. Reddy of Greenwood on Modday last. The bride received many presents. Dr. A. O. Mac Ray officiated.

The afternoon train stopped at the residence, and the young couple started for their new home in North Dekota.
