THE SMELTER.

At Boundary Falls.

SECOND FURNACE NEARLY READY. THIRD
ORDERED.

On Monday morning the editor visited the Boundary Falls smelter, and found that the second furnace had the water jacket in place and is now ready to be bricked in.

In the engine room the foundations are being put in for the new boilers and blower. Above the boilers coal bunkers will be put in, and a coal bin is being built in under the railway track and between the bents.

A locomotive and slag pots have been ordered and the slag will be handled liquid, thus economizing their dump ground.

The third furnace has been ordered.

ABOUT TOWN

The three public Christmas trees in Greenwood and Anaconda, and the big affair at the Mother Lode, have about cleaned out Smith & McRae's toy department. However a few dolls and wooly dogs will be left for the private Christmas trees.

Mr. E. O. Windsor of Toronto has been spending some days in the Boundary tuning pianos. His next visit will be some time next summer.

A drive up Kettle River showed the river to be frozen over in many places, and the sleighing to be very fine.

The City Hall was crowded on Monday evening to hear the Hon. Smith Curtis.
